3 Retire From ASCS

Three well respected and much appreciated employees of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee retired — one some months ago, and two last week — for a combined total of eighty years of experience with the organization.

"They shall be missed," said Lloyd Feemster, County Executive Director. "There is no way to adequately express our appreciation of them."

R. C. Couch Jr., Elsie Eastland and Grace Bisbee were honored with an appreciation party Friday night at the Community Room of Haskell National Bank. Employees of ASCS, all ex-employees, and many, many friends gathered to honor them.

R. C. retired several months ago, to be associated full-time with Haskell National Bank. He was presented a wall plaque for his new office. He had been Field Superintendent for over 20 years.

Elsie Eastland retired Friday with a total of more than 25 years employment with ASCS. She was REAP clerk.

Grace Bisbee also retired Friday, adding up a total of over 35 years with the office. Both women were presented gold engraved bracelets. Grace was Chief Clerk.

Millers Creek Lake Site - Panorama Of Activity

By DON COMEDY

I was pleased to be invited by Pete Beecher, manager of the North Central Texas Municipal Water Authority, on a tour last Thursday of the site of the new Millers Creek Lake. Also making the tour were Lew Seward, Chief Engineer of Planning for the Texas Water Development Board; Danny Buerger, Development Fund Manager of the TWDB; Aaron Edgar and Marion Waggoner, of the Munday Courier.

The tour was planned by Beecher to bring the two newspapers up-to-date on the progress of the building of Millers Creek.

According to Beecher, the construction project is about 109 days behind schedule, due to an extremely wet winter and spring. An extension will probably be granted to J. H. Strain and Sons on the building of the dam, because of the delay.

Construction was in full swing during Thursday's tour, and was a very impressive sight. We walked through a maze of steel reinforcing; bogged through mud and mire; went through tunnels; and took a good look around.

Approximately 5600 feet of the dam has been completed to the required height and only the crushed rock covering is necessary to complete it. The major component of the dam, 4,000 foot long and about 60 feet high, is taking shape very fast.

The complexity of the job of building the dam is completely amazing. Giant dirt-hauling machinery is at every location at the site, crawling over the area creating a beehive of activity of men and machinery. After hauling dirt to the desired location, huge plows level the ground and water is sprayed over it to bring it to the proper density before it is packed under giant rollers. This procedure continues, inch by inch, until the dam reaches the desired height.

Construction of the service spillway is well underway, and should be completed in the near future. The structure is a 451 foot-long tunnel, which goes under the dam and empties into a stilling pool. Flood waters will be released through the spillway and into Millers Creek with minimal erosion.

The treatment plant is taking shape, and should be completed well before the lake is full. The plant is an up-to-date, modern facility which will guarantee some 8,000 people of this area a clean, safe, water supply in the years to come.

Davis Wins Tourney

Billy Don Davis of Throckmorton won the Haskell County Club Invitational Golf Tournament Sunday with a 3-over par 145 in the championship flight. He took home a new set of irons.

Buck Everett of Haskell won a set of woods by placing second in the two-day tournament; and Paul Blackerby of Breckenridge came in third and won a dozen golf balls.

32 golfers turned out for the successful tournament, according to Jim Atterly, club pro.

At the end of play Saturday, results were as follows:

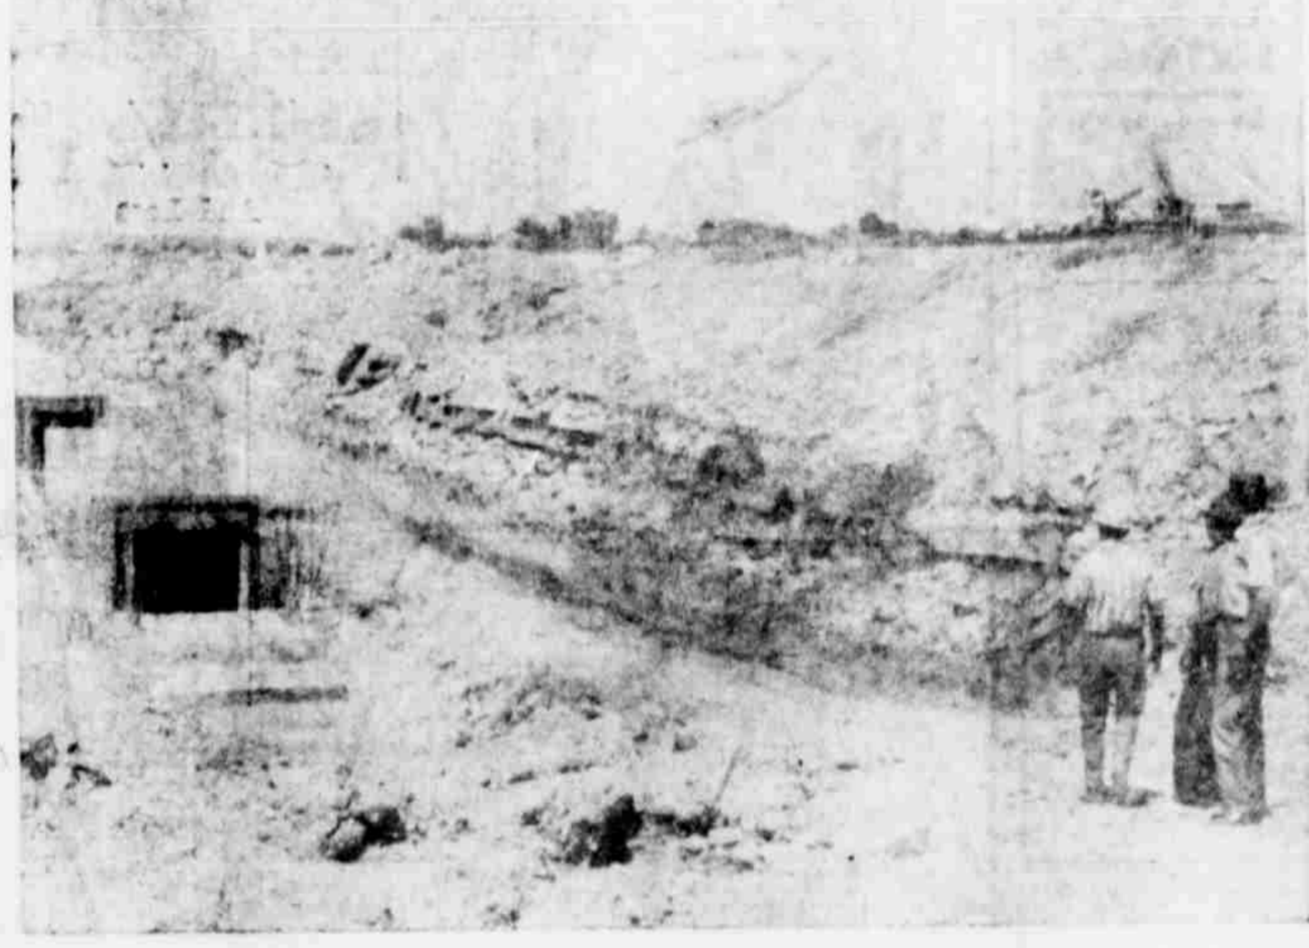

Championship Flight
Troy Knuckles, J. B. Tabor, Billy Davis, Paul Blackerby, all 72; Buck Everett and Jim Attaway, 73; David Strickland 74; Billy Hamilton and Billy Perry 75; Ken Walters, Travis Horton and Allen Strickland 76.

FIRST FLIGHT: R. C. Couch 77; Frank Shield, Rowland Henderson, 79; Chris Diekey, Park Sloan, James Binion and Gary Johnson, 81; Jack Medford and K. L. Walters 83.

SECOND FLIGHT: Earl Albis and Gary Sorrell, 85; Bill Lane, 86; Jody Kennedy and Stanley Harris, 87; Jay Martin, 89; Eddie McClusky, 92; Tom Watson, 93; and Randy May 99.

Sunday, Park Sloan of Breckenridge won first flight honors with a 156 while Baird's Stanley Harris took the second flight trophy with a 165 total, and K. L. Walter of Abilene was third in the first flight with a 165.

Singing School Set For 8th Year

July 9-20, the Haskell Singing School will be in session for the purpose of improving church singing. This school is in its eighth year, having begun in 1966. Each year, students have gathered from many states for this intensive training in spiritual singing.

The school has been under the direction of Mr. Holland L. Boring Sr., of Abilene, Texas since its beginning. Bob Connel, minister of the Haskell Church of Christ, who has been with the school from the beginning, has served as coordinator for the past six years. Other instructors this year will be Holland L. Boring Jr., Basalt, Colo.; Bill Lyons, Snyder, Texas, and Billy Bob Shaw of Haskell. Mrs. Cloys Dick serves as secretary.

The past year over 90 students were kept in homes of the church members for the two-week period. Mr. Loraine Johnson is responsible for this placement.

Each morning, students assemble for a devotional. After this, warm-up exercises for the voice are given. Then the students are separated into different levels of instruction.

Farmers Can Conserve Fuel

COLLEGE STATION—With the nationwide fuel shortage now a reality, farmers as well as all Americans are being called on to stretch each gallon of fuel as far as possible. Although farmers are in a priority group to receive special consideration for allocating fuel, it's still vital that they take measures to conserve fuel consumption, emphasizes Henry O'Neal, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

What are some of the key things a farmer can do to reduce fuel use?

O'Neal lists a few: Reduce tillage practices. Make just one trip over the field, covering as many operations as possible. For instance, plant and apply herbicides or fertilizer at the same time.

Don't cultivate unless necessary.

Use the right tractor for the job, if there is a choice. Use a light tractor for light jobs and a bigger tractor for heavier jobs. Use a diesel tractor where possible as diesel fuel is more plentiful than gasoline.

Operate the tractor at the right speeds and keep it well tuned. The operator should have a good guide on the length of the field. Don't let the tractor idle for long periods. Consider moving the tractor by truck when it's on the highway. Where possible, combine operations that require the current crop as ditch clearing and plowing.

This was a fast week, for some reason. Could be because we are putting out a paper on Tuesday that normally is put in the mail late Wednesday afternoon. So, hopefully, by the time you receive this, all the staff at Haskell Free Press will be on holiday—one of only two days out of the year that the newspaper can close. We have so few holidays, no one around here can make up their minds what they intend to do on the day off—except that all are sure they don't want to work—me included. Hope you, too, have had a nice 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Tidwell and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Marr took the Youth A group, and the Youth B group of East Side Baptist Church bowling in Abilene Tuesday, June 26.

Home Loans Will Likely Increase

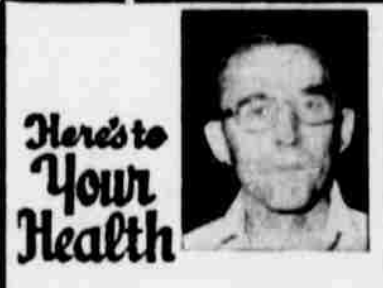

The number of G. I. home loans guaranteed by the Veterans Administration in the current fiscal year will likely register the heaviest volume of activity in 16 years, Jack Coker, Veterans Administration Regional Office Director, reported today.
Coker noted that 303,000 loans with a face value of $7 billion were guaranteed in the first 10 months of this fiscal year, up four percent over the 291,500 loans approved in a comparable period of Fiscal Year 1972. A total of 359,000 loans guaranteed in all of F. Y. 1972, in turn marked the most active year since F. Y. 1957.

In the Waco Regional Office area, 13,872 valued at $289,384,828 were made for the same period.
Veteran loans for mobile homes increased 40 percent in the first 10 months of this fiscal year, jumping to 4,900 from 3,500 in a comparable period last year.
Coker said the upward trend in VA loan volume began in 1971, and he attributed much of the gain to the general availability of mortgage money for home building and buying, and a law signed by the President on Oct. 23, 1970, which restored eligibility for loans to veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict, eliminated the one-half percent loan funding fee previously required of post-Korean veterans, and made other changes providing greater flexibility on the loan program.

For "rescue breathing": Clear victim's throat of water, mucus, food. Tilt head back to open the air passage. Hold jaw in jutting-out position. Pinch nostrils to prevent air leakage unless victim is a child. Blow into mouth (and nose, if victim is a small child) until you see the chest lift. Remove your mouth; listen for air return from victim's lungs. Repeat about 12 times a minute for an adult, about 20 times a minute for a child.

WASHINGTON
"As it looks from here"
OMAR DURLISON
Congressman
17th District

WASHINGTON, D. C. - The big he-lion commanded great respect until he opened his mouth to roar and revealed he was toothless. To assume he had also lost his claws and that all lions had no teeth would be a grievous mistake.

This is something like the national land-use legislation now pending in subcommittees of both the House and the Senate. At places and times it could scratch and bite a lot of people.

The purpose of the legislation, according to its sponsors, is to establish a national policy in recognition of the fact that land-use management decisions of wide public concern are often factors contradictory to sound environmental, economic, and social land-use considerations.

Basically the legislation provides that each state inventory and identify areas of critical environmental concern. The areas defined are coastal wetlands, marshes, other lands undated by tides, beaches, dunes, estuaries, flood plains of rivers, lakes and streams, areas of unstable soil, undeveloped agricultural land, grazing, watershed lands, and in fact just about any real estate could be included.

The legislation tells the states to establish a land-use planning process which would submit their findings to a newly created department called Land-Use Policy Administration in the Department of the Interior. The estimated initial cost is somewhere between $220 and $850 million. This is the "carrot" to the States. The "stick" is a provision to withhold Federal money from this program and programs already in effect, such as airports and roads if States failed to comply.

The plan would presumably protect certain areas from the location of highways, water impoundment, and other uses of land found to be related and affecting the environment.

If all this sounds rather vague, it is because it is intended to be that way. No doubt it would have far-reaching effects on many communities if the law was enacted as now proposed. It could have the effect of controlling the use of much of our land as to the location of any facility or development since everything would have to comply with standards set by the Environmental Protection Agency, the Federal Water Pollution Control Act, and the Clean Air Law already on the books.

Incidentally, it is contended by some that there is already authority under these several Acts to control the use of land.

No doubt some serious mistakes have been made in the development of suburbs around many cities. Across the river from Washington in Virginia, suburbs have developed which cannot be accommodated by present water and sewage facilities. It has created serious problems and, of course, the developers and local officials should have been aware of such a situation beforehand.

DEATH NOTICES
Domingo Benevides

Funeral services for Domingo Benevides, 48, were held at St. George Catholic Church in Haskell at 4 p. m. Friday, June 29. Interment was in Willow Cemetery under direction of the Holden-McCauley Funeral Home. Father Sheen Sheeran said the mass.

Benevides was found hanging in a barn on the Clinton Kimbrough farm about four miles south of Haskell, about 11:30 a. m., Tuesday, June 26, by Kimbrough Justice of the Peace Hubert Bledsoe ruled the death a suicide.

He was a farm laborer, and came to Haskell from Clarkwood in 1963.

He is survived by the wife, Mrs. Elida Benevides of Haskell; four sons, two daughters, five brothers, four sisters and eight grandchildren.

cludes that Americans may have to change their concept of urbanization rights, now considered as coming from the land itself like minerals or crops. The rub is should the Federal Government be able to tell local governments how to run their communities in this regard. Thus far, the struggle over land use has been between the "environmentalists" and the "developers." Since property taxes are, of course, involved and since this is the business of local governments, it would

Groundwater Supply Study Being Made By Texas A&M University

In response to numerous requests, the Texas Water Quality Board and Texas A&M University have undertaken a joint study of the groundwater supply in the Seymour Formation of Knox and Haskell Counties.

The purpose is three-fold: 1) to determine the total pumpage of water from this formation. 2) to determine the extent and sources of salt water contamination. 3) to determine the extent of nitrate contamination.

The first part of the study consists of compiling a complete well inventory of the area. In order to accomplish this, well inventory forms have been mailed out to everyone known to have an irrigation well in this area. Those who have received these forms are asked to complete them and return them any week day to the Texas A&M University Vegetable Research Station at Munday, or to the City Hall in Rule on July 17, 18 and 19, or at the ASC office of the USDA in Haskell on July 24, 25 and 26. Hours will be from 9:00 a. m. to 3:00 p. m.

When the forms are returned, sample bottles will be given out to collect and return samples of water from each well. These samples can then be returned to the previously mentioned locations on the above mentioned days.

The samples will be analyzed for salt and nitrate concentration. However, because bacteria can change the concentration of nitrates, it is asked that sample bottles be returned for testing on the same day that the samples were taken from the wells.

Results of the analyses will be mailed back within 2 weeks. This study is being conducted with the one goal in mind—to help preserve the groundwater of the Knox-Haskell area; but nothing will be accomplished without the help and cooperation of local residents.

Seeding the Land

No farmer can grow a crop without planting seed in the tract that he's working. And the same thing is true of money. No town can grow unless its money is "planted" at home. Funds which go elsewhere may help other people prosper, but home growth requires home capital. And that's what we're all about... an independent community bank, a bank which keeps your money at home, seeding new businesses, helping people with personal financial needs, working in many ways for your community. Come on in and talk banking with us, the bank which seeds money here, where it counts. Remember, you're an important part of us.

Rotarians Hear
Program Given
By Headstream

Members of the Haskell Rotary Club and guests met at the City Cafe at noon, June 28th, with president Bob Philpot, presiding.

Haskell Stone, program chairman, introduced Aubrey Headstream, administrator of the Tri-County Health Clinic, with headquarters in Haskell, who made a very interesting and enlightening talk on Mental Health as it is recognized today and the work of the local clinic. He stressed the fact that people today have an entirely different concept as to what mental illness really is, than those who lived in the 19th century.

The recognized definition of mental health today is "Problems in Everyday Living", he said and explained that there were many categories which people with problems fall into. They are treated on an individual basis by trained personnel.

"However," he said, "there are still many people today who are averse to being seen going into a mental health clinic and persist in going to see a medical doctor. In many cases these people have no disease and the doctors do not wish to attempt to treat them but often refer them to a mental health clinic."

Mr. Headstream also said the Haskell Clinic was three years old and funds for another year had already been approved by the state agency. He further announced that it was highly possible that by September of this year, Haskell would be the location for what is known as a "Sheltered Workshop", where people who do not fit in the normal labor stream, may learn to develop themselves so that they may find employment of some type.

The invocation was given by Rotarian Bob Benneham and the Pledge of Allegiance, led by Charles Thornhill. Nancy Kay Middleton was introduced by R. C. Couch Jr., as being the guest of Stanley Furrh. Bob Herren, accompanied by Rene Abbott at the piano, led the song session.

Cotton Herbicide
For Carelessweed
Now Approved

Registration of Sancan, a new cotton herbicide specifically for use in sandy soils, has been accepted by the Environmental Protection Agency, the Agricultural Division, CIBA-GEIGY Corp., has announced.

The new herbicide controls pigweed (carelessweed) and Russian thistle. Application is to be made at planting, but prior to emergence of weeds or cotton. Registration covers use of Sancan in the sandy soil cotton producing areas of Arizona, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas.

A fact sheet covering Sancan applications, cautions, rotational guidelines and other information is available. Write Mrs. Betsy Wood, Agricultural Division, CIBA-GEIGY Corp., Saw Mill River Road, Ardsley, N. Y. 10502.

FOOD BILL VS. WAGES
If wages had risen at the same rate as food prices in the United States during the last 20 years, the average industrial worker today would be earning $2.23 an hour instead of $3.65.

Lane-Felker To Sponsor A Charm School

Lane-Felker again will bring to the Haskell area, Mrs. Mary Lynn Ratcliff of Fort Worth, who will teach a charm course from July 16 to July 27.

Mary Lynn was here under the sponsorship of Lane-Felker three years ago, and is being brought back because the course was so popular with young women.

She has been professional instructor for many Miss Texas contestants. She is a graduate of John Robert Powers, and studied fashions in Rome and Paris. She was a professional model five years, and was also a free-lance commentator for Meachams, Stripings, Cox's and others.

"My ambition," says Mary Lynn, "is to make ladies—not models."

Thirteen lessons will be included in the course, including all about poise and posture, how to use make-up, etiquette, dating, the right hair styles for you, telephone conversations, and other things which add up to poise and self-confidence.

A style show will be held Aug. 1 to demonstrate the accomplishments of the girls who attended.

So, if you were in junior high or college in the 1972-73 school year, apply for the course at Lane-Felker—soon!

Medicare medical insurance premium, scheduled for an increase in July, has been rolled back in keeping with President Nixon's 90-day price freeze policy, according to Glyn Hammons, Assistant District Manager for the Abilene Social Security Office.

"The higher amount will continue to be charged until the premium record for each beneficiary can be corrected," Hammons said.

"Refunds in full will be made at a later date. This also applies to Railroad Retirement beneficiaries and Civil Service annuitants who pay premiums for medical insurance under Medicare," he said.
