Barry Tilley Selected DAR Good Citizen Candidate

Barry Tilley, son of Mr. and Mrs. R.G. Tilley, was selected by the faculty of Abernathy High School to be a candidate for the Mary McCoy Baines Chapter of DAR for the Good Citizen Award. Members of the Senior class nominated three candidates and the faculty selected one of those three to be the candidate on the basis of the NSDAR rules.

The recipient of the honor is judged on qualities of outstanding leadership, responsibility, cooperation, citizenship, high values and high grades.

Barry won the Outstanding Achievement Award in Journalism, the Individual Achievement Award for Featurette Writing, the Individual Achievement Award for Feature Writing, 1st place, District Level in Editorial Writing and Feature Writing in UIL, 2nd place, Regional Level in UIL, 3rd place, State Level in Feature Writing, Outstanding Achievement Award for Outstanding work as School Newspaper's Editor-in-Chief, and Award for All-year Honor Roll.

He serves as Youth pastor of his church and is active in all phases of church activities.

He plans to become a full-time pastor following graduation.

Tea For Candidates Feb. 12

All area school candidates, their parents, school principals, counselors and friends will be honored at a Tea February 12, 1983, to be given by the Mary McCoy Baines Chapter, where each candidate will be presented a Certificate of Award and a Good Citizen Pin. The Good Citizen winner will be announced at that time and will receive a $100 scholarship.

The local DAR Good Citizen winner, mother and father, are invited to attend the TSDAR State Conference in Galveston in March. The State DAR Good Citizen receives a State DAR Good Citizen Pin, a $200 Educational Award, an engraved Paul Revere bowl from the State Society, and a $100 Educational Award from the National Society. The Divisional winner will receive a $250 Educational Award.

The National winner receives a $1,000 scholarship to the college of the student's choice and a sterling silver Paul Revere bowl that has been engraved.

ABERNATHY HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS hold some of the goods donated by high school students to the needy. Approximately 700 canned goods were donated in the drive. Many toys and games were also donated by students. The High School student council delivered the canned goods and toys to needy Abernathy families to help them have better Christmases. ON THE COUNTY LINE

BY KEITH TOOLEY

BE ON THE WATCH for vehicles you don't normally see travelling in and around Abernathy. A lot of burglaries have occurred lately and this is the prime time of the year for burglars to strike.

And it is a terrible problem this year. A lot of local folks may just stay home with a shotgun this year in order to keep what they have.

Last week, burglars broke into the Barber Shop next door, Dairy Queen and Burger Hut all in one evening. Newton Radio and TV reported that $400 was taken right out of their cash register while they were out to lunch. The number of burglaries are increasing every week.

The rural areas are really being hit heavily this year. Thomas Pettit had some things taken from a barn near his place.

Everyone should be on the watch for their neighbor's home. We have got to pull together on this and put these burglars behind bars.

It is getting too easy to steal these days because even if burglars are caught red handed, they rarely will see the inside of a jail cell for long. But having them jailed for a short period is better than nothing.

So be on the look-out this holiday season for burglars and lets catch these thieves before they spoil any more Christmases.

YOU HAVE PROBABLY HEARD that there are a lot of area towns distributing free cheese. Yes, it is free and is being distributed through the Department of Human Resources Commodity Office at 800 Broadway, Lubbock.

You have to acquire your cheese through some local organization. Locally it is being distributed at St. Isidore Catholic Church.

Any non-profit organization can get the free cheese and butter if they agree to distribute it to those over 55 or the needy, who the program was designed for in the first place.

Organizations that do go get the cheese, must sign a statement of intent and pay a small storage fee. I think the fee is 35 cents for every 30 pound case of cheese or butter acquired.

As hard as things are this year, those who are not yet 55 years of age, will still qualify for the cheese and butter as everyone in this small farming community could be classified as the needy. This has been a tough year for everyone.

But there are still plenty of things we can be thankful for this year and we will dwell on those.

IN THIS EDITION of the Review, we have listed all the subscribers who need to renew their subscriptions in January. If your name is on this list, your subscription ends sometime in January. We are trying this method to try to cut down on soaring postage costs. In the past, we have mailed individual notices to each subscriber.

THE FOLLOWING MESSAGE reflects one of the main truths about Christmas and the holidays ahead. I received it in the mail from the Central Plains MHMR Center in Plainview.

When I went to buy it, I discovered it wasn't to be found, not in any size. It can't be packaged or wrapped in pretty paper...but a tinkling bell can bring it to mind...as well as a little bird feeding in the snow or the happy sight of children laughing and playing. It can only be given. And so this Christmas I send to you...the gift of love. Alice Ann Giggerstaff.

ALONG WITH THE REST of the merchants in this edition of the Review, we would like to sincerely wish everyone a Merry Christmas. The locals businesses appreciate your patronage in shopping locally and giving them a chance before trying Lubbock or Plainview.

Be sure and read the Christmas messages in this edition, because the merchants have purchased the space to thank you for your business and wish you a Merry Christmas.

THE FFA FRUIT has been delivered and Gerald Kelley informed me that if anyone is not pleased with their fruit to give him or Scotty Windham a call and they will see to it, Gerald said that every box of fruit was opened and checked before it was delivered. The FFA has received some favorable comments about the quality of this years fruit.

CONGRATULATIONS to Max and Delayne Thomason who have a brand new baby boy, born Monday night. Delayne has worked at the Review for the past 1 1/2 years and will be back to work for us when she fully recuperates from giving birth.

She had her baby on due date, not too early, not too late, but right on the date her doctor projected. I believe this is a rare occurrence.

City Sales Tax Rebates Up For Some Area Towns

State Comptroller Bob Bullock Tuesday sent $42.1 million to 973 Texas cities as their share of the one-percent city sales tax for December.

The 1982 statewide total is up 8.8 percent over the 1981 year-end total. This payment reflects taxable sales made in October and reported to the state by the end of November.

Rebates for Abernathy have improved since January of 1982. In January, City sales tax rebated to Abernathy was down over 40 percent. Rebates have improved 31 percent since then as Abernathy is down only 9 percent for this period.

For December, Abernathy will be rebated $1,709, down 9 percent, bringing this cities total rebates for 1982 to $46,906. Last year at this time, Abernathy had received $51,940.

Overall, Hale County is up 2 percent over 1981.

Hale Center will receive a check for $796 this period bringing that cities total to $32,201, an 11 percent increase compared to rebates in 1981.

Petersburg is still way down from last year. They will receive a check for $737 this period, down 24 percent, bringing that cities total to $16,881.

New Deal will not receive a check for this period bringing that cities total rebates to $3,208 this year. Even though New Deal will not get a city sales tax rebate this period, New Deal is still up 52 percent over 1981.

Abernathy Young Farmers To Offer Welding Shortcourse In Jan.

The Abernathy Young Farmers are offering a Welding Shortcourse during the week of January 10 through January 14.

Pete Stracener, the Welding Instructor at South Plains College in Levelland will teach this four day course.

The courses that will be instructed, will be the Basics of Welding, Aluminum Welding, Hardsurfacing and Oxy-acetylene.

These courses will last 3 hours a night except Wednesday, when there will be no class. Time for these classes will be from 7-10 p.m. Jan. 10 - Monday; 7-10 p.m. Jan. 11 - Tuesday; 7-10 p.m. Jan. 13 - Thursday and 5-8 p.m. Jan. 14 - Friday.

Cost for this short course will be $15. Anyone interested please call David Hunt at 328-5318 before Jan. 3.

Lions Sponsor Boys Ranch Drive

The Abernathy Lions Club is still sponsoring a local drive in hopes of collecting donations for Texas Boys Ranch. Items donated will be delivered to the Boys Ranch near Lubbock.

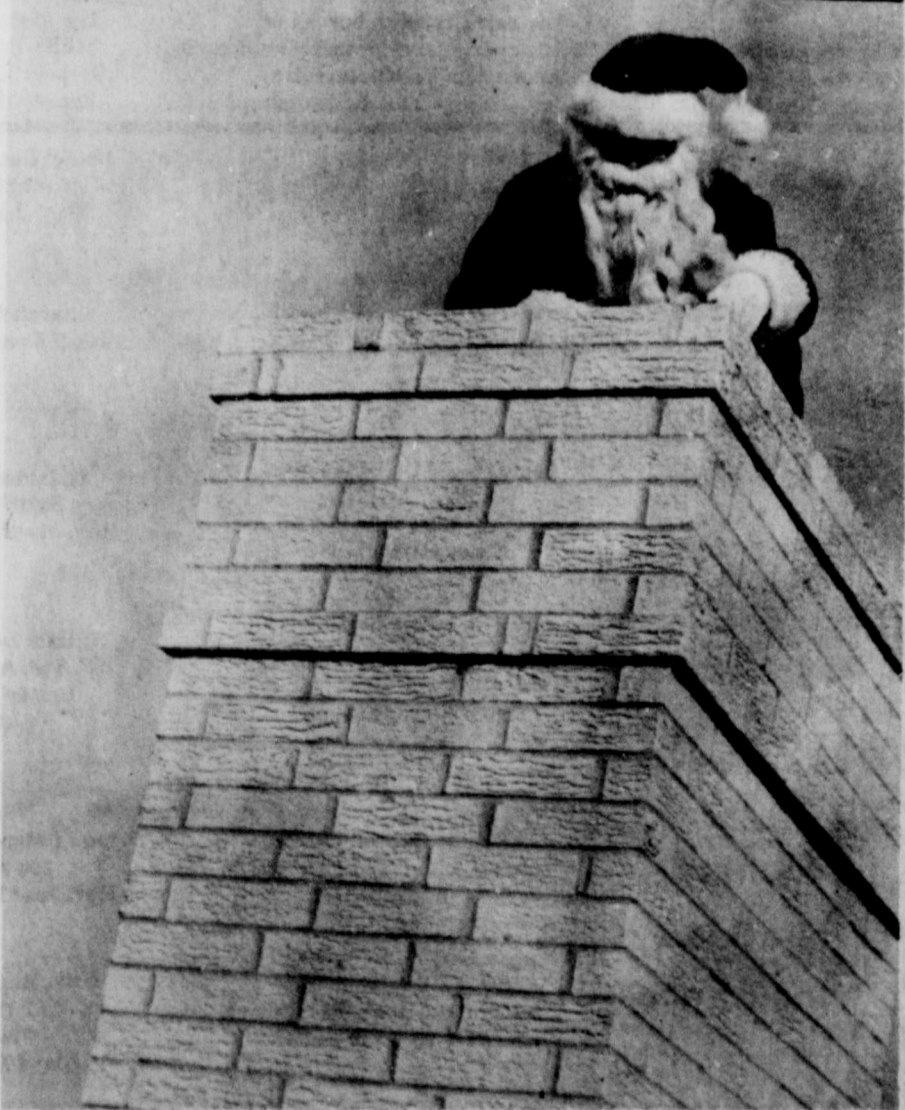

Harold Stillwell reported that a bicycle has been donated thus far. The boys need bicycles, furniture or anything else that they might be able to use.

Those who have items to donate should contact Harold Stillwell at 298-2114 (office), or 298-2274 (home), and he will pick them up.

Small items should be delivered to the Abernathy Weekly Review. Call 298-2033.

The drive will continue into January, so gather items that you are not using and let the boys at Boys Ranch get the good out of them.

Sunshine Group Enjoys Christmas Program

The Sunshine Group met Thursday, November 16 at the Community Center. The Christmas spirit was very much in evidence at the Sunshine Group meeting.

Blanche Coggin had all the tables looking so pretty with all the Christmas decorations and a little wrapped gift at each place. The group really enjoys all the pretty decorations Blanche uses for every holiday of the year.

Floyd Shipman, President, opened the meeting and Bro. HB Coggin gave the prayer. There were 39 present, including our guest, Chris Waters. We were so glad to have Frances Garvin with us. She brings good cheer, and with her sense of "humor", keeps everyone laughing and having a good time. Come again Frances.

Katherine Dye, our program director, asked Bro. Tommie Beck to have the program. Everyone always loves to hear Tommie sing as well as the food for thought he can bring in his talks to us.

He opened the program with a message of love and hope from The Son of God, Jesus Christ our savior. His talk was on, "How Christmas means so many things to us." He sang, "How Great Thou Art", "Silent Night" and many more, he told us the story of Silent Night. He picked up his guitar and played and sang. We were sure the cowboy would begin to show, but he still looked like Bro. Tommie the preacher, kind and generous and a person who loves people.

Betty Reynard played the piano for him and he told us they didn't practice, because he never sang a song the same way twice. We all enjoyed it very much. "Thanks Tommie."

Lots of food and wonderful fellowship was enjoyed around a table full of Christmas goodies. Floyd gave the closing prayer and blessed the food.

Those present were:

Bernice Smith, Dora Talbott, Katherine Dye, Minnie Northcutt, Lizzie Lebow, Dixie Pittman, Ollie Selke, Oma Toler, Juanita Brantley, Lillie Mae Shipman, Floyd Shipman, Reita Smith, Vessie Kemp, Sarah Fitzgerald, Jean Odum, HB Coggin, Blanche Coggin,

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

"Christmas Joy"

By Bro. Roswell Brunner
First Church of Nazarene

It is Christmas time. Already many families are traveling to be together for Christmas. Some will travel many miles to be with their families for the Christmas season.

Most everyone has spent a great amount of time shopping. All of this is good, but we do not want to lose sight that this is the birth of Jesus Christ that we are celebrating.

The angel said to the shepherds; "Fear not: for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be unto all people." Luke 2:10.

Christmas is to be a time of real joy. This Christmas joy is because Christ came, in human form, to be with us. It is God in human flesh. He left heaven to come to earth. He came as Saviour of the whole world. That makes Christmas a time of great joy.

Who is this joy for? The angel said the joy "Shall be unto all people." That, of course, includes all of us in the joy of Christmas. It is joy to all people because a Saviour has come to "Save his people from their sins."

George F. Handel said it well in his son, Joy to The World":

"Joy to the World! the Lord is come; Let earth receive her King. Let every heart prepare Him room, An heaven and nature sing, And heaven and nature sing."

"Joy to the world! the Saviour reigns; Let men their songs employ; While fields and floods, rocks, hills and plains Repeat the sounding joy, Repeat the sounding joy."

T.E.L. Class Meets

The T.E.L. Sunday School class of the First Baptist Church met December 15 for their Christmas party in the home of Eunice O'Neil.

A round of current and local events were discussed followed by a short program. Mrs. Bruce read the poem "The Orphan and the Christmas Tree" by Edward Colwell. Mrs. Grimsley gave the reading of "Now is the Time" and "The A.B.C.'s of Christmas" by Jeanne Blomquist. Mrs. O'Neil read a beautiful Christmas story by Norman Vincent Peal.

While Mrs. O'Neil served refreshments of cake and cokes, Mrs. Grimsley took a number of snapshots.

All agreed the party helped give the group more Christmas spirit. Those attending were: Fanny May Bruce, Susie Anderson, Hallie Pool, Martha Phillips, Lizzie Lebow, Pearl Grimsley and the hostess, Eunice O'Neil.

WINNER OF THE CHRISTMAS drawing held at Newton Radio and TV last Monday was Carol Boyd, on the right. Wilma Newton, on the left, presents the Christmas stocking, full of toys, games and other goodies, to Carol. The Christmas stocking was 6 feet tall and was hanging in the store until the drawing was held. (Review Photo)

This and That

By Helen Wade

Michael Riley Wooten received his degree from Texas Tech Dec. 17. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Wooten of Lubbock and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. M.M. Bell of Abernathy.

He is a special grandson and the Bell's are proud of him and his accomplishments.

Mr. and Mrs. M.M. Bell attended the Christmas Cantata in Trinity Church Sunday night. Their son, Don, is a member of the adult choir at Trinity. Mrs. Bell said, "It was a beautiful program with lots of praises to the Lord in the music."

Don Bell has completed his course in single and multi engine land and is now a commercial instrument rated airplane pilot.

Mrs. Bell says, "We are proud of him, but she would of never chosen flying for him. But I know that Don loves the Lord and he knows that God is his pilot."

County Line Baptist Church had their Christmas program Sunday night. Bro. Danny Jackson presented a puppet show. Those helping Bro. Danny were Sheree Williams, Terry Bradshaw and Robert Jackson. Several Christmas songs were sung between each skit.

After the puppet show, the church had a candlelight service which was very spiritual and beautiful.

Refreshments were served in fellowship hall at the close of the service. Lots of Christmas goodies were served.

I wish you a very Merry Christmas and a safe holiday. If you are driving, allow plenty of time to reach your destination.

"All real works of art look as if they were done in joy."
— Robert Henri

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Max Thomason, of Abernathy, are the proud parents of a boy, Richard Glyn Thomason, born Monday at 9:14 p.m. in Herst-Eules-Bedford Hospital located in the Dallas complex.

The baby boy weighed-in at 8 pounds, 8 ounces and RECYCLE YOURSELF—be an organ donor, recommends Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, a health education specialist.

According to the American Red Cross, anyone 18 or older may donate all or part of his body to research, transplantation or placement in a time bank, she says. For more information, contact The Living Bank, Hermann Professional Building, P.O. Box 6725, Houston, Texas 77005.

Shirer is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The Texas A&M University System.

HANDICAPPED IN PHYSICAL terms does not mean handicapped in feelings, says Diane Welch, a family life education specialist.

A handicapped person's

Christmas Program For Children's Bible Class

Last week, the children's bible class of Abernathy heard the Christmas Story, told by Rynn Parker via the flannel graph.

Each class had a cake with "Happy Birthday Jesus", written on it. Then they sang the birthday song. The children remember why the children ringer why we have Christmas. Too often in our excitement, we forget the real meaning of Christmas.

The children's bible classes are taught by Rynn and Anna Parker.

Eunice Major

Services for Eunice Major, 56, of Route 3, Lubbock, were at 10 a.m. Tuesday at First United Methodist Church in Abernathy, with the Rev. Tommie Beck and the Rev. C.R. Copeland officiating.

Graveside services were at 4 p.m. Tuesday at White Deer Cemetery under direction of Chambers Funeral Home of Abernathy.

Mrs. Major died at 7:20 p.m. Sunday at Methodist Hospital after an illness.

The Webb City, Okla., native moved to Amarillo in 1927 and was a graduate of Amarillo High School. She married Ted Major in New York in 1944. They lived in Groom until moving to Abernathy in 1975. She was a teacher's aid in Abernathy and had worked at the Lubbock County Clerk's Office.

She was a member of First United Methodist Church of Abernathy.

Survivors include her husband; five sons, Brad of Hobbs, Kyle of Amarillo, Jett of Littlefield, Del of Laverne, Okla., and Chad of Lubbock; her mother, Nettie Duvall of Amarillo; a sister, Louise Vesper of Minco, Okla.; two brothers, Floyd Marrs of Palmer, Alaska, and Earl Marrs of Amarillo; and 11 grandchildren.

Winter Safety Tips From The Abernathy VFD

Here are some safety tips from the Abernathy Volunteer Fire Department.

1. When cold weather sets in, thermostats are naturally turned higher as the temperature outside gets lower. Filters in central heating units should be changed at least once a month during the fall and winter months.

2. If open flame heaters are in use for extended periods of time, a window should be raised slightly to allow sufficient oxygen for the heater to burn cleanly. An insufficient supply of oxygen could cause the heater to produce carbon monoxide. Carbon monoxide is a deadly gas which is odorless, colorless, and tasteless. This gas is hazardous if exposure is continuous and at a high enough level of concentration.

3. Christmas trees, wrapping paper, newspapers, etc., should never be disposed of in home fireplaces. Christmas trees have an oil content in the needles which could produce a very large fire in a few seconds.

Members of the Abernathy

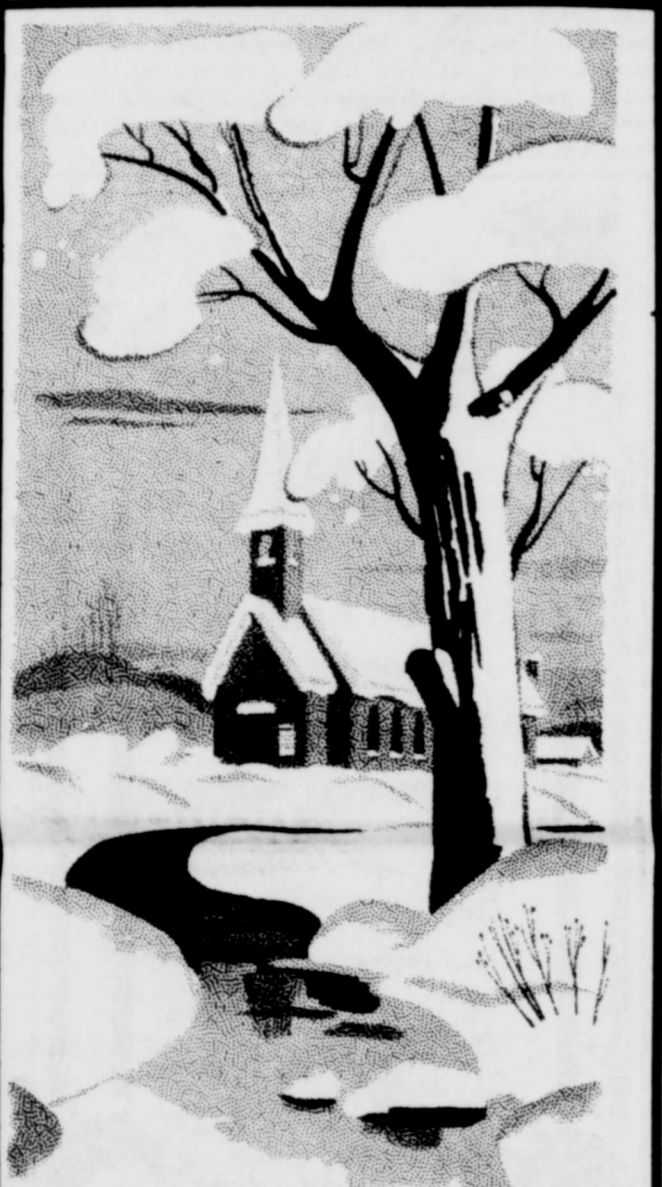

VFD express their thanks to the community for their support during the past year. We extend to you our hope for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Lindsey Webb, Chief Abernathy VFD.

PRESENTED A CERTIFICATE OF APPRECIATION was Tech Student Teacher Ken Burks, who as an Ag Education Major at Texas Tech. He has done his student teaching at AHS and has helped Gerald Kelley and Scotty Windham this year. FFA President Gordon Havens presented the award to Burks. MERRY CHRISTMAS

Abernathy Weekly Review

HAPPY HOLIDAYS indeed as locals prepare for Christmas this Saturday. This banner was on display in the hall between High School and Junior High. The halls were also covered with Christmas posters and decorations. (Review Photo).

Christmas Holidays Toy Safety Important

When your child composes his gift list to Santa this year, why not add a "P.S." reminding the jolly old man to leave safe as well as entertaining presents under the tree.

Receiving Christmas gifts is an exciting experience for all children. However, unless the presents are hazard-free, the happiness they bring may be tarnished by an unfortunate accident," says Texas Safety Association's Executive Director, George Gastafson.

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission estimates that every year approximately 150,000 people suffer injuries associated with toys, with more than half of the victims being children under 10 years old. Two- to four-year-olds are most frequently injured because they are at the 'curious age' when physical abilities are developed," Gustafson adds.

Several considerations should enter into the choice of toys for children, Gustafson points out:

*Choose a toy that is appropriate for the child's age, interests and skill level.

*Check for safety labels such as "non-toxic" on painted toys, "flame retardant flame resistant" on fabric products and "washable/hygienic materials" on stuffed toys and dolls.

*Avoid any toys with sharp points or made of brittle plastic or glass that can be easily broken, exposing dangerous cutting edges.

*Remember that tiny toys with small removable parts can be swallowed or become lodged in a child's windpipe, ears or nose.

*Consider that flying toys can injure eyes. Buy children arrows or darts that have soft cork tips, rubber suction cups or other protective tips to prevent injury.

In the Christmas tradition, we wish you all a fun and festive season! Many thanks to one and all!

"SPEC members have saved over $6,000,000 since 1975."

Over the past few years, the cost of almost everything has doubled, even tripled in some cases. And that includes the wholesale cost of electricity.

But at South Plains Electric Cooperative, we're happy to report our member owners have saved over $6,000,000.00 with the wholesale power contract negotiated by management in 1972.

What this means is that while SPEC members were saving money, their counterparts in the cities and towns with municipal electric companies were spending more money to run their homes and do their work.

Electricity makes life easier, safer and more comfortable. And it's still a bargain...at South Plains Electric Cooperative, bringing you the "Economic Facts of Light."

Senior Spotlight...Rod Burgett and Kristy Tipton

Once upon a time, a long time ago, in the faraway land of Lubbock, a little boy was born to Bryan and Linda Burgett. This little boy, now eighteen years of age, is our first senior spotlight this week. Rod Burgett is one of our most active seniors. He is the President of the Student Council; he is a member of the Society of Distinguished American High School

Kristy Tipton

Students and is active in FCA. Rod is also involved in football, basketball, track, golf, and tennis. Besides all this, Rod is on the annual staff and plans to try out for the One-Act Play.

Rod's favorite hobbies are dating, singing, sports (if you hadn't noticed), and eating. He likes watching "Newhart" and "Dynasty" on T.V. and listening to contemporary Christian music. "A Man From Snowy River" hit number one on Rod's movie chart.

Rod really enjoys going to his English IV and Government classes, which is good since he plans on going to college. Hamburger Helper and (read this close Mrs. Burgett) his mom's tuna casserole fall into Rod's "favorite food" category.

Two of Rod's major accomplishments are being chosen for All-Star Cast in honor of his acting in the One-Act Play and being chosen All-District Quarterback.

Rod's only comment on his personality was to say he liked making friends. As for being a senior, Rod said "I love it! People look up to us". Rod's philosophy was interesting: "This above all:

To Thine Own Self Be True!" from Shakespeare's Hamlet.

His closing remark was also unique and interesting: "Never keep a litter bag in your car because when it gets full, you have to throw it out the window." Try to figure that one out!

Kristy Tipton

Our second spotlight shines on Kristy Tipton, daughter of Harry and Shirley Tipton. Kristy bounced into this world on February 16, 1965, making her 17 years old.

Kristy has worked for over a year at Long John Silver's, which finances her hobbies: dancing, dating, decorating and partying with her friends. Understandably, her favorite food is not Long John Silver's fish, but she does enjoy Italian and Chinese foods and her mother's roast beef and gravy.

Rock and Roll music is number one with Kristy as is the T.V. serial "Soap". She loves movies and couldn't choose one favorite, but she did name "An Officer and a Gentleman," "E.T.," and "Poltergeist" as being tops.

Kristy is a member of band and President of FHA as well as being photographer for the newspaper staff. She is also in Poetry Interpretation and plans to try-out for the One Act Play. Although she is not actively involved in sports, Kristy likes jogging and bike-riding whenever she has the time, which is not often.

David Stalter and Eric Thompson.
Sophomores: Gracie Duenez and Kirk Garner.

Kristy's accomplishments include being a Regional qualifier in Poetry and helping the One-Act Play win District two years in a row.

When asked about being a senior, Kristy said, "It's not near as much as I expected. It's been a rough year so far! But no, nothing and nobody is gonna stop me from making this my best and most memorable year ever!" She said the high point of the year for her was beating New Deal "to the Max!!"

Kristy is working toward a photography scholarship right now, but if that doesn't work out, she plans to go to South Plains and major in Child Development. She wants to eventually work with physically, emotionally, and mentally handicapped children. Kristy plans on making her career the biggest part of her life and she can't wait to get started on it. NHS Holds Annual Party For Kindergarten

Last Wednesday the National Honor Society held its annual Christmas party for the kindergarteners.

Playing the part of Santa Claus in tennis shoes was Tracy Cobb. Each child was given a cookie, candy cane, and a unique name tag. They also had a chance to tell Santa what they want for Christmas. The most popular items were Barbie dolls and "He-man" dolls.

Also stories were read to the children by speech students in the NHS. The story books were then presented to the kindergarten classes. Overall, it was a successful party and Santa Claus was a big hit. By Debi Dirickson.

Dear Santa,
I want 3 guatar and a drume and a micr fome and a rell kamr and a bago and a stuff deer and a rell deer and a rell elf and a choke bord and a desk to go withit and a rell pappe and that will be all and as tell the rain deers thah I love them.
Santa.

Betty Roberts "On Top Of Things" As High School Secretary

Betty Roberts, the high school secretary, has many duties. Some of these duties include typing, answering the phone, making out absentee and tardy slips, keeping books, and keeping the absentee register.

Mrs. Roberts enjoys her work because she likes being with students and being involved in school activities.

She has worked for the school about three and one half years and has put all of her heart into her work.

Mr. Harris values Mrs. Roberts work in the office. He commented, "I think all of Shallowater knows what a fine person Betty Roberts is and how fortunate our school is to have such a person working for them."

Some students were asked what they thought of Mrs. Roberts and this is what the general consensus was, "Mrs. Roberts is a fine person to know and she has a good personality."

Mrs. Roberts should be commended for the hard work she does in the high school office. Thank you, Mrs. Roberts. By Jon Sellers.

Mary B. Turner

Graveside services for Mary B. Turner, 91, of Lubbock were held at 1 p.m. December 10th in Matador Cemetery with Rev. Gary Hillard, of Matador, officiating. Burial was under the direction of Englund's Funeral Home of Slaton.

She died at 3:45 a.m. Thursday, December 9th, in Lubbock Nursing Home where she had resided for the past several years. She was the widow of Charlie Lee Turner, who died in January of 1933. She was an Arkansas native and a Baptist.

Survivors include two sons, H.M. and C.W., both of the Lubbock area; a daughter, Conzada Patterson of Lubbock; and 16 grandchildren, including Glendon and Don Turner of New Deal and Linda Kohler of Shallowater, as well as many great-grandchildren and several great-great grandchildren.

Debra Kimbrell This Weeks SHS Working Student

Debra Kimbrell is a Shallowater High School senior working at Dillard's in the South Plains Mall on a half-day basis. She works in the linen and drapes department. She is a first year member of DECA.

Debra really enjoys working. She says she really enjoys the extra spending money. Her job makes her feel important.

Debra isn't sure yet about going to college. She plans to work at Dillard's until June. She'll probably be moving in July and plans to be working full time after she get settled.

Of her money, Debra puts some in the bank, and the rest goes for gas and recreation. The reason for Debra working is it will help her future. In her opinion of working, she says, "I love it! I recommend that everyone get a job they enjoy doing." By Gracie Duenez.

Shipp-Ford Wedding Vows Exchanged Dec. 18

Mrs. John Shipp

Miss Jeanie Shipp and Wm. Patric Ford, both of Saginaw, Texas, were united in marriage in a formal candlelight ceremony, Saturday afternoon, December 18, at 2 o'clock in the First Baptist Church of Saginaw, Texas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Shipp of Lubbock. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.C. Ford of Paris, Texas, and the grandson of Mrs. Eva Ford, also of Paris.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Allan Cox, Minister of Music at Green Acres Baptist Church of Tyler, Texas, and Rev. Larry Shields, Minister of Music at Faith Baptist Church, Wichita Falls, Texas. The altar was accented with potted poinsettias, candlelight and Christmas greenery.

Mr. James Steele, organist, Rev. Allan Cox, trumpet, Mr. Stanton Nash II, soloist, and Misses Sydney and Amy Morris, neices of the bride and playing their violins, provided the music for the ceremony. The processional was "Sleepers Awake! A Voice is Sounding" by Bach and "Fanfare and Processional" by Wagner. The recessional was "Joy to the World" by Paul Manz. Other selections included "Once in David's Royal City", "Little Lamb Child", "Love Came Down at Christmas", and "An Ascription of Praise".

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a Victorian style gown of chiffon over crepe de chine. The fitted bodice was designed with a deep V yoke completed with tiny tucks edged in hand-made tatted lace, tiny satin ribbon and a high neckline of Alencon lace studded with seed pearls. Tiny satin-covered buttons fastened the back bodice and the waist tied with satin ribbon and a silk with satin ribbon and a silk lily-of-the-valley. Matching buttons fastened the deep cuffs of the leg o'mutton sleeves which were edged in the tatted lace and ribbon.

The slightly gathered skirt featured a cathedral-length train trimmed with tiny lace over candlelight crepe de chine and edged in wide bands of lace and matching ribbon. The bride wore a cap veil enhanced with Alencon lace and studded with seeded pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of cascading white silk roses, fresh stephanotis, baby's breath and Christmas Holly.

Mrs. Teri Burchfield, sister of the groom from Philadelphia, Pennsylvania was Matron of Honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jane Morris, sister of the bride, of Crosbyton, Texas, Mrs. Teresa Julian, Fort Worth, Texas, Miss Joyce Mahaffey, Lubbock, Texas and Miss Cindy Bryant, Lubbock, Texas. They wore formal red gowns of Lusterlo by Sylvia Ann, designed with flounced bodices with the standup collar enhanced with lace with long fitted sleeves. Each carried a Christmas wreath designed with Christmas greenery, holly, doves and ribbon.

of Fort Worth. Lance Morris of Crosbyton and Mark Burchfield of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania were ushers.

Blake Shipp, nephew of the bride, served as candlelighter.

Following the ceremony, the parents of the bride were hosts for the reception in McKee Annex of First Baptist Church of Saginaw. Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Shirley Tapp, Miss Lisa Tapp, Mrs. Theresa Howell, Mrs. Linda Burgett, Mrs. Dorothy Ford, Mrs. Wanda Shipp, Miss Roxanna Bouldin, Miss Gail Skipper, Miss Jill Kolb, Mrs. Barbara Cox, and Miss Bobby Jo Cranford.

A Bridesmaid brunch was given in the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. David Keith. Guests included the mothers of the couple, Mrs. Eva Ford, Mrs. Teri Burchfield, Mrs. Jane Morris, Mrs. Teresa Julian, Miss Joyce Mahaffey, Miss Cindy Bryant, Miss Sydney Morris, Miss Amy Morris, and Miss Kami Ford.

The couple will reside at 413 Wofford Way in Saginaw, Texas following a honeymoon cruise to the Bahamas.

Teal-Middlebrook Engagement Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Malouf, of Plainview, announce the engagement of

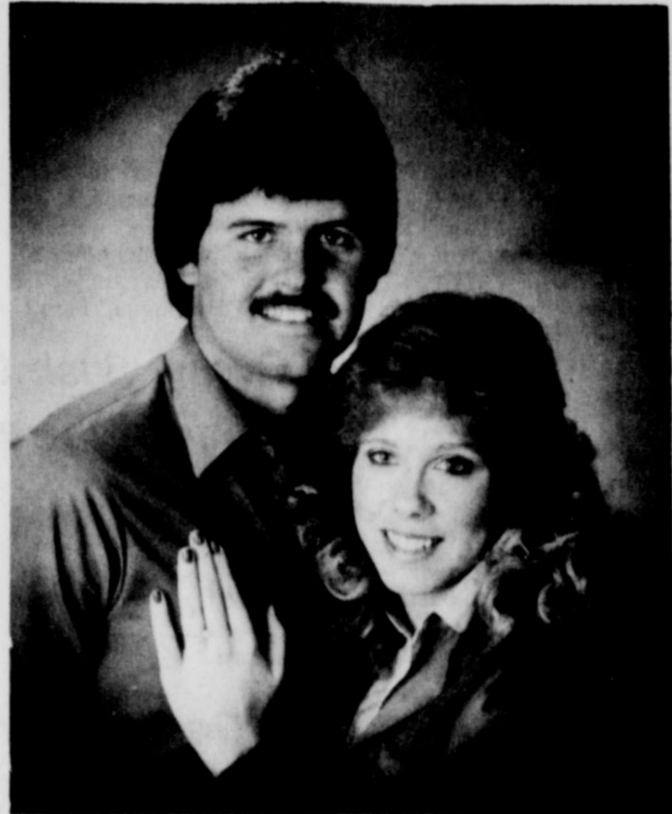

Mrs. Malouf's daughter, Kimberly Kay Teal, to Randall Wade Middlebrook of Shallowater.

Randy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyce Middlebrook of Shallowater. The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Owen of Abernathy and Mrs. Del Teal of New Deal. Grandparents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Paul Isbell and Mrs. Effie Lee Middlebrook of Shallowater.

Kim graduated from New Deal High School and Jesse Lee's Hair Design. Randy is a graduate of Shallowater High School and he attended West Texas State University.

After their marriage February 19 in the First United Methodist Church of Shallowater, the couple will reside in the Shallowater area to be near Randy's farming interest.

Randall Wade Middlebrook and Kimberly Kay Teal

Methodist Youth Have Christmas Hayride

"A Christmas Prayer" by: John Farrar

Last night I crept across the snow,
Where only tracking rabbits go.
And then I waited quite alone
Until the Christmas radiance shone!

At midnight twenty angels came,
Each white and shining like a flame.
At midnight twenty angels sang.

Lady Lions Place 2nd At New Deal Invitational

Mr. and Mrs. Ronny Bush Celebrate 25th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ronny Bush of New Deal, were honored with a reception on their 25th wedding anniversary in their home Saturday, December 18 at 7 p.m.

Hosting the event was their daughter, Mrs. Steve (Lori) Fortenberry of Hale Center, and their sons, Mark of Odessa, and Tad of the home. Assisting were Steve Fortenberry and Mrs. Mark Bush.

The stars swung out like bells and rang.

They lifted me across the hill,
They bore me in their arms until
A greater glory greeted them.
It was the town of Bethlehem.

And gently, then, they set me down,
All worshipping that holy town,
And gently, then, they bade me rise
My head to worship and to praise.

And gently, then, the Christ smiled down.
Ah, there was glory in that town!
It was as if the world were free
And glistening with purity.

And in that vault of crystal blue,
It was as if the world were new,
And myriad angels, file on file,
Gloried in the Christ-Child's smile.

It was so beautiful to see
Such glory, for a child like me,
So beautiful, it does not seem
It could have been a Christmas dream.

School Out For Holidays

The New Deal Public Schools dismissed for the holidays Friday, December 17.

Classes will resume January 3, 1983.

Happy Birthday

HAPPY BIRTHDAY this week to the following locals: Fred Hale, Paul Jones, Diane Buford, Tonda Hughes, Sally Otero, Ricky West, Ricky Shultz, Lisa James, Sue Attebury and Michael Looney.

HAPPY ANNIVERSARY this week to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Panter and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Teeter.

New Deal Children's Bible Club Wins 2nd In Christmas Parade

December 11th, the children's Bible Club of New Deal entered the New Deal Christmas parade. They won 2nd place, which delighted the children.

The float was prepared by the John Ford family, Tom Jones, Janet Askin and Ann Oliver. Several of the children helped. Perry Looney loaned his trailer to the group.

21 children rode in the float and were accompanied by their teachers, Rynn and Anna Parker; Lillie Belle Kramp, hostess Jonnie Ford; Brenda Ford and several mothers--Janet Askins and Ann Oliver.

As they rode through New Deal, they sang "Gospel Bells." Though the weather was very cold, everyone enjoyed being in the parade.

Hopefully next year, more New Deal people will be interested in making the Christmas parade more meaningful.

Children's Bible Class Has Christmas Program

Last week, the children's bible class of New Deal heard the Christmas story, told by Rynn Parker via the flannel graph.

Each class had a cake with "Happy Birthday Jesus," written on it. Then they sang the birthday song. The song helped the children remember why we have Christmas. Too often in our excitement, we forget the real meaning of Christmas.

The children's bible classes are taught by Rynn and Anna Parker.

"In The Week When Christmas Comes"

by: Eleanor Farjeon

This is the week when Christmas Comes.
Let every pudding burst with plums.
And every tree bear dolls and drums.
In the week when Christmas comes.

Let every hall have boughs of green,
With berries glowing in between.
In the week when Christmas comes.

Let every doorstep have a song
Sounding the dark street along.
In the week when Christmas

Let every steeple ring a bell
With a joyful tale to tell.
In the week when Christmas comes.

Let every night put forth a star
To show us where the heavens are.
In the week when Christmas comes.

Let every stable have a lamb
Sleeping warm beside its dam.
In the week when Christmas comes.

This is the week when Christmas comes!

Remember when...

This week's "remember when" is not on anyone from New Deal, but about someone whom we all must not forget during this time of year. A lot of us forget what Christmas really is all about and think of it as a burden. For those who think of Christmas as a burden, here is a little history taken from the second chapter of Luke in the Holy Bible.

In those days Caesar Augustus issued a decree that a Census should be taken of the entire Roman world. Everyone was to return to his hometown to register. Joseph went up from the town of Nazareth in Galilee to Judea, to Bethlehem the town of David, because he belonged to the house and line of David.

He went there to register with Mary, who was pledged to be married to him and was expecting a child. It was while they were there that it came time for the child to be born. Mary gave birth to her first born, a son. She wrapped him in clothes and placed him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn. It was then the angels appeared to the shepherds living in the fields and gave them the good news of the birth of our savior, Christ the Lord. On the 8th day, when it was time to circumcise the boy child, he was named Jesus, the name the angel had given him before he had been conceived.

During this Christmas season, remember to give "thanks" for the blessings of our families and remember the best blessing of all - the gift of Love. May you all have a Merry Christmas!

Card Of Thanks

To my dear friends, I would like to express my love and gratitude to my class members and all the sweet ladies that did so many nice things for me, the many calls, visits, flowers and most of all your prayers. I return to my class and church.

Olga Higginbotham (6-1tp)

There is no way we can express the joy we feel for having such loving friends. The many acts of kindness including phone calls, visits, flowers and cards were greatly appreciated. The prayers are what are making this Christmas a very special one. Thank you from the depths of our hearts.

Billy and Beth Gist (6-1tp)

Thank you so much for the kindness and concern shown me during my recent hospital stay and convalescent time at home. Words seem inadequate to express my appreciation for the visits, phone calls, cards, food and most of all your love and prayers. Its people like you that makes Abernathy a great place to live.

Ruth Ruffin (6-1tp)

ACNE MYTHS & FACTS

The Environment
Myths about acne abound. Some of them are about how the environment affects skin and skin health.

MYTH: Sun helps heal acne.

FACT: Most people feel acne gets better during the summer when their skin gets more exposure to the sun. In fact, about 20 percent of acne cases worsen during warm weather. The main impact of sunlight is to darken the skin—which merely makes blemishes less visible.

MYTH: Dirt causes acne.

FACT: Although knowledge about acne is growing, its cause is still not certain.

AMERICANS GET MORE for less work than citizens of other countries, says Bonnie Piernot, a family resource management specialist.

In spite of increases in prices at today's market place, Americans still have to work less to buy things they want and need than do citizens in other countries she explains.

Mrs. Piernot is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

BLAZERS AND JACKETS -- wear them buttoned or unbuttoned?

Buttoned, they create a dressier look, says Becky Saunders, a clothing specialist on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Unbuttoned jackets are less slenderizing as they often reveal a horizontal belt or waistband, she adds.

Our "ketchup" is derived from the "kechap" of Malaysia—a subtle blend of fish brine, herbs and spices.

ON A SODIUM-RESTRICTED DIET? -- and so you wash off regular tuna to get rid of the salt?

Forget it. Washing regular canned tuna or other fish will not reduce the sodium content, says Mary K. Sweeten, a foods and nutrition specialist.

On the other hand, buying dietetic pack tuna or salmon prepared without oil or salt will allow you to have those items without the sodium, she says.

Mrs. Sweeten is on the home economics staff of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

David R. Gibson, O.D.
DOCTOR OF OPTOMETRY

Spectator Vision

Only a few can make the big leagues in any sport. But as a spectator you can enjoy the drama and excitement of sports competitions if you have good vision. And if you don't, you can get corrective glasses or contact lenses to make sure you're not missing a thing.

Give yourself a test to make sure. Can you see the players' faces? Can you see the scoreboard? Do you notice any eye fatigue or eye strain when watching a sporting event - even when you're as close as your television screen can bring you? Do you miss key plays and have to wait for the sports announcer to tell you what you've missed?

These are all signs that you need an eye checkup. Maybe you've never had any difficulty in seeing anything you wanted to see. But our eyes change with time. Sometimes the focussing muscles are not as strong as they used to be. When you're watching something at a distance for a long period of time maybe you notice some eye discomfort. Even a slight degree of distortion can cause problems.

An eye examination is the best solution.

WANTS FOR HOMEOWNERS

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Needn't be a hard job this year—if you turn to your hardware store!
You can choose from a variety of quality hand tools for the do-it-yourselfer in convenient sets of either several sizes of the same tool, different tools, or sets in which all the accessories are included.

For example, there's a pocket-size set in a vinyl case holding adjustable wrench, pliers and screwdriver—good for the home, car or boat and made by Crescent.

Also useful is a Nest of Saws with a handle and three interchangeable fine steel blades for cutting wood, plastic or metal. The Home File Pak, also by Nicholson, is a plastic hang-up pouch of four files that will meet every home need. Weller has soldering gun kits complete with extra tips and solder.

Don't be shy about giving a gift with a purpose. Ask any homeowner, and he'll tell you that no one ever has too many top quality tools.

We give healthy homeowner savings to non-smokers

Why? Because Fire Insurance Exchange, a member company of the Farmers Insurance Group, has found they tend to be better insurance risks. Non-smokers live longer, healthier lives and there is less chance that their houses will go up in smoke.

So, if you haven't smoked in the past two years, call me today to see if you are eligible for real savings on your homeowner insurance and get acquainted with Farmers fast, fair, friendly service.

Partners map progress.

Lewis and Clark were trackless wilderness who challenged over 2,000 miles of trackless wilderness west of the Mississippi. Captain Meriweather Lewis, army officer and frontiersman, chose the artist and mapmaker Lieutenant William Clark for his partner. From 1803 to 1806 the two young men combined their skills and talents to search for a northwest passage to the Pacific Ocean.

As partners, Lewis and Clark provided detailed maps and valuable settlement journals which later encouraged rapid settlement and development of the West.

Today there is a new frontier to challenge — an energy frontier. You and Southwestern Public Service Company are partners like Lewis and Clark. Partners working together making energy decisions to make a difference. For instance, when you install a High-Efficiency Add-On Heat Pump in your home, you and SPS work together to better manage electricity. And when electricity is efficiently managed, it makes the difference.

Together, Lewis and Clark charted the maps that made the difference which helped win the West. Together, you and SPS can work as partners, charting progress for a new frontier in electricity management.

You and SPS, partners managing electricity, make the difference.

Lakeview Philosopher Looks At Proposed Gasoline Tax And Proposes Far Wider Use Of It

Editor's note: The Lakeview Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm endorses the gasoline tax this week, we think.

Dear editor:
I'm just guessing, but it may be that the proposal for a 5-cents a gallon tax on gasoline came about when a Congressman, demanding that "we get this country back on the road," got out on a highway himself and discovered it was full of pot holes and the bridges were shaky.

It's a problem for the Lame Duck session of Congress, as distinguished from a regular session, which I supposed is called a Well Duck session. I've never been to Washington and wouldn't know.

Anyway, the Administration in Washington says the tax isn't a tax, it's a user's fee. Let the people who use the highways pay for repairing them and at the same time give work for the unemployed.

It's a good idea and should be carried to other areas. For example, most people never go to court. Therefore, charge the people who do for the use of the courthouse, the use of the judge, the attorneys, the jurors, etc. If the courthouse roof leaks or the judge is shaky or the attorneys are full of pot holes, impose a user's fee. Five cents a second for all the time the attorneys take making up their minds whether to get started, would go far toward repairing most courthouse roofs. I'm not sure where to apply a user's fee to repair judges who render haywire decisions.

I started to suggest charging Congress a user's fee for wear and tear on the National Capitol, but it'd have little chance of passing.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

STEVE & LINDSEY MILES

With the Holiday Season fast approaching, the Texas Safety Association urges all motorists to drive defensively, buckle up and remember to protect children with crash-tested safety seats.

More children are killed every year in traffic accidents than from all childhood diseases combined. Those that are injured are often left victims of epilepsy or paraplegia.

The saddening fact of the statistics released by the National Safety Council is that the majority of these deaths and accidents could have been avoided. Of the 1500 children under the age of five killed last year in automobile accidents, as many as 90% could be alive today if they had been protected by a crash-tested child safety seat. Despite these figures it is estimated that less than 18% of the children in this age group ride restrained. Many concerned parents who wouldn't think of letting their children play in a busy street or go swimming alone still harbor some very dangerous misconceptions about protecting their children in automobiles.

Perhaps the most common and naive of these beliefs is that children, as well as adults, do not need to "buckle up" because accidents always happen to somebody else. However, accidents don't always happen to somebody else no matter how carefully you drive, and many times it is the children who are seriously injured if they are not properly restrained.

An unrestrained child weighing 30 lbs. involved in a traffic accident at 30 m.p.h. can sustain injuries akin to a fall from a three-story building.

Another reason children are hurt in traffic accidents is that adults think they can protect children by holding them in their arms or laps. This is also a myth. In the event of an accident the child runs the risk of being thrown helplessly about the car or being crushed between the adult and the dashboard.

Crash-tested safety seats which have been manufactured after December 31, 1980 can protect children from such injuries. These seats, which are moderately priced, can be found in the children's section of most retail and discount stores and make excellent gifts for young ones who are still riding unprotected.

Leather-bound books will benefit from periodic applications of saddle soap, neats-foot oil or petroleum jelly.

Here's a special thanks to the people who have made this year a real success! May your fondest dreams come true!

Panhandle Picasso...Bill Barrick

By Mark Heckmann

EDITORS NOTE: Bill Barrick is an extremely accomplished artist and he has become very famous for his paintings of scenes derived from his heritage in Texas. He graduated from Abernathy High School in 1963. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hilburn Barrick, reside at 211 Ave. M, Abernathy. The following is a story which was printed in the November issue of the magazine "Southwest", which is a publication of Southwest Airlines. The cover of the November issue is highlighted by a sub-head which reads "Picasso in the Panhandle", which refers to Bill Barrick and the article about him, enclosed within on pages 83 through 96. The following is the article as it was written by Mark Heckmann for the magazine (several of Barrick's paintings were also pictured in the magazine with the story).

Bill Barrick is a son of the Texas Soil, and his art reflects that heritage....

Did cowboys really tame the wild American frontier?

You may think so, but if you do, don't under any circumstances express this conviction to Texas artist Bill Barrick. To him, them's fighting words. Barrick insists it was the farmers who made the real imprint. He speaks - he paints - with the firsthand experience of growing up in the sprawling countryside between Amarillo and Lubbock, where the Texas Panhandle meets the Texas High Plains. And so he knows whereof he speaks and paints. Big ranches with names like the XII, the T Anchor, the Spade, and the Rocking Chair once claimed a large part of this territory. But side by side, and still in the same place today, are the farms that make this part of Texas one of the most productive agricultural regions in the world. With his brush, this 36-year-old artist captures the great era of American farming as he portrays familiar scenes of white-frame farmhouses, weather-beaten barns, creaking windmills, hard-worked tractors, and barbed-wire fences. His paintings are executed in a style he calls "rural epilogue." Barrick's first 18 years, spent on a cotton farm near Abernathy, Texas, left him convinced that the farmer was the towering, paramount figure in all of American history.

"A large percentage of American ancestors were immigrants who came to this country and became farmers," the painter explains. "The vast majority of Texas, in the center of Llano Estacado. County history records the first settler as being one Horatio Graves, who not only farmed the virgin sod but also established the county's first post office, first community center, first church, and first school. The farming tradition runs deep in Barrick's family. On his mother's side, his grandfather and great-grandfather worked together in 1903 to break the first section of virgin land on the XII Ranch. And his father's family, which had farmed in Central Texas, moved to the High Plains in the 1920's.

Perhaps nothing better attests to Barrick's theory than his home area of Hale County, Texas, in the center of Llano Estacado. County history records the first settler as being one Horatio Graves, who not only farmed the virgin sod but also established the county's first post office, first community center, first church, and first school. The farming tradition runs deep in Barrick's family. On his mother's side, his grandfather and great-grandfather worked together in 1903 to break the first section of virgin land on the XII Ranch. And his father's family, which had farmed in Central Texas, moved to the High Plains in the 1920's.

So as the American West comes alive on the canvases of Bill Barrick, one is more likely to see furrowed fields, plows, milk buckets, and barns than branding irons, six-shooters, bucking broncs, and saloons. Barrick's belief in the strong impact of the farmer on pioneer America is not an attempt to undermine the role of the cowboy and the ranchers, but rather to give the role of the farm the recognition it merits. This he does with a quiet conviction in his heart and an active brush in his hand.

Each of his paintings is rich with details of farm life: a Clabber Girl sign painted on the barn roof; a bird's nest perched in a knothole in the barn; an old water pump; a worn leather harness; a canvas-topped buggy. Once commonplace, now disappearing, these objects nonetheless remain embedded in the memories of countless numbers of Americans. Many of them are people who left the farm to pursue their livelihood in the cities. Barrick found his destination in a suburb of Austin. There, he pursues his art.

Says the artist, "Most of my paintings focus on life in rural America, especially in respect to agriculture and the remnants of America's recent past: the late nineteenth century and the first half of the twentieth." It is a life he remembers well. Farming was a job that extended from planting in the spring to cultivating in the summer and onto harvesting in the fall. And there were year-round chores to do as well. "Typically, we would get up in the morning and one or two of us boys would have to milk the cows, or feed the cows and the hogs. I remember that the chore of milking in the morning was mine. I had to get up and milk and later, on the way to school, I just knew everyone on the bus could smell me after I had milked the cows. Also, I was convinced that all the cows had lice and that they were giving me lice. I didn't like it at all. Looking back on it, it's a lot more glamorous now than it was then."

Barrick vividly remembers many other aspects of farm life: "Any time there was not mechanized farming to be done with a tractor or some other implement, the standard bit of machinery was the idiot stick - the hoe. We started hoeing at a very young age, and I never did learn to like it. I absolutely hated hoeing cotton. I think that was one of the most miserable jobs there was. You walked mile-long rows, and you knew that when you got to the end, you were just going to turn around and come right back. It was an endless thing. My brothers and I used to swear that my dad planted weed seeds."

But pleasurable memories of life on the farm come through more strongly in Barrick's paintings than the hateful ones. One favorite pastime, especially in the winter, was horseback riding. "Generally, we would get out and ride on Sundays, which was not a day we had to work. One of the things that we would do in the wintertime when it snowed was to build a little sled and tie a rope around the horse's neck, then get the horse running. We would hold onto the sled and let him pull us through the snowbanks."

Barrick also realizes the value of growing up on the farm: "My dad used to say somebody used to say to him-maybe it was his father that you had to learn to live with yourself before you could live with others. When you are sitting out on a tractor from daylight to dusk, all by yourself, you've got work that occupies you-you've got to keep the tractor on the row-but, still, you are very much alone. And you feel the solitude. You spend a lot of time dwelling within yourself. So you come to terms with your environment."

Bill Barrick certainly has come to terms with the environment of his childhood, and though he has left it, he will never forget it. He paints with history-book realism, but also with the warm and fond glow of someone who well remembers and respects the world of his youth. Ironically, the rural life he paints today is the life that forced him to leave home to learn his profession. There are no art courses in the public schools in his hometown, nor were there art museums or galleries. In fact, there were no outlets or encouragement at all for a young man interested in art.

Not deterred, Barrick went to West Texas State University in nearby Canyon, Texas, and enrolled in its art curriculum. His years at West Texas State, under the tutelage of Dr. Emilio Caballero, a member of the Royal Academy in England, drew Barrick towards a representational art. Graduation took him to his first job, as a high school instructor in a small town near his home. Still anxious to pursue his eventual goal, Barrick realized that opportunities for an aspiring artist were likely to be greater in a metropolitan area. So he moved to Grand Prairie, a suburb between Dallas and Fort Worth.

That move put him in contact with the professional art world. He soon made his first successful contact with a gallery, a contact which encouraged him in representational art. Finally, in 1972, after five years as a teacher, he decided to leave the education profession altogether. He moved to Austin, where he currently resides, and turned his full energies toward professional art.

His efforts-his talent-would be well rewarded. The Texas Association of Professional Artists selected him as the first artist to be voted into this prestigious organization by its membership. Then, in 1976, he won the association's Silver Medal for Aqueous Media, and a year later he won its Silver Medal for Oil Painting.

Just as growing up on the farm never made Barrick forget his desire for a career as an artist, so becoming an artist never made him forget his life on the farm and its impact on his thinking. His feeling for the land and the climate is evident in Barrick's work, and plays a prominent role in his painting. Says he, "Anybody who has lived on the high plains of Texas has to think that the sky is bigger there than anywhere else in the world. You've got the consolation that while you may not have mountains to look at, or trees, you do have the most beautiful sunrises and sunsets anywhere."

Weather is always important in Barrick's paintings: "I do a lot of paintings with atmospheric conditions. I've painted fog, and I've done rain, snow, sandstorms, and just about everything else. The reason for this is having grown up on the farm, on the high plains of Texas, come along and wipe you out in just a few minutes. Or it can hail. A farmer can do everything right, and then, at the last minute, the wind might blow the crop over, or there might be too much rain and you can't harvest the crop. Or there might be an early freeze and the cotton bolls won't open. So I am constantly conscious of the weather, even today."

and having been dependent on the weather and always conscious of it and the results of it. Anybody who has ever been involved in agriculture recognizes how important weather is, and anyone who has ever spent time on the high plains of Texas knows how dramatically and how rapidly the weather can change.

"Take rain, for example. The farmers go to church on Sundays and pray for rain, but they don't pray for too much rain. A cloudburst can Despite his emphasis on farm settings, the implements of farming, the climate, and the land, Barrick says that his true subject is the human: "I've always said that the real subjects of my paintings are people. But I don't feel that I really have to show these people. It's like listening to the radio. When we were kids, before we had television, we listened to the radio. On Saturday mornings we listened to Superman and the Green Hornet and all kinds of shows. You could just Imagine all these things that you were hearing-you could visualize them in your mind. To me, painting an old homestead allows the viewer to participate in the painting and imagine the people that occupy that house. It allows the viewer to create his own image of these people. The implement of yesterday's world reflects the people. You can tell a lot about anyone just by the things he has built, the things he owns, the way he lives, without even really knowing him personally."

Perhaps the popularity of Barrick's paintings stems from the fact that many millions of Americans share his beginnings on the farm: "Most people have an agricultural background. We're completely away from the agrarian society now, but it hasn't been too long since most people started out on the farm. Or, at least, their parents did. When I was a kid, you could meet and talk to people who were original pioneers - people who had come in and broken virgin soil."

Texas, for example, was a predominantly agricultural state until the 1940's, and the agricultural life that dominated the entire nation - until the decade between 1910 and 1920 - remains a strong part of American culture. Barrick's aim is to preserve in art that prominent era of rural America and, more particularly, the prominent role of the American farmer. This he does in the factual, honest, yet affectionate, way of someone who knows the farming life well.

In addition to the weathered buckets, the horse-drawn wagons, the big wooden porches, and the other features once familiar in rural America, Barrick distinguishes many of his paintings with a special touch - a light in the window. He explains: "I have painted many abandoned buildings and houses. When you do that, you are taking the life out of the structure. But when you put a light in the window, it indicates that there is life inside, that there is somebody there."

That light in the window, in Barrick's work, actually takes on a larger meaning. It signified that while the great dominant era of rural America is fading, its importance to our culture will live forever. And certainly, it will live on through the work of Bill Barrick.

ASA Urges Passage Of Contract Sanctity Amendment

American Soybean Association President B.B. Spratling, Jr. has called on soybean farmers to contact their U.S. Senator and Congressmen to urge passage of the contract sanctity amendment to the CFTC bill. "Passage of this bill is absolutely essential if we are to end economically devastating embargo threats and restore U.S. credibility as a reliable supplier," says ASA President B.B. Spratling, Jr. "Soybean farmers will be watching their congressmen to make sure that promises to support contract sanctity made before the election are not forgotten."

The anti-embargo contract sanctity amendment is attached to a reauthorization bill for the Commodity Futures Trading Corporation (CFTC). In a mailgram to soybean association state presidents, Spratling urged soybean leaders to contact congressional members of the CFTC conference committee.

The Senate approved the contract sanctity amendment before the election recess. It must clear a House-Senate conference committee before final approval.

Anti-embargo contract sanctity legislation is part of a 4-point emergency sales program the American Soybean Association has developed to help boost soybean income.

Hance Calls Attention To USDA 'Mistake'

U.S. Rep. Kent Hance, D-Texas, today said the Agriculture Department had completely overlooked Texas in the formation of the National Agricultural Cost of Production Standards

Review Board. In a letter to Secretary of Agriculture John Block, Hance said he was "extremely disappointed to learn that no Texans" were appointed to the board, which is responsible for advising the Secretary of Agriculture on the methods used by the USDA to estimate the costs of producing major farm commodities and for reviewing parity calculations.

Block named two persons from both California and South Carolina to the 11-member board. Other states represented are Kansas, Missouri, Georgia, Idaho, Ohio, and North Dakota.

"I believe this is a serious omission since Texas is the second largest agriculture producing state in the nation," wrote Hance. "If this board is to represent agricultural cost of production equitably this oversight should be corrected. Allowing two states to have two board members does not allow the broadest possible view of production costs. Recognizing the importance of the advice which the board provides, I feel eight states will not adequately represent the

Antelopes Overwhelm Idalou 71-44

The Abernathy Antelopes continued to roll last Tuesday night by overwhelming Idalou 71-44. The victory gives the Lopes a record of 7 wins 3 losses on the year. The only teams to beat them were Snyder, Big Spring and Abilene, all much larger schools. The Lopes got off to a good start scoring 12 points to Idalou's 4 in the first quarter. They again out-scored Idalou in the second quarter, this time 18-8 to lead 30-12 at halftime.

The Lopes could not be stopped in the third or fourth quarters. They out-scored Idalou 21-14 in the third and 20-18 in the fourth to win by 27 points, 71-44. Sammy Galloway was extremely accurate Tuesday scoring the high of 17 points for the Lopes. Cletus Irlbeck was second with 13 followed by Ed Teal with 11.

The Antelopes will play next at the Caprock Tournament December 29-31.

BASKETBALL NEWS

Idalou Slips By JV

Fems 36-30

Idalou slipped by the JV fems 36-30 last Tuesday at Idalou.

It was a close game from start to finish. Idalou led by only 2 points, 8-6 in the first quarter. In the second quarter, the JV fems scored 6 points while holding Idalou to 6 to remain within 2 points of the lead, 12-14.

Idalou increased their lead in the third quarter scoring 14 points to Abernathy's 10. The JV fems never gave up, but time ran out before they could get ahead of Idalou. Both teams scored 8 points in the fourth quarter and the final score was 30-36, Idalou.

Johnna Harrell was the leading scorer with 10 points. Joan Davis and Kristy Thompson each scored 6 points.

The JV Lady Lopes remain in good shape with a winning record of 5-3.

Lady Lopes Continue Winning Ways

The Lady Lopes continued their winning ways and Idalou was the victim this time. The Lady Lopes defeated Idalou 41-19 to make their record 7-2 for the year, losing only to Hale Center and Nazareth.

Idalou played a very competitive game the entire first half. They led in the first quarter 5-4 and at halftime 12-10.

This was not to be the case in the second half. The Lady Lopes shocked Idalou in the third quarter scoring 12 points while completely shutting out Idalou, by not even allowing them a free shot, to lead 22-12 at the end of the third quarter.

The Lady Lopes were awesome in the fourth quarter connecting for 19 points to Idalou's 7 to win 41-19.

Stacey Kelley was the leading lady in the scoring department with 17 followed by Vicky McKenzie with 8.

The Lady Lopes will compete at the Caprock Tourney in Lubbock December 29-31.

The 8th girls have a winning record of 5-2 on the year.

QUILTS AND COM-FORTERS will be in the limelight as they are taken from storage and put to use, reminds Dr. Peggy S. Owens, a housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Before using a quilt, check its condition, fiber content and age prior to cleaning. Heirloom quilts deserve special care.

JV Lopes Too Much For Idalou

The JV Lopes were too much for Idalou last Tuesday night as they defeated Idalou in their own territory 47-36.

The Lopes got off to an explosive start scoring 15 points in the first quarter while holding Idalou to only 6. They scored 8 more in the second quarter to lead 23-16 at halftime.

The Lopes had a 7 point lead and held on to it in the third quarter. They scored 10 points to Idalou's 10 to lead 33-26 going into the fourth quarter.

Fourteen more points in the final quarter gave the Lopes a 47-36 victory.

Scott Furgeson had the most points with 14, followed by Mike Givens with 12 and Harold Miller 10.

The JV Lopes now sport a winning record of 7-3 for the year.

7th Boys And Girls Defeat Muleshoe

The 7th girls and boys basketball teams defeated Muleshoe last Monday.

The 7th boys defeated Muleshoe without any trouble 47-17 at Abernathy.

The first quarter ended close with an 8-8 tie as both teams played defensively.

The 7th Lopes took the lead in the second quarter scoring 10 points while completely shutting Muleshoe out. The Lopes led 18-8 at halftime.

The 7th Lopes were not satisfied with their 10 point lead and stretched it to 24 in the third quarter to lead 36-12 going into the fourth quarter.

They added 11 more points in the fourth quarter to Muleshoe's 5 to secure the victory, 47-17.

The leading scorers were Pete Garcia and Bret Parker, each having 8 points.

7th Girls Win

The 7th grade girls won a low-scoring close game last Monday night against Muleshoe at Muleshoe by a score of 20-14.

It was a defensive battle the entire first quarter for the 7th girls as they had a hard time getting the ball and hitting the basket. They were behind 2-4 at the end of the first quarter and 4-6 at halftime. Muleshoe was having a hard time scoring as well due to the pressure put on by the 7th Lopes.

The 7th girls charged onto the court in the third quarter to quickly eliminate Muleshoe's lead and upped their lead by 6 points. The Lopes were ahead 14-8 going into the fourth.

Both teams scored 6 points in the fourth quarter and the 7th girls went on to win 20-14.

Tammy Annis and Donna Stallings were the high point scorers in the game. The win gives the 7th girls a winning record, 3-1.

8th Lopes Defeat Muleshoe 43-22

The 8th Lopes beat Muleshoe last Monday here by the large margin of 43-22.

The 8th Lopes gained the lead early in the first quarter and kept it the entire game.

The Lopes out-scored Muleshoe in the first quarter 6-2. They scored 14 more in the second quarter to Muleshoe's 8 to lead 20-10 at halftime.

The Lopes did not sit on their 10 point lead. In the third quarter they out-scored Muleshoe again 12-8 to lead 32-18. They finished off Muleshoe in the fourth scoring 11 more points to Muleshoe's 4 to win 43-22.

PEOPLE WHO PLAN to spend a considerable amount of time outdoors this winter should dress for comfort and protection. Choose clothing for your activities as well as for outdoor conditions, suggests Dr. Ann Vanderpoorten, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Think about clothing as layers of protection. By planning the number and thickness of these layers, comfort can be controlled in almost any outdoor climate.

TFU Head Urges Caution On New Farm Plan

The President of Texas Farmers Union today said that the Reagan Administration needs to exercise extreme caution in establishing guidelines for their new proposed Farm Plan. TFU Head Mike Moeller of Hays County, called USDA's proposal to pay farmers with commodities instead of cash "unique," but he warned that the program would be disastrous to American farmers without proper safeguards.

Moeller said that first and foremost the USDA should ensure that all commodities be marketed in an orderly fashion. Without such a guarantee, Moeller said, "The USDA could simply use the American farmers to dump excess commodities on the market and thereby cause drastic reductions in the price the farmer receives for these same commodities."

As a means of further reassuring the farmer that his prices won't drop below their already-disastrously-low levels, Moeller recommended that the USDA also seek increases in the loan price and target price levels through Congress. "We feel," said Moeller, "that the USDA has an obligation to ensure that this program will increase, not decrease, the prices received by farmers for their products."

"We are especially concerned with the possibility that a payment in-kind might actually become a liability to some producers rather than an asset." "if, for example, the government gives the farmer a warehouse receipt for grain stored at some distance from the farm, we want to make sure that the farmer will not be liable to pay storage, insurance and transportation costs on the same grain." "If the farmer is required to pick up these additional costs, and if there is no provision for orderly marketing of the grain, most farmers would have no choice except to dump the gain on the market at an extremely low price." "Such a situation would be bad for all farmers," Moeller said, "since the USDA would be the instigator of the program, we hope we can assume that they would also be willing to incur these additional costs that the program would create."

Carver Takes Top Honors In Main Dish Category At District Food Show

Originality spiced up some familiar favorite recipes as 135 boys and girls from 20 counties displayed their nutritional knowledge and cooking skills during the South Plains District 4-H Food Show in Lubbock Saturday (Dec. 11). Three girls and a boy advanced to the state competition next year.

Winners in the senior division of the contest in the Home Economics Building at Texas Tech University were Jim Bob Carver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Carver of Abernathy, main dish: Kayla Gentry of Dawson County fruits and vegetables; Donna Stout, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O.A. Stout, Jr. of Hale Center, breads and cereals; and Donna Smith of Lamb County, nutritious snacks and desserts. Each received a plaque and ribbon in addition to advancing to the state contest.

Senior runners-up, who will participate in the state contest if the winners can't take part, were: Cindy Greaves, Lubbock County, main dish; Shelley Sain, Bailey County, fruits and vegetables; Jene' Nance, Dawson, breads and cereals.

Junior division winners and runners-up in the four food categories also received ribbons, but don't compete beyond the district level. They were: Main dish-Roxie Johnson, Swisher, and Traci Wilson, Hockley. Fruits and vegetables-Misty Riney, Lamb; Misti McClurg, Swisher. Breads and cereals-Lisa Terrell, Floyd, and Rosemary Shepard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Shepard of Hale Center. Snacks and deserts-John Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hamilton of Plainview and Londi Jill Smith, Lamb.

Each contestant had earned championships in their county to advance to the district meet.

Also entering from Hale County were Matt Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kelley of Abernathy and Brent Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hamilton of Plainview.

Jim Bob Carver took top honors in the main dish category with his "Autumn Festival Beef Pie," a double-crust dish combining beef and green beans seasoned with onion, tomato soup and spices. Cindy Greaves second-place entry was "Shrimp-Stuffed Tomato Blossoms," blending shrimp, pineapple and walnuts into a stuffing for fresh tomatoes.

In fruits and vegetables, Kayla Gentry won with a simple salad combining cauliflower with frozen sweet peas and chopped celery. Shelley Sain served up fresh vegetable sticks with a tangy dip with a cream cheese base.

Winning entry in the breads and cereals was Donna Stout's "Whole Grain Honey Bread." It combined whole wheat flour, rolled oats, pecans and honey in a yeast bread. Runner-up was Jene' Nance with her homemade crisp crackers.

Taste-tempting apricot nut bars captured the prize for Donna Smith in the snacks and desserts category. Second place went to Marie Hooper and her "Festive Spinach Treats," a baked hors d'oeuvre blending frozen chopped spinach and herb stuffing with additional seasonings.

The dishes were judged by a panel of professional home economists and home makers. Contestants were quizzed on nutritional values, preparation methods and costs of preparation.

The show is one aspect of the year-round foods and nutrition project in 4-H, explained Dr. Catherine Crawford, district director with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. 4-H is the youth program of Extension.

Cotton Center Man Harvests Cotton Variety Test

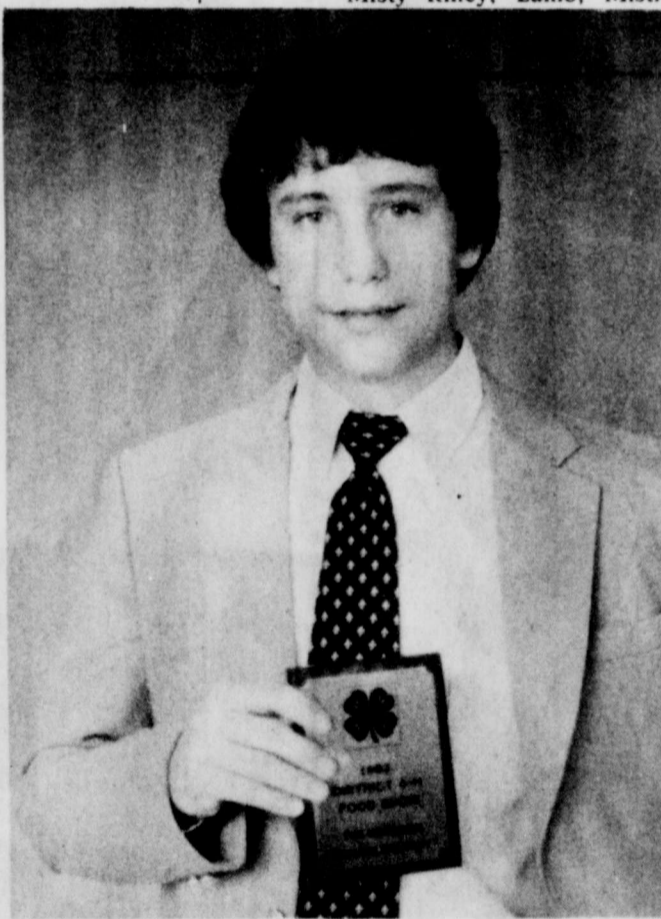

Wayne Greenhaw, of Cotton Center, just completed harvest of his standard cotton variety demonstration, according to Billy E. Warrick, Hale County Extension Agronomist.

The result demonstration was planted May 13, 1982 in a 2 in - 1 out cropping pattern which was seeded at a 26 pound per acre rate on last year's milled ground. The plot was prewatered solid and watered once every third row during the growing season. Treflan at a 1 1/2 pint per acre rate was sprayed once to control bollworms. No fertilizer was applied.

This year's result demonstration was topped by GSA 71 with a gross return of $209.44 per acre. Other varieties included in the test were Paymaster 303 at $208.95 per acre; Coker 4360 at $208.86 per acre; Lockett 77 at $199.81 per acre; Tamcot CamD-E at $193.80 per acre; Cascot BR-1 at $193.57 per acre; Dunn 120 at $187.27 per acre; Hurd's 580 at $180.00 per acre; Paymaster 145 at $173.90 per acre; and Pioneer RP-80 at $172.48 per acre.

Gross return was figured using 1982 CCC cotton loan rates. The one row not in production in a 2 in - 1 out cropping pattern was considered part of the total acreage in figuring average lint yield per acre.

Telephone Company And Customers To Undergo Major Changes Due To Deregulation should contact the telephone company prior to purchasing any phone. of the options available to them when they contact the telephone company to establish or change service. Customers will be advised.

The telephone company and its customers will undergo a major change in the way they do business with each other beginning Jan. 1 as a result of the Federal Communications Commission's deregulation of terminal equipment or customer premise equipment (CPE), the industry's terms for telephones and other equipment on the customer's end of the telephone line.

James H. Davis, operations manager for General Telephone in Memphis, outlined the upcoming changes.

Existing customers who lease telephones or other terminal equipment from the telephone company and who do not change their service can continue to do so under rates approved by the state regulatory commission. They also will continue to have the option of purchasing their own phones or other terminal equipment from General Telephone or other suppliers, but under a deregulated environment.

The change will affect new customers, and existing customers who add or change their service beginning Jan. 1.

For single-line telephone instruments, similar to those used by most residential customers, new customers, new customers and existing customers who change their service or equipment will have the option of leasing instruments and other equipment at the regulated rate as long as the existing regulated supplies of single-line phones last. However, the company has geared its supply of regulated single-line instruments and equipment to deplete as near as possible to Jan. 1 in order to begin operating under the deregulation mandate.

As a result of the limited regulated supply, most new single-line business or residential telephone customers will only have the options after Jan. 1 of (1) renting from the telephone company at competitive rates, as dictated by the market place, or (2) purchasing their phones and other equipment from General Telephone or other suppliers at competitive prices set by the market place. General Telephone will offer a full range of basic, decorator and specialty telephone products for sale in addition to offering miscellaneous accessories such as cords, wiring kits and automatic dialers. It will also place special orders for unique telephone related products such as devices for the handicapped.

For multi-line telephones and systems, used mostly by businesses, including those existing customers who change their service, customers will have the options of either leasing or purchasing their equipment from a third party through the telephone company, or leasing or purchasing their equipment from other suppliers.

Maintenance of telephones and telephone systems will not change to any major degree. Existing company-owned telephones and telephone systems leased under regulated rates will continue to be maintained without charge as long as parts are available. Once the equipment cannot be repaired, and the supply of useable regulated equipment is exhausted, the customer must obtain the replacement under the deregulated procedures.

For telephones and other equipment purchased by customers, the warranties are with the company manufacturing the phones or phone systems. As with other products, the company selling or leasing the equipment may serve as the local repair center or warranty exchange, or the customer may have to deal directly with the manufacturer. General Telephones Phone Marts and local service facilities will serve as repair centers for products sold by the company to meet both company and manufacturers warranties, as well as offer on-site repairs for most products being sold. In most cases there will be charges for repair work done after the warranty has expired.

Business systems customers will have the option of obtaining maintenance agreements for equipment leased or purchased with a third party through General Telephone.

Single-line phones will be of the plug-in type, such as those now using GTE Phone Mart jacks. Customers with the old style wall wiring block will be able to purchase do-it-yourself kits that allow phones to be plugged in the new jack, or pay the appropriate charges to have the telephone company or other party make the change for them.

Because of ringing requirements for party-line service and current regulations, party-line customers

Literary Teams Face New District

"Our goal is to keep up the tradition by winning a second year in a row," commented Mr. Dub Hannel UIL literary sponsor. "Our strongest competition will probably be Friona and Muleshoe in drama and speech, but our Abernathy pride gives us a good chance of winning."

This year, district will be held at Tulia.

One Act Play dress rehearsal will be March 21 and competition March 22. Journalism, debate, and ready writing will compete March 24. All other competition will be April 6. Regionals will be held during the week of April 11-16 at Odessa College, and state sometime during the week of April 25-28. From the Antelope Outlook.

MANY FASHION CHOICES are available this season and into Spring 1983, with lengths varying for all garment parts including sleeves, skirts and pants, says Becky Saunders, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Choose a look, color, or fabric that is becoming and useful to a person's lifestyle.

THE HOLIDAY SEASON is a good time to include nutritious seafood in the family diet. A seafood dish with a colorful fruit sauce, "ChristmasCranberry Catch," can be a tasty holiday tradition. The dish features fresh Texas fish fillets baked over a savory bread stuffing and topped with cranberry-orange sauce, says Annette R. Martinez Social Chairman For Bible College Manuel Martinez, a former Abernathy resident, was recently selected the Junior Social Chairman at Dallas Bible College.

Martinez left Abernathy in August to attend the Bible College and has since become very active in school functions. He is the leading scorer for the Dallas Bible College Basketball team, averaging 24 points per game. Martinez also broke the school record in assists.

Not only is Martinez breaking school records, he is also the leading scorer in the entire conference, which is made up of 16 bible colleges throughout several states.

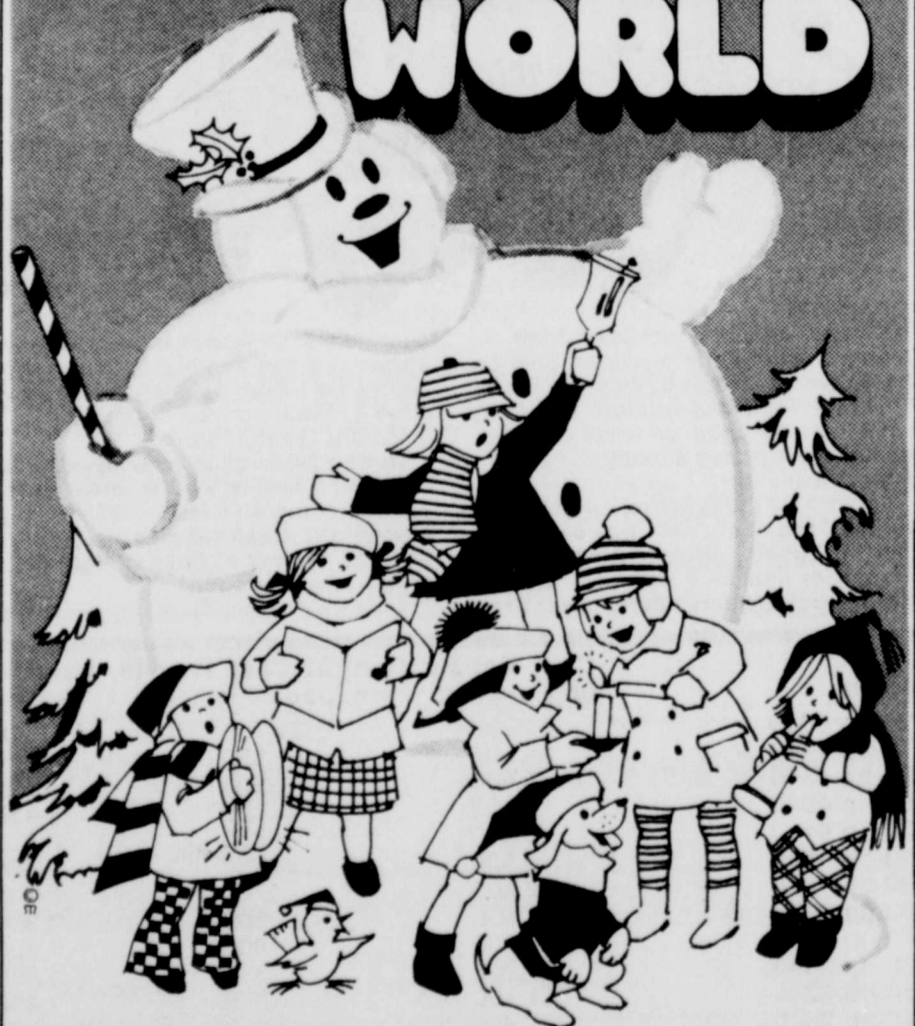

Martinez will complete bible college next year and may move back to this part of the country upon graduating.

The three-step oral hygiene regimen of flossing, brushing and rinsing will help prevent tooth decay in children.
