Indians to play Olney Cubs for homecoming game

The Haskell Indians fell to Electra 45-34 on Friday night. Indian Matthew Martinez scored two rushing touchdowns. Indian quarterback Dylan Hanson threw two touchdown passes.

In the first quarter, Henry Smith scored on a 12 yard pass from Hanson. Daniel Contreras nailed the PAT.

Hanson threw a 36 yard pass to Justice Dever with 2:40 left in the quarter. Contreras scored the PAT.

Martinez scored a touchdown on a 6 yard run in the second quarter. The Contreras kick was good.

Martinez had a 15 yard run in the fourth quarter. Contreras answered with the PAT. Brad Winterstein scored on an 8 yard pass from Hanson. The PAT failed.

Hanson passed for 275 yards with no interceptions in 40 tries. Smith caught eight passes for 89 yards.

In his comments, Coach Grady Benton said, "I am very proud of the effort my kids gave for four quarters. Obviously my team is never happy anytime we get beat. We have a plan and I believe we took advantage of the opportunity to improve as a team and move one step closer to our overall goal. We knew going into the game Friday night that Electra had some exceptional athletes and they were going to make plays. I tip my cap to their play makers for doing just that."

"To counteract that, we were going to have to be very sound offensively and take advantage of every opportunity we had. For the most part we did that, but not enough to win. I believe anytime you give everything you have to something and don't get the immediate results it hurts. I believe my team will continue to have faith in each other through this tough process and reap rewards in the end."

"We are here to build a championship program and our kids our continuing to get closer to doing just that. Every week I see more and more people in this community giving more than taking and that is what it is going to take to make Haskell a champion on a consistent basis. We need to be very careful about our expectation because our kids will meet them. My wish is to see football as big of a priority as water."

Haskell JV went to Electra and won 40-12.

The eighth grade team traveled to Electra and won 27-14.

The seventh graders journeyed to Albany and came up short 18-32.

The Indians take the field to a homecoming crowd Friday night at 7:30 against Olney.

The 7th-8th-JV Indians play in Olney Thursday night beginning at 4:30 p.m.

RUNS FOR THE END ZONE-Haskell Indian #7 Matthew Martinez leaves behind several Electra Tigers as he heads for the end zone. The Indians will play before a homecoming crowd in Indian Stadium this Friday night at 7:30 p.m. against the Olney Cubs.

Homecoming activities set for enjoyment of exes

by Caron Yates

If you sense an excitement in the air, the cause may be more than just the recent rain and cooler temperatures. It is "Homecoming Time." Homecoming can mean different things to each of us. For the majority, it brings us back to a more carefree time in our lives, where friendships were true and our focus was on the important happenings at school. We loved the friends, activities and maybe even some of the learning.

The thirtieth biennial Haskell homecoming is set for Friday, Sept. 27 and Saturday, Sept. 28. Many in Haskell have spent untold hours working and preparing for this weekend's event. If you have never been a part of the preparation committee or a homecoming officer, you may not fully appreciate the tremendous amount of time and effort it takes to make homecoming happen.

The activities begin on Friday afternoon with pre registration pick up at Indian gym from 1-3 p.m., followed by the pep rally, the Haskell vs. Olney football game that night, and a number of class parties. Saturday begins early with the Warpath 5K Run/Walk sponsored by the Haskell Lions Club, tours of the high school campus, a meal and business meeting at the Haskell Civic Center, more class gatherings and of course lots and lots of visiting.

Throughout the one hundred and twenty plus years since the first school bell rang in Haskell, the school buildings themselves have undergone much change. According to R.E. Sherrill's book "Haskell County History," it was in the spring and summer of 1885, that Miss Mollie Holms conducted a little private school in a shed room on the side of a building on the southwest corner of the public square. By the fall of 1885, a little school house was erected in the south part of town, and through the years many changes occurred.

Additions to the school were made, and after it burned in 1904 a cement stone building was constructed. As the town population grew, there was a need for more schools, so new buildings in the south and east part of town, were built.

During the winter of 1921-22, the new north ward brick high school building was erected. The town voted a bond in 1935, and a primary school was built. The high school was eventually rebuilt, with a stadium and athletic field adjoining it.

More than just the buildings have changed through the history of the Haskell school district. In the fall of 1967, the Mattson school, about 15 miles northeast of Haskell, closed its doors and consolidated with Haskell and Weinert school districts. As the loss of population and jobs in the county began to take its toll, other schools found it necessary to close their campuses. Weinert ISD joined Haskell in 1990 and Rochester became a part of the Haskell system by August 2005.

The extracurricular activities offered by the school, also seem to have evolved. Maxine Lytle Miller, a longtime Haskell resident, shared a 1924 copy of "The Thistle," that belonged to her mother Vennie Jones Lytle, who was a senior that year. "The Thistle" was the forerunner of the "Chieftain." There were thirty seniors featured with pictures and "senior characteristics" written for each. They were involved in such organizations as the Curtain Club, Debating Club, Bear Cat Society, Latin Club, Hiking Club, Glee Club, Orchestra, Declamation, and the Athletic Association.

 Many also competed in football, basketball, tennis, track and baseball. The faculty consisted of six teachers and the superintendent.

While there have been many more categories added since 1924, it was important even back then to acknowledge the Most Beautiful Girl, Artie Mae Weaver; Best Looking Guy, Hugh Anderson; Most Popular Girl, Lynda Robertson; and Best All-Around Boy, Ewell Bagwell.

Certainly the academic aspect of the school system has always been of utmost importance, and as the state requirements have demanded more and more of our public schools, Haskell CISD has ranked at the top of the list in providing a quality education for its students.

No matter the many changes that have taken place at Haskell High School during the years, some things have not changed. We all hold dear the memories of our friends, teachers, coaches, classes, activities and accomplishments. While we may not all remember it exactly the same, it is always good to come home and reconnect to the past that helped make us who we are today. Welcome home exes and enjoy the homecoming.

IMPROVEMENT

Haskell County Community

Haskell Memorial Hospital is announcing some exciting things happening at the hospital. The hospital administration and board have been working on a project for several months to improve and upgrade the facilities and ensure its existence now and well into the future. As many of you are aware, the original facility was built in 1939 with additions in the 1970's. Code requirement changes, new technology and outdated infrastructure demand upgrading to run more efficiently and safely. McKinstry Inc., a well-respected company with much experience in our area, designed an energy study for the hospital and presented a proposal on the needs they found. Based on this proposal and board approval, we will begin the project the week of September 23rd. The project will include new electrical systems, HVAC, lighting, fire protection, roofing, and asbestos removal. The energy savings and reduction in maintenance cost on systems will help fund a large portion of the project and the remainder will be funded from operational reserves. THERE WILL BE NO INCREASE IN TAXES NECESSARY FOR THIS PROJECT.

Please have patience with us over the next few months as we will need to re-route our patients to various entrances and exits depending on where the construction is taking place at the time. We will make every effort to make it as convenient as possible for you as you are our number one priority.

As always, we look forward to serving you now and into the future. Any questions may be directed to Fran McCown, Administrator.

Next month's meeting will be a luncheon/information meeting Oct. 10 at The Turnrow Grill in Weinert.

Food service training set

Statistics indicate that foodborne illness continues to be a health issue in the United States. Each year, one in six Americans will become sick, 128,000 will become hospitalized, and 3,000 will die due to a foodborne illness.

If under the Texas Department of State Health Services (DSHS) jurisdiction each food establishment is required to have one certified food manager on site.

Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service in Taylor, Jones and Runnels counties, is offering a professional food manager certification training course. This program will be offered for $125 on Oct. 21 and Oct. 28 at the Taylor County Extension Office in Abilene. Cost includes training, materials, and a national food manager certification examination. The food manager's certification will be valid for five years. The deadline for registration is Oct. 14.

This program is designed to not only prepare foodservice managers to pass the certification examination, but also to provide valuable education regarding the safe handling of food. Almost 50 cents of every dollar Americans spend on food is spent on meals prepared away from home. Therefore, careful attention to food safety will help keep customers safe and satisfied.

Foodborne illnesses are estimated to cost thousands of dollars in lost wages, insurance, and medical bills. With these statistics, knowledge of how to prevent foodborne illness is essential. The benefits of improved food safety include:

- Increased customer satisfaction
- Improved relationships with health officials
- Prevention of bad publicity and law suits due to foodborne illness
- By attending the course, foodservice managers will learn about:
 - identifying potentially hazardous foods and common errors in food handling
 - preventing contamination and cross-contamination of food
 - teaching and encouraging personal hygiene for employees

- complying with government regulations
- maintaining clean utensils, equipment and surroundings
- controlling pests

Foodborne illnesses can be prevented by following simple food safety practices. For more information about the Professional Food Manager Certification Training course of Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service, called "Food Safety: It's Our Business," call Jane Rowan at the Taylor County Extension Office at 325-672-6048.

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

State Capital

HIGHLIGHTS By Ed Sterling

Appellate court overturns DeLay conviction

AUSTIN—The Texas Third Court of Appeals on Sept. 19 overturned former U.S. Rep. Tom DeLay's 2010 conviction on charges of money-laundering and conspiracy in an ethics case brought by the State of Texas.

In a 2-1 opinion, the majority concluded that there was insufficient evidence of any felony offense that generated proceeds and, therefore, that the State failed to establish an element of the crime of money-laundering as alleged in the indictment.

DeLay resigned from Congress in 2006 while the state's lawsuit against him, stemming from fundraising activities in the 2002 election, was in progress. A Travis County jury convicted DeLay in November 2010 but he served no prison time.

Bond elections now listed

Texas Comptroller Susan Combs on Sept. 16 announced a Web page where Texans can find information on November bond proposals being issued by cities, school districts, counties and special purpose districts around Texas.

More than 90 upcoming local bond propositions identified to date and a state bond proposition can be found on the Tell the Truth Texas website, tellthetruth.texas.org. The information includes the entity, purpose of the bond and bond amount.

Buckle up your children

In conjunction with National Child Passenger Safety Week, Sept. 15-21, Texas Department of Transportation on Sept. 17 announced it is offering free, year-round child safety seat inspections conducted by certified technicians.

Texas law requires that children younger than 8 years of age, unless taller than 4 feet 9 inches, must ride in safety seats. A new study by the Texas Transportation Institute found nearly nine out of 10 Texas children were riding in safety seats, but many were not properly buckled. The new study also revealed 37 percent of infants and toddlers in Texas were secured incorrectly—or not at all—when riding in a vehicle.

More patrols come to Valley

Texas Department of Public Safety on Sept. 13 announced the launch of a multi-agency law enforcement initiative to increase the patrol presence in the Rio Grande Valley area of Texas to address public safety issues.

"Law enforcement has identified various criminal activities and unsafe driving behaviors in south Texas that has led to the launch of this short-term enforcement effort in the Rio Grande Valley," the DPS explained in the announcement. DPS Director Steven McCraw specified criminal activities in the region including human smuggling and trafficking, drug smuggling, stash house operations and home invasions, plus the increase of traffic and crashes on roadways.

Key agencies involved in this law enforcement initiative include the Hidalgo County Sheriff's Department, Hidalgo County Constables Precincts 3 & 4, Mission Police Department, U.S. Border Patrol, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Texas National Guard, Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, and the Texas Attorney General's Office.

Survey estimates poverty rate

The U.S. Census Bureau's American Community Survey shows more than 4.5 million or 17.9 percent of Texans are living in poverty, nearly two points above the 2008 pre-recession poverty rate of 16 percent. A two-parent, one-child family with annual income of $18,480 or less meets the poverty definition.

The Center for Public Policy Priorities, an Austin-based, non-partisan think-tank, on Sept. 19 published comments on the survey, calling for more investment in primary and adult basic education and in career development for low-skilled adults to reduce the poverty rate and keep Texas strong.

"Poverty is not an insurmountable problem. We know what works; we've proven it before," wrote Frances Deviney, a senior research associate with the Center for Public Policy Priorities. "It's time for Texas and the U.S. to decide that our current poverty rates are unacceptable and commit to solutions that we know make a real difference."

Wild bird prompts letter

Texas Railroad Commissioner David Porter on Sept. 13 wrote to Daniel Ashe, Director of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, regarding the Lesser Prairie Chicken, a prairie-dwelling bird that naturally inhabits Texas, including parts where oil and gas exploration is on the increase. The non-game, rare-species bird has been a candidate for federal protection since 1998.

"I am writing to express my strong opposition to listing the Lesser Prairie Chicken as threatened or endangered under the Endangered Species Act," Porter wrote. "As the primary regulator of the oil and gas industry in Texas, an industry that would be significantly affected by this decision, I feel it is imperative that the detrimental impacts of such a listing are fully understood and appreciated."

Porter went on to note the economic gains tied to the oil and gas industry and added, "I firmly believe this matter should be left for the states to address through a collaborative conservation plan."

Ask the Mayor

By John Gannaway, Mayor of the City of Haskell

This is the Homecoming edition so we should be positive, forward thinking, putting our best foot forward so to speak. We had our workday in the park this past Saturday, meeting at 8:30 at the gazebo. But where were the last year's seventh graders in the Haskell Leadership Class? We had about four workers in their 70's, two in their 60's, one newcomer to town who brought his three pre-school children because he read it in the paper, three in their 30's and a 50 year old who showed up. We cleaned the creek, mulched the crape myrtles, picked up trash, cut shrubbery blocking vision around the park, hoed weeds, and cleaned windows on three vacant buildings and one business who requested it. The Guadalcazars were doing their own two buildings' windows and because they could get inside—it is a super job! Next session we'll have that final project immediately following the Leadership Class—Kids are kids and their energy and passion needs to be taken advantage of in a timely fashion and not postponed from May to October. Lesson learned!

By the time you read this Monday's City Council will have met and hopefully passed the 2014 budget and approved the tax rate of $.5256/$100 valuation, which is not an increase in your tax rate, and remains one of the lowest in the area. Thursday, Sept. 26, there will be a special called session of City Council at 6 p.m. at City Hall which I would encourage you to attend.

The signs greeting our exes will be up and hopefully a great time will be had by all who attend. The city is looking good thanks to the recent rains and caring residents. Jan and I are looking forward to hosting an after-the-football-game gathering at our house specifically in the backyard. We did this about four years ago and everyone seemed to enjoy the mixture of all classes and all ages so thought we'd try it again this year. Last Homecoming was Jan's 50th year and we hosted her Class of 1961 for a dinner in the backyard on Saturday night so we didn't try to do it then. If it rains, we'll do a dance and move everything inside. So if you have no place to go Friday after the ball game, you're welcome to come here.

Speaking of Homecoming, am I the only one to notice that the aging process has not been very kind to some folks. Some of our exes are beginning to look like I think really old folks look. Only kidding—we are all doing the best we can to age as gracefully and healthfully as possible. I will never forget what my mother used to say about old and her saying was 'I hate old.' I am getting to the point where I have a much better understanding of what she meant. I used to be able to get out in the yard and work really hard all day long and not suffer the consequences the next day. And now, the next day I wake up with sore muscles from the bottom of my feet to the top of my head and it usually takes more than just one day to fully recover.

And speaking of aging, I guess I am beginning to show mine. When the wife and I are out of town and happen to enjoy a meal in a restaurant, I find it entertaining to watch the other folks that are there. I never cease to be amazed at the young folks, especially those that are dating. They come in, the hostess seats them and they both immediately pull out their cell phones and begin texting. For all I know they may be texting each other. But what really bothers me the most is people are losing the ability to participate in a conversation. I am about of the opinion that cell phones may be the biggest deterrent to personal conversation that exists. Okay, enough of my ranting.

I hope everyone makes plans to attend one of the many Homecoming functions and has the opportunity to visit with folks they haven't seen since the last one. Also, don't forget that one of our exes, Jim McMillan, will be selling and signing both of his books. Another of our hometown authors, Steve Harper, cannot attend Homecoming this year but he also has a book on the market about Haskell. You know full well that both of these authors have to be good because we 'grewed' them here.

The Class of '61 is sponsoring a display called "Return to the Reservation" where pictures and names will be placed on a Tee-Pee at the Civic Center. Be sure to come by and see who is still in Haskell or who has returned after retirement.

Realty companies, schools, churches, the city have been encouraged to participate by having material at the site to encourage exes to retire here. Welcome home!

9/11 SERVICE—The Haskell Chamber of Commerce and Haskell County sponsored a 9/11 memorial Wed., Sept. 11 on the square. Members of the Haskell Volunteer Fire Department raised the flag, the Haskell Indian Band provided music selections, brief words were spoken by Rev. Jim McCurley and veterans fired a 21-gun salute.

City Council report

The Haskell City Council met in a regular meeting and public forums for a grant application and a proposed budget hearing Mon., Sept. 9.

Present were Mayor John Gannaway, Pro Tem Jill Druessedow and Councilmen Dan Hoover, Shane Whitt, Allen Morrow and Ernest Frye.

A public forum began with a public hearing on an application to the Texas Department of Agriculture for the Texas Community Development Block Grant Program Funds for Disaster Relief.

City Administrator Brandon Anderson gave an update on the drought status and outlined the plans for the city water supply.

Returning to regular session, Ken Martin from Jacob & Martin Ltd. gave an informative presentation on the grant and loan options available for the city to update water line infrastructure.

Entering in to a public forum, a public hearing was held on the 2013-2014 proposed budget for the City of Haskell.

Anderson outlined the proposed budget and the 2013-2014 tax rate of .5256 per/$100 valuation from last year that will remain in effect for the upcoming year.

Returning to regular session, the new public comment form was approved as presented.

No committee appointments were made.

In the City Administrator's report, Brandon Anderson stated:

•The Chamber of Commerce and the Development Corporation of Haskell have looked at the proposals on the buildings on the square and have decided to not pursue any of the options at this time. They have expressed their thanks for the offer from the City and hope that if things change the offer will still be open.

•A block of water line has been replaced on S. Ave. F between Highway 380 and the sheriff's office. It took a while to get everyone's schedule worked out. The work was done on a Friday so as not to disturb service at the dentist's office during their very busy schedule.

•Discussion and approval for a new rate structure and fee for request for police reports will be held at the next city council meeting.

•Word has been received from North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority that the City's charge for water will go up next year just as it has the last couple of years because of the City's usage compared to other member cities.

•Applications for potential police chiefs as well as applications for officers are being reviewed. Officer Scott Kennedy and I are reviewing these and will be setting up a few interviews in the near future.

•The Betterment Committee will have a clean-up day in the park Sept. 21. More details will follow.

There were no public comments.

New photo ID requirements in effect for Nov. election

by Caron Yates

On November 5, Texas voters will be deciding the fate of nine proposed constitutional amendments.

Because of the power reserved for the people of Texas in the 1876 constitution, which Texas still operates under, we have the opportunity to vote on constitutional amendments. Consequently voters should be informed before they vote. Information and an explanation of the proposed amendments can be found in previous issues of The Haskell Free Press, or by visiting the website of the Texas Secretary of State John Steen, at www.sos.state.tx.us.

Connie Benton, Haskell County Tax Assessor/Collector reminds voters that this is the first statewide election with new photo ID requirements in effect for voting in person.

A voter will be required to show one of the following forms of photo identification at the polling location before they will be permitted to cast a vote: Texas driver license issued by the Texas Department of Public Safety; Texas Election Identification Certificate issued by DPS; Texas personal identification card issued by DPS; Texas concealed handgun license issued by DPS; United States military identification card containing the person's photograph; or United States passport.

This photo ID requirement is for voters casting a ballot in person, not by mail. Voters age 65 and older may vote by mail.

Benton encourages voters to update their voter registrations to reflect the names on their IDs. Voters may use an ID that does not exactly match the name on their voter certificate, if the name is substantially similar, but you will have to sign an affidavit stating you are the same person. Voters may look up their voter registration online at votetexas.gov to compare the two forms of identification. You can also find more information about photo ID requirements, including exemptions at the above website.

Benton also emphasized the importance of taking your voter certificate to the polls when you go to vote.

The last date to register to vote is Monday, Oct. 7. Early voting begins Monday, Oct. 21 and continues through Friday, Nov. 1. Early voting will take place at the Haskell County Courthouse. Friday, Oct. 25 is the last day to apply to vote by mail.

Polling places for Haskell County are:

Box 1: Catholic Church, 901 N. 16th, Haskell;

Box 2: Assembly of God Church, 1500 N. Ave. E, Haskell;

Box 3: Extension building, S. Ave. D, Haskell;

Box 4: Experienced Citizens Center, S. First St., Haskell;

Box 5: Rule City Hall, 100 Union Ave., Rule;

Box 6: Fire Department, Main Street, Rochester;

Box 7: O'Brien City Hall, Grand Central Ave., O'Brien;

Box 8: Weinert School building, Hilmar St., Weinert;

Box 9: Paint Creek School Library, 4396 FM 600, Paint Creek;

Box 10: Sagerton

Community Center, Garfield Ave., Sagerton.

At first glance, we may be tempted to think that many of the proposed amendments will not have a direct effect on us individually, however it is still important that we as citizens take seriously our responsibility to be informed and then vote. After all, as Texans who are governed by this constitution, what does or does not become a part of it, can't help but affect us.

Flu

is a serious contagious disease.

Each year thousands of people are hospitalized and die from flu complications.

Some steps to protect yourself and others from the flu that The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention recommend are as follows:

Vaccinate: A yearly flu vaccine is the first and most important step in protecting against this serious disease. Getting a flu vaccine is very important for people at high risk for serious flu complications, including young children, pregnant women, people with chronic health conditions like asthma, diabetes, heart disease, lung disease, people who are 65 years of age or older, caregivers to the young and elderly, and health care workers.

Stop Germs: Cover your mouth and nose when you cough or sneeze, throw used tissues in the trash, wash your hands often with soap and water, use alcohol-based hand cleansers, try to avoid contact with sick people, avoid touching your eyes, nose, and mouth, and if you get sick with the flu stay at home from work or school.

What questions regarding home care do you have for the nurse? Send your questions to Haskell Home Health Agency, 417 S. First, Haskell, TX 79521 or call 940-864-5074 or 1-877-864-5074.

Toliver family receives award

Members of the Bailey Toliver Family Partnership recently received the Family Land Heritage Certificate from Todd Staples, the Texas department of Agriculture Commissioner. This recognition states that the same family must have maintained the land in continuous agricultural production for 100 years or more.

The land was purchased by Victor J. Josselet in 1887. He gave 200 acres to each of his nine children on the day of their marriage. Ardonia Josselet Toliver was one of those children, she and her husband, J.L. Toliver Sr. divided their property among their six children. One son, Bailey Toliver received his portion of the land and farmed it until he gave it to his four children, who formed a family partnership. The next recognition for them will be when the land has been in the same family for 150 years.

Members of the partnership include Sam Toliver, Lee Ann Toliver Colbert, Brian Toliver and Joseph Toliver.

This Week's Devotional Message:

Faith encourages us to be willing to compromise

Whenever some major problem is debated, both sides tend to go to extremes in their efforts to solve it. Most of these arguments have been in the areas of foreign policy, economics and criminal justice, and the latest one is the environment. Some people are convinced that our planet is doomed unless we mend our ways immediately, while others dismiss all environmental concerns as just political hogwash. Perhaps the answer lies somewhere in the middle, and undoubtedly we could all use a little more common sense and restraint. At our house of worship, we learn to "love our neighbor," so we should be willing to have open-minded discussions of these problems that could have such a profound effect on all of our lives.
