Rebels Capture District

The Rebs have done it again. Friday night the Rivercrest Rebels captured a share of the district title for the fourth straight year and have assured themselves of post season play for the third year out of those four. Head Coach Milford Groves admitted that a little luck and a lot of prayers cleared the way for the Rebels to secure the championship. But the Rebels road to victory was not an easy one Friday night as they defeated the New Diane Eagles 12-7. The Eagles were hoping for a repeat of last years 28-14 victory over the Rebs and came into the game with blood in their eyes. But the Rebels came looking for revenge...and got it.

The game started slow as each team knew the game plan of the other like they know their own mother. The Eagle defense homed in on the Rebs, mauling half-back Jerry Merchant, while the Rebel defensive secondary keyed on David Phillips possible the best receiver in the state. The first quarter remained a draw as the teams exchanged punts, but as the second quarter got under way, Rebel corner-back John Hines came down with an Eagle pass and carried the ball down to New Diane's 16 yard line. It took Merchant only three plays to penetrate the Eagles goal line for a touchdown with 8:30 left of play in the half. The extra point was deflected and Rivercrest led 6-0. The Rebels next possession was stopped by the clock as time ran out at the half.

The second half also started slow with a James Strickland punt at their own 15 yard line. Passes of 30, 23, and 16 yards and a face-mask penalty against the Rebs gave the Eagles a first down on Rivercrest's three yard line, where it took four plays for the Eagles to take the ball over with 3:05 left in the third quarter. The extra point was good and the Eagles led 7-6. The Rebs are not easily discouraged; in fact, when someone scores on them, they get down-right mad! Billy Stewart took the Eagle kick-off back 18 yards to Rivercrest's 47 yard line, from where Strickland cranked the Rivercrest express and his passing arm. When Merchant could not find a hole in the line, Strickland went to the air where he found Bradley Moore for a 16 yard gain. Then from the 34 yard line of the Eagles, Strickland went to Larry Denny who snatched the ball and partially deflected pass and broke a tackle enroute to paydirt with 1:41 left in the third quarter. The Rebs led 12-7. New Diane then went to the air, trying desperately to pick apart the best defensive secondary in the district, with no avail. Strickland ended the first Eagle drive with an interception at the Rebel four yard line. John Hines captured his second interception of the night at the Rebel ten to end the next Diana drive. On the Rebs first play from scrimmage, Merchant took the ball down the right sideline 40 yards to mid-field. The Rebs then drove to Diana's 30, when a Strickland pass was stolen from the hands of his receiver at New Diane's 22 yard line. This slightly upset free-safety Bradley Moore as a few plays later, he returned the favor and came down with an Eagle pass on the Rebels 37 yard line. But the Rebs could not get started and were forced to punt. The Rebel defensive secondary then survived an onslaught of Diana passes and the Eagles turned the ball over on downs with just seconds left on the clock. The Rebs fell on the ball, let time run out, gathered in the middle of the field, prayed, and went home with a 12-7 victory and the district championship. Jerry Merchant led rushing for the Rebels with 102 yards. Strickland completed 3 of 8 passes for 63 yards and one touchdown. The defense was put under tremendous pressure, but they held up and didn't quit. The Rebels will represent District 20-AA in two weeks at bi-district where they will play either Hawkins or Winona, depending on this Friday's results.

Gospel Singing Presented

A gospel singing was enjoyed by Red River Haven residents Saturday evening October 31st. Wayne Huffman, Ralph Cawley, Gayle Roach, and Loree Roach presented an inspiring program of solos and group ensembles. Wayne Huffman performed to a sound track from his recently cut gospel record. The crowd of approximately forty residents then joined in several favorite hymns to conclude a pleasurable evening of gospel music.

Red River County Commissioners Plead Guilty

Two Red River County Commissioners, Precinct 4 Commissioner James Darwin Floyd and Precinct 2 Commissioner Robert L. Edwards, have both pleaded guilty to single counts of mail fraud and conspiracy to commit mail fraud in federal court at Paris on Friday, November 6.

U.S. District Judge William Wayne Justice heard the commissioners enter their guilty pleas as part of a plea bargain with federal attorneys. Each commissioner will have to make $500 restitution to the county and resign from their office. Sentencing has been delayed pending investigation and recomendation by the U.S. probation office.

The maximum sentence the men could receive is five years for each count and an $11,000 fine.

Floyd and Edwards had been charged originally with a total of 37 counts of extortion, conspiracy and mail fraud last May and June when the federal grand jury in Tyler handed down the indictments.

Letters of resignation from the two commissioners were delivered to Red River County Judge Connie Sullivan on Monday. Don Cole, age 49, a seven year Red River County resident, who runs a real estate firm in Avery as Precinct 4 Commissioner, and Clifford Ritchie, age 67, an active farmer and rancher as the Commissioner in Precinct 2. Cole says he took the job on a short-term basis.

Ritchie was named the winner as a write-in candidate for Precinct 3 Justice of the Peace against Belle Glass in unofficial returns, but the results were overturned by a commissioners' court canvass of votes later. Ritchie has served as Detroit school board member for twelve years.

The resignations will result in an almost new Commissioners court for Red River County, as Ben Storey of Precinct 3 and Bruce Scott, Precinct 1, have been in office since January of 1981 only. Storey replaced the vacancy left when Joe Runyon was killed in an auto accident, and Scott fills the post formerly held by Earl Humphrey.

The guilty pleas are two of eight which have been the results of an FBI investigation in Northeast Texas recently. Titus County Commissioner Alvin (Scooter) Parrish and C.H. (Shorty) Reese pleaded guilty to conspiracy and mail fraud only two weeks before. A Bowie County Commissioner was found guilty in the only case to come to trial so far. He received a three year jail sentence.

Highway Work To Begin

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation has recently let a contract for grading, structures, flexible base and hot mix asphalt concrete pavement.

The total length of the project is 8.588 miles with an estimated cost of $1,765,097.82.

The proposed number of working days for completion of the project is two hundred and forty (240) days.

The limits of this project are from U.S. 271 at Bogata, north and east to Scatter Creek.

Work will begin Thursday, November 5, 1981, with prent plans to start grading operations Monday, November 9, 1981.

The Contractor is Boorhem-Fields Equipment Company, Paris, Texas.

At a pre-construction meeting, representatives of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation explained that certain hazards to the traveling public would be prevalent on this project during the process of construction.

Adequate barricades, warning signs and lights will be prominently displayed by the Contractor but motorists should be extremely cautious in driving through the construction area.

The State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, the Contractor, and law enforcement agencies appeal to motorists to obey all barricades, warning signs and exercise caution in traveling through the construction area.

have a nice weekend

Nichols Worth

By Nanalee Nichols
Let me tell all you folks about the great pig chase. It made for an interesting weekend. My husband, Thomas, brought in a sixty pound Yorkshire pig, and temporarily installed it in the backyard.

Unfortunately, late that Saturday afternoon the phone began to ring as neighbors called to report that the pig was out. (There was never any question in their mind's as to where the pig came from—they are all familiar with our dogs, ducks, cats and calves).

By the time I got to the latest pig sighting, no pig. I walked and walked, and when Thomas and his nephew came in, so did they. Well after dark I gave up and started for home, but Thomas thought he heard the pig squeal and took off in the

Reba McEntire

Reba McEntire To Preform

Country-Western superstar Reba McEntire will be present for a one-show engagement in DeKalb, Texas on Saturday, November 21, during the Central States Rodeo Association rodeo.

McEntire, a finalist in Country music's Most Promising Female Vocalist in Nashville earlier this year, brings her current Top 10 songs along with a medley of favorites in the country music field. Her third Mercury album, Feel The Fire, arrives on the success of her hit single "You Lift Me Up To Heaven." The album is a compilation of both new tunes and revitalized old songs, and includes her current single, "I Can See Forever In Your Eyes." Her mentor is the great Red Steagall, who helped form her career in the late 1970's. Her debut album, "Reba McEntire" was released in 1977 to encouraging critical reception, and she made her debut on the Grand Ole Opry following that release. "That Makes Two Of Us" was a duet with western favorite Jacky Ward.

Along with Miss McEntire, top rodeo contestants are expected for the two nights of rodeo competition. Among them are Gary Hiner of Cuthand, Texas, who for the second year has won the championship title in bull riding for the Central Rodeo Association, is the 1980 Central States Rodeo Association bull riding champion and the 1980 and 1981 Finals bull riding champion. Hiner, on October 30, won the World's Richest Bull Riding competition at Billy Bob's Texas in Ft. Worth, where he was paid over $23,000 for his abilities. Competition was open to all associations, and Hiner topped the field over Jerry Beagley, Bobby DelVecchio, Kenny Wilcox, Donnie Gay and others.

Rodeo action begins on Friday, November 20 with seven championship events at the Western Sports Indoor Arena in DeKalb, with the event champions being crowned on Saturday, November 21, and the engagement of Reba McEntire.

Advance tickets may be purchased at 271 Conoco in Bogata, Cotton-Burr Western Store in Clarksville, Blackmon Machinery in DeKalb, Western Discount Store in New Boston, both Western Stores in Texarkana. Box seat tickets are $5 advance and $5.50 at the door. General admission for adults for Saturday night is $4 advance and $4.50 at the door. Friday tickets will be $3 for adults and $2 for children.

The rodeo is produced and directed by the Wing Ranch Rodeo Company of Bogata, where, at the past week in Tulsa, Oklahoma, K-Bob, No. 4, received his second consecutive regional bucking award, a double, as he was chosen Bucking Bull of the Year of 1981 and Bucking Bull of the Finals for 1981 in both the Central Rodeo Association of Texas and the Central States Rodeo Association, which hosts rodeo in the seven mid-western states.

The Wing Ranch Rodeo Company was honored at a banquet held Sunday, November 8, with the co-honor of the biggest award in the rodeo industry, that of Producer of the Year for 1981, in the Central States Rodeo Association.

When I turned in the drive way, there was the pig! I tried to ease her into the garage but no luck. Just as she dashed past I made a grab & came up with a handful of mud and watched her plump rear-end vanish around the corner.

Finally gave up until the next morning. We then arose at daybreak and searched for four hours.

No sooner had we given up and come home than the phone rang and a neighbor called to say our pig was eating pears in his compost heap. We chased her into a corner of the fence, but once more she escaped.

Then David Harbison came out and helped. About that time his father-in-law from Blossom and three little boys showed up. The kids bailed out with obvious glee and the chase was REALLY on! Finally, after all seven of us chasing that pig for thirty minutes, she was cornered and captured and installed in an escape proof trailer.

But commendation has to go to the strangers from Blossom, whom we had never met, who helped put a happy ending to the great pig chase!

Most natural gas has no odor at all.

The gas we deliver to your home or business DOES have an odor, because we put one into it. A harmless chemical odorant we've added as a safety precaution to help you detect its presence if there should be a leak.

- If you smell gas, and the odor is light, check your appliances.
- If the odor is strong and persistent:
1. Do not turn on any lights, electric switches or appliances.
 2. Ventilate your home by opening doors and windows.
 3. Call Arkla Gas immediately.
 4. Turn off the gas valve located at your meter.

Natural gas has a better safety record than any other form of energy. Please help us keep it that way.

SENIOR CITIZEN'S CORNER
HELPFUL IDEAS FOR SUCCESSFUL RETIREMENT

SOMETHING TO DO

If you're over 60 and you're bored, check out the activities at the nearest Senior Citizens Center. Like others who are uneducated, you might think that the Center serves only the poor. Not so. Senior Citizens Centers also serve the needy—the affluent needy—those individuals of active minds and restless energy who greatly need an outlet for their talents and creativity.

The activities of a particular Center, of course, depend upon its size and resources. If the community and the Center are small, activities are limited. In a metropolitan area, however, a variety of continuing-education classes are offered—from painting and folk dancing to conversational French and bridge lessons. Programs may include such subjects as Social Security, fire prevention, flower arranging, crime prevention and leather-crafts. A small fee is usually charged for many of these activities.

Travel is often on the agenda, with one-day trips to vacation spots, museums and historic sites. There may be trips to baseball games, horse races and other sports events.

Some Centers provide a job service by serving as a clearing house for those who need part-time workers and those who are seeking part-time employment. Volunteers are often available to answer questions about Medicare and Medicaid, hospital and insurance plans, the Homestead Act and other matters of import to the senior citizen.

Footprints From The Past

By John W. Hood

Traveling around the country and seeing all the cotton to be harvested, reminds me of the time when I was a young boy and had to help with the gathering of the crops. We would all help with the picking of the cotton and then we had corn to gather. The cotton had to be picked two or three times as it was not all open the first time. By the time we had gone over the whole farm once, the cotton where we first started would be opened enough to start back the second time and by the time we had picked it for the third time, it was getting mighty scarce. By then, it was really a job as the weather was getting to be just a wee bit cold and sometimes we had to wait until the sun had dried the frost off the cotton to be dry enough to pick. Three times was about all we ever picked the cotton as by then it was so scattered that it was not worth the effort or the price and besides you could get no one to pick it as they got paid by the amount that they picked. When the crops were all gathered, your Dad would usually give the kids the scapping and that is how we made our money as we would then go into the fields and pick the scraps, and sometimes we could make pretty good money as the farmers that had no kids, or if they did not want to fool with the scraps, would let us go into their field and scrap their crops also. When we had enough, we would take it to the gin and they would but it from us. Sometimes we would even be picking scrap cotton after the stalks were cut as the cotton was still there and if it had not rained it was still good just a little harder to get.

My brother and I made our Thanksgiving and Christmas money by picking the scrap cotton and we also had some spending money besides, but it was not easy.

The reason that we were able to pick the scraps was that in those days there was no cotton pickers as we know them now. The cotton was all picked by hand and you could always tell when some one had been picking cotton because the burrs would have your fingers sore and your knees and back was sore from stooping or crawling to get the cotton. I have a sore back now, so I am laying the sore back on to the cotton that I picked as a young man and not to old age.

The harvesting of old king cotton has changed a lot from the time when I was a young man and we do not have the scapping where the kids can make some spending money. I for one would have liked to have had the modern machinery when I was a young man as it would have saved my poor back, hands and knees from a lot of pain and I would have had more time to devote to my other habits of just goofing off.

Some Tax Refunds Still Undelivered

Undelivered Federal tax refund checks for some taxpayers are waiting to be claimed, the Internal Revenue Service advises. Many of these checks remain undelivered because taxpayers move and do not leave adequate forwarding addresses with the U.S. Postal Service.

Taxpayers who filed on time and still have not received their tax refunds should check with the IRS as soon as possible, because refund delays can also be caused by lost or stolen checks.

Other refund delays can be caused by errors or omissions on the tax return, such as illegible names or addresses. When inquiring about a delayed refund, the IRS suggests that taxpayers provide the names and addresses as they appear on the return, the social security numbers, the type of form(s) filed, the correct names and addresses if different from those shown on the return.

Generally, an undelivered refund check can be reissued within four to six weeks.

Free Tax Help

Two free publications issued by the Internal Revenue Service explain federal tax rights and responsibilities for small business owners.

Publication 334, "Tax Guide for Small Business," goes into detail on such subjects as setting up a tax records system, determination of net income, tax credits and business assets. Publication 583, "Recordkeeping for a Small Business," explains what a small business person needs to know to meet tax obligations, such as how to file forms and compute the tax.

Taxpayers can obtain these free publications by mail, using the order form in the tax package.

From Soot To Pavement

Transportation researchers are using fly ash—the soot collected from burning coal—as a partial substitute for cement in highway pavement. Some fly ashes, when mixed with water, set up like concrete, say the researchers. Electric power plants which are switching to coal could provide an abundant source of soot.

Rewards, Bonuses Are Taxable Income

Taxpayers should include as income on their 1981 federal income tax returns rewards and bonuses paid to them for outstanding work, the Internal Revenue Service says. Rewards and bonuses include prizes such as a paid vacation trip awarded for attaining sales goals. If the prize or award is in the form of goods or services, its fair market value is the amount the taxpayer must include as income. If the employer chooses to pay the bonus or award at a future time, it is not taxable. Further information is detailed in Publication 525, "Taxable and Nontaxable Income." It is obtainable free by calling the IRS Tax Forms-Information number listed in the telephone directory under U.S. Government.

Taxpayers Recordkeeping

Keeping accurate financial records for income tax purposes should be as important as keeping a record of the family tree. When the time comes for filing a federal tax return, good records can mean the difference between filing an accurate return or an inaccurate one, the Internal Revenue Service says. Good records can also insure that taxpayers take all the deductions and benefits they are entitled to. More detailed information about recordkeeping appears in the free IRS Publication 552, "Recordkeeping Requirements and a List of Tax Publications." Taxpayers can obtain the free publication by mail by using the handy order blank contained in the tax package, or calling the IRS Tax Forms-Information number listed in the local telephone directory.

Civic, Social Groups May Apply For Tax Exemption

Many non-profit civic and social welfare organizations can have their tax-exempt status recognized by the Internal Revenue Service by filing an application for recognition with the IRS. An organization with subordinate chapters can apply for a group exemption letter, rather than having each affiliate apply. "Application for Recognition of Exemption," Form 1024, for the Southwest Region districts is filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue in the Dallas District. The address is provided in the Form 1024 package. IRS Publication 557, "How to Apply for and Retain Exempt Status for Your Organization," has more detailed information and is available free by calling the IRS Forms-Tax Information number listed in the telephone directory under United States Government.

Exempt organizations that normally have gross receipts above $10,000 are required to file an annual Form 990, "Return of Organization Exempt from Income Tax." In addition, organizations that have at least $1,000 in gross income from an unrelated business must file Form 990-T, "Organization Business Income Tax Return." More information on reporting unrelated business income is in the free IRS Publication 598, "Tax on Unrelated Business Income of Exempt Organizations."

Fast Foods

You can lead a hungry family to a fast food restaurant but you can't make them eat right, reports a marketing researcher. Some studies have shown Americans are eating out more and others say more of us are malnourished or overweight. The explanation is that nutrition is one of the least important factors families use when selecting a place to eat. Price is the most important factor in choosing a restaurant.

LOAN TROUBLE

Consigning a loan may seem like a nice thing to do for a friend—but you could wind up in big trouble if you do. A recent study by Purdue University indicates that almost half of the people who consign loans are asked to pay them; they also may be asked to pay late charges or fees and court and attorney fees. Check all papers to be signed and make sure you understand them.

Weekly Agriculture Update

With the time for the first killing frost rapidly approaching, Dr. Sim Reeves, Jr., agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, advises producers with Johnsongrass, sorghums or sudangrass to take precautions when grazing these forages after frost. These plants have a rapid build-up of prussic acid which can be fatal to livestock. However, these plants can be safely grazed if done properly. County Extension agents throughout the area have information on the precautions to follow.

Several producers throughout East Texas will have Christmas trees for sale this year, according to Jim Chandler, Extension forester at Overton. Many will have choose and cut operations beginning about December 1. County agents have a list of the known producers who will be open for business and interested people may contact their local county agent for the nearest location.

With the opening of deer season in many counties, hunters should be aware that the trespass laws in Texas have been revised and now carry a stiffer penalty for trespassing. According to Billy Higginbotham, Extension fisheries specialist, no real sportsman goes onto property without the permission of the landowner. All safety precautions should be taken during the hunting season to reduce the number of human fatalities. Respecting the law and the property rights of others will eliminate possible prosecution for violations.

SHOP FOR PROFITS

If you're still not planning your shopping to save is much money as possible, now is the time to start. Today the wisest of consumers uses a shopping plan that produces profits.

Here's a number of money-saving tips that will help ensure that you don't spend above your means.

First, never shop without a list. Decide exactly what is needed and the maximum amount you can invest before going to the market. Buy only the quantity of goods needed. An irregular or used item may fit the need as well as a new one.

Make a shopping calendar for the year. Plan to buy big ticket items when at price advantage. Stock up on sale items such as food and household supplies, but only if you will use them. Any price paid for goods not needed is a waste of money.

Be sure to ask yourself: "For what else might I use this money? Which use is most important to me now and in the near future?"

Calvary Baptist Sponsors Rally

The Calvary Baptist Church sponsored a Youth Rally Saturday night at the church. Butch Black was the guest singer. He sang some of the songs that he had written, and gave his testimony. After the singing refreshments were served. There were about 25 youth and adults in attendance. Refreshments included sandwiches, chips, and dip, soft drinks and cookies.

Second Place

With its 674,000 residents squeezed into 45 square miles, San Francisco stands second only to New York as the most densely populated major U.S. city, National Geographic says.

GTE Customers Can Return Phones

General Telephone residential or single-party business customers in Talco who discontinue telephone service and decide not to purchase the phones. "To make the return of telephones more convenient for those Talco customers wanting to return them, we have installed a telephone return depository in Talco where they can return the phones and save the pick-up charge," Barbara Kellum, Sulphur Springs Division Manager said.

Food & Art Fair Scheduled

Homemakers attending are invited to share their holiday decoration ideas with a display, but it is not a requirement. A salad luncheon will be shared at noon.

Everyone is invited to attend all or part of the event.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

purchase their instruments locally if they want to save the charge if the company must send a person to pick up the phones.

The company announced in August that customers now have three options when discontinuing service: return the phone to the company, have the company send an employee to pick up the phone with a pick-up charge being applied, or purchase the phones. "To make the return of telephones more convenient for those Talco customers wanting to return them, we have installed a telephone return depository in Talco where they can return the phones and save the pick-up charge," Barbara Kellum, Sulphur Springs Division Manager said.

Kellum said customers will receive instruction on how and where to take instruments when they contact the business office to discontinue their service.
