Say, what a week, things have been quite hectic with all the furor of trying to get our AFS student, Lieu Hoang, all ready to return to his country after nearly a year with us.

Lieu has been here since last July and will leave Amarillo for Dallas and then on a bus tour with other AFS students before flying out of Los Angeles for Danang on July 19.

We have enjoyed having Lieu, one doesn't have a youngster in the home for nearly a year without some fusses and near fights, especially with four other youngsters already there, but all in all this will be a year the McReynolds clan will long remember and cherish.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank all those in the local AFS Chapter who have made this year possible, and we hope that we shall have another AFS student here again in the near future.

Next week our fair city will be going all out for the July Fourth Celebration. We would urge everyone to plan on taking part in this citywide effort.

This will be quite an event if everyone will take the time to get their family up to the park.

There will be plenty of chow for everyone, an opportunity to visit and then the fireworks will be under direction of the Fire Department to climax the evening.

Plan now on attending this event, nothing formal, just an oldtime country family get-together where everyone can visit and enjoy their neighbors.

We are happy that the women of the Chamber have taken this on as a project this year...we like the idea of having something here for our residents, for July Fourth is certainly not a good day to get on the highways.

Mark this date on your calendar and get up to the City Park on the Fourth!

We got a news release sometime ago stating that WTSU has received a Federal grant to study the potential for wind-generated power.

We have long wondered why our Panhandle wind wasn't used for some good other than windmills. We recall the old wind-powered generators that used to be on every farmstead when we were kids. The old "Delco-system" was quite an item and was only pushed aside when cheaper REA electricity came into wide-spread use.

Wes Izzard is always making a statement about if you recall this or that you don't have to worry about the draft. How about trimming one of those Aladdin lamps in the farmhouse at dusk, or getting up in the morning to help harness the mules for the day's work ahead.

One of our uncles used to have 30 mules which they plowed every day. We were pretty young, but we recall vividly the morning that Uncle Les went out to get the mules all squared away and one of them put him plumb through the side of the barn.

Luckily Uncle Les wasn't injured badly, but he jumped up, grabbed a board and knocked that mule plumb down. We say he wasn't injured, but we bet he still has the mark of the hoofprint on his thigh, it was a wonder it didn't break his in two!

We also remember when Les swapped in all his mules for a brand-new Farmall tractor, complete with lugs and "power" steering. We used to have to almost stand up in the seat to get those steel wheels to turn in that blackland soil around Waco.

At any rate, we are glad to see someone make an effort to utilize our wind for power again. Wonder if someone couldn't harness the hot air in the local coffee shops for some energy usage? Maybe some Federal grant will look into this possibility.

AFTER DALHART ROBBERY Two Kentucky Men Apprehended Here

Quick action by Sheriff Clois Vaughn and Police Chief Ed Sanders resulted in the apprehension of two fugitives from Dalhart shortly after noon last Saturday.

The Sherman County Sheriff's Department was notified by radio at 12:40 p.m. that an armed robbery was in progress in Dalhart at the Bowers Prescription Pharmacy. Moments later, Dalhart notified area lawman that two men in a 1963 Mercury Comet had fled the scene and to set up road blocks.

After receiving the radio message Sheriff Vaughn and Chief Sanders left Stratford headed west on Highway 54 to set up a road block at the Country Club road.

While on the way west of town, Sheriff Vaughn met a car answering the description.

Chief Sanders was right behind Sheriff Vaughn and he also returned to help.

The three autos came into Stratford from the west and after crossing the Santa Fe railroad, the Mercury turned off and went in behind the Headquarters Cafe. Vaughn and Sanders were right behind and one man was immediately captured at the car and the other was captured at the Queen O Creme Drive In. Investigation by officers revealed a styrofoam ice chest hidden in weeds near the auto driven by the two men which contained $580 in cash loaded with various types of narcotics all taken in the Bowers Pharmacy earlier in the day.

The two men were Thomas Grady Watkins, 22, and Gregory L. Hatler, 21, both giving their homes as Madisonville, Ky.

The two were held at the Sherman County Jail and later picked up by Dallam County officers.

AMARILLO SPEED BOWL--Gary Gabel represents Engelbrecht Trucking at the Amarillo Speed Bowl events this year and so far Gary is standing in fourth place overall. He is shown with a trophy he won earlier in the year and with his auto which he drives in the races each weekend.

Rickety Ladder Spells Trouble

The annual spring home fix-up campaign in most families will include some climbing. The Texas Safety Association warns that a ladder can develop dangerous faults in storage.

Check for age cracks, drying out, rotting and insect damage. Remember that paint can hide defects. Don't use a painted ladder without inspecting it closely. Better yet, avoid painting in the first place. Instead, use generous amounts of linseed oil or a coat or two of clear varnish to preserve wooden ladders.

Keeping your ladder in good repair is the most basic safety rule, but, TSA says, make sure you follow through safely in the use of the ladder too.

The footing of the ladder must be firm and even for safety.

"Thou wilt shew me the path of life:

PSALM 16-11

HERE IS THE PATH

A THIRSTY LAND

Men have a thirst and a longing for goodness and righteousness. Even the most parched soul is touched by acts of kindness, forgiveness, and love. Jesus said, "Whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life."

May all who are thirsty for a oneness with man and with God find satisfaction and fulfillment by attending church

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

MRS. JIM THOMAS ROBERTS

Irlbeck-Roberts Wedding Vows Here

Miss Belinda Sharon Irlbeck and Jim Thomas Roberts exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Richard J. Neyer before an altar decorated with bouquets of blue and white carnations in St. Joseph's Catholic Church of Stratford on June 18, 1974.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a floor-length gown of pea de soie with an empire waistline, raised collar, Juliet sleeves with pointed cuffs and featured lace bands in a rose pattern from the sleeves, bodice and skirt. The flounce at the hemline of the gown was of rose lace. Sequins outlined the rose at the neck and waist of the dress. An elbow length veil of illusion fell from a headpiece of white satin and lace roses, which was fashioned by Mrs. Charles Durr.

The bride carried a cascade bouquet of blue carnations and white rosebuds atop a white prayer book, which was carried by her mother at her wedding.

SOMETHING OLD
The traditional "something old" was the prayer book carried by the bride beneath her bridal bouquet and "something blue" was a garter worn by the bride.

Parents of the bride and groom are Mr. and Mrs. Ted Irlbeck of Kerrick and Mr. and Mrs. C.J. Roberts, Jr. of Conlen.

Music was provided by Mrs. Ronald Engelbrecht, organist, and Gloria Pleyer, flutist.

Sandra Artho of Hereford served her cousin as Maid of Honor wearing a floor-length dress of blue knit styled with puffed sleeves and empire waistline. She carried a long-stemmed white rose.

Kelly Irlbeck, sister of the bride, was Bridesmaid with Cindy Thomas of Canadian, niece of the groom, serving as Flower Girl. Both the attendants wore dresses identical to that of the Maid of Honor. Kelley carried a long-stemmed white rose and the flower girl carried a basket of blue carnations, white roses and baby's breath.

BEST MAN

Best Man was James Brown of Dalhart with Dennis Irlbeck of Kerrick, brother of the bride, serving as Groomsman.

Altar boys were Randy and Melvin Irlbeck of Kerrick, brothers of the bride. Ushers were Lester Irlbeck of Kerrick, brother of the bride, and Bruce Schwertner of Texhoma.

Both the mothers of bride and groom wore beige dresses with corsages of tangerine roses.

RECEPTION HELD

A reception followed the ceremony in the farm Bureau Building with Patty Artho registering the guests. Mary Thomas and Sue Roberts, sister of the groom, served the wedding cake and punch from a table hosting a white lace cloth centered with the bridal bouquet and blue candles. The four-tiered wedding cake was white with blue roses decorating the layers and was topped with a heart and white doves.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado, Wyoming, and Yellowstone National Park, the couple will be at home in the Conlen community.

The bride is a 1974 graduate of Stratford High School and the groom is a 1971 graduate of Stratford High School, 1973 graduate of TSTI in Amarillo and is presently engaged in a farming operation with his father.

COOL TIPS

Heat and humidity affect some people more than others. But when the T-H-I (temperature humidity index) climbs into the seventies almost all of us begin to suffer. Here, then, are some reminders of time-tested tips to help take the sizzle out of summer.

- Keep shades and blinds drawn when windows are in direct sunlight.
- Turn off any un-needed lights. Burning blubs add to the heat in a room.
- Avoid tight fitting, high-necked clothing. Light, loosely fitted clothes allow air to circulate.
- Drink plenty of liquids to replace the fluid lost through perspiration.
- Remember that iced tea is one of nature's best hot weather beverages because it is non-sweet, non-carbonated and won't build up another thirst soon after drinking.

• Cut down on the use of heat-producing appliances. Barbecue outdoors instead of using the kitchen range.

• Take tepid showers rather than icy-cold ones. And pat yourself dry instead of rubbing vigorously.

• Stay away from heat producing foods such as fats. Eat plenty of summer's fruits and vegetables.

• Wear a floppy brimmed hat to keep the sun's rays off your face and neck. Or borrow great-grandmama's idea and carry a parasol.

• Another trick from a bygone era...create a cooling current of air with a flirtatious fan.

• Emulate the British in the tropics and drink your tea hot. The perspiration it generates has a cooling effect on the skin as it evaporates.

• Keep a bottle of your favorite cologne in the refrigerator and splash it on wrists and throat for a quick cool-off.

• Make iced tea the cold water way: fill a quart pitcher with cold tap water; add 8 to 10 teabags (remove tags). Cover and let stand 6 hours or overnight. The result: perfect, crystal-clear tea that will never cloud.

• For a thirst-quencher in a hurry, use the convenient instant tea powder

TOWN TALK

ideas are essential. Now's the time to take advantage of fresh fruits, vegetables and salads. Cool soups and frosty health drinks prepared in a Waring Blender are perfect summer treats - and they don't have to be cooked. Yogurt-Cucumber Soup, for example, is a perfect dieter's delight. Just whip 4 peeled and sliced cucumbers, 1/2 cup yogurt, and a few sprigs of fresh dill, and you've got a cool meal that's under 200 calories, even if you eat it all.

Waring Blenders, with their variety of attachments, are great for natural "un-cooking" because they're strong enough to chop raw ingredients without burning out the motor. So why not try homemade apple sauce or even peanut butter? For a cool refresher, make a frothy drink with a special ice crushing attachment. There's also "The Stripper" attachment, which peels carrots, potatoes, even onions -without making you work in the heat. A blender is a great summer gift, too.

Take a tip from the South Americans—indulge in an afternoon siesta and avoid the hottest hours of the day. Dress lightly, use as few electric lights as possible since they generate heat, and just relax. Be practical and the summer environment will be under your control.

It's a good practice to turn on your air conditioner in the early morning hours if the day promises to be a hot one. By afternoon, a house has absorbed a great deal of heat and will take more energy to cool.

When the heat is on, it's a good idea to keep your oven off. So alternative cooking

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

AUSTIN, Tex. — A flood of Mexican aliens, estimated at more than a million a year, is pouring into Texas, according to a new Texas Good Neighbor Commission report.

More than half the illegal entrants cross the Rio Grande into Texas. Good Neighbor Commission said the number of such entries is greater than the total number of immigrants who entered the U.S. legally from all the countries of the world.

Last year, the GNC noted, 575,000 deportable Mexican aliens were found in the U.S., and immigration officials figure one escapes for every one apprehended. Sophisticated smuggling techniques aid the crossings.

Immigrations have a social and economic impact in virtually all regions, since the aliens move on to metropolitan areas all over the U.S. in search of better jobs and safety from arrests. Top AFL-CIO officials promptly called for tough new state laws making it an offense to hire illegal aliens, punishable by stiff fines or prison terms.

DEMOCRATS TO DELAY — Democrats are still in a dither about whether they should "recess" their September 17 state convention until September 19 to avoid a conflict with a high Jewish holy day.

A rules change to allow the delay will be aired at a special meeting of the State Democratic Executive Committee in Austin July 16.

If hotel rooms can be made available September 19, SDEC will consider the change (to keep the convention from falling on Rosh Hashana, the Jewish

New Year). But a three-fourth majority is necessary to order the rules amendment. APPOINTMENTS — Clyde Johnson of Bulverde and San Antonio was named by Gov. Dolph Briscoe to the Texas Water Quality Board, succeeding the late Gordon Fulcher of Atlanta.

Briscoe also named E. Carl Dillard of Pearsall to the State Judicial Qualifications Commission. He reappointed five State Health Advisory Committee members and appointed as new Committee members Mrs. Edd Henard of Wellington, Mrs. Emma Nugent of Orange, Mrs. H.L. Long of Kilgore, Mrs. Marie Bynum of Austin, W.W. Manley of Terrell, Rev. Claude Black of San Antonio, Domingo Pena of Corpus Christi, Ernest Coker Jr. of Conroe, Ronnie Boules of Pecos and Ed Baker of Arlington.

AG OPINIONS — Atty. Gen. John Hill held a newspaper's donating free space to an official's column when he is a candidate for reelection is not a campaign contribution under the law.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

* A county commissioner may not be paid for serving as appointed lawyer for an indigent defendant.

* Texas Water Development Board has a duty to approve or disapprove plans for proposed levees along any stream subject to floods or overflows.

* An appointed attorney who represents both an indigent criminal defendant in district court and a juvenile in juvenile court the same day may not receive more than one fee.

WELFARE ROLLS DECLINE — Fewer Texans got welfare benefits last year, the Department of Public Welfare reported.

The department's annual report showed Old Age Assistance was down from an average of 210,000 monthly in 1972 to 182,000 in 1973.

Aid to Families with Dependent Children declined from a peak of 121,588 in February 1973 to 118,681 families in July.

COURTS SPEAK — The State Supreme Court held unconstitutional a new state law regulating juke boxes and other coin-operated amusement machines.

Attorney General Hill called on the U.S. Supreme Court to accelerate a Texas case challenging impoundment of water pollution funds by President Nixon.

Austin, San Antonio and Lower Colorado River Authority called on the Third Court of Civil Appeals to require the Texas Railroad Commission to force Lo Vaca Gathering Company to live up to its gas supply contracts.

The Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a life sentence given a Dallas man for assault to murder a police officer.

A hearing was set in the Supreme Court for July 17 on whether two elderly sisters can get back $100,000 and 7,500 acres of land they gave to the Stephens County Museum, Inc.

The high court ordered the Dallas Court of Civil Appeals to take another look at adequacy of a $4,146 damage award given a Van Zandt County man who was bitten on the hand by a neighbor's hog.

OIL ALLOWABLE SET — The statewide oil allowable for July was fixed by the Railroad Commission, for the 28th straight month, a 100 per cent level.

Major crude oil buyers asked for 3,843,362 barrels of oil daily in July, a decrease of 36,087 from June.

Commission Chairman Jim Langdon pointed out that the U.S. still imports 1.5 billion barrels of crude annually — a "very long way" from self-sufficiency.

Exceptions to the 100 per cent order were East Texas and Kelly-Snyder fields which were restricted to 86 per cent production.

BEAUTIFICATION AWARDS MADE — Seven cities received Governor's Community Achievement Awards for outstanding community beautification projects during the last year.

RESEARCH REPORT

Hail Damaged Sorghum Best Left Alone

LUBBOCK--Grain sorghum crops that are damaged by hail in most cases should be left alone rather than replanted, says a Lubbock-based agronomist.

Dr. James Supak, area specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says that replanting sorghum when it is damaged by hail is generally unnecessary and unprofitable.

Hail damage varies from partial to complete defoliation of the plant to bruised and broken stems and occasionally, shattering of seed from emerged heads. These injuries can reduce yields from 10 to 95 percent, he adds.

EMERGENCY TO 10-LEAF STAGE

From emergence to the time the sorghum plants display 7 to 10 fully extended leaves, the terminal bud of the plant is located at or near the soil surface. A hailstorm during this stage of development may strip leaves, but because of its rather protected position, the terminal bud is seldom injured. If approximately 75 percent of the plants survive, Supak says, replanting is unnecessary since tillering will compensate for the reduced stand. If replanting becomes necessary, the limited growing season in this area may necessitate the use of an earlier maturing hybrid.

Even if replanting can be avoided, he points out, hail damage during the 7-to 10-leaf stage will have detrimental effects on yields. Research conducted at Panhandle State College in Goodwell, Oklahoma, has shown that when 25, 50 and 100 percent of the leaves are destroyed during this vegetative growth stage, grain yields are reduced by approximately, 8, 10 and 25 percent, respectively. In addition, the susceptibility of the plant to disease and insects (especially the sorghum midge) is increased by reduced vigor and delayed maturity.

The agronomist cautions that replanting will not necessarily alleviate these pitfalls since the faster maturing hybrids generally have lesser yield potentials and are also susceptible to midge if planted late in the season.

REPRODUCTION GROWTH STAGE

Following the 7-to 10-leaf stage, the sorghum plants enter the reproductive growth stage and hail damage becomes a more serious problem. A severe storm can not only destroy leaves but also may damage or destroy the head in its formative stages. Still, recovery tends to be rapid. Plants with injury to the growing point and forming heads develop tillers at the uppermost non-damaged joints and these will eventually form heads. On the other hand, some plants will escape injury to developing heads; although these plants may still tiller, the original heads will still emerge, bloom, and mature.

A producer faces at least three alternatives when his crop is damaged: (1) leave things as they are and settle for a crop that will mature unevenly, (2) shred the stalks to a height of about 6 inches and force all plants to tiller uniformly, or (3) destroy the grain crop and plant millet or other alternate crop.

The producer's decision rests largely on when the damage occurred and its severity, Supak explained. Panhandle State College research has shown that when 25, 50, 75 and 100 percent of the leaves are removed from healthy plants during the boot stage, yield reductions of approximately 10, 40, 70, and 95 percent respectively, can be expected. However, if most of the leaves remain on the plant, even though they are severely mutilated, the yield reduction will be less severe. In this case, it would be profitable to allow the damaged crop to go to completion.

BLOOM AND MILK STAGES

"Grain sorghum is most vulnerable to hail injury during their bloom and early milk stages," the specialist notes. "Obviously, the heads are fully exposed to the full brunt of blows administered by flying ice. This effect, however, may be relatively minor compared to the impairment of photosynthetic activity caused by defoliation. Reduced photosynthesis during the bloom and early milk stage will adversely affect seed development and result in shrunken seed and low test weights. Additional problems also are created by subsequent tillering which results in uneven maturity."

"There is not much a producer can do about this type of damage," he emphasizes. "Unless he has an early planting of a fast-maturing hybrid, it is generally too late in the season to shred and make a uniform second crop. If the damage is so severe that the crop has little or no yield potential, a grower might consider overseeding the stubble with small grain for early grazing, or he might destroy the crop and prepare the land for wheat."

Supak says that hail injury incurred after the milk stage is usually less damaging than at the bloom stage. Complete defoliation during the soft dough stage cut yields in half, according to the Oklahoma research studies, whereas removal of 75 percent of the leaves reduced yields by only 15 to 20 percent. Although damage during the later growth stages can be expensive, it is not nearly as devastating as that which can occur during the bloom stage.

Social Security News

Have you a question about social security? Address it to Robert H. Schaller, Branch Manager, P.O. Box 1292, Guyton, Oklahoma 73942. You will receive an answer in this column or by mail.
By Robert H. Schaller
Q. I thought each child getting benefits on a parent's record was supposed to get one-half of the parent's amount. My children get less. Why?
A. The child of a retired or disabled worker is generally entitled to an amount equal to 50 percent of his parent's benefit amount. However, there is a monthly maximum that can be paid to a family. Generally, if there are three or more dependents eligible for monthly benefits, each dependent's benefit must be reduced to less than 50 percent of the parent's benefit so that the total benefit will not exceed the monthly maximum that can be paid to the family.
Q. When I started receiving my social security checks I was not employed, but I have now gone back to work. Should I report this to Social Security?
A. Yes, if you expect your total earnings for this year to be over $2,400.00. If you earn more than $2,400.00 and do not notify social security, you will be overpaid and will have to repay the overpayment. If you think your total earnings for this year will exceed $2,400.00, and you haven't reported this to social security, you should do so promptly.

Q. Do I need to send a report of wages paid if I employ a household worker?

A. Persons who pay a household worker $50.00 or more in any one calendar quarter must make a report of the wages and the social security contribution to the Internal Revenue Service within one month after the end of the quarter. The report may be made on Form 942, Report of Wages Paid Household Employees. This form can be obtained from any Internal Revenue Service Office. The amount of the social security contribution is 5.85 percent of the employee's gross wages and a matching amount by the employer.
