

NICHOLS' WORTH

By: Nanalee Nichols

Occasionally, a conversation will swing to a subject and bring back a memory that is buried deep down, but not forgotten.

Such was the case a few days ago when the subject of working cattle came up. I recalled, and told, a story about working cattle.

Everyone who has ever helped work cattle will identify with some or all of this little tale.

One warm, sunny day, at about the same time of the year as now, Thomas and I set out to round up some cows for a spring morning, delousing and vaccination session.

Of course, the first stage of any such operation is capturing the cattle. That, of course, can be a real difficult task!

Not owning horses, we always called the animals up with a bag of feed, "whoooooee", "whoong" away.

One person did the calling inside the catch pen, then the other sneaked out from a hiding place and slammed the gate shut.

The plan on this particular day worked really well, and as the last animal kicked up his heels and galloped through the gate, I sprang up, (remember, this was a few years ago in my slimmer, more agile days), and sprinted towards the gate.

About that time our old bull, Woody, decided he would make a mad dash back OUT of the pen. We met, me yelling, slapping him with the whip and generally trying to turn him. He brushed past me like a freight train, knocking me backwards. As I tried to keep my footing, a boot hit something slick, wet and deep. Instinct told me what it was, and I jerked the other way. That threw me over forward, and from then on, everything happened like one of those slow motion scenes in a movie.

I was falling forward, and there was nothing to do about it. Stretched out directly in my flight path was a trail of the brightest, greenest, freshest, spring manure ever left behind by bovine.

Ever so slowly I felt myself approach, and in desperation, threw out an arm to try and save myself. The palm of my hand ploughed a furrow through the middle of the pile. The wake hit me full in the face.

I lay for what seemed like minutes, but was probably only a fraction of a second, imbedded in one of the most disgusting substances known to nature.

I picked myself up, covered from shoulder to waist, coated on my face, with this nasty, smelly, absolutely horrible green MESS.

It took a minute to realize that my husband, the one who is supposed to help me in times of trouble, was sitting behind the wheel of the pickup about ten feet away.

Was he looking concerned that I might be injured? Noooo. Was he getting a towel to help wipe the awful stuff from my poor face? Noooo. Was he laughing so hard that tears were rolling down his cheeks? Yesssss!

He couldn't move, he was laughing so hard. He couldn't breathe, he was haw-hawing so fast!

If looks could kill, he assures me that I'd have widowed myself right then and there. I won't repeat what I called him. In fact, I blush to remember what I called him. You have to understand, I was under a certain amount of stress at the time.

Finally, he dug an old shirt out from behind the seat and pitched it to me. I looked in the side mirror of the truck, and the sight that looked back was startling.

Only my eyes gleamed whitely from a mask of alligator green. It was already crusting over into a weird textured shell.

It was then that I realized why he hadn't been able to keep from laughing. In fact, I began to laugh myself. We were both laughing so hard we couldn't move. Just remembering about it makes me smile again!

He has been quoted as saying that Rivercrest has the best teachers and students of any school he has been associated with.

Hervey is a member of the First United Methodist Church in Bogata and is a member of the Bogata Lions Club.

Mr. Hervey states his reason for running for trustee is to be of service to the Talco-Bogata School District. He states that he has no bones to pick or axes to grind in running for the school board. He states that he wants to serve the entire population of the Talco-Bogata CISD. ed in me."

Billy Daniels, pastor of the Johntown Missionary Baptist Church for more than nine years, has announced as a candidate for the Talco-Bogata School Board. He has served in this position for the past year.

"Mary Lou and I enjoy living in this community and feel these past nine years have been profitable years for us. Talco candidate Scott Rackliff, has lived in Talco since 1974. He attended schools in Stilwell, OK. He is employed by Exxon Pipe Line Company and attends the First Baptist Church in Talco and serves as a basketball official. "If elected," says Stansell, "I want to help the school district maintain the good tradition it has had in the past. I also want to help in the betterment of education and the community."

Talco candidate Johnny Hood, is also a former board member of the Talco-Bogata Board of Trustees. He served on the board from 1983 to 1985. Mr. Hood is a life-long resident of Talco and graduated from Talco High School and attended Paris Junior College. He is employed by TU Electric and is a member of the First Baptist Church in Talco. He and his wife, Daphanie, have two children, Wesley, a senior at Rivercrest, and Felicia, an eighth grade student at Talco Junior High.

"I enjoyed my service on the Board before and feel that I learned a lot from that experience," commented Hood. "And", he added, "I want to be a part of helping further the education of our children."

Mr. Hood and his family reside in Talco.

Former board member, Eddy Brown, says that he feels a lot was accomplished during his four years of service on the Board and desires to again serve the district in a positive way. "During my terms, the walkways were constructed at Bogata, heaters were installed, the gym floor was redone, work was done on a school room and parking lot, and the new roof for the Talco school was purchased," said Brown. "We have a good school, but the tax situation is getting rough, we're losing a lot of oil royalty. We've got to cut expenses without hurting the education of our children, and I feel that my experience can be beneficial in these situations."

Talco voters will cast their votes for the School Board election at the Talco Elementary building and Talco City Hall will be the voting place for the tax proposal, City Council, and Hospital Board for Titus County Memorial Hospital.

In the Bogata City Council election, three candidates have filed for the expiring terms of Travis Hale, Billie Hervey and A.G. Puckett.

She is a member of the United Methodist Church in Bogata where she presently serves as Children's Coordinator and Treasurer and is a member of the United Methodist Women and the Bogata VFW Auxiliary.

"I'm proud of the things done in my past term, the new water well and sewer. The next thing I want to see done in Bogata is the replacing and repairing of the streets," said Mrs. Hervey. "I am concerned about the elderly people in Bogata living on a fixed income and my main objective will be to work toward keeping the taxes and water bills from being raised," she added.

Billie is married to Bobby Hervey and they live on 4th S.E. Street in Bogata.

PJ's CAROUSEL COLLECTION

PJ's Carousel Collection is made up of replica pieces from the early 1900's. Each carousel horse or menagerie animal is a replica in the style of the early master carousel carvers. Each initial piece is a PJ's original designed and created by one of PJ's artists. This piece then forms the master from which all pieces are molded with Gemwood™. Each piece is meticulously cleaned, hand painted in true carousel colors antiqued by our Virginia artists. Each piece is mounted on a brass pole, topped with a brass ring, and assembled on a walnut base. All pieces (with the exception of Fancy Major and Silver) use a 10" pole. The large horses stand 16" tall and use a 15" pole.

All pieces that are direct replicas have distinct rectangular label to identify the master carver style. PJ's own creations have an oval PJ's sticker. Gemwood™ by the way, is basically a wood and polyester resin mixture that molds easily and still retains wood like properties of feel and weight. PJ's are members of the National Carousel Association & American Carousel Society. See this collection exclusively at Reep's Furniture.

Archives Committee Completes Project

By Frances Rozell

A Historical Archives Committee was formed at the 1985 homecoming. The first item of importance to the committee was the Bogata High School senior pictures and how to better care for them and display them.

The pictures have been placed in new frames on a standing rack. Bud Pyron, owner of V&S Variety and True Value Hardware was nice enough to display them in his store. He reported that he had had a lot of "traffic" coming in to see them. The committee appreciates Mr. Pyron for doing this.

The pictures have recently been moved back home to the school building and are on display in the Bogata Junior High School Library under the watchful eye of Linda Gray, librarian, and Frank Stubblefield, principal. The pictures will be on display in the gym at the homecoming on Saturday, April 11.

Sufficient donations have been received from those who love their alma mater to pay for the framing.

One of the committee members is now deceased, Tommie Joy Roach Pirtle. Those concerned will be pleased to know that even though she didn't get to see the finished framing, she did get to see the picture of her class of 1954 in its frame and was very happy and pleased.

We, the committee, thank all of you for giving B.H.S. senior pictures such a nice display. We know you will be pleased, also.

Committee members are Tommie Joy Pirtle (deceased), Mary Margaret Vaughan, Mollie Williams and Frances Mayes Rozell.

Freeze Damage Being Evaluated

By Paul D. Payne
Just how much damage from the freeze was there in the county? This is the question on everyone's mind this week, but we will have to wait a few more days to know the full extent.

It is reasonable to assume that there was damage to the peach crop. Bo Swindle of the Pinhook Orchards reports that there was three hours of 27 degree weather at his place Monday night. However, the snow began falling at that time and may have provided some protection from the cold. We generally think that fruit once they have reached the present size, can stand 28 degree weather.

The concern of most growers on Monday, was the predicted cold temperatures on Monday night. I think we can safely say that the fruit crop has been damaged, but will just have to wait a few days to determine the extent of the damage.

One can determine freeze damage to the fruit by waiting for about three days and cutting some of the fruit with a sharp knife. If the middle is brown or dark, it is ruined.

The freeze damage to area wheat could be a major problem. We are in a marginal situation according to Dr. Travis Miller, Agronomist for Texas A&M. Wheat that is about ready to head can be frozen and result in sterile heads. If the temperature drops below the 28 to 30 degree range, the damage could be quite severe.

To determine freeze damage in wheat, one should wait about three days and examine the fruit. One should look for frozen tissue. It will be brown and water soaked.

Lamar County dairymen are reminded of the spring dairy meeting Thursday at 11 a.m. in the Production Credit Association Building in Paris. Dr. Lyle Nottingham, Paris veterinarian, will be the speaker discussing an animal health program for area dairymen. Dr. Nottingham was raised on a Kansas Dairy and is a graduate of Kansas State and a Doctorate in Veterinary Science. Among his clients are several area dairymen.

The meeting will conclude with a noon stew and dairymen attending are requested to take crackers, cheese, pickles or dessert for the meal.

Don't Let an Electrical Fire Be Your First Clue That YOUR HOME HAS FAULTY WIRING

You can prevent faulty wiring — before an electrical fire occurs — by following these recommendations from Texas-New Mexico Power Company.

1. Make sure the wiring inside and outside your home is installed and checked by a qualified electrician and meets the National Electric Code, the National Electric Safety Code and state and local ordinances.
2. Install ground fault indicators — safety breakers — in your bathroom and in outdoor receptacles that might come into contact with water.
3. Have a qualified electrician check your home's wiring if lights dim when an appliance is turned on, if fuses blow or circuit breakers trip frequently, or if toasters and irons fail to heat properly. Each of these is a sign that your home is inadequately wired.

For more information about safety in your home, contact Texas-New Mexico Power Company. Free brochures are available.

Vocational Ag Response To Challenge

Vocational agriculture responded to the challenge by the State Board of Education to "fix" their program, by developing and introducing a new, modernized, agricultural sciences and technologies curriculum to the state.

In order to embrace the new world of agriculture and to prepare students for the new knowledge and opportunities available in agriculture, the 70-year old vocational agriculture program in Texas is having to change and update, said Jay Eudy, Director of Agricultural Education, Texas Education Agency.

Technologies and applications in agriculture are changing rapidly, therefore, the education in high schools should also modernize, said Eudy.

In order to compete with the rapid changes in the agricultural industry, vocational agriculture is in the process of totally revamping its entire program.

If accepted by the State Board of Education, production agriculture will no longer be listed in high school curriculum guides. Instead, the new agricultural sciences and technologies curriculum will take its place.

Development of this new curriculum began in January with a week-long advisory committee meeting, at the Instructional Materials Service Center in College Station, and will continue in the development phase for the next few months.

"Changes had to be made," said Eudy, "and to initiate those changes, we brought together the Who's Who of agricultural education as an advisory committee."

During the week-long meeting with 53 of the leaders in the agricultural industry, a discussion draft of the new proposed curriculum was completed. Public hearings are currently being held on the discussion draft to explain and discuss the proposed curriculum and to receive feedback from those directly involved in the program.

Remaining dates of public hearing are February 17 in San Antonio, February 18 in Lubbock and February 24 in Ft. Worth. A state public hearing will be held April 23 and 24 in Austin.

If the proposed curriculum receives approval at these public hearings, and also from the Texas Education

Agency and the State Board of Education, then it could go into effect as a pilot program as early as September 1987.

"This new proposed program will be characterized by its flexibility to adapt to the needs of the individual student," said Eudy.

Instead of a full credit program, this new curriculum will be based on a semester credit, said Eudy.

"We're basing this new program on the assumption that the courses will be selected in accordance with the students' individual career goals," said Eudy.

Replacing the traditional courses of production agriculture will be instruction encompassing the areas in agricultural science, agricultural production, agricultural mechanics, agricultural services and supplies, horticulture, agricultural business and management, agricultural products and processing and renewable natural resources.

"Individual school districts will be able to select the major courses of instruction which they feel will be most appropriate based on the community and most beneficial to the needs of the individual students," said Eudy.

"By restructuring and modernizing, we are designing a program to attract a group of students who aspire to a career in agriculture or who aspire to simply learn about agriculture for avocational reasons," said Eudy.

Twenty-five semester-length courses, under the nine major areas of instruction, have been designed as elective offerings to the student. The first two courses are designed to introduce students to the world of agriculture and the basic applications in agricultural sciences and technologies. The remaining courses are specialty courses, designed to give the student a greater understanding and concept of a more narrow subject matter in a particular agricultural field, said Eudy.

For example, an urban high school might offer instruction in horticulture. A student desiring a career in the horticulture industry could choose the following courses over a four year period.

In the freshman year, introduction to world agricultural sciences and technologies and applied agricultural sciences and technologies would be taken as electives. During the sophomore year, plant production technology and floral design would be the courses of instruction. In the junior year, a student could complete courses in nursery production and landscape design, construction and maintenance. Finally, during the senior year, classes in horticulture and business management and marketing and entrepreneurship in agriculture could be taken as electives.

"This restructuring and modernizing of the program is a giant step in a positive direction," said Eudy. "Optimism is high and there is excitement about the future. The feeling is that the agricultural education program in the public schools in Texas will continue and will improve and will surpass the excellence of the past decades," said Eudy.

Jr. High Student Council Takes Responsibilities

By Mollie Williams

Students at Bogata Junior High are beginning to take responsibility and initiative through a newly organized Student Council. "The organization is just getting started, but we hope to see a lot of things accomplished through it," stated Bogata Principal Frank Stubbiefield. "We would like to see the students doing some things on their own and taking a personal interest in the responsibilities of the school," he added.

The Preamble to the Constitution of the Student Council states that the students of Bogata Schools, in order to promote a harmony among the student body and the various interschool organizations; to maintain a better understanding between students and the faculty; to institute a better relationship between this school and all others of this kind; and to raise the standards and ideals of students themselves, do ordain and establish this constitution for the student council of the Bogata Schools: To promote activities for the betterment of the school, community, state and country.

The student council consists of three student representatives from each classroom in grades six through eight. Two representatives, (one boy and one girl), are selected by a committee composed of the homeroom teacher, student council sponsor and principal. The third representative from each classroom is elected by the members of their respective homeroom. Student Council members for 1987 are: 6A, Lori Bush, Jason Killian and Amy Hervey; 6B, Melissa Dodd, LaTrisha Belcher and Brandon Williams; 7A, Lana Pirtle, David Stringer and Krista Weatherall; 7B, Clint Burns, Rosie Jasso and Chad Martin; 8A, Jim Purviance, Donna Stockton and Shane Beers; 8B, Aaron Robinson, Denise Cheatwood and Jeff Bagley. Officers for the council are: president, Jeff Bagley; vice-president, David Stringer; secretary-treasurer, Denise Cheatwood; and parliamentarian, Krista Weatherall. Committee Chairmen are: finance, Denise Cheatwood; newspaper, Rosie Jasso; social activities, Lana Pirtle; community projects, Krista Weatherall; academic accomplishments, Jim Purviance; and campus improvements, David Stringer.

The first project of the student council was a Valentine Dance. Another activity promoted by the council was a Magic Show. Several other activities have begun on the campus as a result of the student council. One of those activities is the publication of a school paper. The paper is published once a month and sold to students and teachers for $.25. The paper covers school news, sports, upcoming events, birthdays of students and teachers and a gossip column. Council members also made ribbons and stars for those making the honor roll. The ribbons were pinned on the students and the stars were placed by their coat hanger in the halls. Other activities planned are the building and placing of benches on the playground area and trash pick-up on the grounds.

Council members are very enthusiastic about the organization and hope to set a precedence of honor and good conduct for the school body.

THE NEWLY FORMED Bogata Junior High Student Council is working on several different projects for the school. One of those projects is to help keep litter picked up from the school grounds. Pictured are the officers and committee chairmen for the council: Krista Weatherall, Lana Pirtle, Rosie Jasso, David Stringer, Jim Purviance and Jeff Bagley. (Staff Photo by Mollie Williams)

The Bogata Volunteer Fire Department - A Community Asset Since 1936

By Mollie Williams
The Bogata Fire Department was organized in 1937 with Claude Thompson as Fire Chief. Some of the others who pledged their support in combatting fires in the area as members of that first organization were John Speir, Ois Swaim, Tobe King, M.A. Ferguson, Richard Dozier, Delbert Puckett, Charlie Summers and A.G. Puckett. According to charter member A.G. Puckett, the first fire truck was an International purchased from E.G. Hutchings Hardware in Bogata, and was quite a fancy rig for its day. Chief Thompson was the water superintendent for the City of Bogata, and he also took the fire calls. The old building just back of the present Fire Station was used as the station for the first fire department.

Mr. Puckett recalls an extremely cold night when the home of Charlie Summers caught fire and Summers ran to the station without a shirt on to get the truck. Puckett also remembers the Bogata Fire Department being called to the Talco Refinery fire somewhere around 1938. "We were assigned to keep the fire from coming down the creek", recalled Puckett.

On July 30, 1937, a letter from the Director of Firemen's Training School at College Station was sent to the Bogata Mayor and Fire Chief congratulating the city on its progressive administration in realizing the importance of a trained and efficient fire department in protecting the lives and property of its citizens. The letter stated that Bogata had been ably represented at the five day training course by representatives Billy Proctor and Athan Woods. Another letter dated July 30, 1938 lists Billie Proctor and A.C. Thompson as representatives and those training in July of 1939 were Randie Hunt, W.H. Montgomery and A.C. Thompson. Montgomery and Thompson again received the training in 1940 and 1941. Others in 1941 were C.W. Littles and W.H. Thompson. In 1946, James Montgomery and C.E. Summers represented Bogata at the training and in 1947, Doyle Glover and Roy Littles attended the program.

Mr. Kelly became the Fire Chief shortly after World War II. Sometime later, the Fire Department disbursed and was reorganized at a later date with Malcolm Hignight as Fire Chief and Joe Ford became the Assistant Fire Chief. This was somewhere around 1952 and no one remembers another Fire Chief until Roy Lee Hutson became chief in 1964.

Joe Ford recalls that while Hignight was chief, the hose of Tobe King caught fire in the middle of a very cold, freezing night. The firemen rushed to the scene to provide their services, only to realize the water hoses were all frozen. "Needless to say," says Ford, "all we saved was the lot."

A drill report submitted by Chief Hignight in 1955 states that during the months of August and September, city officials had asked the department not to use any water for drill purposes due to water shortage. Several reports of fires at the cotton gin were reported through the years.

Roy Lee Hutson served on the Fire Department for 28 years and served as Chief for 15 of those years. New equipment and trucks were added to the department during his service.

"We had several big ones during my time as Chief," recalls Hutson. "One of the biggest was the night Pete Johnson's Grocery Store burned. We worked all night and that's the night the local barber got the end of his finger cut off fighting the fire."

Mr. Hutson retired from the Fire Department to take the job of ambulance driver in 1977. Bernie Huddleston then became the Fire Chief and is presently serving in that position. The Fire Department boasts 21 men, three trucks, a big pumper, a little pumper, and a grass truck. Meetings are still held once a month and the firemen receive regular training. Chief Huddleston states the biggest of fires fought during his service as Chief so far was the First Baptist Church which burned in 1986.

Whether the fire is big or small, near or far, the Bogata Volunteer Fire Department has proven to be quite different in its efforts to protect people and property in this vicinity.

FRIENDLY SERVICE—Is a specialty at Huddleston's Grocery in Bogata. Sue Ann Williams and Jimmy Dickey are among the helpful folks at Huddleston's who are ready to assist, whether it be with locating an item or selecting just the right cut of meat from the meat department. They invite everyone to drop by and see their complete grocery selection. (Staff Photo)
