Rev. H. B. Coggin Returns As Pastor Of Methodist Church

The Rev. H. B. Coggin was returned as pastor of Abernathy First Methodist Church in action taken in Lubbock last week at the annual session of the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church.

The Conference assigned the Rev. Richard Richards to the Becton-Lakeview charge.

Warning Issued On Replanting

Growers who are participating in the 1961 feed grain program should be careful about replanting "hauled-out" cropland to either grain sorghum or corn. E. J. Pope Jr., chairman of the Hale County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, declared today.

The chairman cautioned program cooperators that they have a "permitted acreage" for corn and grain sorghum on their farms, and any plantings in excess of this permitted acreage would result in noncompliance with the feed grain program.

Under the 1961 feed grain program, Mr. Pope explained, the producer of corn and grain sorghum earns a special diversion payment by reducing his base acreage of these crops by at least 20 per cent from the farm's base acreage and diverting the acreage to a conservation use. This means that the farmer must increase the acreage on the farm which he normally has in a conservation use by the same number of acres that he reduces his corn and grain sorghum acreage. The base acreage of corn and grain sorghum less the diverted acreage is the farm's "permitted" acreage.

If the planting of grain sorghum or corn on land where the original crop was destroyed, as by a hail storm, increases the farm's total acreage of corn and grain sorghum to more than the permitted acreage, the farmer would not be in compliance with the feed grain program.

Corn and grain sorghum producers will not be eligible for price support on any of their 1961 crop feed grains unless they participate in the 1961 feed grain program.

TALK — In Print

Woody Coleman, former teacher in Abernathy schools, is principal of the Ruel C. Martin Elementary School in Lubbock. He is a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde E. Rhodes, Sr., of Abernathy.

J. C. Terry, 91, who died last week in Plainview, was sheriff of Hale County for six years starting in the early 1920s. Also, he had served as postmaster in Plainview.

A. C. Koeninger, 78, who died May 31, in Plainview, was a former teacher at Lakeview School nine miles northeast of Abernathy. The school was discontinued after consolidation with Abernathy and Petersburg. After teaching at Lakeview, Mr. Koeninger served as Hale County School Superintendent for a number of years.

Hale Countians lost, through resignation, the services of an able public servant last week when Judge Harold M. LaFont stepped down from the office of judge of the 64th Judicial District. Mr. LaFont had been part of this county's official family in one office or the other since 1931, when he began as assistant county attorney. In addition to the initial office and the one he vacated last week, Mr. LaFont had served as Hale County judge, district attorney and state representative.

Mr. LaFont resigned the district judgeship due to a heart condition. He suffered a heart attack several months ago. Mr. LaFont is a partner in a Plainview law firm.

Mr. LaFont's resignation touched off a three-way battle for the office he vacated. Soon after his resignation plans were announced several weeks ago, to become effective June 1, the 64th District Bar Association recommended Joe Cox of Plainview, a former district attorney, to be Mr. LaFont's successor. In such cases the governor appoints a District Judge upon approval of the state senator in whose senatorial district the judicial district is located.

Cox and State Senator Andy Rogers are not in complete political accord and the senator did not immediately go along with the Bar Association recommendation. This spurred former county judge Lee Nowlin and the current Hale county judge, James A. Joy, to make bids for the 64th Judgeship, and maneuvering and politicking went on at its slam-bang best in the county last week.

Judge LaFont was reinstated to his 64th District office Thursday to serve on a temporary basis until his successor is appointed.

Abernathians who have been in Ruidoso lately report street improvement activity in the New Mexico resort town. The main street that leads from Highway 7 through town is being 4-laned.

Vacation Bible School Slated To Begin Sunday At Nazarene Church

The Vacation Bible School at the Church of the Nazarene will begin June 12 and will close Sunday morning, June 18, at the morning service. The theme for the school will be "Getting Into Orbit." The local pastor, Rev. James Robertson, will preach a special message to all Vacation Bible School students and their parents at the closing service; his subject will be "In the Year of Our Lord 2,000."

Mrs. Billie Jean Spruiell is the superintendent of the Vacation Bible School. Others of the staff include: Aline Shippy, nursery supervisor; Jamie Hall, kindergarten supervisor; with Joyce Spruiell and Sharon Paxton as teachers; Ann Robertson, primary I, or first grade, supervisor, with Mrs. Charlie Brewer and Mrs. Norris Rogers as teachers; Louise Patterson, supervisor of primary II, or second graders, with Ruth Ingram and Dorothy Deering as teachers;

Mrs. Louis Spruiell, supervisor of Junior I, or fourth and fifth graders, with Gretta Shipman and Mrs. Adeock as teachers; Rose Patterson supervisor of Junior 2, or sixth grade, with Virginia Hall and Verda Arthur as teachers; Dorothy Shipman supervisor of the intermediate class with Roxie Smith as teacher; Lajuana Patter-

Coach Davenport requests that parents of beginner students please contact him in regard to which days they prefer their children to take the lessons — Monday and Wednesday, or Tuesday and Thursday.

Among those here who were in Ruidoso, N. M., last weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hardin, Mr. and Mrs. Erzell Givens and Jerry, Danny West, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Johnston and Anita.

Two Lubbock Men Charged In Burglary Of Hammond Maytag

Two Latin American men were caught here about 11:30 p. m. Sunday after leaving the scene of a burglary at Hammond Maytag Sales, 308 Main St., where around $300 in merchandise and $4.80 in change had been taken, local police officers reported. All the loot was recovered, they added.

City Patrolman John Marsh and Hale County Deputy Sheriff Dan Blanchard discovered the break-in, pursued the intruders, and made the arrests.

Burglary charges were filed in Plainview Monday against the two men. In Hale County jail late Monday afternoon were Luciano Garza, 22, and Augustin Ramirez, 18, both of Lubbock, in lieu of $2,000 bond each.

Marsh said the car, containing some intoxicants, was parked near Weld-Rite Welding shop. "We stopped to check it, but found no one in the area," Marsh explained. However, they continued to make frequent checks of that area.

"Then at the store, we saw that an outside lock of the back door had been pried, and also a window broken and bars across it were bent."

Marsh stated that the men had used a car jack to spread the bars outside the window where entry was gained. Even though the outside lock on the door was pried off, the inside lock held firm. Thus the intruders began their window-entry operation, according to reports.

The two Abernathy officers had heard the men leave the scene in a car, going west through the alley. They gave chase, and caught up with the men near Abernathy First Baptist Church, Marsh stated. "The man on the right side jumped out, but I caught him on foot," Marsh added.

Recovered from the car, and identified as belonging to the store, were two Emerson stereo record players, a Philco transistor clock-radio, and two other Philco transistor-type radios, and $4.80 in change.

Ironically, the intruders could have saved themselves a lot of work had they attempted to gain entry through the east rear window rather than the west rear window. When Dewey Hammond, owner of Hammond Maytag Sales, was checking the area at the rear of the building Monday morning, he reached out, took hold of the bars over the east rear window, shook them slightly and stated that they weren't very secure. At that moment, the bars began sliding to the ground.

George Reagan At Boys State In Austin

George Stroud Reagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Reagan, is representing Abernathy at Boys State in Austin this week. An AHS student, he left by special bus from Lubbock Sunday morning with a group of Boys Staters from this area. They are to return home Saturday.

Reagan is being sponsored at Boys State by Barton-Hood Post No. 500, American Legion.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lutrick and family of Rodeo, N. M., visited relatives here this week.

Quarter Horse Show Winners Named Saturday

Abernathy's Third Annual Quarter Horse Show was kicked off shortly after 1 p. m. Saturday as the judging got underway at Abernathy football field. Forty-one entries in the halter classes from Texas and New Mexico were recorded. It was felt that weather conditions over the state probably discouraged many horsemen from making the trip to Abernathy and entering their animals in the show.

The Quarter Horse Show here is sponsored annually by the Abernathy Riding Club. Through complete cooperation of members of the Riding Club, Saturday's show clicked off smoothly.

Judge for the show, Clyde Miller of Ft. Worth, Texas, stated after the show that there were some better horses in this show than there were at the Fort Worth Quarter Horse Show this past January. The show at Fort Worth was held in conjunction with the annual Fort Worth Fat Stock Show.

Winners

Bar Pistol, owned by M. C. and Kris Walton of San Jon, N. M., was named Grand Champion Stallion of the show. Reserve Champion Stallion honors went to Nino Paul, owned by Elmo and Jack Caudle of Hale Center.

Brandy Slick took the Grand Championship in the gelding division. He is owned by Jake Snipes of Clovis, N. M. The Reserve Champion ribbon was won by Cloud Smoke, owned by R. W. Woodruff of Shallowater.

There was only one entry in each of the senior and junior reining divisions, and only one barrel racing entry. James Ellerd of Petersburg took the first place buckle and prize

Paul, owned by Elmo and Jack Caudle of Hale Center.

Southwestern Public Service Company To Display Electrical Equipment Friday

The people of Abernathy are in for a glamorous, educational treat since two giant Southwestern Public Service Company trailers forming the Electric Caravan will be on display behind the company office in Abernathy, Friday, June 9.

The colorful trailers were especially designed to demonstrate the latest in electric heating, electric commercial cooking equipment and advances in lighting techniques.

Melvin Rape, manager for Public Service, pointed out that the equipment in the two trailers will actually be operating, making it possible for first-hand, what each piece of equipment will do.

Altogether, the two trailers carry 65 separate and different pieces of modern electric equipment suitable for installation in homes or businesses. Heretofore, anyone interested in store modernization, heating for homes or businesses, or commercial electric cooking would be confined mostly to viewing pictures in a catalog. Now, with the Electric Caravan, the equipment is on the spot for personal demonstration, explanation and examination.

The two giant trailers have had a wonderful acceptance in the cities in which showings have been held. Mr. Rape said, and he urged those interested to be sure and visit the trailers while they are at the Company Office in Abernathy tomorrow, June 9, from 8:00 a. m. to 2:00 p. m.

HAMMOND MAYTAG GETS NEW FRONT

They now have much more light and a far better display of the stock since taking out the office space in the front of the building.

The Hugh E. McCoy family of Shiprock, N. M., visited here in the home of his mother, Mrs. M. J. McCoy.

HOW TO INSTALL AND OPERATE A RECHARGE WELL

By JAMES C. VALLIANT

There are 37,000 playa lakes on the High Plains but only 170 recharge wells are reported to be in operation. Many of these recharge wells have been reported as failures.

Cave-ins, air locking of the pump and reduced pumping of the well due to clogging of the underground sands are the most common reasons for recharge failure. All three can be prevented by the proper installation and operation of a recharge well.

Installation

Four things are very necessary in the installation of a recharge well if it is to function properly. These are: (1) a concrete packer around the top 30 feet of casing, (2) perforate the casing beginning at the static water level, (3) install a vent pipe through the concrete packer and (4) the installation of an intake control valve.

Some recharge wells are ruined by surface cave-ins. These are caused by water seeping in around the base of the pump and recharging outside the casing. If this recharging outside the casing continues, the seepage channel enlarges and finally causes the well to cave-in. Recharging faster than the sands can absorb water results in water rising too close to the surface and this can contribute to cave-ins. A concrete packer 30 to 35 feet deep and approximately six to eight inches thick around the top of the casing will prevent surface seepage and washing from beneath and reduce the danger of cave-ins. The well should be drilled with the top 30 to 35 feet approximately 12 inches greater in diameter than the casing. This spacing is to allow for six inches of concrete outside the casing.

Many recharge wells will not pump and recharge at the same time. This is caused by an "air-lock" in the pump. Air is carried down with the recharge water and cannot escape. The falling water prevents this air from escaping back up the casing. Since the casing perforations are usually at the same level or below the pump, the air is held inside the casing. When the pump is started this trapped air enters the pump bowls and causes an "air-lock" which prevents or reduces pumping of water. Excessive wear results, if the pump is operated under such conditions.

To prevent this "air-lock" the casing should be perforated beginning at the static water level so the air which is carried down can escape outside the casing above the pump pipe. A vent pipe must then be provided to permit the air to come to the ground surface and out into the atmosphere.

This vent pipe should be two to three inches in diameter and placed in the concrete packer when it is poured. It should extend at least one foot below the packer

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Vacation time is near. Soon millions of people will be driving about the country, and automobile accidents will occur with increasing frequency. What should a person do when involved in an accident?

At such times it is hard to keep your wits about you and know just what to do. It is therefore a good idea to plan in advance just what you would do in event of a smash-up. Here are a few simple rules that every driver should commit to memory:

1. Stop! Failure to stop can result in serious criminal consequences.
2. Render Aid. If anyone is injured: (1) Render first aid. (2) Stop bleeding. (3) Call a doctor or an ambulance or both. (4) Do not move an injured person in any way that could possibly add to his injury.
3. Protect the Scene from Further Damage. You may be liable for damages to approaching drivers, unless they are properly warned. If the highway is obstructed at night, have someone turn his headlights beams on the wrecked vehicles.
4. Call an officer. Policemen, Highway Patrolmen, Sheriffs and their deputies are trained accident investigators whose testimony may be invaluable in establishing your civil claim for damages.
5. Gather Information. Write It Down. Don't trust your memory. Don't guess—be specific. Measure and mark. Step off distances. Obtain names and addresses of witnesses. You are required by law to exhibit your driver's license to the other driver and he must do the same.
6. Be Careful What You Say. Even if you feel you probably are to blame, it is best to make no admission. You may learn later that the other driver was equally at fault, or more so. Emotional comments can be misconstrued by others, or may be misquoted. Whatever you say, make it factual.
7. See Your Doctor. If there is the slightest chance you may be injured serious injuries do not always result in immediate pain or bloodshed.
8. Consult Your Lawyer Immediately. The sooner your lawyer is brought into the matter, the better.

and a few inches above the top. The vent pipe should be placed so it will not interfere with the pump base and be provided with a cover to keep out dirt and trash.

Operation

The greatest hazard in recharge is clogging of the underground formation so that the well will neither pump nor recharge water.

Pumping the well one to two hours during each 24-hour recharge period has prevented clogging. This pumping removes a large percent of the sediment which is carried into the well. Surging (stopping the pump to permit the column of water in the pump to drop back into the well) every 15 minutes stirs the sediment and keeps it in suspension. This results in more sediment being removed during pumping. Where this pumping and surging procedure has been followed, there has been no reduction in pumping or recharge rates over a three-year period.

Controlling the recharge rate will also help to prevent clogging of the underground formation. If the recharge rate is lower than the pumping rate, the sediment will remain closer to the casing. As a result, more sediment will be recovered during the daily pumping procedure.

A valve should be installed in the intake line between the well and the lake so that the rate of recharge can be controlled at all times.

Developing the well to remove mud and drillings will insure the formation is free of this material and prevent the sediment in the recharge water from stacking up against any such material in the immediate vicinity of the casing. This will also speed up water movement in the formation and make the sediment in the recharge water easier to reclaim.

Chlorinating or sanitizing the well is recommended. This will prevent bacterial growths and control contamination. Pure chlorine or chlorine producing substances can be used for this purpose.

If the above instruction for installation and operation of a recharge well are followed, recharging of surplus surface water can be carried on successfully and can add greatly to our supply of underground water.

Loose Smut Robs Wheat Growers

College Station—The growing of highly susceptible wheat varieties has caused loose smut disease to become increasingly important throughout Texas in recent years, reports Harlan E. Smith, extension plant pathologist. He said, several central Texas wheat fields were observed in 1960 with as high as 25 percent loose smut damage.

The disease is generally more damaging in areas of higher rainfall or high humidity.

Damage may be easily overlooked at harvest time, he advised, because the smut fungus destroys the entire head leaving only the central stem. A careful check of intervals before harvest will give the most accurate picture. It is during this time one can see the mass of black dust or spores that replace the head of grain, Smith said.

Smut spores from diseased heads are blown to healthy heads on which they germinate and penetrate the young seed. The smut remains dormant within the seed until it is planted. As the seed wheat germinates, the smut fungus also starts to grow. The smut fungus eventually grows up to the wheat head completing its life cycle.

Ponca, Pawnee, Triumph and Austin wheat varieties are resistant. Quannah, Concho, Kiowa and Bison varieties are extremely susceptible. Comanche, Wichita and Westar seldom develop high infection of the disease, the specialist said.

Loose smut can be controlled by a special seed water-soak method. Relatively small amounts of seed can be treated by this method for increase in seed fields. Treated seed should be sown in a field isolated as far as possible from fields sown with infected seed.

Local county agents can supply additional information, not only on loose smut, but also other diseases which attack wheat.

AUSTIN DOCTOR ASKS "WHAT PRICE FOOTBALL?"

AUSTIN—In an article, "What Price Football?" appearing in the May issue of the "Texas State Journal of Medicine," an Austin physician has urged Texas physicians to take a "closer look at the contact sports programs in their own school systems."

Dr. Morris D. McCauley reports that studies made recently by Travis County Medical Society reiterated a conclusion reached "literally hundreds of times" by others before: that contact sports have no place in the recommended health program for adolescent and pre-adolescent children.

He cites an effort on the part of Austin physicians this spring to dissuade the Austin School Board from adding football as elective extracurricular activity for seventh and eighth grade boys in local public schools. The effort failed.

A better plan, the author points out, would be to institute in school systems a full program of physical education to benefit all children, including girls, in all grades.

Mrs. Anton Wolfe spent the weekend visiting her mother, Mrs. Walther, in Giddings.

First Baptist Church was the setting for the 8 p. m. Thursday, June 1, wedding of Miss June Beth Robertson and William Frank Farrar of Lubbock, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Fred Farrar, College Station.

A double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Joe R. Griffin of Weatherford.

Wearing a gown of white bridal satin, the bride was given in marriage by Ralph E. Davis. Her gown featured a sweetheart neckline with the bouffant skirt flowing from an empire waistline into a short train. A bolero of Chantilly lace, designed with long sleeves topped her gown. Miss Trina Green of Sterling, Colo., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Peggy Davis and Miss Pam Davis.

Attendants wore dresses of Copeland blue silk organza designed with bateau necklines, puffed sleeves, fitted bodices and bouffant skirts over cotton satin. They carried colonial nosegays of blue and white.

Q. Just what is a girl supposed to reply to a fellow when he says "Thank you" after they have danced together? I usually say "You're welcome."

A. Although "You're welcome" is correct enough, it does sound a little trite. "I think it's nice for a girl to say in different ways, "I enjoyed it, too," and to sound as though she meant it. Even the girl who doesn't dance very well can make the boy feel so appreciated that he'll come back for another "go-around."

Q. Isn't it proper for a woman to use her maiden name as a middle name after she is married?

A. This is the established custom. In other words, after Joyce Margaret Denton marries William Henry Morgan, she then becomes Joyce Denton Morgan.

Q. What is the best and easiest way to introduce married couples to each other?

A. One good way is merely: "Mr. and Mrs. Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Rogers." Or, "Mary and Tom Carson, Helen and Dick Rogers."

Q. When invited to someone's home and there are small dishes of potato chips and peanuts placed on tables around the room, is it proper for a guest to help himself without being asked?

A. Since these dishes are obviously there for the guests, it is quite all right to help yourself.

Q. Please tell me, should I wait until I am officially engaged, before taking the girl of my choice to meet my parents?

A. Certainly not. If you and your girl are on the point of becoming engaged, she should long before now have met your parents — unless, of course, your parents live in some distant part of the country.

Q. When a business letter is addressed jointly to a man and a woman, what is the correct salutation?

A. "Dear Sir and Madam."

Q. When a woman is paying her first call on a woman who has recently moved into the neighborhood, how long should she remain?

A. From 15 to 20 minutes should be long enough. Usually, a woman who has just moved into a new home has loads of work on her hands and she might resent (justifiably) a too-lengthy visit.

Q. I am a girl about to be married, but have no father, brother, or other male relative to give me away. My fiancé has suggested that his father perform this rite. Would this be proper?

A. Yes, this would be quite all right.

Q. How does one properly eat mussels?

A. If steamed, they're held in the fingers and sucked out — without too much noise, of course. If pickled or smoked, they're served on toothpicks.

Mr. & Mrs. Weldon Hammonds

ROUTE 1, FLOYDADA, TEXAS

The wonders of electric appliances are many — but you can't beat one that makes children enjoy what used to be a difficult and joy-killing task. The automatic dishwasher in the Hammonds' home has done just that for Kay, Ann and Gaye Lynn. They enjoy doing dishes — electrically.

Mrs. Hammonds loves all her electric appliances. Speaking of her range, she says, "The electric range is easier to clean, also, electric cooking is faster."

Mr. Hammonds, in addition to seeing his family so happy, says, "We wouldn't take for our electric yard light. Besides convenience and safety, it gives our home a warm welcome to friends."

One of the extra comfort, cleanliness and convenience features of a Medallion Home is electric bathroom heat. Mrs. Hammonds likes electric bathroom heaters because "curtains, flower planters and other accessories can be used above electric heaters, and the children can turn them on with a flick of the switch."

Wise Farmers Plan Their Farm Operations

Many farmers in this area, reports County Agent Ollie Liner, follow such good soil fertility and irrigation programs that yields of 6,000 pounds or more of grain sorghum per acre are not uncommon. The top farmers not only follow soil test recommendations for fertilizer usage but also plant a hybrid capable of making high yields under the conditions on their particular farm. Texas 660 is one of the most commonly used hybrids under high yield conditions in this area. Liner says. A hybrid which matures as late or later than Texas 660 should be considered, explains Liner, when enough fertilizer and good managerial practices are used to produce yields of 6,000 pounds or more per acre. On the other hand, Liner says, if farmers hope to plant in late June or if water is limited, an early hybrid such as HS 608 or 610 should be used. Thus, the wise farmer considers the soil test when planning his fertilizer program as well as the hybrid which will perform best on his farm.

SLOW DOWN AND LIVE SAYS TEXAS SAFETY ASSOCIATION

Your number one safety rule. Slow Down and Live, keynotes the current highway safety campaign being conducted by the Texas Safety Association in cooperation with local organizations and state and local officials. This is an effort to reduce the expected toll of traffic accidents during the peak summer driving months.

"More people are on the go by automobile during the summer than at any other time of the year," said J. O. Musick, Texas Safety Association General Manager and Coordinator for the Slow Down and Live program. "We want to do everything possible to bring all of them home safely from their trips."

As a part of its campaign to remind motorists of the fundamentals of safe driving, the Texas Safety Association has distributed thousands of "Trip Cost Record" leaflets as a handy means of keeping account of automobile expenses on vacation trips. On the back of the leaflet are listed five safety reminders:

1. Keep your car in top mechanical condition. Steering gear, brakes and lights are especially important. Watch your tire pressure. Improperly inflated tires plus summer-hot roads can equal blow-out disaster.

2. Keep your eye on the cars behind and in front of you. Anticipating what the other fellow may do is an essential of safe driving. Keep your distance — a car's length for every ten miles of speed.

3. Stay alert at all times. On long, monotonous drives, stop every two hours for a coffee-break (iced coffee is just as effective as hot for sharpening your reflexes). Get out of the car, walk around, relax for a few minutes.

4. Share the wheel if you can. Don't fight fatigue. Pull over to the side of the road and take a rest. You'll lose a few minutes... but perhaps save you life!

5. Know and obey all traffic regulations, especially speed laws. Speed too fast for conditions is the most common cause of fatal

"THE PIONEER" Pioneer Gas Co. Introduces New Gas Yard Light

A new line of dual-mantle gas lights is being introduced throughout the area served by Pioneer Natural Gas Company, officials of the company have announced.

The new light was named "The Pioneer" as a result of improvements suggested by Pioneer Natural Gas Company. The major innovation is a distinctive dual-mantle which increases the amount of soft, diffused illumination characteristic of gas light.

With no increase in the cost of operation over the present single-mantle lights, according to Carl D. Barton, local PNG manager, Mr. Barton also states that the prices on "Pioneer" gas lights will remain the same as on present models. The dual-mantle light is expected to further increase the demand for Gas Lights which have experienced a phenomenal rise in popularity since being introduced some three years ago.

The new dual-mantle feature in "The Pioneer" light is such an improvement that it will be incorporated in other models.

Initially, the new "Pioneer" light will be introduced through Pioneer Natural Gas Company offices. However, the manufacturer will market these lights on a nationwide scale in the near future.

Improvement Work Slated On FM Road 54

Boswell & Crafton, Inc., submitted the low bid of $349,914 on the project. Grading, structures, base & surfacing; FM 54—from US 87 east to the Floyd County line; FM 378—from FM 579 south to FM 54 at Allmon Gin is expected to take 140 working days, according to Oscar L. Crain, District Highway Engineer at Lubbock.

Sam Fowler, Resident Engineer at Floydada, will be in active charge of the project while it is under construction.

STUBBLE MULCHING
As wheat harvest grows near, it's time to start planning how to manage those residues. One of the best ways is stubble mulching.

Many Hale County farmers do not have a clear conception of what stubble mulching is. Let's take a closer look at stubble mulching.

Stubble mulching is a year-round way of managing plant residues on cropland. Harvesting, seedbed preparation, planting, and cultivating are all done so as to leave residues of the previous crop on top of the soil until after the next crop is seeded. These residues or stubble of the last crop make a mulch that helps conserve soil and water.

Stubble mulching greatly reduces both wind and water erosion. It is particularly useful in the Great Plains where ways to control wind erosion are continuing need and where high-producing stubble crops such as small grain and sorghum are common.

Left on the surface, the plant residues keep the wind from getting at the soil and the rain from compacting it. With residues on the surface, there is less runoff because the soil takes in water more rapidly. There is also less soil washing because the mulch slows down the speed of the water that does run off. And as the residues turn to humus they improve the soil.

Use as little tillage as possible. The fewer the better, so long as you control the weeds, is the rule for the number of tillage operations. Research in several experiment stations in the Great Plains shows that you destroy about half of whatever residues are left each time you use a disk-type implement. Sweeps or blades destroy only about one-tenth of the residue each time over the field. The wider the sweeps the better, but not less than 30 inches, is a good rule for the width of your sweeps. All blade-type machines are wider than this. Remember that sweeps or blades destroy only about 10 percent of the stubble each time over the field as compared to about 50 percent for the disk-type machines.

Tillage should be shallow to control weeds and conserve moisture. You should run your sweeps or blades 3 or 4 inches deep most of the time, but you need to cultivate deeper than this, 5 or 6 inches, at least once during the year to help prevent the formation of a tillage pan. Research shows that, in general, the first tillage should be the deepest.

Stubble mulching is most common for small-grain crops. Stubble mulching starts at harvest time. Small grains — the crops most commonly stubble mulched — should be harvested so as to leave as much stubble as possible. To get an even distribution of the straw over the soil surface, use a straw spreader on your combine. Row crops also can be stubble mulched. Corn, grain sorghum, and other row crops can be stubble mulched. Here is an example of grain sorghum following wheat. Leave the wheat stubble standing over winter. If necessary, use a sweep-type cultivator to check weed growth in the fall. If volun-

Precautionary Measures Urged In Use Of Sodium Chlorate

Recently several questions have been asked pertaining to the use of such herbicides as Sodium Chlorate to noxious weeds on and adjacent to farm equipment storage areas, irrigation wells, and commercial property.

The Hale County Noxious Weed District does not recommend the use of this herbicide on anything other than open agricultural land. Sodium Chlorate is a highly oxidizing chemical and therefore, very fire hazardous. It is also corrosive to metals. When this material is mixed into organic matter, the organic matter becomes highly inflammable. It has been known to ignite from friction or the heat of some fires. It is somewhat dangerous to apply as well, and precaution must be taken.

Sodium Chlorate is a soil sterilant and is very effective. However, it should not be used where there is a danger of fire or when in reach of children and animals. Other safety precautions also should be taken with the use of any chemical, particularly herbicide. Including:

1. Apply at low spray pressure.
 2. Prevent skin and eye contact.
 3. Use only directions on the label of any agricultural chemical.
- Failure to comply with the above precaution may result in confiscation of the crop, by government officials, under rules set forth by the Food and Drug Administration.

The annual election of officers will be held at the stated meeting of Abernathy Lodge No. 1142, A.F.S.A.M., at 8:30 p.m. Thursday, June 8. Members are urged to attend, and visiting Masons are welcome, said Bob Drace, worshipful Master.

Seeding in stubble mulch is not difficult as one might think. Drills of the deep-furrow shoe or hoe type are effective for working through heavy residues. Semi-deep or deep-furrow disk-type drills will also handle large amounts of stubble. All drills should be equipped with press wheels to pack the soil firmly around the seed.

Use as little tillage as possible. The fewer the better, so long as you control the weeds, is the rule for the number of tillage operations. Research in several experiment stations in the Great Plains shows that you destroy about half of whatever residues are left each time you use a disk-type implement. Sweeps or blades destroy only about one-tenth of the residue each time over the field. The wider the sweeps the better, but not less than 30 inches, is a good rule for the width of your sweeps. All blade-type machines are wider than this. Remember that sweeps or blades destroy only about 10 percent of the stubble each time over the field as compared to about 50 percent for the disk-type machines.

Tillage should be shallow to control weeds and conserve moisture. You should run your sweeps or blades 3 or 4 inches deep most of the time, but you need to cultivate deeper than this, 5 or 6 inches, at least once during the year to help prevent the formation of a tillage pan. Research shows that, in general, the first tillage should be the deepest.

Stubble mulching is most common for small-grain crops. Stubble mulching starts at harvest time. Small grains — the crops most commonly stubble mulched — should be harvested so as to leave as much stubble as possible. To get an even distribution of the straw over the soil surface, use a straw spreader on your combine. Row crops also can be stubble mulched. Corn, grain sorghum, and other row crops can be stubble mulched. Here is an example of grain sorghum following wheat. Leave the wheat stubble standing over winter. If necessary, use a sweep-type cultivator to check weed growth in the fall. If volun-

PLAN NOW TO USE COTTON BURS THIS FALL

College Station — Every year more and more Texas cotton is machine harvested, resulting in a larger supply of cotton burs at the gin. To dispose of these burs, most ginners burn them, thereby increasing the fire hazard.

Research by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has proved, however, that there is a better use for this gin waste. These burs, when applied to the land, will increase cotton yields. In a 4-year study at Lubbock, the use of cotton burs under non-irrigated conditions increased lint yields by an average of 27 pounds per acre, and the residual effect increased yields by 28 pounds per acre for five years.

Liberal application of burs results in a better soil-water relationship, thus letting crops use the available moisture more effectively. Soils to which cotton burs have been added are also more resistant to wind and water erosion, and they may have a better infiltration rate.

Angular leaf spot, verticillium wilt or cotton seedling diseases have not shown any increase on land receiving six annual applications of burs at Lubbock. In years favorable to angular leaf spot infection, it was more serious where no burs or fertilizers were applied.

Cotton insects which reduce yields and lower grades have not built up to a point in the burred soil that they nullify the advantage of using burs. In 1951, cotton burs released by the State Department of Agriculture and the Department of Plant Quarantine for use on the land, provided certain standards in methods of handling were met by ginners in order to destroy any pink bollworms present.

For further information on the use of cotton burs, contact your local county agent or write the Agricultural Information Office,

Be A Neatnik

AUSTIN, TEXAS—The Texas Highway Department recently launched a new slogan in its anti-litter campaign: "Be a neatnik, not a litterbug."

This plea comes from Texas Highway Department maintenance crews all over the state as they haul mountains of cans, bottles, paper, decaying food, and other litter from Texas highway right of way.

"Spring houseclean our Texas highways all year long by fighting that urge to toss litter from your car," they recommend.

Throwing litter on highways and roadsides is prohibited by law. Last year 281 cases against litterthrowing were completed in Texas courts. Of this number, 269 were found guilty and were fined or punished by other means.

Highway maintenance men point out that litter is local for the main part, coming from resident litterbugs and not from out-of-staters or from phantom travelers from "up the road." Surveys reveal that the litterbug is a local person, possibly a civic-minded citizen in all other phases of his life, but he fails to see the multiplication factor when he tosses out an empty cigarette package, wad of paper, or soft drink bottle. He would not toss these objects down in his own yard, or in a friend's; but he will thoughtlessly take over the highway as his own private trashbasket.

Other evidence of the "resident litterbug" is sometimes a can-and-bottle trail. Maintenance foremen report that the biggest dead-soldier tossouts are about a drink away (by car) from the nearest local emporium. Cost of removal has been estimated at one-half cent per can. Maintenance crews, join poet Richard Armour in his hurry-up order to science for an edible beer can.

Maintenance men point out: No machine can pick up litter. It has to be hand-picked. That makes it an expensive operation. Last year the clean-up and mowing bill for 57,500 maintained miles of Texas highways totaled more than $7,000,000. This included picking up, hauling, and unloading rubbish. Another chore for maintenance men is removal of dead animals, removal of rocks and rock piles. Wrecked cars must be hauled off. Advertising signs in the right of way must be taken down. Maintenance crews are also responsible for mowing the grass, removing brush, and keeping vegetation from the highway markers and guard posts.

A maintenance foreman explains, "We could do our mowing job so much quicker and save money if we didn't have to pick up all the cans, bottles, and litter before we start. A heap of litter hidden in the grass can wreck an expensive machine or an automobile. Cutting grass is more than just trying to keep a neat highway yard. Mowing reduces fire hazard and prevents spreading of weed seed to nearby farms. Tall grass and brush can also distort sight distance and result in expensive and tragic automobile smashups.

"Take a count of the litter objects you see the next time you are on the road. Even though we have regular maintenance crews making periodic litter pickups, that busy litterbug is still way ahead of us. Help us out. Be a 'neatnik.' Litter? Don't throw it; stow it—till you get to a proper disposal unit."

Boy Scouts Enjoy Overnight Trip To Palo Duro

Troop 81, Abernathy Boy Scouts, enjoyed an overnight camp out May 29 and 30 at Palo Duro State Park.

The boys who attended were Roland Murray, Mike Collins, Billy Barrick, Wesley and Garland Knight, Doyle Attebury, Chuck and Ronnie Wynne, Mike Pettit, Tommy Adkisson, and Wayne Higgins. The adult leaders were King Collins and Billy Bob Johnson.

The local Boy Scouts, in planning their trip to summer camp, submitted a request to the school for use of a school bus for their transportation. The request, after being reviewed by the School Board Monday night, was turned down.

Marvin Patterson Selected As New Assistant Water Superintendent

Mr. Marvin Patterson, presently living at County Line, has been employed by the City Water Department as Assistant Water Superintendent.

Marvin's duties will involve water meter reading, meter repair and replacement, and assistant to Dick Hughes on other utility operations.

In announcing Patterson's appointment, city manager Paul Noland stated "One of our main problems has been that of adequate supervision of actual work being performed. Neither Dick Hughes nor myself, because we both are usually busy with other matters, have been able to spend the necessary time with the men to see that work tasks are per-
