From 7:30 P.M until 9 P.M.

During Texas Public Schools Week, our schools are scrutinized carefully by parents of children attending the schools as well as others who are interested in our modern public school system. Texas Education is constantly moving forward to keep pace with latest developments in this space age. Texans have considered education to be important, because public schools are celebrating their 113th year in this state. All interested citizens are urged to see the remarkable progress which has been made in recent years to solve tomorrow's needs today. The new teaching techniques make a difference. You can glimpse a portion of these new advances by a visit to a public school during Texas Public Schools Week, an annual observance which is scheduled from March 6 through March 10. Open house is being conducted in all the schools with the school administrators and teachers serving as hosts.

Lynda Gilbeath of Plainview. Home Service Advisor for Southwestern Public Service Company presented a program on Easter Food ideas for the March I meet ing of the Catholic Church Altar Society.

Using portable electric appliances, Mrs. Gilbreath prepared percolator punch, shrimp dip, and strawberry torte. These delicious party foods were then served to the 15 members present. The ladies were given cookbooks containing recipes for these and many other festive foods.

The decorative confection Easter egg shown by Mrs. Gilbreath was a thing of beauty and an inspiration for next weeks porject. A kitchen coffee was planned for March 8 at the home of Jean Kveton. The ladies will make fancy sugar eggs to be donated to the Easter Seal Campaign bake sale. Lucia Oliver and Helen Klafka are cochairmen of the sale, which is to be held in downtown Aber-

U.S. POSTAL STAMP TO HONOR LIONS INTERNATIONAL GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Washinton, D. C. (Special). Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien has revealed plans to honor Lions International, with a commemorative postal stamp. Honoring the world's largest service organization during their Golden Anniversary year the stamp will also salute Lions International's theme "Search for Peace" and will be issued to coincide with the organization's annual convention, to be held in Chicago in July, 1967.

Lions International was founded during the war year of 1917. and for half a century has been grimly observing wars breaking out all over the world. With a confident look to the future and in the earnest belief that peace for mankind can be attained, Lions is conducting a peace essay for youth throughout the free world. Prizes totaling $50,000 will be awarded to eight winners to be announced at the Chicago convention. Of the many public service programs sponosred by Lions International, its adi to the blind is the best known. The organization plans to issue commemorative stamps to honor this large service organization for its continuing world-wide humanitarian achieve-
