Walmart Express is coming to Winters

RUBEN CANTU-RODRIGUEZ WINTERS ENTERPRIS

WINTERS- Walmart, the world's biggest retailer will be soon opening a store in Winters. Monday night, the retailer took the first public step toward the opening of its local store by having a resolution passed at the Winters City Council, approving a variance for Walmart to sell alcohol.

The next step will be taken at the Planning and Zoning Board Meeting, scheduled for Friday, May 2, 2014, at 12:00 p.m. at the City Council Chambers. The board will discuss and possibly take action on rezoning the property located at NEC N. Main Street and Novice Road, north of existing developments, to C-1. This zone change will allow for development of Walmart Express Store.

Since 2011, Walmart started developing a new concept in retail stores, created to offer low prices in a smaller format that provides convenient access shopping trips. The stores give Walmart flexibility, especially in rural and urban areas where shoppers may not have access to larger stores.

A source said that the new store is one of five that will be opening in the West Texas area before yearend, and will be having a pharmacy among other amenities.

For the Winters Area Chamber of Commerce the store opening is good news, because it would help to boost the economy in a town where several employers have shut their doors during the last few

"It's good for the city, we know it wouldn't create too many jobs to start with, but any new business it's going to be helpful for city," said WACC President Pam Barnes.

"We know there are many things people can't get in town and they have to go to Abilene, Ballinger or somewhere else to get," she added.

The opening of a new retail store could represent a turning point for the local economy, where during the last few months two banks — Compass and Citbank — have closed their Winters branches, while Dairy Queen's last day in town was Sunday, March 23, 2014.

Next generation agricultural conference to be held on May 22 in Waco

BLAIR FANNIN

SPECIAL TO THE WINTERS ENTERPRISE

WACO - Transitioning to the next generation of farmers and ranchers will be the focus of a May 22 conference at the Extraco Events Center, 4601 Bosque Blvd. in

As the current generation of farmers and ranchers ages, the next generation must take over, according to Capital Farm Credit and the Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service will be hosting three conferences designed to help the next generation of producers transition into the business or to help current farmers and ranchers expand their operations.

The 2014 Next Generation Agricultural Conferences, also scheduled for Lubbock July 15 and Wichita Falls Nov. 13, are designed to provide production and financial management tools to farmers and ranchers, according to organizers.

The main topics that will be covered include farm financial management, agricultural economic forecasts, general agriculture, and farm planning and budgeting, said Dr. Jason Cleere, AgriLife Extension beef cattle specialist in College Station and one of the presenters. "Keeping up with the latest operational strategies and available credit and risk management practices is the key to the most successful large and small operations. These conferences will assist with providing information that can be incorporated into those operations, making them more profitable."

Cleere said the workshops will feature presentations on agricultural financing, analyzing the performance of an operation, managing risk, potential to expand an operation, purchasing or leasing equipment, operation diversity, and farm and ranch success stories. There will also be a U.S. agriculture policy update presented at the end of the Waco workshop.

The May 22 featured speakers from AgriLife Extension include Dr. Mark Welch, grains economist; Dr. Joe Outlaw, economist; Dr. Jim Mazurkiewicz, AgriLife Leadership program director; and Wayne Hayenga, economist - all from College Station. Other AgriLife Extension speakers will be Dr. Jason Banta, beef cattle specialist, Overton; and Dr. Stan Bevers, economist, Vernon.

Capital Farm Credit Vice President, Jason Fuchs from Temple will discuss ag financing from a lender's perspective while GrainBridge co-founder Pat Kroese of Omaha, Nebraska will discuss web-based solutions for ag producers. Brian Bledsoe, Southern Livestock Standard meteorologist based in Colorado, will give a weather outlook.

Library board meets

WINTERS ENTERPRISE STAFF REPORT

WINTERS- The Board of the Winters Public Library met on April 21, 2014. A $400 gift from the Winters Community Foundation at the Community Foundation of Abilene was noted and greatly appreciated. A grant of $2,500 had been received from the Texas Book Festival and will be used to enhance the children and young adult collections. The library board will again be conducting a silent auction at May Fest on May 10, 2014. Items for the auction are being solicited by board members. The board's Technology Committee will be collecting information from the community through a satisfaction survey. These surveys will be available at the library after May 15, 2014. Plans are underway for an interesting summer reading program. New to this program this year will be the addition of a preschool story time and events in July and August. The next meeting of the board is scheduled for May 19, 2014 at 5 p.m. at the library. The public is invited to attend.

Range and wildlife management field day in Coryell County

WINTERS ENTERPRISE

GATESVILLE- The Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service will conduct a multi-county Range and Wildlife Management Field Day May 6 in Coryell County for landowners interested in managing both wildlife and livestock.

The field day is from 8 a.m.-1 p.m. at the Harman School Community Center, located about 4 miles off of Farm-to-Market Road 580 on Harman Road. After lunch, attendees will travel to the Hannah Ranch for rangeland demonstrations.

The cost of the program is $10 and includes three Texas Department of Agriculture continuing education units, one integrated pest management, one laws and regulations, and one general. A $25 fee will be charged for tax appraisers interested in obtaining 5.5 property tax professional continuing education units.

A complimentary lunch will be provided by Coryell County from a Texas Department of Agriculture County Hog Abatement Matching Program, or CHAMP, grant. Those planning to attend should register by May 2 by calling the AgriLife Extension offices in Coryell County at 254-865-2414, Hamilton County at 254-386-3514 or Lampasas County at 512-556-8271

"Many landowners in Texas are beginning to see the value in managing for wildlife on their ranch," said Brian Hays, associate director of the Texas A&M Institute of Renewable Natural Resources, Gatesville and a speaker at the program. "Landowners interested in managing for wildlife can take advantage of various incentive programs to diversify their income through good land stewardship for livestock and wildlife.

DPS arrests 1,300 drunk drivers during spring break

WINTERS ENTERPRISE

AUSTIN- Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) troopers made more than 1,300 DWI arrests during a Spring Break special enforcement period this year. The targeted DWI enforcement from March 7 - March 23 included additional patrol hours funded by a Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) grant.

"Every year Texas is a top destination for students and families during Spring Break, and the potential for increased incidents of drinking and driving during that time is a primary concern for DPS," said DPS Director Steven McCraw. "Our troopers work every day to keep Texas roadways safe for all travelers, and these DWI patrols are aimed at saving lives by taking dangerous drivers off the road.'

DPS Highway Patrol troopers made 1,374 DWI arrests during the Spring Break enforcement effort. The TxDOT grant allowed increased patrols in high-risk locations during the times when alcohol-related crashes are most frequent, which directly resulted in 170 of the arrests.

These DPS enforcement efforts also resulted in 18,826 speeding citations, 3,266 seat belt/child safety seat tickets and more than 23,400 other citations. In addition, troopers made 848 fugitive arrests and 713 felony arrests during this time period.

DPS reminds Texans to use online driver license services

WINTERS ENTERPRISE

AUSTIN - The Texas Department of Public Safety (DPS) is encouraging residents to beat the summer rush at driver license offices across the state by renewing their license or identification card early or online. The summer months are typically one of the busiest times of year at driver license offices, and many eligible Texans can skip the trip to the office completely via online renewal of their license, identification card or change of address at Texas.gov. Visit the website to make sure you have the paperwork (including documents needed for residency) before making the trip to the office: http://www.dps. texas.gov/DriverLicense/ ApplyforLicense.htm.

Weather Whys

Q: What's the difference between a forecast that says cloudy and one that says overcast?

A: There is a difference, says Brent McRoberts of Texas A&M University. The terms are based on weather definitions used by various agencies and organizations around the world. "There are different degrees of cloud cover - that's the basic premise. General use the word 'cloudy' implies there will be more clouds than sunshine," McRoberts states. "More specifically, a forecast of partly cloudy expects a sky to be about 40 to 70 percent full of clouds, whereas a forecast of mostly cloudy anticipates about 70 to 90 percent of the sky to be cloud covered."

The second courthouse in the county

CONTRIBUTED BY RUTH COOPER

WINTERS- The erection of Runnels County's second courthouse was underway in Ballinger, Texas. At this same time, the Commissioner's Court employed J.T. Douglas to supervise the building of the Runnels County Jail. It would be erected in Ballinger, Texas. He would receive for his services, for labor, the sum of $3.50 per day.

Mr. A.W. Green, the contractor for the removal and erection of the jail was required to complete and turn over to the county, the jail, ready for use on or before the 18th day of November 1888. For every day's delay after the 18th day of November a charge of $10 for each day. That would be deducted out of his contract price for the erecting of the jail.

Mr. Green was to be paid in installments and not to exceed 85 percent of the estimation of work completed and passed by the supervisor at the end of the month. His bond was also approved.

The decision to pay Mr. D.C. Underwood, Tax Assessor the sum of $250 for compiling Farm and Agricultural Statistics for Runnels County for the year 1887. Mr. Underwood would receive $125 from Runnels County and the same amount from the State of Texas. He would also receive $343.45 as commission on the assessment of $10,121,742 (ten million, one hundred twenty one thousand, seven hundred forty-two) dollars' worth of property and the same amount on

The County Commissioner's Court voted to send a representative, W.S. Davis to the Deep Water Convention in Denver, Colorado. He was to be empowered to act fully for the County in decisions necessary at the meeting.

assessing the amount for the year of 1888.

The order was given to protest against the manner in which the county bridge was being built across the Colorado River. The contractor would be required to build the bridge according to the letter with the intent of the contract and Mr. L.S. Leveredge, the agent for the company building the bridge, to get a certified copy of this order at once.

The decision was made to erect the jail in the South East corner of the Public Square, 25 feet east away from the corner. October 1, 1888, the Runnels County Commissioners Court met in a special term with all of the following officers of the court present: Sylvester Adams, County Judge; Commissioners: C.H. Willingham, Precinct 1, M.C. Bright, Precinct 2, E.M. Teel, Precinct 3, George D. Cole, Precinct 4; J.M. Formwalt, Sheriff; W.L. Towner, County Clerk.

The court examined the bridge being built across the Colorado River at Ballinger. Texas and found it in all respects to conform with the plans and specifications. The court paid the supervisor $100 as agreed. The court ordered the payment of $14,880 to A.J. Tullock and Company for the Colorado River Bridge. It would be paid as follows: eight payments of $1,000; 12 payments of $500; one payment of $380. The payments would be dated October 1, and November 10, 1888 and be payable by 20 years after the date.

After canvasing the votes of the local election of November 6, 1888, it appeared C.H. Willingham received 154 votes and C.R. Crews received 154 for Commissioner of Precinct No. 1 of Runnels County, being an equal number for the persons for the same office. The election was declared void and it was noted another election be held on the fifth day of December

The Commissioner's Court paid the rent for the I.O.O.F. Lodge for $10 for use by the grand jury for District Court. Other bills paid included payment for grave digging for paupers. board of prisoners and some labor for help in moving the calaboose.

The commissioner's ordered the "jail contractors be ordered to sheet the jail roof with first class flooring lumber free of knots so as to make a smooth surface for the tin roof." The contractor would receive no extra pay for this order.

The court looked at "whether nor not the Commissioner's Court of a County has the power to re-district a district once established without submitting the question to the vote of the legal voters in all districts affected by such change. You are advised that the language of the law does not make an election necessary; the consent of the majority of the legal voters may be ascertained by petition. Without such consent definitely ascertained, an act of the Commissioners' Court changing the boundaries of the district is null and void.

The next business at this term of the court was devoted to paying all outstanding bills and looking at the balance in all funds. The court was still reviewing roads that were being re-districted from Runnels City to Ballinger. The court adjourned until the next term of the court.

State District II to elect TSSWCB board member

TEMPLE- Soil and water conservation districts in State District II will elect a member to the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board (TSSWCB) on Tuesday, May 6. The election will be held at 6 p.m. in Wall, Texas in the Saint Ambrose Catholic Church Parish Hall Conference Room.

State District Two consists of 51 counties within which there are 45 soil and water conservation districts in the Hill Country and Big Bend-Trans Pecos region of Texas.

The current TSSWCB member for State District Two is Marty H. Graham of Rocksprings, Texas. Graham, who has been a member of the TSSWCB since May, 2008, is a rancher in Edwards County.

'Since its beginning, the TSSWCB has been governed by five board members. Each respective board member is elected in a convention type election by delegates from soil and water conservation district directors within the state district that the member resides. However, with the enactment of S.B. 1828 by the 78th Legislature, two Governor appointees also serve on the TSSWCB to create a seven-member board," said Rex Isom, TSS-WCB Executive Director.

"Elections occur annually to comply with the soil conservation laws of Texas. The elections are held in state district conventions and TSSWCB members serve two-year staggered terms. Since this is an even numbered year, TSSWCB member elections are being held in State Districts Two and Four," added Isom.

Elected State Board members must be 18 years of age or older, hold title to farmland or ranch land, and be actively engaged in farming or ranching. The Governor appointees must be actively engaged in the business of farming, animal husbandry, or other business related to agriculture and wholly or partly owns or leases land used in connection with that business. They; however, may not be a member of the board of directors of a conservation district. Among other duties, the TSSWCB administers soil and water conservation law REGERELEVELEVELEVELEVELEVELEVELEVEL

THE IDLE AMERICAN It's about time...

Commetary by Dr. Don Newbury

Some aspect of time steals quietly into our psyche in all conscious moments, and our use or abuse of it is central to much poetry, lyrics, scripts, conversations you name it.

Time, we've long claimed, is - or is not on our side. It marches on, but sometimes seems to stand still. Though it deserves unending respect, its import is easily kicked to the side, like a soft drink can on life's highway. Timing, some claim, is everything....

A poet — and much more — challenged us to make best use of time. (It was but a smattering of wisdom embodied in Dr. Benjamin Elijah Mays, mentor to Dr. Martin Luther King. He was president of Morehouse College for 27 years and recipient of some five dozen doctoral degrees.)

It is a short poem of just 54 words.

But, they say much: "I have only just a minute, only 60 seconds in it. Forced upon me, can't refuse it. Didn't seek it, didn't choose it. But it's up to me to use it. I must suffer if I lose it. Give account if I abuse it. Just a tiny little minute, but eternity is in

When one's hourglass of sand becomes bottom heavy, it is human nature to squeeze time.

David Letterman's surprise bombshell on April 3 that he would leave his late-night show sometime in 2015 was a shocker.

There's little middle ground for Letterman - viewers either love him or change channels at the mention of his name. Not to be argued, though, are the facts. He will have appeared nightly for 35 years — about 6,000 > shows. That he's vague about the date of his final show shouldn't surprise. He'll "milk it" for weeks on end, just as he did with his quintuple bypass heart surgery 15 years ago....

COLUMNIST Don Newbury

TEXAS

Athletes sometimes announce retirements before their final seasons, thus making farewell appearances at dozens of venues. Yankee relief pitcher Mariano Rivera did so last year, requesting the chance to address stadium employees — at all levels at each stop. To learn of this great humanitarian — and how he spends his time and resources — is to be inspired.

I do not criticize other choices for closure — even if they span months or years — or if participants "milk it" to the hilt. (CBS Sports' Jim Nantz, 54, has circled April 8, 2035, as his retirement date, perhaps on the occasion of his 50th Masters cover-

Let's try to remember a long-ago definition of a soap opera: A production where it takes a woman three years to deliver a baby prematurely....

Some people I've known think tardiness should be fairly high up on the "sin list." Others joke about it, saying they're committed to being punctual, no matter how long it takes.

It would be interesting to research timepieces, and how ongoing technology makes possible rather unimaginable accuracy.

We've known for decades to point our clocks toward Boulder, CO, where the National Institute of Standards and Technology has announced a spanking new atomic clock that won't gain or lose a second in roughly 300 million years. Called the NIST F-2, it is said to be three times more accurate than the old NIST F-1

Wonder who came up with the need to fiddle with the original version, whose accuracy would have remained unchallenged for at least 100 million years? And, how do they know they won't miss a tick every century or so?....

No matter how time is analyzed — or "milking' refined, or time pieces improved — we should make the best use of it, no matter which end of the hourglass fits us.

It is ours always to strive to do better, with one notable exception. We should forgive the cows at Carnation, the brand that introduced evaporated milk in 1899. For decades, the company's advertising always included reference to their "contented cows."

Pet Milk proponents, on the other hand, claimed their cows were NOT contented, "but always striving to do better."..

It's probably best that none of us knows the distance to the finish line.

When we are at our foggiest, maybe a camel, stumbling along, will ask if we know what day it is.

If we guess wrong, maybe the dromedary will give us another chance....

Agricultural Honor Registry inducts six new members

BLAIR FANNIN

SPECIAL TO THE WINTERS ENTERPRISE

SAN ANTONIO- Six new members were inducted into the Tyrus R. Timm Honor Registry in the Department of Agricultural Economics at Texas A&M University recently at a dinner and reception in San Antonio.

The inductees are Virgil Keith Barlow (1976), Justin P. Bierschwale (2002), Paul E. Bierschwale (1975), Charles E. Gilliland (1979), Tom Goen (1970) and Clay Pollard (1981). The registry recognizes outstanding former students for meritorious accomplishments in their fields. It is the highest departmental honor and is named after Tyrus R. Timm, who led the university's agricultural economics department from 1953 until 1973, a time when it rose to national prominence in teaching, research and Extension. Timm was known for his knowledge of finance and agricultural banking.

The induction ceremony was held at Ernesto's restaurant in San Antonio and featured Texas Agriculture Commissioner Todd Staples (1984) as the keynote

Staples was joined by Dr. Larry Boleman (1968), associate vice chancellor for Texas A&M AgriLife and special assistant to the president at Texas A&M. Brian Weiner (1965) and Dr. Ivan Schmedemann (1966), professor emeritus in the department of agricultural economics at Texas A&M provided remarks prior to the inductions. Dr. Ed Rister, associate department head for agricultural economics and Texas A&M AgriLife Research professor, served as master of

"We are extremely pleased to recognize this distinguished group of former students in the Tyrus R. Timm Honor Registry," said Dr. Parr Rosson, head of the department of agricultural economics at Texas A&M, who presented plaques to each recipient. "These individuals have not only excelled professionally, but have exhibited leadership in both business and local communities. They exemplify what this registry is all about and reflect the core values of Texas A&M: excellence, integrity, leadership, loyalty, respect and

Most peaches, pecans undamaged by the freeze; jury still out on wheat

SPECIAL TO THE WINTERS ENTERPRISE

COLLEGE STATION -There were varied reports of damage to wheat, forages and fruit and nut crops from the hard freeze on April 15 from Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service personnel throughout the Central, Rolling Plains, South Plains and Panhandle regions.

A statewide summary of damage to wheat in those areas is pending. However, Dr. Larry Stein, AgriLife Extension horticulturist for fruits, nuts and vegetable crops at Uvalde, was certain pecan and peach orchards were left mostly unscathed.

A large part of the reason for the lack of damage was due to preventive measures taken by orchard owners and managers, Stein said.

"After the late freezes last year, a lot of people were on guard this year and ready to do whatever they could," he said. "The big thing was watering before the freeze."

In 2013, the Texas peach crop was hammered by two exceptionally late freezes, one in late April, and another in May. This year, an early March freeze caused some alarm, but most peach varieties had not yet bloomed, Stein said. In 2013, the extreme drought meant many orchards were stressed before the freeze.

Preventive measures can also include applying irrigation water to trees during a freeze, he said.

"When water goes from a liquid to a solid, it's going to give off heat. And as long as that's happening, it's not going to get below 32 degrees (at the tree
