Abernathy Riders Win First In Tulia

Seventeen members of the Abernathy Riding Club participated in the Rodeo Parade at Tulia, Saturday July 19. The riders continued in parade formation despite the sudden downpour that drenched paraders and spectators. It took some man power and even some 4 legged horse power to remove some of the trailers from the parking lot after approximately one and a half inches of rain fell. The riders dried out in time to participate in the rodeo grand entry, the Abernathy Club was the only club to ride in that event, Nelda Rogers, riding club queen and her father, parade marshal Bob Rogers accepted the first place trophy for the club's performance in the afternoon parade. District I A. A. S. P. & R. C. queen Pam Rogers was presented prior to the rodeo. Even though everyone got soaked and cold, we all really had an enjoyable day.

ALL SMILES are Mrs. Hoppy Toler and Miss Bonnie Barrows at the meeting for local prayer hostesses last week in the Toler home. Approximately 60 women turned out for prayer and to make plans for the prayer meetings to begin in their homes the first week of August for the Billy Graham Crusade in Lubbock.

MISS BARROWS SPEAKS TO LOCAL PRAYER HOSTESSES IN TOLER HOME

By Vicki Havens
Approximately sixty women representing the denominations of Abernathy and County Line Churches met in the home of Mrs. Hoppy Toler last Thursday evening. Mrs. Toler is District Prayer Chairwoman for Abernathy, for the upcoming Billy Graham Crusade. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Toler were the Neighborhood Chairmen for Abernathy, Mmes. Jerry Adams, Lanoy Stallings and Y. E. Snodgrass. Mrs. Toler opened the meeting with prayer and introduced Miss Bonnie Barrows, Coordinator for the Billy Graham Crusades. Miss Barrows was there to explain the prayer packets that each lady was given to use in her home during the month of August when the neighborhood prayer hostesses will invite the neighborhood women to their homes to hear a broadcast on the radio and to pray. Miss Barrows opened with a scripture in Psalms 125:5-6: "They that sow in tears shall reap in joy. He that goeth forth and weepeth, bearing precious seed, shall doubtless come again with rejoicing, bringing his sheaves with him." Miss Barrows pointed out that "a heart with Christ is a missionary, but a heart without Christ is a mission field." There is great power in prayer and this is a very important part of the Billy Graham Crusade touching lives for Jesus. Another statement by Miss Barrows was, "We must be excited about God coming; not just that Billy Graham is coming." This reporter was very excited about the great turnout and the different denominations and races coming together. It reminded me of the song we have all heard since we were children: "Jesus Loves The Little Children, red and yellow, black and white, they are precious in His sight." Have you really ever stopped to think that you are precious in His sight? I would urge all of you to respond when the prayer leader contacts you and invites you to attend a prayer group. It will be a great experience and wonderful opportunity for us to really get to know each other and have a wonderful fellowship.

Council Approves Proposed Ambulance Service Program

By Lori Hopson
Abernathy city councilmen, in regular session, recently approved a proposal which will provide emergency ambulance service for the city. The new service, which will replace that formerly provided here by Chambers Funeral Home, will be provided through a cooperative program by Abernathy and Lubbock County officials. The program will provide a fully equipped emergency service vehicle for Abernathy and the immediately surrounding area, on the condition that the city be held responsible for a maintenance and the training of emergency medical technicians to man the vehicle. The Abernathy ambulance will be one of eight provided by the Lubbock County Hospital District in the Lubbock area. Four of the new vehicles will be stationed in the city of Lubbock, and four in areas surrounding the city. Though present requirements call for a total of only six trained Emergency Medical Technicians to qualify the city for the ambulance service, local officials are aiming at double that number. An applicant must complete a total of 80 classroom hours in order to qualify for EMT classification. This total includes 40 hours of classroom studies, 16 hours in a hospital emergency unit, and 24 hours in other areas of the hospital. The EMT training will continue from 6:00 to 10:00 p. m. each Monday and Thursday for ten weeks, with the actual classroom training for the course set at Lubbock Christian College. Local officials hope to have the ambulance service in actual operation by Sept. 30, which is the cut-off date for the ambulance service provided here by Chambers Funeral Home. In other business, the council agreed to provide a street light for the 1200 block of 5th street, in response to a request by property owners in that area, and reviewed the city budget report for the third quarter of the current year. Finally, the council agreed to the issuance of time warrants to First State Bank of Abernathy for final payments for recent city well development northeast of the city. The new well will enable the city to meet maximum usage requirements for peak months, and provide a water reserve as well. The total cost figure for the new well, at just under $61,500, was approximately $10,000 less than originally estimated, and will be funded by current city reserves.

FAMILY GATHERS FOR VISIT HERE AND IN IDALOU COMMUNITY

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Ritchey of Dallas were recent visitors in the home of their brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Ritchey and children of Idalou. After a few days of visiting they came to Abernathy for a visit with their aunt, Miss Nannie Belle Ritchey. Tom, Sherry and children joined them for lunch the next day. One might call the get-together a somewhat of a reunion, as it was the first time for all to be together since Mike and Susan were married in 1973. The day was a wonderful one, full of joy and happiness, it was the kind of day that one hates or rather regrets to have end, but one that will always be remembered as a "Perfect Day". Mike and Susan left for San Francisco. They also visited in several other cities on the Pacific Coast. The days of sight seeing was over, they began to finalize the preparation for the mission that had taken them to California. Mike had taken a leave of absence from the radio station where he has been a sports announcer since leaving the newscaster on KERA 13 in Dallas. Mike and Susan decided to take a hike of adventure and to collect material for writing. They chose the Oregon Trail, and there is where they are now and have been as of June 24th. Just before leaving Mike wrote that they had all their equipment, back packs, dehydrated foods and other necessities needed for the trek of the trail, Mike said, "The trek would be 400 miles of winding climbing and falling from the Southern edge to the Northern tip of Oregon. They hope to complete the trail in less than two months.

Lubbock Students; Teacher En Route To Africa

Climbers to the top of Mt. Kilimanjaro may soon find a surprise--a jersey emblazoned with the words Texas Tech University and a flag commemorating Lubbock as an official Bicentennial city. Charles Davis, one of the students going on a trip to Africa sponsored by the American Institute for Foreign Study through the Lubbock Independent School District, said he plans to carry the two items to the top of the mountain, Davis son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Davis of 1611 43rd St., will climb the 19,340-foot peak while in Kenya. Virgil Wade of Abernathy, a Lubbock High School Science teacher who will become consultant after the trip will accompany the students. The trip is one of four sponsored by the school district this year.

Kenya's official language is Swahili, Wade said, but all the classes will be taught in English. The students and Wade have had yellow fever, cholera, typhoid, small pox, tetanus and gamma globulin vaccines. While in Kenya, they will have to take anti-malarial tablets. "Most people don't know it, but malaria is the number one killer in the world, above heart disease, cancer and everything else" he said. Each traveler is restricted to 44 pounds of luggage and has to pack clothes to wear in the desert, the mountains, the grass lands and the tropics, all parts of Kenya's varied climate. "Kenya is truly a land of contrast because it has some really primitive tribes as well as modern cities, such as Nairobi, which has a population of half a million," said Wade. Wade said he plans to take enough film for 3,000 pictures, but will be sure to ask permission before taking pictures of tribesmen. "I read about a guy who got a spear through the middle because he took a picture of a native who didn't want him to. They believe you capture their spirit in that little black box and get angry. "But the students have got to appreciate these people and their way of life. They will probably learn more in this respect than they will in the classroom. It will be an experience none of us will ever forget."

JULIA KVETON ATTENDS PHYSICS TRAINING PROGRAM

Julia Kveton of Abernathy is attending a summer physics training program at New Mexico State University in Las Cruces. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kveton. Miss Kveton was chosen to participate in this program on the basis of academic ability, recommendation from her high school science teacher and an essay. She is among 40 students from 12 states participating in the six-week session ending August 1. The workshop was made possible by a grant from the National Science Foundation to New Mexico State University's Department of Physics. Students attend classes six hours a day to study modern experimental optics and holography, which uses lasers to generate photographic images. Instruction is designed so that the student will learn the use of computers in problem solution. The purpose of the program is to acquaint superior high school students with modern aspects of physical sciences and to encourage them to consider scientific and technical careers. Business; Enjoyment Combined In Career

BY LORI HOPSON

A lovely, vivacious woman herself, Mrs. Wendell Barrick has made her career in a field which not only fits her own requirements for happiness, but which enables her to help other women realize their own potential for a beautiful image.

As an independent sales director for Mary Kay Cosmetics, Sally Barrick spends her spare hours in the roles of not one, but many women. She's a beauty consultant, a salesperson, an instructor, a recruiter and sometimes even a lifesaver to women with beauty problems who need not only a good product, but in addition, a basic, step-by-step skin-care regimen to make their youth and beauty last.

Sally became interested in the company six years ago when she was a guest at some shows in which Mary Kay representatives showed women how to use their makeup properly, and take care of their skin to revive and retain its youthfulness.

"I saw four different faces completely changed," says Sally, "and I thought 'If it's that good, I want to have something to do with this company.' I'm as excited now as I was when I first came into the company, because there's something helpful in it for everyone."

Sally's work has not only proved a generous source of financial benefits, (which she says it definitely has), but its rewards have gone beyond that into the realm of enriching, educational experiences. As a sales director, she spends part of her time each year in traveling over much of the county, either visiting her 'recruits' (women she has drawn into the company) or attending Mary Kay workshops, sales meetings, or national conventions.

A woman who says she enjoys "finding women who want to find themselves" in a career, Sally feels that her work is very rewarding in this area, as well as in the fact that she is affiliated with a company which is unique in its program training and educating customers in skin-care basics, as well as selling them beauty products.

"Women need more help in knowing what to do with their skin," she says. First in bringing out the beauty that is there, and secondly in retaining that beauty.

Sally says the basic formula offered by the company is, surprisingly, the result of research done many years ago by a 73-year-old tanner, whose theory was that if a rough piece of animal hide could be transformed into a smooth, supple kid glove, or piece of suede; perhaps the same basic processes could transform weathered, aging human skin into soft, young-looking skin.

Evidently the tanner was right, because his basic discoveries have led to a Mary Kay product which Sally says is the "only proven formula" which keeps its promise of making skin more youthful and resilient.

In addition to the financial rewards of her work with Mary Kay, Sally has also been presented with other acknowledgements of her hard work and dedication to her job. (Yes, they really do give away fur coats and diamond rings.) She says she hasn't won the company's pink Cadillac, trademark of the Mary Kay "Elite", but adds, "That doesn't mean I won't want it when the time comes."

Having met Sally, it's not hard at all to believe that time will, indeed, come--- and soon.

In spite of the glamorous, fashionable aspect of her life; there's another side to Sally, and she says her work is just the "perfect outlet" for an exuberant, bubbling energy she was born with.

"I'm the kind of person who must have a constant challenge in order to be happy," she says, and in spite of all it involves, Sally's job is mostly a spare-time occupation.

"I'm basically just a housewife who loves to get out among people," she says, "I still mop floors, clean house, and take the kids to Scouts like any other wife and mother."

 There's nothing like being among the tall pines 4000 feet above the desert floor, listening to the bugle of a bull elk. In Texas? You bet! Those things, and many more are available in Texas at the Guadalupe Mountains National park, some 100 miles east of El Paso along the Texas-New Mexico line. Just west of the desert like Salt Flats the mountains soar a mile higher to 8,751 feet, the highest point in the state. Elk (that's right. Elk) move through McKittrick Canyon, and rare species of plant life are everywhere. No motorized vehicles are permitted and visitors are limited due to the fragile balance of nature in the area. A walk through McKittrick Canyon is best for the first time visitor. Check at the Frijole Station, east of Pine Spring on U.S. 62/180. No water is available once inside the park. Tip of the Week: Dove hunters watch where you reach for that fallen bird. Snakes are often attracted to the sound of the downed bird.

MIRROR, MIRROR ON THE WALL...
 by Sally Barrick

BY SALLY BARRICK
 Looking in the mirror, are you facing the same thing each day? Why not mix a new face every day? It is so easy. Let's start with the naked truth, your skin. Is it dry, oily, combination, aging? A complete 24-hour skin care program is the answer. One that works and gets results: a deep cleanser, masque, skin freshener, night cream and foundation.

Remember, there are no homey women---just lazy ones! This goes for men, too. Hot days are here again, and using a foundation that holds moisture in your skin is a trick in itself. By using an emollient base foundation, you can accomplish this, or use an extra moisturizer under a water base make-up. Starting with a deep cleanser allows you to remove dirt, grease, grime---even yesterday's embedded make-up from the skin.

Removing with a warm, wet cloth plumps and softens the skin. (Some tissues contain wood fibers, and should never be used.)

The masque strips only dead skin cells and neutralizes excess acid, and aging factor, and stimulates circulation.

Skin freshener should not dry the skin, but should tighten and tone. Always wash any skin freshener off, since it leaves a film.

Greasy pillow cases have almost eliminated the night cream, (and alienated a few husbands.) Keep in mind, your skin ages at night, too, so using a night cream that absorbs into the skin is the skin is the answer.

The selection of a foundation that is just right for you is an important factor in achieving your 'total look' today.

Did you know that the way we look is an indication of whether society rewards us or not. There's a lot of body communications specialist deals with all non-verbal messages. People send these messages out by using facial expressions, gestures, body movement and, of course, posture.

(Editor's note--Sally will be writing more about this aspect of your total beauty-image in her next article.)

Santa Fe Wheat Report-1975

New Harvest: During recent weeks the harvest of more than 680 million bushels has been underway in the five major wheat states served by Santa Fe. That's almost half of all the winter wheat grown in this country.

Car Supply: Santa Fe's part of the harvest job will be about 29,000 carloads. Our fleet of jumbo hoppers along with regular hoppers and box cars are now rolling throughout the harvest areas handling this big load.

Santa Fe Operations: The millions invested each year to improve Santa Fe's facilities, cars and locomotive fleet, makes it possible for us to get the job done in the most efficient way. We are ready to do even more than our share in wheat-growing states along the Santa Fe where problems may arise from inadequate transportation services.

Under normal conditions the railroads plan their operations to move with the harvest as it advances across the wheat belt.

This year, old man weather has upset the timetable. Rain has delayed the new crop about two weeks, and the wheat became ripe and ready in all growing areas of the Midwest, at the same time!

Santa Fe has a long and proud record of moving wheat. We do our best to prepare for each year's harvest. For example, we have almost 13,000 jumbo hoppers in service, including 1,000 brand new ones just received from the builders. That's the largest fleet in the nation.

1975 will be a near-record wheat harvest year along the Santa Fe; and, although the weather has created problems, we are doing our best to move each bushel. We are about to complete the harvest movement, and we appreciate the cooperation of growers, shippers, elevator operators and government inspectors which has helped Santa Fe handle another big wheat job.

Everyone is invited to come and join in the worship services this Sunday morning at 10:40 and Sunday evening at 7:00.

WHAT'S NEW AT NORTHSIDE??

By Frances Gardner

We had good services this past Sunday. Sunday School attendance is off some since so many of our people are on vacations, but worship service attendance is good. Rev. Jim Gardner of Hobbs, New Mexico preached Sunday morning.

Bro. Doug and Frances Gardner and family attended a family reunion in Levelland Friday night and Saturday. There were approximately sixty-five members of the Gardner family present.

Guests in the Gardner home Saturday night and Sunday were their children and grandchildren: Mr. and Mrs. Howard Frank, Teresa, Troy and Clayton from Odessa; Rev. and Mrs. Jim Gardner, Kim and Nikki from Hobbs; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Gardner and Denise also from Hobbs; and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Turner and Misti from Eunice, New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Conway and children are vacationing in Colorado this week.

Guests in the G. C. Woods home are their son and family Gilbert W. Woods, from Louisville, Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. Syl Moore are here visiting in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Ruffin. The Moore's and their children have just returned from a tour of duty in Japan. Mr. Moore will be filling the pulpit at Northside next week while the pastor is on vacation.

Belated birthday greetings to: Mrs. Ruth Hanes, Della Morgan, Patsy Steward, Billy Beard.

Last Rites Held For Mrs. Nix

Graveside services for Bertha Lee Nix, 86, of Waco were at Memorial Park under direction of Sanders Funeral Home. Officiating was Dr. J. Ralph Grant, pastor emeritus of First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Nix died at 6 p. m. July 15 in Waco.

She was a Lubbock resident from 1950 to 1970 at which time her husband was the associate pastor of the First Baptist Church. He also was pastor in Abernathy and Clovis, N. M., before moving to Waco. He preceded her in death in 1971.

Mr. and Mrs. George Jones of Friona visited with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Davis this week.

Clark-Condray Vows Repeated

Jane Boyd Clark and Norman L. Condray were married in a double ring ceremony July 5, at 2:00 p. m. in Quetta, New Mexico by the Rev. Orville Knowlton of Cimarron, New Mexico. Jane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grady L. Boyd, 1919 34th St., Lubbock, formerly of Plainview, Norman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Condray of 708 12th St., Abernathy.

The bride wore a long floral empire dress and carried a bouquet of silk flowers and dried baby breath. She wore a matching floral head piece in her hair. The groom wore a light blue leisure suit.

The wedding took place in Cabresto Canyon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Hancock. Mrs. Charlene Hancock, sister of the groom, assisted the bride as her Matron of Honor. Serving as Best Man was Michael Creme of Tyler, Texas. Mike served with Norm in the U. S. Navy while they were stationed on Bahrain Island in the Arabian Gulf.

The setting for the wedding was under a giant Blue Spruce tree next to the stream outside the Hancock home.

The wedding music was the natural sounds of the forest, with the added touch of small brass bells tied in the trees. After the ceremony the wedding bells were clipped from the branches and given with love from the bride and groom to the relatives and friends present.

The couple will live at 304 11th, Abernathy.

MEMBERS ENTERTAIN WITH VERSE, MUSIC AND ANECDOTES AS SUNSHINE CLUB MEETS

The Sunshine Group met July 17, third Thursday as usual. It seemed like it was early in the month and some people didn't think about it, but I think it was soon after July 4th as we were together at that time. Floyd called the house to order and ask Mrs. Toler to give the prayer. Dixie hadn't come so it looked like Floyd was going to really dash around, but just as we were nearly ready to sing Dixie came in, yes she had forgot. We sang our anthem. Then "Standing on the Promises" and "I Feel Like Traveling On". Mrs. Hawkins read the minutes which were approved. Then Floyd turned the meeting over to Dorothy which was a mistake, she was going to introduce her program, but they needed a little time to get ready so she told a joke about Floyd. She was saved this ever since they were in Temple, Floyd found someone he had known a long time ago and they got to talking, the other man asked Floyd if he ever had a wish come true? Floyd rubbed his head and thought a while and said, "yes, I have, when I was a little boy Mama combed my hair and it really hurt when she pulled on it. I wished I didn't have any hair!" Then Dorothy wouldn't let him have the floor for rebuttal. By that time Erma Spruiell and Alma Ruth Patterson had their accordions all ready to go. This is something they hadn't had before. They played "Kalmers Grand March" and "O Sol Mio", one of my favorites. Then a selection of hymns. We all enjoyed it.

One of the things Mrs. Brewer loved to do is to memorize scripture. Dorothy had ask her to recite the 123 Psalm, but Mrs. Brewer said, in honor of the men in space who had just locked together she would say the 19 Psalm. It was very appropriate. She was a little aggravated because she had to look once. I would have kept the Bible open right before me all the time, Mrs. Gregg gave thanks and dinner was served.

If each person would call a person or two on the third week we could have a bigger crowd. We all had a good time, but, "the more the merrier."

Those present: Olive Madera of Plainview, Erma Mae Spruiell, Alma Ruth Patterson. Our regular people were: Dorothy and Floyd Shipman, Dot von Struve, Vera Hawkins, C. J. Camp, Oma Toler, Maude Given, Martha Phillips, Lizzie Bebow, Mrs. W. V. Talbot, Mrs. Dewey Price, Addie Robertson, Ollie Selke, Callie Nunn, Ruby Hill, Albert and Lalah Brewster, Maurine Gregg, Mrs. Chloe Hood, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Veach, Earl Gregg, Mrs. Choc Brewer, Maybell Glass, Dixie Pittman, Elizabeth Harrison.

We missed Mrs. L. S. Wilson as she was living it up on a lake somewhere with her son and his wife of Dallas and some of her grandchildren.

T. E. L. Sunday School Class Meets

The T. E. L. Sunday School class of First Baptist Church met July 11th in the home of Mrs. N. A. Oliver for business and fellowship. The meeting was opened with prayer by Susie Anderson and Mrs. Dewey Price read from a book giving a discussion of the twenty-third Psalm which was very impressive. After each verse it said 'all the days of my life' which makes one really realize that "The Lord is my shepherd all the days of my life."

It was decided not to meet in August, it being a busy month, and also one of high temperature.

Mrs. Oliver wore a 'sari', the traditional dress of India, from that country, and served delicious refreshments to the seven guests present. They were Mrs. James O'Neill, Jimmy Bruce, A. L. Slater, C. F. Phillips, J. A. Clevens, and Dewey Price, and Susie Anderson.

The meeting was dismissed in prayer by Mrs. J. A. Clevens, who asked for help for the churches of the town, and the sick and lonely people.

TEXAS TALK

by Harold Thompson

All it takes is a glance at your own checkbook to know that in the long run you have to have more coming in than going out. The same principal works with nations as well. That's why an international trade surplus is more desirable than a trade deficit. American farmers last year did far more than any other segment of U-S industry to reduce a trade deficit topped off by the high prices of mid-eastern oil. Agricultural exports last year were worth 22 billion dollars, producing an agricultural trade surplus of nearly 12 billion. This contribution by food and fiber producers brought our total deficit to 3 billion dollars. Still high, but much less than some economists thought it would be. Those figures from last year are considered by many to be the harbinger of agriculture's future importance to the U-S position in world affairs. Farmers and ranchers are moving more directly into the limelight as they produce enough to keep us number one.
