Cuthand Road Center Of Controversy At Meeting

By Nanalee Nichols
Several issues of importance to both the Cuthand area and the whole of Red River County were acted upon at a meeting that attracted over one hundred citizens on Monday, August 17.

The two main issues, fixing the Cuthand Road and redistricting the county drew citizens from Precinct 1 and Precinct 4, who live along the Cuthand road, which is impassable in wet weather.

For many years the center of the Cuthand road has been the dividing line between Precinct 1 and 4.

Organizer of the citizens group, Ted Ewing, presented views on how unfit the road was. Ewing stated that "The condition of the road has a stranglehold on our community. Many folks have building lots, but won't build their homes because they cannot get to them. The school bus can't pick up our children during wet winter weather, and we can't get to our jobs."

Commissioner Darwin Floyd, Precinct 4, maintained adamantly that "For 32 years it's been an arrangement that Precinct 1 maintain that road, and I won't fix it."

Commissioner for Precinct 1, Bruce Scott, stated that he would provide all the equipment and labor, and half the materials if Precinct 4 would just provide the other half of materials.

Precinct 1 has more road miles than any other in the county, but is allocated the same amount of money, and Scott stated that he just could not do it without some help. He also said that he would go in debt (buy oil on credit) for the amount of $20,000 to fix the road, but that just wouldn't be enough.

Floyd again refuse cooperation, saying that it had never been Precinct 4's duty to work on the Cuthand road.

John Mac Howison of Bogata pointed out that under a recent traffic count the Cuthand road was one, if not the most heavily traveled county road within Red River County since people from Boxelder, Avery and all over the county who worked at Mt. Pleasant, Talco Oil Fields or Monticello Coal Plant cut many miles off their commuting by using the road when it was passable. Floyd attempted to dispute the claim by saying one of his roads had more traffic, but the actual traffic count figures showed otherwise.

Ewing and Howison both state that redistricting and fixing the road were inseparable issues, and that the line dividing the two precincts needed clarifying.

Several citizens pointed out that the road was vital to them for both doctors and hospitals since they went to Talco and Mt. Pleasant for such services.

Ewing stated that "If the road had not been used for so many years as a political football it would already be a farm to market road."

Ewing also acknowledged that there were many other county roads that needed attention, but that as heavily traveled and vital as the Cuthand road was it seemed that it could merit immediate repairs.

He pleaded with the commissioners to help before school started on August 24, stating that the first wet spell would necessitate either pulling the school bus out by tractor or trucking the children out. He also stated that the road was a U.S. Mail Route, and mail was sometimes not deliverable, causing the postman to send letters of complaint to the commissioners.

Commissioner Scott made the motion to split the cost of repairing the road and Judge Sullivan seconded it. After a great deal of discussion the motion was defeated with Commissioner Floyd still maintaining that he would not help.

Commissioner from Precinct 2 said that he would like to know the cost of fixing the road, and then offered to donate enough oil to cover a mile or so from his budget.

The precinct 3 commissioner offered to help also. Floyd said "Take my revenue sharing then, maybe $6000, if it will help!"

Floyd also stated that he would give no help with oil, equipment or labor.

Judge Sullivan then stated, "You should be willing to help, the others have indicated what they want. It would be a good gesture to the people of your precinct if you would reconsider." Floyd again refused.

The commissioners then turned to the redistricting committee recommendations. An oral presentation of the committee's views had been presented the previous Monday, but no action had been taken.

Redistricting is required by law every ten years so that populations within precinct can be equalized.

The redistricting committee representatives presented the written recommendation.

It recommended that: the rural boundaries remain as they presently exist and that boundaries be changed only in the city of Clarksville. That the boundary between Precinct 2 and 3 in the city of Clarksville will be Hwy. 37 North on Houston St., turn west to the railroad track, then west to the city limits, turn south and follow the city limits until it intersects a creek, follow the creek until it crosses West Main, follow West Main east through the city of Clarksville.

That the boundary between Precinct 1 and Precinct 4 will be North Donoho St. and the city limits between FM 909 and FM road 910.

That the funds for Road and Bridge be allocated proportionately according to the miles of county roads in each precinct. This would be effective the next budget.

In relation to the change in allocating money it was pointed out that the system was much more fair than allocating the same amount of money to each commissioner, and that it should have been done many years earlier, but had been postponed time and again.

After discussion of the issue the commissioners unanimously voted to accept the recommendations with Commissioner Scott making the motion and Commissioner Storey seconding it.

Under the new redistricting Commissioner Scott will be living in Precinct 4 instead of Precinct 1. He can serve out his term until 1983, under the law, and stated that "I feel I can be elected in whatever precinct I'm in if I want to run." An offer to redistrict with a small bottleneck leaving him in Precinct 1 was rejected by Scott, who felt that it would just create a problem when he was no longer commissioner.

The commissioners then clarified exactly where the line dividing Precinct 1 from 4 would be on the Cuthand road. After much discussion it was finally decided that the east side of the road would be the division line with the entire road falling in Precinct 1.

Commissioner Scott stated that work would begin on the road as soon as possible, but that it would be September before that would be possible.

Commissioner's meeting Monday to express their views concerning repairs to the Cuthand Road, and on redistricting. The commissioners took action on both matters after hearing a number of citizens speak, primary among them, Ted Ewing, organizer of the group. (Staff Photo)

School Lunch Prices Changed

With school starting next week, parents may be wondering what the lunch prices are.

The Talco-Bogata Schools serve nutritious meals every school day. Students in grades K-8 may buy lunch for 80 cents per day or $4.00 if they purchase a weekly ticket. Students in grades 9-12 may buy lunch, 85 cents per day or $4.25 if they purchase a weekly ticket. Students in grades K-8 may buy breakfast for 30 cents and high school students may buy breakfast for 40 cents. Extra milk may be purchased for 20 cents. Children from families whose income is at or below the level shown later in this column, may be eligible for the free meals or meals at a reduced price of 40 cents for lunch and 20 cents for breakfast.

To apply at any time during the year for free or reduced price meals for your children, complete the application and return it to the school. Within ten days of receiving your application, the school will let you know whether or not your children are eligible.

If, during the school year, there are changes in your family size or substantial changes in your income, you should report such changes to the school's officials in order that appropriate eligibility adjustments be made.

If you have applied for free or reduced price benefits in other school years, you will note some changes in the application form. The application now requires the name and social security number of all adult family members. Adults without social security numbers, indicate that they do not have one. Schools may verify the source and amount of income as well as household composition.

In certain cases, foster children are also eligible for these benefits. If you have foster children living with you and you wish to apply for such meals for them, please notify us or indicate it on the application.

All children are treated the same regardless of ability to pay. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child will be discriminated against because of race, sex, color or national origin.

If you do not agree with the school's decision on your application, you may wish to discuss it with the school. If you wish to review the decision further, you have a right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing Talmadge Morgan at Box 125, Bogata or call 632-5205.

We hope that the changes in the application do not create confusion. If we can be of any assistance, please do not hesitate to contact us.

PJC Choir Auditions

Auditions for the PJC Showchoir, a new musical group at the college, will be held on Tuesday, Aug. 25, announced Richard Benefield, director of vocal music at Paris Junior College. The new musical group is open to all PJC students, Benefield said, and auditions will begin at 10 a.m. that day in the Recital Hall of the Mayer Center for the musical Arts.

This year, the college will have three vocal groups rather than two as in past years, Benefield explained. In addition to the Showchoir, the college will have another new group, the Chamber Singers, as well as the PJC Chorale. The Showchoir will perform only popular, Broadway and country western music, Benefield said; the Chamber Singers will perform vocal chamber music, and the larger Chorale will perform major works.

Students auditioning for the Showchoir should be prepared to sing one popular or Broadway song to an open audition, Benefield explained. Those interested in the group should be prepared to spend the entire day in auditions including sight singing, stage movement, and simple dance steps.

Information on the auditions may be obtained by calling Benefield at the college, 785-7661, extension 120.

Tim Wood Attends National Jamboree

Tim Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wood of Bogata, recently returned from the Tenth National Boy Scout Jamboree held July 27 through Aug. 5, at Fort A.P. Hill, Virginia. A National Jamboree is held once every four years and the boys apply a year ahead and are chosen by various accomplishments and eligibilities in scouting.

Some 33 scouters and three adult leaders attended a pre-jamboree training shakedown at Sulphur Springs during Memorial Day weekend. The purpose of the shakedown was to acquaint the scouts with jamboree life. The scouts were divided into eight men patrols and every activity they were involved in would be on a patrol basis.

On Thursday July 27 the group left Paris via Chartered bus. Their first night was spent at Columbus Air Force Base in Columbus, Miss. After a good nights rest it was up and going at 5 a.m. on Friday, arriving that evening in Columbia, North Carolina and staying at the Navy-Marine Reserve Center. On Saturday evening, after a swim in the Atlantic Ocean, the scouts spent the night at Boy's Club in Elizabeth City, North Carolina. They visited the ship yards in Norfolk, Virginia before spending Sunday at Mary Washington College in Fredericksburg, Virginia. July 27 through Aug. 5 was spent at the Jamboree site. Wednesday through Saturday was spent in and around Washington, D.C. to see the Capital, Arlington National Cemetery, Smithsonian Institute and various other sites. Saturday night was spent in Staunton, Virginia and then down the senic skyline as they drove homeward.

Sunday night was spent in Cookeville, Tenn. before coming on to Paris Monday evening Aug. 10.

The Jamboree itself is phenomenal to say the least.

The 30,000 people pitching tents created a town equal to the 15th largest town in the state of Virginia. There were 14,008 tents made of almost 4 million square feet of canvas and nylon on 662 troop campsites. This housed 300 foreign scouts from 22 nations in addition to 28,000 Americans. There were over 60 thousand link sausage for just one breakfast alone, 75,000 loaves of bread, 16,000 chickens and 30,000 cases of foodstuffs were washed down by 31,000 gallons of fruit drink and 247,000 quarts of milk during the 10 days. 85 tons of charcoal cooked the food served on 564,000 paper plates. Seventy-five medical doctors and 200 medical aids kept the 100 bed army field hospital in operation with an army medic helicopters available for serious injury or illness that needed treatment in nearby Washington, D.C.

A security force of 122 qualified volunteers checked campsites for safety hazards, handled traffic and manned four fire stations. In addition to the above mentioned magnitude of food and staff it's reported the 25,000 boys used only TWO bars of soap. Entertainment was highlighted by the Oak Ridge Boys and Burl Ives.

Tim stated the trip was a once in a lifetime experience and something filled with memories he'll always remember, but the best part of all was seeing the Bogata city limit sign on August 10.

Agricultural Update

Why Trees Die?
"My big beautiful oak tree which shades my home is dying. What can I do about it?" Sound familiar? This type of telephone call is being received all too often in our office. I really hate to get this kind of a call, because there is basically nothing that can be recommended.

A large number of trees and particularly oak are dying in new subdivisions and in other areas where homes have been built. These trees die because of the influence of man. This influence is felt every time we build a road, dig a trench or add a room to an existing building.

Subtle changes such as drainage patterns, water tables, in addition to the more drastic and obvious changes like cutting roots, knocking bark off the tree trunks, suffocating the roots with excess fill dirt all combine to either kill the trees or predispose them to a greater risk of infection from diseases or insect attack.

Often when a large tree becomes ill the homeowner is amazed that this tree is sick. We have a conception that big means strong and tough, but in reality the smaller, more vigorous trees are better able to stand changes in the environment and usually have a better chance of surviving.

House too hot?

Lower bills, stay cool... Here's how!

Summer heat making your house unbearable? You can keep your house cool, and still have reasonable electric bills, by taking a few steps to make your home energy efficient. First, make sure you have enough insulation in your attic, by meeting the R-value requirements for your area. Next, seal all cracks around doors and windows with caulking and weatherstripping. Keep your air conditioning thermostat setting at 78 degrees, using fans to circulate air. Clean or change your air conditioning filter once a month. Lower bills, stay cool . . .

with wise energy management.

Footprints From The Past

By John W. Hood
This is the season for the watermelons to ripen and you can see them almost everywhere now. I don't guess you ever out grow your love for the good juicy melons, but they don't seem as good now as they did when I was a small boy and could raid a patch that the grower was saving for some special occasion. Did you ever slip into a patch late at night, or even in the day time, and get the special one and burst it open and eat it in the patch with the juice running down your face and hands and even getting your shirt sleeve wet? If not you don't know what you have missed. I know that it is wrong to take something that is not yours, but I bet that all boys who were raised in the country have done it.

For the ones of you who have never picked cotton, I will tell you what you have missed. When it came time to gather the crop in the fall we would either buy us a duckin sack that was already made or we would buy about six yards of what we called ducking, but it really was canvas, anyway we would get us what we thought we could afford or what we could pull behind us for the canvas was made into a sack with a strap. You had to pick the cotton out of the burr, and not get any of the burr into the cotton, for that would stain the cotton after it was ginned and the sample was ruined, so you would not get as much for the cotton when it was sold. Now if you think that it was an easy job picking cotton you should try it sometime.

I hear a lot of the old timers say that they wish they could go to the field and pick a sack of cotton. Believe me I don't want to ever have to pick any more cotton.

NOTICE

IF YOU SMELL NATURAL GAS, FOLLOW THESE 3 STEPS TO SAFETY.

- 1. Do not switch anything electrical on or off. Do not use the telephone in your own home. Do not strike a match. Do not do anything that might cause a spark.
- 2. Have everyone leave the house immediately, leaving doors open to help ventilate.
- 3. Go to a nearby telephone and call Lone Star Gas Company. Wait until we have found the source of the odor to determine whether it's safe for you to return to the house.

The natural gas industry has an excellent safety record. The fact that you can smell natural gas is because we add a harmless chemical to it as a safety feature. Otherwise, it would be completely odorless. If you detect faint whiffs of what you think may be gas, investigate. It may be something that is as easily and safely corrected as a pilot light that has gone out, or a burner valve that's partially open.

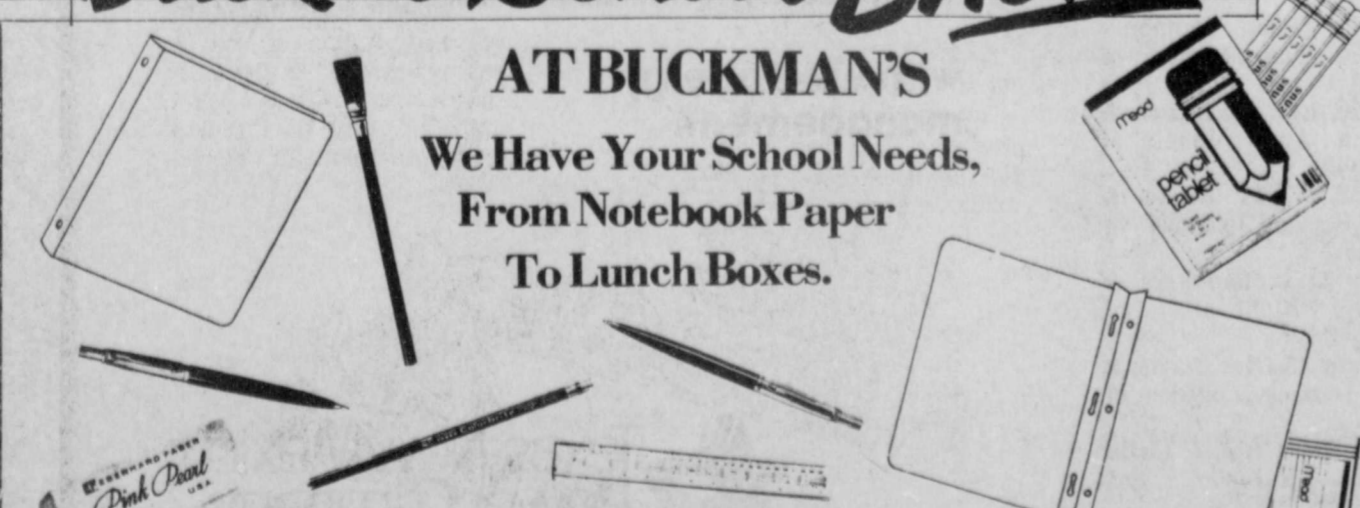

If your equipment seems to be working properly and the odor intensifies and seems to be everywhere, please follow these precautions:

You may never have a natural gas leak, but we want you to be informed in case one does occur. Please make sure your family is aware of these precautionary steps. And we suggest that you keep this message for future reference.

Congressman Hall Calls For Screening Of Libyan Students

First District Congressman Sam B. Hall, Jr. is concerned over the presence of Libyan students in the United States because of their access to nuclear-related courses and facilities in American colleges and universities.

In a letter to Secretary of State Alexander M. Haig, Jr., Congressman Hall, a member of the House Subcommittee on Immigration, Refugees and International Law, joined with other Subcommittee members in asking for assurances that Libyan students are prevented from studying nuclear subjects.

According to the letter, there are an estimated 200 to 300 Libyan nationals who have entered this country with the stated intention of taking nuclear courses in the university system.

"In my judgment the Government of Libya has not acted responsibly in a number of areas critical to peace and harmony among nations of the world, especially in promoting terrorism," Congressman Hall said.

"We must not allow the United States to become a training ground for foreign students who will take their knowledge back home to be applied to terroristic activities against other countries, and I want to know what our State Department is doing to discourage such activity," he added.

A portion of the letter is as follows:

"The dangers of international terrorism and nuclear proliferation are the subjects of much public concern today. As members of the House Subcommittee on Immigration, Refugees, and International Law, we want our immigration laws to be administered in a manner consistent with efforts to reduce these dangers....."

"We would appreciate information describing the steps the Department of State and the Administration have taken, or have under consideration, to prevent the entrance of Libyan national students known or suspected of being terrorists."

"Further, we would appreciate information describing steps that the Department has undertaken to discourage or prevent Libyan students, already studying in the United States, from engaging in academic studies which may have military applications."

entrance of Libyan national students known or suspected of being terrorists.

"Further, we would appreciate information describing steps that the Department has undertaken to discourage or prevent Libyan students, already studying in the United States, from engaging in academic studies which may have military applications."

"International terrorism is one of the scourges of the world today. We do not wish our nation's educational institutions to become, unwittingly, schools for terrorists."

Product Codes Call for Shopper Savvy

Today the Universal Product Code and its scanners are everywhere.

As a consumer checks out, a scanner reads the Universal Product Code, translates the stripes and numbers into items and prices, rings up the sale, totals the bill and prints out an itemized tape with all this information on it.

If a store uses scanners, it usually uses shelf-pricing; which means the price of the item is found on the shelf and not on the package. Therefore comparative shoppers will need to check the shelf area for information about item, name, weight and price. Unfortunately, shelf prices are not always found directly under a product.

When reaching the check-out counter, a shopper will need to observe each item as the computer makes the tape.
