Myrna Davis Heads "Kiss A Baby" Project

"Little more than a decade ago the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation was working to keep C/F youngsters alive long enough to start school. Now we are trying to help some of these same patients, who have grown to young adulthood, enter college or find jobs."

"These encouraging words came from Mrs. Ralph Davis, Abernathy, Texas, as she accepted the chairmanship of the 1976 "Kiss A Baby Campaign."

"Longevity has increased every year because of earlier diagnosis and progress on research and cure," said our chairman. "It is efforts such as these that we support by volunteering for and contributing to the Kiss A Baby Campaign." This year's campaign begins with a Door-to-Door march in September. When a C/F marcher knocks on your door, give as generously as you are able," she said. Remember that even today, with the improvements in research and care have brought, there is no cure for this inherited, genetic disease. It is still destroying lungs, digestion and lives."

Among the programs of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation are support for over 100 Cystic Fibrosis Centers across the nation. "These Centers provide diagnosis, treatment and referral to children who have these lung-damaging diseases as well as those who suffer from gastrointestinal disorders related to cystic fibrosis," the campaign chairman said. "In Texas there are clinics at San Antonio, Houston and Dallas."

The Foundation also funds research to find a cure and control for cystic fibrosis, the most serious of these lung-damaging diseases, and to develop better treatments for children suffering from all disorders.

"The treatments that prolong the lives of children with cystic fibrosis also alleviate, and often cure, children with other lung-damaging diseases," she added.

Cystic Fibrosis, the number one genetic killer of children affects one out of every 1,500 babies born each year and occurs when a child inherits two genes for the disease, one from each parent.

Other 1976-77 winners were from Amarillo, Dumas, Perryton, Houston, Pampa, Carrizo Springs and Fort Worth.

The scholarship selection committee included Dr. Lloyd Watkins, president of West Texas State University; Charles Lutz, president of Amarillo College; and Gene Edwards, president of The First National Bank of Amarillo.

Wright was Salutatorian of the Abernathy High School Class of 1976.

NEW CERAMICS BUSINESS IN TOWN

One of the most recent additions to the Abernathy business community, "The Ceramic Peoples," located at 718 Ave. C, is primarily a wholesale business, according to owner-manager Randy Peoples, who says the firm distributes ceramic supplies and accessories to buyers over a three-state area.

The business, new to Abernathy, recently opened here in the building which formerly housed the larger part of the Scott Furniture and Appliance store.

According to Peoples, who owns and operates the firm along with his wife, Diane, "The Ceramic Peoples" supplies ceramic supplies to dealers located from the Oklahoma panhandle and Albuquerque, New Mexico, to the Midland-Odessa, Wichita Falls area, where most of its business is concentrated. Dissatisfied with the big company policies of the large firm which employed him in Scottsdale, Arizona, Peoples said he decided to establish his own business and "be his own boss." He purchased "The Ceramic Peoples" from his father, who owned and operated the business for four years in New Deal, Texas.

The Peoples and their two children, a boy and a girl, made their residence in Abernathy in June of 1976, and located their business here after considering locations in Lubbock, as well as in Abernathy.

The staff of the new business includes Peoples' aunt, Mrs. Pete Peoples of New Deal, and Danny Chronister, also a new Abernathy resident who moved here with his wife, Sharla, and their two children from Abilene, Texas. Peoples' wife, Diane, works part time in the store.

Among the items stocked by the firm are paints, molds, brushes, kilns, and, according to Peoples, everything else necessary for the ceramics hobby.

Thefts At Two Local Stores

Local police continue to investigate the recent theft and attempted theft of two Abernathy businesses, which resulted, in one case, in the loss of almost $1200 worth of merchandise.

On Friday, July 16, Lanny and Cliff Newton, of Newton Radio and TV, 310 Main Street, discovered that three color television sets were missing from their store. The television sets had been stored in a second floor storage room reached by stairs located near the rear entrance of the store.

Lanny Newton reported that he had stored five sets, still in the shipping crates, in the room on Friday, July 9. The three sets discovered to be missing were all RCA portable color TV's with 15-inch screens, valued at $399 each, retail.

According to Newton, the sets were apparently taken by a thief or thieves who entered the store through the back door during "broad daylight," since the rear entrance is always kept locked at night.

Newton speculated that perhaps a group of thieves worked as a team and had one of their number pretend to be a customer in order to keep Mrs. Cliff Newton, who was working in the store at the time, occupied while the other members of the "team" removed the sets from the store.

He added that the theft could have possibly taken place on Wednesday, July 14, while his mother was alone in the store.

Since the three sets could have been stolen anytime between July 9 and July 16, the thief or thieves may or may not have been connected with the youth seen taking merchandise from Hoppy's Shop the following Tuesday.

NOTICE

The Community Youth Choir is now working on the musical drama "Joy". It will be presented on Sunday August 15. It is under the direction of Kipp Burnett Baptist youth director, and Marty Cash, Methodist youth director.

Mrs. Eisel Vecchio and children of Rio Grande City, Texas have been here visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Perez during July.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Stave-nagen of Montebello, Calif. visited in the home of his aunt Mrs. Dewey Price recently.

Men's Shop occurred at approximately 9:30 Tuesday morning, July 20, while store manager Woody Parker was working in the store.

Parker stated that someone entering the store through the alley entrance reported seeing a tall, slender Mexican-American youth with long hair leaving the store through the rear door, carrying what appeared to be four boxes of boots.

Parker went out the rear entrance of the store and looked up and down the alley, but could see nothing suspicious. He returned and told an assistant that he was going to drive around and see if he could see any "unusual activity" in the vicinity of the store.

When Parker returned after finding no evidence of any suspicious activity, he received a telephone call from Mrs. Alice Pace at the Abernathy Neighborhood Center, who asked if Parker had left any boot boxes in the alley behind the center.

Parker said no, but that he was missing some boots. Upon checking the alleyway behind the Neighborhood Center, Parker discovered four boxes of boots, which the thief had apparently left in some bushes there while making his escape.

The boots were valued at approximately $125 per pair. Parker said that he had been to and from the area where they were stored several times during that morning, and that the thief apparently entered the store through the rear door, and waited until Parker was busy before removing the four boxes of boots from the store.

Abernathy police chief Charles Coats reported that local authorities are working on several leads in the two cases.

Local Girl Scouts Attend Rio Camp

As summer camping activities draw to a close at Camp Rio Blanco, Caprock Council's established Girl Scout camp near Crosbyton, many area youngsters are returning home with fond memories of sunny days spent having fun and learning about nature in the canyonland along the White River. Camp Rio Blanco, serving Caprock Council's 18-county area, was the site this summer of four camping sessions for both Scouts and non-Scouts which featured swimming, hiking, cooking out, snorkeling, nature study, archery, and other outdoor activities. Interesting aspects of Rio Blanco's facilities are the covered wagons in which the girls may stay, the tree house where the girls sometimes sleep overnight, and the beautiful two-story Bridwell Lodge where the girls attend special programs and take their meals.

Six local girls participated in Caprock Council's established camp program this summer. They were: Kristy Thompson, Laura Waits, Dinah Neve, Julie Torres, Jessica Bastillo, and Lois Lindsey.

'75 Livestock Statistics Available

AUSTIN—The 1975 Texas Livestock Statistics book has been published, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced.

"The book presents up-to-date county estimates for cattle, hogs, sheep and goats on ranches and farms," White said.

Information such as imports and exports of cattle and calves into and out of the state, receipts of livestock at Texas auction markets and consumption of red meats is also contained in the book.

A free copy of 1975 Texas Livestock Statistics may be obtained by writing Commissioner John C. White, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

NGC---Texas Press Association makes available to member newspaper a feature showing what Texas newsmen were writing about in 1876. One from the Castorville newspaper a 100 years ago described problems of barking and howling dogs. And, in the same story, it mentioned the town's worry with roving geese. Also, for the week August 6-12, 1876, news stories were about a drouth in the Corpus Christi area. From Dallas, in 1876, was a description of the public hanging in Dallas of a man convicted of rape. An estimated crowd of 10,000 persons witnessed the execution. "A hand playing a lively air led the crowd to the gallows." And, "great praise is bestowed on Sheriff Moon for the efficient manner in which he performed the task." From Fort Worth in 1876: "The useless waste of money on weddings and funerals calls for reform. Extravagance makes young men dread marriage and death. "And, swift justice was mentioned in an 1876 news story from New Braunfels: "The murderer of Miss Emma Voelcker was shot dead Saturday night through the window of the court house by an unknown person in the presence of 40 men as a guard. From a Rusk County newspaper, in 1876: "Capt. C.B. Richardson is a model farmer in this county. He lives within his income, makes all the necessities of life at home and owes no man a dollar." And, from Bastrop in 1876: "Mayor Willis of Bastrop collected $40.00 in one week from people of the town for profane swearing on the public streets. "This prolific source of revenue is too much neglected."

NGC---The public hanging of a convicted rapist in Dallas in 1876, brings to mind the way Fidel Castro's laws deal with rapists and murderers in 1976, now, in Cuba. They go before firing squads. Victims of rape occasionally are allowed to be members of the firing squads.

NGC---Usually, the World Championship Chili Cookoff is held the first Saturday in November in the Big Bend Country ghost town of Terlingua. The annual event this year has been changed to October 16. The weather in early November most always is perfect there, but first storms of the season usually come about then in other sections of the country. The chili cookoff draws thousands of people from all over the country, many flying in planes small enough to land at Terlingua. The flyers asked for the October date, hoping that they will have good weather to fly through to reach Terlingua.

NGC---Among relics we saw at Ashton Villa on our trip to Galveston in April was a wild oats separator, an antique machine that stands about 36 inches tall, is about 48 inches long and 24 inches across. I suppose it was used to separate wild oats from other grains. And, all the time, I thought that the only "wild oats" were those sown by the "rounders" in their youth.

NGC---I'm not one to knock progress...but, sometimes progress has its pitfalls. I refer to the automatic bank transactions machines that can dole out cash to depositors 24 hours a day. As mean as Lubbock is getting, if I had money in either of the two banks, I would be afraid to withdraw cash at night... unless I had an escort of four police men while withdrawing the cash and upon departing the bank's premises. Watch for an increase in incidences of the old "pigeon drop" ripoff. Persons who are potential victims of the swindle might be less likely to withdraw big sums of money if they had to go to a bank teller window or a bank official. With the automatic machines, no bank personnel would know how much they had withdrawn until the computer did its work later. A bank vice president in Dallas described the "pigeon drop" swindle method to an elderly lady depositor who came to his desk to withdraw $3,500.00. No bank can refuse a depositor's request of withdrawal, but the Dallas bank VP sent another employee of the bank to follow the elderly lady and a younger man. The bank man lost them in traffic. By the time the bank employee arrived at the elderly lady's home, the "pigeon drop" swindler had just departed with the $3,500.00 she had withdrawn from the bank. Tragic, but true, con men tend to victimize the elderly, who in most cases, are the least financially able to lose large sums of money.

NGC---Texas State Securities Board sends a warning to farmers and others to be "on the lookout for a possible swindle in newly-formed farmers' cooperative associations." If you are contacted, and before you make any commitment, discuss this with someone knowledgeable concerning the cooperative concept, including the five area co-op managers, Dub Royal, Leland Phillips, Delton Stone, Ted Major or John McNew. Seems there's always some city slicker trying to gyp the farmers. The above mentioned men are not city slickers. They are your friends and neighbors. The con men have not kept abreast of agri-business. They still have the concept of a farmer as being a straw-chewing easy target for skin games. That may be true of a few, just as in all other occupations. Today, the farmer is educated either by college or hard experience. He is a shrewd businessman... he has to survive. He knows what is going on in the world through the mass media of daily newspapers, radio and TV. There was a time that the only thing he knew of world happenings was through his hometown weekly newspaper or the Semi-Weekly Farm News from Dallas. (YOUR hometown weekly does not try to cover world news, but we do the best we can on community and area news.)

NGC---The end of an era is at hand. Rumors are that the building that housed Tuco power plant eventually will be torn down. Some of the generating equipment has been sold, with part of it going to foreign countries. Tuco started operations sometime in the early 30s. Prior to World War Two, people of the community had easy access to the green lawn and could roam through the plant to watch operations. The spacious, well-kept grounds were occasionally used by groups of picnickers. The need for tight security during the war spelled an end of socializing there. As someone once said, "there's nothing constant but change." And, Tuco is the changing scene...and, dwindling ground water supply was the root of the change.

JOE THOMPSON IMPLEMENT CO.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
 Attorney General

AUSTIN—Our Consumer Protection and Insurance, Banking, and Securities Divisions, along with the State Securities Board, which our office represents in litigation, have moved successfully to stop fraudulent Schedule "D" offerings to potential investors in oil and gas well drilling ventures in Texas.

But there are other ways in which inexperienced investors may be approached by unscrupulous promoters offering a chance to "make a killing" by investing in drilling ventures.

One area which some former fraudulent Schedule "D" offerors are reportedly moving into is the "private offering" of an investment opportunity, since a "private offering" does not have to be registered with either the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission or the State Securities Board.

A legitimate private offering must meet certain criteria: there must be no public solicitation of investors; there must be no more than 35 investors; there must be some "relationship of trust" between the investors and the offeror (for example, all might be relatives or friends of the offeror); and generally the investors must be relatively sophisticated about investment matters.

Our office is studying reports that some former Schedule "D" operators are misusing the "private offering" exemption in much the same way Schedule "D" was being misused.

Another method by which some unscrupulous former Schedule "D" operators are reported to be continuing their efforts to obtain money from investors is the federal oil and gas lease lottery business, or the "simultaneous offering" as it is officially designated.

The federal government each month offers oil and gas leases on government-owned land through a lottery system operating in 11 cities (none of which is in Texas). Participants pay a $10 fee and agree if they win to pay the first year's rent of 50 cents per acre on the lease within 15 days after the lottery. Lottery winners hope to sell drilling rights on the land to oil and gas companies and reap a percentage of any production.

There are many reputable individuals and service companies that assist persons wishing to participate in these lotteries. Their services usually include helping the layman decide which lease lottery is a likely prospect, filing for that lottery on behalf of the investor, arranging to resell the lease if the investor later desires, and sometimes paying the first year's rent within the 15 days for lottery winners. For their services, these promoters and service companies get a fee that may range from $20 up to several thousands of dollars.

Our attorneys point out that unscrupulous promoters and service companies may recommend leases that have little prospect of oil and gas production, they may try to purchase a winner's lease rights for less than they are worth, and some companies have been charged with mail fraud in connection with the lotteries.

They also caution that even when you deal with reputable promoters your chance of winning a lottery is very small, and there's a good possibility that if you win, you could get stuck with a lease on land that is worthless for drilling.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Johnnie Rundell of Farwell. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. L.G. Montgomery of Abernathy.

The altar was centered with a large bouquet of yellow gladioli, mint green fuji mums and large marguerite daisies with gold altar cross and candles. On each side was a spiral candelabrum holding yellow tapers with plumosa fern trailing and accented at bottom with jade greenery and large mint green bows. Family pews were marked by large mint bows and accented by small bouquets of yellow daisies and greenery.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Billy Sides, organist. Lynn Blankenship was the soloist. Songs included "Wedding Song" and "Hold My Hand" which was sung at the close of the ceremony as the couple lit a memory candle.

The large white candle was accented in the bride's colors with yellow silk roses and mint green daisies. On each side was a yellow taper surrounded by greenery.

Given in marriage by her uncle, David White of Farwell, the bride wore a gown of jersey designed with a closely fitted high neckline. Alencon lace formed an insert which enhanced the fitted bodice. Cuffs trimmed in lace adorned her full length sleeves.

The A-line skirt fell unadorned to the hemline which swept to back fullness and cascaded into a full chapel train. The double tiered bridal veil of silk illusion was edged with lace, and fell from a matching camelot style cap. She carried a bouquet of yellow bridal roses, white daisies touched with green centers, stephanotis and baby's breath atop a white Bible.

Following tradition, the bride for something new, her dress and veil; something old was the gold bracelet belonging to her paternal grandmother, Mrs. Zula Rundell; the cameo necklace was borrowed from her mother (it was a gift from the bride's father, the late M.G. Rundell); and she wore a blue garter given to her by her matron of honor.

Mrs. Tina Sides of Farwell served her sister as matron of honor. Gay Rundell of Farwell, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid. The flower girl was Dana White of Farwell, cousin of the bride. The bridal attendants wore mint green full length gowns of woven cotton, styled with square necklines, three-tiered skirts and full length puffed sleeves. Lace trimmed the waists, necklines, sleeves and each tier. They wore yellow hats and carried small bouquets of yellow daisies accented with lemonleaves and yellow streamers. The flower girl wore a full length yellow gown of similar design and carried a basket of rose and daisy petals.

The best man was Burt Montgomery of Henrietta, Tex., brother of the bridegroom. Norman Fox of Junction, Tex., was the groomsman. Candlelighters were Jack Foster and Kenny White, both of Farwell, cousins of the bride. Ushers were James Sides of Farwell, brother-in-law of the bride, Doyle Albrecht and Doug Albrecht, both of Abernathy, brothers of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Rundell chose a floor length dress of natural beige India cloth featuring a square neckline and tiered skirt trimmed in beige and brown lace. She wore a corsage of yellow roses and mint green carnations accented with pearls. Mrs. Montgomery was attired in a full length green knit gown featuring an A-line skirt, v-neckline, with a sheer chiffon cape of green and blue floral. She wore a corsage of mint green carnations adorned by yellow stephanotis and lily-of-the-valley.

The reception was held in the church fellowship hall. The bride's table was covered with a yellow satin floor length cloth accented with green net and yellow and green daisies. The bridal bouquet and two green tapers in crystal holders centered the table. Four crystal columns separated the layers of the three-tiered wedding cake made by Mrs. Wilma Barnes. Tiny yellow hearts and flowers decorated the cake. Two love doves adorned the bottom tier and a basket of yellow miniature roses rested on the second layer. Heart trimmed bridal bells adorned the top of the cake. Punch was served from a crystal punch bowl. Servers included Kathy White of Farwell, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Shelley Montgomery of Henrietta, sister-in-law of the bridegroom.

The bridegroom's table was covered with a brown dotted cloth accented with green tapers and a bouquet of white daisies. Coffee and chocolate cake were served from silver appointments. Serving at the table were Susie Montgomery and Martha Montgomery of Abernathy, sisters of the groom.

Rice bags and scrolls were given to the guests by Cindy Dale and Rhonda Dale, cousins of the bride. Mrs. Bobby De Foster registered guests. Members of the houseparty included Mrs. Wayne Foster, Cyrus Dale, David White, Myron Hillock, Robert White, Melborn Jones and Larry Jones.

For a wedding trip to various points in New Mexico, the bride chose a pink double knit pant suit with a floral jacket. She wore a corsage of pink daisies.

The couple will make their home in Farwell.

A pre-nuptial shower honoring the bride was held in Abernathy June 12 in the home of Mrs. Jerry Adams. Hostesses were Mrs. Donald Huffaker, Wayne McClendon, Jerry Adams, Y.F. Snodgrass, Pete Thompson, W.G. Spruiell, Omer Wade, Charles Bowen, Dennis Rhodes, Carl Barton, John Harkey, and J.W. Hamilton. The hostess gift was a game table and chairs.

The bride was honored with a lingerie shower on June 3 in Amarillo at the home of Mrs. Deanna Mashburn. Those attending were the honoree, Gay Rundell, Janis Billingsley, Sandy Garrison, Edna Anderson, Kathy Potter and Rhonda Mashburn.

The parents of the bridegroom hosted a dinner on June 24 for the wedding party and out-of-town guests at the church fellowship hall following the rehearsal.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

When two masked bandits walked into a church service in Maryland they forced the congregation to sing at the top of their voices as they robbed everyone and then made their get-away.

That was one time the "song leaders" received full cooperation from their congregation.

I wonder if the Psalmist could boast of everybody singing when he urged in Psalm 146:1, "Praise the Lord!"

Well, at least, he practiced when he preached. He sang. Not because of any gun, but God. For he went on to say,

"I will praise Him as long as I live, yes, even with my dying breath."

Prayer and praise go in pairs. The people who have prayers also have praise, living and dying.

George Carpenter sang in the fire as he was burned at the stake for his faith in God. He testified, "Let this be a sure sign of my faith and perseverance in the truth, that so long as I am able to hold open my mouth, or to whisper, I will never cease to praise God and to profess His truth."

BRISKET THAT'S "BARBECUED" IN THE OVEN—Tender, juicy, flavorful beef brisket is always a popular summertime entree. The Texas Department of Agriculture home economist suggests serving "Oven Braised Beef Brisket." The meat is marinated overnight in liquid smoke and then baked for several hours at a low temperature. Barbecue sauce added just before the last hour of baking gives just the right touch to the tasty brisket.

from the TAP kitchen

Texas Department of Agriculture John C. White, Commissioner
OVEN BRAISED BEEF BRISKET

- 5-6 lb. boneless beef brisket
- 1 tsp. onion powder
- 1 tsp. garlic powder
- 1 tsp. celery salt
- 1-1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. black pepper
- 1/2 cup liquid smoke
- 1 cup Worcestershire sauce
- 1 cup barbecue sauce

Place brisket in heavy duty aluminum foil and sprinkle on both sides with liquid smoke. Then sprinkle with onion and garlic powders and celery salt. Place in covered container in refrigerator and let marinate overnight (at least 8 hours). Next day, sprinkle both sides with salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Wrap securely in aluminum foil and bake covered at 275 degrees for four hours. Uncover and pour barbecue sauce over the brisket. Cover and bake one hour longer. Cut in 1/2-inch slices and serve with additional barbecue sauce. Can be served hot or cold. Yield: 8 to 10 servings.

For additional beef recipes send a postcard request to Commissioner John C. White, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

FARM SAFETY WEEK

JULY 25 Through JULY 31

It's time to double check precautions, eliminate any farm hazards.

Protect Your Life's Investment: Follow Farm Safety Rules

We all know what the rules are. The thing is to make them a daily habit... set a firm example... and insist that family and farm hands get in the habit, too. No matter how busy you are, nothing is more important than farm security.

Get the rules straight and repeat them until it becomes second nature to everyone. No smoking in buildings! No clowning around with equipment... and no postponing repairs! Correct malfunctions or possible hazards immediately as you spot them. Report any changes in livestock. Make sure that everything on the farm is always in sound shape. Keep on the alert. Your security is at stake.

FARM SAFETY WEEK

JULY 25 Through JULY 31

It's time to double check precautions, eliminate any farm hazards.

Protect Your Life's Investment: Follow Farm Safety Rules

We all know what the rules are. The thing is to make them a daily habit... set a firm example... and insist that family and farm hands get in the habit, too. No matter how busy you are, nothing is more important than farm security.

Get the rules straight and repeat them until it becomes second nature to everyone. No smoking in buildings! No clowning around with equipment... and no postponing repairs! Correct malfunctions or possible hazards immediately as you spot them. Report any changes in livestock. Make sure that everything on the farm is always in sound shape. Keep on the alert. Your security is at stake.
