Council OK's Gas Rate Hike

Councilmen here accepted the rate increase asked by Pioneer Natural Gas Co., according to City Manager Robert W. Sokoll.

Allen McBride, representing the gas company met with the Council in regular session Monday night. Members of the council passed an ordinance incorporating the new rates, Sokoll said.

Councilmen agreed to pay $7.50 per round trip to Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Etter of Plainview, welfare commodity division distributors. Distributions will be made at the city hall club room here on first Wednesdays of each month from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The council authorized installation of stop signs on North Street at the Phillips Street intersection, and yield signs on Avenue E at the North Drive intersection.

The council instructed Sokoll to investigate the possibilities of obtaining fleet insurance for city vehicles and to report his findings at the next meeting. The city now carries individual policies on each vehicle, he said.

Abernathy Is Food Program Distribution Point

Abernathy City Manager Robert W. Sokoll announced last week that Abernathians who previously had been traveling to Plainview to pick up their welfare commodities would no longer have to do so because of a new program recently initiated by the Abernathy City Council.

The new program, which has been in the planning for some time and went into effect July 5, calls for a local distribution point to be set up in the City Hall Club Room. Recipients of the government surplus may pick it up on the first Wednesday of each month from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Abernathy's first distribution of the foods was held July 5. Mr. Sokoll stated in reference to the July 5th distribution, "It came out real good. A few of the people did not know about the new program and went to Plainview to get their commodities. This caused us to have an excess of the staple goods; however, we will store these goods for distribution next month." The next distribution will be August 2.

"The program," as stated by Mr. Sokoll, "grew out of the requests of several elderly people." He added, "The program is primarily designed to benefit the old people of the community. We figure by the city picking up the commodities that perhaps some son or daughter may not have to take off work to drive to Plainview for their parents' goods."

Mr. Sokoll also explained that the program is being administered through the City-County Health Unit and is costing the City of Abernathy nothing except $7.50 per month to cover the cost of making a trip to Plainview for the purpose of picking up the commodities.

BOLT FROM LAWN MOWER TRAVELS LIKE BULLET

Early Friday afternoon, a boy who does contract yard mowing, was mowing the yard of Junior Knight at the corner of Avenue L and Second Street, when the whirling blade type lawn mower threw a bolt with the nut still on it, through the front double glass storm window of the Buford Davenport home which is located across the street at First Street and Avenue L.

The bolt traveled like a bullet across the street at an angle, through a mimosa tree, went through the double window and about 25 feet into the Davenport home, apparently hitting a large chair, stopping the bolt from traveling completely through the house and through a large thermopane window.

Enough cannot be said about the dangers of the whirling blade on lawn mowers. The bolt could easily have hit the young boy who was mowing the yard.

Only recently a lawn mower of this type threw a wire, piercing the heart of a Quitaque man. The man was taken to Dallas for heart surgery after the accident.

Many lawn mower accidents happen each summer. Check your lawn for wires, rocks, etc before you start your mower.

Farm Safety Week To Be Observed

In signing a proclamation designating July 23-29 as National Farm Safety Week, President Lyndon B. Johnson emphasized the importance of American agriculture to the welfare of the entire world.

Calling it America's first and most important industry, President Johnson pointed out that American agriculture supplies food not only for our people but also for many millions throughout the world.

American agriculture, the President added, also provides a vast measure of the raw materials used in the making of other products.

President Johnson said that whatever diminishes or impedes the efficiency and productivity of American farmers is detrimental to men and women everywhere, and he urged all farm families to help make their farms and communities safer.

Each year, the President said, accidents kill thousands of farm people and disable nearly three-quarters of a million more. The resultant economic loss borne by farm families and the nation as a whole, he added, approaches $2 billion.

"This waste of human and economic resources, along with the tragic physical and psychological damage suffered by farm men, women and children, should prompt us to regard the rural accident problem a matter for national concern," the President said.

OLD TIME GOSPEL SINGING SUNDAY, JULY 23

There will be old time gospel singing Sunday, July 23, at 2:30 to 4:00 p.m. at the Assembly of God Church. If you like to sing or hear good singing, come, everyone is welcome. There will be a singing every 15th Sunday until further notice at the Assembly of God Church at the time stated above. Everyone who enjoys singing is invited to come and participate in the hour and a half of good singing.

Firemen Ball Game Slated Here Saturday

Each year a group of dedicated citizens made up of businessmen, farmers, wage earners and housewives, work together in an organization called the Abernathy Baseball Association. These people put in many hours during the spring and summer months, working on the field, preparing league schedules, coaching teams, working in the concession stand and at many other jobs too numerous to mention here. Other citizens, that are not able to be away from their jobs or businesses, have donated money, supplies, equipment and uniforms. It takes a good deal of money to support this type of organization, and each year in an effort to give the boys of our town the best of equipment and ball-playing facilities, the association sells advertising signs and takes donations. This however is not enough to pay all the bills.

The show will be the absence of the donkeys. The Baseball Association coaches (who took the place of the donkeys) will be the opponents for the Fire Department's Clown Volunteers in a ballgame planned to bring an evening of exciting entertainment and baseball fun. The Clowns are picked as favorites because of the number of them that played professional ball before becoming firemen. The coaches, inexperienced rookies and less adapted to athletics, due to their lack of knowledge of the game will need a great deal of luck to come out on top in this one.

In all seriousness this will be the best show yet. Everyone is encouraged to attend, for their own enjoyment and to support the Fire Department and Baseball Association in this endeavor to raise funds for our summer baseball activities. The coaches are inviting all the boys that play to come and sit in team groups so they can be given recognition. The boys can do their part by bringing their parents and families.

There are a lot of surprises awaiting you this Saturday at eight o'clock at the Abernathy Little League Park. The concession stand will be open for your further enjoyment. Please attend and bring someone with you.

Price of admission is $1.00 for adults and .50 for children.

All proceeds from the game will go to the Abernathy Baseball Association.

Three years ago at a regular meeting of the Abernathy Volunteer Fire Department a decision was made to have a donkey ballgame and it was decided that the proceeds from the game would be handed over to the baseball association. The Fire Department also decided after the first benefit show was such a success, that they would put on or sponsor an annual show to benefit the Baseball Association.

Saturday the volunteers will put on their third annual show. The only difference in

Elkhart, Indiana Monday, June 12, 1967

The rain poured heavily upon us Friday night at Amana. The wind rocked the trailer and we wondered a time or two if one of the tornadoes we have heard about might have come our way, but of course it didn't take much really to shake the trailer. We don't put the stabilizing jacks under the trailer for overnight stops. The creek nearby was running full Saturday morning.

We went to the Amana meat shop Saturday morning and purchased some sausage and honey. The Amana furniture factory was an interesting place. There were no tours going through the woolen mills until Monday so we missed that. I learned an amusing word in Amana. They call rhubarb: "piestengel". Literally translated this would be "pie stalk". There is no German word for pie as far as I know.

As we left Amana we drove to another of the Amana villages, Homestead. (There are seven of the villages.) At Homestead we went through an old Amana home that is kept as a museum. This one was no bargain. It cost 50c each to see it and it was apparent that none of the money went back into the care, upkeep and growth of the project. They will lose it all someday for lack of care. Many of the outside items are being permitted to deteriorate rapidly. This is in sharp contrast to the wonderful museum at Minden, Nebraska.

We were given a ride back to our trailer by Bill Zuber who has a restaurant in Homestead. He is a very friendly person and we enjoyed conversation with him. He invited us to park our trailer on his parking lot at the restaurant, but of course we were ready to travel on. He said that he had 80 Airstreams parked around his place once when a caravan came through.

We stopped in nearby Iowa City, fixed a lunch and napped. Saturday afternoon the traffic along Interstate 80 got to be exceedingly heavy, but not as heavy as the Autobahn on the weekends. We had to stop twice and get completely off the highway because of heavy rains and high winds. We expected to see some wrecks because of the heavy rains and traffic when we got back on the highway but thank goodness all we saw was a couple of cars that had run completely off the highway and down into the ditch on the side. I am sure they didn't get out without a wrecker. Saturday night we pulled into Ottawa, Illinois to find a place for the night. The only place we could readily locate was a parking lot by a construction firm AND the Rock Island Railroad. The railroad traffic was rather heavy and the noise and shaking caused by the trains made us feel like we might be being run over. It rained heavily again during the night.

Sunday traveling was uneventful though we did have to stop for a while because of heavy rain. This was right at noon so that we were able to take advantage of the time to eat and sleep.

We had to leave Interstate 80 for a few miles as we crossed the congested area south of Chicago a few miles. When we entered Indiana we started traveling on the Indiana Tollway, which is older but equally as good as the Interstate roads.

We arrived at Elkhart about 3 p. m. We parked the trailer at a commercial trailer park where we hooked up to the water, sewer and electricity in preparation for staying a few days. This is the first time we have parked in a commercial place, in fact it is the first time we have seen one.

After we got settled at Elkhart we took a drive through the city and to Goshen, Ind., a few miles away. We enjoy seeing the country, the farms and the farmsteads.

Minnie fixed hot dogs, sauerkraut, fried potatoes and biscuits for supper. I ate so much that I barely could make it to bed where I immediately went to sleep and didn't awaken until Monday morning. I keep telling Minnie not to cook so good or so bed.

In our rounds Sunday afternoon we stopped at a travel trailer sales place and met Mr. Harold Platt who has lived in this area for many, many years. He started the second mobile home factory here and he says there are now 80 such factories in the Elkhart area. His plant ceased operation in 1960.

Monday, June 12: About 9 a. m. we went to the Conn Instrument Co. for the purpose of learning more about the Strobotuner. It is a device for assisting in the tuning of any musical instrument. Mr. Gene Russell demonstrated it for us and gave us a rather thorough discussion of the device. I have had one of them for some time but I needed instructions on its use.

While at the Conn place we learned that it was possible to go through the instrument factory and see the various steps in band instrument manufacture. Our guide on the tour was a girl who reminded me of Sandy. She had the same voice qualities and was a small person. She originally came from Georgia and her speech showed it. Anybody who has ever played a band instrument would surely be fascinated by the many steps in the creation of a band instrument. Simple pieces of flat metal and bars of metal come into the plant and leave as beautiful engraved and gold and silver plated instruments. Another feature at the plant is the musical instrument museum showing the development and evolution of various horns. After the tour we went to the band room and played around on the xylophone-- it was fun.

The back of the Conn plant is close to a lake that is right in the heart of the city. As we left the Conn factory we drove around the lake. There are many beautiful homes that look out over the lake and have a front on a city street on the other side. The lake rather a large one to be right in the city. The purpose of the lake is primarily for the generation of electricity.

Before lunch we decided to go to Wakarusa, Ind., to see the Holiday Rambler (Travel Trailer) factory. On the way we went into a Wakarusa restaurant. It was a very hot place--this is the first hot day we have had. Minnie ordered a hamburger and I ordered chicken which was listed as a specialty on the menu only to be informed that chicken was served only on Saturday, Sunday and evenings. Not seeing anything else on the menu I wanted I left the stifling heat to Minnie and her hamburger and went to an air conditioned drug store and had a malt. After "lunch" we went to the Holiday Rambler factory. A conducted tour was about to start so we got there just about right. Some people from Albany, Georgia went through at the same time we did. They had come to the factory to take delivery on a new 23' trailer. They are Mr. and Mrs. Ream. They wanted to know if we were acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brashear of Lubbock. --We have found that our area is better known than we sometimes think.

The Holiday trailers are exceptionally well built. The new ones have features that our doesn't have but we are well satisfied. We think we would like tandem wheels, but outside of that it would be hard to find serious fault. Maybe I am inclined to be satisfied with what I've got.

Napanee is a town close to Wakarusa where there are several more trailer factories. We visited two plants there. The superiority of the Holiday trailer became more apparent when we saw the others made. For instance, we observed that the Holiday trailers used no nails but instead glued and riveted everything where as in another plant the nail and hammer were much in evidence. You can imagine how the vibration on the road would affect the latter.

There is a large population of Amish Mennonites in the Napanee area. Most of the workmen in the various plants were bearded Amish. They are said to be very fine workmen. We have speculated as to why there are so many trailer plants in this area. Outside of the growth of a body of "know-how" in the vicinity we conjectured that these workmen might be partially responsible too. Although the city of Napanee with a posted population of 4,000 is very modern in most respects, we happened onto an area where there were five buggies with horses in harness tied up near the center of town. One of the buggies was quite modern looking. It had several "glove compartment" type drawers obviously built by skilled cabinet maker. Right in the center facing the seat was a heater. It looked like it might have been a gas heater though if it had a tank anywhere we didn't see it. The buggies either had large reflectors on the back or flashing tail light. One of the buggies had its flashing tail light in operation although it was broad daylight.

We saw several teams being used in the fields nearby pulling plows. One of the plows was a "two row" cultivator like the ones that were so popular in our country many years ago.

We stopped along the way and bought fresh strawberries. We drove along the back roads both on the way over and on the way back. The soil looks very poor, but the well kept houses and barns belie the poor looking soil.

When we got back to the trailer it was awful hot. We opened all of the windows and the breezes soon made it rather comfortable. (We are parked under a great big shade tree.)

Minnie fixed such a good supper that by the time we got down to the strawberries we couldn't eat them. It will be strawberries and corn flakes for breakfast.

Love to all,
Minnie and Arno.

43 Accidents On Rural Roads Of Area Reported
Texas Highway Patrol investigated 43 accidents on rural highways in Lubbock County during June, according to Sgt. O. C. Guthrie, highway patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in two deaths, 41 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $73,042. The rural accident summary for this county during the first six months of 1967 shows a total of 193 accidents resulting nine persons killed, 171 persons injured and an estimated property damage of $200,769. The number of traffic deaths in Texas continues to rise. For the first six months of 1967 there have been 1,476 traffic deaths compared to 1,396 for the first six months of 1966. This 6 per cent increase is very alarming, and chances are it will become very critical because of vacation months and holiday periods still ahead to intensify the magnitude of the accident picture, according to highway patrol officials.

The rural accident summary for June for counties in the South Plains show the following numbers of persons killed in traffic accidents, number injured and estimated property damage in that order: Bailey, 0, 3, $7,950; Cochran, 2, 3, $3,000; Crosby, 0, 3, $1,230; Dickens, 0, 0, $1,450; Floyd, 0, 0, $1,190; Garza, 0, 0, 0; Hale, 4, 15, $14,195; Hockney, 0, 5, $2,710; Lamb, 0, 5, $9,150; Lubbock, 2, 41, $73,042; Lynn, 0, 3, $4,475; Terry, 0, 2, $3,225; Yoakum, 0, 3, $2,750; Castro, 1, 3, $11,544; Motley, 0, 2, $2,125; and Swisher, 0, 4, $6,125.
