By Nanalee Nichols Well, well, will wonders never cease?

Geraldo Rivera has bought a weekly newspaper! Yes, THE Geraldo Rivera, the man who hs always been on television..the one with his own show, has bought a WEEKLY paper in, of all places, New Jersey.

The article about this purchase appeared in "Publisher's Auxiliary", put out by the National Newspaper Association.

It appears on the same page with an article abuot weekly paers being "in".

Perhaps that's why Rivera bought his paper. I can't imagine any other reason for him to make this perculiar move.

In fact, there are several reasons he might not want to do this. Take the matter of salaries for instance. I would happily trade my entire year's salary for one month of Geraldo Rivera's (Probably for one week's). Please, man, don't give up the TV job just yet! We all know that Geraldo is used to hard hitting reporting. Why, he's been attacked on tv.

But I'll guarantee he has never had to face the scathing wrath of a mother whose child was left off the honor roll list, or the violence of a group whose picture was misidentified. Talk about scarey!

Geraldo might want to think about the plain fact that the publisher/editor of a small town paper carries a camera with him at all times. There are no camera men to follow him around. No researchers to do his "homework" for him.

Forget trips to exotic places to conduct interviews, Geraldo. The best you can hope for is a $3.95 lunch t the local cafe.

He may also find that the stories he has to write about have changed.

According to the article in PA some of his latests reports have been titled "Heavy Metal Moms" and "Daytime Lady Killers".

About the only equivalents I can come up with are "Mothers Who Watch Soap Operas While Their Kids Nap" or "Senior Citizens Who Flirt With Waitresses...Are They Dangerous?".

Geraldo may not be too impressed with small town politics. About the biggest pay off in town is a free cup of coffee.

He may be a tad bored with local crime too, who wrote nasty words on the wall of the local pharmacy or received the latest traffic citation is usually the biggest thing around.

If his weekly paper is like most others, he will have to be prepared o do his own dark room work, balance his own books and lastly, but not leastly, clean his own bathroom!

I repeat Geraldo, it's a different world you are attempting to enter...and frankly, my dear, I don't think you are cut out for it ... I don't think you're tough enough! Better stick to TV, buddy!

Country Cooking

Country Cooking is being shared this week from the kitchen of Almer and Alma Norwood of Cunningham.

Being married for 62 years, they have lived all their married life in Cunningham. Almer and Alma have a very large family and due to space, we will not be able to mention everyone's name. They are the parents of Darold and wife, Ida Mae, and their two children; James and wife, Pat, and their three children; Conard and wife, Delores, and their two children; Talma and wife, Susie and their two children; Danny and wife, Sharon and their three children; Cindy and husband, Charles Nichols and their two children; and the late Gene and his surviving wife, Geneva and their three children. They have 18 greatgrandchildren.

Summertime is around the corner and many people enjoy cook-outs, weiner roasts, camping and picnics. I knew Alma had a very special recipe she has used for over 35 years for hot dogs and I asked her to share with us, so those of you who are tired of plain hot dogs can try this recipe at your next cook out.

Alma first began using this recipe when her children were in school at Cunningham. She made pan after pan of hot dogs to sell at fundraising activities at the school. Since the school consolidated and her children are now grown, she still makes this recipe when the community has an activity to raise money. She averages cooking these about three times a year. She also cooks a big batch every New Years day for her family. She says they are usually tired of turkey by then and the hot dogs are very good. We hope you enjoy the recipe.

Alma still likes to garden, shop, cook and loves to walk. Since her retirement she's kinda "taking life easy". Alma worked as head cook at Cunningham and Prairiland for a total of 10 years. She says her cooking has slowed down, but remembers that with a family as large as hers, she has certainly cooked many meals. She reers years ago she would get up each day and cook a huge meal, and that several would always come in to eat. Almer says now they just "junk" eat mostly. Anything to eat is alright with him as long as she has something sweet to eat, so Alma tries to keep his sweet tooth satisfied.

Both Almer an Alma enjoy gardening. They are like lots of other folks, they don't need to be in a garden but just love to watch things grow. Alma likes to can tomatoes. She recently came across a new recipe for canning tomatoes that is quick and easy and said if you would like the recipe just call her. She also likes to can peas, but they have to be shelled so she tries to find someone she can talk into helping do this job.

Alma enjoys shopping, and does most of it in Paris. She says she can find more things she likes there than in Dallas. She also loves to walk. Almer used to be her walking partner but he has quit her, but she still tries to keep up the pace of about a mile a

A Short History Of Bogata Homecoming

By Charles Wilkinson

In May of 1941, the senior class of Bogata High School, along with the senior class sponsors, Etheleen Williams and Floyd McCrury, boarded Mr. Stewart's bus for a trip to Daingerfield State Park for Senior Day. What an excited group! Mr. Branson and Mr. Cody came down later and joined us.

We spent the morning playing, exploring the park and dancing. At noon we spread our sack lunches and had a picnic.

In the afternoon we again boarded the bus and went to the Daingerfield Gym where we skated most of the field Park with our sack lunches. We liked the idea of getting together, so it was decided to meet the next year at the park in Bogata. Only about five of us came to that reunion. Mr. Branson suggested that we meet each year at the school and open it up to all Bogata ex-students. So now we have the Bogata Homecom-Let's have the biggest of them all

Soybean Planting Tips

By Paul D. Payne

Early maturing soybean varieties need to be planted by April 15 if possible. The timing of soybean planting is critical to the success of the Group III and IV varieties. Perhaps the spring of 1991 will be kinder to us than the 1990 flooding season and we will bej able to get the seed in the ground in early April.

There is no best early maturing soybean variety for our area. Most of the seed companies have productive varieties. Williams 82 continues to be a reliable Group III mature variety. Williams was about the first Group III variety planted in Lamar County about 10 years ago and has consistently made acceptable yields.

The 1990 Farm Bill contains a number of new provisions that previous farm legislation did not cover.

One of these new terms is flexibility. There is normal flex acres and optional flex acres. Farmers would be advised to have a good understanding of these two terms prior to signing up for the program in the ASCS

Planting flexibility was one of the primary objectives for both the administration and Congress when drafting the 1990 Farm Bill. As a result of the Budget Reconciliation Act, the 25% planting flexibility was divided into two parts; 15% known as normal flex acres and the remaining 10% called optional flex acres.

The 1990 Farm Bill is a complicated document and farmers are encouraged to study and understand the program options prior to signing lisher's Auxiliary, a National Newspaper Association publication.

Weekly Newspapers Are "In"!

And the article simple tells us something that most small town people have known for years...that COMMUNITY is important and weekly papers are important to community. The article says that weekly papers have the opportunity to take a major, global event like the Persian Gulf war and turn it into a heart felt issue about the mother who sent sun block and home made cookies to her son in Saudi Arabia. No kidding, tell me something new!

The whole article is written by a woman in Chicago...who now has a weekly paper. Her point is that even in big cities a small town atmosphere is taking hold and the cities are being broken down into small, communitylike neighborhoods.

It seems that neighborhoods are turning to a small town way of Weekly Newspapers are "In". life...getting involved in one another's That's the title of an article in Pub-problems, getting involved in fund raisers for community projects and betterment, caring for one another in various ways.

The community paper, the article says, is one of the best ways to do this! Of course, in the tradition of the 80's they give it labels like "Communitarianism will be to the '90's what neoconservatism was to the '80's". They call people who work for the betterment of community "communitarian activists". We have lots of those...but they usually think they are just doing their job or helping out!

Perhaps this heralds a trend...that people are returning to more traditional values, that people are going to adopt small town ways in big cities instead of making fun of them.

I hope so. Because wouldn't it be nice if city dwellers discovered what small town people have known forever...that nothing feels better than knowing your neighbor, reading local news, and caring what happens to your town!

Electrical safety...

something an employee shouldn't learn on the job

On-the-job training is a dangerous and expensive way to teach employees about electrical safety.

Employers can avoid serious accidents by teaching employees before their jobs begin that they should never contact underground or overhead power lines with anything.

This advice is especially important for employees who operate backhoes, winches or other equipment that could come into contact with power lines.

For more information about the potential dangers of power lines, call or visit your local TNP office today.

Social Security Notes

By Ray Hudson, District Manager

Social Security and Supplemental Security Income beneficiaries must report any changes in mailing address or risk having their checks suspended.

This is especialy true of those who use direct deposit, because they are not using a mailing address to receive monthly checks. However, notices of changes and reminders of reporting requirements cannot be sent to a bank, so having a correct mailing address on file is extremely important.

In addition, in January of each year, Social Security sends each beneficiary a Form SSA-1099, the Social Security Benefit Statement. If the U.S. Postal Service returns a Form 1099 as undeliverable, that person's benefit may be suspended for lack of a good address, even if the beneficiary is using direct deposit.

First, however, Social Security will double check for a recent change of address. If none is found, and the benefit is paid by direct deposit, Social Security will ask the financial institution for a correct address. The post office is asked to check its change of address records, and local telephone directory assistance is contacted.

Using the best available address, Social Security sends a first-class notice that benefits will be suspended unless the beneficiary contacts Social Security. If no response is made, benefits are suspended until the agency hears from the person.

Avoiding this procedure is very simple. A person should be sure to let Social Security know whenver his or her mailing address changes. A simple phone call will get it done.

For more information about Social Security, contact your local Social Security office. A representative will be happy to assist you.
