> Mankind, and womankind too, strives constantly to grow or obtain that which is the hardest to have.

Trees, for instance. No one would think of planting a mimosa tree or bois d'arc tree in their precious yard space. Chances are there are plenty fo those around already, frequently so many that they have to be cut

Yet up in the northern states, mimosa's sell for high prices and bois d'arcs are so rare that whole neighborhoods will watch and cherish one that is surviving!

Down here, we persist in trying to grow spruce trees and other things that can't survive the hot, dry summers. Up north they persist in trying to grow trees that can't survive the long, bitter cold winters.

The same thing goes with grass. We prepare seed beds, fertilize, sod and cherish St. Augustine grass, or special blends of grass, or at the very least some very special breed of bermuda grass. Left alone, there will be grass on a yard. It just won't be

W.J. Holloway and his wife Syble, nice to know that so many people are taught in the Deport High School in 1924 and 1925. Mr. Holloway was the superintendent and taught mathematics and science. Mrs. Holloway taught English. They were for this year at different locations in two of the best teachers that I ever Bogata and we would like to extend had. There were no professinal counselors in high school in those stop by our house from 2 to 4 p.m. days, but Mr. Holloway was a counselor and a good one. We had friendships even if you plan to attend some options as to subjects that we could take. He would discuss with us Last year was such a great year these various subjects, and give us for the homecoming and we enjoyed an opportunity to make the right having so many people stop by our choices. He would discuss with us home. It was such fun to see so many individually our goal in life and what that we had not seen in such a long we should do to reach that goal. I probably never would have gone to It seems that the planning comcollege except for his enmittee has great things in store for couragement. There was al electrode, or electrical connection at the bottom of stantly the cause of the blast, but it each leg of the H and a stop cock at the top of each leg. The glass tubing was then completely filled with water. When an electric voltage was applied at the two connections at the bottom of the tubes, gas bubbles would form and rise to the top. The demonstration was to show that the electric current passing through the water would break it down into its two components of hydrogen and oxygen. The oxygen would rise above the positive electrode and the hydrogen above the negative electrode. After sufficient gas was accumulated, a test would be made by applying a lighted match to each of the opened stop cocks at the top of the tubes. The oxygen should cause the match to flare up and burn brighter. The hydrogen gas should catch fire and burn like ordinary natural gas.

In setting up the demonstration, it was discovered that the dry cell Hatfield, Ark. Services each night at batteries that were to be used were

Girl Scouts Hold Supper

Thursday, March 21, the annual Girl Scout Box Supper was held at the Rivercrest High School Cafeteria and Auditorium, Tonia Hinsley was Mistress of Ceremonies

Troop 91 began the program with the flag ceremony. A Girl Scout grace titled "Gracious Senora" was sung by everyone. The supper was next, followed by everyone moving nto the auditorium.

Alice Ann White introduced Mollie Williams, and she in turn, told of her Girl Scout tale, she was in the Mt. Pleasant Wal-Mart fabric department a day or two before the box supper looking for a bear costume that was needed for the play that was going to be held during the program, a lady walked up beside her and noticed what Mollie was looking at and Mollie told her she needed a bear costume, the lady told her she had one at her home, Mollie went to her home to pick up the costume, but come to find out, the lady remembered Mollie from their stay at Camp Gambill when they were both younger, so it is true a Girl Scout will make friends at Camp Gambill she will remember all of her life. Next, Linda Woolston showed slides of Camp Gambill. The big event was next. This was the play titled "Babes in Toyland". Daisy

Proop 157 played gingerbread dolls, Proop 12 played Old Mother Hubbard and all her children, Troop 21 played all kinds of dolls, Troop 32 dressed as smurfs, Troop 91 presented a skit of a runaway Jack in the Box, Troop 70 had the sleeping girl, tin soldier, the clock, Raggedy Ann and Andy, Troop 22 was in charge of the lighting and the music, also Virginia Spencer was n charge of the stage lights after the play was over all the Girl Scouts held

All troop leaders and their helpers were recognized. Troop 157's leader Mollie williams, her helper is Anaya Phillips. Troop 12's leader is Kay Griffin, her helpers are Rue Anna Bell, Terri Watkins, Terri Easterling and Mollie Williams. Troop 21's leader is Mary Jo Whatley, her helper is Sue Williams, Virginia Spencer and Sue Williams. Troop 32's leader is Kay Ross, her helpers are Paula Spier. Troop 91's leader is Dee Crayton, her helper is Linda Eilers. Troop 70's leader is Miriam Stephenson, her helper is Myra Jean. Troop 22's leader is Alice

A special recognition was given to Linda Eilers for her service to the Bogata Girl Scout Neighborhood, and his concluded the 1985 Girl Scout Box Supper. Everyone enjoyed it very much.

"FIND A NEED AND FILL IT!"

So goes the old saying...surely one to which Thomas A. Edison heeded during his long and creative career many years ago. And, that's been a motto that we've been following too! Wanting to fulfill the needs of our customers, we've improved and extended and expanded:

We're glowing with bright ideas... helping to change things for the better, like Mr. Edison!

Straight Answers to Your Questions

work with electricity

Even though you and safely.

Why are TNP employees

with powerlines, you should make it a practice to use electricity safely every day. Here are a few guidelines: Always use tools and appliances which are properly grounded; never allow electrical appliances, such as hair dryers and radios, near the bathtub; replace worn or damaged electric cords.

When working outdoors, be aware of overhead powerlines and avoid contact with these lines. TV antennas, masts, tree pruners, ladders and other metal objects are extremely dangerous when used near powerlines. If you see a downed powerline, do not touch it.

With electricity, you cannot be too careful, so always handle electricity with care and respect.

Local Kin Featured For Sculpting

Cecil Ray Starling, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Grogan and a student at the University of Texas in Arlington, was featured recently in the Dallas Morning News for his sculpturing.

Cecil has loved making models and is now interested in sculpturing of models about an inch high of Prussian Hussars, Napoleanic figures, etc. He has researched the style and color of the figures of the past and does conversions. Cecil says the underdog in battles, etc., sell better as the Southern figures come out more popular than the Northern and French people in the Battle of

During 1983 he worked in Chicago for FSA Corp. and has worked for Irving's Empire Miniatures for some time. He also likes to work on figures for board games. It is also work that s hard on the eyes.

Cecil is not sure of which way he will go after graduation in 1987, but s interested in large pieces of lawns and would not mind doing the book of Revelation but would have to sculpt about 1,000 pieces which would take approximately two years. After serving in the Army, he worked in Austin and Chicago for a while and came back to Texas and went to Paris Junior College for a while, but is now living in Burleson and going to TUA as well as sculpting.
