'The Curley Tale' Is Cast; Lebow, Kerr, Kelly Get Lead Parts

The cast has been selected and rehearsals are underway for the senior play, "The Curley Tale." The play is scheduled for a matinee and evening performance on April 19.

The leading roles of Grant Morgan, Amy Wilder, and Dan Curley were won by Lloyd Lebow, Kathy Kerr, and Danny Kelly, respectively, in tryouts held in the auditorium on Tuesday, March 19.

Grant Morgan is a photographer for a popular news magazine. In his early twenties, he is the typical good-looking young American who was born and raised on a farm, but now resides in the city. Having seen both sides of the picture, Grant understands Amy's lack of understanding of farm folks.

Amy is a young, inexperienced press agent, city-born and bred. What she may lack in confidence she makes up for in flippancy, and is only rarely caught with her guard down.

Dan Curley is a large middle-aged man. He is a tanned, weather-beaten, hearty, noisy, happy, and vigorous cowboy. He loves to laugh and lend a hand in any problem. His family consists of his wife, Rose; a daughter, Cherry; and two sons, Linc and Lex. These character parts are portrayed by Patti Carmickle, Sue Enger, John Thomas and Sam Stephens, respectively.

Rose Has Faith

Rose is a calm, cheery woman with a deep affection for, and a complete faith in every member of her family. Linc, the oldest brother, is twenty-two, tall, muscular, and most attractive in a virile, out-doorsy sort of way. The younger son, Lex, is 17, and very much like his brother. Cherry, the 19-year-old daughter, is very pretty, with the same vigor, health, and friendliness that the other members of her family have.

Two newspaper reporters who cover the antics of the Curleys' stay in the big city are Martha Samsel as Gertie Thornton, and Billy Drace as Max Sharp.

Millie Carpenter is a friend of Linc's that lives in the city. She is delightful, very pretty and "completely charming." Cindy Garvin was cast in this part. A friend of Millie's is Rudy Leonard, a cheap romantic with a sort of "oily" quality. Rudy is portrayed by Bud Rhodes.

Adding a continental touch to the play are James Byers as M. Gaston, an expansive French chef, and Gary Lovelace as Tim O'Rourke, a robust, hearty, Irish policeman. Discreet appearances are made by Shirley Knight as a waitress, and Kirby Spruiell as a teen-age bellboy.

Stage managers for the production are: Steve Skipper, Carroll Dunn, and Mike "Aggie" Pittman. Mr. Cliff Martin, who directed the junior play last year, is the director of this year's senior play.

CITY PARK PROPOSED

The City Manager presented a proposal on establishing a small City Park on Lots 1, 2, & 3, Block 20 in the Original Town Addition. This is at the intersection of Avenue E and 15th Street. It was further explained that the City would be required to purchase a 90 foot lot on Avenue E, which would adjoin land already owned by the City. This proposal was tabled.

The Council discussed the problem of junk cars being parked and abandoned in different parts of the city. The City Manager was instructed to check into a junk car ordinance and have one ready for council review for the next regular meeting.

The City Manager stated that the preliminary study of the F.A.A. seemed to be indicative of the city being able to sell some 78.9 acres of airport property to the Abernathy Recreation Center. Sokoll stated that he would be receiving further information on this matter in the near future.

Royce Henson moved and Joe Chambers seconded that a street light be installed at the intersection of Phillips Blvd. and Ave. H in the Phillips Addition. Motion carried.

The repair and sealing of streets was the next item of business considered by the City Council. It was mentioned that $5,000 had been budgeted in the current fiscal year for this purpose. The City Council instructed the City Manager to begin the preliminary work for a sealing project.

The Council agreed to have the Annual Ex-Councilmen's Banquet and instructed the City Manager to take care of the arrangements.

No other business coming before the council, meeting was adjourned at 10:30 p. m.

with BANVEL

HERBICIDE

Velsicol announces Banvel herbicide for control of all hard-to-kill weeds of major importance in grain sorghum. This includes carelessness (pigweed), sunflower, lambs-quarter, purslane, morning glory and other annual broadleaf weeds. Banvel herbicide is applied post-emergence, so there are no wasted sprays in years when rain is scarce and weeds are not a problem. With Banvel you see your weed problem and then spray—all in plenty of time to give young sorghum plants plenty of opportunity to grow.

Banvel is sprayed onto weed leaves and translocates to the roots... for new, total control of weeds. Just apply Banvel between the 10th and 25th day after emergence of grain sorghum (approximately 4 to 12 inches tall).

Banvel is not dependent on soil moisture for its effectiveness, so its results are dependable. And it's a liquid that won't clog your sprayers; nor does Banvel need constant agitation.

Banvel increases yields. It's excellent for use on grain sorghum, wheat, barley, oats and field corn. Order Banvel herbicide to get full potential from your valuable, high-yielding sorghum seed.

See your dealer today. You'll be glad you did!

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hicks, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Herman Lambert of Abernathy.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional gown of imported bridal satin. Imported Alencon lace over illusion trimmed the bodice, sleeves and A-line skirt, and Alencon lace motifs bordered the watteau train. A coronet of miniature silk rosebuds held her elbow-length veil of imported illusion, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white stephanotis and roses centered by a white orchid.

The bride's sister, Miss Jann Hicks was maid of honor and wore a floor-length dress of yellow silk organza over peau de soie. She carried a bouquet of yellow irises.

Serving as best man was Sherrill Gene Lambert of Lubbock, the bridegroom's brother, and ushers were Gary D. Lambert of Abernathy, James S. Hicks, Dick L. Lambert of Lubbock, Leo Lambert of Abilene and

CENTRAL AREA REPRESENTATION ON APPEALS COURT

The Court of Civil Appeals at Amarillo (7th District) is made up of three judges. Customarily one of these judges is from Amarillo, one from Lubbock, and one from another county of the forty-six in the District. There is now a judge on the Court from Lubbock County and one from Potter County.

We think it would keep the Court in good balance if the elective judge this year should come from some other county in the District. Judge James A. Joy is from Hale County. He was born in Foard County. He is the only man running in this race with judicial experience. He is an able man, a fine Christian gentleman and we think his election would be good for the District. Judge Joy would make a capable judge of the Court of Civil Appeals.
