And, pretty it is! The lighting of the square is still one of the most beautiful sights I've seen and it does wonders for my own good spirits. I'm sure it does the same for everyone. It takes a lot of work and planning to have our town so beautiful and we tip our hats to everyone who had a hand in the decorations.

A very special "Thank You" is expressed to West Texas Utilities Company. Each year, they graciously donate the electricity it takes for those beautiful downtown Christmas lights, and it means a great deal to our City. This is only one of the ways WTU is such a vital part of our community. They also have their line men available to help when the lights are put up by the Chamber of Commerce and their

A Year's Hard Work Is Recognized By Leaders

Haskell 4-H Youngsters Honored

By CLYDENE COMEDY
Forty-five proud youngsters marched to head table Monday night to receive awards during the annual Haskell County 4-H Awards Banquet. They were no prouder than their parents. In this agricultural community, this banquet highlights the culmination of a year's hard work for these young people and the awards they earn are something to be proud of.

County Home Demonstration Agent Barbara Elliott and County Agent Max Stapleton proved what an excellent job they are doing in leading the 4-H program in Haskell County, by their mere absence on the program.

The entire program—except the presentation of awards—was done by the 4-H members, and they did a tremendous job. Things got underway promptly at 7:30 with a covered dish supper. Susan Lewis gave the invocation; Linda Yates the welcome; Kim Campbell led in the motto and pledge; and Susan Lewis introduced guests and the program.

Joan Caddell and Sue Hager presented a slide program of their trip to Washington, D. C. These two won the Citizenship Award and represented Haskell County on the trip.

GOLD STAR AWARDS
Mrs. W. R. Hager, chairman of 4-H Youth Committee proudly presented the awards, and Ray Perry, County Commissioner of Precinct 3, no less proudly presented the Gold Star Boy and Girl pins to Jim Ballard and Sue Hager.

Sue, a 4-H member for eight years, has carried projects in beef cattle, leadership, money management, home management, food preservation, foods and nutrition, clothing and citizenship. A delegate to the 71 National Citizenship Short-course in Washington, D. C., she also participated in Farm Bureau State Citizenship Seminar at Baylor. She has held several offices, both local and district, and has exhibited and won first place awards on sev-

Santa To Be Here Saturday

Christmas is in the air. The children are busy listing every thing imaginable for their gifts from Santa, and the Moms and Dads are busy looking in their favorite stores for a good bargain.

The 1971 Christmas season here began with the lighting of the courthouse square and the other businesses with the decorations provided by the Haskell Chamber of Commerce.

The lights were turned on Thanksgiving night, November 25. Four big stars border the top of the courthouse, complemented by a string of lights that add a red and blue hue to the Haskell sky.

Yes, it's beginning to look a lot like Christmas, and what would Christmas be without the old man in red, Santa Claus?

Santa will be here Saturday, December 4, to talk to all the children. He will be back the following two Saturdays, December 11 and 18, and make his last sleighing trip here before Christmas, Wednesday, December 22.

While Santa is visiting here taking down notes from the children, the parents will be more interested in the Chamber of Commerce Christmas Program drawings that will be held each day that Santa is in town.

$500 each day will be given away to the lucky holders of tickets that are drawn from the barrel. Tickets have been given away daily in the stores of Haskell for each purchase made.

Do your Christmas shopping in Haskell, and be here each day for Santa's appearance, and for the drawings on the Court House square.

Haskell Man Assigned To Guam

HEADQUARTERS, COMMANDER NAVAL FORCES MARIANAS—Don Payne is a big man who recently arrived on Guam to fill a big job—that of force recreation director for the Navy. From within his large frame, 6'2", 215 pounds,

Letters to Santa
Calling all Haskell County youngsters! You have 20 days to write that all-important letter to Santa Claus, and get it to the Free Press. Tell him what you want for Christmas, and we will mail your letter to the North Pole.

They will all be published in the Haskell Free Press Christmas edition on December 23, but will be well on their way to Santa soon after they are delivered here.

So, get out that pencil and paper, and get your letter written to Old St. Nick.

Payne exudes an evident excitement over his new job.

"It was mainly the challenge and possibilities of the job that brought us to Guam," Payne said. "I like to think of myself as a trouble shooter, and this job seemed an accomplishable challenge." A true lover of the sea and sailing, Payne added that the availability of both here had encouraged him to make the move to Guam.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Payne, 906 S. First, Haskell, Tex., he is a 1953 graduate of Haskell High School.

As force recreation director, Payne plans, organizes and administers an island-wide recreation program, which is designed to cover approximately 20,000 military and civilian personnel and their dependents. Through the naval commands on Guam, Payne coordinates the island-wide recreation activities, which currently employ over 200 people.

Payne, who looks younger than his 36 years, has held top positions in recreation and parks administration in Dallas, Tex.; Aurora, Colo.; Las Vegas.

During the past ten years that Haskell Lions have scheduled this sale, it has been a tremendous success. It is a part of the Lions efforts to aid the Goodfellow Fund. Residents are urged to keep in mind that when they buy donuts from the Lions, they help the Haskell Goodfellow Fund.

Goodfellows Ask For Help

Donations to the Haskell Goodfellows Fund began last week and they come in daily at the offices of Haskell Free Press. Because of the generosity of Haskell people, many needy families in Haskell will not have to face the prospect of a dreary Christmas.

Royce Adkins, chairman of the Goodfellow Fund for many years in Haskell, again heads this worthy effort sponsored by Haskell Lions Club. In making a statement on the club's wishes for needy families, Adkins stated, "We are going to need around $1,200 to carry out the project to a successful conclusion for the families to have a Merry Christmas, and I am confident that the goal will be reached."

In past years, Goodfellows have been able to meet their goal of providing Christmas baskets of food, candy, toys and fruit for the underprivileged families of Haskell.

Deserving families on the Goodfellows list this year is expected to be a formidable number, and funds to aid in furnishing them with a warm

Christmas will come from generous Haskell people.

Donations in any amount from $1.00 up are needed, and may be sent to Goodfellows, in care of Haskell Free Press, or you may stop by and make your donation at the office, at your convenience when you are downtown. All donations will be acknowledged through the pages of this newspaper.

Goodfellows also need usable toys and clothing, which may be left at the Fire Station, but time is running out, and they should be left as soon as possible.

Wanted By The FBI - High School Grads, Business, College Students

The Dallas Office of the FBI through its Special Agent in Charge, Mr. J. Gordon Shanklin, has announced it is again in urgent need of clerical employees to fill the positions of Clerk and Typist at Bureau headquarters in Washington, D. C. These positions present an excellent opportunity for young people, male or female, who are at least 16 years of age, U. S. citizens, and have at least a high school education, provided they can pass a rigid investigation of loyalty, reputation, and character, and are in good physical condition. No previous experience is required. Future vacancies are also anticipated in the Fingerprint Clerk and Stenographer positions.

The entrance salary for a Clerk is $4,897 (GS-2) per year with a raise in 30 to 90 days to $5,524 (GS-3) per year, if their work is satisfactory. A 20-word spelling test must be passed to qualify for the Clerk position.

As openings occur, applicants for the Clerk position who are interested, are considered for the Fingerprint Clerk position which starts at $5,524 (GS-3) per year. Successful candidates are considered for promotion to $6,202 (GS-4) per year after six months; to $6,938 (GS-5) per year after one year; and to $7,727 (GS-6) per year after two years experience in fingerprint work.

A Typist starts at $5,524 (GS-3) per year. Applicants for the Typist position must pass a 10-minute typing test of 45 words per minute and a 20-word spelling test.

A Stenographer starts at $6,202 (GS-4) per year. To qualify for the Stenographer position applicants must pass a three-minute dictation test at the rate of 80 words per minute; pass a 10-minute typing test at the rate of 45 words per minute; pass a 20-word spelling test; and a 20-word vocabulary test. Qualified Stenographers must be willing to accept a Typist position until vacancies for the Stenographer position exist.

The FBI is only interested in above average young men and women. Many FBI clerical employees continue their college education on a part time basis in the Washington, D. C. area while working at these full time clerical jobs. Young men who obtain a four year college degree from an accredited college and who have been employed in a clerical capacity with the FBI for two years and meet the other requirements are considered for the Special Agent position at a starting salary of $11,517 (GS-10) per year.

The FBI provides counseling services to its new employees to assist them with housing, transportation, and other needs. If close friends or young married couples apply at the same time and are found acceptable, every effort is made to afford them appointments at the same time.

The FBI does not come under Civil Service in that the FBI has its own application form, tests, investigates and hires its own employees rather than draw them from a Civil Service list or register.

An application and detailed information can be obtained by calling or writing the Special Agent in Charge, FBI, 200 Mercantile Continental Building, Dallas, Texas, 75201, telephone Area Code 214-741-1851, or by contacting the nearest FBI Office whose telephone number will be listed in the front of your telephone directory.

Completed applications should be sent to the above address as soon as possible as processing of such applications can be instituted as much as six months prior to an individual's availability. Upon receipt of a completed application, the interested applicant will be contacted promptly and arrangements made for personal interview and appropriate tests at a time and place convenient to the applicant.

Vacancies for the position of Clerk, Typist, and Stenographer occasionally exist in our Dallas Office for which interested and qualified applicants may be considered.

The many benefits of working for the FBI such as annual leave, sick leave, health and life insurance, and retirement benefits should be thoroughly considered when choosing a career.

Cotton Country:

(Cont. from Page 1, Sec. 1) assistants, and those same line-men are available to the Chamber when bulbs need to be replaced. We do appreciate WTU.

The competition of the turnip goes on... and on! We no more than got the November 18 edition in the mail, telling everyone of the 3 pound turnip (including top) grown here by Mrs. Albert Adress, when Mr. W. B. Hill came into the office with a 5-pound turnip (including top). That same night, Jerry Jetton called us at home to tell us he and his farming partner, Alvin Dorner, had weighed out one the exact same weight—5 pounds.

But, wait, that's not the end of it! Saturday afternoon we were working behind locked doors when we heard a gentle knock. It was Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Cox, who farm out in the Old Glory community. In their hands, they held a 10 1/2 pound turnip—NOT including the top! That's right—we weighed it on our postal scales, and it had been cut for 24 hours, and still weighed an accurate 10 1/4 pounds.

They said the turnip had five distinctive top clusters of greens—enough to feed a lot of turnip-green-hungry people! But the turnip they left with us, to display in our front window. Stop and see it when you are downtown. It's gradually losing weight, but still is an impressive size.

What's more, I'd like to see one bigger than that!

Mr. H. K. Henry isn't so impressed with the size of his crop—he's astounded that he even has a crop—he is raising oranges! His daughter brought him a miniature orange tree last spring—about 4" high, in a small flower pot. The tree—not 12" high today, has seven oranges on it. The fact that they're about the size of a pencil eraser doesn't bother Mr. Henry a bit—he's just proud he has oranges.

However, this is limited to property offered for rent for the first time after August 15, 1971. Another exemption from the basic freeze guidelines concerns what is commonly called the "ten per cent rule." This means that if at least 10% of the landlord's apartments similar to yours were being rented for a higher price during the period from July 16 to August 14, your landlord may raise your rent to that level if your lease permits the increase. Landlords should remember that increases in rent above the permitted base price are prohibited unless provisions of the ten per cent rule or rehabilitation rule are met; or a change in guidelines is recommended by the Rent Committee and approved by the Price Commission. Freeze regulations require landlords to keep certain records. These records must show the base price for the unit—generally meaning the dollar amount charged for at least 10 per cent of the units during the freeze base period—and the reason for any difference between the base price and the maximum price the landlord was allowed to charge during the freeze. Landlords are required to make such records available at the request of any tenant, prospective tenant or an Agent of the Internal Revenue Service. Mr. Campbell reminded the public that questions on the current period of economic control can be answered by calling their nearest office of the Internal Revenue Service. Haskell Schools Face Grave Crisis — Board of Trustees declare that $4,000 in delinquent taxes must be collected at once.

There were 20,236 bales of cotton, counting round as half bales, ginned in Haskell County from the crop of 1931 prior to October 18, 1931, as compared with 12,660 bales ginned to the same date in 1930.

Funeral services for W. H. Pearsey, pioneer business man of Haskell who passed away last Thursday morning, were held at the family home in the east part of town Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, with Rev. Tucker of Rule officiating. Interment was in Willow Cemetery, with funeral arrangements in charge of W. O. Holden of the Jones, Cox & Co.

Many a woman is unloved and neglected through her own fault. Sad to say, but true. Man is mortal and therefore weak, the same as other creatures, and he can no more resist kindness than a rose can resist the sunshine. It is a weak, helpless woman's duty to make herself attractive and pretty as possible. No man can have the same love and adoration for a slovenly, irritable, complaining woman as he will for one who makes herself tidy and keeps her temper sweet.

Ag Producers Should Make Tax Check

COLLEGE STATION — It's not too early for farmers and ranchers to take a look at their tax situation and make certain management decisions before the end of the year.

"Make an estimate of income and expenses to get an idea of your income tax liability," suggests James I. Mallet, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"If your taxable income for the year is above that anticipated for next year, you may want to delay any additional sales until 1972. Also, consider buying supplies such as fertilizer, feed and chemicals for next year to reduce this year's income."

Machinery purchases will also cut your income by a substantial margin, and you can benefit from first-year depreciations and possibly investment credit if it becomes effective once again, points out Mallet.

Other items which could reduce your 1971 income tax are income averaging and advance payment of interest on loans. According to the economist, income averaging is a tool for leveling income over a five-year period. To qualify for income averaging this year, your income must be 20 percent above the 1967-70 average and at least $3,000.

"If, on the other hand, your income is down for 1971, then you want to delay some deductions until next year," adds Mallet. "This can be done by delaying all possible purchases and payments until after January 1. This practice is especially sound if you expect a higher income in 1972."

Mallet has a word of caution regarding decisions to alter your tax situation for this year. "Don't make sales or purchases simply to juggle income and expense in order to have a few tax dollars. Be sure all decisions are sound from a profit management standpoint."

Christmas Carol-'71

'Twas the night before Christmas and there in his chair, father was cursing and tearing his hair. The children were upstairs asleep . . . far away, the dreaming of gifts they would find Christmas day. The money was paid, the gifts had been bought—all was well with the world—so father had thought. Then out to the car, put the gifts in the seat, and back to the store for some good things to eat—he returned to the car and what did he find? Some lousy sneak thief had stolen him blind!!!!

Home Lighting Contest

Haskell Garden Club will sponsor this year's Christmas lighting contest at the homes of Haskell. The lighting contest has become an annual affair with different civic clubs and companies about Haskell sponsoring it.

The Garden Club will offer attractive first, second, and third place prizes in three divisions: the best lighted window, the best lighted door, and the most beautiful and appropriate Christmas scene overall. However, in an attempt to separate the "comic" scenes from the "religious" scenes in judging, the Garden Club will offer prizes in each division under both themes.

Lights are to be turned on from six to nine p. m. each night starting December 12 and continuing through Christmas night.

Citizens of Haskell planning to enter the home lighting contest are asked to fill in the application form in this edition of the Free Press, and return it to: Mrs. M. E. Overton, RFD 2, Box 86, Haskell, not later than December 15, deadline for entering.

Out-of-town judges will evaluate the entries some time between December 15 and 18. Winners in the various divisions will be notified shortly after they are judged.

Mrs. Overton, heading the contest for the Garden Club, urged Haskell people to "not only decorate their homes for the contest but to help light the city and make it a more beautiful and happy holiday season here."

City Park Is Appreciated

Haskell Chamber of Commerce manager Rex Felker got proof positive this week that all the Chamber efforts on the City Park and overnight trailer parking have really paid off.

Of course, those involved in its planning and landscaping knew that it was a good addition to our town. The Chamber had also given all service stations a printed brochure to give travelers, telling them of Haskell's park.

This week, however, he received a letter from Oakdale, California, that proves people do use and appreciate the park. He shared it with us, so that all our readers might see how much the trailer park means to weary travelers.

Haskell Chamber of Commerce Haskell, Texas Dear Sir:

Does Southern hospitality still exist in West Texas? Yes, it does!

On a recent trip through Texas, we found this to be true. Exhausted from a day's drive with a travel trailer, we began searching for an overnight trailer stop. We had inquired in several towns but without success. When we arrived in Haskell, I inquired at a service station and was directed to the City Park. There we found a nice park with all facilities for travel trailers. We want to extend a sincere "Thank You" to the residents of Haskell for providing such fine facilities for travelers. Please convey our sincere appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Rex Felker, Chamber Manager, 8207 Modesto Lane, Oakdale, Calif.

VA Questions And Answers

EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q—I have been married six years to a World War II veteran who still carries his mother as the sole beneficiary of his $10,000 G.I. insurance policy. Can I get the Veterans Administration to change it, since I am no longer able to work?

A—No. Legally, VA must pay the proceeds of G. I. insurance to the beneficiary designated by the veteran.

Q—I have a certificate of eligibility for education benefits which I received three months ago after filing VA Form 21E-1990 and a copy of my discharge papers with VA.

Property Subject Appraisal Review

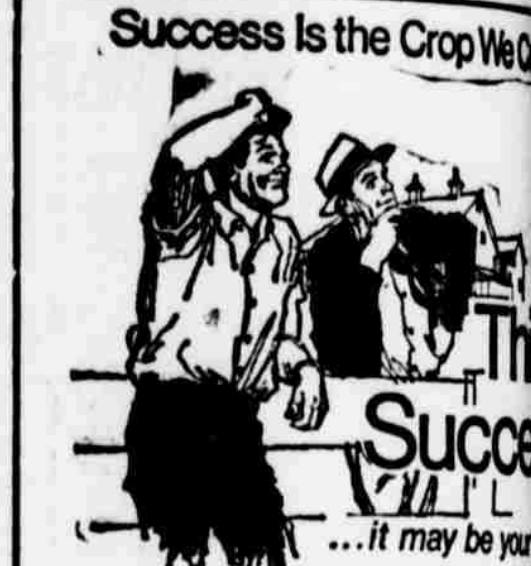

In reviewing a person's income tax return, the IRS may either accept the claimed value of donated property, based on information or appraisals submitted with the return, or make its own determination of fair market value. Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for North Texas, said recently.

In either instance, Mr. Campbell said, the IRS may find it necessary to contact the taxpayer and ask for additional information, refer the valuation problem to an IRS appraiser or valuation specialist, or recommend that an independent appraiser be employed by the IRS to appraise the property in question.

Mr. Campbell said that independent appraisers are frequently used by the IRS when the donated property includes books or specialized types of book collections, paintings, coin and stamp collections, jewelry and gems, or miscellaneous collections of phonograph records, guns, antique furniture, and manuscripts.

While the IRS is responsible for reviewing the appraisals, Mr. Campbell explained, it is not responsible for making them. The taxpayer is responsible for supporting the fair market value listed on a return.

For additional information on this subject, write for a free copy of publication 561, "Valuation of Donated Property" to the District Director, Internal Revenue Service, 1100 Commerce Street, Dallas, Texas 75202.

"FARMER POWER WITH FARMERS UNION"

ALAMO CITY WELCOMES ALL FARMERS, RANCHERS, AGRI-BUSINESSMEN

Farmers, ranchers and agri-businessmen from across Texas will converge on San Antonio December 6-8 to hear farm policy speeches and adopt policy on agricultural issues. Texas Farmers Union will hold the 3-day conclave at the St. Anthony Hotel.

- Those attending will hear:
- STATE SENATOR GLENN KOTHMANN of San Antonio
 - U. S. CONG. HENRY B. GONZALES of San Antonio
 - U. S. CONG. GRAHAM PURCELL of Wichita Falls
 - LT. GOVERNOR BEN BARNES
 - S. DAKOTA FARMERS UNION PRES., BEN RADCLIFFE
 - TEXAS FARMERS UNION PRES., JAY NAMAN of Waco
 - U. S. SENATOR HUBERT HUMPHREY of Minnesota
 - HUMORIST JOHN HENRY FAULK of Austin
 - FORMER U. S. SENATOR RALPH YARBOROUGH
 - CONGRESSMAN JAKE PICKLE
 - NATIONAL FARMERS UNION PRES., TONY DECHANT

The delegates will debate and adopt resolutions concerning state and national farm policy that will be used to measure the candidates in 1972. Several political hopefuls for statewide office are expected to visit the convention sessions.

Farmers Union state president Jay Naman of Waco announced that the growth of Farmers Union in several South Texas counties promises a large drive-in attendance at the convention. He said, "We want all farmers, ranchers and others interested in the destiny of rural people to know that they are welcome at our state convention. We want them to join the great drive for 'Farmer Power with Farmers Union' which is the theme of this year's convention."

Texas Farmers Union is the oldest farm organization in the state, and is also the fastest growing organization in the state. It is the second oldest farm organization in the nation, ranking second only to Farmers Grange, but is now a larger organization than the Grange. Texas Farmers Union was organized and chartered in 1902 at Point, Texas, in Raines County. All major farm programs which have been beneficial to rural America were either sponsored or co-sponsored by Farmers Union.

Cotton Farmers Should Be Thinking About Proper Seeding For Next Year

Although the 1971 cotton harvest is just beginning, it is not too early to start thinking about proper planting seed for next year, says Dr. Bob Metzger, Extension area agronomist at Lubbock.

"Producers should make early arrangements for high-quality seed," the specialist says. He explains that the late crop in this area will probably result in a heavy clear-out of immature seed.

This could in turn result in a short supply of some varieties next spring.

The abundance of underground moisture indicates a good cotton crop in 1972. Under these favorable moisture conditions, Metzger says a producer cannot afford to jeopardize his yield potential by planting low-quality seed.

"Producers lacking the time, facilities or equipment to properly care for planting seed should consider purchasing certified or registered seed from a reputable company," he suggests. "The extra money is well worth the guaranteed varietal purity and germination."

Seed carried over in storage or caught at the gin for planting should be tested for germination quality. A preliminary test prior to delinting can serve as a guide in deciding whether to delint the seed or release it to an oil mill.

Metzger says that carry-over seed is an excellent source for planting, but that a producer should be wary of quality loss during storage. He suggests that carry-over seed be retested before planting because improper storage can greatly reduce quality.

The Free Fatty Acid (FFA) test can determine if seed is good enough to be stored for next season. The test can be conducted at various seed laboratories and oil mills. FFA is a measure of seed deterioration. Readings between one and two per cent indicate that some deterioration has occurred, and the seed should not be planted, Metzger explains.

He warns that the FFA test should not be used by itself,

Farmers Union State Convention To Be Held In San Antonio Dec. 6-8

Farmers and ranchers from across the state will converge on San Antonio December 6-8 to hear farm policy speeches and adopt policy on agricultural issues. Texas Farmers Union will hold its three-day conclave at the St. Anthony Hotel.

Haskell County Farmers Union president Willard Mullins will attend the convention as a voting delegate, and will serve on the resolutions committee. Others from Haskell County planning to attend include Mr. and Mrs. Ray Perry, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brown and Cliff Dunham, all of Haskell, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Davis of Old Glory.

The first session, Monday night, will feature a welcome by State Senator Glenn Kothmann of San Antonio and addresses by U. S. Congressmen Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio and Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls.

Lieutenant Governor Ben Barnes will bring greetings to the statewide farm organization meeting on Tuesday morning, followed by the keynote address by South Dakota Farmers Union President Ben Radcliffe of Huron, South Dakota.

Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman of Waco will make his annual report to the convention on Tuesday morning.

The highlight of the Tuesday afternoon convention program will be an address by United States Senator Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota. Sen. Humphrey is expected to speak at 3:00 p. m. and following his address will present the Farm Editor Awards to television farm director Bedford Forrest of Station KFDA in Amarillo and farm writer Monk Vance of the Fort Worth Star Telegram.

Wednesday's convention program includes an address by nationally known humorist John Henry Faulk of Austin and an exchange of greetings from leaders representing 4-H, FFA, Young Farmers and Young Homemakers. The annual luncheon for Farmers Union Green Thumb workers and officials will hear remarks from former United States Senator Ralph Yarborough and Congressman Jake Pickle of Austin.

The Farmers Union state meeting will conclude with the traditional annual banquet on Wednesday evening that will feature an address by National Farmers Union President Tony Dechant. Dechant will speak on the stake which family farm agriculture has in the 1972 elections.

A special program has been planned for the ladies and young people attending the San Antonio meeting. Farmers Union ladies will be treated to a special luncheon and style show program at a downtown department store. A youth party on Tuesday night and special brunch for young people and youth leaders has been planned for Wednesday morning.

The delegates will debate and adopt resolutions concerning state and national farm policy that will be used to measure the candidates in 1972. Several political hopefuls for statewide office are expected to visit the convention sessions.

Farmers Union state president Jay Naman of Waco announced that the growth of Farmers Union in several South Texas counties promises a large drive-in attendance at the convention. He said, "We want all farmers, ranchers and others interested in the destiny of rural people to know that they are welcome at our state convention. We want them to join the great drive for 'Farmer Power with Farmers Union' which is the theme of this year's convention."

Mozelle Earns Bi-District Title Against O'Brien

The O'Brien football season ended Thanksgiving night when Mozelle pounded them down in a 92-55 defeat for the six-man bi-district title in Coleman. Quarterback Danny Del Hierro was the O'Brien offensive star as he rushed 20 times for 87 yards and two touchdowns and threw three scoring passes. They lead the scoring at half-time 43-38, but the Mustang defense went to work and allowed the O'Brien Bulldogs only 12 more points. Mozelle produced 32 points in the third quarter. Del Hierro's TD passes went to Arlie Watson, Ray Hayes and Orlie Florez. Louis Conn ran for two scores and Figuero recovered a Mozelle fumble in the end zone for an O'Brien TD. Hayes kicked three PAT's for six points and Conn passed to Figuero for one-point conversion. CONSERVATION VIEW POINTS

J. C. YEARY, JR.
District Conservationist

Mulch tillage is a system of managing the soil for row crop production. It includes leaving residues from previous crops on or just beneath the soil surface throughout the cropping year. Some mulch tillage methods used by farmers today are called no tillage or zero tillage, slot planting, chisel planting, till planting and strip planting. I prefer using the term minimum tillage. I believe any variation of farming that significantly reduces the number of operations per crop per year is beneficial to the soil. Any system of farming that reduces soil erosion by both wind and water is profitable, but the more money saved by reducing number of operations is more money easier made.

Modern mulch tillage machinery can prepare a seed-bed, apply fertilizer, plant the crop seed and apply herbicides all in one operation. Even though this can be done, not many farmers choose to complete all jobs in the one operation. Pat Hale of Hale Farm Supply, Woody Woodard of Woodard Farm Sales, and A. C. Richardson of Richardson Truck and Tractor have told me that manufacturers of their equipment have available such equipment and that it can be secured on short order.

It costs about $1 a mile to pull a tillage implement with a tractor, so it pays to hold trips across the field to the minimum. Since most tillage operations are done at 4 miles an hour, each hour of tillage eliminated saves $4. Many farmers report that changing from conventional tillage to mulch tillage has saved them $8 to $14 an acre.

The advantage of mulch tillage other than less labor and lower costs already discussed are: Conserves moisture, may improve yields, makes double cropping easier, reduces erosion, and furnishes food and cover for wildlife.

The only two disadvantages of minimum tillage that I can think of would be lower soil temperatures causing slower soil warm-up and seed germination. The moisture conserved would offset this delay later in the growing season. The other disadvantage would be the possibility of increased pest problems from mice, slugs, and birds. However, the pest problem can more easily be controlled than can the lower temperatures.

Allen King, Soil Conservation Service Agronomist from Amarillo has done much research with actual field trials on minimum tillage. He reports cotton can be grown using this method of tillage as well as any other crop. Harvesting of cotton has not proved to be a problem in the areas in which he has done his research.

All of our equipment dealers have literature on minimum tillage equipment available. All are willing to talk with you. We have a leaflet on mulch tillage available at the Soil Conservation Service office in Haskell. Come by and discuss minimum tillage with us. We will be glad to assist you.

REFUND CHECKS MAILED BY STAMFORD ELECTRIC COOP

A total of $205,130.54 will be mailed to members and former members of Stamford Electric Cooperative, Inc., about the first of December, 1971, according to Charles W. Stenholm, Manager. All who were members in 1959 will be receiving Capital Credit Refund Checks.

The Board of Directors of SEC is charged with making decisions on finances and other policies of the cooperative. When the board of directors determines that the Cooperative has excess reserve funds, refunds to members are authorized. When refunds are authorized, they are made to the members whose capital has been used for the greatest length of time. With this year's refund, all members capital furnished from 1939 to 1959 will have been returned and the cooperative will be operating on capital furnished by members from 1960 to 1971.

"With the mailing of the 1959 retirement checks, this will make a total of $1,363,255.27 thus refunded since the cooperative's organization in 1939," Stenholm said.

Abilene Reports Slow Harvest

The cotton harvest continues at a very slow pace in the Abilene territory, according to the U.S.D.A., Consumer and Marketing Service.

B. B. Manly, Jr., Officer-in-Charge of the Abilene Classing Office reports that 52 per cent of the samples classed were in the white category with strict low middling the predominant grade at 24 per cent. Thirty-seven per cent of the samples classed were light spotted and 11 per cent were spotted. Staple lengths were 23 per cent, 31; 27 per cent, 32; and 28 per cent, 33.

Micronaire readings were in the premium range on 67 per cent of the samples. The remaining 33 per cent read lower than premium.

The season's total for the week ending November 26, 1971 is 5,500 samples classed compared to 198,625 for a season's total a year ago.

Most cotton in the area is selling for 26.00 to 28.00 cents. Social security pays more benefits to students than all scholarships combined.
