TMA Praises Governor Smith For No New Tax Stand Request

Officials of the Texas Manufacturers Association lauded Gov. Preston Smith's commitment against new taxes this year, but remained firm in their contention that the State of Texas badly needs a new system of budgeting. TMA is presently sponsoring a statewide public information campaign which explains the problems and limitations of Texas' present outdated budgeting system. Dr. Ralph Wilson, chairman of the association of over 6,000 businessmen and professionals, said the governor's stand against a new tax bill this year was certainly a "welcome relief" from the annual increase in taxes. But he went on to say, "The 'no tax' measure itself is only a temporary solution. Our Legislature will be faced with the same budgeting problems when it convenes to draft the budget for 1973-74. The only way to effectively attack our present budgeting problems is to adopt and implement a more modern, more businesslike system of budgeting."

WTC Branch Funds Approved

The Texas Legislature announced July 5th that a $1,221,500 budget item aiding four State College and Junior College campuses has been included in the Fiscal 1973 appropriations bill. A proposal is currently before the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, which would allow Western Texas College in Snyder to locate a branch campus in Haskell. A portion of the budget item would be used to finance this campus. The Coordinating Board has not acted on Haskell's request but is expected to at its next meeting. With this item in the 1973 budget, an okay by the Coordinating board would give Haskell the go-ahead for this campus.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

(Editor's Note: This letter received by Dr. T. W. Williams, Haskell County Health Officer, serves to emphasize the importance of the Miller Creek Lake which will furnish this area with a safe water supply.)

Dear Doctor:
It has come to the attention of this Department that the ground water supply in your area has a nitrate content in excess of the recommended limit of 45 mg/l established by U. S. Public Health Service "Drinking Water Standards—1962". This is known to be true of the following public drinking water supplies in Haskell, Knox and Stonewall Counties which are supplied from ground water and is presumed true also of private wells in the area:

Pub. Water Supply	Nitrate Content mg/l
City of Haskell	105
City of O'Brien	141
City of Rochester	50
City of Rule	61
City of Weinert	51
City of Goree	45
City of Knox City	70
City of Munday	45
City of Aspermont	56
Swenson Water Supply Corp.	63

Although this increased nitrate content does not prohibit the usage of these water supplies for most purposes, they should not be used for drinking or feeding very young children, due to the possibility of the development of methemoglobinemia. Care should also be used in drinking such water by mothers nursing infants.

This information is being supplied as a health protection measure for the people of your area. Information regarding a particular public water supply may be secured by contacting the Water Supply Program, Sanitary Engineering Division, Texas State Department of Health, 1100 West 49th St., Austin, Texas 78756.

Yours very truly,
C. F. Moore Jr., M. D.
Director, Maternal & Child Welfare Health Div., and Migrant Health, Texas Department of Health

Q) Are contributions for the purchase of tickets to a political dinner or function eligible for a Federal income tax deduction or credit?

A) Yes. The cost of the ticket will be eligible for deduction or credit so long as the dinner or function is clearly in the context of a campaign of an announced candidate and is not primarily a device to confer private benefits in the form of meals or entertainment to the contributor. Of course, you may not deduct more than $50 ($100 for married taxpayers filing jointly) or claim a credit of more than $12.50 ($25.00 for married persons filing jointly).

Tax Questions... And Answers

(This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.)

Q) Someone broke into my home and stole $200. Can I deduct this amount as a theft loss?

A) A personal theft or casualty loss is deductible only to the extent that it exceeds $100 for each loss. Therefore, your deduction would be $100, your actual loss of $200 less the $100 limitation. The loss would also be reduced by any insurance proceeds.

For more information on deducting casualty and theft losses, see IRS Publication 547, Tax Information on Disasters, Casualty Losses and Thefts. It's available by dropping a postcard to your IRS district office.

Q) I waited until April 17 to file my return. How long will it take me to get my refund?

A) If there are no mistakes on your return that might delay processing, it normally takes about six weeks after a return is filed. It might take a little longer to get your refund, however, due to the large volume of returns filed in April.

Q) I am an alien working in the United States. I plan to return to my home soon. I am told I must get a "sailing permit". What is that?

A) A Certificate of Compliance, popularly known as a "sailing permit", must be obtained by most aliens before their departure from the United States. Generally, you must file a Form 1040C or 2063 to get a "sailing permit."

The permit should be obtained from the District Director of Internal Revenue for the district in which you are located at least two weeks but not earlier than 30 days before your departure.

Q) I employ an investment counselor to advise me on what stocks to buy. Are the fees I pay him deductible?

A) Yes. Investment counseling fees are deductible as income-producing expenses provided you itemize deductions.

Economic Injury Disaster Loans

The Small Business Administration is prepared to make Economic Injury Disaster Loans to aid small business firms suffering substantial economic injury due to the effect of the prolonged drought and other natural disasters on farmers in most counties of Texas.
 Fred S. Neumann, SBA Regional Director in Dallas, said that the drought and other natural disaster areas as officially designated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture include 243 counties in Texas. All counties in Texas have been designated with the following exceptions: Camp, Cass, Franklin, Harrison, Marion, Morris, Panola, Rusk, Tildus, Upshaw and Wood.
 Neumann said that SBA can provide Economic Injury Disaster Assistance (EIDL) up to a maximum of $500,000.00 to affected small firms. The loan proceeds can be used for working capital or to pay certain debts which the business would have been able to meet had it not lost income due to the drought and other natural disasters.
 Interest on SBA Disaster Loans is set monthly by the Treasury Department, and for June is 5-1/8%. Loan applications may be filed at SBA offices in Texas located at Dallas, Lubbock, El Paso, San Antonio, Houston, Harlingen, Corpus Christi and Marshall.

Elberta Peach Inferior Variety

MUNDAY (Special)—Remember those days? When a peach was just not the best if it was not an "Elberta?"

And the Elberta was rightfully famous because in its day (particularly in homemade ice cream) many thought it to be the finest peach in American agriculture.

But the Elberta's best days are past because, as Dr. J. W. Worthington said here last week, "When you get down to it, it is a variety inferior to those we have now."

He is horticulturist for the Texas A&M University-Tarleton Experiment Station at Stephenville, and was speaker here for the Rolling Plains "Money in Vegetables" Conference.

The conference was designed to show that what with its good soil, good water and good climate, much of the Rolling Plains stands ready to be developed into a profitable vegetable and fruit area.

Worthington has recommended these varieties for both homegrown and commercial production—varieties that have enabled the Experiment Station not to have missed a crop since 1957: Springgold, Early Red, Cardinal, Dixie Red, Sentinel, Ranger, Red Globe, Loring, Jefferson and Red Skin.

The conference was sponsored by the Rolling Plains Economic Program (R-PEP), the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University, the First National Bank of Munday, and the Munday Chamber of Commerce.

Weed Control Is Important In Cotton Farming

College Station—With recent moisture in many sections of the state, this year's cotton crop should get off to a good start. But weeds and grasses will also come on strong unless control measures are taken.

"Use of post-emergence herbicides to control weeds and grasses in cotton is highly effective," notes Fred Elliott, cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

For three-inch tall cotton, the Texas A&M University specialist recommends these combinations of materials—MSMA plus surfactant, DSMA plus surfactant and flumeturon (Cotoran plus), and MSMA plus surfactant and norea (Herban 62).

Once cotton reaches the six-inch stage, these same materials plus several others are effective in controlling weeds and grasses. The additional herbicides are diuron (Karmex) plus surfactant, MSMA plus surfactant and diuron, and MSMA plus surfactant and prometryne (Caparol).

"All these materials are approved for use on cotton and should be applied as a directed spray," points out Elliott. "For best results, apply herbicides when weeds are small. Sometimes two applications may be needed, a week to 10 days apart."

MSMA and DSMA plus any mixtures containing these chemicals should not be used after cotton begins to bloom, cautions the specialist.

Where Johnsongrass is a problem, either MSMA or DSMA used alone is effective. However, to control broadleaf weeds and grasses, the mixtures listed above should be used, points out Elliott.

The specialist reminds cotton producers to consider cultivation in their weed control program. "Shallow sweep cultivation and the use of a rotary hoe are still our most effective weed control methods. And, there is no chemical residue.

FACTS ABOUT THE HIGH COST OF FOOD

(This is the first of a series of articles presented by Banking, Journal of the American Bankers Association, reprinted by the Haskell National Bank.)

In recent weeks there has been a new attack on the homemaker's pocketbook. Food prices have risen, partly in response to higher prices at the farm, partly due to increased marketing costs. But food is one of the nation's best bargains. In relation to other costs, food prices have gone up less. In relation to the American's income, food prices have gone down. And in relation to other nations, the American homemaker enjoys the best food bargains anywhere in the world. Here are a few facts to help put the high cost of food into perspective:

A SMALLER PERCENTAGE OF YOUR PAY CHECK GOES FOR FOOD EACH YEAR.

Yes, food prices have gone up. But the average American's pay check has gone up faster. Result: you spend a smaller percentage of your pay check for food than ever in history. In 1947 Americans spent 25% of their pay check for food. By 1950 this had dropped to 22.2%, by 1959 to 20%, and in 1971 food expenses took just over 16% of the average American's pay check. That's amazing progress when you consider that many people of the world spend over half of their income for food. And, it's the best quality food in history.

C. YEARY, JR.
District Conservationist
(Vol. 2, No. 1)

Another year— and retired after a long and colorful career with the Service. Harry Koehler finished twelve years and Jimmy Boykin rounded out four years. Milton Christian has served the Work Unit in a part-time capacity for twelve years, and Bob Earles started work on a part-time basis during the year.

Since last July 1, the staff of the Haskell Work Unit served 745 individual landowners, operators, and land users, and sixteen units of government operating within Haskell County. 350 separate landowners, operators, and other land users applied one or more conservation practices. Tiffen Mayfield of Weinert, Director for the Wichita-Brazos Soil and Water Conservation District, resigned, and Lloyd Patterson of Weinert was appointed by the Board of Directors to fill his post. John R. Brown Jr. of Neinda (Jones County) did not run for reelection to his post as Director for the California Creek SWCD, and Jimlee Baucum of Anson was elected to fill that position. Olin Amerson of Hamlin (Jones County) resigned his place on the California Creek SWCD Board of Directors, and Bill Pritchard of Stamford was appointed to fill his unexpired term.

Soil and Water Conservation Districts are local subdivisions of the State Government of Texas, created by House Bill No. 444 of the 47th Legislature in Regular Session in 1941. The California Creek and Wichita-Brazos SWCDs were organized late in 1941 based on watersheds by the citizens within the boundaries drawn up for the Districts. All Districts, as are the two Districts operating in Haskell County, are governed by the citizens themselves through their elected Board of Directors. These five men from each District direct and manage their own programs and affairs. The Soil Conservation Service, through a memorandum of understanding with the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, furnishes the technical assistance needed by the District Boards of Directors in carrying out their programs and plans of work.

The California Creek SWCD Board of Directors is composed of Birger Haterius of Avoca, Chairman; Jimlee Baucum, Vice-Chairman; Elmer Boedeker of Sagerton, Secy.-Treas.; R. V. Earles of Paint Creek and Bill Pritchard as members. Earles also serves as Chairman of the Executive Committee of the BIG COUNTRY Conservation and Development project. Mrs. Jimmie Walker of Stamford is the bookkeeper for the District Board.

The Wichita-Brazos SWCD Board of Directors is made up of L. D. Offutt of Munday, Chairman; W. L. "Knott" Ballard of Rochester, Vice-Chairman; Emil Navratil of Truscott, Secretary-Treasurer; Jack Idol of Benjamin and Lloyd Patterson, members. Mrs. Hen-reached between President Nixon and the Soviet Union would seem to be in order.

First, basic decisions limiting the present number of U.S. strategic missiles were made back in the mid 60's. Former Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara thought that if the Russians were allowed to achieve missile parity with the U.S. they would stop construction of intercontinental ballistic missiles. The magic number was set at 1,000. The United States has remained at this approximate number plus 54 older type Titan missiles.

It was obvious within four to five years that the Soviets did not stop at 1,000 and added at the rate of 250 per year to the 850 they had in the middle 60's.

In the last three years we have attempted to upgrade the nuclear weapons which we have, including the development of the multiple warhead. The planning and development of a new bomber, the B-1, has been stepped up and the newer type of submarine missile system called the Trident is under development. At the same time, the anti-ballistic missile system was designed to protect our retaliatory capability.

Although cold numbers do not tell the full story, in discussing nuclear weapons capability numbers do have a significance. At the present time, we have good information that the Soviets have 1,618 ICBM's deployed or under construction. The agreements are supposed to put a halt to any increases. This leaves a basic 3-to-2 numerical superiority over us but our advising experts think that quality over quantity leaves us with the edge.

Under the agreements the U.S. is allowed 44 missile launching submarines with 710 missiles. The Soviet Union is permitted 62 submarines with 952 missiles. Here again our bets are on superior performance rather than comparative numbers.

Soon to come is a test for the Congress to provide defense systems not covered by the agreements. A highly dangerous situation could exist if slashes are made in certain areas of our defenses. This includes the development and production of the B-1 bomber, the Trident long-range submarine missile system and the upgrading of nuclear weapons capabilities. Unless these steps are taken with determination, approval of the agreements consummated with the Russians could be a serious gamble with the future of our Country. Before we become overjoyed with the agreements recently reached, our Nation must keep foremost in mind that anything less than a retaliatory capability against Russia could mean our destruction. First, we've got to keep in mind that in the past Russia, to some degree or other, has violated over 50 treaties since the end of World War II. Second, we've got to keep in mind that we have been told by previous Soviet leaders that "the end justifies the means" for communism to destroy the capitalistic system.

Third, there is no reason to let our trust run away with us. We are supposed to have scientific instruments to tell us what the Russians are doing but we do not have spies on the ground to see what is taking place as the Soviets do in the United States. By our very nature, we will conform to our agreements while it has been proved the Russians do not. We should not ratify a treaty unless we make absolutely sure that we have adequate and unequivocal safeguards from treachery from the other side. There is no greater responsibility of the Government than to guarantee its citizens safety from attack from within as well as outside. Without this guarantee of security, our Nation becomes prey to any other stronger nation. As hearings begin in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee on ratification of the SALT agreements, critics are heard on these efforts to maintain and strengthen our military capability in the areas not covered by the agreements. They should not and must not be allowed to prevail and the real test will be shaping up in the weeks ahead. With the clamor for more of this and that from the Federal Government, we better make sure that we remain strong or the "this and that" may mean nothing.
