ENTERED AS SECOND CLASS MATTER

JAYTON, KENT COUNTY TEXAS 79528

Thursday, December 12, 1974

Notes Of Interest To Kent County Cattle Raisers

A delegation of the Independent Cattlemen's Association met with the Texas Congressional delegation, key congressional leaders, and agency heads Dec. 2-4 in Washington, D.C. A meeting with President Ford was cancelled.

A report of the meetings was sent to the Kent County Independent Cattlemen's Association. The following information should be of interest to anyone in the livestock production business or any phase of the agricultural industry.

RECOGNITION

The growing Independent Cattlemen's Association, which now has a membership of 100,000, is already being recognized. The association hosted a luncheon for the Texas Congressional delegation. Twenty of the twenty-two Congressmen attended, included in the group were: Congressman Bob Poage, chairman of the Agricultural Committee and George Mahon, Chairman of the powerful House Appropriation Committee.

At the conclusion of the meeting, George Mahon stated, "This has been one of the best presentations of a group needing help because you have offered realistic recommendations for Congressional action."

RESULTS OF MEETINGS

T.A. Cunningham, President of the I.C.A., voiced optimism after the sessions: "I'm very pleased with the results of the numerous meetings which were held. The results have given us renewed hope for changes that will help save the livestock producer and the agricultural industry and renewed our determination to unite all of agriculture behind a common purpose. If we can't get the agricultural family to pull together and get positive responses from our national leaders, not only are the farmers and ranchers doomed but the whole economy of our great nation is in danger."

BRISCOE SUPPORTS EFFORTS

Governor Briscoe sent his personal representative, Reagan Brown, to the Texas Congressional delegation to announce that the governor has given the livestock and agricultural problems top priority in Texas for State action. The governor joined the I.C.A. in requesting the Texas Congressional delegation to take the lead in the Congress to save the livestock producer and the agriculture industry while protecting the consumer.

SENATOR BENTSON WORKING TO LIMIT IMPORTS

Senator Lloyd Bentson has assisted the Independent Cattlemen's Association in presenting facts to the Congressmen and U.S.D.A. that show that Secretary Butz and the U.S.D.A. have been misleading the American public on import figures for livestock.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Recommendations made to the Congressmen by the association were as follows:

1. Stricter import policy
2. Limit U.S.D.A. school lunch room programs to use only domestic beef
3. More lenient emergency loans for those who have suffered losses in the livestock industry
4. Congress should reassume some authority which has been delegated to various agencies. Some policies have been contrary to the original legislative intent
5. Discourage adoption of land use legislation

MEETING SCHEDULED FOR DEC. 16

The next meeting of the Kent County I.C.A. will be Monday Dec. 16 in the Kent County courthouse, at 7:00 p.m. Attendance and membership is greatly needed.

Watch For Acorn Poisoning Of Ranch Cattle

A heavy diet of oak leaves and acorns can cause severe illness in cattle and can even lead to death.

Due to a heavy acorn crop in most areas, acorn poisoning is more widespread this fall.

Excessive consumption of acorns and oak leaves will cause heavy urination, abdominal pain and constipation in animals followed by feces containing mucus and blood. Severely affected animals may die within a day or two or may live for several days before dying. Some animals may recover after two or three weeks if only moderate amounts of acorns were consumed.

The first step for cattlemen who suspect acorn poisoning in their livestock is to call a veterinarian.

There are also several management practices that can be followed to reduce the incidence of acorn poisoning:

1. Check pasture conditions and be wary of areas with oak trees and a heavy crop of acorns.
2. If cattle are eating acorns, use of a supplementary protein feed will help prevent excessive consumption of acorns and prevent poisoning.
3. A ration developed by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has helped reduce liveshock losses due to oak poisoning. It consists of 600 pounds of ground alfalfa leaf meal, 1080 pounds of 41 per cent protein cottonseed meal, 120 pounds of vegetable oil and 200 pounds of calcium hydroxide. Calves can be creep fed and cows should receive about four pounds of the ration daily.

4. Remove affected animals from the area where acorns are available and treat them under a veterinarian's supervision.

Knowing pasture conditions and keeping a close check on cattle herds is the key to preventing acorn poisoning, contends Dr. James Armstrong, extension veterinarian.

Consumer Problems With Anti Freeze Are Discussed

The first norther to sweep into Texas this year brought with it a rash of consumer problems about antifreeze.

The Attorney General's Consumer Protection Division, has received several complaints from individuals who have purchased and added "anti-freeze" to their car radiators, only to discover that what they added didn't perform properly.

As most car owners know, antifreeze is added to water in a car radiator to lower the freezing point. Some types of antifreeze (known as coolants) are needed year-round in many late-model cars to protect not only from freezing, but from boilovers. Without antifreeze, the plain water in a car radiator can freeze when it reaches 32 degrees, cracking the car's block as it expands and necessitating a major -- and very expensive -- repair job.

The Attorney General's office is the legal representative for the Texas Department of Agriculture, the state agency charged with registering and testing the antifreeze offered for sale in this State.

Agriculture Department officials tell us that this is an unusual year for antifreeze, a petroleum by-product with a base usually of either ethylene

Jaybird Teams Play In Roscoe Tourney Over The Weekend

The boys beat Hermleigh 55-34. Cleveland had 18 points

Jayton B Teams Gain Rotan Victories

Other scorers were Sajly Garcia, 10 points; Leann Kuenstler, 6 points; Lisa York and Patricia Gregory, 4 points each; and Lesa Pickens and LaDonna Stanaland, 2 points each.

The girls have done a tremendous job.

They have a 6-1 season. Come and show your support

Jaybirds Play Three Games With Spur

The Jayton Jaybirds and Lady Jays played 3 games with Spur, at Spur, on Dec. 2. The B team boys played first in a very exciting game. The Jayton boys led most of the game; however, the Spur boys tied the score in the last minute. In a two-minute overtime, the Bulldogs outscored the Jayton team five points. The final score was 58-53. High point scorers were: Deral Cox with 16; Lam, Sides, and Soliz each with 6. In the next game, the Lady Jays took on Spur's A team. Despite a good effort, Spur won 61-28. Pam Trammel scored 15 points. Terri Spradlin led Spur with 29.

In the final game, the Jaybirds defeated Spur 49-48, in an excellent game. Mark Fincher scored 20 points, while Briggers scored 14 for Spur.

We appreciate the support the fans gave all three teams.

Caution Given On Pink Boll Worms

Heavy infestations of pink boll worms have been found in several counties in northwest Texas. This insect spends the winter in the worm stage in seed cotton and in bolls that are left in the field after harvest. Overwintered pink boll worms do not leave the field unless they are carried out. Those that are in cotton that goes through the gin are killed.

To prevent the pink bollworm from carrying over into next season, farmers should harvest fields as cleanly as possible and take all cotton to the gin. Bolls that are left over at the turnrow should be taken to the gin or destroyed.

The pink bollworm can be controlled through good clean-up program. Chemical control measures may be needed if this pest overwinters in large numbers.

It's a good idea to check the protection chart on the antifreeze label each time you buy it, too, since some companies have reduced the amount of the base in their product this past year, and more antifreeze will be needed to obtain the desired result.

Reports have also been received from other states of unconscionable actions regarding price gouging for antifreeze. Although prices for antifreeze generally are up in Texas due to increased demand, our attorneys have received no complaints about price gouging.

Businessmen approached by such salesmen should check first with the Agriculture Department to determine if the product has been properly tested and registered.

Our attorneys also suggest that consumers purchase antifreeze from reputable dealers and check to see that the label contains required information

IT'S A LAUGH!

"I'D LIKE TO TRY WITH THE ENTRANCE ON THE OTHER SIDE."

THIS WEEK IN JAYTON

As we move along in time, from day to day, we take the changes as they come, and don't realize there has been that much of a change.

I was just thinking the other day, we don't see anymore the old time "Tramp printers" who back in the old days used to travel from town to town, picking up a few days work, and then move on.

Most of them were skilled in the trade, but usually had some sort of problem, like the drinking habit, that kept them from holding regular jobs.

In the depression days there were a lot of them. They were usually, dirty and ratty looking, but talked with intelligence, and always could come in and do a good job for a few days, and we always learned something from them.

But I haven't seen an itinerant or "tramp" printer now in about ten years.

The last one, was "Slim" or Earl Miller, who grew up at Haskell. He, back in the earlier days, before he drank too much Bay Rum, could fairly make a linotype machine roll out the type. In his latter years, he got so nervous, he was just in the way, but we always gave him a few days work, or some money to get him on down the road.

In his last few years, he travelled on a bicycle. He said it got where he couldn't catch a ride. But with the bike, if he got tired, he would get off and flag, and the first farmer in a pickup that came along would give him a lift, and let him put the bike in the back of the pickup.

Back in the mid thirties, there was an old timer that called on us about once a year. He gave his name as Willie Holt. He was of the old hand type setting school, and knew nothing about the linotype or modern machinery.

When he visited us at Anton, he always had some fast yarns to spin.

His favorite in the hand set type shops was Stockton Henry who published the Lorenzo Tribune. Almost every day he would tell something of what Mr. Henry, or his son Paul did.

He also had a favorite yarn he told about an old printer who once published the paper at Ralls.

Maybe he gave his name, but I have long forgotten what it was, if he did.

He said this old man, who operated the hand-set paper in Ralls, was a man of fixed opinions, who had friends and enemies. If, in setting the type on the paper, he came across the name of someone he disliked, according to Mr.

Holt, he turned the type around, and ran this person's name upside down. Ever since then I have thought of this incident many times—and there have been some who, I could have with great satisfaction, flipped the name on the type.

Back in the late forties, this man whom we knew as Willie Holt, was working at O'Donnell for a few days, and they found him dead in his room.

Anyone who knew this old man, or, can recall the name of the old publisher at Ralls, I would like to have these incidents verified.

Since we have been in Ralls, about 1969, there was a travelling printer came by, and wanted some work. We gave him a few days work feeding our hand fed press printing mostly envelopes.

Then, one day he moved on down the road.

Mostly, they were men, who somehow had lost control of their lives, and went on the skid. To me this seemed such a tragedy. Most of them were men of great skill, and ability, and usually a very sharp personality.

We often wonder, just at what stage in life, a person reaches this point of no-return. And we also wonder, just what this person could have done at any one point, or what those associated with them could have done, to have made it come out differently.

I recall this man Miller, telling me one time an incident that happened to him at Haskell.

He said he was working there and the publisher told him he would give him a regular job, at regular wages. This was when $50 a week was good wages. The publisher told him if he stayed on the job, and stayed sober, at the end of the month, and at the end of every month, he would give him a $100.00 bonus, and if he stayed six months, he would get an extra $500.00 bonus. — He lasted three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Jarri Parker, Jean and Patrick went to Crosbyton over the weekend.

The Jayton School Music Department, Junior High and High School Bands will present their annual Christmas Concert Friday Dec. 13, at 7:30. There will be something enjoyable for every one. Students from Kindergarten to Seniors will either sing or play.

Jim Phillips was home over the weekend visiting his family.

Cut Your High Cost of Giving and Living... Meat Imports Questioned Again... Milk Marketing Commission

TAP GIFT CERTIFICATES—A meeting to be held in Austin Dec. will officially kick off a statewide promotion program relating to giving meat, poultry, and dairy products to your friends this Holiday Season.

The State Capitol grounds will be the scene for the activities. Farm groups, including the Texas Department of Agriculture, will help begin the drive for giving something practical for the Holidays.

There are some good buys now in dairy products, meat, and poultry. And now that everyone has to get the most for every dollar spent, now is the time to consider giving a practical gift, too.

You can cut your high cost of Holiday giving and at the same time cut the high cost of living for your friends with a gift of poultry, dairy products, or meat this season.

Gift certificates will be available. In this way, you can give a gift of meat, dairy products, or poultry. The recipient will be able then to buy his or her own food items with the certificate. Many stores already have their own gift certificates. Colorful certificates you as an individual can use are also available.

MEAT IMPORTS continue to cause a lot of talk and controversy. How much of a factor are they really in determining the prices of cattle for the livestock producer in this state and nation? How much of the market do they account for?

According to the Texas Livestock Market News, as well as reports from official U.S. Department of Agriculture figures, here is the story on beef imports:

In 1974, net beef and veal imports, on a carcass weight basis, will represent 7.6 per cent of U.S. production of beef and veal. In 1973, the proportion was 8.9 per cent; in 1972, the program was 8.4 per cent.

A MILK marketing commission for Texas? It's something to think about. Other states have such commissions which are set up to insure orderly marketing of milk for consumers, producers, and processors.

Dairymen continue to find higher and higher production costs which have and are continuing to drive many out of business. A milk marketing commission could, dairymen say, insure that there will continue a dairy industry in Texas.

Plans for such a commission are now being discussed throughout the state by various dairy groups. Among the ideas presented are those which would establish a milk commission made up of consumer representatives, agribusiness interests, dairy producers, dairy processors and so forth.

Aim of the plan is to make sure there would be ample dairy production to meet demands of the state's consumers.

The idea was brought up recently at a statewide meeting of dairy producers. It's something you'll be hearing more about in 1975.

PARADE

Strutting across the ice, penguins make a comically pompous picture. They are at once dignified and ridiculous, and if we look at them very long, they remind us uncomfortably of ourselves!

We, too, are apt to mass together on occasion and to be, perhaps, a little ludicrous in our efforts to be "part of the scene." Sometimes following the leader may, indeed, be the best thing to do. But it can also be the easy way out.

Today, especially, we need the courage of our convictions. We need to stand up for what we truly believe in. We need to do the important things.
Like going to church.

USE YARD ITEMS FOR HOME

Certain yard items can help you "deck the halls" in your home this holiday season, points out a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Branches, leaves, seed pods and fruits can make inexpensive, easy to attain decorations. Pyracantha, holly, yaupon and huckleberry provide colorful fruit along with Japanese persimmons and crabapples. Pine cones, cockleburrs, cat-tails and cotton bolls make excellent decorative items. Sumac, oak and sweet gum leaves provide excellent color.

SELECTING A CHRISTMAS TREE

Select a Christmas tree with care, advises a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Make sure that the tree is well filled-out, has a triangular shape, and isn't too large for the allotted space. Shake the tree to see if needles fall. If only a few needles fall, the tree is fresh. Cut an inch off the butt end of the tree and place it in water. Place the tree away from heating vents, radiators, fireplaces and other sources of heat. Add water regularly to the tree holder.

A film-foam-fabric composite which resembles leather is available on the market, Beverly Rhoades, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, reports. A foam base is laminated to a transparent acrylic film, pre-printed with a photograph or design on its back. The design is visible from the top surface, creating a three-dimensional effect.

The New Fashions

COLLEGE STATION—Glamour and romance are the key words to describe this year's holiday season fashions, according to one clothing specialist.

She's Beverly Rhoades, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Last year's glittery fabrics have turned to lush, sensuous chiffons, velvets, jerseys, nylon, satin, crepe and fine gauge polyester for soft, flowing silhouettes," she reported.

Colors are dusty or heathered with luscious shades of green, rose and blue creating a subtle effect. Also, black, brown and white used alone or in combinations are popular.

Holiday fashions will be seen in stripes, prints, florals, checks, and plaids and geometrics—but in muted or ombred effects, she noted.

"Commenting on specific styles, Miss Rhoades predicted that skirts will be favorites for holiday wear this season.

"Special features to create interest are skirts cut bias, gored or full with yoke treatment or side wraps to create special interest."

"And although ankle length skirts continue to appeal, the short dress may be seen more frequently than before. Lovely, feminine styles with '25 inch' skirts will be favorites for the holidays.

She reported that blouses are looser with ruffled collars, bows, side wraps, low backs, plunging draped necklines and full sleeves. Furs, feathers and lace serve as trims.

"The pajama look, with loose, flowing pants, is destined to be a favorite. Blouses or sweater sets over skirts or pants make versatile holiday coordinates. Jackets, capes and shawls add a glamorous look too," she said.

Warnings Given On Cancer

Cancer of the cervix is one of the easiest forms of cancer to cure -- if found early -- and the Texas State Department of Health is going all out to detect cancer in two big regions of the state.

Armed with a three-year, $732,787 grant, a screening program is being launched among the young and older low-income women for cancer of the uterine cervix in East Texas and far West Texas. The grant from Health, Education and Welfare's National Cancer Institute will provide for 24,000 screenings in the six-county Region 7, with headquarters in Tyler.

The Texas grant is part of a $10 million study being undertaken by 12 health departments.

About 60,000 American women will develop cancer of the cervix, the narrow lower portion of the uterus, or womb. An estimated 7,800 women will die from the disease.

In Texas last year cancer kept its place as the number two cause of death behind heart disease. Total cancer deaths totalled 17,546, according to the State Health Department's Bureau of Vital Statistics. Cancer of the cervix accounted for 379 of those deaths.

Dr. Phillip W. Mallory, deputy commissioner for Health Maintenance of the State Health Department said, "The number of uterine cancer deaths doesn't indicate the amount of needless suffering brought on because the disease isn't detected early or is neglected."

"The important thing in this disease is to detect it early because it is curable. The cure rate with early detection is probably as high as 95 per cent," said Dr. Mallory.

A simple Pap test can detect cervical cancer while the disease is still localized. The test results may also indicate need for additional tests for more advanced forms of cervical cancer.

Women participating in the screening program will be advised if the Pap test results are suspicious or positive for cancer. They will be urged to return for retesting and definitive diagnosis. Biopsy (further study of bits of tissues from the suspicious area), dilation and curettage of the uterus, and other diagnostic procedures will be used.

Dr. Mallory said the screening program is a big boost to cancer detection by the State Health Department. Efforts are already being made in regular family planning clinics operated by local health department and regional personnel. But, said Dr. Mallory, this program will enable the Health Department to concentrate on those not in the normal child bearing years--those under 16 and over 45 years of age.

"We'll utilize the Maternal and Child Health and Family Planning clinics which already are in operation in the local health departments and regions," he said. In these clinics now we also look for breast cancer, hypertension, diabetes and infections of the genito-urinary tract.

Being sought out are women in four categories: 1. Women with no Pap smear in the past year; 2. Women with suspicious Pap tests; 3. Women with a change in health which make them think something is wrong; and 4. Women who don't know if they have ever had a Pap test.

Dr. Mallory stresses that this is a detection and treatment program. "We don't want to just collect data and figures. We want to do something about the problems which we find."

"If there is a suspicion of cancer, we'll follow up. We'll do something about following up for treatment. If local sources aren't available, we have an agreement on treatment in M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston," said Dr. Mallory. He further said that women who have had cancer will be followed up to see if they are getting treatment.

He said the program is coordinated with the Committee on Cancer of Texas Medical Association and the Texas Branch of the American Cancer Society who will help with educational efforts and transportation or patients if necessary.

"With combines efforts of everyone, we have the capability not only to educate but to detect cancer early and to assure treatment and proper followup," said Dr. Mallory.

Buffet Meals Popular

COLLEGE STATION--Buffet meals are always a popular form of holiday entertaining, but since the food may stay unrefrigerated longer than usual, some precautions are necessary, one foods and nutrition specialist reminded this week.

She's Marilyn Haggard, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"If cold cuts are part of the holiday party fare, using several trays of food instead of only one keeps them from standing at room temperature too long.

"Bring out a fresh tray frequently to replace those partly used. The meats stay cold and bacteria do not have a chance to grow," she said.

"The serving dish for shrimp salad -- another perishable item -- could be packed in cracked ice. Or use smaller serving dishes and refill often from the refrigerator," she suggested.

Other party buffet favorites such as deviled eggs, cheese and sour cream dips must all be kept cold also.

She pointed out that egg-nog, traditional during the holidays, makes an ideal breeding place for bacteria unless it is kept well-chilled and the supply replaced often.

PLAN Ahead For Holiday Spending

College Station -- Plan ahead now for holiday spending, one family resource management specialist suggested this week.

"Most families feel they will need to cut down on the amount of money spent this year. Call a family council and let each family member know the situation," Mrs. Doris Myers, with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, said.

Start by taking a look at where money is going now. List all expenditures that must be met for the next several months. Then list the amount of money that will be coming in to pay these bills, she advised.

"This provides a realistic picture of how much money is left for gift giving, entertaining and other holiday functions.

"In most families some adjustments will need to be made. Let the family figure out together what can be done," Mrs. Myers said.

She suggested ways to make the season happy for others without spending money. Making gifts instead of buying them, visiting a shut-in, and doing a job such as babysitting for a friend are ideas for bringing joy at no cost.

State 4H Groups Are Selling Magazines

College Station--4-H members across the state are undertaking a magazine sales campaign to meet financial goals set by each county for the new Texas 4-H Center at Lake Brownwood.

"4-H boys and girls will be participating in the Reader's Digest magazine sales program arranged through the Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation," says Dr. Don Stormer, state 4-H and youth leader for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the parent organization of 4-H. "Some 240 different magazines will be offered at low subscription rates."

According to the 4-H leader, the sales program will run for some 60 days and is designed to raise about $400,000 for the completion of the $1.4 million 4-H Center. The Center is being built on a 78-acre site on Lake Brownwood and is about 80 per cent complete. It is scheduled to open its doors in early 1975.

"The magazine sales program will provide an opportunity for all Texans to contribute to the new Center and to secure a renew magazine subscriptions at the lowest possible rates," points out Stormer. "The Center will serve as a headquarters for 4-H leadership training programs.

"The new Center will be an excellent training site for Texas 4-H youth which now total more than 241,000. The 4-H program continues to show phenomenal growth with an increase in enrollment of almost 96,000 during the past year. With this continued growth, the new 4-H Center will play an important role in providing viable programs for the youth of our state," contends Stormer.

He urges all Texans to support the drive to complete the 4-H Center. "We all have a stake in the youth of our state and nation, and we need to provide them with the means to grow and develop. The 4-H Center can lead the way."

SOCIAL SECURITY TAXES DUE ON FARM WORKERS

Farmers who pay cash wages for agricultural labor must report and pay social security taxes on each employee, points out an economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. However, wages paid to a son or daughter under 21 years of age or to an employer's wife or husband are not subject to social security taxes. Social security taxes must be paid on each employee who has worked 20 days or more or who has been paid $150 or more during the year. The employer can deduct half the tax due from an employee's wages but must pay the other half himself.

FLAX ACREAGE UP

Flax acreage is increasing in Texas due to the improving price situation. If the present price of about $8 per bushel holds, flax acreage may replace cotton in a 10 to 12 county area around Corpus Christi. This would mean a crop of more than 200,000 acres compared with about 35,000 acres last

LIVESTOCK FEEDING REMAINS UNDER PRESSURE

Feed supplies and prices will remain the critical concerns of the livestock industry in the coming months, says a livestock marketing specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Reduced grain and soybean production has resulted in rising feed prices and cutbacks in livestock feeding. Hog prices are expected to decrease this fall but should increase next year. Fed cattle prices should increase during the first half of 1975 along with feeder cattle prices. Lamb prices are expected to continue under pressure.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Nibbled by a Horse

Pupils in a suburban school ten walked to a nearby pasture where they would stand behind the fence and commune with the horses. One day, one of the boys reached over the fence and nibbled a little boy on the ear.

In short order, the boy's parents aimed a damage suit at the owners of the pasture.

"Our son was outside the fence doing nothing wrong," they pointed out in a court hearing. "The defendant should have warned the children that the animal was dangerous."

But they offered no evidence to prove that the horse had ever behaved before. Denying the claim, the court said the owner was entitled to assume there was reason to think otherwise—that the horse would hurt anybody.

Horses, because of their traditionally peaceable disposition generally do get this "benefit of doubt." But, of course, there are circumstances in which a horse owner can and should foresee trouble.

Thus, the proprietor of a stable was held liable for allowing an inexperienced rider to go on a horse known to be temperamental. The court said the stable that ensued could have been seen and prevented by a reasonable exercise of caution by the proprietor.

Then too, the law will take account the behavior of the owner as well. He himself is expected to take elementary precautions for his own safety.

As one judge remarked: "That horses are not especially intelligent, that they are startled, that their principal means of defense is to kick, have for centuries been among the simple facts of life. People who approach horses from the rear, without making their presence known, are very apt to be kicked."
