Texas Leads In Jersey Breed Activity

Nov. 28, 1958 - While the nation's dairy cattle population is on the decline, Texas' principal dairy breed is on the increase.

The American Jersey Cattle Club, Columbus, Ohio, has announced that the Lone Star State leads all states thus far in 1958 in both the number of Jerseys registered and those transferred to buyers. In the past few years Ohio has led in Jersey registrations.

Not only is Texas leading in Jersey cattle numbers this year, but the state is setting a fast pace in Jersey performance. During the first 11 months of 1958 there have been seven Texas Jersey cows to complete records of over 1,000 lbs.

Corner on Cotton

BY BOB COLLINS

Groups across the cotton belt are holding meetings to explain the new farm legislation as it affects cotton . . . if there is a meeting in your neighborhood (and there probably will be) by all means attend, even if you think you fully understand the bill . . . chances are you'll be the only fellow there who does! . . . here are answers to some questions that keep popping up:

1. Your acreage change will be based on your 1959 allotment . . . NOT this year's allotment . . . this means that choosers of Option "A" will have to reduce their '58 acreage about eight percent, and "B" choosers will get about 28% more cotton land than they had allotted this year . . . (all this doesn't apply to farmers with 10 acres or less . . . in this group "A" will keep what he's got now and "B" will get a full 40% increase over the '58 acreage) . . . see how confusing it gets?

2. Your choice of Option "A" or "B" is for one year only 1959 . . . the following year you can change your mind if you wish.

3. Nobody can say what the "B" acreage will be in 1960 . . . that's up to the Secretary of Agriculture and it depends upon too many things to even hazard a guess.

Still want to know what you should do? . . . here is the best advice available: Believe nothing you read about what choice you should make . . . it's an individual problem and no writer can give a solution that is best for all . . . talk to county agents, ginners, farm leaders, cotton buyers, neighbors . . . then when you have facts and opinions from all sources, make up your own mind.

Trash Really Waste?

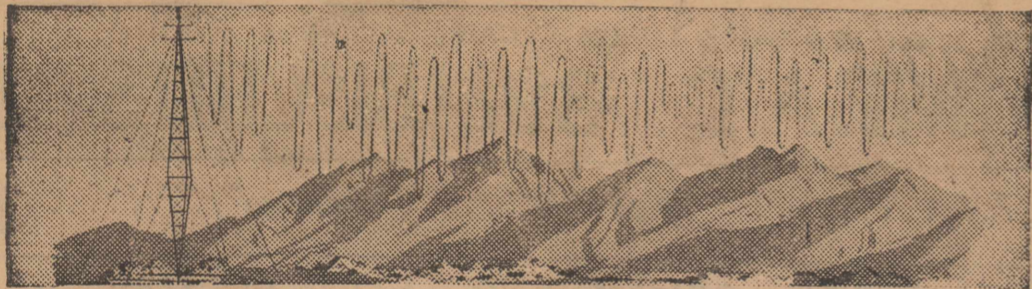

What's happening to your cotton burs? . . . it could be you are losing all kinds of money by not making use of them, especially if you irrigate . . . recent experiments show that use of burs as fertilizer can increase lint production over 200 pounds per acre . . . they also have other value such as improving water penetration and soil texture.

Cotton Lazy?

Why does the cotton plant ignore about half its squares and blooms? . . . this is coming under investigation . . . if it can be corrected, your crop could be doubled with no extra land needed! Gives you an idea of what COULD happen with enough research.

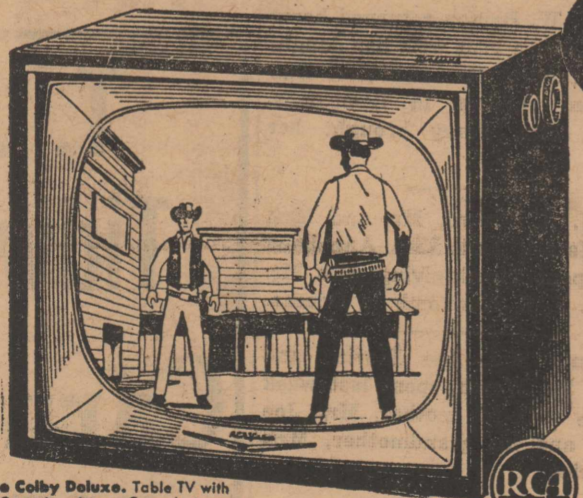

More Cotton Acreage?

There's a chance that some of you can get additional cotton-acreage by being alert to certain county conditions . . . we'll talk about it next week.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D., Commissioner of Health.

Almost 12 million meals will be served in 15,000 Texas restaurants this week. If you're average you'll eat at least two of them.

You could go into the vast majority of those restaurants and be assured of getting a wholesome meal — totally oblivious of the fact that you're eating food cooked by complete strangers.

How can this be, especially since some 26 different diseases can be spread by improperly handled food?

Included in the list are such scourges as trichinosis, the deadly botulism, strep infections, and salmonellosis (food poisoning).

There are many reasons of course, but among the main ones are the four-day short courses in sanitation conducted by the State Department of Health for persons engaged in food preparation and service. In the past five years, according to official records, some 30,000 persons have taken the instruction.

The subject matter, presented in a non-technical, easy-to-understand style with films and demonstrations, covers such essential points as basic bacteriology, insect control and personal hygiene.

Two public health instructors from the department's division of public health education, assisted by local health officials, will put on a course anywhere in the State on request. Attendance is open to anyone, but usually those who come to the two-hour daily sessions are cafe and cafeteria personnel.

In four Texas cities — Abilene, Big Springs, Midland and El Paso — attendance is mandatory for all food service persons by city ordinance. It's a moot question as to which is preferable — mandatory or voluntary attendance.

When a restaurant employee completes the instruction, he is given a certificate of attendance, signed by the state health commissioner and attesting the fact that he has been indoctrinated. And when 80 percent of the workers in a food service establishment completes the course, the restaurant is awarded a placard suitable for framing and display so customers can see the owner has an interest in health protection.

They're good things, these schools for foodhandlers, good in their implications of higher health standards for restaurant-goers. The food service business has grown to gargantuan size. Latest estimate put the number of meals served daily in the United States at 82 million, 1.7 million in Texas.

All of which accentuate the importance of the short courses and of the placard awarded to cafes when they support them. The next time you eat out look for it. If you don't see it ask where it is. It is a pledge to you that the restaurant is interested in your welfare.

Thanksgiving day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Connan Albert were Mr. and Mrs. Olin Willingham of Albuquerque, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Martin of Weatherford, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Willingham, Myrl and Ann of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Willingham of Tulia, Sharon Willingham of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Noles and David of Roby.

The man who always sees his duty sometimes takes advantage of the fact and dodges it.

Mr. and Mrs. Dono Day spent Thanksgiving in Abilene with their children, Mr. and Mrs. Dono Day Jr. and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Day and Cathy.

TCU Favorites To Be Announced

FORT WORTH, Dec. — Class favorites at Texas Christian University will be announced at the 1928 Presentation Ball Thursday night, Dec. 11, in the Brown-Lupton Student Center on Campus. "Mr. and Miss TCU" will also be introduced.

Freddy Martin, his "Singing Saxophone" and his orchestra will play for the formal dance in the main ballroom. The Ambassadors, a five-piece group, will play on the first floor of the Student Center.

Mr. and Miss TCU will be selected by the student body in balloting Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 1-2. They must be either juniors or seniors at the university.

Favorites have already been elected, but their identities will be kept secret until the night of the dance. The 36 favorite finalists will be presented, after which the 16 winners will be announced, states John Cantrell, Pampa senior and editor of the 1959 Horned Frog, TCU student yearbook which sponsors the favorite election. Two boys and two girls will be named from each class: freshman, sophomore, junior and senior.

Heavy Pressure On Athletics In Our Schools

The emphasis (which a great many people consider a gross over-emphasis) on athletics in the colleges has been the subject of innumerable "discussions. The prime example, of course, is football, which draws the huge crowds and the equally huge sums of money. No holds-barred efforts to recruit winning teams have produced some national scandals.

But the problem is not confined to the colleges. It is reflected in a heavy and dangerous pressure on the high schools. This, in any event, is the theme of an article in the October issue of The Atlantic, written by Eugene Youngert, who was a high school superintendent for 16 years, and is now associated with Dr. James Bryant Conant in making the Study of the American High School.

The pressure, of course, comes from the effort of college coaches and other interested parties to get their hands on promising high school athletes. Dr. Youngert cites various examples. One, related to him by an Eastern high school principal, tells of a lad called Sonny, who was low in the I. Q. department, was never considered of college calibre — but was a marvelous natural athlete. So college people came from all over the country with inducements from their respective institutions. The winning university gave Sonny a full "free ride" scholarship, the services of a tutor, a campus job for his father, a low-rent apartment for the family, and spending money. As it happened, even then Sonny couldn't keep up with college for the army. However, as Dr. Youngert's informant put it: "The sad part of this tale is that we had to work like the dickens to get highly qualified, intelligent boys into the very colleges and universities that were living with one another for our Sonny."

These and kindred cases, Dr. Youngert emphasizes, are not exceptional. Such aggressive recruitment of athletes is commonplace. And the hurt is done not only to the athletes, but to the high school student body. To quote: "... I ment here to include a word about the cynicism that infects the students as a whole when they see favoritism and free ride scholarships bestowed on boys whose classroom work has been mediocre. Under such circumstances, high school students cannot be blamed if they think that we are shedding crocodile tears today in our wailing about the lack of intellectual vigor in our secondary schools."

That is not all the damage. College athletics are becoming more professionalized. The result is "the infusion of the 'pro' attitude and spirit into high school athletics, and the shady practices that such infusion carries in its wake practices that are shady from the point of view of the amateur's sportsmanship code."

What can be done about the problem? Dr. Youngert feels that college faculties should take the lead in adopting and enforcing a concrete resolution. Under this resolution, among other things, there would be no sub-standard admissions; scholarships would be awarded on the basis of scholarship ability, with the amount determined by need; job opportunities would be genuine jobs, not athletic sinecures, and there would be no courses for favored groups.

He writes at the end: "In my experience, athletes in general are an intelligent group of boys. They would not and they should not be discriminated under the recommended resolution. On their merit as students, they would win their fair share of scholarships and other financial help. I know that college athletics, if they were fairly and firmly handled, would become highly respected as a student activity. They would no longer be an enterprise run for financial profit, public relations, protection of vested interests, and as a sop for the alumni."

Holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Darden were Jo Alice Darden of Midland, Mrs. M. E. Northrup and children of Putman, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Darden and daughters of Fort Worth, who also visited her mother, Mrs. E. I. Williamson, who is very ill.

A pessimist is a man who resents the fact that the world was made without seeking his advice.

State Council Of Methodist Women

FORT WORTH — Legislative and social action matters which may have the attention of the coming session of the state legislature, including the rumor of a move to return Parliament to Texas, will be considered by the Texas State Council of Methodist Women at its annual session to be held in Hotel Texas here Friday and Saturday, Dec. 5-6.

Members of the council include representatives from seven annual Methodist conferences. They lead Methodist women across the state in taking a stand on various issues involving social action. They will determine where the major emphasis and study will be placed on legislative matters.

Featured speaker for the session will be Nelson Brown of Austin, executive secretary of the Texas Alcohol Commission. He will emphasize the field of rehabilitation. His address will be given at the opening program and business session to be held at 7:30 p.m. Friday in Parlor C.

CHRISTIANS CAN FALL.

"Wherefore let him that thinketh he standeth take heed lest he fall." (1 Cor. 10:12). A very popular doctrine today is that no matter what one may do, if he is a child of God, he cannot so act as finally to be lost in hell. Surely, this is a direct contradiction to what the Apostle just said in his letter to the church of Corinth.

Once gentleman challenged another to produce one case in the New Testament where a child of God fell away from the grace of God and was eternally lost. Without hesitation, his friend read to him the account of the rich man in hell (Luke 16:19-31). The lost man was:

1. A child of God, for in verses (24, 30), he called Abraham "Father."

2. And in verse (25), Abram called him "son." And in verse (23), we are told that he was in Hades, in torments. Here is the case, and the proof thereof.

In John 6, is the case of another. Here is the account of the disciples of Jesus who separated themselves from Him FOREVER — for in verses (66), we read, "Many of His disciples went back, and walked no more with Him." Therefore, some of His disciples were eternally lost. It will not do to say that they merely left Him physically, for Jesus was greatly concerned about the matter. Note Jesus' question in verse (67), and Peter's reply in verse (68).

The doctrine of "once saved always saved" is an old as Eden. In Gen. 2:16, 17, to Adam Jehovah said, "Of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat: but of the tree of knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof THOU SHALT SURELY DIE." Satan came to Eve and said; "YE SHALL NOT SURELY DIE." (Gen. 3:4). In Ezekiel 18:20, God said to the prophet, "The soul that sinneth IT shall die." So summing up the two commands they read like this:

1. "Thou shalt surely DIE." — God.
2. "Ye shall NOT . . . die." — Satan.

Therefore the teaching that a child of God cannot fall from grace came directly from SATAN because it is the same thing he taught Eve in Eden. If not, why not?

We rejoice to state that the fallen child of God can be restored. Paul says, "Brethren, if a man be overtaken in a fault, ye which are spiritual, restore." (Gal. 6:1). God will forgive any sin a "brother" will confess (1 John 1:9), and " . . . the blood of Jesus His Son cleanseth us from all sin." (1 John 1:7).

Baptist Girls Auxiliary Is Organized

The First Baptist Church of Roby was the scene of the organization of Fisher County Baptist Girls' Auxiliary Council, Saturday morning, November 22, under the direction of Mrs. Fred Blake, G. A. Director of Fisher Association Woman's Missionary Union. Fifty girls and counselors registered for the meeting.

The program "Let Your Light Shine Through" was centered around stewardship of time, talent, and personality. Barbara Eades of Rotan, and Karen Blake of Roby were in charge of the music. After a devotion period led by Janice Hodges of Bethel, Donna Murphree of Rotan presented the names of missionaries from the prayer calendar for the day. Mrs. Fred Blake explained the purpose of the council and urged the girls to further advancement by "Working Together". A skit "Ann's Allowance" was presented by the following girls from the First Baptist Church of Rotan; Daphene Hamm, Billie Jo McKinney, Dianaa Martin, Susan SoRell, Barbara Eades, Barbara Hendon, Sharon Puryear, Kristan Hill, and Janice Gooch. Special music was brought by Loretta Cave, and Judy Cave, cousins from Hobbs. They were accompanied on the piano by Mrs. J. C. Cave also of Hobbs. Benediction was by Jane Loiry.

TB Research Work Being Intensified

GALVESTON, Dec. 2. — Treatment and prevention of tuberculosis in children — and the reasons why young girls break down with TB — are being studied under Christmas Seal medical research grants from tuberculosis associations.

Dr. John W. Middleton, president of the Texas Tuberculosis Association and associate professor of medicine at the Medical Branch, The University of Texas, announced today that four centers in Texas were cooperating in a large scale study designed to improve care of children with tuberculosis. Those centers are at the Driscoll Children's Hospital in Corpus Christi, the Dallas Pediatric Hospital, the Houston Tuberculosis Hospital, and the El Paso Health Department.

Exact purpose of the study, according to Dr. Middleton, is to find out whether serious complications can be prevented by giving a drug, isoniazid, to children when first infected with tuberculosis.

The study was organized and coordinated by the U. S. Public Health Service. A medical research grant from the National Tuberculosis Association supplements federal funds.

Almost 3,000 children are now under observation. Some of the children are receiving isoniazid; some are receiving dummy pills. Preliminary reports indicate that fewer complications are arising among the children receiving isoniazid.

"The study is one of two on tuberculosis in children being aided by Christmas Seal grants," Dr. Middleton said. "Another clinical study concerns tuberculosis in adolescence."

Those visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taggart Sunday from Abilene were Mr. and Mrs. Chesley Taggart, Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Taggart and Sandy. Their new baby Randy is in the hospital in an incubator. Also Mr. and Mrs. Buz Taggart and Mrs. Bernie Stockton of Rotan.

Important Cotton Discussion At Houston

Houston, Texas — (Special) — Quality, an important factor in cotton's ability to compete for markets, will be probed extensively at the Beltwide Cotton Production Conference here, December 17-18.

Five cotton industry leaders will discuss the subject in a panel on "strengthening cotton's quality-leg". Dr. Earl E. Berkley, director of the Fiber and Spinning Laboratory of Anderson, Clayton and Co., Houston, will head the group.

Dr. Burt Johnson, research consultant with the National Cotton Council, will open the panel with a discussion of a modern definition of cotton quality. The next speaker, Dr. T. R. Richmond, agronomist at the Texas Experiment Station, College Station, will give a resume of promising techniques for improving quality through genetics and breeding.

From Bakerfield, Calif., and Calcut, Ltd., will come George J. Harrison to speak on improving and maintaining quality in growing harvesting and ginning cotton.

How quality can pay off in the market — and the need for it to do so — will be described by Carl Cox, manager of the Quality Control Department of W. D. Felder and Co., Dallas.

Some 800-900 persons are expected to attend the conference at the Rice Hotel. It is being sponsored by the National Cotton Council in cooperation with farm organizations, the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Cotton Belt land grant colleges, and agricultural chemicals industry, and other groups.

The man who's afraid of being spoiled by success should get a job with the weather bureau.

Are You Courteous Behind The Wheel

(NAVNEWS) — You're at the stoplight, hubcap to hubcap with the guy in the other lane, waiting for the flick to green. Your next-door-neighbor-on wheels hunches forward a little. Then something silly happens inside your brain. The traffic light becomes something like a starter's upraised gun. You seem crouched on a cinder track, digging your spikes into the starting blocks which savage, pentup steam. Old devil horsepower is beginning to need you; beginning to take over the controls. "Beat this guy!" You nudge up, hubcap to hubcap again.

What about the gap in the other lane? Is he really out to beat you? Take a good look at him. He's brother-man! Sharer of your street your sun, your good green earth He's the doc who brought your first-born into the world; second vice-president of your PTA, second tenor of your barber shop quartet. He's the man whose son might marry your daughter, some day. Walking down main street with him, kneecap to kneecap, you wouldn't even think of trying to beat him to the corner. So why do humming wheels and engine lull us into stupidity? Why does old devil horsepower paralyze our brains? WHY?

Turn on a smile for the guy in the other lane, instead of a spurt of speed. Show him friendliness instead of trying to show him up. Be quick with good will instead of pickup. If he does carry a challenging chip on his fender, don't rise to his whizzing rate of speed; don't fall to his whizzing rate of mentality! Let him wheel on by toward the queer goal of his—a goal that's as dim and unknown to him as it is to you . . . and me . . . and to millions of other guys in other lanes. (From Safety Review)

"New Egg Values" Title of Bulletin

College Station Dec. — Egg values concern millions of people, especially homemakers who buy food for the family and try to serve well-balanced, nutritious meals.

Egg values are also of interest to producers and persons in commercial food service and merchandising channels.

Those who buy eggs should know economic values, how to determine value of the different grades and thoroughly understand grade terminology. Homemakers should know egg value from the viewpoint of nutrition, calories, protein-fat ratio and the versatility of eggs in cooking.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has released a bulletin entitled "Know Egg Values." It discusses such topics as egg qualities and size classes, carton identification, consumer responsibility and cooking tips.

The bulletin is available from county agricultural agents or the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for B-909.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon House of Hobbs, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Cole and children of Midland, spent the holidays here with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Green.

Problems Of Elder Citizens

Thanks to advances in the standards of medical care, in nutrition, and in other allied arts and sciences, life expectancy in this country has been greatly increased. This means that the proportion of elderly people in the population is far larger than it used to be, and is steadily increasing.

We have, as a consequence, developed a comparatively new set of problems — the health problem of the aged. In recognition of this fact a Joint Council for the Health Care of the Aged was formed last April, and plans are currently being developed for a national conference to be held in the spring of the coming year.

The Council is made up of eminently qualified organizations — the American Dental Association, the American Hospital Association, the American Medical Association, and the American Nursing Home Association. It has laid down five specific objectives: To identify and analyze the Health needs of the aged; to appraise available health resources for the aged; to develop programs to foster the best possible health care for the aged; to foster effective methods of payment for this care and, finally, to foster health education programs of the aged.

This is a sound approach to the problems involved, and splendid results can be anticipated. A good many people, when issues of the sort arise, tend to take the attitude of "let the government solve them." And this, as we should have learned by now, often creates worse and more lasting problems than those that need solving in the first place. All success to the Joint Council's vitally important work.

Mrs. J. L. Williamson is very ill, and out-of-town children here to be with her several days last week were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Patterson of Levelland, Mr. and Mrs. Durard Hicks and children of Snyder, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Darden and children of Fort Worth.

Meeting Dec. 17-18

trolling the boll weevil, as well as the damage caused by loss in yield and quality. The need of greatly expanded research to attain more effective and lower cost control will be outlined.

Some of the new approaches to controlling cotton insects in the future will be described by Dr. T. B. Davich, entomologist at the Texas Experiment Station, College Station, Emphasis will be placed on insect control approaches that hold promise of being more effective and lower in cost.

New recommendations for controlling insects next year will be given by Dr. M. E. Merkl, entomologist at the Delta Branch Experiment Station, Stoneville, Miss.
