SCATTERINGS:

J. B. Collier last week found a purse which he lost in 1934. Containing about $1, the money holder was caught in the folds of upholstery of a chair in the Collier home. * * * Monroe Waits said plenty of cotton pickers could be secured from Sweetwater section. * * * Ramling Pastor-Student Herbert Brown attends Howard Payne college, Brownwood, and returns here each week-end to preach at Lakeview on second and fourth Sundays and at County Line on first and third Sundays. He is pastor of Baptist churches at the two places. * * * Plains draftees, under the Conscription Bill, are to go to San Antonio for assignment. * * * Shelton Hardin, Jess Webb and Beauford Haynes, National Guardsmen, are to report Dec. 4 for training at Brownwood. * * * Olin Culberson, State Railroad Commissioner elect, who received such whole-hearted support from this section in the Democratic primaries, and his wife are to be honored at an "old fashioned" gathering of West Texas citizens at Mackenzie Park, Lubbock, Sunday starting at 12:30 p. m. You are invited to attend and bring a basket of food and renew old acquaintances.

Death of Tom Mix was almost like losing an old friend. As a child I thrilled to his daring feats on the silent screen. Dealers say price of building material is skyrocketing. A bill figured for a house and garage several weeks ago will amount to about $500 more if figured on basis of current prices for the same materials. Starting this week, the Review offers a new feature: "Who Wrote This?", a brief quotation by some well-known writer. We give the quotation, and you readers are to name the author. Finis Robertson originated the idea for this feature and is to select the quotations. Use your telephone in reporting news to the Review: office number, 80; residence number 20-J. Bargain rates offered on the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and Lubbock daily newspapers. Let me write your new or renewal subscriptions.

ANTELOPES LOSE TO AMHERST

In a game of much interest — a game in which breaks decided the score — Abernathy played the Amherst eleven to a slow and rugged finish.

Taking the opening kick-off and returning to midfield, the Antelopes scored in four well executed plays, but failed to convert the extra point.

In the second period Wesley Hazle, Abernathy half-back, intercepted a pass on his own 22 yard stripe and returned it 78 yards to a touchdown only to have the play called back because of an interference ruling.

No scores were made in the second and third quarters, and the playing was done in the middle of the field with frequent exchanges of punts.

Midway in the final quarter, a bad snapback from center made Hazle's attempt to kick too slow, and even though Abernathy covered a blocked punt, the ball went over on downs and set up the only scoring chance Amherst had in the game.

After a first down on Abernathy's 7 yard line, three successive attempts at the left side of the line were unsuccessful. On the fourth down, a play in which many believe there should have been a penalty on two Amherst linemen for off-sides, the opponents plunged over and converted the extra point, making the final score 7-6 for Amherst.

Scoring for Abernathy was done

 Abernathy's outstanding players were Wesley Hazle and Tommy Hood in the backfield and Carrol Cox, right tackle, and Noel Johnson, left end.

WAR DECLARED! ANY SLACKERS?
 (Editorial—Maxine Jones)
 An official declaration of war went into effect Monday morning between the grade school, Freshmen, Sophomore, Junior and Senior classes when they elected their nominees for Queen for the Golden Harvest to be crowned at the gymnasium Friday night Oct. 25. There will be excitement, glamour and many surprises for everyone, but if victory is achieved we will have to fight—Are you a slacker?

MUSIC CLUB PRESENTS PROGRAM
 The Music club presented a program Monday afternoon, Oct. 14, in the school auditorium. Mothers and grade school music pupils were visitors. The following program was presented: Jeanelle Halford, "Wayside Chapel," by Wilson; Betty Sue Anderson, "Rain On The Roof," Thompson; Kathryn Gililand, "Memory's Pleasures," Eilers, and "Hawaii Guitars," Aaron; Jeanelle Brown, "In Dreamland"; Marjorie Ruth Price, "La Fiesta," Jesse, and "Minuet," Bach; Garland Heggen, "Prelude," Bach, and "Scherzo," Bach; Hampton Anderson, "Auld Lang Syne," folk song; Elayne Halford, "Adieu," Rudolf Friml; Phyllis Goeth, "Country Gardens," arranged by Williams.

CLASSES SELECT HARVEST QUEENS
 Wilma Toler was elected Senior candidate for Harvest Queen Monday by the class of 1941. Also the class colors and motto were chosen in this meeting. The class color is two-tone blue; the motto is "He who conquers himself conquers All." Ex-seniors, Wilma Richter and Maxine Jones, were voted to become honorary members of the class.
 During a meeting Monday of the Junior class, Eloise Koonce was selected as their harvest queen candidate and dark blue and gold as the class colors. Plans for future activities and the carnival were discussed. Several committees were appointed to carry out the plans. First Junior social is to be Hallowe'en, Oct. 31. Sophomores met Monday morning naming Nita Beth Lutrick their entrant in the Harvest Queen contest. Freshmen met Monday, electing Elaine Day as nominee for Harvest Queen. They think she is the best for the queen's chair and hope she is chosen. They also selected blue and white for class colors. They plan a social at the homemaking cottage Oct. 24.

GRADE SCHOOL NEWS
 First graders are enjoying a unit on the "Home." They will study the many things which are carried on in the home. In their room they are building a two-room house and making furniture for the bed room and kitchen. This unit will be carried on for about four weeks, and we wish anyone who might care to come and visit us.
 All the first grade children wish to thank Mr. Snider, Mr. Bryant and Mr. Stanhope for painting our room and putting in three new lights. It makes our room so much lighter we really like to work in it.
 Both fourth grade rooms have installed three new lights in each room.

FOOTBALL GAME FRIDAY
 Abernathy will play Meadow on the local field next Friday, Oct. 18, at 2:30 o'clock.
 Little is known of the comparative strength of the two teams. Yet, if the Antelopes get any closer, as they have done in each successive game, they will take the Meadow boys for a very tough game.
 Admission prices will be 10c, 15c, and 20c.
 Every effort will be made to start at promptly 2:30 o'clock.

F. F. A. MEETING POSTPONED
 Because of back work, the F F A meeting originally scheduled for Monday night, October 14, was postponed until the evening of October 28.
 Fifteen dollars was the prize awarded the Abernathy Chapter of the F F A for the booth at the Panhandle South Plains Fair. The booth won twelfth place. The prize money will be used for new farm shop equipment.

NEW ANTICS OF PEP SQUAD
 The pep squad is going to try out something new at the game here next Friday with Meadow.
 The girls in their pep squad uniforms will march out on the field, forming the letter M and then A, paying tribute to both our own boys and the visiting team.
 Good luck, team!

 Out of the forty-six members of this year's Senior class, only twenty-one have been born and reared in Abernathy and vicinity. They are Mable Adams, Rollin Albers, Olen Anderson, Katherine Brown, Lavenia Cain, Eloise Garrett, Phyllis Goeth, L. G. Holmes, Tom Jeff Lee, Morris Rantz, Newell Reed, Orene Rhodes, Dwight Robertson, J. P. Settle, Wilma Toler, Omer Wade, and Noel

LET'S BE BOOMERANGS

G. G. Hollingsworth (Editorial—Elayne Halford)
 Yes, let's take the Meadow boys by storm and show them what power and skill really are. Why shouldn't we make Meadow remember us as the fairest squarest and most powerful team they have ever played? But don't forget that our team is made up of all of us, and that it is your fair and squareness, your loyalty, and your encouragement that will really send the Antelopes thru the line. Boomerangs are swift and sure, and hard. Let's be boomerangs!

How To Succeed As A Parent

American Ideals of Democracy Should Be Learned and Practiced In the Home

By Clara Savage Littledale
Editor, Parents' Magazine

(Editor's note: The following article was prepared for Better Parenthood Week, Sept. 23-29, which was sponsored here by the Parent Teacher Association.)

Keeping a sense of perspective is not easy, these days, when radio and newspapers besiege us with news of war and disaster. Yet it was never so important for parents to keep a level head. In this time of turmoil our children inevitably turn to us for guidance and reassurance and we must give them what help we can.

There has been much talk of late about democracy. We want our children to be glad they live in a democcracy, we want them to appreciate all the world stands for. But we can not bring this about merely by teaching them. If they understand and value the democratic way of life, they must live it and such living must begin in childhood. Our homes must be truly "cradles of democracy" if our children are to absorb its principles.

Foremost among these principles is that of self-government. For the individual, this means that he must learn self-discipline early in life. The child who is allowed to rule a household by tantrums is not learning self-discipline. And he will be no asset as a citizen in a democracy if he carries over his tantrum technique into adult life and tries to run everything to suit himself and without respect for the rights of others. The child who is being taught at home and school what democracy is and how it operates will understand that to learn to govern one's self is one of democracy's first requirements.

And next in importance in democratic living is a willingness to share and to cooperate for the common good. Certainly, this is important in home life. The child develops this point of view by being given responsibilities suitable to his age, by helping him can at home, by learning to consider the rights of others and by imitating parents who find greatest happiness and well-being of the entire family.

But self-control and the willingness to cooperate might make a person the tool of dictatorship if democracy did not also demand that a person be aware of his own value as an individual. To have faith in himself and be independent in thought and action when matters of conviction and principal are involved, are traits which we want our children to develop. They will develop these traits if we encourage them to think and to express their thoughts without fear of ridicule or rebuke. Begin early to talk with your children, encouraging them to say what they think and to look at many sides of a question. By such exercise, honest opinion and an alert and questioning attitude of mind are developed.

A sense of personal responsibility for the welfare of his family, his community and his country is likewise an integral part of the character of a good citizen of a democracy. Our children must be trained to these responsibilities. They must be taught that only the individual efforts of all its citizens can preserve the freedom of any country.

Finally, we can't have a democratic way of life without tolerance. A genuine feeling of goodwill to men must be cultivated in children if, as adults, they are to be willing to unite with others, the world over, to create a world in which the ideals of freedom, equality and fraternity still rule the hearts of men.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

I hate to be a kicker, I always long for peace
But the wheel that does the squeaking is the one that gets the grease. It's nice to be a peaceful soul, and not too hard to please,
But the dog that's always scratching, is the one that has the fleas.
The art of soft soap spreading is a thing that palls and stales,
But the guy who weilds the hammer is the guy who drives the nails.
Let us not put any notions that are harmful in your head,
But the baby that keep's yellin' is the baby that gets fed.
