JERRY ADAMS WILL RECEIVE AWARD AT STATE YF MEETING

In commemoration of their 5th year of service as Advisors to Young Farmer Chapters, twenty vo-ag teachers are slated to receive 5 year tenure awards at the 13th Annual Young Farmer Convention, which will be held in Corpus Christi, Texas, January 13-14, 1967. ## Antelopes Win 2 District Tilts Over Hale Center

(By Claudy Williams, Jr. School Correspondent)

The Abernathy Antelopes ventured to Hale Center on Tuesday night, January 3, to capture a pair of district cage wins. Both the Abernathy girls and boys were playing their first game of 1967.

A close 46 to 43 decision increased the Abernathy boys' district record to two wins against the same number of losses.

Burl Fuller nailed down the victory for Abernathy as he hit on two charity tosses in the final twenty-five seconds of play. Abernathy had gone into the final minute with a slight 44 to 43 edge.

Most of the game was a seesaw battle with Hale Center outscoring Abernathy 21 to 17 during the first half, and Abernathy outscoring Hale Center 29 to 22 during the second half.

Hale Center's Lyndell Dyer won the high point honor by a single point as he turned in a 16-point effort to Abernathy's 15-point effort by Tommy Hunley.

The Abernathy girls' district record was also increased by their victory. The girls held a district record consisting of three wins against one loss as a result of their 41 to 38 victory over the Owlettes.

Abernathy played their normal brand of basketball by remaining in front for most of the game.

HIGH WINDS LASH PLAINS FRIDAY

A Plains duster, with wind gusts ranging as high as 70 to 80 mile per hour, lashed this area Friday morning. Cotton trailers, small buildings, fences and signs were damaged by the high wind. Some of the copper plating was ripped off the First Methodist Church building steeple.

Firemen were called to a fire at Martin Gin on FM 54 west of the draw about 10 a. m. Strong wind and sand hampered their efforts. Loss of trailers and a truck amounted to a few thousand dollars, reports said. Local firemen went from Martin Gin to Cotton Center, where they joined firemen from Lubbock, Hale Center and Plainview in bringing under control a wind-swept fire that threatened a number of buildings in the town.

DPS ISSUES TIPS ON WINTER DRIVING

Safe driving on icy and snowy streets and highways demands greater care and effort than driving under normal road conditions. The following are some tips on how to drive safely and help to avoid accidents on ice and snow laden streets and highways.

1. If your car has a conventional, or "old-fashioned" shift, start in second gear and engage the clutch very gently with little gas. With an automatic transmission, feed gas very gently to start, holding the accelerator steady as soon as the car moves. Increase gas only if it can be done without spinning the wheels.

2. Drive well under dry road speed. Speed limits set for normal driving conditions are not realistic on slick streets and highways.

3. Keep the car pulling steadily. You need moderate power not speed. To falter or hesitate is, often, to stall or go into a skid. Rolling friction is substantially greater than sliding friction.

4. Make no sudden changes in speed, gear ratio, or direction. Any of these can cause a serious skid. Make these changes, if necessary, most cautiously.

5. To stop or slow down on icy streets, lightly pump the brake pedal in rapid succession. This action permits the front wheels to steer when they roll and gives greater traction on the ice for stopping as the wheels are not locked. The intervals of steering will keep the vehicle from skidding off a crowned road into a ditch.

When the car actually is in a skid, steer in the direction in which the rear end is skidding to recover. When the car begins to straighten out, then also straighten out the front wheels.

6. Keep windshield, back windows, outside rear-view mirrors, and all lights clear of dirt, snow, frost, sleet, and mud.

7. Keep yourself under control. How can you control a helpless against the forces of nature, if you cannot control yourself. You need all your capacities to think fast and act accordingly.

ON THE GROW---Continued construction on a 210,000 kilowatt generator at Nichols Station, northeast of Amarillo, is part of Southwestern Public Service Company's $20,000,000 improvement program for 1967. Pictured is the installation of a 225,000 pound boiler drum for the new generating unit.

SWPS Slates $20 Million Improvement Program in '67

A 1967 construction program calling for the investment of more than 20-million dollars in new electric facilities was announced today by A. R. "Lon" Watson, president and general manager of Southwestern Public Service Company.

The new investment is being made, Watson said, in order that the electric company can continue to provide economical service for its customers at the same time that it assures them of reliable service.

"Electric service seems to be the last holdout against inflation. The purchasing power of today's electric service dollar is $1.07 - or 7 percent more - than its 1952 value. On the other hand, the dollar you use to buy other goods and services is worth just 77 cents today, when you compare it with a 1952 dollar.

"There are two reasons for the increased value of the electric service dollar. Our customers are using more service, and the more they use the less they pay for each unit. This increased consumption, in turn, has made it necessary for us to have a continuing program of construction. The new equipment being modern, larger and more efficient helps us keep our service economical at the same time that we improve its dependability," Watson said.

Southwestern Public Service Company has not had a general rate increase for electric service in more than 15 years. Since that time, a rate simplification program, designed to reduce the number of rate schedules in the commercial and industrial fields, resulted, generally, in lower costs for users.

The major item in the 1967 program is continued construction on a 210,000 kilowatt generating unit at the company's Nichols Station, northeast of Amarillo. When the new unit goes into service in mid-1968, it will double the generating capability of the station.

"We design, engineer and supervise the construction of all of our generating stations. This 'do-it-yourself' approach assures our customers of the best possible plant at the lowest practical cost. Right now, for example, our costs per installed kilowatt of generating capacity run substantially below the nation-wide average for units of comparable size," Watson said.

Watson also pointed out that the major additions made to the company's generating facilities in recent years are using less fuel and water for each unit of electricity produced, enabling the company to partially offset substantially increased costs for gas fuel and to conserve water resources.

Automation is also playing a major role in holding the price line. Some 70 percent of the company's total generating capability is now controlled by a computerized automatic dispatching system. The ADS constantly computes the cost of generating and transmitting the power so that the most economical means are utilized under all load conditions.

Additional power for the South Plains section of the company's service area will be provided by a 230,000 volt transmission line which will be built from Plant X, in Lamb County, to Tucco Station, in Hale County.

The new line will result in a fourfold increase in the amount of power available in the South Plains area. It will be the second 230,000 volt transmission link to the region, complementing a circuit of this size which now delivers power into the area at a point south of Lubbock.

"Our interconnected generation and transmission system provides every corner of our 45,000 square mile service area with adequate power resources for future growth. Every community that we serve, from the smallest to the largest, can be assured that adequate, economical power is one of the assets it can include in an in-Industrial development effort. Working in cooperation with all of the cities that we serve, we have embarked upon a new area development program which we hope will add 10,000 industrial jobs to the region in the next ten years," Watson said.

Southwestern Public Service Company anticipates a 1967 gross peak load of 1,368,000 kilowatts and will have generating capability of 1,609,000 kilowatts to meet this demand.

"Our investment in this area has doubled in the last ten years, going, in round numbers, from 200-million to 400-million dollars. There are only two reasons for this investment. First to provide the best and most economical service for our customers today; and then to provide the base on which we will meet the needs of the future. The continued opportunities for growth in this region are apparent, but if they are to be realized they will call for the full cooperation of all of its citizens. Your growth makes ours possible, and we pledge our every effort for continued progress for this region," Watson concluded.

We've consistently s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-d your electric service dollar to give you more!

Today, you pay less for an average kilowatt hour of electricity than you did in 1952. That's because you're using more, enabling us to use larger and more efficient generators. Through use of this more efficient equipment, we're able to offset the inflationary pressures that cause rising prices.

And, to continue to keep electricity costs low, without sacrificing dependability, we'll invest more than $20 million in 1967, in new construction.

Electricity is still the biggest bargain in your family budget.
