Worth

By Nanalee Nichols
It's spring...at least that's what the calendar says. And it was surely spring-like for a little while.

That "while" was just long enough to whet everyone's appetite for warmer weather, gardening, yard work and outdoor sports.

It was also long enough to "thin" everyone's blood down so that when the cold came back, it bit down harder than before.

Somehow the brief spell of balmy sunshine just made all those gray skies and chilly temperatures that much worse.

At least we're not celebrating the first day of spring with an ice sculpting contest like they are in New York State. Or trying to keep the blizzard driven snow off a football field as they were up in Denver, Colorado.

But our poor fruit trees, which have been in full bloom, probably are in a state of shock. Those cautious enough not to bloom during the first cold spell found themselves caught by the second one!

Critters such as horses and cows started to shed out their heavy winter coats, then found themselves shivering in a cold rain.

Besides all the cold and rain, the wind has howled practically non-stop for the past few weeks. In warm times, the wind doesn't bother much, but when it turns off chilly, it seems to drive the temperature right into bones.

In July everyone will probably think back to the cold with wistful longing, but right now, our typical March weather is making it a little hard to know whether to put on a summer short set or a pair of long handles.

Suit Asking For Removal Of Bruce Scott

A number of Red River County, Precinct One residents, have filed a quo warranto legal proceeding against Commissioner Bruce C. Scott.

The quo warranto action challenges Scott's right to hold office, and is based on an article of the Texas Constitution.

The civil action is filed in the name of the State of Texas through the County Attorney's office on the part of several relators. Relators are: Neil Rozell, George Marshall, Sr., Clifford Ritchie, W.C. Covington, C.O. (Son) Welch, Tim Rogers and Thomas C. Welch.

Although the suit is channeled through the County Attorney's office, the proceedings will be handled by Pat C. Beadle, senior member of the Clarksville law firm of Beadle and Beadle, a private attorney engaged by the relators.

The quo warranto action asks that Scott's term of office be terminated as of the date he filed for election and the return of all salaries and allowances, in the amount of $14,625, plus interest, since that time, alleging that Scott has not legally been an official since his date of filing on February 1, 1982.

The cause of the action resulted from events of 18 months ago when the Commissioner's Court readjusted the County Precinct boundaries to make more equal the population in each of the four Red River County precincts.

Clarksville is the most heavily populated section, and was considered the easiest to adjust without seriously affecting county roads, therefore it received the most changes.

Scott, who lives a few hundred yards south of Clarksville on FM910, was in Precinct 1 under the old precinct lines. The road at that time served as the Precinct line.

The new line moved west several blocks, placing Scott, who was ending the first year of his four-year term, in Precinct 4.

This put Scott out of compliance with the ruling that a Commissioner must reside in his district, although by a special ruling he could have served the remainder of his term, ending December 31, 1984, without moving.

However, Scott chose to run for the position of Precinct 4 Commissioner in the Democratic Primary elections of 1982. Darwin Floyd, Precinct 4 commissioner, had resigned, and the office was being filled by Don Cole, an appointed official who chose not to run for office.

The suit charges that Scott violated the portion of the Texas Constitution which states that an official cannot run for an office while holding another.

The Constitution provides that if more than one year remains on the original term, as it did in Scott's case, filing for the office constitutes an automatic resignation at that time.

Scott apparently was relying in part on decisions of a U.S. District Court and the U.S. 5th Court of Appeals that at that time this particular portion of the Texas Constitution was not valid. The U.S. Supreme Court, however, later ruled that it was in effect.

Visiting Judge David Moore of Gladewater was in Clarksville last Friday and presided over the court.

The quo warranto legal proceeding requires that a District Judge must give leave to file the suit before it can be activated, and after a brief hearing, Judge Moore, gave permission to file the suit.

The action will proceed now much as any lawsuit. Scott must obtain private counsel if desired in this case, as the County Attorney is a party to the suit. Normally the County Attorney represents members of the court.

Scott has been heavily criticized by residents of his precinct during his service as commissioner, with several complaints being brought before the Commissioner's Court, mostly relating to road maintenance, and often coming from the Bogata, Fulbright and Cuthand area.

Scott has maintained that he has utilized his funds to the best possible use.

If the ruling by the District Judge goes against the Commissioner, he could stay in office during the appeal process if he chose to. However, salaries and allowances paid during this period would remain in doubt.

HEAVY DAMAGE occurred when Ira Thomas Smith plunged his late model Oldsmobile Omega into a large hole cut in Highway 37 about one mile south of Bogata last Friday. The highway department was in the process of repairing the road when the driver hit the hole. The hole was marked with pylons and markers. Smith was from Dallas, and did not suffer severe injuries in the accident. (Staff Photo by Diana Eudy)

Meteorite Team Works In Shadowland

By Nanalee Nichols
There were some strange things going on at the old Shadowland Plantation over the past few weeks, and Chris Kennedy, ten year old son of Bob and Jo Ann Kennedy, decided to investigate.

He ended up spending his spring break from school helping a research team look for meteorites.

The group of men swinging metal detectors over the plowed fields turned out to be a Meteorite Recovery Team, headed by David Baker.

Shadowland, located between Deport and Bogata, has long been recognized as a site for the unusual chunks of iron that fell from outer space, according to Baker. James Rhodes discovered the first reported Shadowland meteorite in 1930, when he was 17. Realizing that it was something unusual, he sent it to the Smithsonian Institute.

Kenneth Gifford found three more on the place, and to date, 23 pieces of meteorite have been located at Shadowland. Four of them turned up last week during the meteorite recovery team's search of the area.

Baker says that meteorites are probably asteroid fragments that have been deflected into earth's orbit following collisions in space.

The ones found in this area are probably about 500 years old. Carbon dating is non-applicable to meteorites, but the amount of rust on them helps determine their age.

Baker is writing a book on meteorite showers in the United States. He has searched for them in many places, including Plainview, Albuquerque, N.M. and Flagstaff, Az.

There are around 900 known meteorite locations in the U.S., and Baker's book will cover around 130 sites.

The four pieces found locally ranged in size from one and a half pounds to only an ounce.

The bigger chunk was lying exposed in the middle of the road, the rest were located by metal detector.

Kids are responsible for many of the finds, because they take time to look at the world around them and notice things a little differently.

When questioned as to why meteorites were important Baker explained that they actually contain minerals not found on earth, but often from other galaxies entirely!

Sixty minerals not found on this planet have been identified in meteorites.

The oldest is 700 million years older than the oldest known earth rock, and 500 million years older than nearly all lunar rocks. The study of them provides significant facts regarding the origin of the solar system and formation of the planets.

How to identify a meteorite? Baker says that they are "rusty", and can be attracted by a hand magnet. If a corner is ground off, they will show a bright, white metallic surface, or flecks of shiny metal.

The ones found in this area are mostly iron, with about seven percent nickel in them.

Four Candidates Listed On Talco-Bogata Trustee Ballots

Four candidates' names will be listed on the ballot for the April 2 trustee election to elect three school trustees for the Talco-Bogata School District.

From Bogata, John M. Ward, incumbent and present chairman of the Board, and Mildred Eudy will be listed on the ballot.

From Talco, Jerry Russell, incumbent and present vice-chairman of the Board and Johnny Hood will be listed on the ballot. One candidate from the Bogata area will receive a three-year term; one candidate from the Talco area will receive a three-year term, with the next candidate receiving the largest number of votes receiving the one-year term at large.

Absentee voting will continue through Tuesday, March 29 at Rivercrest High School. Voting boxes for the Saturday, April 2 election will be held at the Talco Elementary School and the Bogata Gymnasium.

Junior Livestock Show Set

The annual Spring Youth Project Show and Junior Livestock Show will be held on Saturday, April 9 at the Legion Park Fairgrounds. The livestock show will begin at 8:00 a.m. with the weighing for market lambs. Public viewing of the project show begins at approximately 11:00 a.m.

This will be the third annual open show for beef and dairy cattle. Beef Classes will be: Angus, Gray Brahman, Brangus, Charlais Hereford, Limousin, Santa Gertrudis, Simmental, Other Breeds and Steers.

Dairy classes will be: Brown Swiss, Guernsey, Holstein and Jersey.

County youth will also be showing sheep for the first time in the Junior Livestock Show. Three weight divisions of market lambs will be shown with the top twenty to be sold at auction. All activities will be stopped for the sale which begins at 12:00 noon.

In addition to the livestock show, county youth will display their various projects which will vary from clothing, canned goods and poster art to wood-working.

These projects will be judged and be on display in the exhibit building and livestock barn of the fairgrounds.

The public is invited to view all the activities on Saturday, April 9th. It should prove to be an interesting day.

Robbery Suspect Apprehended In Bogata

A long chase which began in the Paris area last Friday afternoon ended at the junction of Highway 271 and 37 in Bogata.

Jeffery Wayne Whitworth, age 30, apparently stole his stepfather's 1980 Chevrolet and then fled from Paris City Police officers in the vehicle.

The Lamar County Sheriff's deputies pursued

Whitworth over much of the east end of Lamar County. He ran into another vehicle in Bogata, where Highway Patrolman Parsons apprehended him.

Whitworth was taken to Red River County Jail and later transferred to Lamar County facilities. Charges have been filed in the matter.

Local Sales Tax Rates Reflect Economic Situations

State Comptroller Bob Bullock recently returned $34.9 million in local sales tax payments to 974 cities who levy the one-percent city sales tax.

"Statewide, these payments are running 4.5 percent behind last year," Bullock said. "This decline in both local and state receipts from the sales tax was part of the reason I have lowered my estimate of available state revenues."

Locally, Blossom received $844.01 this period, bringing the 1983 total to $2,515.58, for a 12.88 percent increase over last year. Deport received a check for $579.60, compared to no payment the previous year, for a total of $1,868.35 as compared to $1,575.83, or a 18.56 percent increase.

Paris received a check totaling $65,625.34, bringing the 1983 total to $426,350.14, for an 8.44 percent increase over 1982.

Bogata received $2,369.26 for its share, comparable to $735.95 for a 34.17 percent increase over the same period in 1982. Clarksville received $7,716.42, comparable to $11,282.03 for the same period last year, for a 0.63 percent decrease.

Talco received $2,094.91 for its payment this period, bringing the 1983 total to $6,708.78 for a 7.97 percent decrease.

Bullock also sent March rebates to the state's two Metropolitan Transit Authorities. The Houston MTA received $7.9 million, compared with $10.8 million last March. The San Antonio MTA got $1.1 million, compared with nearly $1.2 million last March.

The City and MTA sales taxes are collected along with the state sales tax by merchants and rebated monthly to the cities in which they are collected by the Comptroller.

The March checks were for taxes collected on sales made in January and reported to the Comptroller by the end of February.

IDENTIFIED—this old picture, run last week, was identified by Juantia Rhodes as Nobels and Read Dry Goods Store, located in Deport. As a bonus, the copy of the picture that she had even identified the people in the picture. From left behind counter was Mrs. N. Rollins. In front of counter were Ruby Thompson, Mrs. Veteto, Mrs. Stone (head visible), Mrs. Freeman and Aileen Moore (youngster). Willie Stalls was in the

East Texas Eating

By Margie Rice

Cinnamon Sauce

Here is a delicious fresh food idea that you can do with bananas which are appearing in several of our local produce departments with fairly attractive prices. I worked the recipe out several years ago after eating banana fritters with cinnamon sauce in a Houston restaurant.

The fritters are delicious as a fairly light dessert - or as a continental style breakfast with fresh, hot coffee.

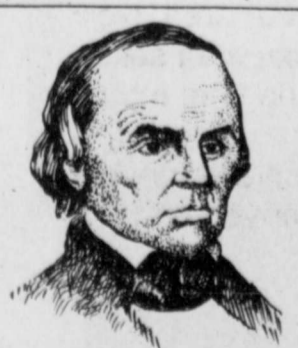

Banana Fritters with Cinnamon Sauce

Dip quartered bananas into fritter batter. Drop into hot (375 degree) deep cooking oil and fry until golden brown. Drain and serve hot with sauce.

Fritter Batter (for 4 or 5 bananas)

- 1 egg
- 1/4 cup milk
- 1/2 cup sifted flour
- 1/2 tsp. baking powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. cooking oil

Beat eggs, stir in milk. Sift together and beat in the flour, baking powder, and salt. Beat in the 1/2 tsp. cooking oil.

God grants liberty to those who love it, and are always ready to guard and defend it.

Book Club Meets At Mrs. Pucketts

*The Bogata Book Club met March 10, 1983 at the home of Mrs. Alfred Puckett. Mrs. Harold Geese was Co-hostess.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Gordon Allen called the meeting to order. Ten members answered roll call. Mrs. Puckett led the club collect and pledge to the flag.

Mrs. Allen introduced the program "Texas Pioneer Personalities" and presented Mrs. Iva Hooker who gave an oral history of the lives and experiences of her aunt and uncle, Jane and John Dickson, pioneer residents of Red River County.

A program on "International Hospitality" was introduced with the couple's son, the late Rev. B.F. Dickson.

John Dickson was born in Tennessee in 1826, and migrated to Texas in 1853 soon after his marriage to Jane Dickson of Kentucky.

Mrs. Hooker told of the many hardships encountered in settling into what then was a frontier area. She told of the onset of the civil war and the departure of John Dickson to the army for 4 years while his wife managed alone with several small children in a remote cabin south of the area now known as Cuthand.

Twelve children were born to this couple, only 5 of whom survived their parents. The Dicksons died in 1908.

In summation, Mrs. Hooker pointed out that theirs was a typical experience of life on the early Texas frontier.

After the program, a brief business meeting was conducted and a reminder was given of the spring District Convention in Atlanta on March 18th and 19th.

The meeting closed with the club dismissal and refreshments were served during the social hour.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Talmadge Morgan on March 24th.

Mrs. W.C. Barnard and Mrs. Avrett Vaughan were hostesses on February 24 when the Book Club met in the Barnard home.

The president, Mrs. Carlton Stanley, presided over a short business meeting.

A program on "International Hospitality" was introduced with the quotation "Too far east is west." Mrs. John Parrish spoke on European touring and displayed articles of interest acquired in different countries during trips which they had made.

Refreshments were served to 12 members after the meeting adjourned.

Local Boy Wins Calf

Jody Thornton, a 13 year-old 4-H member from Bogata, Texas, successfully caught a calf in the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo Calf Scramble at the March 6, evening performance of the rodeo. Winning a $600 calf purchase certificate sponsored by Lockwood National Bank, Jody will be making the choice of a registered beef or dairy heifer to feed, fit, groom and bring back to Houston for showing competition in the 1984 Show.

The Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo Calf Scramble results in a year-long educational experience in the livestock industry for each of the lucky winners.

Since the inception of the program, more than $1.9 million of quality animals, some 9,000 heifers, have been awarded.

Jody's mother Mrs. Dot Thornton and sister, Mrs. Ferrilyn Moore and Kendra accompanied him to Houston.

Bess: Do you think Tom could be happy with a girl like me?
 Jess: Maybe—if she wasn't too much like you.

Maggie Hunsaker

Mrs. Hunsaker Honored On Birthday

The Bogata United Methodist Women met last Wednesday at the church for a covered dish luncheon honoring Mrs. Maggie Hunsaker on her 88th birthday. She was born in 1895 and is a longtime resident of Bogata. The group presented her with a corsage of red carnations and a birthday cake.

Present were Mrs. Hunsaker, Ruth Varner, Gertie Choate, Lucille Kokernot, Audrey Warren, Audrey Canfield, Luella Swaim, David and Camille Rucker, Dinah and Peter, Anaya Phillips, Lindy and Bonnie, Amanda Allen, Mattie Chesshire, Iva Hooker, Mary Lassiter, Mildred Eudy, Eleanor McCluer, Mabel Trout and Vashti Hood.

Registration Going On Now For Community Education

Enrollment is being accepted for the following classes and or workshops: Country-Western Dance, Silk Floral Design, Dry Brush Ceramic Figurine Workshop and Color Image Workshop.

In order to pre-register for the listed classes, call Kay Kennedy, Director of Community Education or Janice Franks, Business Manager, Talco-Bogata Schools at 632-5205.

Country-Western Dance will be held for ages high school and up. Dates for the class will be May 9, 10, 16, 17, 23, 24 from 7:15 to 9:15 p.m. nightly. Join the class and learn or review the Texas Two-Step, Waltz, Cotton Eyed Joe and Sweetheart Schottische. Fee for the course is $25 per couple. Instructors will be Kathy and Eddie Belcher. The class will meet in the Rivercrest Cafeteria. The class will be limited to 15 couples.

The Silk Floral Design class will meet for three sessions, each three hours in length. Dates and times of the class are April 14, 21 and 28 from 6 to 9 p.m. Learn the basics in silk flower arranging including learning about containers, mechanics of arranging, materials, designs and elements and principles of flower arranging. Students may participate in making individual arrangements. Supplies for your arrangement may be purchased from the instructor or at the place of your choice. Some items you may need for your arrangement may be items that you have at home. Each individual will be responsible for paying for his own supplies. Tuition for the class is $8 plus your individual project supplies. Instructor for the class will be Gayla Griffin who has taught a number of floral arranging classes for PJC. The class will meet in Room 106 at Rivercrest High School.

The Dry Brush Ceramic Figurine Workshop will include the dry brush technique which is used to complete life-like features. In this three night workshop to be held from 7 to 9 p.m. on April 4, 5 and 7 the figurine of three raccoons in a tree will be completed. No ceramic experience is required. Students may purchase other ceramic supplies from the instructor, if desired. Each student will need a cleaning tool and brush. These items may be purchased at the workshop if you do not have access to them. Fee for the course will be $12 which includes the cost of your figurine, paints, and kiln firing. The instructor will be Mary Ellen Kain.

The Color Image Workshop will be held on Tuesday, May 13 from 6 to 7 p.m. in the Rivercrest Homemaking Room. The workshop will consist of a presentation from Patti K. Vaculik, Consultant, Sulphur Springs. Fee for the group presentation is $3 per person and should be paid in advance before the date of the program. Persons may attend the group presentation only at a cost of $3. Individual consultations are separate and will be done only at the request of the individual. After the group presentation, the consultant will be available to do personal individual consultations upon request by individuals. Individual color and style consultations consist of learning all about your best colors for clothing, make up, accessories, a color packet showing your best colors, and styles that are best for you according to your body proportions. The fee for this is $50 per person. A "colors only" consultation is $35 per person. If interested in an appointment for a personal color and style consultation or a colors only consultation, call now for an appointment so that plans may be made for your convenience.

BANK CENTS

By Neil Rozell

The people who sit behind the desks at the bank are just people too. The thing that sets them apart from other office workers in the town is they have some specialized training to do their job, either in the form of formal education or from banking or business experience which allowed them a bank job opportunity. A bank officer like any one else, has a job to do. He, however, has more people to report to than nearly any other office worker. Should he make a mistake he has to answer to the customer, the bank president, the board of directors, and the supervisory authorities.

I would like to take a line or two and say that our bank is fortunate in having the greatest caliber of people in our employ. We are very proud of each one and hope you enjoy doing business with them.

We want you to know more about our business!!!

Peacock worshiped

With seemingly a hundred eyes in its resplendent tail, the peacock was believed by the ancients to be gifted with supernatural powers. It was both worshiped and feared. The early Christians associated it with the phoenix and saw it as a symbol of resurrection.

Bilingual Education Project Funded For Area

In an effort to assist school districts with their limited English speaking children and the state and federal laws that must be in compliance, the Texas Education Agency has funded a bilingual education project through Region VIII Education Service Center in Mt. Pleasant. The $15,500 received for this project funds a half-time consultant and buys materials to be available for use by the schools in order to implement the education of children who do not speak English in their home. The consultants, Utley Nowlin, is available upon request to assist schools in testing the limited English proficient children, assisting the administration and teachers of the district in placing the students, implementing appropriate instruction for the students, and conducting inservice sessions on English as a Second Language and Bilingual Education.

This project serves all schools within Region VIII upon request.

"So I walked up to him and said, 'Only a coward would strike that woman — why don't you hit a man?'" "Then what happened?" "That's all I remember."

"Egbert was asked to be a judge in the flower show. But when he got there they sent him home." "How come?" "Because they thought he didn't smell so good."

Footprints From The Past

By John W. Hood
On Saturday, I attended a birthday party for one of my Aunties who was 99 years old on March 16. She is the only living sister of my dad and she has one brother who is 89 years old and will be 90 next month.

It sure brought back a lot of pleasant memories when all of her kids arrived and also all of the rest of the family. Seeing all her boys now old like me, but I was carried back to the times when we were young and would visit and play all the games that were so popular with the young in those days. Games like pop the whip where you would all line up in a straight line, hold hands and the one at the head of the line would use both hands as he was the whip. We would all start to run and then the whip would stop and see how far he could throw the ones who were on the other end, sometimes the one who was on the tail-end of the line would get quite a spill and sometimes the little ones would be hurt and you had to stop the game.

We had a game where we would take hold of someone with both hands and give them a little spin. They had to stay frozen in the position they came to a stop in. There were a lot of funny positions, but we would usually get tired of it after everyone had a chance to be the one frozen, then it was some other game until we were all too tired to play any more. By that time it was dark and after we had our supper, we would all sit around and tell stories.

I remember one that always would send cold chills up my spine. I don't remember how it went now, but I do remember that it always ended by saying "It floats, it floats" and by that time I was long gone to hurt up my Mom, so she could hold me and not let the boogers get me.

I started this with the information that my Aunt Bessie Maddox was 99 years old and that she was my dad's sister, so it was at her house that I spent a lot of my time. I also had another cousin by the name of Sidney Maddox who would visit with the Maddox boys in the summer and we all had a lot of good times playing all the games that boys play including baseball, corn cob fights and hunting and fishing.

I want this to be all about Aunt Bessie and what fun it was to visit in her home. It was always the highlight of my summer visits to be privileged to visit her home, for she was never too tired to have something for tired little boys to eat or drink, like poppy-pop as we called it when I was a boy.

If Aunt Bessie did not have something already fixed, she would take time out from her schedule and fix us something. A farm woman had a busy and hard life in those days, as she had no gas or electric stove to fix lunch on, but had to cook on a wood stove, no matter how hot it was and there was wood to be brought in to burn in the stove and no matter how hot it was, the stove had to be burning to cook.

Aunt Bessie was one of my favorite Aunties when I was growing up and she still is and I would like for her to know about it now. I have told her so many times but I

Wilma Bell Buried Sunday

Wilma Bell died at home in Centerville, Texas on Friday, March 11.

She was born January 27, 1916. She was the daughter of Joe E. and Laura Ona Cass Wright. She married Ventis Bell on September 17, 1934. She lived most of her young life in the Minter Community.

Graveside services were held at Centerville Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m., March 13.

She is survived by her husband, Vertis Bell of Centerville; a daughter, Shirley Martha Roddy of Houston; one son, Stanley Glen Bell of Garland; two brothers, Elvis Wright of Minter and Milton A. Wright of Clarksville. She had four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Nellie Clark Dies Sunday

Mrs. Nellie M. Clark, 89, of Bogata died Sunday, March 20 at Red River Haven Nursing Home.

Services were scheduled for 2 p.m. Monday, March 21 at the First Baptist Church in Bogata with the Rev. Bob Posey officiating and burial in Bogata Cemetery by Bogata Funeral Home. Grandsons served as pallbearers.

Mrs. Clark was born Dec. 13, 1893 in Dresden, Tenn., a daughter of Marion William and Amanda Garner Bolton.

Her husband, Thomas Jefferson Clark, died May 14, 1963.

Surviving are four sons, Jessie Clark, Herman Clark and Jim Clark, all of Bogata and Raymond Clark of Bagwell; two daughters, Mrs. Lucille White of Dallas and Mrs. Billie Smiley of Bogata; nine grandchildren; 20 great-grandchildren and four great-great-grandchildren.

Frank Wright Buried March 17

Frank G. Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gulf Wright, formerly of this area, died March 15 in a Seymour hospital.

Burial was at Seymour on March 17.

He was born in 1903 and had lived in Seymour for several years.

He was a nephew of Frank Wright of Bogata and had a number of relatives in this area.

Antlers and horns are not the same. Horns grow throughout an animal's life. Antlers are shed every year.

The earliest known set of dentures was dug up in a field in Switzerland and is believed to date from some time in the 15th century.

Judge Moore Sentences Three In District Court

On March 18 visiting District Judge David Moore of Gladewater, who substituted for District Judge Henry Braswell of Paris because of Braswell's recuperation from open heart surgery, heard guilty pleas and sentenced three Red River County defendants as follows:

Daniel Richard Elliott of Detroit-five years in prison for non-violent sexual abuse of a child under 14.

Donnie Ray Miller of Route 6-three years in prison for burglary of a building. Richard Dean Dockins of Clarksville-five years probated and a $2,000 fine for burglary of a vehicle.

INSIGHT INTO EYESIGHT

Dr. Harry Evans

THE SINGLE VISION LENS
When most people get their first pair of eyeglasses or contact lenses, more often than not they're made with single-vision lenses. This doesn't mean they can see only in one direction. Nor at only one distance. The "single" stands for just one set of optical corrections in the lens. The single-vision lens can be for reading or for seeing at a distance. It all depends on the problem that needs correcting. Nearsighted people need help in seeing things at a distance. Farsighted people may need help seeing objects near-by. People who have an astigmatism need help in both directions. Their eyes have two points of focus instead of one. This give them blurred vision no matter how close or far away an object may be. Corrective glasses or contact lenses clear things up so they can see as well as people with normal vision. No matter what the vision problem, it can usually be solved with the right kind of glasses or contact lenses
