Howard Earns $8,000 Houston Livestock Show And Rodeo Scholarship

Lonnie Ward Howard, an outstanding Hale County 4-H member, received a four-year $8,000 scholarship from the Houston Livestock Show & Rodeo June 7.

Lonnie, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard L. Howard (Route 2, Box 53, Abernathy), is a recent honor graduate of Abernathy High School. As a member of Abernathy 4-H Club, he was actively involved in projects focusing on beef production, citizenship, cotton production, petroleum power, foods and nutrition, public speaking, photography and leadership. He served as an officer of his club, the county 4-H council and as first vice chairman of the Texas 4-H Council. He has received the State Fair of Texas Award, the Danforth "I Dare You" Award and the leadership award of the Farm Bureau. In 1981, he was selected Hale County 4-H Gold Star Boy.

While in high school, he was a member of FFA, the science club and the National Honor Society. He placed in district University Interscholastic League persuasive speaking competition and received academic awards as an outstanding student in English.

Lonnie, who plans to major in agricultural economics at Texas Tech University, was one of 50 recipients of Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo scholarships presented at the state 4-H Roundup.

The Show, which will also present 50 four-year, $8,000 scholarships to FFA members during their state convention in July, is the largest donor of agricultural scholarships in the United States. During the coming school year, the Show will have 499 students on scholarships in Texas colleges and universities, at a commitment of more than $2.2 million through the annual program alone.

The winners, carefully selected from hundreds of applicants, are the best in the state from the standpoints of academics and leadership. The only requirements made of the students are that they major in some form of agriculture at a college or university within the confines of the state.

The monies used to fund the scholarship program are derived directly from proceeds generated by spectators at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, a civic, charitable organization whose efforts, actions and revenues are used directly to benefit youth and support education.

In presenting the scholarships, Show President E. Norwin Gerhart noted that the efforts, hard work and dedication of the Show volunteers are geared toward this direction.

"The presentation of these scholarships and our continuing commitment to these young people and their education is the heart of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo," said Gerhart. "The Show is proud of its part in meeting the challenges of the future by assisting these students who are our future agricultural leaders."

LONNIE WARD HOWARD of Abernathy received an $8,000 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo four-year college scholarship at the Texas 4-H Round-up in College Station on June 7, 1983. The Show is the nation's largest donor of agricultural scholarships through its multi-million dollar scholarship program.

Lightning Causes Fire At Home Near County Line

A thunderstorm, which hit County Line early Thursday morning at approximately 2:30 a.m., caused a fire at the Audry McGuire residence, 3 miles south and 2 miles west of County Line.

McGuire woke suddenly when she heard a crash in her den. Lightning had hit an extension leading to her television and had set it on fire.

She immediately called the Abernathy Fire Department, then her son and son-in-law, Derl McGuire and Doyce Woods, who live 1/2 mile from her house. Derl and Doyce arrived first and luckily Audry had two fire extinguishers on hand. They used the two extinguishers to fight off the fire until the Abernathy Fire Department arrived on the scene to make sure the fire was put out.

The fire completely ruined the den and did extensive smoke damage to the rest of the house.

Audry stated that having the two fire extinguishers in her house, and someone to operate them, was probably what saved the house from burning down.

Valdez New Officer In Town

The new Abernathy Police Officer is Frank Valdez. He replaced officer Gary Jackson, who was terminated from the police department approximately May 5.

Valdez worked for the Olton Police Department one year prior to coming to Abernathy. He also worked for the Littlefield Police Department for two years before working at Olton.

Valdez presently resides in Abernathy. He is married and has two young children.

Chamber Wants Your Input Into Senior Citizens Project

The Abernathy Chamber of Commerce wants the public's input on some good ideas for a floor plan for the Senior Citizens Center (Depot).

Local individuals are urged to solicit their ideas as to how they think the Depot should be remodeled.

Those who have a good design in mind or ideas for the Depot should contact Keith Tooley, Arno Struve, Rod Ellis or any other Chamber member involved in this project.

Design and remodeling ideas are needed now, while the committee is still making plans for the center. Therefore, locals are urged to examine the inside of the Depot and solicit their ideas.

Refuse Collection Fee Increase Approved

The Abernathy City Council met last Monday night at 7:30 p.m. and approved a refuse collection fee increase, as well as discuss several other important business items.

Preston Coomer, refuse collection contractor for Abernathy and 11 other area towns, stated that his costs, such as tires, fuel and other truck and transportation expenses, were taking a big bite out of his company's profits. He also informed the Council that there has not been a refuse collection fee increase in four years and it is necessary to raise rates because his costs have increased with inflation.

The Council discussed the rate increase then approved it. Rates will be increased $1 for residential pick ups (from $4 to $5) monthly, and commercial rates will be increased a minimum of $2 monthly per customer.

Coomer's company, Triple C Sanitation, services approximately 400 trash containers in Abernathy alone.

To put the increase into action, the Council agreed to amend the sanitation ordinance and add the necessary revisions. The increase will be seen on the August billing from the City.

Other Business

Mayor Pete Thompson called the meeting to order with all members present except for Gary Grant.

The Council approved the minutes of the May 9 meeting, after having discussed the disrepair of Avenue D. City Manager Rod Ellis has written several letters to the highway department asking them to re-surface Avenue D. In return, the highway department has sent back several inconclusive letters to the City which basically state that they have no funds to pave Avenue D and don't know if they will ever be able to. Avenue D is the State Highway Department's responsibility, not the City of Abernathy's. They have repaired some of the pot holes, but Ellis stated that Avenue D needs a completely new surface.

City Engineer Clayton Yeager of Parkhill-Smith and Cooper, Inc., was present at the meeting to discuss State Community Development block grant funds which will be available in two months. The City will be able to apply for up to $500 thousand which will be made available for community development by the federal government.

The Council decided to meet with Yeager next month and decide on whether they want to apply for these funds. This will also give the Council some time to think about what they would like to see these funds go to. Some of the eligible activities under this block grant program include: public facilities such as water and sewer improvements, paving, housing, economic development and planning. Projects must assist low to moderate income families.

Rod Ellis submitted a proposal and budget of $28 thousand to the Council which was presented to the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG) Tuesday. The application was filled out by Ellis in hopes of getting additional funds for the Senior Citizens Center. The City has already been granted $16,187 from an earlier grant, but there is another $190 thousand in federal funds available for senior citizens and Ellis is applying for $28 thousand of this.

The funds being applied for will be used to buy additional equipment for the Senior Citizens Center. SPAG will examine the proposal this week and the City will know if they have been granted these funds by August 19, 1983.

The Council reviewed local EMS call rates and compared these rates with EMS rates in Lubbock County to see if the local EMS was asking enough for their services. The rates was comparable and the Council took no action on the subject.

The Airport lease agreement was discussed. The lease will run out July 1 with Max Crowell and the City will be seeking a person to lease out the airport. The Council also discussed making some improvements at the airport.

The Council reviewed and discussed sub-standard building case number C-007. The structure in question is the old Waits Farm Store building on Ave. D, across from Vecchio's Burger Hut.

The City Council decided to contact the owner of this structure and advise him that the building will be demolished by the City if progress is not made in repairing the building immediately.

Chamber Discusses Fund Raising Projects For Diamond Jubilee

In the end, the Chamber decided to have the "Womanless Wedding" and set the date for the wedding on August 27 at 7:30 p.m.

Other fund raising projects were also discussed. Ruth Fulton volunteered to be in charge of a Mexican supper to be held before one of the football games this fall. George Riddell suggested a talent show to raise funds. Both of these ideas were discussed, but a definite date was not set for either event.

Other Business

Sixteen members and two guests, Barbara Ellis and Violet Patterson, attended the June meeting. Lewis Patterson gave the invocation and President Arno Struve opened the meeting.

The minutes of the May meeting were discussed and approved along with the financial report.

Chamber secretary Chris Waters requested that all Senior Citizen Center deposit slips be turned in so she can update her records on total deposits to this fund.

The progress of the Senior Citizens Center was discussed. Presently, the Chamber is waiting for the Santa Fe Depot to be moved. The Chamber contacted a moving company three weeks ago to move it, but the company has not had time to do it thus far.

It was suggested that a planning group be organized to make plans for fixing up the Depot, but a committee was not appointed.

Diana Phillips suggested that she contact an architect from Texas Tech to see if one would be interested in designing a plan for the Depot as a class project. Mona Toler then suggested that it would be nice to have the original bay window re-constructed in the Depot.

Rod Ellis has submitted a proposal to the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG) office in Lubbock for more senior citizens funding. SPAG has $190 thousand available for senior citizens projects and Ellis applied for approximately $28 thousand to be used on the Senior Citizens Center.

Several items concerning the depot were discussed, such as purchasing kitchen equipment and lowering the floor in the storage area.

Changing the name of the Chamber of Commerce to Chamber of Commerce and Community Development was discussed, but problems were brought up about changing the name. It was stated that it would be extremely difficult and costly to change the name. Therefore, the Chamber decided to add a sub-title "dedicated to community progress," which will be put below Abernathy Chamber of Commerce on Chamber stationary and other Chamber publications, instead of changing the name.

It was brought to the attention of the Chamber by a Tulia local, that the state cross country championship sign on the southeast side of town has the wrong date on it. The Tulia local stated that Tulia was the state champion in 1980, not Abernathy, which was put on the sign. Abernathy was the cross country champion in 1979.

Hoppy Toler and Tony Gereau volunteered to change the date on the sign to 1979. The meeting adjourned.

THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES voted 382-41 to kill the withholding tax on interest and dividends.

The repeal vote came on a bill sponsored by U.S. Rep. Kent Hance, D-Texas, and six other members of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee. Hopefully, this bill will be signed into law before July 1 by President Reagan and this will put an end to another unpopular tax notion.

We are glad that Hance and others are working against more taxes, at least in some areas.

I was reading that the National Tax Foundation reports that the average worker must now toil until May 2 just to pay federal, state and local taxes. Put another way, out of every eight hours in a working day, almost three go just to pay taxes.

If the present system is called free enterprise, then why does the government take such a big chunk of it? It is a privilege to live in this great country, but it sure is getting more expensive every year to pay the dues.

A TEXAS FARMER passed away and left 17 mules to his three sons. The instructions left in the will said that the oldest boy was to get one-half, the second eldest one-third, and the youngest one-ninth.

The three sons, recognizing the difficulty of dividing 17 mules into these fractions, began to argue. The uncle heard about the argument, hitched up his mule and drove out to settle the matter.

He added his mule to the 17, making 18. The eldest son therefore got one-half, or nine mules; the second got one-third, or six; and the youngest got one-ninth, or two mules. Adding up 9, 6, and 2, equals 17.

The uncle, having settled the argument, hitched up his mule and drove home.

FOLLOWING A campaign speech, a young man rushed up to Senator Everett Dirksen and said, "Senator, I wouldn't vote for you if you were St. Peter!"

Dirksen eyed the young man for a moment, then said: "Son if I were St. Peter, you couldn't vote for me because you wouldn't be in my district."

Barrick Selected Feature Artist For Musical Drama "Texas"

Abernathy native Bill Barrick has been selected the featured artist for the 1983 "Texas" Musical Drama, which opened June 15 in Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Thirty-five drawings and paintings by Barrick were reproduced in the "Texas" souvenir program. Over 22,000 programs were published with the expectation that all will be distributed before the season ends in late August.

This year marks the 18th season for Texas, and it has become a world famous outdoor musical production. Last season, all 50 states and 84 countries were represented by an attendance of more than 88,000.

Concurrently with the "Texas" Musical Drama feature, Barrick is being honored with his first One-Man Retrospective Exhibition in the main gallery of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon (June 22-July 23). A public reception is scheduled for 7 p.m., June 25, with the artist in attendance.

Bill said he has devoted much of his time in recent months to locating and gaining permission to borrow art work from private, public, and corporate collections all over the Southwest. "Of course, there are many pieces I would like to display that I simply could not find, but it looks like we'll have about 80 paintings and drawings to show. That should provide a fairly representative survey of the production during the 16 years of my professional career and maybe even a couple of early college items."

Bill Barrick

Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilburn Barrick of Abernathy and his wife, Marty, also a local native, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vic Struve. Both are graduates of Abernathy High School and they have two sons, Jeff, 15, and Cody, 12.

Today they live in Cedar Park, near Austin. "We hope to see a lot of our old friends and neighbors at the reception in Canyon," Barrick ended.

"DISTANT THUNDER" Acrylic painting by B. B. Barrick, awarded Silver Medal in the 9th Annual Texas Ranger Hall of Fame Art Show -- one of 80 originals by the artist going on exhibit June 22 at the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum in Canyon.

ATTEND THE CHURCH OF YOUR CHOICE

"Father's Day"

Rev. Roswell Brunner
First Church of the Nazarene

Sunday is Father's Day. It is always fun to celebrate a day in which we honor someone who is close to us. Father's Day is one of those days.

The influence of good Fathers cannot be overemphasized. I like what happened to General Robert E. Lee, which illustrates this truth:

"One snowy day, General Robert E. Lee was out walking with his son Curtis. Soon General Lee saw that his son was doing his best to walk in his tracks in the snow. Said General Lee to some friends later: When I saw this I said to myself that it behooves me to walk very straight when this fellow is already following in my tracks." (Walter B. Knight)

It is important that we guard carefully our influence. Young eyes are watching the father and we do need to remember that a son or daughter may grow up to be like the father.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. and Mrs. Royse L. Shires of Abernathy and Dr. and Mrs. W. E. "Cy" Jones of Lubbock.

Mrs. Herbert Hardin presented the traditional wedding march and recessional.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of white sheer organza fashioned with a Victorian neckline, full-length bishop sleeves cuffed with re-embroidered alencon lace and a ruffle of organza at the wrist. The empire bodice had a front yolk of sheer English net and lace embellished with iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The full-length, A-line skirt cascaded into a chapel length train. A deep ruffle of crystal pleating formed the hemline of the skirt and train. A band of satin and lace encompassed the waistline and tied in the back with a Dior bow.

The headpiece was a half crown of silk petals with interwoven seed pearls holding a rolled edged fingertip veil of illusion.

The bride's bouquet was a cascade of blue and white silk roses attached to a bible, which belonged to her uncle, Ray Martin.

Following traditional customs, she wore a penny in her shoe, minted in her birth year, for something old; her wedding dress and veil for something new; a bible borrowed from her uncle and a blue garter.

Miss Dani Dye of Lubbock was the Maid of Honor and Ms. Terri Hendrix was the bridesmaid. Miss Candace Riley was the flower girl. The attendants and matching flower girl wore formal length gowns designed of white organza bodices, long bishop sleeves and Victorian necklines. A self ruffle of organza edged with delicate lace formed a softly draped Grecian bodice flowed a full circle of chiffon over crepe.

Mrs. Jones' selection was a formal length gown of ice blue chiffon. The short sleeved, jeweled neckline bodice was heavily encrusted with ice blue sequins and pearls. The full skirt was of chiffon sunburst pleating.

Mrs. Sam Gentry, the groom's grandmother, wore a two-piece street length knit in a soft shade of lavender.

Assisting at the bride's table were Becky Drachenburg, Wolfforth; Nan Riley, Abernathy; Priscilla Kimmel, Lubbock; and Mae Johnston, Abernathy. This and That

Minnie and Arno Struve visited Velma and Ray Pinson at their home in Meadowlakes development, near Marble Falls, Friday, June 3. Talk about old times occupied the afternoon. The Pinsons took the Struves for a drive through Meadowlakes to show them the nice homes, golf course, pecan orchards and lake-front facilities. A guard station, at the entrance of Meadowlakes, keeps casual, uninvited visitors away. The Struves were in the Marble Falls area to attend a kinfolks picnic at the old Richter place, 5 miles south-east of Marble Falls. Also attending the picnic were: Eva Benn, Rudolph Struve, Ruwayne Struve and Fritz Struve. Rains at night kept the temperature very comfortable. Some excitement resulted, when a Cottonmouth Moccasin was discovered in a woodpile close to a fishing pond, not far away. The snake was dispatched with an oar and a .22 rifle.

Affairs of Life

Modern scientists agree that the bible is a helpful scientific handbook.

Wisdom would also indicate man should have an encouraging guideline during his path of enlightenment on planet Earth.

The popular works is well described as follows:

"scriptures were written that we might learn, that we might through patience and comfort of the scriptures have hope. We are to be likeminded one toward another according to Christ Jesus."

County Line Chit Chats

By Faye Ann Nelson

[Trip continued from last week] - Monday, April 11. We are in Holland and getting ready to fly to Lisbon, Portugal. The time change certainly throws us off our usual sleeping time. We just had to adjust to it. We were up at 5 a.m., since we had to have our luggage in the lobby at 6:30 to be loaded on the bus.

We were served a Dutch breakfast at 7 a.m. They bring bread and butter to you every meal, with eggs and jelly and fruit juice.

We then boarded our bus and were taken to the airport to catch a plane. We were put on another big jet airliner, and served a big breakfast of scrambled eggs, bacon, sausage, fruit juice, coffee, rolls and cheese. We simply could not eat another bite and just drank the juice and sent the food back.

On landing we were taken to the Sheraton in Lisbon, Portugal - a 25-story, 400-room deluxe hotel. The hotel has marble floors and walls in the lobby. The bathroom walls and floors are all marble, as well as the stairways. We had a lovely room on the 22nd floor and a beautiful view of the city.

We had the rest of the day to either rest or explore the Lusitanian capital, where you can drift into Lisbon's easy pace, stroll around popular mosaic paved Rossio Square, watch the black-shawled women on Harbour markets or shop at Avenida de Liberdade.

We toured the farms, where the cork trees were growing; some are 200-300 years old. They strip the cork from them every nine years. You could see some of them stripped and marked, so the workers would not touch them. We got samples of cork from the factories, where they pile it in strips like lumber before it is ground and made into different things.

Tours were conducted for $15 that took us through castles.

The sidewalks were all cobblestones and very tiring to walk on.

When we returned to the hotel, we discovered a three-story underground mini-mall with many gift shops. All shops close between 1 and 3 p.m. for siesta time.

We received another big meal at 8 p.m. It takes them an hour to serve the four courses.

Tuesday, April 12 - Our deluxe motorcoach took us to many historic places; past a cathedral which is eight centuries old. Lots of the buildings in Lisbon have tile on them. We toured the St. Jorge Castle.

We parked the bus and went up many narrow alley-type streets with hundreds of vendors of all kinds selling everything from shoes to smelly fish. We saw eels and all types of raw fish laying out in boxes on the street. There were tubs of snails, too.

We crossed a beautiful bridge on the Tarus River. They copied the design of our Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco. The guide said this is the Golden Gate Bridge of Portugal.

We saw a beautiful monument to maritime discoveries.

They have statues of Christ everywhere, but one large one 110 meters high. Then on top is a statue of Christ 90 feet tall and his arms stretch 90 feet across. The elevator went up to the feet of Christ, and you could walk out on a ledge and see the whole city, which was a beautiful view.

Downtown they had some statues called Rossio and Black Horse Square. Then we toured Jeronimo's monastery.

We drove along the river and saw Bele'm Tower, which was once used as a fort. It has small windows all around it for look out and for guns. It looks like it is out in the water on a high foundation.

Then we saw the Moorish Alfama quarters, Pombal statue, and the bull ring. The guide said they do not kill the bulls in Spain like they do in Mexico. We were supposed to attend the bull fight, but the group wasn't very interested.

We then went to the 16th century Hieronymite monastery and the tomb of Vasco da Gama.

We returned to the hotel for dinner at 8 p.m. It took another two hours, as they are so slow in serving. They wait until everyone is finished before serving the next course.

I am paying dearly for eating those big meals at night. Next we journey over to Seville, Spain.

Famous Lady To Celebrate 100th Birthday in 1986

While we were in New York, they were getting America's most famous lady ready for her 100th birthday. At 96, she needs some corrective surgery and other beautification work.

Lots of people ask me if you can still go inside and up to the top. We did, and I could see no signs of where they had started the renovation work, but they were saying it would close soon.

The statue, by Auguste Bartholdi, took 10 years to build. It was a gift from the French to America to celebrate their common revolutionary principles of freedom and equality. It is something I have read about all my life, and I was determined to see it while in New York, if I did not see anything else.

It is huge. To give you some idea of the size of the symbol of freedom, here are some dimensions: head - 17 ft., 3 in. high; ear to ear is 8 ft.; nose - 4 ft., 6 in. long; right arm - 42 ft. long.

If you are planning to visit the monument this year, don't despair. It might be the best time to visit, since there will be some historic moments to see and photograph. Since the right arm and the torch may have to be lowered to the ground.

Did you know the population of New York is larger than that of countries like Denmark, Austria and Norway?

In reading the Heloise column today, she says to mail yourself postcards each day you are gone, then you have a diary and a good picture of where you are on certain days. Why didn't I think of that, and then my story would have been easier to write.

Pity the Poor Columnists

Having had the pleasure and privilege of visiting with you through this paper for some twenty-plus years, I find myself with the title listed above. So many of you have been so kind and patient with my efforts, and I've appreciated that kindness; especially when Shallowater and Abernathy readers say, "Don't stop writing." Well, that is something I could not do if I wanted to. From the age of six or so, I have been writing, and it is an expensive hobby, now that stamps have gone so high.

Once in a while, it's disappointing when we hit the wrong key and a word is misspelled, or someone's name is printed wrong and words are changed so that their meaning may not be what was intended.

May I apologize to Jeri Floyd on her birthday party at Lubbock, since her name was misspelled, and those that met at the Hong Kong Restaurant to help her celebrate were Bobby Embury, Fauncine Horne and myself.

I have written 50 letters to the group that I met on tour, which is interesting since they are from all different states in the U.S.A.

Then Mayna Davis and I joined a pen pal club for foreign countries and she got 15 names and I got 15 names. So, I wrote 15 more letters to Holland, England, Germany, Australia, New Zealand, Norway, Sweden, France, Hawaii, Alaska, Canada, Ireland, Denmark, Austria, and Switzerland. It is going to be quite interesting to hear about the different countries and their customs. We are going to trade post cards, stamps, seeds and coins. I came home with a few strange coins, so I thought I might as well start collecting them.

See you next week.

Plains Pest Management Report

The weather conditions are almost the same as last week. Thunderstorms have developed daily, providing more rain and some hail. Cotton growth has been very slow, with some fields now developing true leaves. Corn is doing somewhat better with most fields now 12 to 24 inches in height. Sorghum fields which have been observed are now 4 to 6 inches tall.

Cotton

Seedling disease is the major concern now with the continued rains and cool temperatures. If your stand is affected by this disease, you should evaluate stand losses by examining cotton roots and taking stand counts. Billy Warrick, Hale County Extension Agronomist indicates that a plant population of 26,000 per acre, or 2 plants per foot of row on a 40 inch spacing, is the minimum population for cotton production without yield reduction.

Thrip populations remain light to moderate in most cotton. A few fields have been reported with populations of 8-12 per plant and causing blackening in the terminal area. Refer to last week's report for treatment recommendations.

Corn

Southwestern corn borers (SWCB) are now beginning to emerge. The first SWCB moths were collected June 9 in a light trap located south of Edmonson.

A couple of corn stubble fields were surveyed June 9 to see how over-wintering SWCB's were progressing. One field was disked and the other was undisturbed. The disked field had a 14 percent survival rate, while the unplowed field had a 51 percent survival rate. These survival rates are very high for over-wintering SWCB. The distribution for the surviving SWCB's collected were 14 percent larvae, 83 percent pupae and 3 percent emerged. Many of the pupae collected were a light red-brown color, which indicates they had recently pupated.

Whorl feeding is now apparent in corn. This damage is mostly from the corn earworm. County agents do not recommend treatments for this pest when corn is in the whorl stage. Those who have any questions, call Greg Cronholm at 293-8481, ext. 273 or 296-6939 (home) or 293-6114 (mobile).

ENERGY PROGRAM

Getting energy from biomass (plant matter and animal wastes) will be the subject of a seminar and tour at Del Valle High School on June 15 starting at 8 a.m. Del Valle is about six miles east of Austin on Texas Highway 71. State and national authorities will discuss various phases of biomass research and energy use. A tour of the Dan Berdoll farm with its energy-integrated systems will highlight the day's program, says an agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas A&M University System.

There are 132 rooms in the White House.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

LUBBOCK, Friday, June 10, 1983

Two new cotton grades proposed by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service (AMS) failed to clear the Universal Cotton Standards Conference (UCSC) in Memphis, Tennessee, June 7 and 8, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

Johnson and Ray Joe Riley of Hart were official producer-ginner representatives to the conference from the High Plains.

Strict Good Ordinary Light Spot and Strict Good Ordinary Spot grades are needed in the official upland cotton standards to provide a better quality description for some of the U. S. cotton now being called Below Grade, AMS Standards Section Chief Harvin Smith told the conference. Smith was supported in his contention by AMS Director Vern Highley and Jesse Moore, Cotton Division Director.

USDA said an average of 1.2 percent of each year's U. S. crop is classed as Below Grade, and that about 90 percent of this cotton could be better described as SGO Light Spot or SGO Spot.

Under the Universal Cotton Standards agreement of 1923, any change in standards requires a three-fourths vote of UCSC delegates, with USDA controlling half the votes and the 14 Foreign Signatory Associations the other half. Thus, assuming a favorable vote from USDA, adoption of the new grades would have required a "yes" vote from seven of the signatories.

But E. T. Gartside of the British Textile Employers' Association, speaking for the foreign group, stated that the signatories had no strong feelings one way or the other about the proposed new standards and therefore would neither vote for nor against their adoption. This stance eliminated the possibility of a three-fourths majority, and no vote was taken.

Bill Franklin of Bakersfield, California, spoke for the proposal on behalf of producer and ginner representatives, agreeing that the standards are needed for more precise descriptions of U. S. cotton and noting that in a meeting the previous day the Producer Steering Committee of the National Cotton Council had voted unanimous approval.

James L. Mahaffey, Jr. of Chattanooga, Tennessee, representing the American Textile Manufacturers Institute, reported that ATMI itself had no official position on the proposal but said most of the manufacturers with whom he had talked did not appear to favor the introduction of new grades.

The only strong opposition was voiced by cotton shipper Raymond Cooper of Dallas. Cotton, he stated is traded on "type" and should be sold on "type."

Cooper also chronicled the familiar shipper complaints against the Commodity Credit Corporation loan program in general and said there would be a strong possibility that cotton put into the new grade categories would accumulate in government stocks instead of moving into the market.

Cotton Picture Improved Due To PIK, Usage

The previously gloomy cotton picture has done an about-face due to the government's PIK (payment-in-kind) program and an increase in domestic usage.

Whether or not this price strength will continue, however, depends a lot on Mother Nature, says an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Despite about a 40 percent cutback in cotton acreage, due to farmer participation in PIK and the acreage reduction program, cotton supplies will still be plentiful this fall, if good weather prevails," says Dr. Carl Anderson.

"The market price may drop to near the loan rate at harvest time, so farmers should consider forward contracting or hedging in the futures market some of their crop during periods of market strength," suggests the economist. "The market will be especially sensitive to weather developments during the growing season."

The 1983 cotton crop shapes up this way. Farmers will likely plant a little more than 8 million acres, and yields will likely be higher than normal because farmers are using their best land and have fewer acres to care for, so they can manage them better. Thus, 1983 production could reach 9.5 to 10 million bales, estimates Anderson.

"Of course, bad weather in the U.S., as well as in China or Russia, could change the situation drastically and reduce the 1983 cotton supply," he notes.

While the U.S. is trying to cut back on cotton production, Russia and China are attempting to increase production, says Anderson. Thus, prospects are good for foreign production to remain fairly high during the coming crop year. The 1982 crop in China reached a surprising 16.5 million bales, up three million from the preceding year. Production in 1979 was only 10.1 million bales.

"Overall, the export market this year is likely to be somewhat soft," believes the economist. "However, a pickup in the U.S. economy could improve domestic usage."

While the market's current strength offers some hope for cotton producers, demand could stagnate later in the year, depending on weather conditions and the outlook for the '83 crop, notes Anderson.

"Walk A Little Plainer Daddy"

Walk a little plainer daddy
Said a little boy so frail
I'm following in your footsteps and I don't want to fail
Sometimes your steps are very plain
Sometimes they are hard to see
So walk a little plainer daddy
For you are leading me.

I know that once you walked this way
many years ago
And what you did along the way
I'd really like to know
For sometimes when I am tempted
I don't know what to do
So walk a little plainer daddy
For I must follow you.

Some day when I'm grown up
You are like I want to be
Then I will have a little boy
Who will want to follow me
And I would want to lead him right and help him to be true
So walk a little plainer daddy
For we must follow you.

Low Income Can Apply For Help

On Cooling Bills

Some low-income Texas households may be eligible for help in paying their cooling bills, according to the head of the Texas Department of Human Resources.

Human Resources Commissioner Marlin W. Johnston said the assistance with paying utility bills is available to low-income households, who in June 1983 received food stamps, Aid to Families with Dependent Children, Supplemental Security Income, or needs-tested Veterans Administration benefits.

Potentially eligible veterans are those who receive payments under 415, 521, 541, or 542 of Title 38 of the U. S. code, or under Section 306 of the Veterans and Survivors Pension Improvement Act of 1978.

Eligibility is limited by gross income. For instance, aid is available for a one-person household having less than $334.49 gross income per month. The gross income limit is $546.49 for a two-person household, $749.49 for a three-person household, $926.49 for four persons, $1,092.49 for five, and $1,277.49 for six.

Eligible households must be subject to energy cost increases--because of higher bills or rent due to rising utility costs. Households are eligible if they live in privately owned or rented housing, even if the cost of utilities is included in the rent payment or if the household pays only a portion of its home energy costs.

Johnston said applications are mailed automatically to households which receive food stamps, AFDC, and SSI. Households receiving needs-tested Veterans benefits must request an application from DHR in June.

If you have not received an application and think your household may be eligible, contact a local office of the Texas Department of Human Resources, Johnston said.

The Tuscan dialect of Dante's Divine Comedy became the language of literary Italy.

Merle Jackson, Pioneer Of Happy Union Community, Tells Her Story

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a column which was written by Merle Price Jackson of Abernathy and edited by Louise Harper. The article is about the remembrances of Merle Price Jackson about her life in the Happy Union Community southeast of Plainview. The article was printed recently in Louise Harper's column "Patchwork" which appears in the Plainview Daily Herald each week. The article was printed in two parts, May 30 and June 6 editions. This is the part of the story published in the May 30th edition.

The May issue of the Hale County History Quarterly about the Happy Union Community is off the press and available at the Llano Estacado Museum. In it, Mrs. Jack (Merle Price) Jackson (now living in Abernathy) writes about her family and growing up in that community.

Merle admits as a youngster she may have been somewhat of a "tomboy" - a female Tom Sawyer. It is with wit and charm she recalls those less complicated years growing up on a Hale County farm.

The A. K. and Ida May Price Family
By Merle Price Jackson
Edited by Louise Harper

MERLE PRICE JACKSON

My parents, Alkire Knott Price and Ida May Buchanan, were married Oct. 29, 1905, in Grandpa Price's home near Evening Shade, Sharp County, Ark. It was a 3 1/2 story brick home, built when Dad was nine years old. Grandpa Price was strictly a southern "Gentleman Farmer." He raised only stock, mostly hogs. He always kept 12 men and their families working for him. In those days he was considered a well-to-do man, so my dad (A.K. Price) spent most of his youth overseeing the hired men until fall.

Dad always said, "I must have walked a thousand miles driving the hogs out of the brush in the river valleys and to the railhead at Hardy, Ark., and then shipping them to market at St. Louis." A.K. attended the University of Arkansas at Fayetteville for a year, then he came home and courted and won the hand of the local "School Marm" (Ida Mae), which was quite a catch he decided. The next October in 1906, my sister, Norma Lee, was born and dad was getting the urge to go West. Also, Mother's parents, the J. M. Buchanans were preparing to come to the new land.

So Dad with their livestock and household goods - together with Grandfather Buchanan and Uncle Bert Buchanan - left the Ozarks by rail to start a new life in Hale County.

Grandfather and Grandmother (Buchanan) bought their first half section of land nine miles south and 1 1/2 miles west of Plainview. The first Old Happy Union Schoolhouse was in the northeast corner of the place, and they lived in it until Grandfather could get their first home built and ready to move into that summer. The lumber was hauled from Canyon. Then, there, a little boy, John Hampton, died with scarlet fever. They were never quite happy there anymore. So Dad bought a quarter section in the Happy Union Community and built our home. It was ten miles south and two miles west of Plainview, and that was, and still is, really home to me. This was in January of 1909.

On July 14, 1911, another brother, Wasson Springer Price, was born. He was the apple of my parent's eye. Then, December 28, 1916, Lola Merle (writer of this article) made her appearance in a blinding snowstorm. Dr. L. C. Wayland barely made it, after driving Mrs. Wayland's fine buggy horse into a barbed wire fence and nearly cutting her leg off. I guess I've been a headache to a lot of people ever since!

Dad rented the quarter section north of the home place from Texas Land and Development, File #1 (the first land they bought they and in 1944, when the TL&D broke up, Wasson bought it. Then one mile north Dad rented File #56, a half section from TL&D.

They finally made it to Plainview on Jan. 2, 1907. Mother, Dad, and "Sister" stayed with Uncle Lee (L.M.) Springer and Aunt Mag, who lived over next to the Callahan Ranch on the edge of Floyd County, till they got their house built north of Petersburg in the Ellen Community. While there, a little boy, John Hampton, died with scarlet fever. They were never quite happy there anymore.

Dad raised only feed for the stock, Kafir, and then later he always had some old goose-necked maize that had to be headed by hand. Later, he sowed wheat.

We had a great deal of serious illness in our family. In 1921 Wasson has pneumonia. Dr. E. O. Nichols, Sr. operated on him on Aunt Mag and Uncle Lee's dining table in their home at the corner of 10th and Yonkers. The doctor removed a piece of rib, put in a steel plate to spread the ribs and also put in a drainage tube. Dr. Guest and Dr. L. C. Wayland helped with the operation.

In 1926, Mother took pneumonia and was in the old Plainview Hospital for many weeks. "Sister", Wasson, and I stayed at Grandfather Buchanan's and went to school.

"Sister" had a ruptured appendix and almost died the next year. Dad didn't accumulate a lot of land and money. In fact, we were poor, but we didn't suffer for food or the other necessities and we had a wonderful happy home. My dad was a loving, trusting man. At times he didn't collect debts owed him. He worked hard. We all worked hard, but we were happy.

Mother, the neighbors, Mrs. Noah Halsey, Mrs. J. W. Neil, and others, canned vegetables every summer. It never seemed so hard to face a tub of peas or beans when we could work and visit.

Competition Spurs Abernathy's Shafer To Best Achievements

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story was taken from the Amarillo Globe News newspaper in Amarillo. It was submitted to the Review by an Abernathy local. It was written by David Mayo, Globe News Sports Writer.

It is a good attitude Holly Shafer approaches her rodeoing with. "I've met a lot of friends," says the Abernathy High School junior-to-be, who this weekend is competing in the Tri-State Rodeo finals at the Tri-State Fairgrounds Coliseum.

"That's really the only reason to be in the sport. In competition, we wish each other luck and whatever happens happens. I don't think the competition would be as tough as it is if we weren't friends, because we work harder to make ourselves tougher and more competitive."

The 16-year old Miss Shafer has lived by the competitive letter. After losing a six-point lead to rival Shannon Garrison in Thursday's opening go-round of the Tri-State finals, Miss Shafer recorded a 3.770 in Friday night's performance to win the go-round and reclaim a slim lead in the season standings over Miss Garrison (who finished third in the go-round), 56-54.

She'll attempt to protect that lead tonight at 7:30 when the rodeo concludes. In her other specialty, goat-tying, she will try to play catch-up to Miss Garrison, the season leader going into last night's go-round. Miss Garrison, of Channing, held first place in that event with 48 points, followed by Miss Shafer's 47 and 43 by Dayla Hash of Canadian.

But before the first go-round ever started, Miss Shafer was a winner. In ceremonies held before Thursday's go-round, she was named Miss Tri-State rodeo for the 1983-84 school year, an award given her by her fellow competitors.

"I was very surprised (to win the award)," said Miss Shafer, who won a new horse trailer as her prize. "I knew it would be real close between all the girls (there were five finalists). It's a great honor."

But it may have hurt her performance in the breakaway event, the one in which she lost her six-point lead when she failed to successfully rope her calf, and in which she competed just moments after winning the award.

"It was a little difficult (to perform after winning the award). I really rushed to get ready for the breakaway competition, and I didn't have my mind on what I was going to do."

Miss Shafer is one of a large group of young competitors faring well in this season's standings. Of the top 10 girls in the all-around standings, six are sophomores and one leader, Stacy Funk of Canyon, is a freshman. Presumably, Miss Shafer will be competing against about the same group of girls throughout high school that she is right now.

"I'm glad the girls in my age group are so competitive. It makes it tougher on me, so I know it'll help me in college rodeos."

Miss Shafer helped herself in last night's breakaway roping. After Diana Martin of Spearman and Miss Garrison claimed the top two spots with times of 5.209 and 5.240, respectively, Miss Shafer recorded her sizzling 3.770, the fastest thus far in the finals.

"I was just thinking about making sure I roped my calf this time," said Miss Shafer. "I saw I had a good shot at a quick throw and I took it. I knew what I had to do (to win the go-round), but it didn't really affect me. When I roped my calf and stopped, I knew I had a good time. I was thrilled I did so well - I was a little leery, after missing my calf last night (Thursday night).

"I picked up some points in goat-tying last night (Thursday), but I can't tell what'll happen tonight (Friday night). I'll just do the best I can. You can't go out and do it because you want to stay ahead, or you want to win a saddle. If I can do the best I can, I can be proud of myself for doing that."
