FOOD WAS COSMOPOLITAN, TOO

When the Cosmopolitan Club of Wayland Baptist College was honored by a pre-Christmas party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davis, Abernathy, December 3, even the food went "international" as the students, assisted by Mrs. Davis, prepared a smorgasbord of foods from Jamaica, Hawaii, China, Japan, Mexico and topped it off with delicious apple cobbler from the United States. Seen at the serving table with the host are: (left to right) Miss Judy Sato, Honolulu; Mr. Davis; Miss Yoshiko Shiga, Kyoto, Japan, Geri Cross, Arapa-ho, Oklahoma; Mrs. Paul Ebhomielen, Uromi, Nigeria; and Mr. Ebhomielen, president of the Cosmopolitan Club. Joining club members and guests from the administrative group at Wayland were friends of the Davises from Abernathy. (Photo, engraving and story courtesy of The Plainview Heraid.)

Jesus said in John 5:39, "Search the Scriptures; for in them ye think ye have eternal life; and they are they which testify of me." The ones to whom this passage was directed were religious. They had access to Old Testament scriptures but they had set them aside in favor of their traditions. (Matt. 15:3). They had been told not to add to nor to take from the word of the Lord. (Deut, 4:2). The Old Testament scriptures fore-told the coming of Christ and His new covenant. (Deut, 18:15-19). (Jer, 31:31). He had fullfilled many conceils His full. many specific prophecies. His ful-fillment of the prophecies and his mighty works of power proved him to be the Christ. One reason some rejected him was because he broke their traditions and he was accused of being in league with the devil. If they had searched the scriptures they would not have made these false accusations.

Jesus called attention to their error and he sent them back to study God's Word. He insisted that they study it carefully be-cause they had been taking others' word for it. They were told to take a personal interest in, and make a thorough investiga-tion and they would know that he was the Christ because the scriptures testified of Him. Every person now should study God's Word, the Bible, that his life worship, and works please the Lord. There is too much at stake to let another study for you and legis-late for you when the Lord has told you to study and investigate for yourself. Those in Berea searched the scriptures daily to see if what Paul and Silas taught was true. (Acts 17:11.)
