OUTDOORS -IN- TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

A fantastic lake in Texas is the impoundment generally known as "Alcoa," near Rockdale. It is one of the most "constantly good" fishing lakes of its kind.

Alcoa furnishes good fishing for bass, crappie, bream and catfish practically the year around.

This lake was built by the Aluminum Company of America, when it opened its plant near Rockdale back in the early fifties.

Alcoa Lake was stocked by the Old Game & Fish Commission, kept closed for a reasonable time, then opened to public fishing. Since then thousands of pounds of wonderful fish have been taken from the lake.

Alcoa has permitted a concession on the lake, where boats can be rented or supplies bought. There are certain necessary restrictions, but none any good sportsman wouldn't approve.

It is a picturesque spot. Heavy smokestacks of the aluminum plant form a background that is most interesting. Part of the shoreline is rocky. There are also many cattails, reeds and willows along the banks. These furnish fine cover for the fish.

Alcoa Lake is kept at a fairly constant level because the company pumps water in from the San Gabriel and Little rivers some 12 miles away.

This lake is unusual from another standpoint. It has a "built in" hatchery, which produces a good crop of brood fish earlier than most other lakes in Texas.

Actually there are two lakes, connected by a deep channel. In one of these lakes the water used in the cooling process is released. This water is 10 to 20 degrees warmer than the water in the main body of the lake.

Fishing is not permitted in this water. As a result big brood bass are developed and they spawn early. Their young eventually work on out through the channel into the cooler water where they grow big and sassy.

State biologists go to this warm section every year and take a number of large brood bass for their own hatcheries. This gives them production much earlier than could be normally expected.

Alcoa also is one of the best crappie lakes and many fine strings are caught in the deeper water. Bream are very plentiful along the shoreline, offering good sport for fly and light tackle fishermen.

Alcoa is a popular lake not only with residents of the nearby towns, but with people from more than 100 miles away. It is one Texas lake where anglers are more likely to get a good mess of fish than perhaps from any other lake.

Near the concession building is a huge oak mott which provides ample shade for a park. Tables in the park make it a wonderful recreation area. Users help keep it clean by doing away with their own litter.

This is a lake of many regulars. The same people go there time after time. They are well acquainted with all the hotspots on the lake. Perhaps that is the reason there are so many good catches reported.

This fabulous lake also has meant much in the way of goodwill for Alcoa. The lake is a necessity for the plant and it could have been fenced off, like so many similar impoundments. However, its gates have been opened by the company and everyone who fishes it is appreciative of its qualities.

$101 less than last year's Impala with comparable equipment.

Impala Custom Coupe

Match that, anybody.

We give you an honest increase in car at an honest decrease in price.
 Take the '69 Impala above. We improved the ride. Made it quieter inside. Added an anti-theft locking device. Put steel guard rails in the doors. Still, this Impala with a 300-hp V8, Turbo Hydra-matic, advanced design power disc brakes, head restraints, whitewalls and wheel covers is priced $101* less than in 1968.
 The 300-hp V8 is priced $40 less than last year's 275-hp. Turbo Hydra-matic costs less. Power disc brakes about half as much. Whitewalls a little less. Wheel covers about the same. And head restraints are now standard.
 Upping value and dropping price. That's the way Chevrolet operates.
 Putting you first, keeps us first.
