Howard Recipient Of $4,000 Scholarship

Lonnie Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Howard of Abernathy, was recently presented the 1983 Hale County Soil and Water Conservation District Scholarship, a four year, $4 thousand grant.

The scholarship was presented to Howard by F. F. "Flip" Calhoun Friday, May 6. Calhoun is the Hale County SWCD Chairman.

Howard had previously received a $200 academic scholarship from the President's office at Texas Tech. Howard has also been selected to receive a $500 scholarship from the College of Agriculture at Texas Tech. An Abernathy High School senior, Howard, 18, plans to enroll this fall at Texas Tech with agriculture his major field of study. Howard has been active in various 4-H activities and has exhibited the Grand Champion Steer

Irlbeck Performs Well At State Tennis Tourney

Cletus Irlbeck competed at the State Tennis Tourney in Austin last weekend. It was his fourth year in a row to compete at the State Tennis Meet.

This time Irlbeck was stopped in the first round by a player who has been ranked 44th state-wide in 18 boys singles, including 4-A and 5-A schools. Irlbeck played a tremendous match as he almost beat this top ranked player, Dave Tibbetts of Whitehouse, by the close score of 7-6, 5-7, 5-6. The marathon match lasted approximately three hours.

Coach Carl Irlbeck stated that Cletus played very well and proved that he can compete against the best in the state.

ON THE COUNTY LINE

BY KEITH TOOLEY

WE HOPE THINGS ARE LOOKING UP...

The farmers have received enough moisture to get their crops off to a good start. Inflation is down to 3 percent, the lowest it has been in at least the last 5 years. The prime interest rate is down to 10.5 percent, the lowest it has been since 1978. And unemployment is down to 10.3 percent, which is not great, but better than 1982, when unemployment was at 10.8 percent.

Conditions seem to be improving at the local level as well. The farmers seem optimistic about the 1983 growing season and PIK. Sure, prices could be better, but we can be thankful that inflation, interest rates and unemployment are all on a decline. Hope this trend continues.

TICKS ARE EXPECTED to be plentiful this year in most sections of the state, according to the Texas Department of Health.

It was brought to my attention that the City has received several complaints recently by people who have been chewed on by ticks right here in Abernathy. We wouldn't worry about ticks if there weren't so many stray dogs and cats wandering around town. Ticks are found in heavy grass and brush. You don't see many folks flocking to the overgrown vacant lots in town, therefore, the ticks must be jumping off of animals.

This is no major problem in Abernathy, we just hope folks won't get ticked-off if they catch a disease from these little monsters.

THE REASON THE Ten Commandments are short and sweet is that they were handed down direct, not through several committees.

QUIZ: What word starts and ends with "e" and contains only one letter?
Answer: An envelope!

FOLKS WHO HAVE troubles should remember the teakettle: it may be up to its neck in hot water, but it always continues to sing.

Council Discusses EAS With General Telephone Officials

Four General Telephone Company officials were present at the City Council meeting, held Monday, May 9 at the small City Hall meeting room at 7:30 p.m., to discuss extended area service for Abernathy.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Pete Thompson and the minutes of the April 11 meeting were approved by the Council.

There were four visitors present, all General Telephone officials. Area General Telephone Manager, Jimmy Bennett, was accompanied by Jim Wolfcale, Lucian White and Joe Vandever. They discussed the resolution passed by the Abernathy City Council in March concerning an extended area service (EAS) study in Abernathy. A study is presently being conducted by the telephone company to see if it would be feasible for General Telephone to install an EAS system in Abernathy. The telephone company officials informed the council that the results of this study will be available by May 23 and will be sent to the City through the mail.

Abernathy presently has EAS to County Line and the Hollandville exchanges and the monthly residential base fee is $8.65. The EAS discussed would be to Lubbock. Idalou has EAS to Lubbock and the basic residential fee per month is $16.20. Therefore, if Abernathy got EAS to Lubbock, the basic residential monthly service fee would probably be twice what it is now.

The Council will take no action on this until they get the results from the telephone company's EAS study for Abernathy. Then, according to City Manager Rod Ellis, the final decision on EAS will be left up to the citizens of Abernathy, if EAS for Abernathy is approved by General Telephone Company, Bell Telephone and lastly the Public Utility Commission.

General Telephone presently has a work order in Abernathy to replace 28,719 feet of telephone cable at a cost of $124,700. The company is still in the process of replacing this cable.

The Council also discussed General Telephone Company's request for an $84.5 million rate increase. The company has had to make a compromise with the Public Utility Commission and the rate hike was reduced to $32.5 million. This rate hike will go into effect soon.

Lastly, the telephone company officials stated that deregulation will cause local telephone rates to go higher. There will be competition from independents who will be taking a big chunk out of General Telephone's long distance business, they stated. This

Five Boys Thrown From Pickup

Five boys were thrown from a pickup Monday evening, when two pickups collided at Third Street and Ave. M in Abernathy.

The five boys, Rene Ramos-12, Chad Douglas-12, Tony Garcia-13, Gabriel Garcia-10 and Mark Garcia-7, were thrown from a pickup driven by Guadalupe Ramos, 25, of Abernathy. Ramos was headed south and Darwin Stephens, 14, of Abernathy, was headed east in his pickup when the two vehicles collided at this intersection.

approximately 7:45 p.m. Monday, the five boys in the back of the pickup Ramos was driving were thrown into a nearby yard. Abernathy EMS immediately arrived after the accident to examine the boys. The boys were taken to Lubbock General Hospital and have been released. None were thought to have been seriously injured.

Stephens and Ramos, the drivers, were not injured in the accident, but both pickups received extensive damage.

WHEN THESE TWO PICKUPS COLLIDED, five boys were thrown from out of the back of the pickup on the right and landed in the yard behind it. Abernathy EMS arrived on the scene to treat the boys for shock and/or injuries.

Harrison Wins 2nd In State-Wide Mason Essay Contest

Jay Harrison, senior at AHS, recently won second place in the state-wide essay contest sponsored by the Masonic Grand Lodge of Texas.

This contest is sponsored every year by the Masons and high school seniors are the only group eligible to compete.

Harrison competed against high school seniors from all over Texas, and his essay placed second in the State. Not only did he win second place, but he will also receive a $2 thousand scholarship from the Grand Lodge.

The school sponsor, Wanda LeMoine, had all 50 Abernathy High School seniors write essays on the subject "public education." She selected 10 of the best essays out of the 50 which were written, and they were later sent to the Grand Lodge at Waco to be judged. Abernathy students competed against schools all over the State, and Jay's essay was good enough to win second place.

December 1983, Harrison, and sponsor Wanda LeMoine, will go to the Grand Lodge at Waco, where Jay will be honored for winning second place.

The essay Harrison wrote that won second place in State is as follows:

Why Public Education? By Jay Harrison

Public education is clearly the superior method of instructing the children of our country. Through public schools, everyone has the remarkable opportunity to receive a free, high-quality education. Also, public schools offer students the chance to meet and associate with other pupils from many diverse cultures. Finally, public education actually promotes the basic freedoms of its students by encouraging individuality, self-expression, and the respect of liberty.

Each state in America has passed legislation that provides the funds necessary for public schooling; therefore, a free education is available and accessible to every American. In addition, the promise of state support virtually assures the high standards set by free education. Through governmental aid, public schools have achieved and maintained an admirable level of excellence that will remain for years to come.

Moreover, the guarantee of financial assistance insures the quality of the curricula of public schools. Children in such facilities will learn the basic skills necessary for functioning as adults. Also, students receive enrichment in other areas; for example, such subjects as physical education, home economics, and art are offered by public schools. On the whole, public education presents the invaluable advantage of a well-rounded academic background to its students.

However, the extent of public education is not limited to mere knowledge. Because children of many

"Love"

The mark of the Christian is his love for God and others. We may use other criteria to measure a christian, but God is interested in our love. We need to remember that God has set the example and loved us unending. The song writer F. M. Lehman wrote it well: "Could we with ink the ocean fill and were the skies of parchment made; were every stalk on earth a quill, and every man a scribe by trade; to write the love of God above would drain the ocean dry; nor could the scroll contain the whole, tho' stretched from sky to sky."

Jesus said: "By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another." John 13:35. This does mean that we are to love all men, not just some. This would, therefore, include forgiving and accepting one another. Love one another.

various backgrounds attend public schools, pupils may study and appreciate a wide range of cultural ideas. Also, the students learn to cooperate with each other; thus, they acquire the rudimentary skills necessary for adapting to society. Indeed, the association of our youth with their disparate classmates is an invaluable asset of public education.

Another significant aspect of public schooling is the encouragement of individuality. Private facilities sometimes suppress the independence of their students by stressing conformity among the children. However, such uniform conduct is not required by public education. Instead, the students are allowed to express their opinions and develop their individual personalities. Also, the pupils learn to respect the right of a person to become an individual, and non-conformists are usually respected and not rebuked. In this way, a healthy, mature attitude toward independence is fostered by public education.

Furthermore, public schools nurture the basic freedoms of Americans. To illustrate, the First Amendment of the United States Constitution prohibits the establishment of religion or the abridgement of free speech. Public schools may not acknowledge the observance of a religion; consequently, the students may develop their personal beliefs without the fear of censure. Also, the youth in public schools, rather than conceal their ideas and feelings, are encouraged to communicate their thoughts. In this way, the pupils of public education develop interest in, and respect for, their rights as citizens.

Evelyn Waugh, a noted English novelist, once said of public education, "They may kick you out, but they never let you down." Indeed, public schooling is the most satisfactory mode of preparing our youth for their lives as responsible, intelligent adults.

will cause General to have to go higher on their local rates.

Block Grant Program

The Council discussed the Community Development Block Grant Program. The Housing and Community Development Amendments of 1981 provide authorization for state governments to distribute Federal Community Development state funds. This year the state has appropriated $56.8 million for community development projects. $29.9 million of this will be available for new community development projects. Abernathy can apply for up to $500 thousand of this amount if we qualify for the funds. The program is designed to assist low and moderate income families.

The Council considered a recommendation by the Texas Department of Highways and Public Transportation concerning the upkeep of Avenue D in Abernathy. Avenue D is presently in need of repairs due to damage received from the snow storms this year. The highway department claims they cannot repair Avenue D until they are granted more funds from the state. The highway department made a proposal to the City that they would repair the potholes, overlay Avenue D with asphalt and seal coat the entire street with a layer of asphalt and aggregate, if the City would maintain Avenue D from then on. The Council did not jump at this proposal, because they would have to pay for the upkeep of Avenue D in years to come.

SPAG Aging Funds

The Council considered the grant offer from SPAG Aging Program of $16 thousand. SPAG is drawing up a contract as to how these funds will be used by the City, then the Council will examine the contract before taking action.

Airport Lease Agreement

The Council reviewed the proposed airport lease agreement as recommended by the Federal Aeronautics Administration (FAA). All lease agreements must be approved by the FAA.

Property Tax Report

The 1983 property tax collections are coming right along. $158,364, or 91 percent has been collected. Delinquent taxes up to 1983 amount to $15,497. These delinquent accounts will be turned over to the City attorney for collection July 1.

"A GLANCE AT THE PAST"

FROM THE ABERNATHY WEEKLY REVIEW DATED NOVEMBER 19, 1959:

The treasurer, Mrs. Ralph Davis, announced that the ham supper netted over $250. She thanked everyone who had a part in any way toward making it such a success.

The program was presented by the second grade students. Mrs. Stricklin accompanied the group as they sang, "America" and "Over the River and Through the Woods." Mrs. Amerson and Mrs. Black directed the singing.

FRIDAY THE 13TH--WAS IT SUPERSTITIOUS OR AGGIE-ITIS?

Mary Rose Bowen, a reading specialist in Junior High school, was enroute from the hole to an assembly program Friday morning when she lost an argument with the stairs and fell, breaking the radius bone in her left arm.

This little Friday the 13th stunt required hospitalization and surgery, including the addition of two pins to help the breaks mend. Mrs. Bowen was released from Methodist Hospital Sunday at noon.

She is home and feeling better, except for the embarrassment of tripping while going up the stairs!! She still maintains that she was not racing with the junior high students. Written by an Aggie himself.

Historians believe fire was discovered some 400,000 years ago.

Junior High Student Council Elects Officers

The AJH Student Council has the election of officers May 12-13.

The students could run for office according to their grade next year. Seventh graders could run for President, Vice-President and Secretary. The sixth graders could run for Treasurer or Reporter. If elected, the students will serve their term next year.

The work the students put into their campaign is a great help in getting elected. These tasks are: creating two posters to hang in the Junior High and Intermediate buildings, write a speech and give it to the students, and hand out campaign cards - if a candidate wants to.

Speeches given by the candidates were heard by the fifth graders on the 12th, and by the Junior High students on the 13th. After the speeches, the results were given. The five new AJHS officers are: President, Jared Knight; Vice-President, Elizabeth Waitts; Secretary, Kristi Attaway; Treasurer, Russell Miller; and Reporter, Jeremy Knight.

The Student Council would like to thank all of the candidates for participating in these elections.

In this reporter's point of view, the elections went over well and the officers elected will work to make it an exciting year next year. By Jared Knight, Reporter.

County Line Chit Chats

By Faye Ann Nelson

Seeing a need for our cemetery to be cleaned up, graves found and stones put up, a group of interested citizens of County Line met Wednesday morning at 10 a.m. to organize and form the County Line Cemetery Association.

After talking and looking at old pictures that were brought by Paul Harral, Wayland Nelson, Audrey McGuire and Edwin Merrill, the group was served coffee and donuts by Audrey McGuire and Faye Ann Nelson. The cemetery was discussed and several told who they knew were buried there. A chart is to be made showing all the graves and will be hung in the County Line clubhouse.

The group then got up and toured the cemetery and found some of the graves. The information was taken down as to who was buried there, their birthdate and date of death to be put on record. The group must research the history of the cemetery, which is required before it can become a member of the Lubbock County Historical Association. The group returned to the club building and officers were elected to carry on the organization. Audrey McGuire was elected President, Faye Ann Nelson Secretary, and Buddy Rice Treasurer.

Present for the first organizational meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Swan Pettit from Hale Center; Chester Hudson, Mr. and Mrs. Neff Turner, Clay Pettit, Doyce Newton, Paul Harral, Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Allen and Buddy Rice of Abernathy; Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Nelson, Audrey McGuire of Shallowater.

The group decided it would be best to spray the cemetery with a weed killer. This was done Thursday by some men in County Line. Later, when the weeds are dead, they will all be raked up and burned. It was decided that, to carry on the work successfully, donations would be needed. Everyone present donated and it was put in the bank as the County Line Cemetery Association Fund. The total was $225. If anyone not present at the meeting wishes to donate, donations can be left at the First State Bank at Abernathy or given to Buddy Rice at County Line.

The group decided to meet and invite everyone interested to a covered dish luncheon to be held later in the year, and give reports as to the progress made in cleaning the cemetery. If you have any information on people who were buried in the cemetery, please call Faye Ann Nelson at 757-2120.

There are some unmarked graves that we need to know the names of. A geiger counter will be used on the cemetery later to find all the graves and put up white crosses or metal markers. That will be decided on in future meetings.

Mrs. Molly Valdez was given an airline ticket to San Antonio to visit her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Valdez, Jr. and two children, Eric and Gabe. Mrs. Valdez was celebrating her birthday April 29. She returned Monday, May 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Nelson have returned from a 22 day tour of Holland, Spain, Portugal, Morocco, Egypt and Israel. They joined 48 people for a tour sponsored by the Southwest Bible Radio Association of Oklahoma City. They toured New York City before returning home. They reported a wonderful trip after riding 12 different planes, 5 boats, a camel in Egypt and a tram car in Israel. Mrs. Nelson said she would give a detailed report later for the paper.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Goldwater of Lubbock, visited in the County Line community Sunday. Carl went to school at County Line when he was a boy. His family lived and owned a quarter of a section of land on the east side of where the Olen Horne family resides now. The Goldwaters visited the Wayland Nelson's and they were brought up to date, on the County Line reunion to be held August 14, and also on the newly formed County Line Cemetery Association. They said they missed the 1977 County Line reunion, but they planned to be here this time and will bring all his sisters and brothers.

Dear Keith:

Please find enclosed a check from the Abernathy Young Homemakers. We hope this small contribution to the Senior Citizens Fund will be helpful.

maker Advisor

Cheese Giveaway Cut Back

The U. S. Department of Agriculture will be giving away less cheese due to a drop in commercial sales.

In ordering a 52 percent cutback in the cheese giveaway program that was started about a year ago, Secretary of Agriculture John Block cited two reasons -- needy people who qualify for free cheese normally buy their own, and some people who are not so needy receive free cheese rather than buy it.

"Evidence that the cheese giveaway program was hurting cheese sales started showing up during the last quarter of 1982," said Dr. Bud Schwartz, dairy marketing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. "During that quarter commercial sales were down 8 percent from a year earlier. But the real shocker came last February when commercial sales were down a staggering 29 percent from February of 1982."

The cheese giveaway program was started in early 1982 as a means of reducing government stocks of dairy products purchased under the dairy program. More than 50 million pounds of cheese had been given away each month before the cutback.

"Not having outlets for surplus dairy products complicates the problem of what to do about dairy policy."

MORE CATTLE ON FEED--More cattle were on feed on January 1 compared to a year ago--to no one's surprise--but the level is still below recent years, says an economist in livestock marketing with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M

University System. With the number of steers on feed up only 7 percent compared to heifers up 28 percent and cows, 26 percent, the quantity of beef coming from these cattle numbers is going to be considerably below earlier years when the steer-heifer relationship was more nearly equal. Feedlot marketings for the first quarter of 1983 are expected to be up 11 percent from a year ago, the largest level in three years but still below fed cattle marketings for the same period in 1978 and '79.

LAMB GRADE CHANGES AFFECT CONSUMERS--Recent grade changes for lamb and mutton carcasses will result in several benefits for consumers, says an animal science official at Texas A&M University. Consumers will find the changes beneficial in relation to price as well as palatability and cutability. Cutability relates to yield while palatability has to do with tenderness, juiciness and flavor. The grade changes should decrease over-fattening of lambs so that the average lamb will be leaner and thus cost less at the retail market. Lambs should also be moving to market at an earlier age, and young lambs are usually more tender.

Optimum Planting Date For Cotton May 10-20

Helped by research partially funded by Cotton Incorporated and Texas Tech University-Lubbock, researchers have been making progress in cotton seed quality research.

According to Dr. Norman Hopper, associate professor seed physiology, Department of Plant Soil Science, Texas Tech, cotton planting on the High Plains should be started when the soil temperature has reached 60 degrees at the 8" depth for the ten day average. This usually occurs during the first two weeks in May. Therefore, the optimum-planting date for cotton usually extends from May 10-20.

"Planting depth is also important," says Dr. Hopper. "The seeds should be placed no deeper than necessary...yet deep enough to be in moist soil and with an adequate and firm covering to prevent excessive drying. Under most conditions one and one-half to two inches deep should be sufficient. However, if the seedbed is dry, the seeds should be placed two to three inches deep or some of the dry soil removed from the top of the bed before planting."

According to Dr. Hopper's research, another factor influencing the percentage of seeds planted that will produce established plants is the vigor of the seed being planted.

Says Dr. Hopper, "In our studies, we observed that the planting of low vigor seed resulted in only 40 to 60 percent of the planted seed producing established plants, whereas, 60 to 80 percent was noted from the use of medium to high vigor seed. Therefore, the use of vigorous seed will allow for a more rapid rate of emergence and more plants from seed planted-especially at the earlier planting dates. In addition, an earlier planting date should result in an earlier maturing crop with higher yields and better lint and seed quality."

Dr. Hopper reports that several tests exist for measuring seed quality with the most widely used ones being the standard warm germination and the cool germination tests.

"The test most used," said Dr. Hopper, "is the standard warm germination test, which provides information relative to the number of seeds that are alive and, therefore, can potentially germinate and develop into seedlings."

"Our data indicates this test provides relatively good information when seeds are planted under near optimum conditions. However, these near optimum conditions usually only exist near the end of the planting season."

"Under the more stressful conditions that exist during the early and middle part of the planting season, the cool germination test provided more reliable information," said Dr. Hopper. "In the seed lots we studied in which the cool germination test values were below 50 percent and in which the difference between the warm germination and cool germination test values exceeded 40 percent, we observed a 35 percent reduction in the emergence rate, a 22 percent reduction in the number of seeds planted that produced plants, and a 26 percent yield reduction."

"Those seed lots with cool test values in excess of 50 percent generally performed satisfactorily. And our studies indicate that the cool germination test provides a good measure of seed quality/vigor, especially when evaluating seed lots to be planted earlier in the planting season when the soil temperature is relatively cool."

Dr. Hopper encourages cotton growers interested in having their seed tested to contact either a commercial lab, or the Texas Department of Agriculture.

BY CONSERVATIVE ESTIMATE, more than 30 percent of the adult population is overweight. While we hear about numerous health problems associated with being overweight, few consider the consequences to their feet, says Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, health education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Some ways that feet show the abuses of obesity include swelling, calluses, corns, heel pain, and ingrown toenails.

Dept. of Ag To Honor Family Land Heritage Program Participants

The past ten years the Texas Department of Agriculture has conducted a registration for the Family Land Heritage Program. Now, when the family farm is practically an endangered species, they want to honor those families who have hung in there for a century or more, according to County Agent Ollie Linder and County Judge Bill Hollars.

The Family Land Heritage Program honors current owners of land, which has been maintained in agricultural production for 100 years or more by members of the same family. Since the program began in 1974, the Texas Department of Agriculture has recorded 1,558 Texas farms and ranches that have qualified.

If there are farm families in Hale County that qualify, according to Linder and Judge Hollars, they should request application from the County Agent's Office, study the application and submit it back to Agent that are certified to be a Linder or Judge Hollars. These will be submitted to the Texas Department of Agriculture, and the families of farms and ranches part of the program will be presented a certificate and a

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

LUBBOCK, Friday, May 13, 1983

Only a couple of weeks ago the PIK (Payment In Kind) program was the talk of the cotton industry. Today it's "Son of PIK."

That's the name someone has aptly applied to the bid procedure conceived by USDA, first for grains and now cotton, to make up the shortfall of government-owned commodities needed to meet PIK commitments.

Under the PIK program, USDA committed itself to give participating producers a specified amount of cotton or grain out of government-owned stocks in return for producer agreements to idle up to 50 percent of the acreage they otherwise would have planted to that crop. It was later found that the government did not hold title to enough corn, wheat or cotton to fulfill its obligations.

Hence the birth of "Son of PIK."

There is no shortage of cotton to meet domestic and export market requirements. Commodity Credit Corporation has in storage a more than adequate supply, both for the market and to fill PIK requirements. But farmers, not government, own much of this cotton. It is held by CCC as collateral for 10-month non-recourse loans and can't be used by the government for PIK requirements until those loans either expire or are forfeited.

Most of the farmer-owned 1982 crop cotton entered the loan between October 1982 and the present.

Since USDA's PIK "debts" to farmers begin falling due in July of this year, the Department May 11 announced an in-kind incentive for early forfeiture of 1982-crop loan cotton. From May 16 to May 26 farmers may submit bids to county ASCS offices, offering to forfeit a given number of bales of cotton in return for free title to as much as one bale of cotton for each 15 bales offered.

For example, a producer with 1,050 bales of cotton under CCC loan may say to the government "I'll forfeit these bales if you'll give me back 70 of them free of interest and storage charges." He can of course submit a lesser bid of 60 bales, 50 bales or any number below the 1 for 15 maximum.

As of March 31, total 1982 crop cotton under loan was 3,207,580 bales. A yet-to-be determined amount of that cotton already has been forfeited to USDA by farmers as a prerequisite to participation in the PIK program. For that reason, and others, USDA doesn't now know precisely (1) how much cotton must be acquired to meet its shortfall or (2) how much of current loan stocks are as yet uncommitted and thus available for acquisition.

As of April 20, CCC stocks contained another 2,566,973 bales of 1981 crop and 94,302 bales of 1980 crop cotton, virtually all of which already is or soon will be available to USDA for PIK requirements. An official of USDA has been quoted as saying "I've got my fingers crossed" hoping enough cotton will be acquired through the 1-for-15 bid procedure to satisfy the Department's needs.

If not, clear the delivery room for "Son of PIK, Jr."

BOLL WEEVIL BATTLE BRIGHTENS: There is every reason to expect the boll weevil eradication program in the Carolinas to succeed and for a weevil-free situation to be realized.

That's the report heard by the National Cotton Council Board of Directors in Memphis May 11.

J. Ritchie Smith, Council technical services director, reported the program is scheduled to begin July 1, with growers paying 70

Texas Livestock Good But Below '81

Sales of livestock products which totaled some $5.1 billion made up more than half of Texas' agricultural receipts last year.

Total sales of agricultural products are estimated at about $9.6 billion for the state in 1982, says Dr. Carl G. Anderson, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Overall, cash receipts from meat animals were down about $300 million from 1981 while dairy product receipts increased a little and poultry and egg receipts dropped $10,000. Cattle and calves sold for $32.8 billion; sheep, $54 million; goats, $11 million; and hogs, $113 million.

Traditionally, Texas ranks first in sales from marketing of cattle and calves, sheep and wool, and goats and mohair, says Anderson.

Cattle and calf marketing brought in the largest total sales of any farm commodity. However, this was some $300 million below 1981. Fed beef had the largest total cash receipts in the Panhandle, almost $564 million. North Central Texas led the market for other types of beef with almost $260 million total cash receipts.

Dairymen, numbering about 2,600 marketed some 12 million pounds of milk daily from an estimated 330,000 cows. Northeast Texas led in sales of milk products and milk cows in the state with total cash receipts of almost $161 million. Total receipts from dairy products stood at $545 percent of the cost and the federal government the remainder.

Smith said the area cleared will be protected from reinfestation by maintaining a buffer zone along the South Carolina-Georgia border and employing very economical, but proven, measures in the cleared area.

"While eradication can be held here indefinitely, it can move on to adjoining areas of the old Weevil Belt if producers want the program and are willing to pay the major cost," Smith said.

"The newer Arizona/Southern/California infestation can be handled independently, and moves in that direction are being spurred and mainly financed initially by California growers."

Smith added, "The urgency of getting on with the job is underscored by the large number of winter-surviving weevils in several states and the newly established infestations in the West."

million last year, up $4 million from 1981. Cash receipts from broilers and farm chicks totaled $125 million and $7 million respectively, in East Texas, the state's leading region.

Turkey receipts were the highest in Central Texas, at $60.4 million.

The Coastal Bend area led the state in egg sales, at almost $45 million.

Chicken hen sales at $759,000 were highest in the Upper Coast area, where receipts from honey also led the state at $1.5 million.

Sheep and goat numbers increased slightly after many years of decline. Mohair receipts of $25 million exceeded wool sales of $16 million.

West Central Texas was the leader in cash receipts from sheep and wool with sheep sales at $28.5 million and wool sales at almost $7 million.

Southwest Texas led in cash receipts from goats at $7 million and in mohair receipts of $14.5 million.

Hog sales were the highest in South Central Texas at $24.8 million.

Texas farmers and ranchers should see some improvement in crop and livestock prices during 1983, believes Anderson. An improving economy should help domestic consumption of agricultural production, and some improvement in export sales is also expected.

SOILS AND SEPTIC TANKS

The first step to satisfactory performance by a conventional septic tank system involves studying the soil and the site for the system before it's installed. points out a soil specialist in waste management with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. Soil properties will determine the success or failure of a septic tank system. Only after evaluating the site and soil properties can the soil loading rate be estimated and a system be designed to maximize the site's capability to handle a specified amount of waste from a home or business. A modified or alternative system may be more effective than a conventional septic tank system.

Initially, experts believed that the rising number of women ulcer patients was due to women entering the job market where they were subject to increased stress. Because day-to-day stress is no longer considered a major causative factor, some scientists feel that it is because women have been smoking more.

WALK FOR LONGER LIFE IS FOOT HEALTH MONTH THEME

A regular program of jogging is a superb way to get yourself back into condition. But plain old walking may do the job just as well for many of us, according to Dr. Bizzoco, President of the Lubbock County Podiatry Society, now observing Foot Health Month.

"Although brisk walkers may have to cover more territory then joggers to achieve the same results, the activity is usually safer and painless," Dr. Bizzoco said. "Our theme for Foot Health Month this year is 'Walk for Longer Life,' and for those with a history of inactivity or problems with obesity, walking may be the ideal form of exercise, especially for those over 60."

If walking appeals to you, Dr. Bizzoco recommends wearing good jogging type shoes. A good walking-jogging shoe, he added, should have a stiff heel counter and a flexible sole and have a resilient cushioning to lessen the shock of impact with the ground.

"When most Americans decide they need exercise, they tend to go overboard," he continued. "But jogging, or a few sets of tennis, can result in severe muscle aches and pains. Walking, however, can revitalize and invigorate these same muscles."

Healthy feet are essential to increased walking and the Lubbock podiatrist emphasized the importance of regular foot exams and daily hygiene.

Several Abernathians Participate In Barton House Dedication Ceremony

An almost century old dream and the dreams of those who sought to preserve it were realized Saturday (May 14) with the dedication of the Barton House at the Ranching Heritage Center.

"Dreams sometimes change, warp and weft in the journey to reality, but they can come true," said Maxine Blankenship in the dedicatory address. She said Joseph Barton's dream for prominence for Barton-site was realized in many ways with the dedication of his elegant home at the center.

"The story of the Barton family in America is the story of America itself -- the immigrant, the migration westward, the love of the land and the love of adventure of a God-fearing people."

The builder's three living children, Cassie Barton Rosser of Arlington, and Mary Barton Burum and Dr. Sam B. Barton, both of Denton, all more than 70, participated in the dedication.

Other family members included four children of Jack and Josephine Barton, the second generation to live in the Barton House -- Betty Barton Albers of Abernathy, Jack P. Barton of Lubbock, Joe J. Barton III of Hale Center and Robert "Bob" Barton of Costa Mesa, Calif.

Josephine Waddell Barton who died in 1974, willed the house to the center at the Museum of Texas Tech University. Her sisters, Audrey Waddell and Polly Tucker, both of Abernathy, and other Barton descendants also were present.

Others recognized at the formal opening of the house included former Texas Tech President Grover E. Murray and other Ranching Heritage Center founders. Saturday was designated Founders Day to recognize their role in preserving America's ranching heritage at the center.

Blankenship said the dream for Dr. Murray and the founders of the center was to tell the story of early Texas ranch life through architectural structures of the 19th and early 20th century-- a way of life and architecture fast disappearing.

"This house completes that story and serves as a memorial to early South Plains ranchers and a way of life American ranchers aspired to create and which some achieved in the relative affluence of the dawn of a new century," she said.

Texas Tech officials, Ranching Heritage association members and spectators, who have long followed the progress of the green and white, three-story Victorian-style house attended the dedication.

TRANSITION

Luis Maldonado

Rosary for Luis Maldonado, 39 of 3626 E. Fourth St. was recited Tuesday night in Singleton Chapel.

Mass was celebrated at 2 p.m. Wednesday at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Lubbock with the Rev. Sean Sweeney, pastor, officiating.

Burial was in Peaceful Gardens Memorial Park under direction of Singleton Funeral Directors of Lubbock.

Maldonado died at 11:51 p.m. Sunday in Lubbock General Hospital after a lengthy illness.

The Lockhart native was a farm worker.

Survivors include his wife, Augustina; three daughters, Gloria Armenta, Melinda Maldonado and Isabel Herrera, all of Lubbock; two sons, Luis Jr. and Albert, both of Lubbock; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sabas Maldonado of Abernathy; seven sisters, Elvira Oliveras of Snyder, Janie Delgado of Lubbock, Erma Pinon of Dallas, Lucy Rosalez of Earth, Mary Torres of Matador, Aurelia Garcia of Abernathy and Eloisa Martinez of Anton; five brothers, Frank of Abernathy, Felix of Lazbuddie and Savas Jr., Daniel and Mike all of Dimmitt; and four grandchildren.

from Thomas Barton, who arrived in America from England in 1678. Through 11 generations, Bartons have settled land in Virginia, North Carolina, Alabama, Mississippi and Texas.

Joseph James Barton, the first Barton born in Texas, became operator of the T. L. Ranch, builder of Barton-site and the Barton House, patterned partially after his grandfather's home in Calvert where he grew up. That family home and most of the acquisitions of the past burned in 1885.

After Barton brought his family to Hale County in 1891, he combined ranching with real estate business and met land hungry immigrants at the rail head in Amarillo, Blankenship said.

"He dreamed the railroad would pass through the home section of the T. L. Ranch," Blankenship said. "Into this dream he sank most of his money to build a school, a church, a store, a hotel, a lumber yard, three rent houses and this big house."

Another speaker, Arno Struve of Abernathy, linked Barton-site's eventual fate and Abernathy's rise to the area railroad fever of 1900-1910.

Struve said Barton thought the railroad a sure thing because three rival lines were projected to cross Hale County from north to south. The better financed Santa Fe survived the 1907 "money panic" that killed the Panhandle Short Line. A railroad bed was laid for the third railroad, but nothing came of it, Struve said.

"With a town being established on the Santa Fe, Barton said his own town was no longer viable," Struve said. "The man accepted reality and moved what he could of his town to nearby Abernathy."

The store eventually became Struve's father's store. The hotel was moved, called the Yellow Hotel and served as a school for a short time before it burned.

The interdenominational Barton-site Church was attended by people from miles around, Struve said. It was eventually moved to the new town of Cotton Center.

"Barton-site didn't disappear without a trace. The Barton House remained as an outstanding landmark for 70 years," Struve said. "It was locale for many community activities, and Abernathy friends came to play bridge with Josephine, as she was affectionately known."

Struve called Barton a man in search of excellence with dreams of the highest order whose legacy of service to his fellow man lives on through his children and grandchildren.

"The larger community may now enjoy that legacy, too, through this wonderful old house placed here to show us a culture that included the possibility of doing things in a grand manner," Struve said.

Texas Tech President Lauro F. Cavazos and Museum Director Clyde Jones, expressed the university's acceptance and appreciation of the house.

Following the dedication, the house was open to the public. Fiddle music was provided by Rick Sudduth of McAdoo and costumed volunteers were available in the rooms. The house will be open on a year-round schedule posted at the Ranching Heritage Center.

The Barton Family and visitors attended a barbecue in the 6666 Barn, followed by meetings of the Ranching Heritage Association Board of Overseers and the Endowment for the Preservation of Ranching Heritage of America Board of Directors.

That evening, the groups gathered for a banquet to pay tribute to Dr. Murray and Founders. Founders were awarded plaques made from oak panels removed from the storefront of the Cogdell's General Store. The oak front was recently placed with glass so visitors could see inside the store.

Jerry Rogers, associate director, National Register programs, National Park Service, Washington, D. C., spoke on the development of the Ranching Heritage Center.

Founders honored included Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Holden, co-chairman, of the founding committee, John F. Lott, Frank H. Chappell, Jr., the late Howard Hampton and the late D. Burns. Val Hampton, widow of Hampton, and Burns Hamilton, grandson of D. Burns participated in their memory.

'82 AG RECEIPTS DOWN $1 BILLION IN TEXAS--Cash receipts from Texas farm and ranch products totaled almost $9.6 billion last year, down about $1 billion--or 9 percent--from 1981, according to information compiled by an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System. The figure does not include government payments. The decline was due mainly to poor farm prices that resulted from high stockpiles of agricultural commodities. Also, weather losses were heavy in some areas. Cotton led the decline in cash receipts--from $1.4 billion in 1981 to $875 million last year. All crop receipts totaled almost $3.8 billion in 1982 while sales of livestock products contributed more than $5.1 billion. Receipts from farm-based timber, horses, fish farming, hunting leases, farm pond leases and recreation jumped sharply from $581 million in 1981 to $724 million last year.

GTE Offers Calling Card Service

Telephone users needing to make telephone credit card calls from Abernathy can now place the call plus enter their Calling Card number into the telephone network from touch call phones non assisted.

Calling Card Service, a new computerized communications feature that enables Calling Card users to place a call and input the Calling Card number for billing purposes without the assistance of an operator, offers a convenient, faster and less costly alternative to operator-assisted calls, such as third number billing and collect calls. Calling Card users will be able to save up to 50 cents per call on interstate calls if they use Calling Card Service rather than third party or collect billing. Similar savings also apply for intrastate calls.

Calling Card Service will be available nationwide by mid-1983, although the automated dial-it-yourself service may not be available in some locations for some time.

The new service will not require many changes for customers. Calling Card users will still enter "0" plus the telephone number they are calling. With the automated service such as that being made available in Abernathy, the customers will then hear a tone, or a tone and an announcement asking them to enter their Calling Card number. Once the calling card number is entered, it is validated from a nationwide data base which has all Calling Card numbers.

Billing information is recorded automatically, and the customer is connected to his party in a matter of seconds -- all without the assistance of an operator.

Fully automated CCS will be available only from telephones which have Touch Calling service in Abernathy and other exchanges where the service is available. Customers who have rotary dial phones and those where automated CCS is not yet available can make Calling Card calls but require assistance of an operator. Calls from these locations still receive the Calling Card rate which is lower than collect and third number calls.

If only two percent of consumers who use non-prescription medicines for minor ailments chose to visit doctors instead of using self-medication, economist Rottenberg estimates the annual increase in patients' office visits would be 292 million--a rise of 62 percent.
