

Kym Thompson "Miss Wayland"

KIM THOMPSON / MISS WAYLAND IN FT. WORTH FOR "MISS TEXAS" PAGEANT

Story From
WAYLAND PRESS
News Service of
Wayland Baptist College
Plainview, TX (Special)-
"She's the most beautiful girl in the world...and she's my teacher!"
This is what one of more than 200 young gymnastics students of Kym Thompson said of her recently--and it is believed that the youngster spoke the feelings of the rest of his peers and many Plainviewans.
Kym Thompson, in case you are new to the area or for some reason have not heard of Miss Wayland College 1979 and she left for Fort Worth on Friday where she will carry the hopes and best wishes of Plainview and Wayland Baptist College to the Miss Texas Pageant.
The dark haired beauty is a bundle of energy and her sparkling dark brown eyes have an elfish look of mischief. She has charmed numerous civic and service club members during her reign as Miss Wayland.
A talented gymnast, Kym has been unable, because of space, to perform her talent routine for most club meetings and has had to rely on her personality to speak to the groups and to field questions from the floor. Because of her keen mind and quick wit, no one has been disappointed.
"It has been a long time since we have had so lively and enjoyable a meeting," one man said when questioned about Kym's presentation. "She is a real charmer," he added.
It is this natural charm which should see Kym through the personal interview and score points with the judges. She will face the five in a seven minute session on Wednesday morning. Interview is the most important phase of the week long pageant.
But Kym does not rely on her natural charm and beauty to carry her through the grueling week of activities. Since she won the title of Miss Wayland during the two day pageant last October, Kym has been in a constant training program in preparation for the state pageant.
After winning her title from a field of some 20 of the most beautiful and talented candidates on the Wayland campus, Kym began a busier than usual schedule which already was nearly crammed to capacity. In addition to carrying a full academic load at Wayland where she posted a 3.0 average, Kym spent nearly 30 hours a week teaching her budding young gymnasts at Barnyard Academy.

She was taken to Fort Worth where she worked on makeup with the woman who grooms Miss Texas for the Miss America Pageant. She was evaluated by Don Magness, chairman of the board of the Miss Texas Pageant.
In the past eight months, Kym has watched her diet constantly. (As she says, "A second on the lips, forever on the hips!") She has worked out for her gymnastics routine everyday and regularly with her talent coach in Lubbock. She has been taken to visit numerous pageants so that she could view the competition and determine strengths and weaknesses.
There have been modeling sessions, photographic sessions and many hours of shopping nearly every store in Plainview to prepare for the seven days in Fort Worth. All in all, Kym has spent untold hours working in preparation for the big event. Has it been worth it?
"You bet that it has," says the Abernathy native. "I entered the Miss Wayland Pageant because I wanted to win and go to the Miss Texas Pageant and I knew that it would be a lot of work. But since I love to compete, to perform on stage and to meet new people, I have loved it!"
The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Pete Thompson of Abernathy, (her father is mayor there) Kym feels that she will have the unique distinction of representing a wide constituency in Fort Worth including Wayland, Plainview, Abernathy, all of her gymnastic students, her friends, her family, herself and God--"because He gave me my talent and everything that I have."
Of the feeling that she is representing the City of Plainview, Kym says, "These people have been more supportive of me than I could ever dream possible. Everywhere I have been, people have wished me well. The merchants have been more than generous in providing what I feel will be the most beautiful wardrobe in Fort Worth."
She quickly adds, "I feel that everyone has given me a part of their heart and that certainly gives me a warm feeling of responsibility."
Responsibility plays an important part in Kym's training and life. "She certainly is one of the most responsible and dependable Miss Waylands with whom we have ever worked," says Mr. and Mrs. Joe Provence, her manager and copartner. (They will accompany her to Fort Worth just as they have the seven Miss Waylands before her.)

"Kym has been a delightful young woman with whom to work," Provence says. "She has been very conscientious and I know that she will represent all of us well. We call all be very proud of her."
A veteran pageant contestant, Kym has been doing her thing on stage since she was a child. She has been a finalist in the Miss Lubbock pageant her first year out of high school and was last year runner-up to Miss South Plains U. S. A., and third runner-up to Miss Wheatheart of the Nation.
"I know that some people are against pageants," she says, "but I feel that they have strengthened me as a person since I have learned to meet people easily and to develop confidence and a positive attitude."
She quickly adds, "I know that one can be affected by all the attention and spotlight if it goes to her head and makes her still seek the attention when it ends." Many feel that Kym is one of the most down-to-earth, unspoiled and unaffected beauties ever.
"Kym Thompson is just as beautiful in her tennis shoes, sweat suit and headband as she is with makeup and a gorgeous gown," one admirer notes. "She's just Kym anyway you look at her."
She won't be wearing many sweatsuits in Fort Worth this week, though that is just about all that's missing from her extensive wardrobe, much of it about $2500 worth, provided by Plainview merchants.
There are about eight formal gowns, two of them designed especially for her, pantsuits, 11 dresses, four long dresses, three swimsuits, three leotards for talent, and shoes and jewelry to compliment each outfit.

COUNCIL UPHOLDS BUILDING CODE, CONSIDERS TRASH RATE GRIPES

LATE REPORT WRITER'S NOTE: We are sorry to be so late in completing the city council and school board coverage this month but we have been covered up with news and other responsibilities. Abernathy is a busy town with lots going on.

At the city council's June meeting on the 11th, Mrs. H. D. Thomas appealed the city's demolition order on a building she owns at 602 Ave. D. The building is an old service station, vacant since 1963.

The city sent her notice in January that the building does not meet building standards and must be brought up to standards or demolished. Mrs. Thomas said she wasn't able to attend a hearing on her appeal until now.

Mrs. Thomas argued that the building contains too much usable material to be destroyed and that everyone who shows interest in the property wants to add on to the present building. She is afraid demolition of the building will hurt the value of the property. When questioned, she said she had not actively tried to sell the property but had several offers. She asked the council to let her board up the building with plywood and paint the outside, saying she didn't want it to be an eyesore but someone tears up everything she has tried to do to make it look better.

The council repeated its determination to stick with the building code and gave her until July 1 to repair or demolish the structure or sell it to someone who would. They stressed that the same time limit applies no matter who owns the building then. If nothing is done by July 1, the city will demolish the structure August 10 and bill the owner. Failure to obey an order of demolition is a misdemeanor.

Councilmen said they don't want to work a hardship on anyone but are determined to improve the city's appearance by sticking with the code. They are also most concerned about the fuel tanks on the property which present a danger to the community for which both the owner and the city are liable.

Sources available to Mrs. Thomas said the tanks could be filled with sand to save the expense of removal. Councilmen said that also would be expensive and perhaps not completely safe.

They mentioned that, in at least one case, property here sold immediately after a long vacant building on the site was demolished. In their opinion, Mrs. Thomas' property will be much more valuable to her with the building removed because costs of bringing it up to standards, if it can be done at all, will be prohibitive.

Mrs. Thomas accepted their decision.

MORE TRASH
The council had to discuss commercial trash rates again. City Manager Larry Fields had complaints from businesses in the business district who say they need only once a week trash pickup but share containers with businesses who need two. Therefore, they pay the whole commercial rate when the council granted half the commercial rate to businesses which share trash containers with residences and get only once a week pickup.

In discussion, the councilmen pointed out the following things.

Trash pickup is a service to people, not a profit making endeavor for the city.

People complain about the rates but don't realize how much it would cost them to dispose of trash themselves.

The city has to come up with enough revenue to keep the service.

The city will never be able to set a rate that is fair to everyone so must set rates with good reasons behind them and insist that everybody live with them.

After all the work and preparations which have filled her reign as Miss Wayland, would Kym still like to be Miss Texas? "Of course I would love to be Miss Texas--that's the reason I have worked so hard!" Kym explains that "I have learned to withstand pressure and to deal with all types of situations and people and this would help me as Miss Texas. I love to entertain and make people feel good and have a happy day. As Miss Texas, I would have a unique opportunity to do all this all the time."
Her 17 years training in gymnastics and her "dynamic" routine to "Rhapsody in Blue" should make her a strong contender for talent honors at Miss Texas. "Just remember that Miss America this year is a gymnast and look where it got her," Kym says.

Of the other 62 girls from across the state of Texas in the pageant, Kym says, "I just can't let all their beauty and glamour affect me and I must keep up my guard. It is up to me to psyche them out and make them believe that I am the competition--all the time being my sweet angel self," she laughs.
When they see her, the other contestants are sure to know that she is a tough competitor. The people of Plainview already know that she is--and that she is her "sweet angel self!"

STREET PAVING

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Lopez, Jr. and Gloria Torres badly want Avenue A paved and asked the council to give them some idea of the cost per foot of paving. They said the estimate will help them in their efforts to convince less enthusiastic neighbors to go along with a paving project.

City Manager Fields said a safe estimate, based on bids for Pinson Place paving, a $18 per linear foot and offered to figure up each property owner's share of the street. Lopez mentioned that H-Grade City, who owns frontage on the street, expressed interest in cooperating with other property owners to get paving but most homeowners must have a pay out system to come up with their share.

Alderman Harold Thompson suggested that the property owners pay regularly into an escrow account and that next year, when paving crews come to town, if property owners have raised the money, the street can be paved. If not, property owners' money will be refunded.
Lopez asked about an assessment paving program. Fields explained that paving contractors are not willing to finance paving unless at least 50% of the property owners have the money and the city can't afford to either. Mayor Thompson said the city hates to force people to pave. That's why the policy says two thirds of the owners on each block must request it. He said if the city has to stand good for those who can't pay, it can get over-extended pretty quick and have to raise taxes to make up the cost. He also mentioned that people who have Farmers Home Administration loans can get additional loans from FHA for paving.

Mrs. Lopez asked if caliche could be used in the meantime. Fields replied that if property owners can pay for the caliche, the city will spread it. Caliche costs about $15 per yard though and Mrs. Lopez said she'd rather invest the money in pavement. Fields said 135 yards of caliche four inches thick would run about $4 per linear foot.
When Lopez asked Fields about state funds to be spent on caliche, Fields said he'd try to get all he can for the purpose. Lopez said Ave. A is the east side of town's main artery since highway construction cut off any other way to get in or out.

Electric of Lubbock, Leslie Electric of Shallowater, Bill's Electric of Abernathy, Larcon Enterprises of Lubbock, Llano Electric of Lubbock, and Air Top Plumbing, Heating & Air Conditioning of Lubbock, Lockett-Stevens Insulation Co. of Hale Center and Air Top of Lubbock submitted bids for insulation.

The board rejected the only bid on replacement of doors at school from Western Building Specialties Company for $9205. They decided school employees can repair the ones we have. They also rejected bids on a new sound system from Background Music Co. ($15,083.79) and Balco Sound Inc. ($14,962), both of Lubbock. They decided to look at less refined systems, make new specifications, and call for new bids.

BUILDING PLANS

As instructed by the board last month, Herbert Brasher and another architect from his firm presented plans for a multi-use ag/show barn facility located by the football field and a gym located on the site of the present junior high gym. The cost estimates of the projects were nearly two million dollars, twice as high as previous building estimates because, said Brasher, first class gyms cost lots of money.

Some board members said if they put that much money into a nice new gym, it ought to be designated the high school gym. Don McKenzie proposed building a new gym over the floor of the old one but Brasher said that can cause problems. Though the floor is still good in spite of a leaky roof, Dr. Webb said it was not properly installed in the first place.

Richard Howard suggested that the ag facility be built first so the animal holding area can be used as a temporary gym until a new one is built. Jerry Oswald asked if a metal gym could be made to look nice. Brasher mentioned metal gyms in Dumas, Brownfield and Levelland and said it would need a masonry base four or five feet high to protect the metal from dents.

Board President Harrison said he thinks Howard's idea is best--concentrate on the ag building and consider the gym later. McKenzie said they must fix the roof on the old gym or tear it down or something. David Pinson suggested that if they decide to build on only one site, they go larger on the ag center.

The board asked the architect to bring estimates for an all weather track to the next board meeting. The school had to host UIL track meets at Tulla this year for lack of one.
FINANCES
The firm of Bolinger, Gilbert, Seagars, & Moss was reapointed fiscal auditors for the school system. The board also took advantage of a recent ruling by the State Commissioner of Education and added to board policy the option of selecting one or more banks as school depositories.
Small school districts with only one bank have difficulty sometimes fully insuring school funds and are sometimes paid less interest on deposit of large sums. They had to accept the situation before but can now make more advantageous arrangements.

The board granted permission for the school to sell a bus and, because it's the custom to have the July school board meeting the last part of June, set the next meeting for Thursday, June 28 at 8 PM. They also renewed the school's contract with the Region 8 Service Center.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER

By Michael A. Guido, Metter, Georgia

In a race, a small fellow ran faster than his rivals, and won the contest. The coach noticed that his lips were moving throughout the race, and he wondered why.
Taking the victor aside, he asked, "What were you saying when you were running in the race?"
"I was praying, sir. I was praying with all my heart," he answered.
"What were you saying in your prayer?" asked the coach.
Answered the boy, "I was saying, 'Dear Lord, I

TAX MEASURES

The board took two actions concerning taxes which will have no effect if Governor Clements doesn't sign the education finance bill. They voted not to incorporate 89 values in this year's tax roll and reluctantly adopted a resolution to continue to tax cars this year.

Dr. Webb said if the board did not adopt the resolution, the school would not be reimbursed for that revenue by the state. If the measure passes, cars will automatically be exempt next year. Cars seven years old and older are not taxed anyway.

WEBB ENDS TASA TERM
Dr. Webb thanked board members for their support during his term as President of the Texas Association of School Administrators. He said he got a lot out of it.

He requested and the board granted permission to attend TASA meetings June 13-16 and July 22-24 and a State Tax Assessment Practice Board meeting June 25.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT
Dr. Webb reviewed the latest developments in legislation affecting school finance and standards. Nothing was sure at the time but he said the finance bills penalize schools who are doing a good job. He said later that what the public thought was tax relief is only tax roll back and described the results as like taking a dollar bill from one pocket, putting it in the other, and coming up with 45¢.

PERSONNEL
The board accepted the resignations of Gilda Bryant-Biology, and Diane Graham-3rd Grade, and accepted Teresa Lightman and Sandra Waldrop - pre-kindergarten, Clarence Hannel-Jr., High English, Judy Cummings-Tennis Coach, Jan Hill-Title Program, and Marie Riddell-Nurse, for employment.

(Actions on personnel at the April meeting were inadvertently left out of the last school board report. The resignation of Kathy Spawls was accepted and Don Doyle-Junior High, Jane Murray-Elementary, Richard Boyles-C.V.A. E., and Patty Hill-Title I were accepted for employment.)

LONG LATE HOURS
By 1 AM, the board still had to discuss school curriculum and hear reports on the board of equalization, tax collections, lunchroom, and audits but the Review reporter felt she had done her duty and went home to bed. Ask your favorite school board member for a report on the last part of the meeting.

Corrie Ten Boom Film To Be Shown

A new color motion picture honoring the life of Corrie ten Boom will be presented at Nazarene Church (Halford Hall), 511 Ave. E; Abernathy. Entitled CORRIE: THE LIVES SHE'S TOUCHED, the film, produced by World Wide Pictures, will be shown on 8th of July, beginning at 6:15 PM.

Filed in Denver before a live audience of more than 2,000 persons gathered to pay tribute to Corrie's ministry of love and compassion, CORRIE: THE LIVES SHE'S TOUCHED shares in greater detail the events that have taken place in her life.

During World War II, Corrie and her family, residents of Haarlem, Holland, became involved in the Dutch Underground following the invasion of their homeland by Hitler's Nazi forces. They are credited with saving the lives of scores of Jews, by hiding them in a secret room in their home, and by arranging safe passage out of the country. For their effort, they were arrested in a surprise raid, and sent to prison. Corrie was sent to Ravensbrueck Concentration Camp, and is the lone survivor of the immediate family.

Corrie's story has been shared with millions around the world through the book and motion picture, THE HIDING PLACE. A 1975 World Wide Pictures release, THE HIDING PLACE has been dubbed into several foreign languages, and has been well received in England, Holland, and West Germany, as well as throughout the Far East.

CORRIE: THE LIVES SHE'S TOUCHED, is hosted by Cliff Barrows of the Billy Graham Evangelistic Team, and features a number of surprise guests from Corrie's past, including her nephew, Peter van Woerden, who, as a youth, was also involved in the work of the Underground, and Diet Ehrlieh, who was in the concentration camp with Corrie.

Other guests on the program included Jeannette Cliff, the actress who portrayed Corrie in THE HIDING PLACE, and Tom Claus, an American Indian Chief who inducted Corrie into his tribe as an honorary member.

Music is featured throughout the one-hour program by Evie Tornquist, George Beverly Shea, the Bill Gaither Trio, and by Tedd Smith, pianist and composer of the film score for THE HIDING PLACE.

According to the Reverend Rowell Brunner, pastor of the Nazarene Church, the showing is free and open to the public.

4-H'ers Take Part In Leadership Training

LEVELLAND--Six young selected 4-H members from Hale County were among the nearly 200 4-H club members who participated in a three-day district teen leadership lab here Tuesday-Thursday (June 19-21).

The annual workshop for selected 4-H members was held on the campus of South Plains College, Naomi Wheeler, Assistant County Extension Agent, said.

Adult leaders, Extension specialists and a team of older youths conducted the learning experiences for the 4-H'ers attending the lab. Participants took part in a variety of activities, from group learning and discussion sessions to game tournaments and special morning and evening ceremonies.

Training focused on teaching teen leaders to help others learn new recreational activities. Time for fun and relaxation provided the participants with the opportunity to make new friends.

The annual leader lab helps 4-H youths develop skills in working with younger club members, broaden their friendships and strengthen their leadership abilities.

Four-H is a year-round program of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service which is open to all youths.

TURNING WITH THE WIND

FOR PROSPECTIVE PROSPECTORS!
Join the ranks and enjoy the results! Help us to find folklore treasures!

What are folklore treasures? Folklore treasures are stories, games, songs, dances, recipes, superstitions, cures for various ailments, arts, crafts, old sayings or bits of old fashioned wisdom, and riddles, jokes, and customs which have been handed down from one generation to another.

Where can I find folklore treasures? Folklore treasures are "hidden" in easy reach; they appear in many forms in our everyday lives. We only need to open our eyes and ears to the treasures that are all around us. You will probably find some of these treasures in your own family. Ask your grandparents to tell you stories that they remember from their childhood. Ask your parents, grandparents, and friends to tell you jokes, riddles, and superstitions they remember. Write these stories and other treasures which you have discovered, and share them with the library by writing them in the PROSPECTOR'S NOTEBOOK. Be sure to write your name and address, the name of the person who told you this story, and the date under the treasures you share.

INTER-LIBRARY LOAN:
You can't "hide an elephant under your armpit" but you can get all the books, magazine articles and government documents you want from Inter-Library Loan and your local public library.

Inter-Library Loan was developed because realistically no one library can contain all the materials its patrons might ever need. "But," you ask, "what does Inter-Library Loan really mean? Very simply it is the loaning of books and materials among libraries to give you access to the resources of all major libraries in Texas. The flow chart shows how the service works.

Some people are hesitant about asking their librarians "to go to all that trouble" just to find a book they'd like to read. Librarians are trained to do just that--find materials for people.

Librarians are not only eager for your requests but they are diligent in their search to fill those requests. They will try every possible means of finding the materials you need. Because that takes time, you should try to plan ahead. If you know you're going to need materials by a certain date, get your request in early to the library. The more time they have--the better job they can do for you.

Maybe you still don't know how to hide an elephant under your armpit but you do know where to get all the books and materials you'll ever need on elephants or anything else--Inter-Library Loan And Your Local Public Library!

RABIES THREAT

RABIES THREAT
Cases of rabies in animals are on the increase in Texas. As of mid-June, 1979, there have been over 540 confirmed cases of rabies in animals. This is about 85% above the number found rabid in the same period in 1978, and is far above the expected number. The Texas Department of Health strongly suggests that the owners of cats and dogs in this area vaccinate them against rabies, prevent them from roaming, and report stray animals to city or county authorities.

Be thou exalted, O God, above the heavens: and thy glory above all the earth; Psalm 108:3,4,5
