C of C Banquet

Highlighting an interesting program will be the principal address by one of professional football's outstanding quarterbacks, Don Meredith, of the Dallas Cowboys. His fame as

The FFA and 4-H Club members whose entries won Grand Champion and Reserve Champion honors at the Project Show here earlier will be awarded engraved plaques by the Chamber of Commerce.

ding Clubs, and Mary Goble, AHS graduate and Texas Tech student, who was named Queen of the Texas Appaloosa Horse Club in San Antonio in February. Goble, Jr. Andy Reid, who was named the Outstanding Citizen of the Year at the 1967 banquet, will present a plaque to the Chamber's 1968 Outstanding Citizen, whose identity will be revealed during the banquet program. ### SANDERSON NAMED MANAGER OF HIGH PLAINS CAMPAIGN

Austin—Ray Sanderson of Abernathy has accepted management of the Don Yarborough for Governor campaign for the High Plains area.

Sanderson's appointment was announced by Yarborough's campaign headquarters in Austin. In welcoming the well-known Democrat to his organization, Yarborough said that he was grateful for campaign supporters like Sanderson and that he was confident a majority of citizens would follow his lead.

"The people are demanding exciting new ideas," Sanderson said, "and Don Yarborough can give Texas the energetic and creative leadership it needs to answer the challenges of today and of the future."

Sanderson said, "The new generation is going to vote, many of them for the first time, and they are going to vote for Yarborough. Joining them will be thousands of other new voters whose interests have been ignored by state government for a long time."

Sanderson will manage Yarborough's campaign in Hale, Castro, and Swisher counties.

STRANGULATION

Suspect Cited In Death

(From Lubbock Avalanche-Journal)

Charges of murder with malice were filed Friday against Cecil Carl Thraillkill, 46, resident of a motor court at 2303 Ave. H, in connection with the Monday strangulation slaying of Carrye Shelton. Bond was set at $5,000.
Miss Shelton, 69, of the same address, was found about 11:30 a.m. Monday lying partially across a bed in her room.
Thraillkill was arrested and charged with drunkenness about 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, after detectives went to a house at 708 Ave. X to talk with him in connection with the investigation of the death.
Justice of the Peace Wayne LeCroy ruled the death was homicide Friday after an inquest.
Det. Rivie Garrett said pieces of a towel which had been ripped apart and tied with several knots to a gas pipe were found. Garrett said another portion of the towel was found on the bed beside the victim.
Carson Smith was appointed attorney for Thraillkill, who remained in Lubbock County Jail Friday night in lieu of bond.
Graveside rites and burial for Miss Shelton were in Abernathy Cemetery Friday. She resided here in the early 1930's.
