Now that we have all survived the "great cold spell of 1983" things are a little better in our neck of the woods.

Most of the broken water pipes have been fixed, most of the bruises obtained from skidding along the ice have faded.

But consider the actual affects of such a cold spell. Most farmers are fantasizing about Johnson grass rhizomes rotting to jelly in the frozen earth. And alongside the grass roots will be millions of insects and insect eggs!

And they are right, of course, lots of weeds and lots of insects will have frozen during our unusual cold spell.

But when spring comes (and that's not as long as it seems) there will still be plenty of little green weeds and plenty of voracious bugs!

Look around at the world right now. The sight of anything green besides a little wheat and evergreen trees is impossible.

Everything is bare, stark and dead. The trees haven't a shred of last summer's leaf left, the grass, which usually has a little winter green in it, is yellow and brown.

But when spring comes, the yearly miracle will occur. From somewhere, deep within a seemingly dead tree, shrub or root, bursting green will appear.

At first it will be apparent only as the tiniest trace of yellow-green tint, and then, almost overnight, the whole world will burst forth into spring.

It's a nice thing to be able to contemplate right now, when it seems as if nothing survives anywhere.

And somehow I believe that we appreciate the spring, and the green, green summer that follows, a whole lot more than folks who live where it is always summer can.

If we never saw the beauty that can be winter, nor suffered from the biting winds, there wouldn't be that very special feeling when spring comes.

So take a look around and remember, it's all just resting up, making it through the cold in anticipation for what will come, no matter how cold it gets!

Named to the prestigious All Red River Valley offensive football team for 1983 recently were Stanley Jessee and Randy Galloway of Rivercrest's Rebel football team.

Jessee was first team All District 18-AA on both offense and defense, and often opened the holes for hard-running Galloway.

Galloway, termed as a 5-7, 160 pound darting, spinning plur, is the leading rusher among the three All Red River Valley backs with 1,248 yards.

Named to the Honorable mention list was James Anderson, defensive back.

Paris coach Allen Wilson named the Paris News Red River Valley Coach of the Year award.

Rebelettes Defeat New Diana

By Diana Eudy
The Rivercrest Rebelettes played an outstanding defensive game against New Diana last Friday night.

"Mary Jane Savage and Jackie Via played especially well," said Coach Frank Stubblefield. "Mary Jane guarded their ball handler and allowed only one field goal. Jackie guarded their high post and allowed only two field goals. All the girls did well."

The good defensive action saved the match for the Rebelettes.

The offense didn't play very well. There were a lot of turnovers. Passing was poor as were free throws and shooting from the field.

Rivercrest another six points but allowed New Diana only two. Mary Savage scored 4 and Stacy Griffin 2.

Scoring was spread out in the final period. Mary Savage hit 4, Pam Ward 3 and Kristi Foxworthy, Kim Reeder, Stacy Griffin and Jackie Via each with 2. Becky Brooks scored two points on free throws. The final tally was 39-22, Rivercrest.

Scoring totals were Savage with 14; Brooks with 8; Reeder, Griffin and Via each with 4; Ward with 3; and Foxworthy with 2.

The Rebelettes are 4-0 in district standings. The toughest part of their schedule is coming up. Big Sandy, James Bowie and Maud will be within the next week. Maud is the defending district champ. They have some good players back and the Rebelettes will have to play well against them.

shot during the game Tuesday night against Big Sandy. The Rebelettes had no trouble claiming the victory 61-32. (Staff Photo by Diana Eudy)

FmHa Resumes Emergency Loans

The Farmers Home Administration has resumed making economic emergency loans.

Frank B. Stroud, FmHa County Supervisor, made the announcement. "Economic Emergency loans are designed for farmers who are in a cost price squeeze or face other financial difficulty beyond their control," Stroud said. "In other words, the loans are for a financial emergency rather than a natural disaster such as a drought or flood."

The Economic Emergency or "EE" program was in operation from 1978 to 1981, when it expired. But, Congress re-authorized the program, and it is being reopened by order of a U.S. District Court judge in Washington, D.C., Stroud said.

"Under the program, loans will be available to farmers who are suffering an economic emergency through no fault of their own. They must show that they have tried unsuccessfully to get a loan from another source before coming to FmHA and that they can repay the loan over a period of time, depending on the use of the funds. The funds can be used to finance debts and related uses," Stroud said.

"The interest rate for direct loans will fluctuate with the cost to the government of borrowing money," Stroud said. "The interest rates for guaranteed loans, which are made by commercial lenders and backed by the government, are negotiated between the borrower and lender."

Applications are available at the FmHA County Office located at 312 North Walnut Street, Clarksville, Texas 75426 or P.O. Drawer 1115, Clarksville, Texas 75426.

Ward - Ingram Exchange Wedding Vows

Miss Debbie Lynn Ward and Kirk Wayne Ingram were married in a formal ceremony at 7 o'clock p.m. Friday, December 23 at the First Baptist Church in Bogata. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Ward of Bogata.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Gibson of Pattonville and Mr. and Mrs. Joel Ingram of Paris.

The pianist, Mrs. Neva Dats of Cunningham, played and sang "The Rose", "God, A Woman and A Man", and "The Lord's Prayer".

The Rev. Wayland Boyd of Hobbs, New Mexico heard the couple's double-ring vows.

The aisles to the altar were lighted with red candle hurricane lamps containing red candles accented with red satin ribbons and fresh green holly. A focal point in the church was a trio arrangement of red carnations interspersed with white mums and fresh Christmas greens atop classic dove white columns. Flanking 15 branch oval candelabra interspersed with Christmas greenery lighted the altar where the couple knelt for prayer before a globe of fresh poinsettias. The chancel rail was adorned with a series of ruby red candle groupings. The side altars were complimented with matching 7 branch candelabra and fresh greenery.

The bride, escorted to the wedding scene by her father, was given in marriage by her parents. The bride wore a designer bridal gown by Eve of Milady of white silk organza over taffeta. The fitted bodice was molded with French Alencon lace and silk Venice lace sprinkled with seed pearls and crystals, and boasted a high neckline on a sheer roke inset boasting Schiffli embroidery. The full sheer bishop sleeves were embellished with Schiffli lace and held wide fitted cuffs with silk Venice detailing at the finger point. The full organza skirt boasted a ruffled flounce with Schiffli embroidery and Alencon lace bordering the ruffle which swept around the full attached Cathedral train. The matching scalloped edged veil of illusion with Schiffli lace and French Alencon lace fell from a lace covered cap.

Miss Barbara Smith of Bogata was Maid of Honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Donna Ward of Bogata, sister-in-law of the bride, and Miss Deborah Mankins of Lone Star. They wore gowns of red velvet with a fitted bodice complimented with a red velvet combun. Long fitted sleeves finished in gathered ruffles with a white french lace collar. The gathered A-line skirt was full at the bottom and rimmed in white french lace.

Tammy and Kimberly Gibson, sisters of the groom, of Pattonville were flower girls. They wore evening length red velvet gowns with fitted bodice and full length sleeves forming a self ruffle and trimmed in white satin ribbon with white french lace collar and a white lace insertion at the waistline.

The gathered A-line skirt with attached ruffle was rimmed in white satin ribbon. Lighting the altar and chancel rail candles was the bride's cousin, Elizabeth Buffo of Plano. Her gown matched those of the flower girls.

Kip Winters of Pattonville was best man. Groomsmen were Joe Ward, brother of the bride, Jerry Malone of Paris, and David Hart of Paris.

Ushers were Allan and Mark Ward, brothers of the bride, and Dominic Buffo Jr., cousin of the bride, of Plano. Candlelighters were Allan and Joe Ward, brothers of the bride.

The bride's bouquet was a French cascade style fashionable elongated bouquet of white gardenias, snow white enchantment lilies and baby's breath interspersed with stephanotis and white butterfly roses interspersed with cascading strands of pearls.

The attendants carried white fur muffs complimented with French red carnations and fresh holly with red berries. Each muff was adorned with a white locked snow dove. Their headpieces were of white fur and accented with flowers to compliment their muffs.

Bill Dixon of Talco was Honor Attendant and stood by the bride.

Micheal Paul Buffo of Plano, cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer.

Miss Cassandra Dugger of Fulbright presided over the register table in the foyer of the church. The table was covered with a white floor length lace cloth centered with red and green column candles and snowed Christmas greens.

The bride's parents were hosts for a reception in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. Joe Ford of Bogata, Mrs. Dean Leake of Talco, Miss Deborah Northam of Pattonville, Mrs. Tina Coward of Powderly and Mrs. Marge Cook of Texarkana.

The bride is a 1981 honor graduate from Rivercrest High School and a 1983 graduate of Paris Junior College. She is presently a junior at East Texas State University.

The bridegroom is a 1981 graduate from Prairiland High School and attended Paris Junior College. He is self-employed as a farmer.

The couple will reside in Fulbright.

The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Gibson, were hosts for a rehearsal dinner Thursday, December 22, at Bogies Cafe in Bogata. Following the rehearsal the bride and groom presented their attendants with gifts. Approximately thirty attended the rehearsal and dinner.

Tammy Gibson, Elizabeth Buffo and Kimberly Gibson distributed rice bags for the ceremony.

Miss Ward was honored with several showers preceding her wedding. A bridal shower was held at Bogata has come through all the steps of progress in the matter of artificial lighting: egg-shell lamp, candles, kerosene, candles, gasoline, carbide and electricity. "I can well remember visiting in the home of my grandfather, William Humphries, and seeing an egg-shell lamp in use. This lamp was made by taking an egg shell, pouring it full of grease, and placing a flat string, similar to the present day kerosene lamp wick, in this grease. Then the egg-shell was placed in a saucer of meal so as to prevent it from turning over. Grandfather's old Negro cook would light this lamp, place this saucer on top of her head and go as peacefully about her cooking as if she were cooking in the dazzling glare of an electric light.

History Of The Early Days Of Bogata

"Even in that far distant time with its egg-shell lamps people read books, and an occasional paper or two, and life ran on then just as it does today with our modern conveniences made possible by electricity. People visited, had their social gatherings, their camp meetings and seemed to enjoy their everyday life just as we do now."

In 1923-24 the "high line" was extended to Bogata and people then enjoyed the benefits and luxuries of electricity.

Fire starting was also in a very primitive state at that early date. "I have seen my grandfather start fires by taking a small piece of cotton, sprinkle a little gun powder on this, strike a piece of flint rock with his pocket knife, causing sparks of fire to fly from the rock on to the cotton, and soon he would have a nice fire burning. Fire was conserved as much as possible, however, by placing ashes over the coals.

There have been only three murders in Bogata during its history, that have been brought to light. First was Bob Rice, second was Boss Holt who was killed by Farris Day. These two murders occurred in drunken brawls and could have easily been averted. The third was Lawler who was killed by Lynch. This murder also occurred over complications arising from liquor dealings and had no justifiable motive. The number of murders indeed seems small compared to the senility of the community.

With just a glimpse at the status of Bogata about the year 1900 we might quote the following: "Bogata, formerly known as Maple Springs, is a quiet shady village of about five hundred inhabitants, situated fifteen miles southwest of Clarksville, within one-half mile of Blossom Prairie. It has a daily mail and an old back line from Clarksville; its large forest oaks make a scene of rustic beauty; and its citizens, generous and hospitable, will ever be ready to welcome the knowledge seekers who may cast his lot among them.

"The different denominations are represented in Sunday School and Church interests. There are no saloons within fifteen miles. No emptions of large towns and cities, that so often lebauch boys mentally, morally or physically. The sandy soil of Bogata, the pure freestone water, the healthfulness of the situation, absence of saloons, the cheap board, seven dollars per calendar month, the energetic and enterprising people, the nearness of the rich black land of Blossom Prairie, all combined make Bogata one of the most suitable places in the country for a school. The sandy soil is no small item when we consider the all, winter and spring rains and the disagreeableness of the black mud. Here pupils go to school immediately after a rain, or even while it is raining, without getting their feet muddy, and the school children play upon the campus as soon as the rain ceases.

Of the religious activities of this little community nothing has been said thus far, but this does not mean that these God loving people had forgotten God-far from it! And God forgive me if his history has made it appear so.

It has been said at some time or other on the pages of literature by some noble author that "The groves were God's first temples," and it may be brought to mind more vividly in our own case. When the first settlers worshipped it was to worship in either the domicile of their homes or under the leaves of the trees, God's own handiwork. When a meeting was held a brush arbor was built and here these people sought God. The first of these seems to have been on or near the Humphries Triangle, near where the Boy Scout Cabin now stands. As a matter of explanation, the Humphries Triangle is a plot of ground near where William Humphries built his first home. It was donated by the Humphries Estate to the town to use for any religious, social or political gathering. The name is derived from the fact that it is triangular in shape.

The first church was built sometime during the early seventies near this same Humphries Triangle. It was used for worship on Sunday and as a school building during the week. It was a frame building about forty by sixty feet.

The first building for worship alone was the old Cumberland Presbyterian Church, a frame building, built about the year 1877. Here all sects gathered to worship, and this building was used as a place of worship until about the year 1929.

The next church built was a Methodist Church, a frame building, built near where the Lucien Howison dwelling now stands. In 1918 a beautiful brick church was built on main street by the Methodist organization. This building is modern throughout and would be a credit to any city several times the size of Bogata and he people instrumental in building this edifice are to be congratulated on this wonderful building consecrated to the Lord's work.

After the building of the old Methodist Church the Baptist people built a large frame building, octagonal in shape, where it stands today. It was built about 1900. It has the largest church auditorium in the city.

The two Presbyterian Churches separated, the U.S.A. Presbyterian retaining the original building and the Cumberland organization building a beautiful brick edifice just across the street from the old building, between the Dozier and Keith properties. Although small, it is a beautiful building and these people are to be congratulated on their perseverance in this good work.

In 1916 the members of the Church of Christ built a beautiful frame building on their property in south Bogata where it is now. Since that time a large tabernacle has been built for use in worship during the summer months.

Most of these churches have some sort of Young Peoples' Organization, all have Sunday School activities, and the majority have their mid-week prayer meeting.

Ferguson, Bogata, Texas; Mr. Watters, Bogata, Texas; Mrs. Neil Howison, Bogata, Texas; and the 1899-1900 bulletin of the Maple Springs High School of Bogata, Texas, when W.P. Miller was superintendent, and was reprinted in the Oak Leaf, a publication of Bogata High School, December 21, 1925, when R.C. Marshall was superintendent.

Weekly Ag Update

By Herb Brevard

Recent cold, freezing temperatures in East Texas have played havoc with many agricultural enterprises. The total damage, however, may not be realized for several months, according to specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Many ornamentals and landscape plants appear to be heavily damaged. Dwight Hall, horticulturist, advises holding off on pruning these plants until spring. However, broken and visually damaged limbs should be removed now. When the growing season begins, all plants or parts of plants that are dead should be removed.

Dr. James Robinson, entomologist, says there is no way to predict what will happen to the insect population. The most important factor will probably be a reduction in the economic damage by insect pests. The population will not be as great as normal, but insects have the ability to survive in extreme temperature conditions. A reduction in population could mean less pesticides will be necessary for control. An improvement in yields and quality of produce is also possible.

Robinson says some insects will be weakened or reduced so that proper use of insecticides can reduce the population and economic impact even further. Many areas will possibly enjoy a reprieve from heavy insect infestations.

Most of the winter forage has been damaged by the cold weather, but most of it should respond with warmer temperatures. Dr. Sim Reeves, Jr., agronomist, says that oats were probably the heaviest damaged. Perennial grasses such as bermudas should have received only slight damage.

Drivers Licenses To Receive New Codes

Beginning January 1, 1984, those persons who renew their driver license, qualify for their first license, or apply for a duplicate permit will receive licenses bearing new codes signifying class of license.

Colonel Jim Adams, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said the department is starting the conversion to a new classified driver licensing system in accordance with a law passed this year by the Texas Legislature.

"Licenses issued prior to 1984 will be valid until the expiration dates which appear on them," Adams said. "The new licenses will carry classifications designating the type and weight of vehicles which the holder may operate."

The Class C license permits operation of single, two-axle vehicles with a gross weight of 24,000 pounds or less excluding motorcycles and mopeds. This designation also allows the towing of a vehicle not exceeding 10,000 pounds gross vehicle weight or a farm trailer not exceeding 20,000 pounds GVW. In addition, the Class C designation permits the operation of a bus with a maximum seating capacity of 23 passengers not including the driver. Standard operator licenses issued under the old law will be converted automatically to Class C permits upon renewal or issuance of a duplicate license.

The Class B license will allow the holder to drive all Class C vehicles plus single vehicles with a GVW exceeding 24,000 pounds and buses with a capacity of 24 or more passengers. Motorcycles and mopeds are excluded.

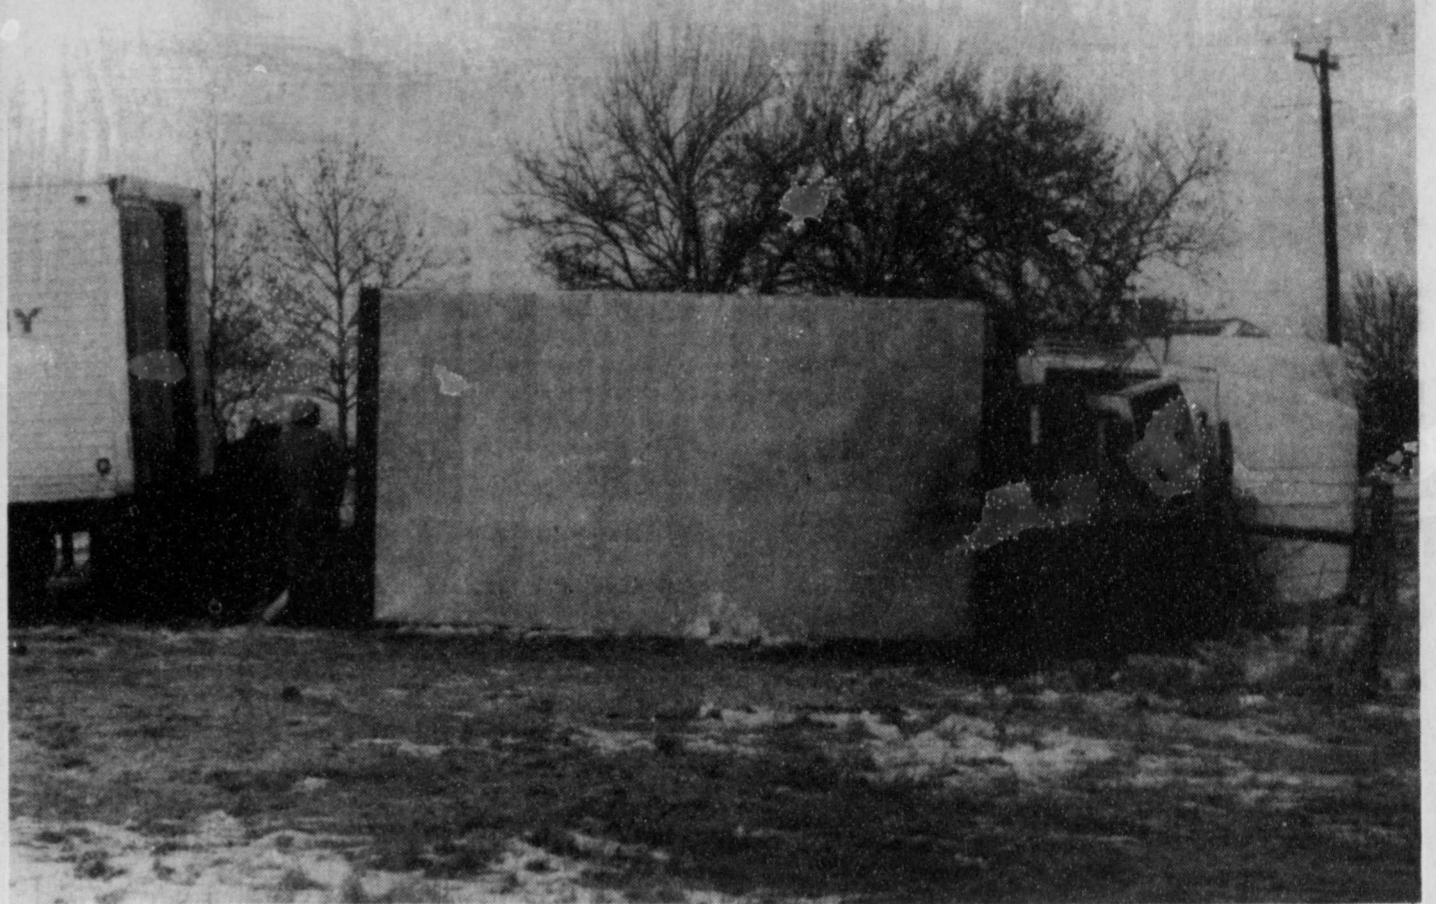

Class A permits allow operation of any vehicle or combination of vehicles including those listed for Classes B and C. Mopeds and motorcycles are excluded. Commercial and full chauffeur licenses issued under the old statute will be converted automatically to Class A permits upon renewal or issuance of a duplicate license.

The Class M designation allows the holder to operate motorcycles, motor-driven cycles and mopeds.

The road test must be taken with a vehicle which meets the specific requirements of the license class for which the person is applying.

Drivers who have no moving violation convictions over a four year period and who also have no physical limitations are eligible to renew their licenses by mail. To qualify for mail renewal, a driver must first receive a DPS form in the mail. This application should be mailed back to the department within one week after it is received. When the license is renewed, the driver will be sent a validation card which must be carried with the old license. A vision test and new photograph will not be required for mail renewals. Drivers who receive mail in renewal forms may also visit a driver license office and renew their licenses according to the standard procedure which will require them to be photographed and have their vision tested.

The fee for a provisional license is computed at $2.50 per year until the driver's eighteenth birthday with a minimum fee of four dollars. The cost of a duplicate license is three dollars.

Talco-Bogata Community Observes National Hobby Week

January is National Hobby Month, and the Hobby Industry of America is inviting more than 30,000 public and school libraries and media centers to participate in this annual national observance.

The Talco-Bogata Community Education Department in cooperation with the Rivercrest High School Library is using Hobby Month to feature the resources of the library and to involve the enthusiasm of hobbyists throughout the school and community. In recognition of Hobby Month, a crafts demonstration will be held in Rivercrest High School Library on Thursday, January 19 from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m. Various hobby crafts will be demonstrated and an array of craft examples will be on display for all to see. Crocheting, yarn work, canvas stitchery, wet painting and other crafts will be demonstrated. Guests may move from table to table to observe the different demonstrations. A follow up workshop for craft construction will be held on January 26 from 6:30 until 8:30 p.m. During this workshop, demonstration personnel will be on hand to help persons who have chosen a craft project to complete. If you choose to work on a craft project for this workshop, you should register with the Community Education Department at the January 19 demonstration session, pay your $1.00 registration fee, pick up a supply list for the project you plan to create, and inform the person in charge of the demonstration which you are interested that you plan to return for the January 26 workshop.
