Rivercrest Places In Center At Contest

By Nanalee Nichols
Thanksgiving is this Thursday, of course, and sometimes it is hard not to lose sight of the original purpose of the holiday.

It is easy to forget that the Pilgrims originated the holiday, and that it is not held for the purpose of holding football games.

After near starvation the Pilgrims were thankful for pumpkins, meat, corn and the friendship of a small band of Indians...plus just being alive.

We have so much now. We talk of hard times, but almost any "old timer" can recall much harder times, and when one remembers the day-to-day struggle just to survive back when this nation was being settled the problems we contend with aren't so formidable.

So many things are taken for granted now. Such a simple thing is a glass of water. We turn a tap, and water comes forth, hot or cold.

Not too many years ago, water had to be drawn from wells, or before that, taken from creeks or springs.

We flip a switch and the lights come. We give it no more thought than breathing.

When we turn a key an engine cranks. The vehicles available to us now travel distances in comfort that our ancestors fought step by grueling step.

Warmth in unheard of forms, unheard of quantities is available to us. We fuss about the cost, but it didn't matter how much money was available back in the past, it couldn't buy a comfortable house.

And consider food. Cooking is no problem, gas or electric or microwave...there is a choice.

Turkeys are available in a staggering number of ways. A plain frozen turkey can be purchased at any store. Or one that bastes itself in golden butter...or one that consists of only breast meat...or one that is half dark meat and half white and packaged in a neat little roll...or one that is smoked...or glazed. About the only kind of turkey not available right now is one alive and unfrozen!

The whole point is just how much we really DO have to be thankful for. We are warm, sheltered, fed, and comparatively unthreatened.

This Thanksgiving Day, give it a thought.

Rivercrest Drama Club Scores Hit With "Oz"

The Rivercrest Drama Club presented "The Wizard of Oz" by L. Frank Baum for the students of the Talco and Bogata Schools on Thursday, Nov. 18. The play began with Dorothy landing in the imaginative and exciting land of the Munchkins. There she meets the Munchkins and the Good Witch of the North, who tells Dorothy to go to the Emerald City and talk to the Great Wizard of Oz. On the way to the Emerald City, Dorothy meets a scarecrow, who has no brain, a tin woodman, who has no heart and a cowardly lion, who has no courage. The four become great friends and seek out the knowledge of the Great Wizard, who sends them on a journey to kill the Wicked Witch of the West. Dorothy melts the witch with a pail of water and Oz grants each of the four their desire, but Dorothy misses the balloon back to Kansas. The people of the Emerald City tell Dorothy of Glinda the Good Witch of the South. The four friends journey to Glinda's castle. The scarecrow, tin woodman and cowardly lion are each given people to rule over. Glinda reveals to Dorothy a magical way to return to Kansas.

The members of the cast are Deana Strawn as Dorothy, Stan Wood as the Scarecrow, Larry Davis as the Tin Woodsman, Bradley Moore as the Cowardly Lion, Jim Early as Oz, Rhonda Branch as the Wicked Witch of the West, Kathie Williams as the Good Witch of the North, Cindy Howard as Glinda the Good Witch of the South, Kelly Jeffery, Clay

Tidwell and Michael Howard as the Munchkins, Richard Mays, Clay Tidwell as the Winged Monkeys, Joe Ward as the soldier, Staci Parish as the lovely lady, Nancy Smith as Aunt Em, and Angela Tucker as the narrator.

A special attraction was the appearance of Stormy as Toto the dog. The stage crew were Roger Tipton, John Hines, Cindy Williamson and Stacy Spencer.

The play was under the direction of Miss Mona Roberts.

Talco VFD Working For Fire-Rescue Equipment

The Talco Volunteer Fire Department is in the process of collecting donations for fire and rescue equipment. They are currently in need of air pack's for fighting house fires and emergencies requiring self-contained air equipment. Also included in this will be equipment needed for an emergency response and rescue truck. This will include oxygen tanks, regulators, air masks and a demand valve for victims requiring oxygen. They will also need another mobile radio, ropes, jacks and other rescue tools. Some of our fire personnel are in the process of taking an eight-week first aid course and hope in the near future to establish an emergency medical system with the Fire Department being the first to respond. This system will be explained at a later date. The Department's last drive for a fire truck and radios was very successful, but they are again needing everyone's help in this matter. Firemen with proper identification will be collecting donations or you can send your donations to Talco Volunteer Department, P.O. Box 365, Talco, TX 75487.

Check For Fire Equipment

RUSTY JONES, vice-president of the Talco State Bank, presents Randy Carroll, Talco

Volunteer Department Fire Chief with a $200 check to help buy equipment for the emergency response and rescue truck.

Rivercrest Has "Shoot Out" On Tap

There will be two matched games beginning at 6 p.m. at Rivercrest High School. New Diana of District 17AA and the defending champion of District 17AA will battle North Hopkins of District A.

North Hopkins is also the defending champion of their district. North Hopkins lost in bi-district to West Lamar at Rivercrest gym last year. The other matched game puts last year's state semi-finalist, West Lamar, against Rivercrest. This should be a fine evening of entertainment for area basketball fans.

West Lamar has basically their entire team back from last year and is rated as one of the top Class A teams in the state. Rivercrest has four starters returning and could upset West Lamar.

A large crowd is hoped for in support of the teams assembled. The price of admission is $1.00 for students and $2.00 for adults.

Footprints From The Past

By John W. Hood
 Thanksgiving is one of the most special times I can remember from my childhood days.

All the family gathered at my grandmother Hood's home for a day of feasting and visiting, and talking about the Christmas holidays ahead.

Back then my granmom insisted that everyone come to her house for a "big feed" and no place else would do. Thanksgiving was such a good holiday. As far as I was concerned, it was one of the best.

There was always a lot of good eats and all the other kids and the aunts and uncles. After we had eaten all we could hold, us kids would go out to play while the older women would clean up the dishes, and by the time they were all through, it would be time for the football game between Texas and Texas A&M.

All the men would gather around the radio to listen to the game, and Mam would quit the women and join the men and boys, because she loved football. Football wasn't her favorite sport, but it always held her until the baseball season began!

Mama could tell anyone the leading rusher, and who was the leader in passes or punts. She knew who all the coaches were, and the standings in the Southwest conference, and she would spend a lot of time explaining the game to us little ones.

When baseball season began, Mama very seldom missed a game on the radio. She knew all the big league players, what position they played and their batting average.

Her favorite was the Texas league, and she would gather all us young ones around her and explain all the things that went on, who was the next hitter, whether he was liable to hit or not. Mama would get excited over the home town teams too.

Intense rivalry would go on between the Bogata and Deport teams, and mama knew everyone. She would holler at the opposing pitcher trying to get him rattled so he would make a mistake, and darned if I don't think it worked sometimes.

Mama helped us kids in sports a lot. She made yarn baseballs, and if we didn't have enough on a team, she would come out and play with us.

Thinking back to past Thanksgivings I know now that there was never anytime greater than sitting around that radio, stuffed with good food and my mom's face glowing with the excitement of a football game!

East Texas Eating

an alive, vibrant hue that only fresh cranberries can yield. And the flavor was fresh and clearly cranberry!

made Hot Spiced Cranberry Lemonade to our garden club group last week.

Jellied Cranberry Sauce
4 cups cranberries (1 lb.)
2 cups boiling water
2 cups sugar
Optional: 2 inches stick cinnamon, 2 whole cloves, 1/4 tsp. salt

Wash and pick over the cranberries. Make sure you have 4 cups. Most packages available this year contain only 12 ounces; you will need another cup of cranberries.

Place the cranberries in a saucepan. Cover with the boiling water. As soon as the water begins to boil again, cover the saucepan with a lid. Boil the berries 3 or 4 minutes or until the skins burst. Put them through a strainer or ricer. If you desire a clear jelly, strain the puree through three thicknesses of cheesecloth to remove pulp and seeds.

Stir into the puree or juice the two cups sugar. Heat to a rolling boil. you want a not too firm sauce, remove from the heat at once. If you want a molded sauce or jelly, boil about 5 minutes, skim, then pour into a wet mold. If the cranberries are very ripe, cook a few minutes longer.

Cranberry-Orange Bread
Sift together:
2 cups sifted flour
1 1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. salt
1 cup sugar

Mix in thoroughly:
2 Tbsp. shortening
Grated rind and juice of 1 orange plus fresh or diluted frozen orange juice to make 3/4 cup

1 egg, beaten
Fold in:
1 cup raw cranberries, cut in halves

Pour into a greased 9x5x3" loaf pan. Bake in a 350 degree oven until toothpick stuck into center comes out clean, about one hour.

Hot Spiced Cranberry Lemonade
1 (12 oz.) pkg. cranberries
8 lemons
1 1/4 cup sugar
2 sticks cinnamon
6 whole cloves
8-10 cups water

Heat cranberries with 3 cups of the water. Bring to a boil, simmer five minutes. Squeeze lemons, remove seeds. Add juice and pulp to cranberries. Put through a strainer or a ricer, or puree in food processor in two batches. Strain.

Add sugar and spices to the cranberry and lemon juices. The spices can be tied in cheesecloth, put in a spice ball, or strained out after heating. Bring to a boil. Turn heat off, cover and let stand five minutes. Remove spices. Serve hot.

Residents Request Work At Commissioner's Meeting

A number of Precinct 1 residents in Red River County were present at the special session of the Red River County Commissioners on November 15 to express their dissatisfaction with the condition of the road that runs by the Russell Guest property.

They asked Commissioner Bruce Scott to make arrangements to repair and make passable the road which runs through the area. Scott explained that at the present, all machinery is in the Cuthand area, trying to repair and finish roads there before winter weather makes work impossible and roads impassable.

residents had appeared last year with similar requests, saying that school buses could not go through some of the roads there.

Scott said that it would be about two weeks before the area around the Guest property could be worked on, and at present, since no tax money has been forthcoming this year, Precinct 1 had only a small amount of operating money to last until the new year.
