TALK In Print

The following is from an advertisement in The Wall Street Journal, March 8th edition: "We Are Pleased to Announce That Charles P. Nystel is Now Associated With Our Securities Sales Department As a Registered Representative. Dallas Rupe & Son, Inc., Member New York Stock Exchange, Republic National Bank Tower, Dallas. . ."

Charles P. Nystel is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Nystel, Abernathy. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Nystel, Lubbock. Charles, a Monterey High School graduate, has a degree from Texas Tech, and took post graduate work at SMU.

The New York Stock Exchange, miffed at Mayor Lindsey over his proposal to tack a city tax on the Exchange's transactions, is looking for a new location to build a $50 million building for its operations. The C. of C. might extend the Exchange an invitation to build in Abernathy. And, the city officials probably would guarantee no city tax on transactions. Fantastic? Yes, but it is "thinking big" as cities are so often urged to do.

his puppet, squeaky, here before his family moved to Richardson. He was on several programs here, and I saw him perform once. Even at that young age, he showed great promise as a professional entertainer. He has been on numerous programs in Richardson and Dallas, and recently he flew from Dallas to Amarillo to present a program.

Jay has expanded his program to include singing and dramatic numbers, in addition to his act with Squeaky. Jay is not the only family member with entertainment talent. His sister, Tonda, 13, joins Jay on some of his programs. She is a talented singer and pianist, and is learning to play the guitar. Her picture was in the Richardson newspaper along with Jay's. They played a benefit program for the Richardson Kiwanis Club. The club was raising money to help a young Richardson couple, who had a staggering hospital bill. The wife had a rare paralytic disease, and she died not long after the benefit program was presented. Jay is edging into television. He is doing commercials for a TV advertiser on WBAP-TV.

Steve Jackson won the annual Chris Benn Award, presented by the Lions Club for overall accomplishment.

Tom (Cotton) Neely, Monterey High vocational agriculture teacher, judged the show, which drew entries from 34 FFA boys and 31 4-H Club boys in Abernathy.

Jay and Squeaky may be worthy successors to Edgar Bergen and his puppets.

France's President Charles de Gaulle is getting his kicks out of kicking Uncle Sam's teeth in everytime he has the opportunity. He must have a short memory. Surely, he experiences a nagging of conscience everytime he passes a military cemetery with crosses row after row as headstones of Americans who gave their lives in two wars to help France retain its freedom.

Through direct mailings and other means, the Social Security Administration has had contact with 16 of the 19.1 million citizens who will be 65 or over on July 1. Of the 16 million who replied, less than one million said they did not want to sign up for the supplemental program.

COUNTY REPORT GIVEN

Juvenile Lawbreaker Problem Is Worse

Hale County Child Welfare Unit supervisor Jan Stanley gave Hale County Commissioners an annual report on the unit's activities at a Court meeting.

The report which included statistical information about cases the unit has handled, showed the number of children receiving foster care increased to 57 in 1965 as compared to 37 in 1964.

"We're using foster care sometimes instead of detention facilities," Stanley said. "That way while we're investigating the case the child doesn't remain in jail."

"There is a trend over the past two years toward shorter stays in foster care," he added.

JUVENILE PROBLEM
Stanley reported an increase in the number of juveniles in conflict with the law. There were 137 who had to stay in jail overnight, he said, compared to 98 in 1964.

Citing this and a report of 21 cases of juvenile trouble the past weekend, County Judge C. L. Abernathy asked if the increase might not continue. "Overall, it's getting worse, isn't it?" he asked.

"I think it's getting worse. We're being made more aware of it, anyway," Stanley replied. The number of juveniles being sent to state training schools is not going up as

YOUR CREDIT
New York (NAPS)--For most Americans these days, the question isn't whether to use credit, but how to use it in the best way. Investigate a potential creditor's background. A lending agency, for example, should display a state license on its wall, as well as plaques showing membership in state and national associations. These organizations demand adherence to a strict code of ethics.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

The Case Lincoln Lost

On a fateful autumn day in Indiana, in the fourth year of the Civil War, Union soldiers entered the home of Lambdin P. Milligan and placed him under arrest.

The soldiers were acting on orders of President Abraham Lincoln, their commander in chief. Milligan, suspected of aiding the Confederate cause, was speedily found guilty by a military court and sentenced to be hung.

But nine days before he was to die, Milligan—invoking the ancient writ of habeas corpus—demanded his freedom. He claimed that, as a civilian, he could not lawfully be punished by a military court.

How far may military power reach in wartime? For a nation dedicated to individual liberty, the issue was a wrenching one.

Lincoln himself argued that, with war convulsing the country, he was justified in taking drastic means to crush disloyalty on the home front.

But there were weighty points too on the other side of the argument. Not only was Milligan a civilian, but he had been arrested in Indiana—where, at the time, no hostilities were under way.

fast as the number of cases, however, he said. "It costs the state about $2000 to keep one child there one year," he said. Besides the cost, "we think the child is better off here if possible anyway."

UNIT'S JOB
The unit works with delinquent children, locally, supervising probations, helping find foster homes or trying to iron out family problems.

"It is always our primary aim to help families hold together and become stronger rather than to 'snatch' children into substitute homes of any kind," Stanley said.

A financial report of the Child Welfare Unit's activities showed a total expenditure of $43,893.27. The state and Federal governments paid $21,053.76 of this, leaving $22,839.51 for the county to finance.

The county's expense in 1965 figured to $41.07 per child the Unit worked with, Stanley said. The Court's agenda was tight for the regular meeting, only action taken was approval of a $161 labor charge to install a leveling device on the courthouse elevator.

Most important, Indiana's civil courts were still open for business, ready, willing, and able to hear the charges against Milligan if given the chance.

On April 3, 1866, 18 months after Milligan's arrest, the United States Supreme Court set him free. Holding that the military trial was unlawful, the Court thereby marked out historic limits beyond which martial authority must not go.

Oddly enough, this decision condemning Lincoln's action was written by his own devoted friend, Justice David Davis. Lincoln by then was already dead. Yet it is easy to imagine that if still alive, with the awful pressures of war behind him, he might have applauded the judge's words:

"The Constitution is a law for rulers and people, equally in war and peace, and covers with the shield of its protection all classes of men, at all times, and under all circumstances."

A Northern editor had this comment:

It is easy to imagine Lincoln himself saying amen.

PROGRESSIVE BUSINESS AND CIVIC-MINDED PEOPLE OF LUBBOCK AND VICINITY

This department has been worked up largely as a reflection of public opinion. No person has written of themselves or their business. All articles have been compiled by a representative of the Abernathy Weekly Review as he saw conditions. These people are all leaders in their various lines of endeavor and the cooperation of those citizens in Lubbock who helped make this department possible is sincerely appreciated.

Cecil B. Pipkin

It is not always the kind of a business which determines its importance to the community. But, more or less, the methods used in its management. The services rendered to the public. And the manner in which it meets both business and civic obligations.

The cheerfulness of the personnel of Pipkin Cleaners, located at 1413 on Avenue Q, in their contacts with the public. And the ready acceptance of all business responsibilities by Cecil B. Pipkin, proves conclusively that he is a man who is well-versed in the principles of successful business management.

As most people know, this firm is a leader in the dry cleaning business, featuring Sanitone Services. This is partly so because of their long experience, but also because of a never ending policy of keeping abreast of the times in their particular field.

It is a pleasure to compliment Cecil Pipkin for the successful operation and management of the business, and for his many contributions to those civic projects aiding in the growth and development of Lubbock and the adjacent territory.

C. J. Wintroath

It is appropriate that we include in this review of conscientious Lubbock business men, C. J. Wintroath, manager of U S Pumps Incorporated, who has a great many friends and business associates throughout the South Plains region. Furthermore, he is a man who not only has the reputation of being progressive, but also the added one of being a willing supporter of many community affairs.

Aside from his business activities, Mr. Wintroath has always shown an interest in the civic betterment and progress of the city, and has backed up his interest by his contributions to many projects which have benefited Lubbock and the surrounding trade area. He is a good and loyal citizen, and the full measure of his loyalty is most apparent because of his eagerness to aid community activities.

His help along these lines has made of C. J. Wintroath an excellent example of the type of man we all appreciate. We congratulate, and extend to him on behalf of all those interested in better business and civic progress, sincere appreciation for his contributions to the general welfare of Lubbock and vicinity.

Dale K. Pepper

Dale K. Pepper, manager of the Lone Star Cotton Company, has won the universal respect and good will of the business men of the South Plains for the progressive manner in which he has kept this reliable company in the forefront of the business and industrial life of this entire region. Also for the efficient and friendly willingness he has displayed in accepting his share of responsibility in aiding civic projects.

Mr. Pepper is not the kind of individual who makes himself conspicuous by the manner in which he conducts himself, either in business or other matters. Yet, his quiet reserve and air of confidence mark him as a man of sound judgment, whose opinions and advice are sought after and listened to with respect.

We compliment Dale Pepper for the successful management of the Lone Star Cotton Company, and also for his constructive advice and help on those civic affairs in which he has found time to interest himself. He is a man whom many are proud to call friend.

Thad And Dale M. Williams

In every community there are a number of successful business men who can be pointed out as having taken a three-fold part in the onward progress of their city. Two well known executives of Lubbock who belong in this category are Thad and Dale M. Williams of Johnny's Auto Parts.

Their leadership in their line of business is recognized throughout this entire district. And their furtherance of civic activities, and support of those organizations whose main objectives are directed along lines of civic betterment and community progress is well known to their immediate associates.

The Williams' are men who equally well liked and respected by their intimate friends and their customers. They are loyal to their community, thankful for their success in business, and have shown their appreciation by their contributions to various civic movements of benefit to the city.

We congratulate Thad and Dale Williams for being good citizens, dependable business men, and boosters of the Hub City.

Morris E. Long

Since this is a period of growth and expansion for Lubbock, those conscientious business men who had the foresight and ability to lay their plans so as to be able to take advantage of those conditions, are entitled to more than ordinary acclaim. We are therefore, glad to pay tribute to Morris E. Long of Morris E. Long & Company, now located at 3436 on Avenue H., for he has become a well-known figure in the business and industrial life of this section.

Mr. Long's persistent optimism and steadfast belief in the continued future prosperity of the people of Lubbock and vicinity, are characteristics which are deserving of our highest praise.

Morris Long has also always shown a willingness to do his part in civic advancement, and has contributed his bit, in one form or another, to projects promoted for the welfare of the city. We believe that a business man of this kind is entitled to our sincere praise, both because he has achieved success in his private affairs, and because he is willing to contribute to the public good.

J. E. "Ed" Braselton

Every progressive and successful business man in Lubbock contributes in some manner to the growth and progress of the city. And one who is always willing to do his part in both civic and business activities is J. E. "Ed" Braselton, manager of the Straus-Frank Company, who is well known, and has a great many personal friends and business associates throughout this entire region.

The prominent part that the Straus-Frank Company is playing in the business life of Lubbock and vicinity, mirrors the dependability and honesty of such men as he. Moreover, Mr. Braselton has also at all times been steadfast in his devotion to the city and the surrounding country, and on many occasions has lent his support to the successful promotion of meritorious civic projects.

Lubbock and this district are fortunate to have such a man as "Ed" Braselton in a position of responsibility and service, and this newspaper feels that it merely reflects public opinion in paying this brief tribute to one of the city's more progressive business men.

Joe S. Turner

In compiling this review of progressive Lubbock business men, we have endeavored to select those citizens who, by the manner in which they have conducted themselves and their businesses, have earned for their positions of leadership in their various fields of activities. Such a man is Joe S. Turner of Jo-Dal's Shoes, located at 2145-B on 50th Street, the only exclusive children's shoe store in West Texas, featuring the famous Child Life footwear. He has many friends and customers throughout this entire district.

Mr. Turner's main interests have not been solely confined to his own business and private affairs, but have also included his contributions in one form or another, to those projects of a civic nature which come within the scope of his activities.

Joe Turner is a man of wide experience, whose exploits in the business life of Lubbock and vicinity, merits more than a passing attention, and the writer is privileged to pay this brief tribute to a man who well deserves more credit than is accorded him here.

W. C. "Jack" Thompson

In paying tribute to some of the more progressive business men of Lubbock, we would fail to include W. C. "Jack" Thompson of the Thompson Auto Works, whose business ability is no greater than the "know-how", and professional skill which has contributed to his well-earned success in the automotive body repair and painting business.

He has also contributed generously to the welfare of the city, and the community for many miles around. And his civic spirit is evidenced by the many services which he has performed, and will continue to perform in the interest of the people as a whole.

Mr. Thompson is a man of wide acquaintance, whose many friends admire and respect in him those virtues which inspire confidence and promote good feeling. And his upright business methods are a credit to his inherent sense of fair play.

We congratulate "Jack" Thompson on his splendid record of service, and trust he shall continue to assist us for many years to come.

Owen Caldcleugh

To be a consistent and persistent booster of any community, often takes courage and plenty of optimism.

It is because of his unflinching faith in the future of Lubbock and the surrounding country, and his unflagging efforts to promote its development, that Owen Caldcleugh is selected now for this brief tribute.

Mr. Caldcleugh has proved very able that he is a restaurant operator of unusual ability, for it is largely due to his ideals of service, coupled with a determination to serve only the very best of food, that the River Queen holds its high position in the public's favor. And his personality and energy in directing the operations of the business are important factors in his outstanding success.

We are glad to pay tribute to Owen Caldcleugh, and to point out to our readers that his is the guiding influence responsible for the splendid service and delicious foods, served in a delightful atmosphere, to be had at the River Queen at 5202 34th Street in Lubbock.

Jerry S. "Pat" And Jodie M. Patterson

A city grows and prospers by reason of the public-spirited men and women who take an active interest in its development. Lubbock has its share of these progressive and civic-minded people, and two who are deserving of recognition are Jerry S. "Pat" and Jodie M. Patterson of the Lubbock Tent & Awning Company.

Their business ability, coupled with a sense of obligation to their many satisfied customers have been major factors in maintaining the Lubbock Tent & Awning Company in a position of leadership throughout the South Plains area. They not only in their business activities, but also in their attention to civic duty, assumed an active part in community affairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Patterson have always been ready and willing to contribute their time and energy to the promotion of any project promising to benefit the community as a whole. They have often sacrificed personal interests to be of assistance to the Hub City, and their efforts are deserving of commendation and support.

We congratulate Jodie and "Pat" Patterson on their past achievements which, in our opinion, indicate similar successful careers in the years ahead.

Milton Pierce

Milton Pierce, manager of the Western Finance Company, located at 1110 on 10th Street, has a well-earned reputation for honesty and dependability because he has consistently forged ahead in his business never letting up in his efforts to make the service the company renders to the people more valuable. This invariable policy has made the Western Finance Company outstanding in its field, a fact that is well known to the public throughout this entire area.

But Mr. Pierce has accomplished much more than just making a success of his business and private affairs, and we take this opportunity to pay tribute to him for devoting what time he could spare to the general welfare, not only to the Hub City, but the surrounding district as well.

It is such men as he who are both successful in business, and appreciative of their civic obligations that are deserving of recognition. We take pleasure in publicly giving Milton Pierce the credit for his accomplishments which his many close friends and associates have so long accorded him.

S.M. "Shorty" Smith And James E. "Ed" Pilkinton

Lubbock has attained a prominent position in the business and industrial life of this section of West Texas because of the foresight of those men who had the ability to envision the possibilities of the community, and the trade area it serves. And two wide awake progressive business executives who justly should be included in this category are S. M. "Shorty" Smith and James E. "Ed" Pilkinton of the Plains Sash & Door Company.

Such men have, many times over, proven their worth to the community, both as business men and as active workers in the civic betterment and progress of the city. And Mr. Smith and Mr. Pilkinton have earned the good will and respect of their fellow citizens for contributing their bit to the general welfare of the city, and the people as a whole.

It is our duty to include "Ed" Pilkinton and "Shorty" Smith in that group of dependable and civic-minded individuals who are doing so much for Lubbock, and to express the wish that they will continue for many years to forge ahead with the success which they have enjoyed in the past.

O. T. And Dale Trumble

When a man gains recognition for the progressive and straight-forward manner in which he has managed his business affairs, and also for his generous contributions to civic projects, he is to be complimented for his achievements. One belonging to this category is O. T. Trumble, a business man of Lubbock who is regarded with respect and admiration by a great many residents of the city, and the surrounding country.

We also think it appropriate in this review to give credit to some of the younger generation who are carrying on so ably in the footsteps of their fathers. And one who certainly deserves such credit is Dale Trumble, who now shoulders his full share of responsibility in the operation and management of Trumble Steel Erectors. It is because of the efforts of such men, that year after year, Lubbock continues to grow and prosper, and to become an even better place in which to live.

It is such men as Mr. Trumble and his son Dale who have a distinct value to their city, and we take pleasure in paying them this brief, but sincere tribute.

Wayne Lybecker

In mentioning some of those men who are taking a progressive part in the evolution of the business and industrial life of this section of West Texas, we would be censored if we failed to include Wayne Lybecker, manager of Rex Chainbelt Incorporated, a firm that is recognized as a leader in their line of business.

Mr. Lybecker is that solid type of citizen whose fairness and friendliness, and sincere desire to be of service are accountable for a large measure of his success. And as time goes on, his personal interests have become more closely interwoven with the business and commercial affairs of this region. As a result he has, quite naturally, become accepted as a man who can be called upon, and who will cheerfully do his part to further the development of those community activities to which he is best fitted to lend assistance.

Wayne Lybecker has, by the successful management of Rex Chainbelt Incorporated, and by his attention to civic affairs, earned the friendship and good will of his business associates. He is to be complimented for his activities, and we only express the desire of his many personal friends in wishing him continued success.

Geloam E. Byrd

Recognized as one of the more conscientious business men of Lubbock, Geloam E. Byrd, general manager of Jobe's Appliance Store, performs a real service for the people of the Hub City, and his contributions to civic betterment are too well known to require repetition in these columns.

His personal success has been achieved in a large measure, because he never misses an opportunity to further the service he renders to the public. A policy which has, and continues to build up good will for Jobe's Appliance Store throughout this entire district.

Mr. Byrd is deserving of praise, and this brief tribute is but a just recognition for the many services which he has performed in the way of both business and civic activities. Successful management of the business is no greater than his reputation for the honest practices which characterize his every transaction.

We congratulate Geloam Byrd on his splendid record, and trust he shall continue to serve the people of Lubbock and vicinity.

Virgil Johnson And Jimmy C. Shipman

In compiling this review of progressive Lubbock business men, it is fitting that we should include some of those who, by their aggressiveness, have definitely established themselves in the business and commercial life of this region.

Two such men are Virgil D. Johnson, manager of Golden Light Coffee Division of Cain's Coffee Company, and Jimmy C. Shipman, manager of the Golden Light Equipment Company, who also deserve an additional word of praise for being more than just successful. They are consistent and enthusiastic boosters of the community, and in their way have done much to advertise the Hub City.

Mr. Johnson and Mr. Shipman have pursued the progressive policy of stepping up their business ahead of the times, thus setting a pace for which they have earned reputations of being go-getters, who do not sit back and wait for the business to come to them.

We are glad to pay tribute to Virgil Johnson and Jimmy Shipman, and to point out to our readers that their sincere desire to be of service, coupled with their determined methods are largely responsible for the standing of Golden Light Coffee Division of Cain's Coffee Company, and the Golden Light Equipment Company throughout this entire area.

Burl J. Jones

One of the more progressive business men of Lubbock, and one who deserves the respect and good will of a great many residents of the city, is capable, friendly, Burl J. Jones of the Burl J. Jones Construction Company, whose wide knowledge and long experience in the building contracting business has raised him into a position of prominence in his line.

It is because of this that the Burl J. Jones Construction Company has earned a reputation for reliability - second to none.

Mr. Jones is also civic-minded and has always been ready to contribute his time and energy to any plan which promises to benefit this entire district. And the people of Lubbock may regard with particular satisfaction the many services which he has performed in the interest of progress and civic betterment.

We urge our readers to look to Burl Jones as a dependable business man of whom we may be proud. His devotion to the city has been constant, and his achievements well merited. We wish for him further success.

O. C. McNeely

At the head of one of the district's more prominent wholesale gift and novelty firms, and as a leader of recognized ability in life, O. C. McNeely stands out today as one of the best liked men on the panorama of Lubbock activity.

His friends are numbered by the hundreds, and all of them are of the lasting fibre which comes of worth-while associations, both in the world of business, and in the realms of neighborhood life.

Mack's Distributing Company has been a strong factor in the growth and progress of Lubbock; and Mr. McNeely's own efforts in many instances, have been the stimuli behind the outstanding accomplishments of this reliable company. The case is an excellent example of a man weaving his own personal prominence into an executive's life, with lasting benefits to both organizations and individual.

We take pleasure in expressing our appreciation for the standing of Golden Light ing these few words of commendation to a man who is doing so much to promote the growth and progress of this entire district.

Hank H. Lankford

Logically a man who has earned the reputation of being one of Lubbock's more dependable watch makers and jewelers, would in so doing, have earned the friendship and good will of a great many people throughout this entire district. And one who justly deserves that distinction is modest, friendly, efficient, Hank H. Lankford of Hank's

Jewelry, who numbers many of our readers as some of his best satisfied customers. Mr. Lankford is the type of man who would be an asset to any community; not only because the successful conduct of his business plays a definite part in the general civic scheme, but because the ultimate part in the general civic scheme, but because the ultimate measure of his value to the city and this district, lies in the fact that he is untruly zealous and remarkably successful in the promotion of civic progress. It would be difficult to estimate the actual dollars-and-cents value of such a man to his community. We congratulate the people of Lubbock for numbering among their more progressive citizens such an individual as Hank Lankford, and we also express the wish that he will enjoy many more years of continued success.

Sam Sims

Sam Sims of Sims Wood Service, is one of those progressive and dependable business men who has always done his bit to maintain the prestige of the city of Lubbock as the leading trading center for this section of West Texas. He has always worked for the development of the city, and his many services are worthy of sincere appreciation. His well-earned success as a business man is easily understood, knowing as the people do his widespread reputation for the honesty which characterizes all of his business dealings. And it is a combination of technical knowledge, professional skill and business ability which has elevated Mr. Sims to a position of leadership in the custom cabinet making business. He is completely aware of his civic responsibilities, and is wide awake to the many opportunities for service, and is always ready and willing to lend his support to any project which promises to benefit the community as a whole. We compliment Sam Sims on his accomplishments, and wish for him continued success.

evolution of the business life in Lubbock.

Paul T. Schaub

It isn't the size or volume of a man's business which determines its value to the community in which he lives. But rather by the manner in which it is conducted. Which, to a greater or lesser degree, reflects the personality and character of the individual. The value of Paul T. Schaub's business to the city is a reflection of his progressiveness, and a determination to render the utmost in service, a policy which has caused the Superior Building Maintenance to be so well thought of, and so widely patronized by the business people of Lubbock and the surrounding area. That same progressiveness and ability which has made him so successful in his own business has also fitted Mr. Schaub to be of assistance on community projects and public drives. Moreover, he does so cheerfully, and with a friendly spirit of cooperation that is always more than welcome. It is a pleasure to include Paul Schaub in this Lubbock review, and to wish him further success in his particular field of endeavor.

Pete Reynolds

It is fitting in this review of progressive Lubbock business men that we acquaint our readers with the one to be credited with having maintained Lubbock Dodge Incorporated, in the enviable position it holds in the business and commercial life of the South Plains. That personality is Pete Reynolds, whose genius for organization, and for converting new ideas into actual deeds has played a vital part in the distinctive reputation which this reliable automotive firm now enjoys throughout this entire region. Mr. Reynolds has found time, in addition to his business interests, to give thought and energy to community projects. He is a citizen whose talents have been steadfastly devoted to the best interests of the Hub City. He has been successful in his own business, and in the promotion of the general welfare of the community. We are glad to pay this brief tribute to him, and to say that this district owes much to the many benefits which Pete Reynolds and Lubbock Dodge Incorporated have rendered to the people.

Bob Holliday

In all business and professional pursuits, there are men who have met with success because they have honestly deserved it, and such a man in his particular vocation is Bob Holliday, District Manager of Business Men's Assurance Company, whose office is now located at 1216 Avenue K, who well deserves the reputation he has earned for being one of Lubbock's more dependable insurance counselors. His thorough knowledge of everything pertaining to the insurance business is exemplified by the manner in which he fulfills each and every demand made upon him in line with his business. Furthermore, such experience as Mr. Holliday has gained in the successful management of the Lubbock Branch of Business Men's Assurance Company, has been turned to the advantage of his fellow citizens by applying the same principles to the promotion of those civic projects to which he has been called upon to lend his able assistance. Thus, his success in business has further enhanced his value to the city. We appreciate the opportunity of including Bob Holliday in this group of conscientious and civic-minded men who are actively taking part in the

She won the right to represent Texas in the competition when she was selected Miss Texas Rural Electrification last summer in Dallas.

WITH PRICE SUPPORTS

Soybean Planting On Grain Acreage Okayed

Farmers in 1966 will be permitted to plant soybeans on allowable feed grain acreage and receive price support payments, the USDA announced. Hale County Agent Ollie Linder said the ruling no doubt will considerably increase soybean acreage in this country. Hale's soybean crop was sizable last year, around 16,000 acres, which was the largest up until that year.

Farmers mostly were satisfied with soybean results. Yields generally were from 30 to 35 bushels per acre.

Linder said he did not know the extent of the certified soybean seed supply for the area, but thought it possible that supply might be short if there is a big increase in planting. "Always plant certified seed," Linder urged.

The Department of Agriculture's sanctioning of the soybean program was more or less forecast last week when President Johnson in his message to Congress pointed out the need for increased oilseed crops. The USDA stand on such crops as castor beans remains unchanged with the diversion payment on that crop set at 30 percent. Castor beans can be grown only on acreage devoted for payment and cannot be produced on 20 percent of the feed grain layout acres.

Under the ruling regarding planting soybeans on allowable acres the grower may plant 30 acres to feed grain and 50 acres to soybeans, or plant 35 acres to feed and 35 acres to soybeans.

Also he may divert 50 acres and plant an equal acreage in soybeans, or divert 20 acres and plant the remaining 80 acres in soybeans.
