Buzz words. Euphemisms. The current trend towards being verbose instead of to the point is out of hand.

I, for one, am tired of it. In fact, occasionally I'm down right offended by the situation.

My hackles rose when I came across the words "primary care givers" in reference to a child's parents.

A child doesn't have primary care givers—a child has a mother, or a father. And if neither parent is raising that child then it is being raised by aunts, or uncles, or grandparents or someone else. But, so help me, a child doesn't have "primary care givers" It sounds like numbered machines are raising children.

Baby sitters and day care centers have become "secondary care givers".

It began years ago when we all began to make jokes about being "maintenance supervisors" instead of janitors, but has progressed far beyond that now.

Teachers are no longer teachers. They are "persons in charge of a child's educational process" or "educational authoritarian figures".

Aunts, uncles, grandparents and friends aren't relatives anymore...they have become "extended family".

Toys that stack one within the other are no longer pleasant toys they "help to develop a child's spatial concepts".

Give me, and more importantly, give kids, a break here!

And these lengthy name tags aren't applicable to children only, by any means.

A big buzz word right now is "co-dependency". While I get their point about being unable to feel useful and valuable unless catering to someone else, they take it to the point of selfishness.

There are so many different theories and ideas about being a "whole complete person" or "bringing out the inner you" that one stands in danger of being in worse shape afterwards than before!

We received a letter here at the office last week (no, I'm not making this up) addressed to: The Person In Charge of Financial Interactions.

We haven't figured out which one of us gets to read it yet.

Back during the Victorian era it became the fashion to write letters with flowery, over blown embellishments.

Now it seems that we are heading for a like trend, except instead of being overly emotional we are determined to reduce titles and descriptions to a state of de-humanization.

If we wanted to we could all change our titles here at the office.

I could become "the person in charge of monitoring submitted verbalizations" and Cindy could become "the female responsible for transforming submitted articles into hard copy form".

Doesn't seem as concise as "editor" or "typesetter" does it?

Just think of all the titles you can give yourself.

And when the youngsters run in from school this afternoon perhaps they will shout "Hi, primary care giver". Doesn't that sound better than "Hi mom, hi dad"?

Becky Alsop and Rebecca Warren were left off the A&B honor roll in last week's paper. Becky is an 11th grader and Rebecca is a ninth grader.

Bogata Park Work Day Successful

Sometimes more things are accomplished than anyone can imagine.

That was the case last Saturday when volunteers met to begin the first physical work towards creating a beautiful park and outdoor recreation area for the city of Bogata.

Volunteers came away knowing they had done a hard day's work with a lot to show for it...but also knowing that they had shared in a feeling of community spirit that is hard to beat.

The land, which was donated by Donald S. Thomas, had long been covered with vines and head high grass.

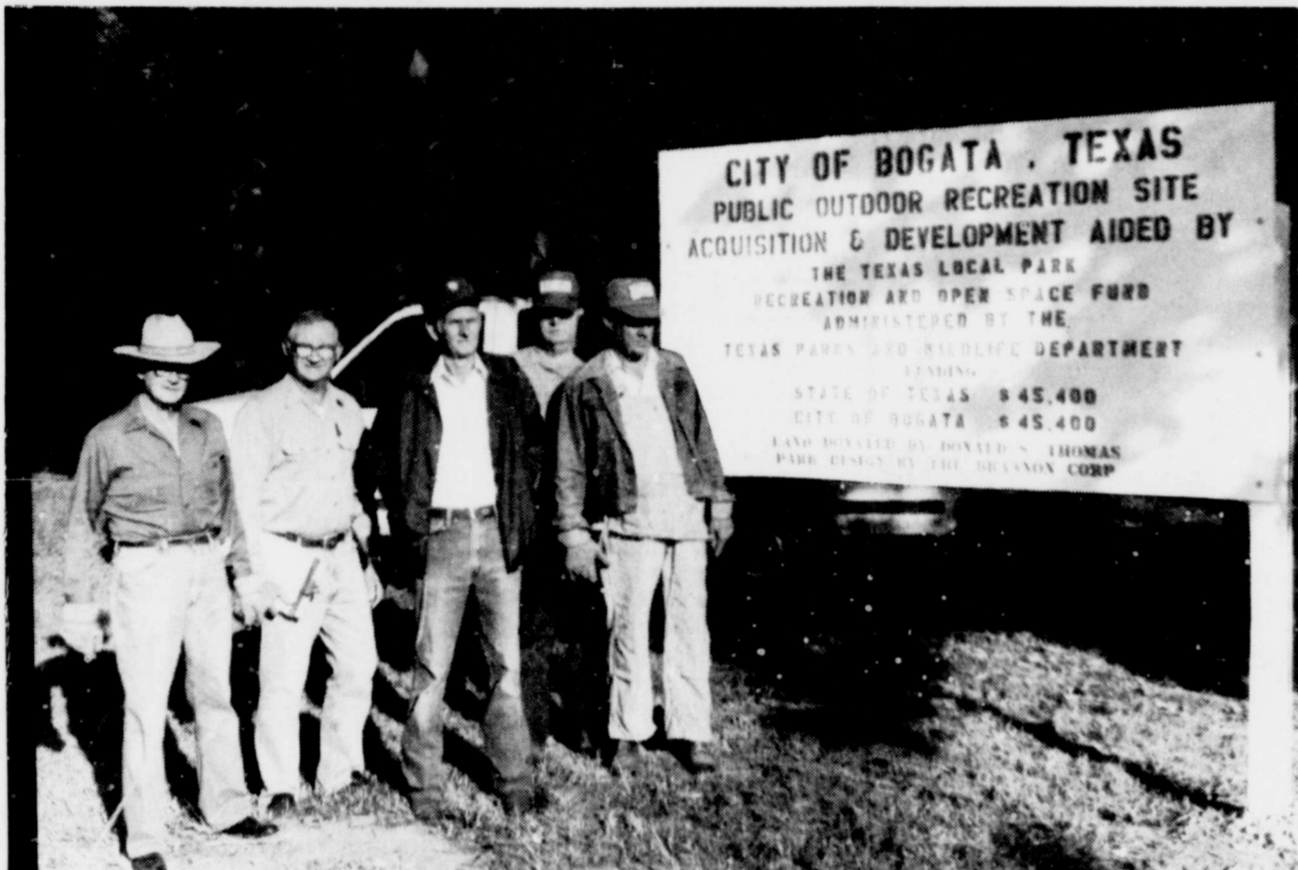

As shredders, mowers, weed eaters and hoes went to work the beauty of the place became more evident.

Magnificent oaks, that have been a hundred years or more in the growing, were trimmed carefully.

Brush was cleared away from the base of trees, old barbed wire pulled up, fence posts removed.

At the end of the day the plot, which backs up to the already existing community center, looked entirely different.

Several old buildings will be removed in the future, and the finished park should be an extraordinary asset to the city of Bogata.

NEW PARK—the City of Bogata has erected this sign on the south side of the new park being created. The land was donated by Donald S. Thomas, and the city of Bogata and the state of Texas are providing matching funding for the park. Providing hard work in clearing and cleaning Saturday were these men, plus many more folks who turned out to help. (Staff Photo by Nanalee Nichols)

TRIMMING UP—David Rozell was one of many who turned out Saturday for a successful clean up day at the Bogata City Park. Mowing, shredding, trimming and trees provided an excellent start to creating a park from what has been long-neglected property. (Staff Photo by Nanalee Nichols)

KEEP STIRRING those beans, honey! says Wendall Davis to his wife, Jo Alice. They are sharing the recipe for their famous Pinto Beans in this week's Country Cooking article.

Country Cooking

By Genie Bankhead

"Country Cooking" is coming to you this week from the home of Wendall and Jo Alice Davis. Wendall is employed at Blossom City Hall and Jo Alice has been a secretary for Smith & Coffman for the past 3 years in Clarksville. They have a four-year old son, Wesley.

For the past few weeks, Wendall and Jo Alice have been busy entering pinto bean contests all the way from Clarksville to Dallas. They read about the Red River County Fair contest in the paper and decided to enter. Jo Alice hurried to the grocery store to purchase her beans, and found the shelves almost bare, and she realized the contest was going to be competitive, but set out to win it.

Arriving at the fair, they found there were 19 pots of beans entered, however, they left the fair with a first place win. This win enabled them to enter the Pinto Bean Cook Off at the State Fair in Dallas, and they came home from there with another first place win. This week, Jo Alice is sharing her famous pinto bean recipe with us.

Jo Alice says everyone wants to taste her special beans so she takes them to work with her and she has committed herself to serve them at the Blossom City Hall in a few days.

Wendall and Jo Alice received several gifts from the State Fair win, one of which are two round trip tickets to anywhere that Southwest Airlines flies. They are still trying to decide where to go.

Jo Alice shares some secrets that help her with this recipe.

She mixes two kinds of beans together, pinto and kidney beans, adding the kidney beans to make the juice redder in color and thicker. She cooks them fast, not slow. Some people soak their beans and cook them slow, she doesn't.

Her grandfather teases her and says her secret is how she stirs the beans. She stirs them left-handed. Maybe there's something to it.

Another secret is the pepper. She uses peppercorn instead of black pepper, and she grinds her own. She believes this makes a tremendous difference in taste.

Along with pinto beans, you must have some good old-fashioned hot cornbread. Jo Alice is sharing her recipe for this also. The third recipe is her mother-in-law's favorite Beef Mushroom Cheese Casserole.

I received another popcorn ball recipe I want to share. This recipe, called Grandmother's Popcorn Balls, came from Mrs. M.A. Ferguson, Jr. at Scroggins. She gets the paper each week and says she cooks all the recipes. Clyde and I didn't know where Scroggins was, we thought perhaps West Texas, but learned it is in the Lake Cypress area. Thank you for the recipe, and I am glad you are enjoying the article.

In last week's paper we ran a caramel pie recipe which listed 1 heaping tablespoon flour. This should be corrected to 2 heaping tablespoons of flour. Please make this correction on your recipe, so your pie will thicken as it should.

If you have a recipe to share, send a copy to me, also if you have a feature suggestion, call 652-6032 or write Rt. 1, Box 67A, Depot, TX 75435.

Mrs. Willie Lee

Card of Thanks

I would like to thank my family and friends for their visits, phone calls, gifts and prayers during my recent surgery.

A special thank you to Bro. Shovan, Coaches and teachers at Rivercrest for their help and support.

Gary Cheatwood

Card of Thanks

We would like to offer a very special "thanks" to everyone who helped when our house caught fire on September 1 while we were in Lubbock celebrating my dad, Leslie Temple's, 90th birthday. If it had not been for Jimmie's alertness in spotting the smoke as he drove past our house, it would have been totally destroyed.

To all Volunteer Fire Departments that responded and all the neighbors who helped clean up the mess inside, we are truly grateful. Since we do not know exactly who all helped, we would be remiss in naming individuals. However, we want each one to know that we are very thankful. It takes a tragedy like this sometimes to make one stop and think just how "close knit" a small community like Cunningham is. Also, neighboring communities are always there to help if at all possible. We feel truly blessed to be a part of this community and of this area.

Sincerely,
Clyde and Bobby Slusher
Cunningham

SOMETHING NEW...(903)

It's the new area code for Northeast Texas. Starting Sunday, November 4, 1990, many residential and business users will be served by a new area code (903). The new (903) area code is being added to accommodate the unprecedented growth in the Dallas area and surrounding communities. It's simple, but here are points to keep in mind:

- You may need to reprogram or modify some of your telephone equipment. Reprogram automatic dialing devices, FAX machines and computer modems with the new (903) area code so special features such as speed calling and call forwarding will perform properly.
- Change the area code designation on your checks, stationery, business cards, vehicles, calendars, ads and all other printed materials... notify friends, relatives, customers, suppliers and associates.
- And don't worry if your friends and associates haven't gotten the word yet. Through May 4, 1991, if anyone forgets and uses the (214) area code, we'll continue to automatically process their calls to you.
- Your phone rates won't change... and your seven-digit phone number will remain the same.

So make a note: Starting November 4, many Northeast Texas communities will be getting a new area code... (903).

Rebel Sports Report

Rebels Roughed Up By Tigers, 54-18

By Keye Lee

The Rebels were roughed up Friday night at home by the Leonard Tigers, 54-18.

Quarterback Ronald Simmons and his offensive linemen surprised the Leonard Tigers when they took the helm. The Rebels marched 86-yards to score first in the contest with 6:15 to play.

However, Rivercrest held their lead for only one play when quarterback Tony Joe White found senior Frank Ball open, hitting his target for 69-yards and a Tiger touchdown. The point after attempt gave the Tigers the lead by one point, 7-6.

The momentum of the contest was changed when the Tigers slapped the ball from quarterback Simmons' hand. They seemed incorrigible as they moved the ball with success, until a clipping penalty stopped the Rebels and Leonard took possession at their 30-yard line.

The youthful Rebels stiffened and held the Tigers when they moved into Rebel territory with 4 & 16. Quarterback White drew back to pass again to Frank Ball, and senior Scott Yancey of Rivercrest broke up the pass and gave Rivercrest a first down with 1:17

Rivercrest pressed onward with the passing attack to reach only into Tiger territory, when Ricky Bulen intercepted the pass and sprinted 56-yards for another touchdown with 9:56 to play in the half. The Tigers scored twice more before halftime expired and at the half, the Tigers led 34-6.

Going into the third quarter, the Rebels tried running the ball, only to be stopped. Quarterback Simmons went into the air and found sophomore Tony Sanders, who with a saving tackle thrown by Clint Burns, managed to run into the endzone for a Rebel score. The PAT was no good and the Rebels trailed 41-12.

The Tiger quarterback fumbled the ball and Rebel David Davidson recovered it, only to have to put it away. The Tiger offensive was on the move when freshman Matt Childres picked off a pass and scampered 20-yards into the endzone for the final touchdown for the Rebels with 3:07 to play. The extra point was no good and the Tigers defeated the much-improved Rebels 54-18.

HEALTH NEWS & NOTES

Seafood: Get The Good Without The Problems

An increasing number of health conscious Americans are consuming low fat seafood. However, as with other foods, seafood can cause foodborne illness due to microbial contamination. The U.S. Food and Drug Administration inspects and analyzes seafood to help assure its safety. It also recommends these steps to take when handling and preparing seafood—especially shellfish—to further reduce your risk:

Storage
 Seafood should always be refrigerated at 35 to 40 degrees Fahrenheit until preparation time. For added freshness and safety, put wrapped fish on ice when storing in the refrigerator. Because many refrigerator freezer compartments don't reach zero, they should be used only for temporary storage. Use separate freezers for long-term storage.

Cooking
 Almost any fish can be baked, broiled, poached, steamed or fried. Some people prefer to bake fatty fish and poach or steam lean fish. Fish fillets and steaks are excellent charcoal broiled or barbecued.

Allow 6 to 12 minutes cooking time for each inch of thickness. Turn it halfway through the cooking time. Fish is cooked properly when the thickest part becomes opaque and the fish flakes easily when poked with a fork.

Bake at 450 degrees F.
 Broil about 5 inches from the heat source.

Shrimp can be simmered 3 to 5 minutes depending on the size and quantity or until the shells turn red.

Clams and mussels may be steamed over boiling water until the shells open (5 to 10 minutes). Oysters should be sauteed, baked or broiled until plump and opaque and the edges curl, about 2 to 3 minutes.

Follow these simple rules to help assure that the fish and seafood you eat is as healthful as it is delicious.
