

Antelopes Experienced, Quick And Hungry

The Abernathy Antelopes are experienced, quick and hungry this year, according to head basketball coach Carl Irlbeck.

The experience comes with six seniors and four juniors. The seniors are Ed Teal, Lonnie Teal, Larry Perkins, Brian Smith, Danny McDaniel and Scott Furgeson; and the juniors are Sammy Galloway, Danny Britton, Mike Givens and Ciesther Cooper.

Starting Line-Up Experienced

Starting for the Lopes are Ed Teal - 6'4" in his second year on varsity. Teal made All District, All Regional and second team All State last year. He averages 19 points per game and 14 rebounds.

Sammy Galloway, 6' junior, is in his third year on varsity. Last year Galloway made All District and All Regional. He averages 14 points per game and 12 rebounds.

Larry Perkins, 6' senior, is in his third year on varsity. Perkins made All District last year and averages 14 points per game.

Chester Cooper, 5'10" and Brian Smith, 6'3", are also in their third year on varsity. Smith has been averaging 7 points per game this year. Both contribute with numerous rebounds and points.

Coach Irlbeck stated that the Lopes have good depth, since even the bench players have a lot of experience.

The Lopes lost five seniors last year, including Cletus Irlbeck, who made All District and averaged 11 points per game; and Allen Lester, who averaged 6 points per game and was a leading rebounder.

But the depth is still there, as the Lopes have seven lettermen returning.

Lopes Quick

Irlbeck stated that the Lopes are more quick than tall. "We are not what I would call a tall team, but we are very quick," Irlbeck said. "The strongest points are our quickness, high shooting percentage and jumping ability," he said. Five of Abernathy's players hit over 40 percent of their shooting attempts last year.

When asked about any weak spot, Irlbeck stated that the Lopes don't

Mash To Be Presented Dec. 1 And 3

The Junior and Senior Classes of Abernathy High School will present the comedy play "M*A*S*H" in two performances, slated for December 1 and 3.

The play will begin at 7 p.m. on both Thursday and Saturday and will be held at the school auditorium. Tickets are $3 and may be purchased from any junior or senior.

Play directors, Marilyn Ater and David Lanehart, reported that the students have been working hard to make this play a big success and one that will be remembered by the viewing audiences.

A pie auction will follow each performance, with the juniors providing pies Thursday night, and the seniors providing pies Saturday night. A nursery will be manned by junior and senior sponsors and students, if parents wish to leave their children in the nursery while they are enjoying the performance.

As additional publicity for the play, all Abernathy High School students will wear army clothes to school Thursday, December 1, in honor of "MASH Day" and all of the work the cast, directors, and sponsors have put into the play.

Everyone is encouraged to attend one of the two "M*A*S*H" performances.

Firemen And Wives Honored At Appreciation Banquet

Abernathy Firemen and their wives were honored last Tuesday evening at the annual Fireman's Wives Appreciation Banquet held at the Community Center.

The highlight of the banquet was the presentation of service awards to long-time Abernathy firemen and the special awards, which are given each year.

Receiving a plaque for 25 years service to the Abernathy Fire Department was Ray Sanders. Sanders was also given a big hand for the many hours he has donated to the department working on fire department vehicles and equipment.

Honored with a 20-year service plaque was Harold Stillwell and 15-year service plaques were presented to Eldon Sparkman and Clyde Vandygriff.

Presented five-year service awards were Eldon Benton, James Conn and Dayton Marr.

The special awards were then given. The Rookie Fireman of the Year Award was presented to Billy Grimsley and the Fireman of the Year Award to Tommy Overstreet.

Fire Chief Bill Scott made all of the award presentations. The banquet was started when Charles Bowen gave the invocation. The welcome was given by President Oliver Shadden, followed by the recognition of guests by James Conn, Training Officer.

Vice-President James Neve then recognized the honorary firemen present at the banquet. The honorary firemen, some present and some not, are: Ed Crow, R. R. Struve, Lon Carmickle, T. R. Richerson, Clint Condray, Dan Ward, W. D. Sanders, Jim Bob Smith, J. L. Miller, Jr., H. L. Howard, Gean Nunn, Clarence Jordan, Joe Lovelace, Jim Waits, L. J. Daniel, Pete Peterson, Carroll Bradley, Gerald Hall, Waymond Jones, Hugh Hill and Pete Thompson.

Wives of the firemen were presented with gifts, then the Pseudo Mountain Boy band from South Plains College provided the entertainment.

DAVIS AND HOWARD RECIPIENTS OF National 4-H Scholarships

Joan Davis and Lonnie Howard, of Abernathy, received $1,000 scholarships at the 62nd National 4-H Congress, which was held at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago November 27-December 1. Selected by the Cooperative Extension Service, winners were presented their awards by Friends of National 4-H Council.

Davis was one of six national winners in the 4-H home environment program and Howard was one of six national winners in the 4-H beef program.

Joan Davis

Joan Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Davis, an 18-year-old senior from Abernathy High School believes a home should reflect personalities of the family. The Hale County 4-H'er has been active in a variety of 4-H projects for the past nine years.

Through her 4-H project, Davis tries to create a pleasant atmosphere for her family. "A home is not a mere transient shelter," Davis says. "Its essence lies in its performance and in its quality of representing in detail all the personalities of the people who

UIL Rule Proposals For 1984-85 School Year

Raising academic standards and restricting loss of school time were major issues addressed by the University Interscholastic League's Legislative Council, which held its 43rd annual meeting in Austin, October 16-17.

The council voted to place on a referendum ballot proposals that would raise academic credit requirements and restrict classroom absences by those participating in golf and tennis. In addition, the council voted to allow speech students to miss no more than 10 days per year in order to participate in speech/debate tournaments.

The referendum ballot will be mailed from the UIL office to school administrators in February. Results will be announced March 3. A simple majority is needed for proposals to pass, and items approved will take effect during the 1984-85 school year, unless otherwise specified.

"The meeting had the largest attendance, the greatest participation and the most comprehensive press coverage of any in League history," said Dr. Bailey Marshall, UIL director. "I was pleased to see the increased interest. Those who may have questioned or doubted the League's rule-making processes surely were impressed by the openness and the free exchange of ideas."

Among the proposals slated for referendum ballot examination are:

-An item that would require students to be passing four rather than three courses, excluding physical education, in order to compete in a League contest.

-A proposal that would prohibit students from missing a class that they are failing in order to participate in a League activity.

-A proposal that would require students to have passed four courses rather than three the preceding semester in order to compete. If passed, this item will not go into effect until the spring semester, 1985.

-A proposal that would restrict golf and tennis students to 10 days lost per year for participation in each activity, respectively. For instance, a tennis player may miss no more than 10 school days in order to compete in tennis tournaments.

In addition, the council voted to place on the referendum ballot proposals that would relax summer basketball, football and volleyball camp rules. Summer camps would be open to athletes who have not participated in a varsity contest. Also, students may not be coached in a summer camp by a person employed by the students' school.

WE HAVE HEARD of married couples fighting over how toothpaste should be squeezed from a tube.

We read about the invention of a new toothpaste tube which dispenses the toothpaste evenly and it does not matter how the tube is squeezed.

This may sound ridiculous, but according to reliable sources, this new toothpaste tube may save many a marriage.

Heard of one couple solving the problem by buying two tubes of toothpaste...one for each of them. This sounds like a practical solution too.

There is one other solution...just don't get married. It works for me.

DURING OLTON'S HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES this year, hundreds of balloons with Mustang Magic on them were released from the Olton stadium. This occurred October 14.

A month later, November 14, a woman in Kenna, West Virginia found one of these balloons on her farm. The balloon had traveled some 1,136 miles before landing.

Makes you wonder where some of Abernathy's balloons are from previous games, when we released hundreds.

PEACE THROUGH STRENGTH should have been emphasized by the United States years ago when Fidel Castro and his regime took over in Cuba; then the communist would not have such a stronghold in this hemisphere.

Now it is too late to stop the buck at Cuba, but communism should be stopped before it infiltrates South and Central America. Most of the problems in Central America are due to communist connections in Cuba and the Soviet Union.

If we want to secure America and the freedom we enjoy, we must stop the buck in Central America before communism and terrorism start spreading any further north.

America can only have peace through strength because history has repeated itself countless times, when weak nations are taken over by much stronger, more aggressive and dominant nations.

We must stay on the defensive and keep the gate shut on communism. Presently there are too many open doors and we hope they will be shut before it is too late.

THE REV. Billy Graham tells of a time early in his career when he arrived in a small town to preach a sermon. Wanting to mail a letter, he asked a young boy where the post office was. When the boy had told him, Dr. Graham thanked him and said, "If you'll come to the Baptist church this evening, you can hear me telling everyone how to get to heaven."

"I don't think I'll be there," the boy said. "You don't even know your way to the post office."

Gragg-Wilson Wedding Vows Exchanged Nov. 19

Cindy Gragg and Larry Wilson exchanged wedding vows Saturday, November 19 at 7 p.m. in the First United Methodist Church in Abernathy. The Reverend HB Coggin officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Gragg of Abernathy, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wilson of Dallas.

The double-ring ceremony was performed before a candlelit altar decorated with an entwined doubling candelabra with glass votives and greenery accented by matching spirals on each side.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional formal gown of ivory organza. The fitted bodice was covered in chantilly lace and featured a Queen Anne neckline accented with seed pearls. The long fitted sleeves were gathered at the wrists with a ruffle. The empire waist fell to a full skirt of beruffled chantilly lace and swept to the back in a chapel length train.

A petal cap of ivory silk roses and lilies of the valley and waist length illusion with blusher veil completed her ensemble. Soft peach blossoms accented the ivory silk orchids and dogwood blossoms to make up the cascading bouquet of the bride.

For something old and something borrowed, Cindy wore a pearl necklace belonging to her mother. Something new was her gown and something blue was the traditional blue garter. She wore pennies in her shoe minted in the birth years of the bride and groom.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Tonda Billingsley of Lubbock. Bridesmaids were Terri Walker, cousin of the bride, Tammie Carroll of Lubbock and T. J. Brininstool of Jal, New Mexico. They continued the tradition by wearing formal length teal blue taffeta gowns with a bouffant skirt. The bodice was decorated with satin embroidery and complemented with cartilage sleeves. The elegant look was finished with a sash and bow tied in back. They each carried long stem silk magnolia blossoms.

Flower girls were Amy and Sara Selke of Plainview, cousins of the bride. They wore floor length ivory taffeta gowns with puffed sleeves and ruffled lace neckline. Teal blue sashes tied at back in a bow completed their ensembles.

The groom was attired in an ivory cutaway tuxedo and ascot. Serving as best man was the groom's brother, Terry Wilson of Dallas. The groom's attendants were Roger Gragg, brother of the bride, Larry Albertson, Jeff Albertson and Kent Hamaker. They were attired in dove gray tuxedos with wing collars and bow ties.

Miss Shana Toler of Lubbock, registered the wedding guests.

Traditional wedding music was provided by Scott Wells and John Griffith. Jill Blalock sang "The Wedding Song" after the parents were seated. As Cindy and Larry were lighting the unity candle, she sang "Just You And I." She also sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "Ice Castles."

The reception followed in the Fellowship Hall. Serving the wedding guests were Lisa Mills, Kim Ford, Raylene Watson and Kathy Lunday. The house party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Kent Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mills and Mr. and Mrs. Don Parr.

A rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents Friday, November 18, at the Country Steak Barn.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wilson will make their home in Lubbock.

FAMILY STRENGTHS— "Although the number of families created by divorce and re-marriage has increased dramatically in the past decade, this doesn't necessarily mean that the family as an institution is growing weaker," says Diane T. Welch, a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist. "Changes in families mean education, community and church programs dealing with families have had to change too," says Welch. "Perhaps the most significant change is a greater concern with building family strengths in all types of families." Family strengths are thought of as a set of factors -- relationship patterns, interpersonal skills, social and psychological characteristics. These factors create a sense of positive family identity, promote satisfying and fulfilling family interaction, encourage the development of family members' potential and help the family deal effectively with stress and crisis.

was only one Feast, namely the Feast of the Resurrection of Christ. Celebrated with special solemnity at Easter and repeated each Sunday throughout the year, it recalled the great central truth of the Christian faith, that Christ had died and had risen from the dead; that He had passed over from death to life, and that in His passage, we can all share.

Gradually, however, further aspects of this great central mystery of our faith were seen, and the chief events of the life of Christ became the object of special celebration, each in its own way preparing for and leading up to the great climax of the celebration of Easter. Naturally, one of the most important of these events in the life of Christ was His birth. So, the Feast of Christmas developed. Then, because Lent was a period of preparation for the Feast of Christ's Death and Resurrection, it seemed fitting to have another period of preparation for the celebration of His coming on earth. It was a time of preparation for the celebration of Christ's arrival among us. Another word for arrival is Advent, so the period of preparation for the celebration of Christ's arrival on earth was called Advent.

We are preparing not merely to celebrate Christ's coming as an event that has passed, but rather as an event which is still to come. To enter into the Spirit of Advent, each of us has to enter into his own heart and see what has been his or her response to Christ; whether our life is worthy of Him or not.

"Come in, browse and enjoy an afternoon at our shop where the stock is the largest and most desirable yet, we want to prove. Three door prizes will be awarded, and refreshments will be served."

(Many items at Abernathy Floral can be personalized, and personnel will be on hand at the reception to personalize the items at that time when desired.)

Abernathy Floral will be closed Saturday, December 3, in preparation for the Open House.

A comprehensive and selective stock of gift items, including many that are new and some exclusive in the area to this shop, flowers and floral accessories and a multitude of services mark the long-established (about 40 years) business that serves a wide South Plains area.

Owner and operator is Jan Hill, long-time teacher in the Abernathy schools. She is ably assisted by manager/designer Nancy Ross; Lupe Hernandez, designer; Dorothy Stephens, a former owner who still assists in part-time designing; and Lisa Mills, staff member.

"Come in and let's make or renew acquaintance; we look forward to your visits at the Open House or any time of your convenience."

Listing of the many services and items at Abernathy Floral would be impossible, but it is intended that the following "high points" will correctly indicate how very much this area business can do for one, whether a resident of Lubbock, Abernathy, New Deal or elsewhere in the near region.

It is a complete floral and gift shop. Hours are 8:30-5, Monday through Saturday. Visa and Master Card are welcomed. Delivery to the area is afforded at a small charge.

Poinsettias will be available December 1.

There are green plants, hanging baskets, fresh flowers and gorgeous silk flowers, arrangements and much more!

Abernathy Floral, phone 298-2334, is a member of FTD, AFS and CARIK.

Catering of wedding and anniversary and other reception events is a service of the firm.

And, as for the beautiful stock items, these are included:

Mikasa dishes, stainless ware and stemware have been added.

And there are the beautiful brass picture frames, tree ornaments and stocking stuffers, the stuffed animals by Dakin, ceramic vases and other containers by Royal Haeger, really unique and beautiful wooden music boxes by Chokin (metal etched); gold jewelry boxes, etc.

Exquisite brocade tapestry pieces, with each piece cut and sewn individually and representing the very ultimate in quality, and must be seen to be fully appreciated. For centerpieces, runners and doilies, these can be utilized as an accent or highlight, providing a new dimension in decorating.

Hand-wired silk flowers by American Prestige are stocked, meeting wide acclaim, of course.

Select from China, pottery, stemware, stainless and silver by Noritake, Vernon, Poppytrail, Fitz & Floyd, Villeroy & Bach, Imperial Oneida, International and Gorham, too!

SELECTING A HOLIDAY HAM

Selecting the "perfect" ham for your holiday dinner can require some careful label reading. Variations in moisture content, style, cut and brand of ham affect its price and the quality of the product you put on the table, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service foods and nutrition specialist. But these variations are clearly stated on the label so consumers can compare features and costs. The first choice you have to make is between a fully cooked or a cook-before-eating ham. The two types of hams are processed for different amounts of time, but both are pre-cooked long enough to make them safe to eat. The words "water-added" means that more moisture was added to the ham than was removed during processing. But the weight of the finished, water-added ham cannot exceed the weight of the fresh ham by more than 10 percent. The choice of a bone-in, semi-boneless ham affects the number of servings.

These guys need food for energy.

We need fuel to make electricity.

A lot of people use electricity and don't know where it comes from. It takes fuel to make electricity. Just like we need food for energy.

Once upon a time, fuel choice was simple for Southwestern Public Service Company because our service area includes some of the largest natural gas fields in the country.

Now, over half of your electricity is produced from coal. Coal is abundant, and electricity produced from coal costs much less than electricity produced from natural gas.

Doing everything we can to keep costs down is another way we're ...

Leasing Vs. Buying Farm Equipment

When a farmer or rancher needs new equipment or machinery, is leasing or buying the best option?

Dr. Ashley Lovell of Stephenville, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, has analyzed these options for some alternative data obtained from several farm equipment dealers.

Total net cash flow after taxes indicated a negligible difference between leasing or buying, Lovell says. However, after annual net cash flows were converted or discounted to present dollar values, buying was estimated to be $383 less expensive than leasing for one set of data which was analyzed.

"However, one should not mistakenly conclude that buying is always less expensive than leasing," Lovell cautions. "Different assumptions about discount rates and income tax factors can significantly affect costs of the options."

Results of an analysis several years ago by Dr. John Hopkin, professor of agricultural economics at Texas A&M University, indicated that the cash purchase choice was best at a low opportunity cost of capital, says Lovell. Hopkin also found that credit purchases were optimum over medium discount ranges and leasing was the most profitable method at high opportunity rates of return.

Lovell's study reveals that cost differences between various dealers representing various brands of equipment ranged as widely as differences between buying and leasing.

"In the 1980's, many producers may decide that leasing rather than traditional owning of equipment is the best alternative," says Lovell. "They need to identify advantages and shortcomings of financial leases. Just as in financing equipment purchases, read and study the lease contract. Seek competent farm management, legal and tax advice before trying something new," he advises.

DAVIS AND HOWARD

During her years in the 4-H program, Davis has traveled to Europe and in the United States and Mexico, where she studied home structures and environments.

Davis has assisted in neighborhood projects, such as working in a Chamber of Commerce program to clean up the community. She has served as vice president of her local club and vice president of the county council.

Davis is active in a variety of other 4-H projects, including junior leadership, food-nutrition, clothing, swine, beef, horse, veterinary science and entomology.

Lonnie Howard

Lonnie Howard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Howard, is an 18-year-old freshman at Texas Tech University, who has found computerized record keeping and herd evaluation beneficial to his overall program. Howard plans a career as a farmer-rancher and is a nine-year 4-H'er.

The Hale County youth has worked toward improving his herd through the use of artificial insemination practices and learned about selecting cattle for breeding purposes and for showing in his beef feeding and production projects. Howard has had success in starting to keep records and evaluate his cow herd by computer. He also is interested in computerized marketing. Howard has learned how to build some equipment to help reduce expenses and more about medication and treatment of illnesses that affect beef cattle. He raised and exhibited the champion Chianina Steer at the San Antonio Livestock Exposition.

By applying the profits from his feeder calf project and the income from his calf crops to his cow herd, he now has his cows paid for and a $2,553 profit.

He has been an active junior leader in his club and community, taught other 4-H members about efficient breeding methods, participated in Texas 4-H Council activities, assisted members of the Texas House and Senate in a tree planting ceremony, and spoken at the district achievement banquet.

Howard says, "Because of my participation and the exposure 4-H has given me in so many areas, I shall begin my college studies already knowing that my career choice will be in some area of the beef cattle industry."

Most Of 1983 Cotton Crop Harvested, Less Bale Reported

Local and area gins reported that most of the cotton in the area has been harvested.

Some ginners estimated that as much as 85 percent of the cotton had been stripped. Some farmers stripped night and day to get their cotton in before another cold front with moisture hits. The cotton harvest started approximately six weeks ago, but farmers were not able to get into their fields for three of the weeks due to the 7 inch rain.

Some farmers began harvesting their crop just after the early freeze September 21, when the cotton began to defoliate. The freeze, cool weather and rain prevented much of the cotton bolls from maturing this year, then slowed down the harvest.

The cotton was planted later than normal because of the cool weather, it survived a harsh, hot and dry summer, then the early freeze, heavy rain, hail and wind storms battered it.

Most of the gins contacted by the Review reported that their bale count would be considerably less than last year. However, one ginner reported that their ginning was up about 20 percent over last year.

The grade of the cotton is mostly strict low middling with some spots. A few gins reported BG (below grade) cotton, but only a few BG cases were reported. The grades were below normal, but better than expected after the impossible 1983 growing season.

After two bad years, many farmers are not optimistic enough to say "there's always next year." But the ones who signed up for PIK sound more optimistic about this year than the ones who didn't.

The 1983 growing season will long be remembered as one of the most impossible seasons witnessed by area farmers.

Wheat Board Elects Officers

Otis Harman of Tulia was elected Chairman of the nine-man Texas Wheat Producers Board at its regularly scheduled quarterly meeting in Amarillo this past week. The Board was established in 1971 by more than two-thirds majority of producers voting in a referendum in a 34-county traditional wheat producing area of North Texas and the Panhandle. It is supported by a one-half cent per bushel self-assessment of producers' sales of wheat. The Board conducts programs of research, market development and service designed to enhance the value of wheat and the economic positions of the wheat producer. Other officers elected were Cagle Kendrick, Stratford, Vice Chairman and Kenneth Keisling, Dumas, Secretary-Treasurer.

Molds are more likely to unmoild easily if the pan is first rinsed with cold water, then coated with oil.

"Canyon is ranked second in their district behind Pampa, therefore, this was a big win for us and was a good test to see where we are at this year," Irbeck said.

It was a tough battle all the way for the Lopes as Canyon led 13-11 after the first period, and 28-21 by intermission.

Down by 7 points, the Lopes made an impressive comeback in the third period, scoring 19 points to lead 40-38. They held on to the lead in the final period by scoring 19 more points to secure a 59-54 victory.

really have any weaknesses. "There are no weaknesses other than needing to improve our overall performance, which will come as we play more games."

Off To A Good Start

The Lopes are off to a good start as they crushed Lockney 99-40 in their season opener and edged Canyon in their second game 59-54. "Our team was extremely impressive against Canyon. Canyon is picked to win second in their district, which is a very competitive 4-A district," Irlbeck said. The past two years, Dimmitt has stood in the Lopes' path to the state championship. In 1982, Dimmitt defeated Abernathy by 4 points in the semifinals at Regional. In 1983 Dimmitt met the Lopes in the Regional finals and defeated them by 22 points this time. Dimmitt went on to win state both years. The Lopes ended last season with a successful record of 27-9, being defeated only by Dimmitt and much larger 4-A and 5-A schools.

Looking Ahead

The Antelopes have been picked to win first in this district and, by some, first in the Region. "Our strategy this year is equipment may not be used. Students may not compete against a team that has more than three players from a single school.

"In both league and camp situations, the player may not be coached by a secondary coach -- meaning a seventh through 12th grade coach -- employed by the student's school," Marshall said.

Other major council proposals going on the referendum ballot include:

-Amending the rules to allow for parochial and private school membership into the League.

-Studying the concept of disqualification of coaches or contest sponsors who knowingly violate League rules.

-Revising the UIL spring meet calendar, with the combining of boys' and girls' district, regional and State Meet athletic events. District meets would be held either April 1-6 or April 15-20. Regional meets would be held April 29-May 4. The State Meet would be held in Austin, May 9-11.

-Revising the Five-Year Rule so that a child being retained in the seventh grade for competitive purposes would lose the final year of high school eligibility.

-Adding gymnastics and wrestling as UIL sports for Conference AAAAA only.

-Placing the amateur restrictions on all students beginning in the ninth grade, regardless of the student's age.

-Eliminating mandatory penalties in basketball and volleyball for players or teams violating game and tournament participation restrictions. The council recommended passage of this proposal, which would give the district executive committees greater flexibility in assessing penalties.

-Revising the college course enrollment regulations so that courses taught by a high school teacher during the regular school day and conforming to Texas Education Agency guidelines are not considered college courses, even though college credit is given.

-Changing soccer seasons to begin on either the first Monday following certification of the district football champion (with the season to end the last week of February) or beginning on January 1 (with the season ending with the state championship tournament, held the last week of April).

-Allowing athletes to sign a letter of intent and a college scholarship agreement that contains the conditions of the scholarship, provided the athlete receives no part of any valuable consideration guaranteed by that scholarship until after all UIL eligibility is completed. If passed, the item would take effect in 1984-85.

-Revising future basketball starting dates, allowing basketball practice to begin on the seventh Monday following the first Thursday in September.

-Giving administrators the choice of keeping the present outside soccer restrictions as is, applying restrictions only to players who have participated in varsity contests, or abolishing outside participation restrictions. At present, soccer players who participate in club soccer prior to the start of the UIL soccer season are ineligible to represent the varsity soccer team.

The council also voted to move the first day to play basketball games from November 22 to November 21, to allow baseball players to wear metal cleats this spring, and to restrict music organizations to one non-League meet held on school time. The music restriction takes effect next year. The council also voted to meet March 7, 1984 in order to take action on the following items:

-Recodification of the League's Constitution and Contest Rules.

-The findings of the Junior High Athletics Study Committee.

-Procedures for implementation of a penalty on coaches or contest sponsors who knowingly violate UIL rules. The final item will be considered only if the concept of contest sponsor punishment is approved on the referendum ballot.

In final action, the council referred to a Committee on Excessive Expenditures a proposal that would penalize schools for spending on "luxuries" above basic athletic equipment and supplies. This panel, to be named soon, as well as a Committee on Loss of School Time--Missing School--Number of School Contests will meet this spring and issue a report to the Athletic Committee of the Legislative Council, May 30-31. The Council also voted that if a district executive committee imposes either a post-district disqualification or a district disqualification, that action may be appealed to the State Executive Committee.

The council defeated a proposal that would have increased from $40 to $50 the limitation a school may spend per student as an award for participation in interschool competition.

"The council members did an outstanding job in considering the 50-plus items presented in public hearings Sunday, as well as the multitude of proposals they had previously heard," Marshall said.

SPEC Says "Rates Low Enough, No Discount"

Because of Public Utility Commission regulations and the fact that the electric rates charged by South Plains Electric Cooperative are already as low as possible, the co-op will not offer a prompt-payment discount, according to co-op general manager J. C. Roberts.

average than Lubbock Power and Light's rates, even after LP&L's two percent discount. "Our rates have been lower than theirs for quite some time," Roberts said. "We would rather offer a lower rate all the time, than a conditional incentive," he added.

December 1, both LP&L and Southwestern Public Service will offer a two percent discount for payment of utility bills within 15 days of the billing date. In addition, both companies' rates will be the same inside the city limits as the SPS Texas rate outside the city.

Roberts added that before the co-op can make any such changes in their rates, application must be made to the PUC. Such an application would require a cost of service study and subsequent rate case spanning a one-year period and costing approximately $30,000.

"Since our rates are lower, we will leave them as they are and not spend money requesting a discount provision," Roberts concluded.

"GOOD" ASPECTS OF COUNTY GOVERNMENT

Dr. Willard Stouffer of Southwest Texas State University listed a number of things that are "right" about county government in Texas at a recent Texas A&M University conference sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. These "right" things are that county government officials are patient and hard working, county government works, it adapts to changing conditions, county government is run by professionals, it is flexible, county government offers a wide range of services depending on needs and capabilities, and county government is only beginning to realize its potential. He noted that one "wrong" thing about county government is that county officials do not do a good job in telling the people of Texas the good news about county government. Stouffer challenged county officials to work with local news media in reporting success stories about county government.

STEP-FAMILIES STRENGTHEN DURING HOLIDAYS

Holidays can provide extra stress for a step-family in the process of developing its own identity as a family unit, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist. Before the holidays parents should decide where and how the children will spend their time, without placing them in the middle of disagreements among ex-spouses, parents and step-parents.

Area Events

SPONSORS OF SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN TO MEET SATURDAY

Sponsors of Support for Children will meet at the Hale County Courthouse (64th District Court, second floor) December 3 from 2:30 to 5:30 p.m. Members will be learning the procedure for implementing the garnishment of wages for child support.

With the assistance of two Plainview attorneys, Paul Primrose of West Texas Legal Services and Bob Bass of White, Self, and Bass, the members will learn how to file a motion for involuntary assignment of wages, as well as participating in a mock hearing.

According to Mr. Primrose, this organization is the only one of its kind in the State of Texas and possibly in the nation. Recently the group encouraged Hale County voters to support Proposition 6. Now the members, mostly custodial parents who have not been receiving child support, will seek to have the purpose of the amendment realized.

Any custodial parent, who has not been receiving child support, is urged to attend.

Doubts Computers Will Change The Way He And A Lot Of Others Live

Editor's Note: The Blackwater Draw Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes a sidelong glance at computers this week.

Dear Editor: According to an article I read the other day by a computer expert, computers "will change the very existence of nearly everybody." In fact, he said, "in a few years, 35 million people in this country will be sitting in front of computers." I don't believe it. If he'd said 35 million will be sitting in front of their TV sets, I could go for that.

Computers and television both have programs, but as dull as the latter can be, it still best the former when it comes to plots.

That expert also said that "the eventual impact of the computer will surpass that of the telephone and the automobile."

I haven't figured out yet what impact the telephone and the automobile had on us. For one, it hasn't enabled us to elect anybody any better than the ones we did when we communicated by yelling across the back fence and rode to town in a horse-drawn buggy.

Also, a lot of writers are now writing on computerized word processors that can even spell for them, but they haven't managed to come up with anything equal to what was written years ago with a quill dipped in ink.

When something new comes along, there's always somebody around to tell us how it's going to change everything. When the automobile came along 75 years ago, health experts looked over the city streets jammed with horse-drawn vehicles and said the car, by eliminating the horses, would eliminate flies.

Yet, stores in cities all over America, right here in 1983, are still selling fly-swatters.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.
