Generation II Unveiling Sat.

Hale Farm Supply has scheduled an open house for all farmers in this area on Saturday, August 19. Pat Hale, president, says he will unveil Generation Two, the biggest advance in tractors since John Deere introduced the New Generation Tractors 12 years ago.

Mr. Hale recently attended a two-day meeting at Waterloo, Iowa, where the new line was introduced to all John Deere dealers. Hale says their enthusiasm was very high, particularly after he and other dealers had operated the new tractors. While he cannot discuss specific details until the August 19 announcement, Mr. Hale says it will be to every farmer's advantage, especially from a health and comfort standpoint, to attend the open house and learn all the facts about the new John Deere Tractors.

The open house will begin at 8 a. m. and will last all day. Refreshments will be served and there will be door prizes.

Today the program will begin with a film and the group will respond to the question, "What does this film say to teaching the black students?" Teachers will also discuss problems facing them in the 1972-73 school year and how to meet the problems.

Principal address of the meeting will be given by Tom Morrison of Dallas. Morrison is the executive director of the Dallas County Cerebral Palsy Association. Morrison is affiliated with cerebral palsy and expected to present quite a message to the group.

Amendments

(Editor's Note: This is the 2nd in a series of articles to be published by the Free Press to give voters an explanation and analysis of amendments to be voted on in the November 7th General Election. Also included will be arguments both for and against the amendments.)

AMENDMENT NO. 3

The proposed amendment to Article XVI, Section 61, requires that all justices of the peace in all counties of Texas be compensated by the commissioners courts on a salary rather than a fee basis. Effective date for the new type of compensation would be January 1, 1973.

ARGUMENTS

FOR: The proposed amendment would promote integrity and better justice by removing the possibility of conflict of interest which could exist in a court in which the compensation of the justice of the peace is dependent on the fees he collects. Several state agencies and associations of law enforcement officers support the adoption of this proposed amendment in the belief that it will help abolish the speed-trap image now associated with some

Rains Up To 3.50 Inches Gauged Here

Haskell received a good general rain throughout the county last weekend with up to 3.50 inches reported in some sections. The largest amount reported was on the Weldon Norman farm west of Rule. Norman gauged 3.50 inches on the Salt Fork of the Brazos River. Norman said the river was out of banks farther than he had seen since the 1930s.

In almost all parts of the county the rain was slow and no damage was reported. Areas to the west and south of Haskell received flood damage and Haskell was lucky to receive such a good rain with no flooding or wind damage.

Smiling faces are seen all over the county and about the only bad remarks about the rain are generally something like "I went to the field to see how the cotton was doing and got stuck... had to walk two miles back to the highway." Even farmers with this problem seemed pleased with the rain.

Progress with all agencies concerned is now on schedule, according to Beecher. All land needed for the reservoir has now been acquired, and only

OUR SCHOOL REUNION

By Oleta Bland Pennington

We all look forward to that day When we can talk about study and play.

We look around, oh so many changes... I did not know our ages were in so many ranges.

Some try to say they're not so old... But wrinkles and gray hair, the story has told.

Some used to be skinny, but now they are fat... Some changed from fat to skinny—what about that.

a few of the supply line right-of-way tracts are lacking.

According to the Authority's agreement with member towns, the water supply was projected for a two year completion from the time the agreement was written, and member towns scheduled to begin making monthly payments to the Authority after October, of this year.

According to Beecher, "the Authority has no intention of charging member towns for water that is not available at this time." Beecher also said, "The only alternative is to continue a tax levy to meet interest payments on bonds sold for land purchase."

The taxes will be reduced from 50 cents to 40 cents on each $100 valuation and will be charged for the calendar year 1972. Residents will receive statements about the first of October and have until February 1, 1973 before the taxes are delinquent.

Haskell Men To Attend Seminar

"How to get a textile industry in your town" is the theme of West Texas Chamber of Commerce's Growth Industry Seminar No. 1 which will be held in Sweetwater August 24, at the Coliseum Annex in Newman Park.

Industrial development and civic leaders from 167 West Texas towns have been invited to attend. The event is being sponsored by the WTCC, Texas Industrial Commission, Texas Industrial Development Council and Sweetwater Chamber of Commerce.

Among those planning to attend from Haskell are: Bob Philpot, past president of Haskell Chamber of Commerce; Rex Felker, C of C manager; Loraine Johnson, city councilman; Bill Comedy, Free Press publisher; Royce Williams, Haskell National Bank, and Abe Turner, WTCC Director.

Our jobs on life's highway have pulled us apart... Some got a good, some a bad start. Years back we talked of our children, some few and some many... Now it's our grandchildren, some are even called Granny.

Memories of school, they are many and few... Some we remember, when we got in a stew.

Notes were passed in the classroom, you bet... Some got caught—but not the teacher's pet.

We always tried to think up a scheme... To get to carry out the erasers to clean.

We had facilities, but modern were not... When we had to go, it was in a trot.

Long leg unions and bloomers we wore... We had to wear these or our throat would get sore.

Basketball, townhall, marbles and tops... Recess was over and we had to stop.

April Fool's Day, a big event, As we tried to escape, was caught and to the Principal was sent.

Memories of School Days... They are so great, oh in so many ways.

Let us pay tribute to those passed on... We know in our hearts they are around the great throne.

Classmates, teachers, trustees and friends... Let's make this a reunion and take time with each other to spend.

And as we grow older our days about spent... We all can look forward to this special event.

Proposed Court System

A proposal for the first complete modernization of the Texas court system in 96 years will be submitted to the state legislature next January.

The heart of the modernization plan is a new judiciary article to replace present Article V of the state constitution.

The new article was drafted by the Chief Justice's Task Force for Court Improvement, headed by Robert W. Calvert, Chief Justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

The plan is designed to improve the quality of justice in Texas courts and permit cases to be handled more quickly and efficiently. All present judges and other court personnel would be absorbed into the new system, and no increase in the number of courts or judges would be required.

County Courts At Law "This proposal will benefit every county in the state," Calvert said. "For example, it will give every county the advantages now enjoyed only by the 26 counties that have county courts at law."

In the more populous counties of Texas, the legislature has created county courts at law, which are staffed by judges who are lawyers and devote full time to their judicial duties. In smaller counties, however, all county-level cases must be heard by the county judge, who in most cases is not a lawyer and who also has administrative duties as head of the county commissioners court.

The Task Force's proposal calls for a statewide system of county-level courts staffed by full-time lawyer-judges.

Each incumbent county judge who is not a lawyer would continue to preside over the county commissioners and would devote full time to his administrative responsibilities as head of the county government. County judges who are lawyers would be given an option of continuing as heads of the county government or becoming judges in the new county-level court system.

"The goal is to provide a qualified judge to hear every contested case, no matter where it is tried," Calvert said. The proposal calls for state payment of judges' salaries, with the cost to be offset by fines and other revenues generated by the courts.

Courts of Appeals Another proposal that would benefit smaller communities is one permitting criminal appeals to be heard by the 14 regional courts of civil appeals. At present, all appeals in criminal cases must go to the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin. Under the proposed new judiciary article, the present courts of civil appeals would be renamed courts of appeals, and would be permitted to hear criminal as well as civil cases. In all except the most important cases, the decision of the court of appeals would be final.

The Court of Criminal Appeals would be merged with the Supreme Court to create a single court of last resort for important cases, whether civil or criminal. The goal is to streamline the appeals process by reducing multiple appeals and delays.

The proposal authorizes a modern court administration system to equalize workloads and keep cases moving in all counties of the state.

District Judge Assistance In areas that have only one district judge, these provisions will make it easier for the resident judge to obtain help from—or give assistance to—his colleagues in other districts.

The system of court administration also is designed to give all courts the benefits of businesslike management, accounting, personnel, and other services which would be provided by all but the metropolitan areas.

The Task Force has 14 outstanding legislative proposals which will be submitted to the legislature next January. It is anticipated that the proposals will be held in at least one session of the legislature.

"We hope to have a referendum on all life and all areas of the state in January," Calvert said. "If the legislature implements the proposals submitted to Texas in 1973 or 1974, the system of court administration also is designed to give all courts the benefits of businesslike management, ac-

Paint Creek . . . . Community News

Paint Creek cotton had a good, cool drink this past weekend. Some places in the community had as much as three inches. From all I heard, about two inches was the average fall of this rain. More rain is forecast and some farmers were remembering Sunday that August 12th was the beginning of our 1971 monsoon season that almost drowned the cotton and spread enough weed seed to keep us busy for many summers to come. We hope this nice 2 inch rain is our rain for August and that we'll have another like it next month—I'm a dreamer.

George Free returned home from Hendrick Memorial Hospital in Abilene Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Montgomery and her sister and husband from Garland have returned from a two-month vacation to the east coast. They visited relatives in Mississippi.

The Rev. and Mrs. H. O. Abbott and family have returned from their vacation in Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Perry and Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt Perry were in Amarillo weekend before last to visit their brother and son, Mr. and Mrs. Don Perry and daughter. They attended church at the San Jacinto Methodist Church and heard the pastor, Dr. Woodrow Adeock who was reared in Paint Creek. Right from the pulpit he asked J. R. if they still lived out on the farm in Paint Creek, and right out loud from the audience, J. R. told him they did.

Jeannine Isbell moved to Rochester Monday and began in-service training Tuesday. She will teach the 6th grade there this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Isbell and children were in Fort Worth over the weekend to attend Mr. Isbell's mother's family reunion. His mother's maiden name was West, and most of her relatives live in or near Ft. Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Overton and sons, Wallar and William, from Abilene, spent the weekend of August 4-6 in College Station visiting Mr. and Mrs. Mike Overton. They celebrated Mike's 28th birthday on Sunday. The Overtons also visited with Gene Frierson and saw the new home he and Mrs. Frierson have built in College Station.

A graduate of Paint Creek High School, she received her degree from West Texas State University and taught in Graham, Wash, which is a suburb of Tacoma. Her Jr. High principal at Stamford is Joe Bob Earles, another Paint Creek graduate.

State Surplus Auction Set

Contractors may find special interest in the State of Texas 11th Public Auction on August 19 because of the offering of concrete mixers, dump trucks, water tank trucks, core drill rig trucks and other miscellaneous heavy equipment. Homer A. Foerster, Executive Director, State Board of Control, announced.

Department of Public Safety, Department of Public Welfare, Railroad Commission, Texas Employment Commission and the Texas Highway Department. Foerster also said the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department would have several pickup trucks, boats, motors and trailers in the 11th State of Texas Auction.

More than one million dollars has been raised from surplus property offered in ten prior sales, Foerster reported.

Bidders will also have an opportunity to take home typewriters, adding machines, calculators, wood joiners, cameras, projectors, office furniture, vans, display cabinets, dictating equipment, portable air compressors and radio equipment if their offer is the best.

The Executive Director of the Board of Control reminded interested persons all items in the August 19 auction would be available for inspection at 7:30 a. m. and would continue until 9:00 a. m. Those interested in obtaining complete lists of items to be sold may do so on the day of the sale.

HASKELL, TEXAS

WASHINGTON
The purse strings. The President and his appointees administer the laws and spend the money. True enough he has the power of veto over actions of the Congress but the veto can also be overridden.

It is, of course, a matter of the electorate's judgment as to the makeup of the Congress and we differ in our opinions as to what constitutes proper qualifications for the office. Primarily it is assumed that the Congressman's stand on issues is determining. Quite naturally, we differ on basic philosophies of government, which direct the course of our Nation. We can all agree that any Member of Congress should be able to read and write, but beyond that, differences of opinion set in as to other qualifying attributes. Descriptive words such as "intelligence, dedication and integrity" and so forth, have meaning but are sometimes difficult to define. Like the zeal of Saul, it depends on the direction these attributes may take. A dedication of purpose can be anywhere around the 360 degrees of the compass. The fact remains that there are obvious truths which, at this time and place in our history, need to be critically observed. It seems that number one should be the re-establishment of complete integrity of our dollar's value. Many other issues are related to this rather simple proposition—inflation, the erosion of people's savings, investments, pensions or whatever. It relates to the crime rate, which absorbs the issue of law and order. It relates to our national defense and our standing with other nations of the world.

Given a Congress which is deeply conscious and thoroughly dedicated to preserving a government which can serve the need of its people and at the same time preserve its integrity, then the Presidency is not the most vital office. It is, of course, the highest office and has tremendous authority in making appointments to the Cabinet and the various posts under it. The President has the veto power and the authority to withhold funds appropriated by Congress. But, it remains the duty and responsibility of the Congress to enact laws and appropriate money for their administration and execution.

The President of the United States can not veto what is known as "line items" as the Governor of our State is permitted to do. He either vetoes all of an appropriation measure or none. He can not lift out certain items to which he objects. On the other hand, he can order the impoundment of funds appropriated for a specific purpose. This is an old controversy and one unresolved. In truth it will never be resolved but only complained about as has been the case throughout the years. The real answer is for the Congress not to appropriate money to the President for things not needed or in excess of that which is absolutely necessary. This is the real rub and accounts for the conclusion in the minds of many that of the two it is more important to elect a highly responsible Congress than to elect a President of the United States.

Livestock Inspection Reinstated . . . Stocks of Grain Show Increase . . . Wool Production Declines . . . Early Stalk Destruction Urged . . . Pecan Producers To Vote.

Livestock moving from Texas, Oklahoma, Puerto Rico and parts of Arizona, California and New Mexico must be inspected and certified free of screwworms before being moved interstate. The regulations will be in effect through Nov. 30 of this year, and from April 15 through Nov. 30 in future years until the present screwworm infestation is overcome.

State and federal veterinarians are authorized to make the necessary inspections, supervise pesticide applications and issue shipping certificates. Texas stocks of grain in all positions as of July 1 are estimated at 190 million bushels. This compares with 141 million bushels a year ago. The largest increase is in sorghum stocks followed by wheat, corn and rye. Stocks of oats, barley and soybeans are down from a year ago.

Sorghum stocks are estimated at 129 million bushels compared with 86.9 million bushels in 1971.

Nationwide, large increases were noted in corn, sorghum grain, wheat and rye. Stocks of corn, oats, barley, and sorghum totaled 81.7 million tons, 35 percent more than in 1971.

Feed grain disappearance during April-June totaled 44 million tons, 17 percent more than for the same quarter in 1971.

Wool production in Texas for 1972 is estimated at 29,765,000 pounds, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This is down two percent from last year's production of 30,397,000 pounds. Spring shown wool is expected to be down four percent from the 1971 production of 130,084,000 pounds.

The Texas lamb crop is now estimated at 2,302,000 head, up one percent from last year. Nationwide, the lamb crop is estimated to be down four percent from 1971.

Early destruction of cotton stalks in the Lower Rio Grande Valley as well as throughout all of the state is urged. Mandatory deadline is Aug. 31 in the lower Rio Grande Valley counties of Cameron, Willacy and certain portions of Hidalgo and Starr counties under the pink bollworm act.

Early destruction of stalks will help prevent build-ups of pink bollworms and other cotton insects for the 1973 crop.

Hog cholera outbreaks in Texas and throughout the nation continue to hamper efforts in the final stage of hog cholera eradication. Fifty cases have been reported in Texas since late last year. Federal quarantines are now in effect in all of seven Texas counties: Dawson, Harris, Jim Wells, Moore, Nueces, Terry and Webb, and parts of Bexar, Mitchell and Nolan counties.

Pecan producers in Texas will vote this fall on a proposed check-off referendum being conducted by the Texas Pecan Growers Association. Proposed assessment will not exceed 50 cents per 100 pounds of pecans. Money will be used to finance a program of production, marketing and use of pecans.

- 4 eggs
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 oz. (1 sq.) unsweetened chocolate, melted and cooled

A&M Field Day And Open House
The Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center north of Lubbock will host its 63rd Annual Field Day and Open House Tuesday, Sept. 12 beginning at 1:00 p. m.

Detailed discussions will be presented at eight different locations in the field, according to Dr. Jack Gipson, research scientist, and Mr. Oliver Newton, agricultural meteorologist, co-chairman of the field day.

Topics to be featured at the field stops include: drip irrigation, oilseed crops, cotton diseases, cotton varieties, narrow-row cotton, soil fertility, vegetable crops and sorghum breeding and insect control.

A shuttle service will depart from headquarters every 15 minutes, and visitors may disembark at the discussion site of their choice and then catch a subsequent shuttle when they are ready to move on. This is a new innovation and was added at the request of farmers who participated in the planning sessions of this year's event, according to Gipson and Newton.

Other topics to be featured which are of vital interest to the agricultural industry on the High Plains are weed control and weather. Special "classes" will be conducted at the headquarters area on these subjects.

Displays and exhibits will also be featured for public viewing. These will include plant diseases, soil testing, plant physiology, and a large machinery exhibit.

Everyone with an interest in agriculture in West Texas is encouraged to attend the field day and open house. According to the field chairman, it promises to be an afternoon well spent.

Cooking Bags Can Threaten Kitchen Safety

Plastic oven cooking bags can threaten kitchen safety as a fire hazard, according to the Food and Drug Administration, if homemakers don't use them properly.

"Last February, the FDA announced reports of bursting oven bags," Mrs. Barbara Elliott, Extension county home demonstration agent, said. "The accidents were caused by a phenomenon called 'bumping'."

She explained that bumping occurs when a layer of water forms under a layer of fat that is seeping out of the meat or poultry being cooked. As the trapped water continues heating, it may reach and exceed its boiling point and convert into steam.

"When the steam becomes superheated," she continued, it may break the bonds of the imprisoning fat and spew out with enough force to burst the bag. If fat carried along in the outburst hits a gas flame or electric heating element, it could cause a serious fire."

The home demonstration agent pointed out that you can prevent bumping. The FDA and manufacturers suggest coating the inside of the bag with a tablespoon of flour. Or use a sauce mix with a flour base to coat the bag.

"Most manufacturers instruct users to punch small holes in the bag to inhibit the sudden build-up of pressure," the agent noted. "And they suggest using a large, deep pan for an added margin of safety; the pan will contain juices that leak."

When early FDA reports described oven bags as a potential fire hazard, Mrs. Elliott said that some industry representatives blamed the rash of oven bag accidents on carelessness or inattention to instructions.

"Apparently, these representatives suspected that expanding air in bags not perforated with air holes were causing the accidents."

The FDA announced last May that manufacturers will begin providing additional package instructions to insure safe use of the bags.

"But since turnover in some stores may be slow," Mrs. Elliott added, "expect the old, inadequately labeled bags to keep cropping up for some time. Meanwhile, if you use such bags remember to puncture with air holes, coat insides with flour mixture, and use a pan to trap leaking juices."

Seafood Five Times A Week

Millions of Americans are losing millions of pounds, and they are doing it on diets which call for seafood five times per week.

Weight watchers have discovered that seafood is high in complete, body-building protein, rich in many of the essential vitamins and minerals and yet low in fats and calories.

If you're currently fighting the "Battle of the Bulge", seafood is a delicious and nutritious way to lose weight, according to Miss Cindy Gray, seafood consumer specialist for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. "Your local seafood dealer can introduce you to an ocean of low-calorie delights which can be prepared in a variety of cooking methods and perked up with low-calorie sauces and colorful garnishes," said Miss Gray.

Instead of a high-calorie dessert, the meal can be rounded off with nutritious fruits and vegetables.

Try this recipe to see how delicious low-calorie seafood can be.

Redfish in Wine Sauce
2 lbs. fresh redfish fillets or other fish fillets
1 1/2 tsp. salt, dash pepper
3 tomatoes, sliced
1/2 tsp. salt, dash pepper
2 tbsps. flour
2 tbsps. margarine, melted
1/2 cup skim milk
1/3 cup dry white wine
1/2 tsp. crushed basil
chopped parsley

Skin fillets. Sprinkle fillets on both sides with salt and pepper. Place fillets in a single layer in a greased baking dish, approximately 12x8x2 inches. Arrange tomatoes over top of fillets. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Blend flour into butter. Add milk gradually and cook until thick and smooth, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in wine and basil. Pour sauce over top of tomatoes. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degrees F., for 25-30 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Sprinkle with parsley. Makes six servings of approximately 180 calories each.

Conservationist
C. YEARY, JR.

Assistance was recently furnished to the City of Haskell on a drainage problem in the north part of the City. Profiles of streets were prepared by staff members of the Haskell SCS Work Unit. These profiles enabled the city street maintenance crews to properly fill and grade the streets involved to remove the problem of impounded water. This work gave a greater degree of protection to the streets and to the homes in the area.

Resource conservation planning is just another phase of responsibility that the Soil Conservation Service has. Many facets of this type of work is available, and includes among other things, sanitary landfills. We are also contacting the public schools in Haskell County. Our main purpose of working with school officials is the furtherance of conservation education with our children. The National Association of Conservation Districts maintains a very extensive film library. Films can be secured from the NACD Library on a rental basis. Films are available on many subjects such as Soil Conservation, Water Conservation, Watershed Management, Forestry, Grassland and Rangeland, Recreation, Wildlife, Pollution Abatement, and many others. Catalogues are available at the Haskell SCS Work Unit office.

The Board of Directors of the California Creek Soil and Water Conservation District will start distribution of the latest conservation educational comic book as soon as possible after school starts. The title of the booklet is "Food and the Land", and deals with the role of soil and water conservation in the world food crisis. Teachers guides are also available.

R. V. Earles, SWCD Director from Paint Creek, informs me that due to the cost of the booklets, distribution can only be made to the schools in the California Creek SWCD which includes Haskell, Paint Creek and Rule in Haskell County. The comic books are published by the Soil Conservation Society of America, Ankeny, Iowa, and can be secured from that organization.

If you have a need in the field of soils, conservation, or resource planning, contact us. Our offices are located at 102 North Ave. E in Haskell. Our telephone number is 864-3212.

Rotarians Hear Football Plans

The Haskell Rotary Club met at the City Cafe at noon, August 10, with president Bob Philpot presiding for the luncheon meeting.

Program chairman Bill Comedy introduced head football coach Tommy McAdams of the Haskell school system as his program for the day. Coach McAdams first introduced a new coach for the system this year, John McFadin of Del Rio, who finished high school at Iraan and received his college education at Sul Ross State University at Alpine. McAdams explained that football workouts on a two-a-day basis would begin August 14th but that the first four days would be merely a conditioning period with no actual physical contact being made. He further explained that the AAAA schools and universities had been doing this and the reason was that the weather is so hot in the early part of the season that there is more danger from heat prostration. He recognized the fact that the Haskell Indians had been picked to win the district this year. He also discussed the potentials of the other teams in the district and said that none of them could be sold short. "I think that we slipped up on some teams last year," he said, "but we are not going to be able to slip up on any this year because they are going to be ready for us." The first scrimmage will be in Haskell at 7:30 p. m., August 26, against the Coahoma Bulldogs. The next week they will journey to Colorado City for a scrimmage session with the Wolves and the first game will be against Eastland, there. "We have some good boys this year but lack of weight and depth will play a major factor," he explained.

The invocation was given by Rev. H. O. Abbott and the song session led by R. C. Couch with new club pianist, Rene Abbott, providing accompaniment.

R. C. Couch also introduced the guests: recognizing Eugene Lane, guest of Stanley Furrh and Brad Place of Tulsa, Oklahoma who was the guest of Howard Perry.

 extent by fire which was discovered last Friday morning about 7:05. Firemen were able to extinguish the blaze, but not before the flames had burned through the roof of the structure and caused damage to furniture and other contents. Damage was estimated at several hundred dollars. Haskell county farmers are 'all set' to take part in the National Scrap Harvest which will come to a climax in this county on August 29th with a Junk Rally. Metals and rubber are needed for war purposes, and Governor Coke R. Stevenson said the War Production Board have called for an all-out program.
