Mission Milestones

A slight gainer last week — the 64FTW flew 37 sorties above our requirement.

T-37s are now 5.4 days ahead of the timeline. T-38s are also 5.4 days ahead.

Air Force restructures pilot training program

RANDOLPH AFB, Texas — Congress has approved $14.1 million to start a new pilot training program for the United States Air Force and Air Training Command.

Specialized Undergraduate Pilot Training (SUPT), which was approved by the Department of Defense as part of the USAF Trainer Masterplan, is scheduled to be implemented at ATC bases beginning in 1991.

Under SUPT, students go through a primary phase of flying training followed by one of two specialized advanced tracks — a Bomber-Fighter track or a Tanker-Transport track.

In contrast, today's generalized Undergraduate Pilot Training (UPT) students follow a single track starting in the T-37 Tweet and progressing through the supersonic T-38 Talon aircraft.

Then, based on the students' overall performance, the operational needs of the Air Force and student desires, graduates are assigned to a particular type of aircraft.

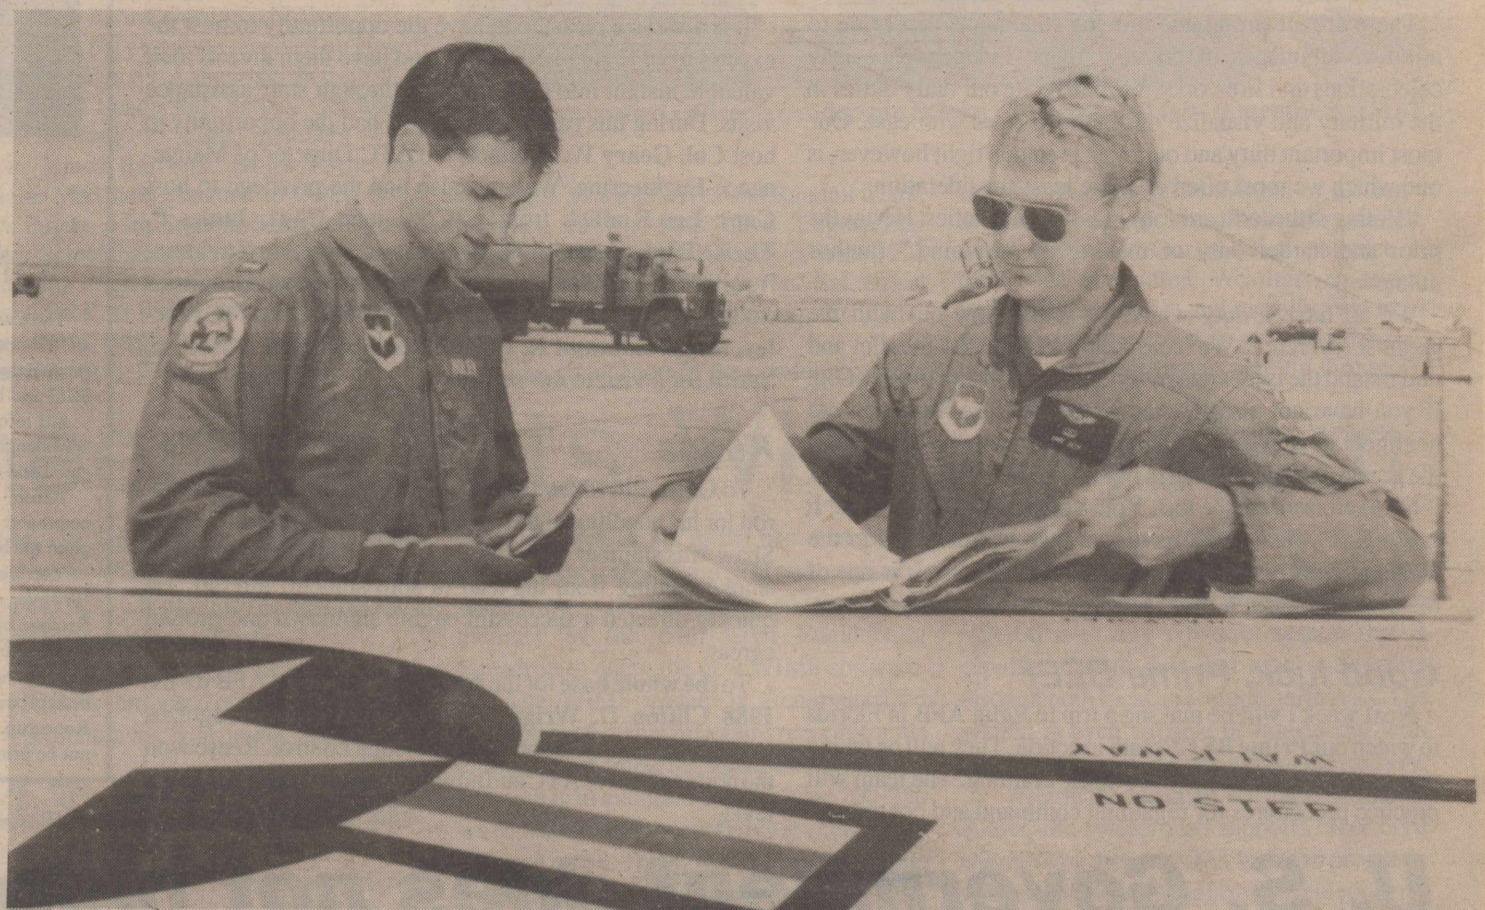

Under the SUPT concept, students will be identified for specialized training tracks by the pilot selection and classification system before entering primary flight training.

After completing the primary phase, each student will enter into the advanced track that represents the operational requirements of the follow-on major command.

Bomber-Fighter track pilots will fly the supersonic T-38 Talon. Tanker-Transport track pilots will train in a yet to be selected, off-the-shelf, twin engine jet. This aircraft will be similar in configuration to the multi-crew aircraft they'll eventually fly for the Air Force.

"Well over half of all UPT graduates are destined to fly multi-crew, multi-engine aircraft represented by such systems as the C-141, C-5, KC-10 and the like," said Col. Bill Grosvenor, director of requirements, ATC Plans and Programs.

Yet the nature of our current equipment does not allow us to address many of the initial skills needed in these types of aircraft.

With the second distinctive track, student pilots bound for tanker and transport aircraft will receive relevant training earlier and be better prepared for the aircraft they'll fly.

"Aircrew leadership, coordination and teamwork, as it applies to flight-deck-configured aircraft, are examples of the areas of professional development that today's young Tanker-Transport pilots don't get to experience until follow-on training in their designated aircraft. With SUPT, they'll get this training much earlier," Col. Grosvenor continued.

Three of the five current UPT bases will become strictly Tanker-Transport training locations.

The Tanker-Transport Training sites include Reese AFB, Texas, starting with SUPT Class 92-11.

Reese students will enter T-37 training in July 1991 and advanced training in December 1991.

Vance will begin with SUPT Class 94-11, with students entering T-37 training in July 1993 and advanced training the following December. Columbus will start with SUPT Class 96-01, with students entering T-37 training in November 1994 and advanced training in April 1995.

The remaining two UPT bases, Laughlin AFB, Texas and Williams AFB, Ariz., will serve as Bomber-Fighter training sites.

Laughlin students will start SUPT with Class 92-11, with students entering T-37 training in July 1991 and advanced training the December following.

Williams students will begin with Class 94-11, and students will enter T-37 training in July 1993 and advanced training in December.

Randolph AFB will continue to serve as the pilot instructor training site for Air Training Command in the T-37, the T-38 and the new Tanker-Transport Training System.

Leadership School graduates our military's future

By SrA. Kimberly Nelson
Public Affairs Staff Writer

"I am an American" — this statement should not and must not ever need qualifying; rather, this statement must stand alone as the epitome of quality. It is a statement of leadership and all that leadership entails," said CMSgt. Arthur Lowery, T-38 Maintenance Branch Superintendent, 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron, guest speaker for the Noncommissioned Officers Leadership

School graduation last week.

The 21 members of Class 89-A graduated last Thursday at a ceremony held in the Enlisted Open Mess. Throughout the evening class members received awards based upon their outstanding classroom and drill performances. Awards presented were: the John L. Levitow Honor Graduate Award, Commandant's Award, Academic Achievement Award, Speech Award, Drill Award, Distinguished Graduate Award, World Affairs Award and Leadership and Management Award.

The Honor Graduate, Communicative Skills, and Leadership and Management Awards were given to SSgt. Timothy Kempel, assigned to the USAF Hospital, Reese. Sergeant Kempel distinguished himself as honor graduate by demonstrating the highest degree of excellence in overall evaluations of leadership and academic performance. The Communicative Skills Award is a competitive award between the two highest scoring students in each flight, final evaluation is based upon a written exam, which Sergeant Kempel scored the highest on. The Leadership and Management Award recipient is chosen based on the leadership and management questions from three exams given throughout the course and a final written exam administered to the top 10 percent in this category.

Reese airman convicted of mail order crime

By Capt. Mark E. Garrard
Assistant Staff Judge Advocate

The Air Force Office of Special Investigations (AFOSI) recently uncovered an active duty airman here who was sending illegal drugs through the mail.

The recipient of these illicit packages of marijuana and methamphetamines was another airman assigned to Malmstrom AFB, Mont.

Airman First Class Terry L. Williams, a medical services apprentice, pled guilty and elected to have his punishment decided by the military judge. Testimony and documents revealed Airman Williams had a good duty record and rehabilitation potential.

The first drug shipment by the accused was made Nov. 10, 1987. It totalled about 23.2 grams of marijuana.

The buyer paid by personal check which was deposited to the accused's bank account. The accused then attempted, unsuccessfully, to acquire cocaine for the same individual.

On April 18, 1988, the accused contacted the airman at Malmstrom and advised he had recently obtained a gram of "crank" or methamphetamines. The accused was willing to sell nearly all of the one gram he'd just bought, for $60.

The airman agreed and mailed a second check to the accused. The accused placed .21 grams of the methamphetamine in a birthday card and mailed it to the airman.

The buyer, as it turns out, was working with the AFOSI. The phone calls made regarding illegal drugs had been monitored by the agents, and the drugs mailed were seized as evidence and tested to confirm the presence of unlawful substances.

Airman Williams was sentenced for his crimes to a Bad Conduct Discharge from the USAF, 13 months confinement at hard labor, reduction to airman basic, and forfeiture of $447 per month for 13 months.

Bits & Pieces

Duty, Honor, Country

This is the creed that guides our military lives. We, more than anyone else, understand the horrors of war. We, more than anyone else, hold close to our hearts the ideals of patriotism, volunteerism and freedom. We defend these privileges on a daily basis. We guard these rights for ourselves and others. We have a duty as our oath states to uphold the constitution of the United States of America and defend it against all enemies both foreign and domestic.

These are all strong and moving statements that bring to mind vivid images of colonial flags, Independence Day celebrations and fireworks. We can recite our daily duties in the military and visualize our patriotic ones with ease. Our most important duty and our most precious right however, is one which we most often give the least consideration.

"Voting is the least arduous of a citizen's duties. He has the prior and harder duty of making up his mind." (author unknown)

We all have a duty which we must carry out with the greatest reverence. We have a duty to both cast a ballot and understand the issues and individuals making up the election. If you have not already started that process, then you are negligent in your duty. If you have, then you have exercised the greatest right you own in our free society. It is a right that, if not exercised, can be lost. Your vote makes a difference! It is the glue which binds us to our past greatness and to the ideals of patriotism, volunteerism and freedom. It is one of the duties in duty, honor, country.

Good luck, Prime BEEF

Next week I will be making a trip to Eglin AFB in Florida to watch our Prime BEEF team in action. They will be taking part in Base Recovery After Attack Training. The team will practice procedures for regaining command and control and restoring runways and utilities after a paralyzing base attack. This training is about as close as you can get to actual combat conditions and will ready our team for any contingency. Our folks have been tested before. The work they did down at Kelly AFB, Texas, after it was hit by tornados is just one recent glowing example. I fully expect them to pass this new test with flying colors.

Welcome

It is always a pleasure to have the opportunity to host the experts from Headquarters ATC and have them give us their valuable insight into our programs through staff assistance visits. During this past week we have had the opportunity to host Col. Geary W. Wallace, the ATC Director of Maintenance-Engineering. We have also had the privilege to host Capt. Les Kodlick from ATC/PA, and Capt. James P. Theis, TSgt. Kenneth R. Prince and Mr. Joe Zarbano, from ATC/LGCM to look at our Public Affairs and Logistics troops respectively. Next week we host Mr. James B. Worley, MSgt. Edmund R. Hopcus, Jr. and TSgt. Russel K. Smith for a visit to our security team.

Kudos

To Capt. Bill Shaw from the 35th Flying Training Squadron for his handling of an emergency on the runway. Captain Shaw was number two in a formation flight when he saw smoke coming from his lead (a solo student) aircraft. He quickly directed a successful engine shutdown and ground egress.

To the whole base for the nomination of Reese AFB for the 1988 Clifton D. Wright Award. The award recognizes excellence in installation environmental control. Reese won the nomination for ATC and now will compete at an Air Force level.

New Care Line Policy

The Care Line is your direct link to me. Your Care Line questions and comments are encouraged and welcomed. Your concerns will receive my personal attention if you call the Care Line at extension 3273 and leave your message.

All information provided to the Care Line will be held in strict confidence. All questions and comments will be thoroughly investigated and if a problem exists, it will be quickly corrected.

Before you call the Care Line, consider using your chain of command to answer your questions or solve your problems. This is often the best way to get a prompt, direct response.

You are not required to leave your name and a telephone number. However, some calls do not contain enough details for investigation. Because of this, you are encouraged to leave your name and a telephone number in case additional information is needed. Callers who identify themselves will receive a direct response, your identity will be kept confidential and items of general interest will be printed in The Roundup. Anonymous Care Line calls will be investigated, but will not be printed in The Roundup.

U. S. Government does not belong at home

By Maj. Dennis L. Austin
Wing Inspector General

Fraud, waste and abuse are topics of great concern which all Air Force members should be knowledgeable.

Any action that results in wasting government funds or resources is considered unacceptable and should be reported, starting at the lowest level possible. Some fraud, waste and abuse examples are: taking government property for personal use — pens, notebooks and other supplies; using government equipment for personal projects — typewriters, computers and machinery or using your position in the Air Force to get personal benefit — discounts at stores, free products and services.

All Reese employees, military and civilian, are responsible for their own actions as well as for reporting all known cases of fraud, waste and abuse.

If you know of a situation in which government funds or resources are being abused, report it immediately. Using your chain of command is the best way to approach such problems. If people continue to abuse government assets, then report it to their supervisor or squadron commander.

If abuse continues to occur, regardless of your efforts to report it through the chain of command, contact me. As the wing inspector general, it's my job to review the case and take steps toward stopping the abuse! I'm available any time, in Bldg. 800, to hear complaints. Special permission or an appointment is not required, but appointments can be made by calling 3409. I will ensure that all facts, opinions and attitudes are held in confidence except to the extent necessary to accomplish corrective action.

Voting has impact on present and future

By 2nd Lt. Ronald E. Smith
Assistant Installation Voting Officer

The Declaration of Independence says the "Governments are instituted among men, deriving their just power from the consent of the governed." Thomas Jefferson wrote those familiar words over 200 years ago and they still hold true today. You are the governed and give the government power through your vote. The vote you cast Tuesday will have an impact on the present as well as future generations.

The right to vote has not always been guaranteed. The 15th and 19th Amendments abolished race and gender requirements, while the 26th Amendment gave citizens over the age of 18 the right to vote. In addition, the Civil Rights Act of 1964 ensured poll taxes and literacy tests were eliminated at the polling places.

Many people are apathetic towards elections. Imagine if you will, a city smaller than Lubbock where nobody voted. Now, look back to the 1960 election. If 128,550 people had not voted for John F. Kennedy, Richard Nixon would have been our 35th President instead of the 37th. As a service member and citizen, it is both a duty and privilege to vote responsibly. Remember, the person you elect as President will also be your Commander in Chief.

VOTE
TUESDAY

Minorities In Action welcomes everyone

MINORITIES IN ACTION, Black Cultural Awareness Association, is a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting harmony among Reese AFB personnel and the surrounding community.

Educational, cultural, community service and social activities are held throughout the year to further the organization's goals of enhancing unity for all people.

MINORITIES IN ACTION is currently working on plans for the 1989 Black History celebration in February. The Black History program focuses on the many contributions Black Americans have made to our country and is educationally beneficial for everyone.

Anyone interested in working with this year's Black History celebration may contact Mr. Phil Thierry at Social Actions at 3990. For more information about MINORITIES IN ACTION, contact membership chairman A1C Earl Sino at 3738.

Leadership school grads

Staff Sergeant Paul McDowell received the Comandant Award. He is assigned to the 64th Security Police Squadron. Sergeant McDowell's overall excellence and exceptional leadership performance merited him this honor.

Distinguished Graduate Awards were presented to SSgts. Michael Hendricks from the 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron and Kurtis McLeod from the 1993 Communications Squadron, Dyess AFB, Texas. The Distinguished Graduate Award is presented to those who accumulate the most combined points and achieve and maintain a 90 percent average on all evaluation items.

Sergeant Hendricks also earned the Academic Award, which is given to the student demonstrating the highest degree of academic achievement.

The Drill award went to SSgt. Walter Carnes of OMS. He distinguished himself as possessing the skills necessary to perform individual drill movements and to command the movement of a flight in a graded drill competition.

The World Affairs Award was earned by SSgt. Glenn Rakoczynski, assigned to OMS. Sergeant Rakoczynski received this award based upon his score for world affairs being in the top 10 percent, and for successfully achieving the highest score on the final written test.

"Leadership graduates," commented Chief Lowery, "the course you have just completed can at close examination be summed up in one word: patriotism."

Although not everyone received an award, the entire Class 89-A distinguished itself as being NCO Leadership School Graduates. The remaining 15 class members were: SSgts. James Burbank, James Payne and Enrique Martinez, assigned to OMS; SSgt. Mark Payne, 64th Student Squadron; SSgt. Phillip Schwabach, 1958 Communications Squadron; SSgt. Jimmy Watson and Sgt. Doreen Peck, of the 64th Supply Squadron; SSgt. Brian Williams and Sgt. Lawrence Goodrich, 64th Field Maintenance Squadron; Sgts. Vincent Stives and Randall Clark, assigned to the 64th Civil Engineering Squadron; Sgt. Joseph Burnett from the 1993 CS; Sgt. Linda Gravel, Hosp. and Sgt. David Riffle from the 3500 Mission Support Squadron.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, Chief

Lowery asserted, "The symbol of all that I dream and hope for is symbolized by the red, white and blue. Our military patience is tried—but undaunted. We must be strong politically, militarily and morally. We must set the example; stand up and lead the way and the world will see us coming through!"

Civil Engineering gets WIMS system

By 2nd Lt. Phil Moessner
Chief, Industrial Engineering

The old line is, "Trust me. I'm from headquarters. I'm here to help."

For the past three weeks, that has been true at Civil Engineering. The Air Training Command Work Information Management System (WIMS) software implementation team has been here installing the latest technology to help CE provide the best possible service to you, our customers.

The 16-member team, headed by Maj. Terry Rich, is composed of military and civilian representatives from eight ATC bases.

Each member is one of the command's experts in their respective area of civil engineering. Their jobs have been to train each member of the 64th Civil Engineering Squadron in using the new WIMS software.

The WIMS system is a computerized tracking system that maintains records for the entire civil engineering squadron. Its primary function is to maintain and track the 200-250 work orders and job orders that are called into CE each week. The system keeps tabs on the status of planning, design, material requisition, and construction for every work request. When a customer calls in a work request, the information is immediately loaded into the computer and is automatically assigned a work request number.

With this request number, the customer can call back at any time and immediately obtain a complete, up-to-the-minute update on the status of that job.

WIMS runs on a Wang VS-100 mini computer. With 115 workstations and 35 printers in five buildings, the word "mini" is misleading. Every worker in the main civil engineering building has a terminal, and each shop has a terminal in the work area. The VS-100 is a very powerful system that is capable of both data and word processing through both local and remote terminals. The system is even capable of interfacing with other WIMS systems throughout the country.

Although designed to track work requests, the system also supports other civil engineering areas. WIMS includes programming for contract management, real property records, readiness, management studies, cost accounting/financial management, on and off base housing, the fire department, and personnel administration functions. Additional programming includes word processing, spread sheets, and office automation programming that allows time management, and inter-office communications.

WIMS programming will help CE get the job done in a quicker, more cost effective, and overall more efficient manner than ever before.

CCAF Graduates 13 in October

Thirteen Reese members received their Community College of the Air Force associates degrees recently as the Education Center hosted the fall graduation at the Enlisted Open Mess. Col. James L. Higham, commander, 64th Air Base Group, was the guest speaker and also presented the graduates with their degrees.

Reese graduates were part of the over 5,200 Air Force members worldwide who received their degrees during October.

Members receiving degrees were:

Master Sergeant Abe Williams, Jr., assigned to the 3500th Mission Support Squadron, received his degree in Personnel Administration;

Technical Sergeant John E. Miller, Jr., assigned to the 64th Field Maintenance Squadron, received his degree in Aircraft Maintenance Technology;

Technical Sergeant James A. Nerton, assigned to the 3500th Mission Support Squadron, received his degree in Disaster Preparedness;

Technical Sergeant James B. Parsons, assigned to the 1958 Communications Squadron, received a degree in Communications Operations Technology;

Staff Sergeant Ruddy A. Almonte, assigned to the 64th Civil Engineering Squadron, received his degree in Mechanical and Electrical Technology;

Staff Sergeant Kim S. Clermont, assigned to the 1958 Communications Squadron, received a degree in Air Traffic Control;

Staff Sergeant Randall N. Woodard, assigned to the USAF Hospital at Reese, received his degree in Aerospace Physiology Technology;

Senior Airman Mark W. Gilding, assigned to the 1958 Communications Squadron, received a degree in Management Information Systems;

Senior Airman Michael A. James, assigned to the 64th Supply Squadron, received his degree in Logistics Management;

Senior Airman Jerry Singleterry, assigned to the USAF Hosp at Reese, received a degree in Aerospace Physiology Technology;

Airman First Class Irving Moore II, assigned to the 64th Student Squadron, received his degree in Administrative Management;

Airman First Class Leslie W. Rhoades, Jr., assigned to the USAF Hospital at Reese, received a degree in Environmental Medicine Technology;

Airman First Class Joseph G. Sweet, assigned to the 64th Field Maintenance Squadron, received his degree in Aircraft Accessory Systems Technology.

For information regarding the CCAF program, contact the Education Center at 3634 or stop by Bldg. 920, room 139.

TEMPEST — More than meets the eye

By MSgt Michael T. Galvin
Base TEMPEST Officer

TEMPEST is an unclassified short name referring to the investigation and study of compromising emanations. Compromising emanations are unintentional data-related or intelligence-gathering signals. If intercepted or analyzed, they disclose the classified information transmitted, received, handled, or otherwise processed by any electrical equipment.

The Air Force TEMPEST objectives are concerned with the control of compromising emanations at all organizations having equipment which processes classified information.

Program objectives are to identify compromising emanations in equipment and systems, apply effective control measures, install equipment properly, educate personnel and test equipment. All electronic devices have components which emit unintentional emanations.

Depending on the type of equipment and its environment, compromising emanations can be radiated through space as radio waves, conducted on telephone lines, water pipes, or any other conductor. Telephone instruments are particularly dangerous as transmitters of compromising signals because their presence is often accepted as something apart from electrical processing operations. However, the two sensitive elements in each handset and the ringing element can easily be activated by signals unintentionally emitted from nearby equipment that processes classified information. Typical equipment or systems which are considered TEMPEST-vulnerable when processing classified information are audio/visual, computers and word processors, receivers and transmitters, tape recorders and electric typewriters.

There is no one stereotype solution to the compromising emanations problem. As a user of any electrical device which processes classified information, you should be aware of the TEMPEST data associated with the device. To obtain this information, first contact your squadron/staff agency TEMPEST monitor or the base TEMPEST officer, MSgt. Michael T. Galvin, 1958CS/DONQ, 3227.

TEMPEST is an integral part of the overall COMSEC program that every user of electrical equipment which processes classified information must be knowledgeable of. If you process classified information by electrical means, or plan on doing so in the future, you must keep the Base TEMPEST Officer informed. By doing so, we can all help ensure the integrity of our communications.

Construction provides future needs

By Col. James L. Higham
Commander, 64th Air Base Group

As you are probably already aware of from having to detour around this base, a lot of road construction is going on right now. The construction of these streets will allow roadways to support heavier traffic loads, widen the roads, install curbs and gutters along the edges, and improve the surface appearance.

Currently, the roads are being redone on 2nd and D Streets. Estimated completion date is around Jan. 15, 1989. As soon as construction on 2nd Street is completed, the work will begin on F Street.

Since there is limited access to many buildings, we have changed the direction in the flow of traffic in some cases. The parking lots adjacent to the dining facility are now a two-way traffic flow rather than the usual one-way (this is only during the closure period of D Street). Access to the parking lot for the child care center and arts and crafts is through the supply parking lot at 4th and C Streets.

The NCNB Bank, Bldg. 440, parking lot driveway on 5th Street remains an exit only, but there will be two-way traffic between the two sides of this parking lot. The traffic flow of the drive-through window from 4th Street will continue to be one-way. This traffic pattern is shown on the map.

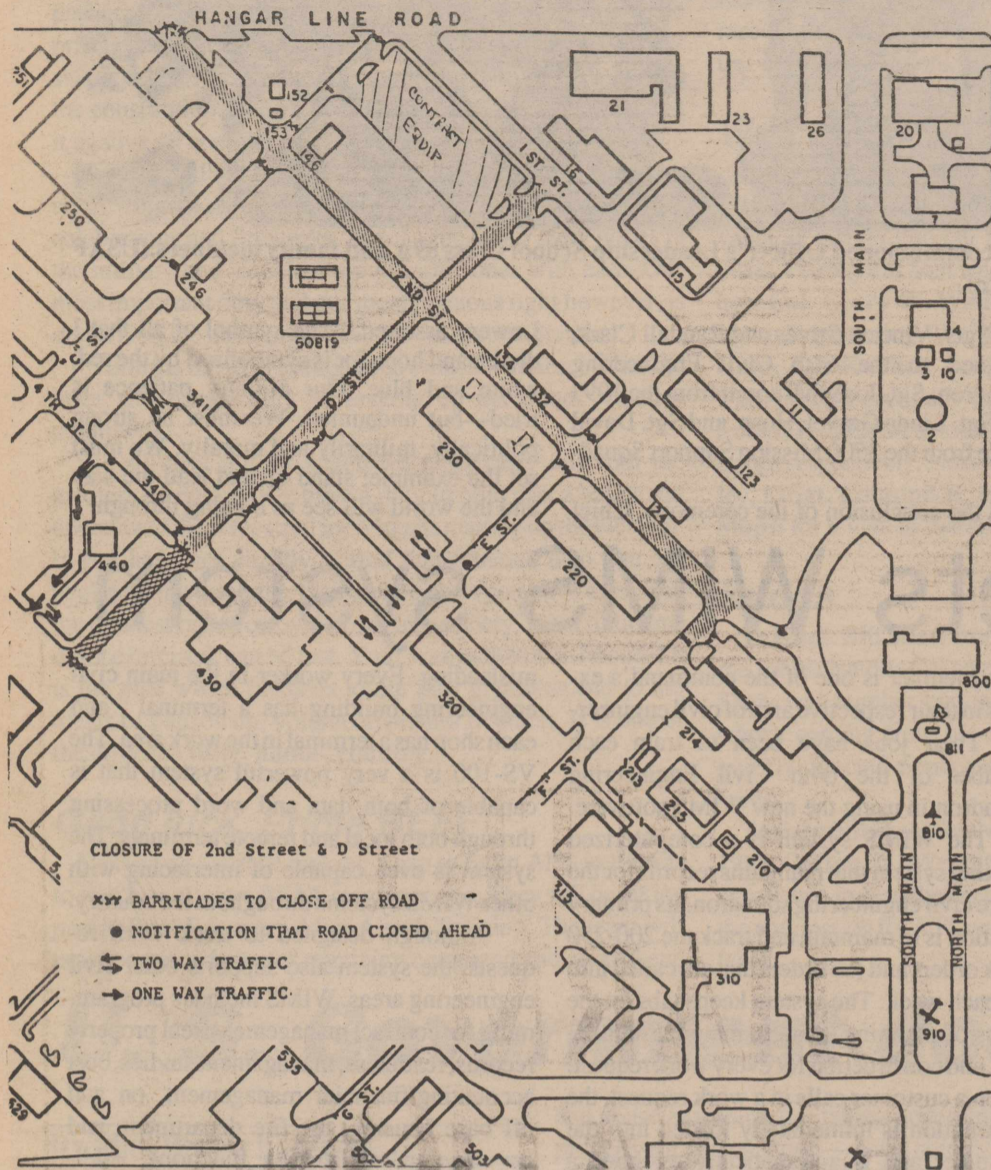

The parking lot next to Reese Manor was recently paved by our CE folks — this adds a finishing touch to the Manor.

Bottom line: All construction is being done

to provide excellent services to the Reese community and for our future needs. Please be patient with the inconvenience as Reese "paves the way."

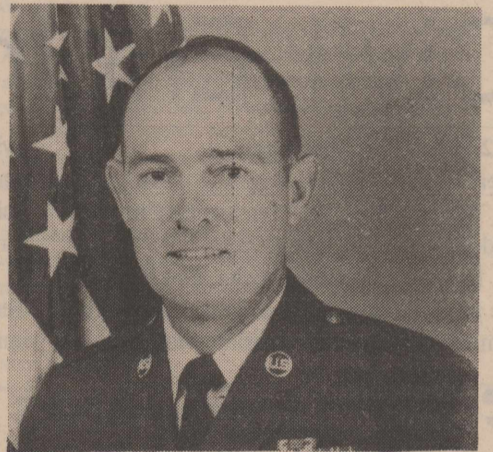

When voting, know the candidates

By CMSgt. Coy K. Martin
Senior Enlisted Advisor

We, as active duty military, probably should have a bigger interest in how our country is governed than any other segment of our society. The directives and policies issued by our government can have immediate impact on our very lives. Our forefathers realized the importance of the citizen soldier in our democratic form of government. They also knew that in order to have an effective volunteer armed force, the men and women in uniform had to be able to exercise certain rights as a citizen. The most basic of these is the right to vote.

We do have a voice in electing those people responsible for making the national policy for which we, as active duty military, may very well be the instrument of enforcement.

CMSgt. Coy K. Martin

But, we only have a voice if we VOTE. Study the issues — know the qualifications and positions of the candidates and vote!

Air Force News Notes

Recruiters needed

RANDOLPH AFB, Texas (AFNS) — Air Force needs qualified noncommissioned officers to fill more than 200 recruiting jobs nationwide.

People holding the rank of sergeant through master sergeant with more than four years and less than 16 years service are eligible.

After attending school at Lackland AFB, Texas, recruiters serve at assignments of their choice for at least four years.

Recruiters receive special duty assignment pay of up to $275 monthly, reimbursement of certain out-of-pocket expenses and an increased subsistence allowance.

Assignments are filled on a first-come, first-served basis. Interested applicants should contact the base personnel office customer service unit, CMSgt. George Pouliot or MSgt. Chip Calcari at AUTOVON 487-2812, HQ ATC/DPRAP, Randolph AFB, Texas 78150.

Strength down

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — Air Force strength declined in August

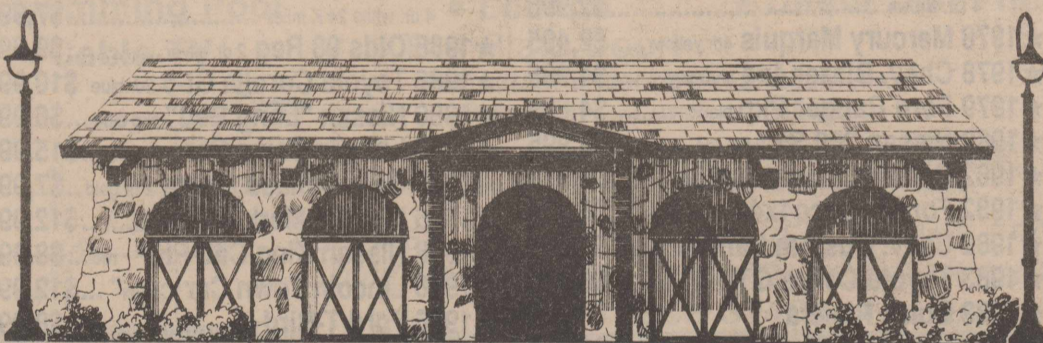

by 7,076 while the Army and Navy added more than 13,000 people. Air Force strength on Aug. 31 was 578,978, down 29,000 in the past 12 months. Defense Department strength at the end of August was 2,122,874, an increase of 11,742 from the previous month, but a decrease of 43,940 since August 1987. The figures do not include approximately 71,000 people paid from other appropriations.

Food appeal

KELLY AFB, Texas (AFNS) — The largest appeal for food in the history of the nation will be undertaken by the Boy Scouts in November with assistance from the National Guard. Several million Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers will distribute bags door-to-door Nov. 12 in an effort to gather 100 million canned goods. The bags will be collected the following Saturday. The food will be distributed to food banks and other agencies for distribution to underprivileged people at no cost.

News Briefs

35-10 Tip of the week

There have been numerous complaints about the wear of the battle dress uniform (BDU) shirts. The ATC Supplement 1, AFR 35-10 states, that when the sleeves of the BDU shirt are worn rolled up, the camouflage pattern will remain exposed. For questions, contact Personal Affairs, 3402.

Base Housing Residents

Work is beginning on two new contract projects in the housing area. The trash dumpsters are being moved alongside their existing locations to allow the contractor access to construct enclosures for the concrete slab areas and landscaping will be done at each location to help beautify the area. Also, Mitchell Blvd is receiving new lighting. Be cautious to these areas as winter driving approaches. Both projects will take approximately 90 days for completion.

Parents Night Out

The Youth Activities Booster Club is having a Parent Night Out Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the youth center. Free food and drinks will be provided. The club is looking for parents who are concerned about their children. Come on out and enjoy the fun.

Tax preparing volunteers needed

Another tax season is almost here and the Legal Office is looking for a few good volunteers for the Tax Assistance Program. Those accepted will begin training in January, and supported by the Legal Office throughout the season. This years tax forms, state and federal, have already been ordered. Our resident Certified Public Accountant (CPA), Mrs. Maggie Seymour, is returning to help with the program.

Volunteers must have time and interest sufficient to familiarize themselves with the significant tax laws to assist all who need help. They must also possess the sound judgement to know when it's time to call for professional advice on the complex issues. Tax assistance will include actual completion of the necessary tax forms and schedules for active duty, dependents and retired members of the armed forces.

Active duty members and civilian employees may apply through their squadron commander. Dependents and retired volunteers, especially those with prior experience, are also welcome to apply by calling 3505. Our goal is to have well qualified and instructed volunteers available throughout Reese, so that all who desire tax assistance are fully satisfied within a timely manner.

Ring a turkey, shoot a ham

The Reese Rod and Gun Club is sponsoring an Open House-Horseshoe Tournament-Ham Shoot Nov. 12 at 11 a.m. on the club range on the penderosa behind the runways. A donation picnic of hot dogs, hamburgers and soft drinks will be provided. Horseshoe winners will receive turkeys and target shooters will compete for canned hams.

Entry fees are $2 for the Horseshoe Tournament and $1 for the Ham Shoot. The kids can enjoy a Cornish Hen Shoot with a BB gun for a small entry fee. A singles horseshoe event will be held if there is enough participation.

The range is open for skeet shooting and a 12 gauge shotgun that can be used if you bring your own ammo. For more information contact Cheryl Moore at 791-3551.

Party all night at an all night party

MINORITIES IN ACTION is holding an all night party Nov. 18 from 11 p.m. to 4 a.m. at the Mathis Recreation Center. A $2 admission will be collected at the door.

A "fishnet" contest is being held for the ladies with a first place cash prize. Musical entertainment will be provided by "Maestro Lee."

Gambling: the straight line

Air Force personnel may not gamble while on duty or while on government property, whether or not on duty. This prohibition includes lotteries, raffles and athletic pools — it does not matter who is sponsoring the event — if it's gambling, it is prohibited by AFR 30-30. Also, it is a criminal offense under the UCMJ for officers to gamble with NCOs and NCOs to gamble with airmen.

Reese Salutes yearly CGOs

The Annual Company Grade Officer Awards Banquet is Nov. 17 at 6:30 p.m. in the Officers' Open Mess.

In addition to salute to all of Reese's CGOs, Instructor Pilot and Company Grade Support Officer of the Year awards will be presented.

Tickets are $14 and may be purchased from squadron CGOC representatives or by contacting 1st Lt. Doug White at 3636.

Merit Badge Fair

Reese AFB will host the South Plains Council Boy Scouts of America when it conducts a Merit Badge Fair on Dec. 3. This activity, the first of its kind in West Texas, will provide unique advancement opportunities for scouts aged 12 to 18.

The Boy Scout merit badge program is designed to introduce young men to many interesting topics, some of which direct scouts to future occupations. Each scout must meet specific merit badge requirements to ensure a well-rounded exposure to over 125 subjects.

Merit badges are an integral part of the scout advancement program. Since the largest number of merit badges are earned while participating in summer activities, the District Advancement Committee elected last January to expand advancement opportunities to include a fall and winter activity.

The Commander's Youth Relations Representative, Capt. Bob McManaway, invites all scouters and prsons interested in serving as a counselor or advisor to contact him at 885-3385. All merit badge areas still need counselors. You do not need to be a registered scouter to support this activity.

Distinguished graduates

After recent competition with 798 students at the Squadron Officer School (SOS), Capt. John J. Reidy, 54th Flying Training Squadron and 1st Lt. Robert H. Gillespie, 64th Student Squadron graduated in the top 8 percent of Class 88-E. Selection for this distinctive honor was recommended by a review committee and approved by the SOS Commandant.

Squadron Officer School is the first of the USAF's professional military education schools for officers. The mission of the 8.5 week course is to provide for the professional development of company grade officers so they can better perform and value their role in the conduct and support of the Air Force mission. The evaluation system consists of four phases: academics, writing, speaking and leadership. The students must excell in each phase.

Scholarship Award

The American Society of Military Comptrollers (ASMC), Windmill Chapter of Reese AFB, will be awarding a $500 scholarship to a graduating senior. Local high school seniors are encouraged to apply.

Applications may be picked up from your high school principal's office or from the ASMC scholarship chairman, Carmen Lopez. Deadline for applications is Feb. 1. Call 3518 for more information.

Graduate Record Examination

The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) will be administered Dec. 14. All interested Reese personnel should call the Education Center at 3634 by Nov. 10, to make a reservation for the GRE. The Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) is scheduled for Jan. 30. For more information call the Education Center.

Meal surcharge waived

The Secretary of Defense has approved a request to waive the surcharge for the 1988 Thanksgiving and Christmas meals for dependants of military members in military dining facilities.

Releasing authority

If you get a call from a news reporter asking for information about an accident or incident at Reese, immediately refer the reporter to Public Affairs at 3843. Public Affairs is the only base agency authorized to release Air Force information to the public.

Lost and found

The Security Police Investigations Section has the following lost or abandoned property: two pair of prescription glasses and a compressed air tank. If this property belongs to you, please contact the Investigations Section at 3999.

PCSing overseas?

If you are planning to ship a POV (privately owned vehicle) you will no longer be required to remove the catalytic converter.

This was made possible by a plan worked out between the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and the Department of Defense (DOD) and is due to the widespread availability of unleaded gas.

Under this new plan, members must have their catalytic converters tested annually to ensure they have only used unleaded gas. In addition, a final test will be required 10 calendar days prior to shipping the car back to the United States.

Any questions contact TSgt. Phillip Little, 3836 or Mr. Joseph Hutchinson, 6084.

New civilian supervisors

Newly appointed civilian supervisors are required to attend the USAF Supervisor's Course. The next class is Monday-Thursday from 8 a.m. to 4:15 p.m., in Bldg. 920, Room 106. Valuable information on personnel policies, practices and procedures will be discussed. This is a mandatory training for civilian supervisors. Contact 3803 for more information.

Annual NCOAGA banquet nears

The Noncommissioned Officers Academy Graduates Association (NCOAGA) hosts the Annual Enlisted Awards Banquet Nov. 19, at the Officer's Open Mess. The Air Force Band of the West will provide dinner music at the Officer's Open Mess and dancing music at the Enlisted Open Mess following the banquet. The guest speaker for the event is retired CMSAF James M. McCoy.

The Wing's outstanding First Sergeant, Senior NCO, NCO and Airman of the Year will be announced at the banquet. Those selected will then compete at ATC and possibly become one of the Air Force's 12 Outstanding Airmen of the Year. The NCOAGA sponsors this event annually through fund-raising events. The project coordinators for the event are CMSgt. Leonard Minzer, 3633 and MSgt. Leslie Wallace, 3704.

Be a UPAR and spread the news

By Capt. Krist Vasilio
Chief, Public Affairs

Generating awareness and promoting wing activities are integral aspects of the public affairs business. Providing recognition to those who "make things happen" is also an important factor in the publicity equation.

The people at Reese are the sources for creating news and feature stories. Consequently, the need for Unit Public Affairs Representatives' (UPAR) participation is becoming increasingly more demanding. This program formally establishes a communication network basewide to enhance the Public Affairs Division's capability of giving units the visibility and recognition they deserve.

Whether UPARs call in story ideas or bring in draft releases, the purpose is to maximize unit publicity.

The deadline for submissions is noon on Mondays prior to that week's publication.

The UPARs' support is not limited to newspaper submissions. The Speakers' Bureau, National Story Ideas, Commander's Call and more are delegated tasks that are essential to the UPAR's role. This multifaceted role maintains a finger on the pulse of the organization which serves to sustain that crucial link throughout the unit's rank and file.

The UPARs are in the best position for "being in the know" about their particular organizations.

Commanders will notice the valuable service their UPARs provide to their unit members.

Every unit here has a primary and alternate UPAR, but there is always room for one more. Interested individuals should contact their commander or first sergeant now.

Tanning: risks vs. benefits

She looks marvelous! Her figure is fantastic and her dark tan is terrific. She exercises at a health club to keep herself fit and uses the club's tanning bed to keep her skin bronze. Maybe she is your idea of someone who really takes care of herself.

Unfortunately for her, she may be paying for her tan with more than money. The light rays emitted from her tanning bed may pose a health threat.

Could this be you?

Air Force members may be considering the use of tanning beds now since winter is just around the corner. Before using such a device, consider the potential risks.

Tanning beds use two kinds of ultraviolet (UV) light to tan the skin, called UVA and UVB. In the past, tanning salons used beds emitting primarily UVB, until UVB was found to cause problems. Now salons use those beds emitting 96-98 percent UVA and 2-4 percent UVB, with the hope that UVA is safer than UVB. However, the American Academy of Dermatology and the Center for Devices and Radiological Health agree that cosmetic tanning beds using UVA is not entirely danger free. The UVA may lead to long-term eye damage, edema, vascular system damage and suppression of the immune system. The risk of skin cancer and premature aging are also possible concerns.

TEAMWORK:

"No where in medicine does a doctor and nurse work so closely together as in an emergency situation. Side by side, hour after hour..." Just over one year ago, Dr. Fred Hagedorn joined the emergency team of Lubbock General Hospital as medical director of the Emergency Center. He first came here because of the university hospital setting and now he's here because of the people and the challenge. "Our Emergency Center has the resources of virtually every medical specialty via the many different physicians here on-staff twenty-four hours a day. And our nurses are excellent. They're critical to our team of emergency specialists."

CHAMPUS ASSIGNMENT ACCEPTED.

Entitlement for survivors reinstated

AIR FORCE MILITARY PERSONNEL CENTER, Randolph AFB, Texas (AFNS) — The Reinstated Entitlement Program for Survivors funded by the Veterans Administration pays an allowance to surviving spouses and children of veterans who died on active duty prior to Aug. 31, 1981.

The program also pays an allowance to survivors of those who died as a result of a service-connected disability that was incurred or aggravated prior to Aug. 13, 1981.

When military people became eligible for Social Security in 1957, their survivors became eligible for the same benefits paid to survivors of covered civilian workers.

In 1981, however, Public Law 97-35 terminated some of those benefits, including payments to spouses and children between the ages of 16 and 18 and to full-time college students ages 18-22.

In 1983, Congress responded by passing Public Law 97-377, the Reinstated Entitlement Program for Survivors. The new law restored lost benefits to certain spouses and children who had lost their entitlements under the provisions of Public Law 97-35.

The Veterans Administration pays the authorized benefits using its own dependency and indemnity compensation pay rates for survivor benefits.

Survivors can inquire about benefits at the nearest Veterans Administration regional office. Information also is available from the Air Force Military Personnel Center, casualty assistance unit, at AUTOVON 487-5513.

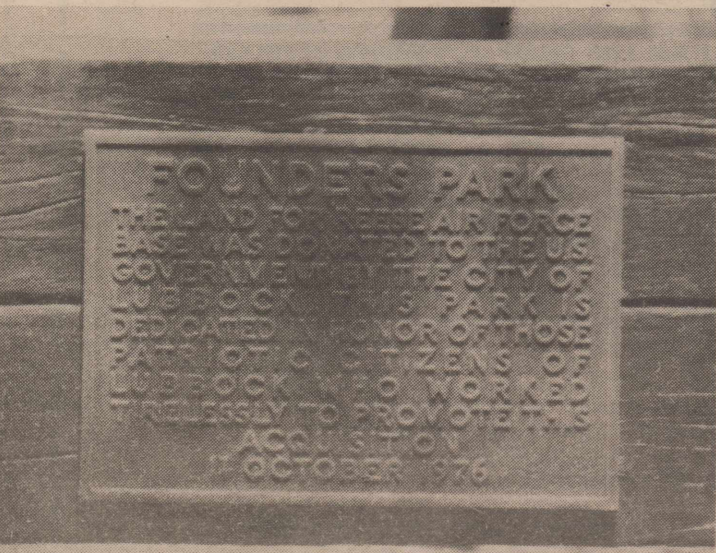

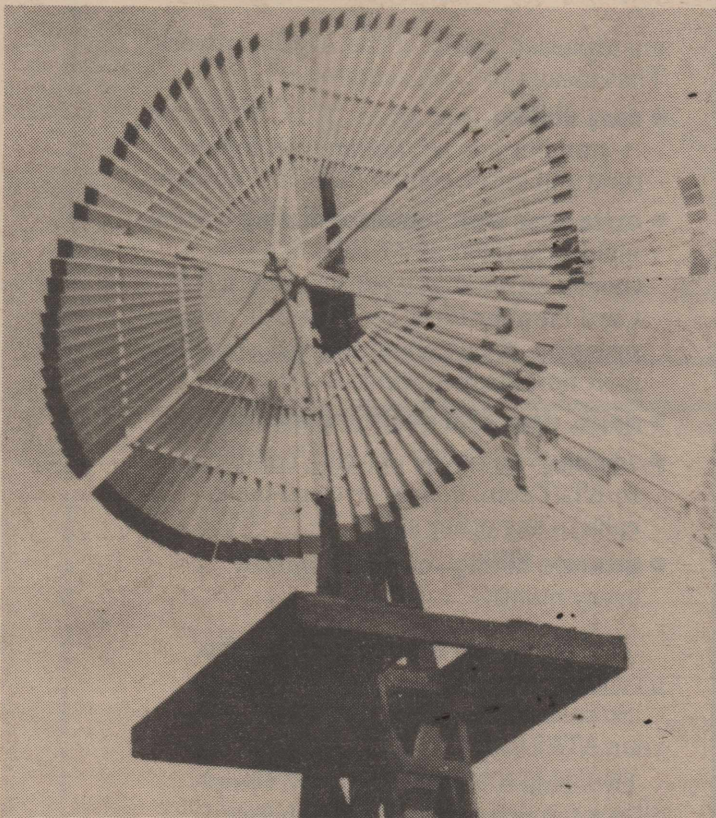

Safety Belts Save

More than 15,000 lives could have been saved in 1987 if everyone had worn safety belts, according to National Highway Traffic Safety Administration estimates.

Revision to change assignment outlook

WASHINGTON (AFNS)—The Air Force expects to complete the revision of Air Force Regulation 36-23, Officer Professional Development, by January.

Air Force Chief of Staff, Gen. Larry Welch, announced the redirection toward a more formalized Officer Professional Development program earlier this year. Revision of AFR 36-23 and the AF Form 90, Officer Assignment Worksheet, are two primary elements of this redirection.

The totally revised regulation will incorporate the basic officer professional development philosophy, formalize commander involvement as part of officer professional development and outline procedures for using the new AF Form 90.

Senior leadership recognizes that commanders and supervisors are in the best position to know an officer's capabilities along with the needs of the Air Force, and for that reason, they will become more directly involved with the assignment process.

Specifically, the regulation will integrate professional development philosophy into each officer's career field and will stress concentration in depth of technical development early in the officer's development stages and breadth of assignments in the later stages of development. The key emphasis is the vital importance of job performance in professional development.

The new AF Form 90 will focus on an officer's next assignment only and will require key inputs from both the officer and commander. The commander or supervisor must provide recommendations pertaining to the level and type of next assignment the officer should be considered for based on personal knowledge of the officer's qualifications and abilities and by the professional development needs at that career point. This will allow a better mesh of Air Force requirements with officer capabilities.

Other elements of officer professional development include the joint-spouse assignment philosophy and the use of lieutenant colonels who are not selected for promotion to colonel.

The policies and procedures affecting joint-spouse assignments have not changed; however, both officers will be advised of the potential professional development limitations, of one or both careers, that may arise when trying to assign both officers to the same location.

The emphasis on better use of lieutenant colonels who are not selected for colonel is intended to dispel the myth that success in the officer corps only comes with being promoted to colonel. In fact, promotion to colonel is extremely competitive and only seven to eight out of every 100 newly commissioned officers make colonel.

Revised officer professional development efforts reinforce placing lieutenant colonels in key, visible jobs at major commands at the Air Staff.

Lubbock Crafts Bazaar set for this weekend

Looking for that perfect place to do Christmas shopping? You'll find those very special gifts for your family and friends at the 1988 Lubbock Crafts Bazaar.

The Bazaar, which is in its fifth year, will again feature crafts and other handmade items at reasonable prices.

Items for sale include sweat-shirts, jewelry, denim bags, hair bows, crochet, ceramics, paintings, Christmas ornaments and wreaths, ducks, rock items, pen sets, bookends, rag rugs, wood carved plaques, thrown pottery, children's furniture, bandanna art, perfume, kitchen items, house shoes, afghans, stuffed toys, dolls cross-stitch, rocking horses, jumpers, clocks, real flower pictures, puppets, aprons, quilts, baby items, needlepoint, embroidery, wicker boxes, belt buckles, auto-graph jackets, and potpourri.

According to Tonya Jennings, Information and Referral Director for the Lubbock Senior Program, the 1988 Lubbock Crafts Bazaar will have 58 tables from which to shop.

"The neat thing is you can walk in and do all you Christmas shopping. Anything you would want from wood crafts to glass—it's here. Also, since everything is handcrafted, you know it will last."

The 1988 Lubbock Crafts Bazaar will be held Friday, Nov. 4, 9:30-6:00; Saturday Nov. 5, 9:30-5:00; Sunday Nov. 6, 12:00-5:00, at the Lubbock Senior Citizen Center, 2001 19th Street. It is free, open to the public, and sponsored by Lubbock Parks and Recreation.

All proceeds from table rentals benefit the Lubbock Senior Santa Program.

For more information, contact Tonya Jennings, 762-6411 ext. 2679.

Disc golfers to tee off at Mahon Park

At 10 a.m., Saturday, Nov. 5, DISC golfers will play 18 holes of their version of this Scottish game at George Mahon Park, located at 34th and Chicago. At 1 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 6, 18 holes of best shot doubles will be played at the same park.

This tournament is co-sponsored by the City of Lubbock Parks and Recreation Department. Entry fee is $6 for Saturday and $5 for Sunday. Money raised will be used for the purchase of a permanent disc pole course to be placed in a city park.

Divisions of competition include: amateur, women's amateur, advanced, juniors (16 years old and younger), and pro. Prizes will be awarded to three places in each division.

Interested individuals may contact the City of Lubbock Parks and Recreation at 762-6411 ext. 2690 or the tournament director at 745-1866.

This event is free to the general public and spectators are welcome.

Bureau warns consumers of paving scam

The BBB has received reports that there is a transient paving crew in the Lubbock area that is using questionable sales tactics. The business, going by the name of W.W. Paving Company, allegedly is contacting consumers about laying black topping on their driveways.

Consumers having dirt driveways are particularly targeted. The salesman states that he has surplus material and needs a place to dump it.

Nothing is mentioned about price. The sales pitch allegedly leaves consumers with the idea that the topping is free.

Once the consumer agrees, the contractor goes to a supply yard to obtain the topping. Once the topping job is completed, the crew chief then presents a bill for $3000 or so and proceeds to badger the consumer into paying at least part of it.

W.W. Paving reportedly has two trucks with Illinois plates and one rented sedan with magnetic signs.

Anyone having any contacts with this company should call the Lubbock Police or Sheriff's Department immediately.

Roosevelt to sponsor Arts & Crafts Fair

The Roosevelt Alumnus & Associates is sponsoring an Arts and Crafts Fair on Saturday, Nov. 12, from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. in the Roosevelt Recreation Center.

Roosevelt is located east of Lubbock.

Booth space will be available for arts, crafts and a variety of merchandise. Booth rental is $25.00. Further information can be obtained from: Janie Westbrook c/o Roosevelt School, Rt. 1 Box 402, Lubbock, 842-3282.

Ralls Fall Fantasy to be held Saturday

Ralls Fall Fantasy 1988 will be held at the Ralls Elementary Cafeteria, 16th Street & Ave. P, in Ralls, approximately 30 miles east of Lubbock, on Saturday, Nov. 5th from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. Admission is $1.00 for persons 12 and older. Over 50 artists and craftsmen will exhibit for sale unique handcrafted and original works of art.

This annual event is sponsored by the Women's Division of the Ralls Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture.

Proceeds from the event will benefit local civic projects.

ATC Cross Country victory

The Reese cross country team returned from San Antonio with second place in the ATC Cross Country Championship. Members of the base cross country team are: Capt. Scott Brickerd, 3500 Mission Support Squadron; 2nd Lts. Kathryn Russel and Jennifer Kowalski, both from Resource Management; 2nd Lt. Reid Neumann and Sgt. Raymond France from the 64 Student Squadron and CMSgt. Larry Byrd, from the 64th Field Maintenance Squadron.

Cross country team members not only competed in this event, but were able to place in other divisions. Captain Brickerd won first place in the 10K seniors division with a winning time of 32:50. Lieutenant Neumann placed third in the men's open division with a 34:43 time. Lieutenants Russel and Kowalski placed third and fourth respectively in the women's 5K open division.

The ATC Championship was hosted by Randolph AFB, Texas, and held at the University of Texas, San Antonio campus.

Table tennis championship

People from thirteen ATC bases will meet here to see who will be crowned as the ATC Table Tennis champion for 1988. The championship is Monday through Wednesday in the Physical Fitness Center.

Games begin at 9 a.m. throughout the three day tournament. The three levels of competition are singles, doubles and teams. Awards will be presented at the Mathis Recreation Center Wednesday following competition.

The basketball court at the Physical Fitness Center will be closed from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Wednesday for the tournament.

Last golf tournament

The last golf tournament of the season is the Turkey Shoot tomorrow. Tee time is 9 a.m., for this four-man scramble. Teams will be selected by a blind draw. Entry fee is $10 per person. To sign up call 3819.

Bodybuilding championship

Reese's first bodybuilding championship is Nov. 12, 7 p.m. at the base theater. Anyone can enter. Bodybuilders from all over Texas are competing. Awards will be given in both men's and women's divisions. Each contestant will pose to music with their own routine. Meet Rick Mitchell, who holds first place in the West Texas Championship, and third place in Mr. Texas. There is a $2 admission fee charged at the door.

Customer appreciation days

The Windmill Bowling Center is honoring customers throughout November with coupons for 75-cent bowling and $1.40 lunch (strike, french fries and medium soft drink). Coupons may be used today, tomorrow, Nov. 11, 12, 18, 19, 25 and 26.

To obtain your coupon, ask someone at the customer service counter for assistance.

Aeromania II

Aeromania II aerobic dance/exercise marathon takes place today in the Mathis Recreation Center, at 4:45 p.m. This "hop till you drop" exercise contest is full of fun and stamina. Contestants compete in separate men's and women's divisions, and age categories within each division to see who can aerobicize the longest.

A $2 entry fee is charged to cover the cost of the trophies which are awarded to the winners. Refreshments are available. A medically-trained professional will supervise this event.

Discount football tickets

Time is running out for purchasing discount football tickets for the Lamar vs. Texas Tech game on Nov. 12. Kickoff time is 2 p.m. Ticket purchase deadline is Tuesday at 3 p.m. at the Information, Ticket and Tour (ITT) Office.

Live bands at recreation center

Enjoy the live top-forty sounds of "The Network" on Nov. 11 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the Mathis Recreation Center. Admission $2.

Coming in December enjoy the lively beat of "Eddie Beethoven and the Suns of Fun" band at the recreation center.

New youth center programs

Some changes have been happening at the youth center. New classes, field trips and Junior, Senior Club nights are just a few of the things happening at the youth center.

The junior and senior clubs meet twice a month. Field trips include skating, bowling, South Plains Mall, Pistol Pete's and Carlsbad Caverns. Booster club supper and membership drive is at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday. Anyone interested in being a booster supporter is invited to attend.

Dance classes are held Mondays beginning at 4 p.m. for children four and up. Cost is $15 per month.

Martial Arts classes are Mondays at 4:30 p.m., and Saturdays at 1:30 p.m. Cost is $15 per month.

On Tuesdays and Thursdays free tutoring begins at 4 p.m. and aerobic exercise classes at 5:30 p.m.

Open house is Nov. 21 from 4 - 6 p.m. Parents are welcome and refreshments will be served. For more information about youth events contact the youth center at 3820 after 3 p.m.

Reserve karnival booths

Is your squadron looking for a money maker or squadron project? Has your squadron considered reserving a table space at this year's Kris Kringle Kraft Karnival? The arts and crafts center is inviting all squadrons to reserve a table for this event for half price during the four day event.

The Kraft Karnival, open to the public, is Dec. 1-4. Sign up deadline is Nov. 19.

Fitness and health

By A1C Todd Hamilton
Physical Fitness Specialist

I have read in materials published by the Nautilus Company that I can develop a world class physique by using Nautilus machines exclusively, and instead of doing numerous sets with free weights, I can do just one set with Nautilus and achieve the same results, if not more. Is this true?

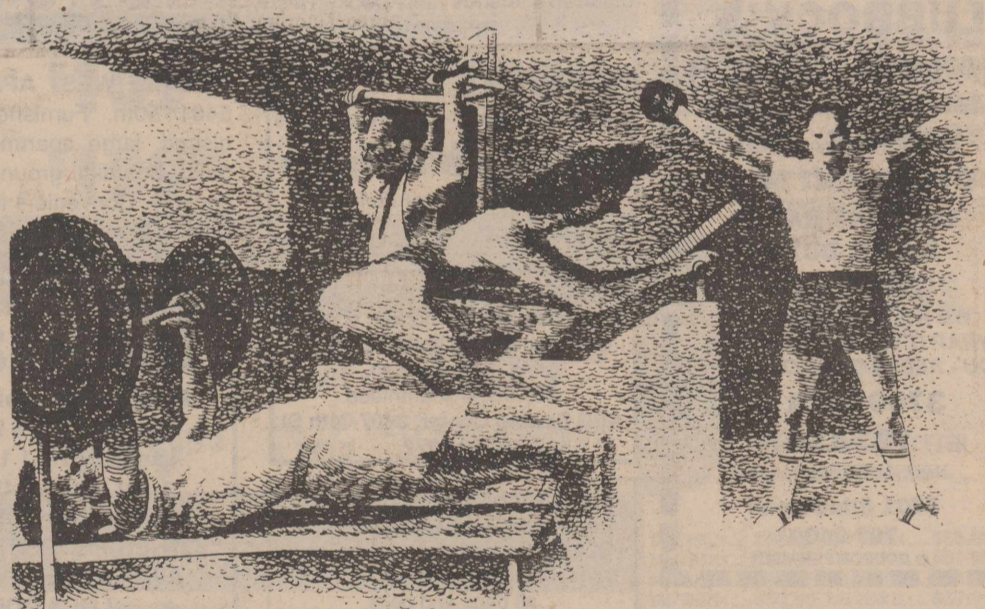

Ever since machines have hit the gym, a considerable amount of debate has arisen regarding the relative benefits of training with free weights vs. machines to develop a world class physique. Some top bodybuilders decry the use of machines, while others claim they train with machines.

Actually, both types of training are right and wrong at the same time. Each type of training builds muscle. However, for a muscle to grow it needs to be attacked through a variety of approaches which will result in maximum development using free weights and machines.

Finally, boredom is the enemy of all bodybuilders. Change your workouts frequently and always try to add a new exercise, delete an exercise, or just change the intensity of your workout. If you stick to the same workout, you will only yield minimum results. For more information on changing your workout routine, or maybe starting your first one, come to the gym and see A1C Hamilton, or call 6021 for an appointment.

If you have questions about exercise, fitness or sports, write them down and send them to the Reese Physical Fitness Center, 64ABG/SSRS, or call 6020 and ask your question. We will provide an answer to your question in writing and publish the best ones in the Roundup.

THE WORST PROPERTY we can own is an ODD CHINA CABINET

Believe me, we have more than our share! The good part is they are all at Make Room Prices!

We are postponing our remodeling until after the first of the year. This is due to several delays in our plans and also we do not want you to have to put up with our construction during the holiday shopping season.

In our continuing effort to serve you, our customer FIRST, we are pleased to be bringing you the only full-line La-Z-Boy® Gallery in the Lubbock area.

Again, postponement is to your advantage! We are extending our
PRE-REMODELING SALE! The fact is,
we still have too
much furniture!

Example:

Chaircraft - washed oak. Beautiful breakfront.
Glass shelves with plate rack. Lighted top.
Credenza with door front, interior with shelf.
Retail, $1339.95.....

$499

This is only one of many china cabinets that must be moved out to Make Room - - and all of them are comparably priced. And there's more...much more than china cabinets...great selections storewide must be sold to Make Room.
