City Council Accepts Floodplain Management Ordinance

The Abernathy City Council met Monday, August 6 at 7:30 p.m. to discuss floodplain management regulations and several other items of business on the agenda.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Barton were present to discuss floodplain management regulations for Abernathy. Barton brought a map designating the floodplain zones.

Two floodplain zones were designated on the map. Zone A was designated by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, as an area of 100-year floodplain. This primarily includes the area from 6th street to 11th street between Ave. J and the corporate limits west of Ave. M. All other areas of Abernathy were designated Zone C, which is a 500-year floodplain. Permit application requirements will be required for development within the floodplain area.

The council passed a floodplain management ordinance. This made Abernathy eligible for National Flood Insurance for those who wish to acquire it. The main reason for adopting a floodplain ordinance was to make Abernathy residents eligible for National Floodplain Insurance.

Also in the ordinance, a City Floodplain Administrator has to be named. The Council will appoint a Floodplain Administrator at a future meeting.

Other Business

The minutes of the July Council meeting were approved.

A letter from Attorney Tomas Garza was presented to the Council. Garza is the attorney representing Abernathy Citizens for the Community, a group which had several complaints about officers of the Abernathy Police Department. The letter stated that he would have attended the August 4 Council meeting, but he was only given five days notice before the meeting. He stated that he would need at least two weeks to prepare for the meeting and that he would probably attend the next monthly meeting, provided he is given a two week notice prior to the meeting.

Monroe Waits was presented to discuss his sub-standard building located at 308 Ave. D., (formerly Waits Farm Store). Waits was given permission by the Council to repair and renovate the building.

The general revenue sharing fund was discussed. These funds are issued to towns to the government. The amount issued to towns is based on a town's population and amount taxed by the City. Abernathy will receive $24,068. The proposed use of these funds presented to the Council, was to use $8 thousand to purchase a new police patrol car and $16 thousand for street repairs and maintenance.

Usually all of the revenue sharing fund is used for street maintenance and repairs. No action was taken on the proposal.

Capital equipment purchase requests were discussed after being presented to the Council by City Manager Rod Ellis. The requests were discussed and tabled.

Bollinger-Segers-Gilbert-Moss of Lubbock, was appointed auditor for fiscal year ending September 30, 1982. The meeting adjourned.

"Jaws" Hungry For Old Autos

The Abernathy Fire Department needs several old automobiles to be used for Jaws of Life tool training purposes. Old cars and trucks donated to the fire department will be used to train firemen to use the Jaws of Life tool.

Those who donate old automobile junkers will need to bring the titles to the fire department. If the title is not available, the fire department will need the motor serial number or the serial number of the automobile.

If there is a salvage value on any vehicles donated, the fire department will issue that person a receipt for the appraised value of the vehicle which can be used as a tax write-off.

Donating old cars or trucks for the fire department to practice on might save a life someday.

Firemen need to know how to tear open different types of vehicles with a Jaws tool.

Those who own old vehicles and would like for the fire department to haul them off, should contact Carl Johnson at 298-2215 or James Neve at 298-2507.

SHALLOW WATERBEDS of Lubbock has done it again. They are known for having the worst commercials on T.V. and elsewhere. Their latest promotion is to send a waterbed to the White House.

Plugging water for West Texas along the way, Shallowwater Waterbeds Inc. departed from Lubbock Tuesday and is headed for the White House. The waterbed is being transported to Washington in a converted cotton trailer, which resembles a covered wagon.

On the cover over the trailer reads... "Waterbed for the White House, Washington, D.C. Honk if you agree". The waterbed will be presented to the White House as a so called "gift of historical significance." We will be looking for the wagon arriving at Washington in the news next week.

"WHEAT PRICE SAME AS 1919" was the headline of a story in the Castro County News newspaper at Dimmitt recently.

The story states, "Sixty-three years ago, on July 3, 1919, the Ramey brothers started up the first combine to be used in Castro County. It was a McCormick thresher drawn by a team of eight mules."

They received $3.23 per bushel for the wheat.

Ironically, that is about what farmers are receiving for their wheat this year as the price ranged from $2.98 to $3.40 per bushel during the harvest season.

Wheat prices have been declining gradually in recent years. On July 1, 1979, wheat was $3.94 a bushel. On the same date the two following years the prices were $3.56 and $3.57. By July 1, 1982, the price had dropped to $3.25 a bushel. - The Tulia Herald.

SPECIAL THANKS TO THE tornado spotters who kept an eye out for Abernathy during the tornado weather, which by the way isn't officially over. Abernathy's tornado spotting team is made up of volunteers from the local fire department and police department.

Although volunteers, they're specially trained in the skills of tornado spotting and reporting.

Irish-Harman United In Double Ring Wedding Ceremony

Sunday, August 1, in a 4 p.m. ceremony at First United Methodist Church in Abernathy, Miss Nancy Lynn Irish became the bride of James Ronald Harman. The double ring ceremony uniting the couple in marriage, was performed by the Reverend HB Coggin.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Irish of Abernathy and Mr. and Mrs. James O. Harman of San Angelo.

White pillar candles in arched candelabrum swathed with fresh lemon bouquets formed the background for the altar. The massive altar arrangement was composed of white Killion daisies, tube roses, agapanthus, calla lilies and white stock. Flanking the altar were two antique brass stands filled with massive white arrangements and other arrangements of mixed foliage completed the bride's altar. The bride's aisle was marked with white satin bows, dendrobiums and English ivy.

Mrs. Herbert Hardin and Mr. Clinton Barrick at the piano and organ, presented a beautiful medley of traditional and contemporary wedding music as guests were seated. Miss Susie Montgomery of Dallas, sang "Sunrise, Sunset" after the mothers of the couple were seated, and "Sabbath Prayer" at the close of the ceremony, followed by "An Old Irish Blessing".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, approached the altar gowned in an elegant creation designed for her by Demetrios of Illisa. Her wedding gown was a reflection of Queen Ann design of imported silk French organza, enhanced with French Alencon lace and lavish pearl beading in each lace flowerlet, veiled over silk peau-d'ange of moonlight color. The moulded bodice featured a high wedding band neckline, encircled with garlands of Alencon lace and pearls forming a deep cameo design and extending to the sheer shield shaped yoke of imported silk organza. The Queen Ann pearl bead designs enriched the yoke and interlocked with garlands of Alencon lace flowerlet appliques. Slender candlestick sleeves with scattered Alencon lace flowerlets extended to deep cuffs of lace and touched the top of her hands. The back of the bodice featured a deep sheer yoke of the Renaissance period, and pearl and lace appliques encircled the deep yoke. From the Alencon and pointed estril lace enriched crescent waistline fell her full A-line skirt of silk organza over silk peau-d'ange with a slight fullness in the back. The front of the gown's skirt was enriched with a deep crest of Alencon lace and pearl designs that cascaded to encircle the full skirt that swept to form a full cathedral train. The back of the train featured magnificent Alencon lace cascades that formed at the back bodice and extended the full length of the cathedral train. The bride wore a French capulet covered in moonlight Alencon lace and enriched with pearl beading, from which fell her full circular mantilla veil of imported silk illusion, edged completely in garlands of Alencon lace flowers with pearl centers. The veil swept beyond the train of the wedding gown. She wore custom designed wedding slippers of silk, covered in Alencon lace with pearl beadwork to match her gown. The bride's cascading bouquet was composed of white roses, dendrobium orchids and stephanotis trimmed with seed pearls.

Following traditional customs, she wore her maternal grandmother's wide gold wedding band for something old; her wedding dress, veil, and the bridegroom's gift of gold and pearl earrings for something new; a lace handkerchief borrowed from her mother; a blue garter, and a sixpence minted in her birth year in her shoe.

Mrs. Thomas Waincott of Dallas was her sister's matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Misses Terri Heath, Danielle Lang and Kathy Lee of Lubbock, Miss Kara Knox of Houston, and Mrs. Tim Carmichael of Plainview. Miss Christi Irish of Dallas, niece of the bride, was a junior bridesmaid, and Miss Becky Irish of Lubbock, also a niece of the bride, was the flower girl. The attendants wore gowns of English Country Garden print silk organza, with a moonlight background aglow with an array of flowers in shades of lavender, pink, salmon and yellow, highlighted by jade green. The moulded bodices featured a deep neckline caught at the shoulders and full lantern sleeves. Jade green silk sashes encircled the crescent waistlines and soft dirndl skirts were gently gathered, giving the gowns a graceful fluid skirt. The attendants carried cascading bouquets of fresh garden flowers in mixed hues.

The groom was attired in a dark grey cutaway with striped trousers and a pearl grey vest and ascot. Attending as best man was his father, James Harman. Groomsman were Tim Carmichael of Plainview; Jeff Harman, brother of the groom, of San Angelo; Carl Lang of Dallas; and Jay Bruin and Rob Trollinger of Lubbock. Serving as ushers were Ronnie Smith of Amarillo, and Randy Morris and Davin Winger of Lubbock. The groom's attendants and the bride's father wore cutaways identical to the groom's - their ascots were grey striped.

Mrs. Irish was gowned in a silk chiffon garden gown of mauve. Her gown featured a jewel neckline and long, soft sleeves caught with soft gathers at the wrist. The total gown featured soft pleats from the shoulders that fell gently to the hemline that was encircled by a deep band of satin ribbon trim. A wide satin belt circled the natural waistline.

Mrs. Harman wore a gown of soft powder blue Quiana, fashioned with long sleeves and a V-neckline with slight lapels folded back. The skirt fell from a natural waistline in small pleats.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Mike Lambert and Miss Christy Waters registered the guests, both at the church and under the live-oaks at the Irish home, on tables covered with yellow taffeta. Floral arrangements on the registry tables were a French garden bouquet of leatris, red yarrow, gerber daisies and red burria at the church, and a contemporary arrangement with yellow yarrow, purple dendrobium, gerber daisies and sellon foliage at the home.

Guests were greeted at the home with champagne and punch while awaiting the arrival of the bridal party from the church. The serving table was covered with a floor length cloth of off-white lace and centered with an antique silver epergne holding blue agapanthus, enchantment lilies, oncidium orchids and lavender leatris. Silver appointments were used, and a profusion of fresh flowers were arranged in the receiving rooms.

The bride's circular cake table was placed in the terrace room and was covered with a floor length cloth of Alencon re-embroidered lace and seed pearls. The bride's cake was three-tiered, with a white background, and emblazoned with intricate confection azalea, rose and stephanotis blossoms in shades of lavender, peach, pink, and yellow. Mounting the uppermost tier was a keepsake top of porcelain and confection, featuring cherubs dancing under a tree of blossoms. The wedding cake was specially designed and made in Jacksboro in the bride's chosen colors.

The groom's table in the den was covered to the floor with a purple moire cloth. Centering the table was an antique brass epergne filled with allium, oncidium orchids, enchantment lilies, love lilies, leatris and sponge mushrooms. The groom's cake was chocolate and decorated with marzipan fruits and green leaves. Coffee was served from a brass coffee service.

A buffet consisting of cold meat platters of ham, turkey and roast beef, onion buns, sauces, fruit plates of melon balls and strawberries, and cheese trays decorated with apple birds, grapes and strawberries was served from both the dining and den tables.

Five circular seating tables in the garden were covered with handkerchief cloths of yellow and pink. Each table held a French garden bouquet of yellow yarrow, leatris, gerber daisies and red burria. The terrace and garden of the home were filled with green plants, pastel flowering plants and caladiums. During the festivities, the Alpha Chi Omega sorority sisters of the bride who were present gathered in a circle in the garden to sing a traditional sorority song together, and the Sigma Nu fraternity brothers of the bride responded with a traditional toast to the couple.

Members of the house party at the reception were Mmes. J.L. Miller, Carl Barton, Herbert Hardin, Don Heath, Gid Adkisson, Chris Waters, Elbert Harp, Jerry Oswald, and Mike Lambert, all of Abernathy and Misses Christy Waters and Janette Bishop of Lubbock and Allison Dupont of Fort Worth.

The new bride's going away costume was of French wisteria silk, with scattered delicate moonlight and mauve petal designs. The bodice featured a jewel neckline, full French lantern sleeves accented with layers of tiny pleats and tucks, and caught at the mid-arm with a delicate rolled cuff. The soft fluid skirt fell in gentle folds from the crescent waist that was encircled with a corded belt. She wore a white silk straw hat with French lavender band flocked with tiny lavender forget-me-nots.

Amid a shower of rice and rose petals, the couple left for a wedding trip to Acapulco. Upon their return they will be at home at 24 Cielo Vista Plaza in San Angelo, Texas 76904, where the groom is employed by Harman Oil and Gas

CANDLE POWER

In 1869 A. I. Root founded the Root Company. That same year three other men founded the Western Electric Company and the Union Pacific became the first railroad to span the nation.

Four years later, in 1873, barbed wire was invented and Mr. Root had already expanded his business, and by 1896 when Rural Free Mail Delivery was established, The Root Company, growing larger every day, was one of the first commercial users of the new service.

On December 17, 1903, Orville and Wilbur Wright made history with their flying machine. Unfortunately, few would believe the story of man's first flight. Newspapers wouldn't publish the story. So the historic event went unnoticed until A.I. Root, a close friend of the Wright Brothers, published the first account of this historic flight in his monthly farm magazine, "CLEANINGS IN BEE CULTURE."

Mr. Root died in 1923 almost 61 years after his doctors had advised him he had only months to live. Today, his company lives and prospers on his traditions of quality, vigor and service.

"Love Taught By God"

With a new school year about to begin, I was reminded of my third grade teacher who had the rare ability to take students who performed poorly in mathematics and improve their skills one-hundred percent. How she managed that, I'm not sure; but among other things, she patiently and repeatedly demonstrated how to solve the problems. Some things can hardly be taught or learned without a demonstration. All the fine talk, though stimulating and interesting, seem rather nebulous and empty without concrete behavior to observe and imitate. When God teaches about love, it's with demonstration after demonstration. The creation of mankind (Genesis 1: 27-31), His faithfulness to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob (Joshua 24: 2-13), His patient devotion to the Israelites (Jeremiah 31: 3), the sacrifice of His son (John 3: 15), and His daily provision for His people (Matthew 6: 25-34). Learning how to love begins with an observation and experience of God's love. What a joy to be taught by one who teaches through demonstration and who calls us to love as He loves.

Strake Talk

FREE EDUCATION AND THE UNDOCUMENTED WORKER

On June 15, 1982, The Supreme Court ruled, 5-4, that Texas and other states must provide free public education for the children of undocumented workers—people in this country illegally.

Our current Lt. Governor, Mr. Hobby, was happy with the decision, praising it as the "only rational decision" the court could have made.

On the contrary, I think it was a wrong decision that defied both law and logic.

One of the principal underpinnings of an orderly society is that one should not benefit from breaking the law. All around the world, thousands of people stand patiently in line at our embassies, waiting for legal entry into this country. By its recent ruling, the Supreme Court told these people that, if they are smart, they will ignore our immigration laws, find some other way to enter, and then there's a good likelihood all manner of taxpayer-supported benefits will be open to them and their families.

We can all feel sympathy for people driven to emigrate by desperate economic conditions. And I believe we should be compassionate toward the children of undocumented workers who are here through no fault of their own. We have been told we must educate these children and we will: it is our duty.

But I am deeply concerned about the effect this will have on our school systems and the quality of education. We have only a certain amount of desks and dollars with which to address the problems of educating Texas' children.

The court was essentially establishing social policy under the guise of ruling on a constitutional question. The result was bad law and bad social policy. It should now be up to the Federal Government to help pay for the mess they have created by not properly policing our borders.

Farmer Input Needed For '83 Cotton Program

Cotton farmers have a chance to guide their own destiny by offering suggestions for the 1983 Upland Cotton Program.

Farmer input is needed by Sept. 14 so that the U.S. Department of Agriculture can announce program plans for the coming year around Nov. 1.

"A number of major decisions will be made regarding next year's cotton program, so comments from farmers are vital," said Dr. Carl Anderson, economist in cotton marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "A major issue is acreage set-aside."

Farmer input is needed on the following: mandatory or voluntary acreage reduction, paid land diversion, base loan rate for Strict Low Middling 1-1/16-inch cotton with a 3.5 to 4.9 mike, 1983 target price and the loan rate for seed cotton. Comments should go to Director, Analysis Division, USDA-ASCS, Room 3741-S, P.O. Box 2415, Washington, D.C. 20013.

Anderson noted that the financial implications of a set-aside program are far reaching. "Producing less may well mean that farmers will make money," he said. "Base cotton acreage would have to be reduced in the range of 25 percent or more to be effective in reducing surplus stocks."

The cotton market is currently in the doldrums and may remain so another year or so, noted the economist. Demand is weak because of this nation's high unemployment or so, noted the economist. Demand is weak because of this nation's high unemployment and the current deep recession which is straining consumer budgets for needs other than clothing. Mill usage in the U.S. has dropped to the lowest level since the 1930 depression.

"High interest rates have also been the enemy of cotton farmers," Anderson pointed out. "They make it expensive for the cotton trade to hold large inventories of raw cotton or manufactured textile goods, so such inventories have been reduced.

Consequently, farmers or the government end up holding cotton which, then, hangs over the market and holds down the price."

Cotton farmers also are having to put up with an undependable export market and a growing level of imported manufactured textile goods, said the economist.

Exports have suffered because foreign governments are temperamental in deciding on cotton production and use. Furthermore, the strong U.S. dollar has pushed up the American price in terms of most foreign currencies, so overseas buyers are reluctant to purchase

LUBBOCK, Friday, August 13, 1982

A 15 percent voluntary acreage reduction and an additional 10 percent paid acreage diversion will get

U.S. cotton. At the same time, the strong American dollar has made foreign textiles a good buy so that imports are cutting deeply into domestic mill usage, Anderson noted.

"Faced with huge cotton stocks and other circumstances that have weakened demand, cotton farmers need to be wary of the devastating financial effects of a large 1983 cotton crop," Anderson said. "Without a sizeable cutback in the base acreage for 1983, any price improvement this season could result in a big increase in cotton acreage and production next year which would almost certainly push prices well below production costs."

Adverse weather has severely reduced cotton acreage this year so that the crop could be below use levels. That, said Anderson, could reduce carryover stocks and cause the USDA to decide against an acreage set-aside program, which would be a mistake.

major emphasis in the recommendations for the 1983 cotton program provisions being submitted by Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

PCG officials are fully aware that the loan and target price levels for 1983 are important factors, they explain, "but unlike acreage reduction provisions, the language of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1981 doesn't give the Secretary of Agriculture much if any leeway in making those decisions."

"However," says PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson, "we won't miss the opportunity to stress the need for legislation permitting a higher loan and target price in the future along with our recommendations that both be set in 1983 at the highest level possible under existing law."

PCG's 1983 program recommendations were developed at an August 5 meeting of the organization's 11-member Executive Committee and conform to policies adopted earlier by the Board of Directors calling for reduced acreage, higher loans and target prices.

Secretary of Agriculture John Block has been quoted recently to the effect that this year's cotton acreage losses in Texas and Oklahoma might preclude the necessity for a cotton acreage reduction program in 1983.

But PCG contends that under current supply and demand conditions a burdensome carryover still is in prospect for the end of the current marketing year, making acreage reduction essential to any possibility of price recovery in 1983.

Among those agreeing with this view is the Texas Association of Cotton Producers Organizations, which represents farmers from all cotton producing regions of the State and is submitting acreage recommendations identical to those of PCG.

Also, according to a report from PCG Board Chairman Gary Ivey of Ralls, the Producer Steering Committee of the National Cotton Council, meeting in Phoenix August 12, declined to suggest specifics but voted to recommend "an acreage reduction program which would reduce the 1983 cotton carryover to a range of from 3.5 to four million bales."

"Given the absence of legislative authority to provide adequate price protection through the loan and target price," Johnson states, "many of us agree that the only alternative is to guard against repeating the excess production that has so severely depressed and continues to depress the price of our product in the marketplace."

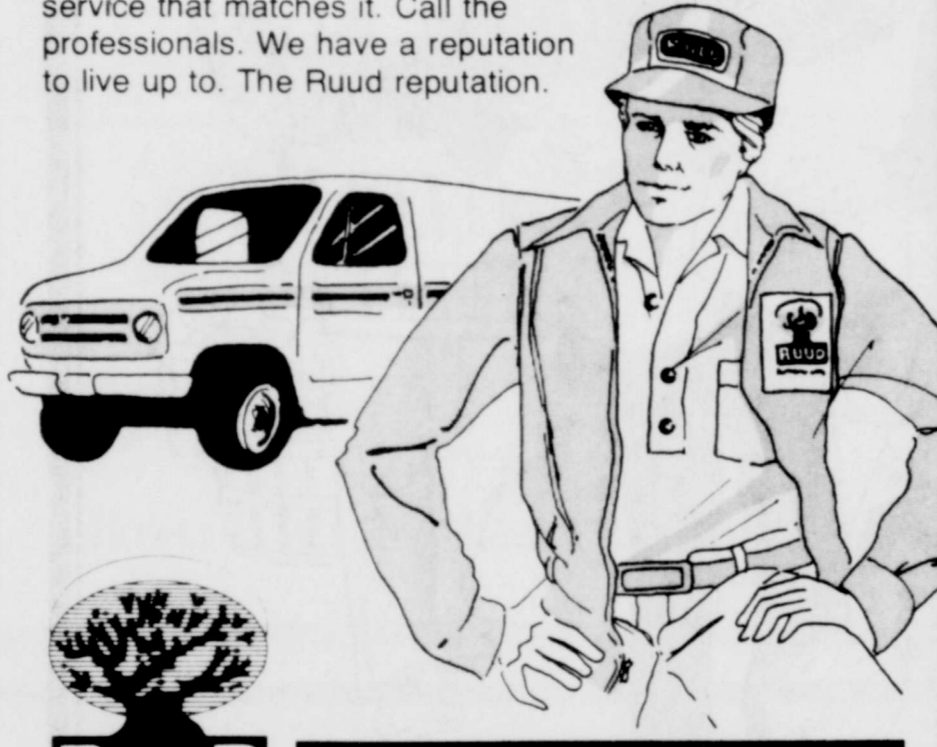

USDA has called for comment on the 1983 cotton program by September 13 and plans to announce final decisions around November 1 of this year.

Comments should be sent to the Director, Analysis Division, USDA-ASCS, PO Box 2415, Washington, DC 20013.

GSPA Recommends Changes In Feed Grain Program

Secretary of Agriculture John R. Block has called for public comment by August 26 on provisions of the 1983 feed grain program, the details of which must be announced by Nov. 15. Block said he plans to announce the 1983 program well in advance of the Nov. 15 statutory deadline.

Grain Sorghum Producers Association, the national organization of sorghum farmers, has recommended the following provisions:

I. A minimum of 20 percent acreage reduction composed of

A. 10 percent-aside diversion with payment levels high enough to get 80 percent participation.

II. Loan levels at 90 percent of the estimated national average cost of production, including land costs.

III. Immediate entry into the farmer-held reserve program with reserve loans set at the national average cost of production (including land costs) with release levels no less than 115 percent of the cost of production.

Grain Sorghum Producers Association (GSPA) believes the 1983 feed grain program should be aimed at stabilizing grain prices so a farmer can again have the potential to earn a profit on his crop. The current program will permit a profit only in the event of a world-wide crop failure.

Any time there is an estimated two month's carry-in supply of grain, prices will be at, or below, the established CCC loan plus carrying charges. History of the past twenty years shows that, in the absence of a loan level at the cost of production, the market price exceeded the national average cost of production only when the supply dropped to a one month's supply carryover. ("Carry-in supply" and "carryover stocks" refer to stocks left over at the end of the marketing year. A "month's supply" is the total amount expected to be consumed in one month.)

The U.S. had a three and one-half month's supply carryover of corn and sorghum at the beginning of this marketing year (Oct. 1, 1981) and prospects are that the amount will increase with the 1982 harvest. Prices are well below the loan and even further below the cost of production.

GSPA states that it will be necessary to reduce the total combined carryover of grain sorghum and corn to less than 700 million bushels (one month's supply) before farmers can expect any profit from market prices. This can be achieved only by a program designed to take land out of production, and it must be attractive enough to assure participation. Diversion payments and higher loan levels are necessary.

It is a known fact that Government costs will be less with an adequate diversion program and higher loans. The Congressional Budget Office studies have shown that it costs the government less to pay diversion payments than to pay storage and interest on grain in the loan and reserve.

Shallowater Growth Aided By County

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following information came from "An Early History of Shallowater" by Don Casey. Lubbock County officials felt that it was time to improve the region. They purchased and developed parks within most county towns, including Shallowater.

In July 1921, Commissioners B.N. Wheeler and Paul von Rosenberg were authorized to obtain six to ten acres for a park in Shallowater. The officials selected almost ten acres north of the railroad tracks, and the county paid Mrs. Bowles $609 for the land in March 1922. Trees were planted and a swimming pool was built. Supplied with water from a nearby windmill, the concrete pool was a "paradise" to the local young people.

One afternoon during a West Texas windstorm, Bob Crump noticed from across the railroad that the windmill was leaning dangerously too far under the strain. Crump, Clint Calley, and Horace Gaither quickly tied ropes to the windmill and staked it in a more upright position. The damage was surveyed the next day, and residents declared that the windmill was "good for another fifty years."

County officials decided then to build a community club house. Two stories in height, the building was fifty by eighty feet in size, and contained a complete stage, a 500-seat auditorium, and a kitchen in the basement. A Shallowater Clubhouse committee was appointed to oversee all phases of its construction. Composed of Bob Crump, president, Clint Calley, secretary, and Pate Hardy, the committee approved numerous aspects of the construction and handling funds, which were deposited in the Citizens National Bank of Lubbock.

The clubhouse was completed in the fall of 1924 and was one of the largest in Lubbock County.

County roads, vital links to any community, played an important role in the development of the West Texas town. After the Texico cutoff was built, the "Lubbock and Littlefield Public Road," as it was then called, followed the railroad, veering back and forth across the tracks. In March 1918, Shallowater citizens petitioned the Commissioners Court to eliminate a dangerous railroad crossing southeast of the town, by opening a new public road totally south of the tracks.

The request was granted and the new road was named the "RQM Highway" after Roger Q. Mills, a famous Texas who represented the state in the U.S. Senate and Congress from 1873 until 1899. The dirt road was paved in 1930.

Other roads were completed during the late 1920's and joined other communities and united them with the outside world.

Eye Coordination

When your eyes are working the way they should, they're both looking directly at an object with the same intensity & precision. But if they're not, there may be a problem in the muscles of one or both eyes.

Each eye has six muscles that control movement and position. They must be in good working condition to give you proper eye coordination. If there's a weakness or defect in any one of these muscles, your eyes are not getting the help they need to see well.

This can cause problems. Your vision won't be as clear as it should be. You'll probably be putting extra strain on the weak muscles and try to bring them into line. This can cause headaches, fatigue, and sometimes double vision. It also affects your depth perception, your ability to judge the size of things seen at a distance.

To be in good health, you should be able to control all of your muscle movements, including the muscles of your eyes. If you've noticed any weakness in your vision, it's time to have an eye examination.

did you know?

The steam-driven turbine rotor at Tolk Station, our new coal-fired plant near Muleshoe, Texas, whirls at such great speed that if it were placed on the highway, it would travel the 125 miles from Lubbock to Amarillo in about 6 minutes. Other interesting facts about the power plant, which began generating electricity in July: At the speed the main steam — which drives the turbine — travels through the pipes, it could finish the Boston Marathon (26 miles) in about 12 minutes. At maximum output the turbine produces about 728,000 horsepower. It can provide power for 5,430,000 hundred-watt light bulbs.

Jim Matthews, Generation Design & Construction Group Manager, Amarillo.

The primary fuel for Tolk Station is a low-sulphur, high-heat-value coal from the Black Thunder Mine near Gillette, Wyoming. Southwestern Public Service made the decision to buy this coal because the low-sulphur rating means we can comply with certain requirements of the Clean Air Act without installing extremely complex and extremely expensive pollution-control devices.

Leo Austin, Supervising Engineer, Roswell.

We'll turn things upside down to benefit our customers. Here's an example: We use a "rotary dumper" system to unload the railroad cars which carry coal to Tolk. The cars are unloaded one by one. Each is attached to a large wheel that literally turns the car upside down, pouring out the coal. The system allows us to use lighter weight coal cars. So our freight cost is lower, and so is the fuel cost adjustment our customers pay.

Jack Logan, Operations Superintendent, Muleshoe.

Abernathy Youth Dies In Auto Accident

Christopher Edward Oswald, 14, of Abernathy died Thursday in Harris Hospital in Fort Worth of injuries suffered in a car-truck accident near Weatherford Monday.

When the youth was taken to the hospital, he reportedly had a heart beat and was put on a life support system, but was removed from it at 2 p.m. Thursday.

Five people were killed instantly in the accident, including Christopher's mother, Janita Louise Oswald, 37, of Graham.

The accident occurred eight miles east of Weatherford on Interstate 20. According to officers of the Texas Department of Public Safety, the car Mrs. Oswald was driving had a blow-out and the radial tire immediately wrapped around the emergency brake and drive shaft stopping the care instantly.

The car was struck from the rear by a pick-up truck driven by John Gailey, 31, of Strawn. The seven occupants of the car were trapped inside when it turned over.

Pronounced dead at the scene, in addition to Mrs. Oswald were Patricia Ann Wooters, 38, and her children, Robert Shawn, 12, Christopher Allen, 11, and Christina Dawn, 6, all of Graham. Sonja Charlene Norton, 20, of Graham is

JPs Rule Suicide In Shooting Deaths

Suicide was ruled Friday in the shooting deaths of two nightclub employees in separate incidents Thursday night.

Justice of the Peace Charles Smith ruled that Lester Howard "Buba" Lee Jr., 28, of 4906 14th St. died from a self-inflicted gunshot wound to the right side of the head.

A .45-caliber semi-automatic pistol was found near the body, which was lying near an ice bin inside the Blue Moon Cafe, formerly of burlesque bar called the Sweet Retreat, at 1813 Texas Ave. Lee was bar manager at the establishment.

Witnesses told officers Lee had spoken angrily to a woman, telling her to get away from him seconds before picking up the pistol from behind the bar and shooting himself.

In an earlier incident at 7:42 p.m., Justice of the Peace Wayne LeCroy ruled that Keith Arlin Choate, 21, of 7502 Ave. H, Apt. 115, who worked as a disc jockey at Bandy's Club at 711 34th St., died from a self-inflicted gunshot to the chest.

Choate was pronounced dead after emergency treatment at Methodist Hospital. According to reports, Choate shot himself in the chest after a confrontation with a police officer in the club's parking lot.

Officers were called to the club after receiving a report that gunshots had been fired and discovered Choate with a gun in his hand near a dumpster in the parking lot.

Patrol officer Troy Coon ordered the man to put down the pistol, but Choate refused, turning his back to the officer and shot himself once in the chest with a .22-caliber revolver.
