Abernathy Weekly Review Adopts New Hours

With the change of ownership, the Abernathy Review has adopted new hours.

We will be open Monday through Thursday from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. The deadline will remain the same at 4:00 p.m. Monday. Please notify us of any events taking place Friday, Saturday and Sunday that we may need to cover on weekends.

Boys Win And Lose

The Antelopes beat Cooper 98-58 December 19. Roger Pinson scored most of the points of this game with 30. Rodney Cannon followed with 20, Joey Garcia 15 and Rick Houston 10 points.

Plainview squeaked by the Antelopes 71-68 December 22 in Bulldog Gym. Joey Garcia was the high scorer with 32 points.

The defending AAA state champions came from a 37-35 halftime deficit to take the lead at 47-39 in the third quarter. In the fourth quarter, the Plainview Bulldogs regained the lead and kept it through the remainder of the game.

Although the bulldogs out-scored the Antelopes, Plainview was out-rebounded 44-33. Abernathy fell to a 6-9 record with the loss. Plainview upped its record to 6-8.

JR. VARSITY BOYS

The JV Lopes defeated Cooper High School 59-50 December 19. Most points were made by Allan Lester with 17, Allen Pettit 15 and Terry Beard 12.

The Plainview Bulldogs rolled over the JV Lopes December 22 by a score of 83-43. Allan Lester scored 19 points.

On The County Line

BY KEITH TOOLEY

Hi folks and Happy New Year! As we venture into a new year, may all your wishes, hopes and dreams come true.

I am looking forward to working close with each and every one of you in 1981. I hope to make new friends in this community. Abernathy is a progressive town and we would like to see it grow and prosper in the years to come.

I sincerely hope everyone had a merry Christmas. A special thanks goes to Richard and Vicki Havens in their cooperation and help in getting me familiar with the Abernathy Review and the fine people of this community.

We will be making some changes in the overall format of the newspaper. Any changes we make will hopefully be for the better.

One change we would like to make is to publish a farm page each week since this community is agriculture oriented.

You will notice we have gone to a six column format on the front page. We are also using a different type. Our goal is to make the Review as easy to read as possible. The addition of a

DANA WAYNE MOORE RECEIVES ACHIEVEMENT MEDAL

Dana Wayne Moore son of Mr. and Mrs. M.W. and Dorothy Moore of Abernathy is here on leave from the Navy. Moore is stationed with the Air and Anti Submarine Squadron 22 at Jacksonville, Florida. He will report back to duty January 16th. He is a 1967 graduate of Abernathy High School. He is an eight year veteran of the Navy.

Moore recently received a Navy Achievement Medal. Following is the Citation presented to Moore. NAVY ACHIEVEMENT MEDAL

The Secretary of the Navy takes pleasure in presenting the Navy Achievement Medal to Aviation Electrician's Mate First Class

Dana Wayne Moore United States Navy for service as set forth in the following citation:

For professional achievement in the superior performance of his duties while serving as Electrical Branch Night Check Supervisor or Air Antisubmarine Squadron

Twenty-two in USS SARATOGA (CV-60) from 23 March 1980 to 19 August 1980. Petty Officer Moore consistently demonstrated superb leadership, initiative and technical skill during this period. He markedly improved the overall skill level of his deployed and undermanned workcenter by initiating a comprehensive training program for junior technicians. His tireless dedication to mission accomplishment was evident on two occasions when he worked exceedingly long hours to accomplish urgently required electrical repairs. Petty Officer Moore directly contributed to accurate man hour and material accounting through meticulous attention to documentation and played a major contributory role in the unequalled level of aircraft availability realized by Air Antisubmarine Squadron Twenty-

Two while deployed. Petty Officer Moore's exceptional professional ability, initiative and loyal dedication to duty reflect great credit upon himself and the United States Naval Service.

Lady Lopes Down Plainview Bulldogs In A Thriller

The Lady Lopes defeated the Plainview Bulldogs Monday the 22nd 52-48 in Bulldog Gym.

The action came in the fourth quarter when Abernathy scored 22 points before being behind by 9.

It was a close game from the very start. Neither team was able to mount a substantial lead throughout the game. Both teams displayed tough defensive play which left the shooting department a little cramped throughout the game.

The Lady Lopes changed the momentum of the game when Ramona Irlbeck led a shooting attack in the fourth quarter. Irlbeck brought the Lopes back from a six point deficit in the first two minutes of the final period.

Neither team led by more than four points in the first half, the lead changing hands seven times. The Bulldogs got ahead by nine points at the last of the third period. But the Lady Lopes Connye Wolf with six seconds left, cut it to six and the score was 36-30. Then Ramona Irlbeck led her attack in the final period.

The win put the Antelopes in a 15 wins 1 loss position and ended a nine game winning streak for the Bulldogs. The Lady Lopes have won the last nine games they have played. The only team the Antelopes lost to was the Plainview Bulldogs in the semifinals of the Levelland Invitational Tournament, 69-65. The Lady Lopes also defeated Plainview in the fourth game of the season, 55-50 in Abernathy.

Abernathy finished 38.6 from the field to Plainviews 37.5. The high scorers in the game were Ramona Irlbeck with 18 points and Lori Oswalt with 10 points.

Final Tax Payment Due Soon For 1980

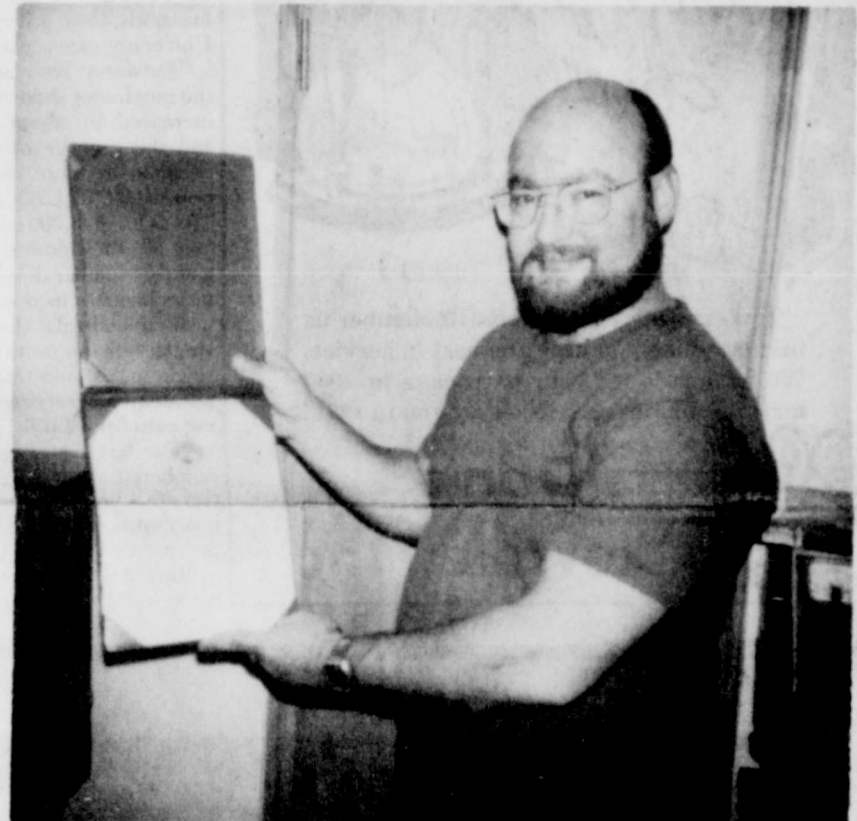

Taxpayers who did not have enough 1980 federal tax withheld, or whose amended income estimates for 1980 changed substantially during the last quarter, are required to pay the final installment of estimated income tax by January 15, 1981, the Internal Revenue Service says.

The IRS notes that there is an exception to this rule for those taxpayers who file their returns and pay all taxes due by February 2, 1981. This exception applies whether the declaration is an original or amended one.

Generally, taxpayers must file estimated tax if their tax is expected to be $100 or more and if they have more than $500 in income not covered by withholding.

For additional information, a free copy of IRS Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax," can be ordered by calling the IRS number listed in the local telephone directory. If more convenient, it can also be picked up at most IRS offices.

Abernathy C of C To Meet Jan. 8th

The Abernathy Chamber of Commerce will have their monthly meeting on Thursday January 8 instead of the regular meeting date. This change was made because the meeting would have been January 1st.

Be sure and mark your calendar of this change. Start the new year off right and attend the Chamber meeting Jan. 8 at 7 a.m. at the city hall club room.

Babson Predicts A Period Of Regrouping

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., December 24, 1980. A year ago, our forecast for 1980 predicted that the American economy would experience a recession, the main thrust of which would be felt early in the year. Technically speaking, however, the generally accepted definition of an economic recession was not fulfilled. That is, the "real" gross national product (the GNP stripped of inflation) did not experience two consecutive calendar quarters of negative readings. However, the massive second-quarter 1980 slump (down nearly 10%) suffered by the gross national product in terms of 1972 dollars, and the minuscule growth rates of the year's remaining quarterly spans, surely must be regarded as ample indication that a recession did indeed occur.

While the severity of the economic contraction during the spring weeks of 1980 exceeded the expectations of most economists, the letdown's brevity underscored the intrinsic resilience of the nation's economy. Had it not been for the drastic credit curbs which the Carter Administration and the Federal Reserve employed in the bold bid to curb burgeoning inflationary forces, the economy might not have been subjected to such a pronounced buffeting in the spring and early summer of 1980. But even if the reins had not been pulled back so radically, it is doubtful that a business slowdown could have been averted completely.

After all, the growth of the nation's money supply remained consistently higher than the targets that had been projected by the monetary authorities, and the federal government was unable to cope with the ever-increasing budget deficit for fiscal 1980 which ended September 30. Hence, there was an exceedingly fertile breeding ground for inflation, and the brief, sharp downturn in short-term interest rates was supplanted by another spell of oppressively high inflation and interest rates in the second half of 1980. As these adverse factors resurfaced, the promising pickups in residential building and industrial output sputtered as the year worked to its terminus.

1981 — A Period Of Regrouping

The staff of Babson's Reports now foresees an extension of the logy economic climate during much of 1981's first half. The incoming Reagan Administration faces the monumental task of lowering inflation and interest rates. We doubt that sufficiently significant and rapid inroads can be made on these problems to boost the economy into a swift upthrust early in the year. Indeed, vitality and forward momentum will be slow in developing. Hence, economic activity will do well to edge upward during the winter and early spring weeks. Thereafter, however, the business tempo will quicken and, the second half of 1981 could enjoy enough of an uplift to enable the year as a whole to record a moderate amount of progress. In effect, therefore, 1981 should be viewed as a regrouping period for the U.S. economy, to the groundwork for a more vibrant 1982.

Economy's Resilience A Sustaining Force

Although the staff of Babson's Reports does not anticipate a sturdy year-long upsurge in economic activity, 1981 could turn out to be more fruitful than current conditions would seem to support. But there are less hopeful opinions. Such views reflect fear that the economy will lapse back to the 1980 low point of economic activity, and the more pessimistic element go a step further in projecting a dip of even deeper penetration. If either viewpoint should be borne out, the result would be a "double dip" 1980-81 recession, or something tantamount to a "W"-type reversal pattern.

The Babson forecast, on the other hand, envisions a generally flat trend of economic activity — but with a modest upward bias — for early 1981. On this thesis, a "double dip" recession pattern would not materialize. This scenario is predicated on the basic buoyancy of the U.S. economy, which Babson's views as capable of providing more bolstering influences than is generally recognized. For one thing, service-oriented activities have been growing in importance over the years. Many facets of this diverse segment of the economy are less responsive to cyclical downswings in the industrial and commercial sectors, hence tend to impart support to the overall economy.

The automotive and agricultural equipment industries are verging on cyclical advances which could come into play once oppressively high interest rates decline. Improvement in these sectors will give an uplift to the operations of parts suppliers, including the steel and rubber industries which have experienced tough sledding for quite some time. Moreover, the feverish pace of exploration and development work in the oil and gas industries and the rapid growth in computer-related fields mean added vital support for the economy. And, as 1981 progresses, a new uptrend (more durable than the aborted 1980 effort) is likely to take hold in residential building.

Scientists harvest first successful crop of freshwater shrimp

COLLEGE STATION — Fisheries scientists at Texas A&M University have successfully raised and harvested more than 800 pounds of shrimp 100 miles from the nearest saltwater. The project shows promise for the creation of a shrimp-raising industry for Texas and other southern states.

The shrimp were raised in soft-bottomed freshwater tanks where they were grown during the warmer months of the year.

Like shrimp in the Gulf of Mexico, they were born in saltwater.

The freshwater shrimp research, conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, is part of an on-going project that may be a forerunner of large-scale commercial shrimp farming.

In short, banks will be able to pay interest on checking accounts, AND savings-and-loan-associations and credit unions will be able to offer checking-account privileges on savings accounts, Mrs. Granovsky explains.

Credit unions will call theirs "share-draft" accounts.

A Closer Look

From all reports, institutions are gearing up for this major change in banking services by trying to determine the terms and conditions under which the new accounts will be offered — or, indeed, if they will offer them at all.

Financial institutions are looking closely at the costs and benefits of offering the accounts — and so should consumers.

Consumers should read advertisements and literature from financial institutions carefully, Mrs. Granovsky advises.

But because this is a new type of accounts, don't expect that answers to all of your questions will appear in the ads.

A telephone call or personal visit will probably be necessary to get the facts you need.

Battle Fires Kindling

Economic crystal-ball gazers say the battle fires will blaze as institutions fight for the consumer's checking and savings-account dollars.

Competition for business will be aggressive, especially in urban areas, they say.

Some experts predict a regular "price war" among competing financial institutions in order to attract new customers and retain old ones.

Consumers Don Armor

How can consumers decide what to do with their "checking-account money" as they don their sales-pitch-resistant armor?

Ask plenty of questions — and compare, compare, compare the terms and conditions offered by financial institutions in your area, Mrs. Granovsky suggests.

Question Will Save The Dollar

If questions are the "answer" to saving the day's dollar against this battery of ads, then there ought to be specific questions to ask.

Indeed, Mrs. Granovsky says.

First, ask about costs.

How Much Does It Cost?
Ask these questions about cost — and remember to compare, compare the answers:

- 1) What is the minimum amount required to open an account?
- 2) What is the amount of the monthly balance that must be maintained to keep the account open?
- 3) How is the monthly balance determined?
- 4) Is the service free under certain conditions?
Is it free if a certain monthly balance is maintained, or if other services are used, such as savings accounts, credit cards, personal loans, mortgage loans, automated teller or bill-paying services?
- 5) What service charges are assessed and what are the amounts?
- 6) Are cancelled checks (drafts) returned with the monthly statement?
- 7) Is postage-paid banking by mail available?

What Are The Benefits?
Next, ask about the benefits.

Ask what the annual percentage rate is.
Ask what the annual percentage yield is.

Ask how often earnings will be compounded: continuously, daily, monthly, or quarterly.

Tonya Jantz, the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Knight of Abernathy, was a prize winner along with 20 other students at Rutherford Elementary School in the Readathon recently sponsored by the Multiple Sclerosis Society. Jason Stoner and Tonya Jantz won bicycles for their winning efforts and Jason also received a pair of disco skates, while Tonya was given a gift certificate from J.C. Penney's.

Birth Order Can Affect Life Success

COLLEGE STATION — Birth order can affect life successes, says Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist.

However, birth order does not box children into categories and expected successes or failures, she points out.

Miss Taylor is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Nevertheless, children do tend to display certain characteristic according to birth order.

Firstborn, Only Child

At first glance, it seems that firstborn and only children have the enviable position in the family, Miss Taylor says.

They are usually joyously welcomed and have undivided attention of parents.

Firstborn are also the group that is expected to become the achievers in the family — a goal some may or may not be able to fulfill. Consequently, firstborn children are the group that seek psychological help most often because of pressures to succeed.

Only children are usually achievement-oriented but do not lose their center-stage position with parents to other children in the family.

Thus, the need to shine is not as consuming as with firstborns.

Middle Children

Middle children learn early to become diplomats, the specialist continues.

They learn to compete for attention from both parents and other siblings, thus developing extraordinary skills in handling others.

The major drawback in being a middle child is that he may never be adequately recognized nor rewarded for personal or family accomplishments.

Youngest

The youngest child is seldom expected to become the achiever, so the family loves him just for himself, she explains.

He is never threatened by other children displacing him as the "darling" in the family.

Therefore, the youngest child is usually the happy, charming, fun-lover of the children.

Parental Treatment

Because of the uniqueness of each child, parents should treat each child in special ways that are appropriate for that individual, Miss Taylor advises.

No one birth order position seems to be better or worse than any other.

It's not whether a child is born first or last, rather it's what the child and parents do to highlight the advantages and lessen the disadvantages of the child's family position that affect his life successes, she adds.

Sociologist finds that Texas women outnumber the men

COLLEGE STATION — Texans can expect to see more of the state's wealth controlled by women who survive their husbands, says a Texas A&M University sociologist.

"Between 1960 and 1970, the number of widows in Texas increased by about 100,000, and the number of widowers declined by more than 2,000, notes Dr. B. L. Skrabanek. "Texas had 540,000 widows and only 80,000 widowers in 1976, and the number of widows appears likely to increase."

Skrabanek also found that single females outnumbered single males, and that has implications for marriage and voting patterns as well.

"The fact that females outnumbered males in Texas indicates that the state's population is maturing in composition and that industrialization is rapidly modifying what was a predominantly rural state," he said.

Lakeview Philosopher

Says Kids Are Not The Only People Being Damaged By Television

Editor's note: The Lakeview Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm looks at television this week, in a sidelong sort of way.

Dear editor:
Some educators are saying too much television-watching is to blame for kids' goofing off in school. If I was in charge of graduating students who can't read or write I'd jump at the chance to blame it on TV or anything else I thought I could get by with.

I don't know whether television damages kids or not but it sure has damaged politicians and other prominent people.

Before television, a person could go for years without seeing his Senator or Congressman and naturally a certain mystery surrounded them. You figured a U.S. Senator for example, to get that high up in the affairs of the nation, had to be something of a giant of a man.

Television has ruined that. You see them on the evening news and discover most Senators and Congressmen are just ordinary people like the rest of us.

Don't know any more about what causes inflation and how to stop it than you and me.

You see an Attorney General on television hemming and hawing and dodging a question and find he's not any smarter than successful lawyers in thousands of small towns across the country.

You see the head of a big New York bank on television and find he doesn't seem any sharper than a banker here in Abernathy.

The main difference is that when the New Yorker makes a loan it has more zeroes after it, like $1,000,000 instead of $5,000 but the soundness of the loans is the same, or neither bank will last.

I have seen the heads of the big car companies on television but I won't go into that.

Or take a network male reporter. The accuracy of a news story he reports and one reported in the Review is about the same. The only difference is the TV reporter reads well and generally has a good head of hair. At the same time, there are reporters on small papers who have hair too.

Television may have improved some leaders' image but it has leveled a lot more. If you want to maintain a reputation for being a giant of a man, stay out of the range of a TV camera.

Yours faithfully,

J.A.

Talk of the Town

Great Society Homemakers Met Dec. 22

The Great Society Extension Homemakers Association met December 22, for their Christmas party and also a demonstration by the County Extension Agent, Wynon Mayes.

The group met at the Abernathy Community Center with Maybell Glass, president, opening the meeting with prayer.

The members answered roll call, with "What Christmas Means To Me". Punch and some quick sweet rolls, prepared from biscuits, which is a very good idea for working mothers, were furnished by Wynon.

Cinnamon Crisps were served by hostess, Mrs. L.A. Suttle.

Members present were: Lisa Marez, Vickie Almaquer, Juanita Dominguez, Lupe Masias, Mary Ann Truivello, Melinde Almajor, Nora Garcia, Juanita Brantley, Imagene Suttle, Alice Pace, Wynon Mayes, Elsie Marez, Rosie Honeycutt, Olean Mathis and Margie Shields.

Mrs. Kenneth (Ada) Wright was a patient in Highland Hospital, in Lubbock during the Christmas holidays.

The Charles Morrison family visited relatives at Winnboro during the holidays.

Greg Gist, who has been attending McMurry College in Abilene, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gist. He will attend the University of Texas at Austin next semester.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy B. Barrick and family of Cedar Park, near Austin, visited here during the holidays with their parents and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Struve and Mr. and Mrs. Hilburn Barrick.

Visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H.V. Galloway during Christmas were their grandson, Jerry Kendrick of Arlington, Mrs. Galloway's sister, Mrs. Doris Cates of Ft. Worth and their daughter and son-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Art Cummins of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hill of Bryan visited here during the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doyce Newton and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hill. She is an R.N. and is employed at St. Anthony's Hospital. John is a student of veterinary medicine at Texas A&M University.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hill of Lakewood, Colo., visited here during the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hill.

Mrs. Rellie Hammond of Colorado City, Texas, and her daughter, Leona Slator of Ralls, visited here during the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hill. Mrs. Hammond is Mrs. Hill's step-mother.

Who's New

Mr. and Mrs. Jacinto Ponciano of Abernathy are parents of a son born Dec. 26, weighing 9 pounds, 4 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. A.H. Allen celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday, December 27.

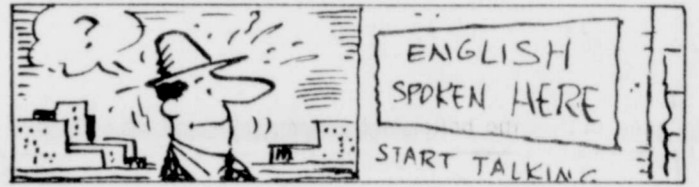

Allens Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. A.H. Allen of the County Line Community celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Saturday, December 27 with a family dinner.

Hosting the event were the children of the couple, Mr. and Mrs. D.W. Allen and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Scott of Abernathy and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Meier of Jacksboro.

The Allens were married December 24, 1930 in Lubbock County. They have six grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

advances can be made toward rectifying these ailments, and the nation can be headed in a direction offering the prospect of new-found confidence and

Intensive Care For Inflation
We believe the Reagan Administration will honor its promise to wage a resolute battle against inflation. However, since an important part of the legacy the incoming national leadership has inherited is the entrenchment of strong inflationary forces, it will be difficult to neutralize these en masse, and hence it is unrealistic to expect a quick cure. But the commitment must be made by both the Administration and the Federal Reserve, this time without any premature backing off.

For the record, the Babson staff forecasts that the average gain in the Consumer Price Index for 1981 will be in the vicinity of 10%. While this would still mean double-digit inflation for the year as a whole, the low point of 1981 would enjoy a brief spell in the single-digit area. What is important is that we expect the trend to be in the right direction and the betterment to carry into 1982.

Gross National Product
The aggregate value of goods and services produced (Gross National Product) will likely post a gain approximating 15% in current dollars for 1981 as a whole. However, ex inflation, the real growth of the economy (GNP in 1972 dollars) will probably be only a shade above 4%, with the third quarter expected to show the best upthrust of the year. We do not expect the first half to be very impressive because of early-year restraints.

Industrial Production
Although industrial activity will not be particularly vibrant in the early stages of 1981, a more noticeable upbeat will emerge as midyear approaches. By then, the negative influences should be less restrictive. Hence, industrial production for 1981 should register a gain of close to 4%. While this is far from robust (vis-a-vis other initial post-recession recoveries), the firm-to-higher trend can be viewed as an indication of betterment in the economy's health, and by the later months of 1981 some momentum will be accumulating.

Business Inventories
Though the fading of the recent upsurge in business has left inventories somewhat high relative to current sales, excessively burdensome positions are the exception rather than the rule. Nonetheless, the economy will not derive any great impetus from the rebuilding of stockpiles much before midyear. Another deterrent to quick resumption of widespread forward buying is the high cost of borrowed capital. Second-half 1981 should see renewed emphasis on inventory buildups.

Business Capital Expenditures
Because of underutilized productive capacity in many industries, we do not expect a raft of ambitious capital expansion programs in 1981. Possible tax incentives to spur productivity probably will not be enacted soon enough to do much good until 1982.

Outlook For The Labor Scene
1981 will be a relatively light year for new labor contracts. The other two years of the 3-year cycle of labor negotiations will be much more active and potentially more damaging to the economy in terms of work stoppages. But wage and fringe concessions in 1981 pacts will be expensive because of inflation catch-up efforts.

Building And Construction
The availability and cost of mortgage credit will not improve dramatically enough in 1981 to support a fresh housing boom. New Mortgage financing plans hold promise for future years, but the immediate impact on home building will still be nominal. Therefore, our forecast for new housing starts in 1981 is 1.4 million units, not appreciably different from 1980's achievement. But housing starts are still running below average annual requirements for the 1980s. Public construction likewise should rule in the "little change" group. There is more vitality in commercial building.

Corporate Profits — Dividends
Business profits after taxes will rule somewhat higher for 1981 as a whole, but the betterment will be due largely to improved earnings in the second half. The initial two quarters are expected to trail results for first-half 1980, since rising costs and the scramble of highly competitive conditions will pinch profits. Dividend payments generally will be maintained, with some hikes, but lengthy lists of dividend increases won't return until late in the year.

Agricultural Prospects
The farm outlook for 1981 is quite encouraging at this point. Firmer agricultural prices and stronger foreign grain demand have brightened farmers' income picture, and some moisture-short growing areas received much needed precipitation last fall. Thus, as things stand now, this nation's agricultural sector can have a good year if weather conditions are GOING UP FAST — Construction on Tolk Station, Southwestern Public Service Company's new coal-fired power plant 12 miles east of Muleshoe, Texas, is approaching the half-way point. The first of two 543,000 kilowatt generating units is scheduled for completion in 1982.

Southwestern Public Service Coal-Fired Plant Being Constructed

Blue steel reaches high in the air at Southwestern Public Service Company's Tolk Station near Earth, Texas. The coal-fired plant in Lamb County is becoming a reality — no longer just blueprints or a large hole in the ground surrounded by huge construction equipment, piles of blue steel, a few temporary construction buildings.

Although still a year and a half from scheduled completion, the unit is taking shape. In the plant itself, not including the stack nor the coal handling facilities, 42,360 yards of concrete have been poured with 2,600 tons of rebar in the concrete. The majority of the steel has been erected, 7,535 tons so far.

The boiler construction is continuing on schedule with high pressure piping now being welded. The siding is being put on the boiler and turbine buildings. All concrete has been poured on the 400 foot high stack with the baghouse structure about half complete.

The office building has been occupied by the plant manager Ben Green and the senior engineer Earl Zwickey. There are presently about 650 people, both construction and SPS personnel, at the plant location.

Tolk, like all of Southwestern's plants constructed since 1952, is designed and engineered by Southwestern personnel. No two units have been built exactly alike but the first and second unit at Tolk will be very similar. However, if new technology is introduced which would make the second unit more efficient or easier to operate, then changes would be made.

Southwestern is one of very few electric utility companies in the United States that design and engineer their own plants. This procedure has proven to be very efficient and economical — so economical in fact, that Southwestern's plants are built for about one half of the national average per kilowatt. And when you consider that the first unit at Tolk will cost well over $200-million, the savings to Southwestern's customers becomes apparent.

For the last few years, Southwestern has put a new unit on the line about every two years but each unit takes longer than two years to construct. When the third unit at Harrington Station near Amarillo, Texas, went on the line last summer, Tolk Station had been under construction for over two years.

Tolk, like Harrington, will be a coal-fired plant and will use a baghouse filter system for emission control which operates on much the same principal as a vacuum cleaner.

Tolk will be equipped with a Direct Digital Control (DDC) system. Harrington III has a DDC system and is one of only five or six DDC systems in operation in the United States today. The DDC incorporates three computer systems; the boiler control system; the data acquisition system (or plant computer which is the eyes and ears of the plant operators and continuously monitors the efficiency of the plant); and the turbine speed and load control system.

The coal-handling facility at Tolk will feature rotary-dump cars. The railroad cars, moving through a dumping building located over the coal stackout hopper will be turned upside down while still attached to cars in front and back. The rotary-dump cars are five to seven tons lighter than the bottom-dump cars used at Harrington Station and will carry more coal while remaining within the maximum gross weight per car. The conveyor vents are now being assembled on the coal-handling facility.

The largest single piece of equipment, the generator-stator, is scheduled to be shipped from East Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, the last of this month. This Westinghouse generator, weighing 385 tons, will be shipped by rail on a special rail car owned by Westinghouse.

When Tolk goes on the line, it will have a capability of 543,000 kilowatts and will be Southwestern's largest single unit. This one unit will generate more electricity than any of Southwestern's gas-fired plants and considerably more than a single unit at Harrington. Tolk will generate enough electricity to supply a city of 225,000 people.

One unit at Tolk will burn 296 tons of Wyoming coal per hour, 6,104 tons per day, 2,592,960 tons per year. Four trains per week, each composed of 110 cars, will be required to supply coal to Tolk.

Irrigation Changes To Be Discussed At Conference

AMARILLO — Changes they are making in their irrigation practices to combat rising fuel costs and make best use of available water will be related by a panel of growers during the annual High Plains Irrigation Conference here Tuesday, Jan. 13.

The day-long conference will begin at 9:30 a.m. at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center, 6500 Amarillo Blvd. West.

Maximizing pump and sprinkler efficiency and proper application of water will be vital in reducing production of costs this year, and the irrigation conference will focus upon these areas, said Leon New, area Extension irrigation engineer.

In addition to the tips from the panel of growers, other speakers will discuss the amount of water needed for adequate irrigation, full of limited row irrigation potentials and the feasibility of replacing row irrigation with center pivot sprinklers.

Also, how pump and engine performance affect fuel costs, ways to obtain maximum pump performance, engine maintenance and tuning by growers and equipment limitations.

He is married to the former Carolyn Sears.

It is always an honor to celebrate the birth of Christ. We do so year after year, and if we have done it right, God is pleased. Surely He approves of people who exalt Jesus, for then we are demonstrating our attitudes and spirit concerning Christ. And our attitudes are more important than our actions. Sometimes our actions do not reveal what is really in our hearts, but God has said that eventually the real thing will come out.

It is important that we understand this, because we are called upon to honor Christ throughout the rest of the year also. The question that follows is, "How do we do it?" Paul gives us the answer in his letter to the Philippians.

It was the custom in Greek letters to include a thanksgiving for the readers, and Paul continuously did so. That is, Paul always sought to express his thankfulness for others. He said in chapter 1, verse 4, "Always in every prayer of mine for you all making request with joy." Clearly Paul had joy not only in God, but also in God's people. He had joy in Lydia who had opened her house to him. He had joy in the church at Philippi which had been generous to him. Time and again Paul expresses his joy in others.

I believe that we can show honor to Christ in exactly the same way. That is by considering others in all that we do. Consider others in our home relationships, consider others in our business dealings, consider others in school activities, consider others in the church. The list goes on and on, but a guiding scripture for any situation could be, "Let us each consider the other person greater than ourselves."

What a great year 1981 will be, if we each give the other person the right to be human and the respect due because of this fact. If we do, we will not only honor Christ at Christmas time but also throughout the entire year.

FARM PAGE

In a reverse adaptation of the old football adage that says "The best offense is a good defense," the incoming Republican administration in Washington may take the initiative in the next session of Congress and immediately drive for a new four-year farm program.

Earlier speculation was that the administration would most likely propose a one-year extension of the current law, basic provisions of which were passed in 1973 under the Republican administration of Richard Nixon. The reasoning was that this would give Reagan and Co. time for more deliberate study of the agricultural picture before committing to a long-range farm policy.

But in the opinion of Dr. Ron Knutson, Texas Agricultural Extension Service Economist serving on Reagan's Agriculture Transition Team, there's a good chance for passage of a four-year farm bill in 1981. Knutson left that impression in an address at a Texas A&M sponsored Farm Policy Seminar for Texans in Irving December 12.

However, according to seminar participant Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Knutson doesn't expect the Republicans to propose drastic changes in the principles behind current law.

For example, the loan-target concept will probably be acceptable to the Reagan team as the foundation of price supports, with room for debate on possible changes in the way loan and target prices are set. On the other hand, one prominent feature of farm programs since 1973, the PCG-conceived disaster pro-

Farmers Must Pay Tax Soon

Individuals who earned at least two-thirds of their 1979 or 1980 gross income from farming have until Thursday, January 15, 1981, to make a 1980 declaration of estimated tax and pay any taxes due, the Internal Revenue Service says.

However, farmers who plan to file their 1980 income tax return and pay the total tax balance by March 3, 1981, are not required to make an estimated tax declaration, according to the IRS.

Additional information is available in the free IRS Publication 225, "Farmer's Tax Guide," and Publication 505, "Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax." These publications can be ordered by mail using the order form in the tax package, or by calling the IRS number listed in the local telephone directory. If more convenient, they can also be picked up at most IRS offices.

Cattle Scabies In Castro County

A single case of psoroptic cattle scabies was confirmed in Castro county, Texas during November, said Dr. E.S. Cox, who is a veterinarian of the U.S. Department of Agriculture and area director of the Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service.

According to Dr. Cox, a state quarantine was placed on all cattle in affected and exposed herds. He said this quarantine will not be lifted until the cattle undergo pesticide treatment, supervised by state or federal veterinary officials, and are found free of scabies mites. Four other outbreaks were discovered in November in Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, and the Navajo Nation. This compares with 14 cases a year ago. In October, ten cases were confirmed nationwide.

Scabies-caused by microscopic mites does not harm meat, but causes intense itching in cattle leading to weight loss. This results in economic losses for cattle producers. Dipping cattle in USDA approved miticides kills the mites.

USDA is urging all cattle producers to check their stock regularly and report suspected scabies to their veterinarians or state or federal animal health officials.

Whippoorwills have been heard to give their call 1,088 times an hour.

gram, will face tough sledding in the development of new legislation, Knutson believes.

On the food price issue, expected to draw top priority in the early months of 1981, Knutson anticipates somewhat greater reliance on free market prices and unfettered production to exercise control as opposed to government intervention.

Johnson theorizes that this thought probably stems from the economic convictions of Richard Lyng, one of the leading contenders for Secretary of Agriculture. Lyng, past president of the American Meat Institute and Assistant Secretary of Agriculture under Richard Nixon, reportedly has been heard to say "When the price of eggs gets high enough, the roosters will start laying."

Other early efforts of the new administration in 1981 will be directed toward reducing costs and gaining tighter control of USDA operations. Special attention, Knutson believes, may be given to the $17.7 billion of FmHA loans, many of which are not directly related to agricultural production.

The food stamp program, which takes some 60 percent of USDA's budget, also will come under close scrutiny, Knutson told the group. But on the same subject, another seminar speaker, Dr. Bill Boehm of the President's Council of Economic Advisors, apparently advising caution against severe cuts, pointed out that every dollar of tax money spent on food stamps contributes about four cents to net producer income.

COTTON TODAY

A NATIONAL COTTON COUNCIL SERVICE

Speakers Announced: Two Congressional leaders will be featured speakers at the National Cotton Council's 43rd annual meeting in Atlanta January 25-27. One is Sen. Thad Cochran (R-Miss.), newly named chairman of the Senate Agriculture Appropriations Subcommittee.

In the upcoming Congress, Cochran also will chair the subcommittee on agricultural production, marketing, and price stabilization.

House Majority Leader Jim Wright (D-Tex.) is scheduled to address the Tuesday, January 27, session of the meeting. Wright has authored major legislation in foreign affairs, economic development, water conservation, and energy.

Exports Climb: Cotton

textile exports in October were equivalent to 89,700 bales. January through October exports totaled 936,000 bale equivalents, up 15.4 percent from the same period a year earlier.

For raw cotton exports, the largest weekly sales in six months-137,700 running bales—were recorded the week of December 11. Exports of 193,700 bales for the week brought the seasons total to 1,758,800.

Money Bill Signed: The President has signed the 1981 appropriations bill for the Department of Agriculture and related agencies. The measure includes $975,000 for cotton dust research, as well as a provision eliminating the Normal Crop Acreage (NCA) restriction on crop production.

Thus cotton producers who exceed their NCA in 1981 will remain eligible for program benefits on all crops.

Cotton Conferences to begin; Rep. William Thomas (R-Calif.) is the keynote speaker for the Cotton Production-Mechanization Conference January 7-8 in New Orleans. Thomas will discuss Congressional attitudes toward agricultural research. Other speakers on the same topic include Terry B. Kinney, Jr., who heads up USDA agricultural research, and University of California (Davis) Dean Charles E. Hess. Ed Breihan of Lubbock is general chairman.

DRIVELINE

There are approximately 13 million traffic accidents a year in the United States.

Fender Bender or Wallet Trimmer? Speaking of accidents, here's a strong incentive to avoid them. A new study by the insurance industry shows that it would cost $25,458 in parts and labor to repair a totally wrecked 1980 U.S. compact car which originally cost $6,018.

WINTER DRIVING TIP: Don't forget to clean your car's headlights. Bleary lenses reduce headlight illumination by up to one-fourth.

FLASH FROM THE PAST!!! Remember those delightful old Burma Shave signs that used to decorate Texas roadides with clever rhymes about traffic safety or the joys of shave cream? Ed Janicki, in a recent issue of the Southwest AAA Motorclub newspaper, quotes some memorable ditties:

"At school zones ... heed instructions ... protect our little ... tax deductions."
"When you drive ... if caution ceases ... you are apt ... to rest ... in pieces."
"Drinking drivers ... nothing worse ... they put ... the quart ... before the horse."

DRIVING IN THE DARK DEPARTMENT: At 60 MPH a car needs about 360 feet to come to a full stop. But its headlights can illuminate only 300 feet—at the most. So by the time you see a roadside hazard—a pedestrian, bike rider, stalled car, animal, etc.—it's already too late to come to a full stop. Moral: Don't drive so fast you leave your eyes behind.
