Worth

By Nanalee Nichols

"Hosesius Disappearus" or "Socks Solitarus" might be the "scientific" term. We know them as "socks". The humble sock, all that stands between our feet and the elements-the defender of our toes from blisters, the protector of heels. Yet these staid, utilitarian items of apparel lead...as everyone knows...a separate and quite different lifestyle!

Socks are apparently very solitary in nature. Socks are in pairs from the time they are packaged onward...or at least we think they are supposed to be.

Socks, however, have other ideas. They don't seem to like spending their "off" hours rolled together and stuffed into a drawer.

So, what do they do? When laundry time comes they escape!

Houdini had nothing on the common sock. No, indeed...no wily forest animal can match the hiding ability of a determined, isolation-minded piece of hosiery!

Like most people I KNOW I put both socks into the washer at the same time. I KNOW that those socks are both there when I remove them and put them in the dryer. But somehow, by some feat of skill or strength only one half of that pair comes out of the dryer!

If they do come out of the dryer it's a fair bet that they will somehow manage to separate in the sock drawer and one of them will disappear.

I don't know if they take turns escaping, but I do know that both of them never go at the same time. No, instead one sock remains behind, deliberately goading sock owners into a frenzied search of the drawer.

I actually cleaned out my husband's sock drawer the other day. And during that horrendous organizational task I made yet another discovery...socks apparently have the ability not only to disappear...but can change their appearance!

I discovered three socks, each with a narrow band at the top, each a different length or color. In other words I had half of three different pairs of socks...and I know we never even bought a single pair of socks with a band around the top!

Perhaps that is what happens...perhaps socks can teleport from one drawer to another miles away?

At any rate, I took revenge on the sneaky, unmatched socks of various styles, colors and sizes and took all of them out to the barn for wax rags for the cars!

Hah...I hope that'll show them a thing or two!

The really wierd thing is that I'd bet I could go back through that drawer again and come up with two or three more unmatched socks.

I understand that there are little plastic things to clip socks together with so that they are shackled through the laundry process. Somehow, though, I think that would take the challenge out of the whole process. It would be a little like crippling wild horses or chaining up tigers. No, I guess I'll just leave my socks to pursue their wild and solitary life.

American Cancer Society Seeks Donations

The Residential Educational and Fund Raising Crusade is the backbone of the annual American Cancer Society campaign. American Cancer Society volunteers are organized in about 300 counties across the state to fulfill the society's commitment to fight cancer through education, services to cancer patients, families and to raise funds for cancer research.

About 3 in 10 Americans, according to present rates, will eventually have cancer. Nearly one out of two cancer patients is now being saved. Yet this figure could be improved if more people would see their physicians in time for early diagnosis and treatment.

Research is our most powerful weapon against cancer. The American Cancer Society is the largest private funder of cancer research in the nation, second only to the National Cancer Institute a tax supported government agency.

The total amount invested in cancer research in Texas this year is in excess of 10 million dollars. We need your help to find more research and teach people how to reduce their risk of cancer. You can help by protecting yourself from cancer by not smoking eating more vegetables and fruit, exercise, use sunscreen, eat less fat and fried foods, and get a check-up. Call your local unit to volunteer your time to help fight cancer, 632-4168 Kim Kelsey or 632-5238 Bonnie Ruth Huddleston.

Elect
JOHNNY MACK BROWN
Commissioner Precinct III
It's Time For A Change
And I Have Some Reasons
To Think This Way

1. I want to see our roads repaired
2. I want law enforcement living in our area.
3. I want all the people represented in Pct. III.
4. I want a commissioners court who will be on the job everyday in Pct. III.
5. I want every one of our tax dollars to work for us, not wasted on jobs that do not work.

Did you know that since 1988, the Commissioners have given themselves a $4,904 raise in salary and travel expenses?

Did you know that the County received $465,000 for the maintenance barn and that money was used to pay other debts? Where will the money come from to replace the facility? I'm afraid it will have to come from us, the tax payers. I'd like to see a cost-plus study done to see if a new maintenance barn can pay for itself.

I think it's time for a change in leadership, don't you?
Elect Johnny Mac Brown Commissioner, Pct. III

3,079 Highway Traffic Deaths Reported In 1991

Fewer people died in Texas traffic accidents during 1991 than any year since 1974, figures compiled by the Texas Department of Public Safety show.

Last year, 3,079 traffic deaths were reported on the state's streets and highways, compared with 3,243 deaths in 1990. That amounts to a 5.1% decrease.

"This is the sixth time in the past seven years that Texas has seen a drop in the number of traffic fatalities," said DPS Director Col. James R. Wilson. "We're very pleased at this, but we aren't losing sight of the fact that more than 3,000 people died on our roadways last year. We're going to continue doing everything we can to see that traffic deaths stay on the decline in this state."

The death rate on Texas roadways also decreased, Wilson said.

"For every 100 million miles traveled in Texas last year, only 1.9 deaths occurred," the Director said. "By way of comparison, in 1981, when a record 4,701 persons died in Texas traffic accidents, the death rate was 3.9. This means our roadways have become significantly safer in recent years."

In 1991, alcohol or drug-related accidents continued to be a leading cause of traffic fatalities. Of the 3,079 deaths, 1,249 fatalities, 40.6%, were alcohol or drug-related, DPS statistics showed.

An analysis of last year's traffic statistics also showed nearly two thirds of those killed in the front seats of passenger cars and light trucks had not been wearing seat belts.

Other factors contributing to lower traffic deaths in Texas are the decline in the social acceptability of drinking and driving, tougher prosecution of DWI offenders, safety belts, air bags and driver education efforts.

PROTECT YOUR CHILDREN'S FEET

With everything else parents have to worry about, their children's feet can get lost in the shuffle. This is unfortunate because a few precautions can protect against injury and ensure that young feet develop properly. Parents should watch for foot and gait abnormalities, which can be corrected if caught early. Because the bones in growing feet are flexible, children may not be aware of or complain about problems. Also, participation in sports should send a warning signal to parents to seek professional advice on conditioning and equipment. For example, protective taping of ankles can help prevent sprains or fractures, particularly common in sports that require lots of running, turning or contact with other players.

Your podiatrist offers the professional foot health care procedures that will address such problems and help return your feet to a state of well-being. Mammography Cancer Exams Being Offered Mammography breast cancer examinations are being offered to eligible women through a screening program provided by the Texas Department of Health, Public Health Region 7.

If you are forty years of age or older and interested in obtaining a mammogram, contact the Public Health Region 7 field office clinic nearest to you for an eligibility determination.

Mammography screening, an x-ray procedure, has become vital in early detection and diagnosis of breast cancer, which is "currently the number two killer of American women", according to The American Cancer Society. "In the United States, one out of every nine women will develop breast cancer at some time during her life."

The mammography project, which is funded by the Texas Cancer Council and the Centers for Disease Control, is aimed at detection of breast cancer at the earliest possible stage. It can detect extremely small breast cancers too small to be felt by breast self-exam techniques.

Mammography also shows other changes in breast tissue that could represent a sign of very early cancer. A baseline mammogram is of value because it can be referred to for later comparison.

Medical authorities emphasize that the earlier breast cancer is discovered--and the smaller it is at the time of discovery--the better the chance for cure.

For additional information, please contact the Clarksville Public Health Clinic at 903-427-2851.

Child Protective Services Board To Hold Annual Fish Fry

The Red River County Child Protective Services Board will have their annual fundraising Fish Fry on Saturday, April 18 from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the American Legion Building in Clarksville.

The event will include live entertainment all day, along with face painting, finger printing with photos, a bake sale and door prizes.

New this year will be exotic animals from Jan-Kay Ranch, and Easter surprises for the children.

KOYN will be announcing live from the event. All proceeds will go to help the children.

Crackdown On Illegal Signs Is Imminent By TxDOT

The Texas Department of Transportation is cracking down on illegal signs along major highways in the state. Threatened with the loss of $105 million in Federal-aid highway funds, the department has stepped up its efforts to remove any illegal signs along highway rights-of-way.

The Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act of 1991 which was signed by President George Bush in 1991, mandates that states enforce federal laws concerning illegal signs or face a 10% cut in Federal-aid highway funds.

Signs can be posted on private property if they are licensed and permitted under current billboard guidelines. Any signs that are erected along Interstate or other highways that receive Federal highway funding and are not licensed are to be removed.

The department will soon begin notifying owners of illegal signs that they have 90 days from the notice to remove the signs. If the owners do not remove the signs, TxDOT personnel will, leaving the owner subject to the cost of removal and possible fine.

Questions regarding placement and licensing of signs can be answered by contacting local highway district or maintenance offices.

TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCT 1
I take great pleasure in endorsing Tommie Corbell for Commissioner of Precinct 1, Red River County. I have known Tommie all of my life and feel that he has all the qualifications to hold this office. His experience with budgets and accounting will prove valuable as will his knowledge of the structure and operation of county government. We have worked together on many joint projects between Southwestern Bell and Contel phone companies. He helped us solve Bogata phone problems and we have learned to respect his knowledge and opinions. Our community and surrounding area have learned through his service as president of the School Board, as a member of the City Council, Housing Authority, etc., that he is a man who will not only listen to our problems, but will in fact do all that he to help us. I believe his greatest asset is his ability to give one hundred percent to any job he undertakes. I ask you to Vote for Tommie Corbell.

TOMMIE R. CORBELL
Candidate For COMMISSIONER, PCT.1
I will take all complaints personally or by recorder. Each complaint will get my personal attention. I will oppose all unnecessary spending of county money. I will seek the best market for all equipment, materials and supplies. County Government can and should be operated as efficiently as corporate and personal business.
