Fireworks Warning!

Houston, Texas--In a pre-Fourth of July eye safety warning, the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Inc., reminds parents of their joint responsibility with law enforcement agencies for preventing firework accidents among children. "Unless home vigilance is increased, fireworks will continue to be a menace to sight and safety in our community," says the Texas Sight-Saving Organization, offering the following suggestions to parents:

1. Do not permit your child to purchase fireworks through the mail or from illicit dealers. Fireworks from these sources are often inferior and even more dangerous than regular types.

2. If your child has obtained fireworks, gunpowder or sparklers confiscate these immediately and help him to understand they are dangerous and probably illegal.

3. Assist authorities in locating dealers in illegal fireworks.

4. Check closely on the activities of your children during the holiday period, especially if they have shown an interest in matches, ammunition, powder or rockets.

5. Do not buy or use fireworks yourself. Take your family to public display where they can enjoy fireworks in

Texas Death Toll Predicted For July Fourth

AUSTIN -- The Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety today reported that DPS estimates indicate that 31 persons will die in traffic accidents during the three-day Fourth of July holiday, and Golf Tourney cited incidents from last year's Independence Day holiday as examples of how these mishaps Opens Thursday might occur. Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., DPS director, said the estimate was compiled by the DPS Statistical Services on the basis of past experience and the current trend of traffic deaths. Last year, 28 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents during the holiday period. "On the first day of last year's holiday period," Garrison said, " a speeding driver lost control of his car and struck a guard rail. His car flipped high into the air and landed upside down. A passenger was killed. "In another accident, a car pulled from a country road onto a major highway, directly into the path of an oncoming truck.

Wins Expense The truck skidded 134 feet but couldn't stop in time. The driver of the car was killed.

"In still a third fatal accident, one car attempted to pass another on the right hand side. The car in front moved to the right, causing the passer to Hawaiian Islands swerve, lose control and overturn. One person was killed, one was injured.

"Our files contain the details of each tragedy," he continued, "and each of them is made even more tragic by the fact that, with proper awareness, they could have possibly been avoided."

Garrison pointed out that the responsibility for avoiding an accident rests with each individual driver. "Most drivers are basically good drivers," he said, "But too often even the best driver lets his attention wander ... and lack of attention to one's driving can be a fatal fault... for instance, last year one man was driving a car with five children as passengers. He entered a curve too fast, hit his brakes and lost control of his car. The vehicle overturned, killing one of the children." To focus attention on the added dangers of holiday travel and the need for awareness while driving, the DPS will conduct "Operation Motorcide" during the holiday period. From 12:01 a.m., Saturday, July 2, through 11:59 p.m., Monday, July 4, traffic fatalities will be tabulated by the Department and the totals will be announced officially three times daily as a means of keeping safety uppermost in the minds of the motoring public.

"If each driver will assume an attitude of watchfulness and awareness toward the actions of other drivers," Garrison said, "the number of accidents can be materially reduced. Paying attention could well make the difference of a split-

Medicare To Begin July 1

July 1, the beginning date for the nationwide medicare program, is almost here, Mancie King, officer-in-charge of the Plainview social security office, pointed out today.

He explained that all persons, age 65 and over, who are qualified for medicare benefits, have received a medicare handbook by this time. He urged these persons to study carefully the information in the handbook and to keep the handbook in a safe place. The book explains in detail just what services are covered under the medicare program as well as the services that are not covered under the program. King suggested that a qualified person for medicare benefits who is unable to study and understand the information in the handbook should ask a relative or a friend to help him with the study of the handbook

"A patient definitely should know that no hospital or doctor bills incurred before July 1, 1966 can be paid under the medicare program. No part of these bills for medical services received before July 1, 1966 will be paid by the medicare program" he emphasized. King further pointed out that each qualified person should know the meaning of the term, "spell of illness". "A spell of illness," he said, "begins on the first day a qualified patient enters the hospital a-fter June 30, 1966." King continued: "The patient will be responsible for the first $40 of his hospital bill. After the first $40, the patient's hospital insurance will pay the remainder of the hospital bill

He explained that a patient ordinarily does not spend 90 consecutive days in a hospital. If a patient should require hospitalization for more than 90 consecutive days, hospital benefits would terminate at the end of 90 days. "Ad a usual thing, "King said, "a pa-tient will be in the hospital no longer than 10 days, In some cases the patient may have to return to the hospital two or three times over a period of months. This person will be in the same 'spell of illness' as long as he is not out of the hospital 60 consecutive days." King reminded again that the patient pays the first $40 of his hospital bill only once during a "spell of illness". He concluded by reminding quali-fied persons for medicare benefits to keep their health insurance cards with them, "The cards will be necessary," he said, "if and when you need

Encephalitis Symposium October 18, 19, 20, The first day's program will be a 10 hour Red Cross Stan-dard First Aid course. Study In Hale

The status of encephalitis in Hale County for the coming summer came under close scrutiny when the U. S. Public Health Service began its annual study in Plainview last month. Dr. Richard O. Hayes, in charge of biology and control investigations with the Disease Ecology Section in Greeley, Colo., arrived in Plainview, and he and three other workers began one phase of the job: band-ing chicken flocks to distribute throughout the county. The chickens, placed in yards as a test flock, are known to be free from any virus or antibodies, Hayes said. They will be checked about every two weeks during the summer to see if antibodies are a ... wing up

- and to what degree. Hayes said transmission rates ran up to 100 per cent in a few flocks last year. "These flocks are just a tool in the study," he said. The tests are analyzed in Greeley laboratories and results made available to city, county and state health departments, he added. The results with the test flocks, as well as wild birds and other animals, will be correlated with the rate of human encephalitis cases, Hayes said. "You have to have a lot of action in nature before it involves humans," he commented. "The big lead we've got now is the English sparrow. They're very involved in this area." The wild bird study will be conducted by Jim Gibson, a Colorado State University student.

Already working are Hayes; F. C. Harmston, also with the Disease Ecology Section of the Service in Greeley, Tom Hughes of Plainview, Charlie Hahn of Hale Center, and J. Hoyt Bowers, assistant pro-fessor of biology at Wayland

Baptist College. One of the more interesting and revealing parts of the encephalitis study, conducted an-nually since 1959, has been the "host preference" study. Mosquitoes are trapped and the blood they have consumed analyzed to determine what type of animal they bit. Hayes said the Culex Tarsalis mosquitc, a common encephalitis carrier, seems to prefer birds in the spring. This preference shifts to mammals - including man later in the year, he said.

This correlates to the time most human cases begin appearing, he added. Birds serve as the most ef-ficient "warehouse" for the encephalitis virus because they can carry a higher percentage in their blood, Hayes said. This, added to the birds-to-mammals feeding habits of the Tarsalis mosquito, increases the potential for spreading the disease and shows why this type mosquito is a notorious carrier, he explained.

The offer was received via mail several months ago. I made up my mind immediately to take on the Mullins column, but just last Friday got around to visiting him in his Acuff City Hall, which also doubles as Acuff's Phillips

Johnson, Bobby or any other Democrat will win in 1968 and in 1972. The time between Hoover and Eisenhower was only a brief interlude by comparison with the number of lean years the Republicans will have before they get another man in the White House.

Many so-called "Independents," including this one, became thoroughly disenchanted with the Republicans prior to, and during, their national convention in 1964. The Republicans gave only half-hearted support to the last potentiallygood presidential candidate the Republicans will ever have that will appeal to the conservative votes to win a presidential election.

The Republicans now are trying to out-liberalize the Democrats, proving that they, like the Democrats, will do anything and promise the people everything, in order to get a man in the White House.

It may please Pappy Carr to know that I learned the political facts of life by watching the Republican Party operate in 1964. And, that I discovered there are as many conservatives within the ranks of the Democratic Party there are in the Republican Party.

-tip-The person who makes the page layouts, or makes up the pages, at the Lubbock Avalanche - Journal subtly "voiced" his prediction on the outcome of a political race in the primary voting June 4. In that morn-ing's Avalanche-Journal, he placed only two advertisements on one page of the A-J, putting the advertisement of a funeral home and cemetery directly on top of a political advertisement placed for a candidate, who was the loser when votes were counted after the polls closed that night.

I was an unexpected guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard S. Noel and son, Gregory, Rt. 1, Petersburg, early Tuesday night, June 7. Later, we were joined by some expected guests, neighbors of the Noel family. They were Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Miller, Gay, Scott, Rex and Jeff, Rt. 3, Box 39, Floydada. I, like the Millers, joined the Noel family in the basement of their farm home as a storm roared over that area.

The Noels, who reside eight miles north and about a mile east of Petersburg, were already storm-weary when I knocked at their door and asked refuge from the blinding dust-rain storm that made driving dangerous. They had just finished making temporary repairs from damage caused by storm at their place Tuesday afternoon. Their barn blew down during the afternoon storm, which also damaged other farm buildings in that area.

I thanked the Noels for their inspitality and headed home as soon as the worst of the storm blew over. But, my knock on another door before I finally reached home. I had car trouble and walked about threequarters of a mile to the J. C. Mr. Belt is manager of the gin. My thanks to the Noel family and the Belts. Tuesday
