Sorosia Is Forerunner

Honor of organizing the first permanent woman's club, which was the forerunner of the present Federation, goes to Jennie Jean Crawley who organized the Sorosia club in 1868, said Mrs. Godeke.

Earlier The Female Society of New Harmony, Ind., was formed but it was doomed to die young because of prejudice against women taking part in public affairs. It was organized by Frances Wright, teacher and journalist, who was brought from England to start the intelligentsia movement in Indiana.

In that era women dared not sally forth unattended but were escorted to club meetings by their husbands

NEW FFA HEADS ARE SELECTED

The New Deal chapter of "Future Farmers of America" met September 11. The purpose of this meeting was to reorganize the chapter, and to elect new officers for the chapter.

The following members were elected officers of the organization by a majority vote of the members. Each officer is to serve one year or until next September.

Gerald Lyda, president; Murl Galbraith, vice-president; Edmun McNeely, secretary; Billy Fortenberry, treasurer; Ledford Stokes, reporter; Mr. Leo Meier, advisor; Jack Beaty, farm watch dog; Rodney Goebel, parliamentarian.

The Executive officers are:

Edsel Paden, historian; Billie Jernigan, executive treasurer; George Kveton, song leader.

Dues were placed at $1.00 50c for State and National dues and 50c for chapter dues.

There are 38 students who are taking Vocational Agriculture and a few other students in New Deal high school who will be in the organization.

The New Deal Future Farmers of America and the Future Homemaker Girls are sponsoring the community booth at the Panhandle South Plains Fair.

The New Deal FFA will not have a FFA booth due to the increased number of Vocational Agriculture Departments and not an increase in booth space at the fair.

All Vocational Agriculture Departments will have their turn in putting up a booth at the fair.

Football Game Friday Afternoon

The maroon and white of AHS will be carried into a grid battle for the first time in more than a decade Friday afternoon when the Antelopes clash with the Petersburg Buffaloes on the Abernathy football field west of the school at 2:30 o'clock.

Every person in the community is urged to see the game and yell for the Antelopes.

Admission prices for the game will be 10c for grade students, 15c for high school students and 25c for adults, Supt. R. Lee Snider, said. Antelopes Ready For Game

The boys are rapidly whipping into good shape. There have been no serious injuries and all are in good spirits for their first contest.

The Petersburg team, having had some previous games and experience in the past years, should be the most capable team; however, Abernathy's Antelopes are determined that they will make Petersburg play her very best game if she will.

The Antelope starting lineup will average about 150 pounds per man and, in coming games, will probably develop into a very adept gridiron machine. Fans may expect a good game.

Practice this week will be spent in hard work. Running of plays and scrimmages will likely be the order of the week.

Ralph Stevenson is coach of the Antelope squad, and Melvin Rathel is coaching the Buffaloes.

Probable Starting Line-Up

Coach Stevenson Wednesday noon said the probable starting line-up for the Antelopes would be as follows:

(Weights and positions given at end of names)

Petersburg Players

Although Petersburg's starting line-up for Friday's game was not known, at press time, a list of players and their positions in previous games is given below:

Billy Fisher, center; C. Bean, John Fisher, guards; Dude Goldston and Raymond Cross, tackles; Wayne Carmickle and Jack Bickley, wingmen; Thurber Billberry, fullback; R. C. Sell, Jimmie Cooke, halfbacks; Jessie Boyd, quarterback.

Among reserves used in previous games were:

Alvin Scarborough, tackle; Durwood Amonnert, halfback; Charles Gross, guard; Pat Briggs, center; Mutt McGaugh, halfback.

In games the previous two Fridays, Petersburg won a 19-12 game with Amherst and lost 6 to 7 to Hale Center.

GRADE SCHOOL NEWS

The 5A class brought to meeting for the first time their Citizenship Club. They chose their officers: Bessie Nell Brown, president; Henry Bryant, vice-president; Ella Pierce, secretary. Better Parenthood Week

Give First Thought To Children Says Parents Magazine

The Abernathy Parent Teachers Association is to sponsor the Better Parenthood Week here, Sept. 23-29.

Character education is something that every parent is interested in and yet something which most of us find hard to define. What is character and how is it influenced? Someone has described it as the sum total of an individual's personality traits. In other words, if you are happy-go-lucky, lazy, extravagant, and so on, your character is a composite of those traits.

Granted this is so, it is no wonder that character education has sometimes been an attempt to teach good traits, one at a time, to a child. For instance, suppose you want a child to be punctual. Then, someone suggests, why not specialize in teaching him punctuality for a week, at the end of which time you can go on to—well, politeness, perhaps. Actually, such programs have been tried by those who were more conscientious and literal minded than understanding.

The trouble with such a method is that character is too subtle, too open to many influences, and too fundamental to be inculcated in any such workshop way. Character, as someone has said, is caught rather than taught. We do not make our children honest or brave by telling them to be, but by seeing that our homes are places where such traits are appreciated and practiced so that our youngsters acquire them quite naturally by contagion and use.

For example, children who live in a home where the father and mother are happy, good-natured people, drink in happiness and good nature with the very air they breathe. No one talks about it to them—they just naturally acquire these desirable character traits.

Too often we think of character education only as inculcating moral virtues. And yet the way a person goes about his work is a most important part of his character. You can't make a slow child speedy nor make a quick one slow and methodical. But you can teach a slow youngster to start a job in time so that it is finished when it should be. And you can impress upon the glib mind the necessity for thoroughness.

In this connection, I wonder if mothers aren't constantly taking on their shoulders problems which don't belong there? Do you, for instance, rush about to help your children dress for school on time when morning after morning they pay no attention to the alarm clock and then stop to play before breakfast? On the other hand, are you always ready to help when a child really needs the comfort of your understanding, even if the problem confronting him is one he should solve himself?

But all the fine qualities in the world do not make a man or woman happy unless he can get on with other people, like them and be liked by them. Then why do some men and women fail in this most important part of their living? They fail because of certain unfortunate character traits. Somewhere on the road between childhood and adulthood they have become jealous or resentful, they have learned not to trust other people, or lacking confidence in themselves, they cannot be natural and outgoing and friendly. Unhappiness at home, lack of love and trust between parents and children, jealousy between brothers and sisters, too frequent failure, bringing with it a sense of inadequacy, are experiences which, left unresolved, embitter a child in his relation to others and lay the foundation for a warped and unhappy disposition.

So think of character education in terms of living, and try to surround your child with an atmosphere where love and patience, consideration for others, everyday courage and honesty are ever-present. Such a home is carrying on the best kind of character education.
