A Look At What Happened Over The Last Year

As the top stories of the nation and world are recapped for 1986, it might be interesting to recap the local stories. There have, of course, been a full share of crime, tragedy and fire, but a great many pleasant things have happened, also.

1986 began in Talco with two breakins, one at Ward's Cash and Carry Grocery and the other at Via's Well Service.

Bobby Dickey and H. Drue Pirtle announced as candidates for Precinct 1 Commissioner and J.B. Holley announced as candidate for re-election as Justice of the Peace for Precinct 1. Bogata moved it's City Hall to Main Street with new and better offices.

Rumors and facts about establishment of a minimum security prison in Red River County kept things interesting for several months. Joe Ford Grocery and Market closed out after being in business since 1933.

Talco recalled it's oil discoveries. Twelve arrests were made in Talco, with a variety of charges, mostly centering around drug possession. Judge W.S. Whiteman was defeated by L.B. Williamson in his bid for Red River County Judge and H. Drue Pirtle won the Commissioner's race. Red River Recollections, the book on the history of the county, was released.

Justice isn't always swift...but it seems pretty sure. Way back in September, those folks who follow this column regularly, may recall a story about Thomas and his friend, Dicky rning a pot of beans on a King camping trip...and just how much fun was made of 'em.

That fun has hardly slacked off, scarcely a week goes by without someone making a crack about incompetent bean cooks. At Christmas, Thomas took some handmade goodies by some folks' establishment ... and they said "If it's beans, we don't want it!" It's been something he just couldn't live down...even though he wrote a rebuttal to it proposing his "uncured pot" theory.

Well, as if to punish me for my confidence, New Year's Eve rolled around with retribution well in hand. Jayne, Dicky, NeLeigh and Jeff were due for dinner, a late night meal of cornbread, beans and chili, a change from the usual fare.

Early that day, in spite of a cold, I began cooking those pinto beans. I seasoned them ever so carefully, using my usual amounts of spices, salt, pepper and of course, salt pork.

I cooked them on a slow, slow simmer, tending the fire throughout the day, stirring, enjoying the delicious smell that wafted throughout the house and even managed to get past my stuffy nose. I even tasted them a time or two, they tasted fine.

Memories Of Humble Lake

By Mollie Williams

Ask almost any ex-student of Bogata High School about Humble Lake and they will probably tell you about the many tiems they went there for a church social, for a party with school group, or some other to the lake at night and enjoy viewing the lake by moonlight. Of course, there ws the usual horseplay, pretending to push each other in the water. It was all such great fun. The lake was also a favorite spot for us to go on Sunday afternoons while riding drifting away. She got out of the water, her white pleated skirt all wet and wrinkled, and her 1960's hairdo which had been styled to perfection, wet and stringing. She was pretty mad for a while, but she was a good sport about it and forgave him.

Minter, Sullivan And Skidmore Win Cash In Contest

After a successful Christmas savings sale on newspaper subscriptions, Thunder Prairie Publishing Company held their drawing to award cash prizes on Tuesday, January 6.

In a random drawing of thoroughly "stirred" entries, Kathy Guess of City Drug Store reached in to select Wayne Minter, a Dallas resident, who takes the Bogata News, as first place winner. Wayne receives $50.00. David Sullivan of Pattonville, a Deport subscriber, won the $30.00 second place award and Margie Skidmore of Deport won the $20.00 prize money.

Hopes for a bigger cash drawing next year are high, due to the success of this year's sale.

They had cooked way down to that nice, thick-juiced, musy stage where they transform from a mere ribsticking meal to a gourmet delight. Those beans were absolutely perfect.

Except for one thing. They were so salty they were totally inedible! I don't know what happened...knowing my husband's total honesty, I don't believe he took revenge, it isn't his nature.

The salt pork may have been saltier than usual. My hand with the salt may have been freer than I thought. But, more probably, justice decided to rare right up and rectify things!

Thomas is delighted, he now has ammunition with which to fire back at those folks who tease him about not being ut to cook beans.

organization. Although the lake was used by Humble Oil Company and supplied water to the company's employees and later on to Talco, most of us remember Humble Lake as a place for weiner roasts, parties and youth get-togethers.

Several picnic tables were available around the lake and a long pier extended from the lake's bank to several feet out into the water. The pier was a perfect place for young lovers to take a stroll on a romantic moonlit night.

In 1954 or 55, the lake was used as a background for the special honor pictures for the Bogata High School yearbook and in 1964 and 1965, the senior pictures were taken there and used for the inside covers of the yearbooks.

The first time I remember being at the lake was when I attended a weiner roast with my cousin at a church social when I was about eleven or twelve years of age.

As the years went by, I returned to the lake many times. On occasions, carloads of teenagers would drive out around. My husband, Mike, tells me of a time when he was a junior in high school, that he, Era Lee Littles, Bob McCall and Elizabeth Flenniken drove there on a Sunday afternoon and took a stroll out on the pier. Mike held Era Lee close to the edge and pretended to "drop" her in. Somehow, she did slip and fall into the water. It nearly scared him to death. He recalls that it seemed like a long, long time before he saw her head bob up out of the water. About the time he saw her, he saw a black suede penny loafer

The Humble Oil Company turned back the lease on the land several years ago and I hear that the lake and surrounding property are for sale. A locked gate now bars entrance into the lake area. The padlock is kind of like the lock in my mind which has padlocked all the good times spent at Humble Lake with dear friends from the past. I take out my mental key from time to time and look back into the memories of those days and enjoy once again the laughter and fun we had at Humble Lake.

Bogata Council To Discuss Marshall Issue

One of the main topics on the agenda for the Bogata City Council meeting to be held Tuesday night, January 13, will be the problem of providing law enforcement for the City of Bogata.

Due to problems in obtaining insurance, the City of Bogata has had to allow City Marshall, Ted Byndas, to be off duty without pay. According to Mayor W.T. Harbison, Byndas was paid for two weeks off duty, while the City Council tried to work the insurance problems out. Harbison said the city was unable to solve the problems and Marshall Byndas was then placed off duty without pay until something could be worked out. 'We're still working on the situation," stated Harbison

Randy Copeland Featured In Broken Bow Paper

Vaughans Have Christmas Party

Randy Copeland has been the subject of a feature article in the Broken Bow News recently.

Copeland, the Rivercrest Rebelettes basketball coach, is a native of Broken Bow, graduating from high school there, and from Southeastern Oklahoma State University.

The article points out that the Rebelettes have been in the state playoffs eleven times in the past 18 years, and won the state title in 1968 and 1980.

As one Rivercrest fan said, "We take our basketball seriously here." The Broken Bow native is the son of Peggy Copeland and Boyce Copeland, and Kenneth Hamilton of the Broken Bow News sent a copy of the article to the Bogata News after contacting the local paper for some information.

Area Wheat Has Problems By Paul D. Payne Much of the area wheat looks sick and is suffering from a number of problems. The most pronounced symptom is yellow leaves. It is my opinion Agents that much of the yellow leaf situation conditin. We have been experiencing a similar situation annually with some years being worse than others. We have brought all kinds of experts to the course o examine the plants and soil and we never been able to officially diagnose the cause. It has been my observation in the past that these affected plants overcome the yellowing at a later stage with no apparent reduction in yield can be attributed to the saturated soil

Rust and septoria can be found on some wheat in the county. Plant Pathologist at Texas A&M University do not recommend chemical application at this time of the year.

Even though a chemical application is not suggested, producers should inspect their wheat for disease signs. One will find that not all varieties have rust or septoria. These differences should be noted and referred to next fall when selecting varieties at plan time. or tillers are being lost, If plan then one should suspicion the Hessian Fly. The flaxseed form of the insect should be present at ground level of the wheat plants. To find them, pull the leaf structure away from the stalk and this should expose the brown flaxseed appearing form of the insect. No insecticide is suggested for this problem, but this could explain some of one's wheat problem.

There are a number of soil borne disease problems that could be causing some of the problems. One should particularly suspect some of these if wheat has been planted on the same ground for a number of years. Crop rotation is the number one management practice used to reduce these disease problems.

It is my problem that about three weeks of rain free weather would do more to correct the present wheat situation than any other thing

This past week I was privileged to hosted a Christmas party for relatives in their home in Rugby on December Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bell and Terry of Clarksville, Mr. and Mrs. Denny enjoyed by all.

Steve, Randy, Melody and Jamie of Clarksville, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Alsobrook of Rugby, Mrs. Jess Alsobrook, Pete Riggs and Barney Alsobrook of Bogata, Mrs. Mary Ann Williams, two sons, Todd and Tracy and their girlfriends of Detroit. Lots of food, gift exchange and visiting was member, I am convinced that much of whatever success I have attained

can be directly attributed to my 4-H

Rebels, Rebelettes Both Take Wins

By Stan Anderson The Rivercrest Rebels and Rebelettes continued their pre-district warm ups last week in preparation for the upcoming district play.

The Rebels traveled to Clarksville Tuesday night to atone an earlier loss to the Tigers. The Rebs were up to the task, as they shut down the Tigers. A swarming defense and a slow-down offense slowed the Clarksvislle running game and denied Tiger postman Stacy Dillard the ball as he only managed two points in the entire game.

Rivercrest held the lead at 7-6 at the end of the first quarter, but fell behind 16-15 at the half. The Rebels opened the third quarter with the hot hand as they went up three points on the Tigers 28-25. The Tigers comeback effort fell short though as the Rebs hung on for a 41-39 victory.

Chris Anderson and Brad Anderson led the way with 14 and 13 points respectively. Marvin Anderson followed with six points. Brad Woods chipped in four, David Bush added two and Craig Savage and Russell Rozell had one each.

The Rebelettes faced a tough Celeste Blue Devils team that had previously beaten Wolfe City. A team that defeated the Rebelettes in their first district contest. But the Rebelettes proved a worthy opponent for the Lady Devils.

The Rebelettes trailed only 11-8 at the end of the first quarter, and trailed 28-21 at the half. But an 18-point effort in the third quarter pulled the Rebelettes within three points of Celeste. Late in the fourth quarter, the Rebelettes were down 51-49 with less than a minute on the clock. A jump shot by Cynthia Thompson tied the game at 51 with seconds left on the clock, but a quick basket by Celeste with only two seconds left, sealed the Celeste victory 53-51.

Lori Alford led the Rebelettes' effort with 11 points. Barbi Rackliff followed with ten, Rachel Smith and Rhonda Collins chipped in nine and eight respectively. Cynthia Thompson had six points, Lucinda Craig had four and Kim Clark had three points.

The Rebels capped the evening's action against the Celeste men. The Rebs started slow and only managed an 11-8 lead to end the first quarter.

Rivercrest only hit one basket in the second quarter and fell behind 17-13 at the half. Rivercrest doubled the Devils' scoring effort in the third quarter to take a 27-24 lead. The Reb bench saw plenty of action in the final quarter as they hung on for a 43-39 win.

Chris Anderson led all scorers with 23 points, Brad Anderson followed with eight, Kenneth Kelley and Russell Rozell added three each. David Bush, Craig Savage and Brad Branch each finished with two points.

Tax Laws, Here Are A Few Answers

By Paul D. Payne

Teacher: "Tommy, how do you spell "inconsequential-

Tommy: "Wrong."

There is a saying, "There are two certainties in this life, death and taxes." That continues to be true and we as individuals have very little control over either. We are always reminded of the latter around the first of the year when an income tax packet is left in our mailbox.

Much has been said about the new income tax law and many of the ar ment credit. Investment credit is still available to landowners who forest or reforest property held for growing trees for sale or use in the commercial production of timber products.

Depreciation. Very little change in this area, but there will be major changes on property placed in service after December, 31, 1986. Howver, some property put into service after

A very fine agricultural information meeting will be held in Waco on Janaury 13, the theme for the meeting is "Tools for Profibatility"

The program will be held in the Waco Conventin Center beginning at 9 a.m. A list of subject topics covered in the morning session include Agricultural Foreign Trade Policy, Agricultural Financing, 87, and the New Tax Laws and Keeping Beef in the Market Place. In the afternoon session, producers may elect to attend one of four task force indepth programs. These include cotton, grain, beef cattle and forage and horse. The meeting should provide an excellent opportunity for individuals to update their knowledge and skills.

ticles written for journals and newspapers have many of us thinking that all of the changes take place with the tax reprot that will be prepared this winte.r This is not true and the following discussion will summarize those changes in the 86 report form. Land clearing expenditures. You may not deduct expenses you pay or incur after December, 31, 1985 for clearing land for farming. This is a change from previous years.

Prepaid farm expenses. If you use the cash method of accounting to report your income and expenses and certain of your prepaid farm expenses exceed fifty percent of your other deductive farm expenses, the rules fo rfarming syndicates may apply to limit yoru deductions for some of the prepaid expenses. This provision aplies to expenses paid or incurred after March 1, 1986.

Investment credit. More agricultural producers will be affected by this change this year than any other. The regular investment credit generally has been repealed for property placed in service after 1985. However, you may still claim credit for certain property placed in service in 1986 if on December 31, 1985 you had a binding written contract for its acquisition, construction or reconstruction. Very few producers cn qualify, so we can just about safely say that there is no more invest-

These are the major changes that agricultural producers will face when completing the income tax forms this winter. For a further discussion of these and other points, one should read the "Farmer's Tax Guide" which is available from our office. These may be picked up in room 105
