G. S. P. A. CALLS FOR HALT OF FURTHER GRAIN SALES

Lubbock, Tex. -- A call for a curtailment of any further sales of grain by producers has been launched by the Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

This action came following an announcement by the U. S. State Department on September 22 that the embargo of grain sales to Russia would be extended to other eastern European countries such as Poland.

GSPA president A. W. Anthony, Jr., of Friona, Tex., stated, "It is time for the American producers to start speaking the only language the White House apparently understands--- this being a boycott."

Anthony asked that all grain producers join in this effort.

It should be the decision of all farmers not to sell any more grain until the administration gives complete and unqualified assurance that the American farmer has free access to all markets including Russia for the 1975 crop or until farmers are able to sell their grain for full parity, according to the GSPA official.

The current parity on grain sorghum is $5.16 cwt. Corn parity is $3.07 per bushel.

Anthony stated, "Producers were given assurance at planting and also at the time of the farm bill veto that we would have free access to all world markets. The current embargo on sales to Russia is a complete reversal of these assurances and farmers should react by stopping all sales of grain until these requirements are met. It is time the administration and American consumers alike be concerned about farmers' problems."

Anthony said, "It is time that American consumers see whether the labor unions or the U. S. farmers control the food supply of this country. We have cooled it long enough. At present, this is our only chance of making the farmers' views known."

SUSPENSE HIGHLIGHTS ACTION AS ANTELOPES TAKE SEASON'S THIRD VICTORY IN "SEE-SAW" CONTEST WITH STRONG SLATON TEAM

By Sammy Hunley
If high blood pressure, or nervous stomach is your problem then Antelope field was not the place for you Friday night. The atmosphere was one of heartbreak and sudden pandemonium. The game probably one of the most exciting played by an Antelope team in years, saw the locals come from behind late in the 4th quarter to defeat the Slaton Tigers 25-20.

The Antelopes took the opening kick off and began their march down the field, with Ken Davenport going 42 yards to the 8 yard line. Wayne Riley hit Mickey Davis for the touchdown with an 8 yard pass. Extra point was good and the Lopes led 7-0 with 8:18 showing on the clock.

The defense led by Garza, Equibel, Horsford, Thompson and Odom was able to shut off the running attack of Slaton All-State prospect (McCleskey) and kept the Lopes out front at the first quarter ended --7-0-- in favor of the Antelopes.

The defense once again came to the front in the 2nd quarter. Wayne Riley was the man of the hour. Wayne intercepted two passes during the 2nd quarter, that ended any scoring threats the Tigers could put together. The first half ended 7-9 in favor of the Antelopes.

II HALF
The Tigers received the opening kick off of the 2nd half and fumbled it almost as quick as they had caught it. Ranly Hood was the Antelope who jumped in the fumble. The offense got things rolling with 3 successive pass completions to Henry Davenport and Horsford by quarterback Riley. Riley capped off the performance by scoring from the 1 yard line. Extra point was no good. The Lopes led 13-0 with 6:59 left in the third quarter.

Stanley Horsford's recovery of a Tiger fumble gave the Lopes the necessary field position to score their touchdown.

Slaton and McCleskey got things moving and scored their first touchdown with 2:49 left in the 3rd quarter. Extra point failed the score was 13-6 in favor of the Antelopes.

The combination of Riley to Davis didn't waste much time. After the kickoff, Wayne hit Mickey on the 2nd play from scrimmage and the play went 65 yards for a touchdown. Davis had his 2nd touchdown of the night. The Lopes led 19-6 with 2:02 on the clock.

4th QUARTER
Slaton got their ground attack moving and scored their second touchdown of the night with 10:39 left in the 4th quarter. The score stood 19-12. The Lopes offense bogged down and lost the ball by way of an interception, giving Slaton excellent field position. The Tigers took advantage and scored again to take the lead 20-19 with 7:21 left in the game.

Still determined to win, the Lopes defense held the Tigers forcing them to punt the football. The Lopes took over the football on the 25 yard line. Well, here is how it happened.

Roddy Shipman, hurt earlier in the game, hobbled on the field, presumably bringing in a play from the side line. The Lopes broke the huddle. Davis moved to the right and Shipman came to the left side lines. Riley received the snap, stepped back, and hit Shipman, who was unable to run. Riley fired his pass to Davis cutting across the middle. Davis grabbed the ball, eluded the Tigers defense and sprinted 65 yards for the winning touchdown. ---Just beautiful!--- the Lopes win 25-20.

National 4-H Week Set For Oct. 5-11

4-H boys and girls throughout Texas and the nation will join in a salute to America's Bicentennial celebration during National 4-H Week, Oct. 5-11.

The annual observance, with this year's theme of "4-H--'76... Spirit of Tomorrow," is designed to accent the history, ideals and goals of the 4-H program, points out Dr. Don Stormer, state 4-H and youth leader with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Many county groups are planning special events, service projects and recruitment drives during National 4-H Week," notes Stormer. "It's a special time when 4-H is recognized for its contributions to the growth and development of youth."

The 4-H program is active in all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, Guam and the Virgin Islands as well as in more than 80 countries. It is administered by the Cooperative Extension Service, and Extension professionals play an active role in recruiting, training and assisting volunteer leaders who help with local 4-H activities.

According to Stormer, some 7.2 million youth between the ages of 9 and 19 are currently enrolled in 4-H, with more than 215,000 of these in Texas. More than 21,000 volunteer adult and youth leaders assist with local 4-H programs in the state.

"Although the majority of 4-H members still live on farms and in rural communities, 24 per cent now come from larger urban and suburban areas," notes the 4-H leader. "Well over half the Texas 4-Hers live on farms or in towns of under 10,000 population."

Texas 4-Hers participate in more than 60 educational project areas, with the most popular being food and nutrition, clothing and textiles, and homes and ponies.

"Since its beginning around the turn of the century, 4-H has offered practical learning and citizenship experiences to millions of young people," Stormer points out.

LOCAL SCHOOL TO BEGIN CAREER EDUCATION PROGRAM

Superintendent DeWitt Webb has announced that Abernathy schools will begin a career education program this year. Abernathy is one of five schools in a 20-county region, he said, to join an existing network sponsored by the Education Service Center, Region XVII.

To help initiate the program in Abernathy is a local career education team made up of the following faculty members: Dr. Webb as chairman; Curtis Davenport, high school principal; Frank Bartlett, junior high principal; Cid A. Kisson, elementary principal; Charles Bowen, counselor, all levels.

Teachers Clara Harp, Bill Compton, Jerry Adams, Kathy Compton, Barbara Webb and Mary Rose Bowen will also be helping with the program.

Others schools beginning the program this school year are Borlen County, Hale County, Jayton and Motley County.

Career education carries a priority rating in public schools across the nation. The purpose of the program is to prepare young people for a productive and rewarding life. It helps them in their search for values in a work-oriented society and in integrating those values into their own life in such a way that work becomes meaningful and satisfying.

Brownfield was the first area school to pilot a program for the Service Center. Others schools in the network are Denver City, Lorenzo, Meadow, Morton, Plainview.

Also Floydada, Olton, Levelland, Petersburg, Plains, Ralls, Shallowater and Sudan.

Consultants from the Center began training the local team on September 22 and will offer five days of training throughout the school year.

"RAYS OF HOPE"

by Pat Stanton

You Can Be Healed Emotionally.

Probably at some point in life, every person has needed an inner healing. This is true because of the hurt and harm that most people have experienced within the heart. Jesus said, "I have come to heal the broken hearted and to give deliverance to those who are bound." (Luke 4:18)

Many adults are needlessly suffering from the hurts and memories of the past. Some are still reacting to the things of the past because their hearts are not whole.

"Out of the heart are all the issues of life." (Prov. 4:23)

Our hearts must be made whole if we are to experience the fullness of life. There are many people who are suffering physical sickness because their hearts and hurts need to be mended by God's power.

We must give our painful memories to God and allow Him to shine His healing antiseptic light into the dark corners of our lives.

We also need to open the windows of our hearts and let the Lord air out the mustiness of buried bitterness, jealousy and fear.

I have seen many people receive emotional healing

Lamb Shearing

WHAT'S NEW AT NORTHSIDE??
By Frances Gardner

Forgive us for not having a column last week, but to be honest, we stayed too long at the fair.

Ordination services were held on Sunday, September 21, to ordain Tom Conway and Ralph Hanes as deacons. The message was brought by Bro. Doyle Holmes, area Superintendent of Missions, and special music was presented by Henshel Wilson. A good crowd attended this special service.

Mr. David Debusk of Littlefield was speaker Sunday morning for our services. Mr. Debusk came as a representative of TANE, Inc. and presented a good sermon in their behalf.

Welcome to our new members Susie Hobson, Harvey Davis and Mrs. Terry Tull.

A belated Happy Birthday to Jerry Hunley, Beth McGahay, Cynthia Hanes, Mrs. C. B. Beard, and Stacy and Tracy Rogem. Happy Birthday this week to Mrs. Clarence Bundick and Tommie Mauren.

Stacy and Tracy Rogem spent the week-end visiting in Dallas.

Mrs. Clara Smithers has been transferred from West Texas Hospital to West Wind Nursing Home in Lubbock.

We will be starting a new church year next Sunday and want to encourage all of our members to be here for Sunday School. A goal has been set for 100 in Sunday School. The same goal has also been set for Training Union. If everyone will call or visit someone and invite those that do not have a church home to come and visit with us.

Brucellosis Regulations Still In Effect

AUSTIN—Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC) officials are awaiting federal response to the commission's rejection of proposed changes in brucellosis regulations.

"TAHC's vote applied only to proposed changes," Dr. H. Q. Sibley, executive director of TAHC, said. "This decision does not mean that all brucellosis regulations are suspended in Texas."

The brucellosis control program under which Texas has been operating is still in effect, Dr. Sibley stressed.

Federal response to the TAHC's action may come at the United States Animal Health Association meeting in Portland, Oregon November 2-7.

The commission rejected by a 5-3 margin at a September 4 hearing the proposed changes which would have brought regulations on brucellosis in Texas up to the minimum standards set by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA).

A possible result of the commission's decision is that the USDA could refuse to recognize the status of brucellosis-free counties in Texas or the state's modified-certified status if Texas does not conform with national standards.

A large crowd of cattlemen was present at the hearing and voiced opposition to the proposed changes.

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller

Austin—Any business firm failing to send in its sales tax money fully on time can now expect a knock on the door within 15 days after the due date.

This is a new system for the Comptroller's Department which will significantly cut down future sales tax delinquencies.

It will nip them in the bud by getting enforcement started while the amount in most cases is still small enough for the merchant to settle up.

Most merchants who collect the sales tax send in their returns on a quarterly basis. As these returns go through our computers we can identify those coming in with no money or with less than they owe.

The computer can also identify those sales tax permits holders who fail to file.

In our new system those computer lists will be sent to our field offices and our field personnel will immediately visit these business firms.

It is absolutely unbelievable that before this year the field offices were never given current lists of delinquent accounts in their area. This is a great part of why we are now facing a backlog of some 70,000 bad accounts worth $60 million.

As the years have gone by many of the business firms on that list went out of business, changed their names or moved to new locations. Many of them are gone forever—and with them they took all the money their customers had paid in sales tax.

Letting delinquencies pile up month after month and year after year certainly cost the state and our cities millions of dollars—and it really didn't do any favor for the merchants involved either. It's wrong to give a person enough rope to hang themselves when you could just as easily stop the trouble when it starts.

This early pinpointing of problem cases will also give us an opportunity to require bonds or security deposits on shaky accounts as future protection.

But despite these new efforts we know human nature well enough to know that there will always be some people who just won't cooperate with us and comply with the law.

In those cases we will have no alternative but to freeze their bank accounts, shut down the business and auction off the property.

I have a sign in my office which says "there are no small taxpayers". By the same token, there are no small delinquents.

Pete Stracner has returned home from Methodist Hospital, Lubbock. Stracner was injured during the Abernathy-Slaton football game last week.

Although promoting the producer is customary fare for this column, seeing farmers get "good press" from one of the country's financial magazines is refreshing. In the July issue of FORTUNE, a major article compliments today's farmer as being a talented businessman. In part the article says, "... a farmer must be a tolerably good chemist, mechanic, market analyst and cost accountant... must be able to judge when to sell his crops, when to hold back, and when to hedge with futures contracts, requiring not only a deep understanding of the commodities markets, but also a grasp of U. S. economic policies at home and abroad." When talking about management ability... "When it comes to managerial skill, a first-rate farmer can hold his own with businessmen in industry." In short the article states what a lot of us have realized for a long time... a successful farmer or rancher means being a true professional.

4-H Donors Invest In Youth

CHICAGO—"It makes more sense to invest $1,000 in preparing a youth for life than it does to have to spend $20,000 to reclaim that same youth if he or she gets into trouble," says Henry H. Coords, president of Fisher-Price Company.

"I have seen, for a relatively small investment by private donors, a wealth of positive growth opportunities made possible through 4-H for youth who really need them," Coords says.

Nearly 60 businesses, corporations and foundations are investing in young people this year through the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago. Their support affects the lives of 7.2 million boys and girls from 9 to 19 who participate in 4-H projects and activities nationwide.

Multi-faceted support

Private sector support for 4-H, the youth education program of the Cooperative Extension Service, takes many forms. It may mean recognizing the individual achievements of 4-H members through funds for scholarships and a variety of awards and educational trips. Or it can involve financial and technical assistance in leadership training, program development, and the preparation of instructional materials.

A number of private donors provide a full schedule of awards—medals of honor, expense-paid trips to National 4-H Congress, and college scholarships—to outstanding 4-H members in certain programs. Among them are Ford Motor Company Fund, achievement program; Standard Brands Incorporated, bread program; and Insurance Company of North America, dairy program.

Others include Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corp., food preservation; International Paper Company, forestry; Westinghouse Electric Corporation, electric; and Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc., dress revue.

Six 4-H sponsors who donate college scholarships for study in specific fields are: DeKalb AgResearch, Inc., agribusiness; Alpha Gamma Rho Educational Foundation, agriculture; Allied Mills, Inc., animal science; Chevron

Chemical Company, Ortho Division, food production, Homelite, a Division of Textron Inc., forestry; and Champion Valley Farms, Inc., Recipe Division, veterinary medicine.

Special national programs

New for 1975 is a special national program sponsored by UOP (Universal Oil Products) that provides funds for leader training and grants to selected states for the development of model environmental improvement programs.

Another special program underwritten by Elanco Products Company, A Division of Eli Lilly and Company, offers U.S. Savings Bonds to 10 high scorers in the National 4-H Livestock Judging Contest. And Elgin Watch Company makes nine watches available to winners in three 4-H events: the National Livestock and Poultry Judging Contests and the Junior Poultry Fact Finding Conference.

ABERNATHY JUNIOR HIGH TWIRLERS TAKE FIRST PLACE IN CONTEST

Abernathy Junior High School twirlers came Home last Saturday with top honors in the Junior Division, Dance Team Competition at the South Plains Fair Twirling Festival.

The junior high twirlers, competing against nine other junior division groups from over the area, were rated top by judges for their variety, smoothness, appearance, precision in twirling and the general effects of their performance. Points were deducted for the number of dropped batons in each performance.

Twirlers for the 1975-76 school term at AJHS are Kim Grant, head twirler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary D. Grant; Sherri Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delton Stone; Micki Corning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Corning; Rosie Torres, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Torres; and Tracy Bradley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Bradley.

T. E. L. Class Meets With Mrs. O'Neill

Mrs. Eunice O'Neill entertained members of the T. E. L. Sunday School Class of First Baptist Church in her home earlier this month.

Following a short business session, the group enjoyed homemade cake and punch prepared by the hostess, and sang the class theme song, "Amazing Grace".

The group then enjoyed an "old fashioned" sing-along joining together in selections from an old Hymnal belonging to the hostess.

Several members were unable to attend the meeting due to illness. Those present were Mrs. Maude Givens, Bessie Oliver, Olga Higginbotham, Mrs. Grimsley, Lizzie Lebow and the hostess.

The class' next meeting will be with Lizzie Lebow on the second Friday of October.

FORMER TEACHER HONORED IN PLAINVIEW

Mrs. Elizabeth Grady, director of elementary curriculum since 1957 in the Plainview schools was honored at half-time last Friday night at the Plainview-Amarillo football game. Mrs. Grady will be retiring at the close of the 1975-76 school term. She went to Plainview in 1955.

Mrs. Grady was a teacher in the Abernathy Schools before moving to Plainview. Her husband Carleton Grady is owner of the Cotton Center Spraying Co., they have one married daughter, Carol Ann, who went to school here in elementary. She has two sons.

God's most important work is in our hearts.

Texas Taxes

By BOB BULLOCK, State Comptroller

Austin--Any business firm failing to send in its sales tax money fully on time can now expect a knock on the door within 15 days after the due date.

This is a new system for the Comptroller's Department which will significantly cut down future sales tax delinquencies.

It will nip them in the bud by getting enforcement started while the amount in most cases is still small enough for the merchant to settle up.

Most merchants who collect the sales tax send in their returns on a quarterly basis. As these returns go through our computers we can identify those coming in with no money or with less than they owe.

The computer can also identify those sales tax permits holders who fail to file.

In our new system those computer lists will be sent to our field offices and our field personnel will immediately visit these business firms.

It is absolutely unbelievable that before this year the field offices were never given current lists of delinquent accounts in their area. This is a great part of why we are now facing a backlog of some 70,000 bad accounts worth $60 million.

As the years have gone by many of the business firms on that list went out of business, changed their names or moved to new locations. Many of them are gone forever--and with them they took all the money their customers had paid in sales tax.

Letting delinquencies pile up month after month and year after year certainly cost the state and our cities millions of dollars--and it really didn't do any favor for the merchants involved either. It's wrong to give a person enough rope to hang themselves when you could just as easily stop the trouble when it starts.

This early pinpointing of problem cases will also give us an opportunity to require bonds or security deposits on shaky accounts as future protection.

But despite these new efforts we know human nature well enough to know that there will always be some people who just won't cooperate with us and comply with the law.

In those cases we will have no alternative but to freeze their bank accounts, shut down the business and auction off the property.

I have a sign in my office which says "there are no small taxpayers". By the same token, there are no small delinquents.

Pete Stracner has returned home from Methodist Hospital, Lubbock. Stracner was injured during the Abernathy-Slaton football game last week.

TEXAS TALK

By Harold Thompson

Although promoting the producer is customary fare for this column, seeing farmers get "good press" from one of the country's financial magazines is refreshing. In the July issue of FORTUNE, a major article compliments today's farmer as being a talented businessman. In part the article says, "... a farmer must be a tolerably good chemist, mechanic, market analyst and cost accountant ... must be able to judge when to sell his crops, when to hold back, and when to hedge with futures contracts, requiring not only a deep understanding of the commodities markets, but also a grasp of U. S. economic policies at home and abroad."

When talking about management ability ... "When it comes to managerial skill, a first-rate farmer can hold his own with businessmen in industry." In short the article states what a lot of us have realized for a long time ... a successful farmer or rancher means being a true professional!

4-H Donors Invest In Youth

CHICAGO--"It makes more sense to invest $1,000 in preparing a youth for life than it does to have to spend $20,000 to reclaim that same youth if he or she gets into trouble," says Henry H. Coords, president of Fisher-Price Company.

"I have seen, for a relatively small investment by private donors, a wealth of positive growth opportunities made possible through 4-H for youth who really need them," Coords says.

Nearly 60 businesses, corporations and foundations are investing in young people this year through the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago. Their support affects the lives of 7.2 million boys and girls from 9 to 19 who participate in 4-H projects and activities nationwide.

Multi-faceted support Private sector support for 4-H, the youth education program of the Cooperative Extension Service, takes many forms. It may mean recognizing the individual achievements of 4-H members through funds for scholarships and a variety of awards and educational trips. Or it can involve financial and technical assistance in leadership training, program development, and the preparation of instructional materials.

A number of private donors provide a full schedule of awards--medals of honor, expense-paid trips to National 4-H Congress, and college scholarships--to outstanding 4-H members in certain programs. Among them are Ford Motor Company Fund, achievement program; Standard Brands Incorporated, bread program; and Insurance Company of North America, dairy program.

Others include Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corp., food preservation; International Paper Company, forestry; Westinghouse Electric Corporation, electric; and Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc., dress revue.

Six 4-H sponsors who donate college scholarships for study in specific fields are: DeKalb AgResearch, Inc., agribusiness; Alpha Gamma Rho Educational Foundation, agriculture; Allied Mills, Inc., animal science; Chevron

Chemical Company, Ortho Division, food production; Homelite, a Division of Textron Inc., forestry; and Champion Valley Farms, Inc., Recipe Division, veterinary medicine.

Special national programs New for 1975 is a special national program sponsored by UOP (Universal Oil Products) that provides funds for leader training and grants to selected states for the development of model environmental improvement programs.

Another special program underwritten by Elanco Products Company, A Division of Eli Lilly and Company, offers U.S. Savings Bonds to 10 high scorers in the National 4-H Livestock Judging Contest. And Elgin Watch Company makes nine watches available to winners in three 4-H events: the National Livestock and Poultry Judging Contests and the Junior Poultry Fact Finding Conference.

The Conrad Hilton Hotel, Chicago, sponsors Report to the Nation, an activity that gives young people a chance to represent 4-H at events across the country and on radio and television.

A training course plus literature on the care and use of sewing machines is offered by The Singer Company to 4-H leaders and members.

4-H'ers gain practical skills in learn-by-doing projects that encourage leadership and responsible citizenship. Information on 4-H programs is available from county extension agents.

"4-H-'76... Spirit of Tomorrow"

America's bicentennial period, which begins this year and extends into the 1980's, is an appropriate point in time to pause and reflect on our history, assess where we stand today, and look ahead to new horizons.

More than 7 million young people across the country are doing just that during National 4-H Week, Oct. 5-11, and throughout the coming year. In special observances keyed to the theme, "4-H-'76... Spirit of Tomorrow," they'll be taking a close look at 4-H past, present and future.

4-H'ers have a proud heritage. The movement that became 4-H began around the turn of the century and grew out of a need to make education more practical and interesting to farm youth. The first 4-H projects—corn clubs for boys and canning clubs for girls—offered enriching, real-life learning experiences not provided by rural schools of the era.

Projects have changed through the years as the faces of 4-H'ers have changed. But the basic "learn by doing" concept still holds and has wide appeal. Today's 4-H members take part in activities that range from animal care to environmental improvement to photography and bicycle care and safety. Although 4-H continues to serve the needs of rural youth, it has also proved viable in the cities: 17 per cent of 4-H members live in large urban and suburban areas. And 4-H'ers come from all racial, ethnic and socio-economic backgrounds.

By encouraging high standards and the setting of meaningful goals, 4-H lays a broad and firm base for a lifetime of personal growth. As today's youth grow to adulthood, they will face a world unlike the one most of us grew up in. There will be more people and fewer resources. And there will be vital issues in government that call for wise decision-making.

In challenging young people to Make the Best Better, the head-heart-hands-health program prepares them to assume the responsibilities of adulthood in a changing society. We salute 4-H members, their parents, volunteer leaders, and the Cooperative Extension Service professionals who conduct the 4-H program. Their efforts, combined with the endorsement and support of private business, make 4-H a dynamic organization that promises to be as responsive to the needs of youth tomorrow as it is today.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER
By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

A contractor visited the Studio of The Sower. He was impressed with the workmanship. As he was about to leave, he asked, "Where can I find a good finisher?" "Allow me to write a name and address on this card," I replied. "Please do," he urged.

Imagine his surprise when he read, "Psalm 138:8. 'The Lord will perfect that which concerns me!'"

The Lord never begins anything that He cannot finish. His calculations are always right. He is free from all limitations that might leave a project half-done. He knows the need of the "finishing touch." He is able to do it, and He delights in it.

One who was acquainted with this "Finisher" wrote, "I am sure that God Who began the good work within you will keep right on helping you grow in grace until His task within you is finally finished on that day when Jesus Christ returns."

The Lord's creating hands formed your soul at the beginning. His nail-pierced hands redeemed your soul at Calvary. And His glorified hands will finish the work He started in you.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Parks of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Harrison of Easton, Maryland visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buford Davenport Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Lopez and Jeffery of Cheyenne, Wyo visited his parents Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lopez, Sr.
