OUR FAIR

Abernathy is not having a fair of her own this year; but there still is

Abernathy has as much interest in the Hale County fair as has any other city or community in the county, and it is to be hoped that her citizens will recognize the fact and do their full share towards making that fair a success.

As we see it, our fair this year promises to be one that we can be proud of. In the first place, the fact that it is to be a free fair is a most excellent innovation. If it does nothing else, it at least removes "can't afford it" from the reasons given for non-attendance upon

The elimination of carnival attractions from our fair is also a feature which we believe to be commendable. It is true that we shall miss the merry-go-rounds and the whirligigs and the bearded lady and the dog-faced boy, and the red lemonade and the fortune tellers and all the other things that we are used to at a fair-the things that perhaps from long usage we have came to regard as almost being the fair. But, it is equally true, that at our fair this year we shall be more fully aware of ton, Ky., arrived Sunday to visit Mr. the real value of a fair to a community or county. Without the counterattractions, we will be able to observe more closely just what our county is doing along agricultural, livestock, horticultural, culinary, poultry, and kindred lines, and such closer observation will be most profitable to us. Having a real good look at what our neighbors are growing or doing is going to do us lots Jr. more good than just taking a hasty glance at their exhibit as we hurry off to hear what that fellow down the mid-way is bally-hooing about. We are going to see just exactly what our neighbors have got, and if planning to move to Lubbock in the they do have anything worthwile on exhibition, we are going to find out just how they managed to get it, and perhaps make up our mind that we can do as well as they can now we

So, we think our fair is going to be a dandy one. We know we are going to see lots, and learn lots, and although perhaps we might think it, we know we aren't going to miss anything at all. Let's make up our minds to go to our fair, and we'll sure enough have one that we'll be

BARTONSITE HAPPENINGS

Grandpa and Grandma Carr have been attending the meeting at Hale Center this week.

Most Bartonsite people were at the singing Sunday at Cotton Center. Eugene and Emmett Capps of Dora, New Mexico, are visiting in the Green home this week. With more land worked up and awaiting the planting of wheat than has ever been planted in the county before, prospects for another year's wheat crop could not be brighter. As a general rule, the land is in much better condition for planting than it was last year, and after lying free from vegetable growth since June and early July, it is in excellent condition. Judging from the expressions of wheat farmers, there will in all probability be a third more acreage planted this fall. Recent rains have put Falls and a second and a second a secon a fine planting season in the ground, and it is not a bit improbable that a new record for the year's wheat crop will be set next year. Regardless of the small acreage planted this year in feed and cotton, because of the lateness of the spring rains, this crop in some localities is as promising this year as any year in the past. One farmers says he has never had better row crops and cotton in any of the thirteen years that he has been farming in the county. Some cotton is far along at this time as it has been in past years, and we will have a harvest this fall.

KENTUCKY AVIATOR DISCOV-ERS ANOTHER PERIL OF THE AIR-BEWARE OF THE BULL

Shelbyville, Ky., August 27th .-- A bluegrass bull is the latest addition to the perils of airplaning.

William Van Arsdall of Harrodsburg, Ky., made an emergency landing in his bright red plane in the pasture of a farm near here. While he went for help a bull grazing in the pasture sighted the machine and charged it.

When Van Arsdall returned he found wing coverings and struts ripped and cracked. Strips of red cloth covered the ground and the fuselage and elevators of the plane were badly damaged.

S. S. Rogers of Talhinia, Okla., and Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Ware of Paris, Texas, have arrived for a few days' visit with Sam Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. M. Thomas.

Mr. Thomas, who resides eight miles west of town, while in town Monday told the following snake

It seems that some boys living in his neighborhod were out Saturday hunting rabbits. There are many prairie dog holes and other holes in the ground and when a rabbit made an atempt to hide in one of these, the boys would twist him out with a wire, which they had fixed for the occasion. One of the youths saw a large ratlesnake crawl into what looked like dog hole. The boys attempted to wist it out, and instead of bringing out the larger snake brought out a small rattler. They kept fishing until hey had eleven small snakes. The boys went home and were subject to parental reprimand for taking any chances with a rattlesnake, but the next day they slipped back to the spot with their "twiser" and brought out the mother snakeship together with another small one, making thir-

It is our opinion that these boys are at least entitled "honorable mention" by S. C. Roach's "Rabbit Twisters Association."-Leveland Herald would rather have one little rose From the garden of a friend, Than to have the choicest flowers When my stay on earth must end.

would rather have the kindest words And a smile that I can see, Than flattery when my heart is stil And this life has ceased to be.

would rather have a loving smile From friends I know are true, Than tears shed around my casket When this world I bid adieu.

Bring me all the flowers today, Whether pink, white, or red; I'd rather have one blossom now than A truck load when I'm dead. -Selected
