By Nanalee Nichols

It seems absolutely incredible that another Veteran's Day is already here.

The year is almost over, and it doesn't seem possible!

This is the third year we have published our special Veteran's Edition. We have added 70 new pictures this year alone!

At first we thought we would make room for the new pictures by not running those that appeared three years ago.

We couldn't do it. It just didn't seem right. We have left them all in place.

The Veteran's Edition isn't a money-making proposition for us. By the time we add four or five extra pages with the sponsorships on it the postage and printing, plus the cost of the color picture eats up the sponsorship money.

It's the only edition we publish where it doesn't bother us to "just break even" or even lose a little money.

The sacrifices, the struggles, the every-day, boring tasks of service men and women are just too important to reduce to a dollars and cents figure.

No, our Veteran's Edition is something we began because we wanted to express some small bit of recognition to those who have served or are serving.

It's appropriate, I think, that the Veteran's Edition appears during election time.

The right to go to the polls and cast our ballots as we see fit is directly related to those people who fought for and still preserve that right.

Once more I have been honored and awed at the trust people have placed in us in handling these precious photographs, war mementoes, letters, telegrams and stories.

Strangely (or perhaps it isn't strange at all) we find that it is the mothers, daughters, sisters and wives who bring in the photos of their loved ones. These women too, made their sacrifices, raising families alone, worrying, waiting, wondering.

Modesty about war records and achievements seems to characterize almost every veteran.

Some, whose records we have been "tipped off" about, have simply ducked their heads and said it wasn't important enough to mention, or was "a long time ago and nobody cares now".

How wrong they are. We care, our readers care. Their families care.

They are not unappreciated, they are not forgotten.

Still, it's bound to be nice to hear it. So...take a moment and thank a veteran!

It's Time For A Freeze!

The warm and sunny days of autumn were pushed aside Tuesday as a cold front brought winter to the East Texas area with a decisive shiver.

Tuesday night temperatures Nov. 3 plummeted to thirty-nine degrees, with predictions for a killing freeze for Wednesday night.

Average killing frost date for this area is November 15, so the cold snap wasn't too far "out of line" for a normal year.

Predictions say it will stay cold for the rest of the week with even a chance for some light sleet.

THINKING BACK - World War I Veteran Stanley Bell thinks back about his experiences in "The Great War", now almost three-quarters of a century behind him. Bell was one of the charter members of the Deport American Legion Post 909 and lives now at Red River Haven Nursing Home in Bogata. His memories of World War I are very sharp and clear.

Election Reflects Desire For Change Clinton Defeats Bush With Huge Electoral Vote Margin

The election year hype, campaigning and work is over once more. The winds of change seem to have blown strongly.

Bill Clinton took a sweeping victory over President George Bush, claiming 363 electoral votes to the incumbent's 80.

It is being billed as the biggest defeat of an incumbent president since Herbert Hoover.

In Texas Bush carried the state with one million eight hundred thousand votes to Clinton's one million seven hundred thousand votes. Third party Ross Perot, who claimed no electoral votes, garnered 950,000 votes within the state.

Nationwide voters have "thrown the rascals out" in many cases, changing the configuration of both the House of Representatives and the Senate. Railroad Commissioner Lena Guerrero, plagued the last few months with her college record, was heavily defeated by opponent Barry Williamson.

Incumbent Republican State Senator Bill Ratliff was claiming victory at press time Wednesday morning while his challenger, Bob Aikin, was saying the the vote was too close to call.

World War I Veteran's Memories Are Diamond-Clear!

By Nanalee Nichols

Stanley Bell sits as upright and straight at almost ninety-eight as he did when he wore the uniform of a soldier in World War I. His hands rest firmly on the gilded frame that contains a picture of himself in his uniform back then. He was 23 years old when he went to war. Born in 1894, on November 29 of this year he will be ninety-eight and has seen the world change drastically since he was a young soldier in the Signal Corps.

He is part of an ever-shrinking group...living veterans of "The Great War".

His eyes don't see as well as they once did, his step is slower, but his memory is as sharp and clear as it could possibly be.

"The armistice was in sight when I arrived in France," he says softly. "It was November of 1918, and we were there until August of 1919".

Asked what it was like he laughs and shakes his head. "It was awful...just awful. The supply lines were bad and the food was bad and supplies were so slow in coming".

Worst of all, though, was the wet. He remembers having to vault a huge puddle of water to get into his bunk. "It seemed like it rained every day" he recalls.

The mattresses on the bunks mildewed, the men couldn't keep their feet or clothing dry, and they never felt warm.

He recalls that one morning the sun was shining and his commanding officer came by to make everyone stuff their mattresses out the doors and windows to lie on boards in the sunshine. Then they all were loaded into vehicles and taken off for the day.

During the morning the sun disappeared and it began to rain. For months after that the men slept on wet bedding which couldn't be dried.

Stanley says that after training at Ft. Leavenworth he "Never held a rifle in my hands".

In the signal corps he was in charge of a huge building full of panels in all sizes and shapes. These black and white painted panels were used to signal airplanes and other troop movements.

Once a month he was in charge of a complete inventory of the signals and things necessary for the signals to be used.

"That was a pretty big job" he remembers.

"You lived or you didn't" he says of a war where infection and illness killed about as many as bullets did.

Tuna and beef stew were mainstays of their diets. "Goldfish" he exclaims with a big grin... "that's what we called that blasted tuna". The beef stew, too, was terrible. "MAYBE it was beef" he muses.

After the armistice was declared things became a little better.

He remembers he and three buddies used to go into town and have good times. One of those friends was a highly trained electrician. For some strange reason the army didn't utilize that talent, he spent the war working in the kitchens!

The day Stanley heard about the war ending is very clear to him.

"I was on my way into town and the French people on the road were crying and shouting "Fin. Le Guerre, fin le Guerre". I remember saying "what in the world...is the damned war over?" Then he realized that was EXACTLY what they were saying.

After his return to the states Stanley and 35 other World War I veterans formed the Deport American Legion Post. He is the only one of those charter members still living, but he can recall each and every name...a litany of courage and honor.

Over the years in civilian life he was a restaurant owner/operator whose chili was locally famous.

He has lost his wife and both daughters, now, but doesn't dwell on loneliness or spend time in self pity. He has a smile for everyone at Red River Haven Nursing Home, where he now lives.

Stanley Bell's memories are edged as brightly as the gilt frame on the picture he holds. They shine through three quarters of a century, untarnished.

A joy to visit with, his final statement, though not concerning war, was still an exceptional observation.

"I wonder why we can't get modern?" he ponders "It looks like as we get older we start trying to fight changes...we shouldn't do that, we always need to be more modern, to change with the times".

Stanley Bell has done a much better job of "getting modern" than most people half his age. Perhaps that's one reason his memory and his mind are so diamond-brilliant!

Rabid Skunk Bites Two Year Old

Two year old Lyndsey Hanes was riding her tricycle on the front porch of her home when a skunk came from under the house and bit her on the hand.

Her father had to use considerable force to make the skunk released it's hold. It then retreated under the porch.

The skunk was trapped and found to be rabid. Lyndsey and her parents, Steve and Jo Ann Hanes, are all receiving the rabies shots.

The Hanes were advised that as skunks are nocturnal animals, the sighting of one during the daylight hours is unnatural and such an animal should be avoided. Skunks are naturally shy and any aggressiveness shown by one is another alarm that the animal might be sick and should be avoided.

Thomas Park Board Meets

The Thomas Park Board met at 7 p.m., October 27, 1992 at Chairman Jack Dodd's home. Those present were: Jack Crane, Jeff Puckett, Sam Barnard and Gaston Puckett.

The board suggested seven names to the mayor for the 1993 Thomas Park Board. Anyone wishing to serve or suggest someone for this position should give the name in writing to the mayor. The new board will go into action January 1, 1993.

The items scheduled but not completed are: the sign in front, landscaping, drinking fountain, dirt spreading, addition of a water line for flower watering and the dedication.

New items were suggested which were: restrooms, volleyball court, tire swing with swivel and repair of the see-saws at the community center.

The Park Board recommended to the mayor and city council that the soccer field and softball/baseball field be named in memory of Gerald Vickers. Gerald helped the park be a reality from a dream. After proper action by the Mayor and council a marker will be put on the backstop.

The pavilion, the walking track and the play equipment have seen much use since they have been in place. Those who have worked so hard for the community to have this should be well pleased.

Soccer goal will be here this week and installed. The softball/baseball field bases will be set next week. The soccer and ballfield will be marked next week. If the soccer goal nets or ballfield bases are not in place check them out at the City Hall. On the following Monday we will need some soccer coaches to organize practice. The soccer field is 90x300 feet with 21x7 goals.

Thomas Park is an asset to our community. It adds to the community center. Have you seen the new lighting, outside painting and Rozell tables that are now in place? This was done jointly with the City of Bogata and your Lion's Club. The Lions have raised, under the leadership of Jack Crane, over $12,000 for Thomas Park.

The following is a list of those who have contributed and are still contributing of their time and efforts to the construction of the park. A special "Thank You" to all of these and also those who have been left off and no doubt there will be some. If your name was left off this list you know who you are and that you had a hand in the improvement of your community: Frank Stubblefield, Sam Barnard, Jack Crane, Gaston Puckett, Jeff Puckett, Jack Dodd, Coy Coker, David Rozell, Neil Rozell, Johnny Ragsdale, Edd Huddleston, Everet Garrett, John Brooks, A. D. Stevenson, Roger King, Clay Dodd, Workington Dirt Co., Mac Bell Sand Co., Texas New Mexico Electric and employees, Red River Water District, County Commissioner, Drue Pirtle and special thanks to the City of Bogata employees.

Former Mayor Harbison, Mayor Eudy and the City Council have dedicated themselves to this project and have done all in their power to see that Bogata has a first class park.

Saving the best for last, someone has had to do the paper work, get all signatures, send the paperwork to Austin, etc. etc. Thank you Anita Couch for a great job.

Let's all take care of our park. Treat is as though it was our front yard, and it will serve for many years.

Don Thomas, we all thank you for the memories of your home town and the desire to give something back. We'll take something away but few of us have the chance to give something in return. Again, Thank You Sir, from all Bogata and the surrounding area. You have made our lives a little better. Jack Dodd, Thomas Park Board President.

Country Cooking

By Judy Screws

I was just thinking about the changes my cooking has gone through over the years. Some of them have been pretty drastic, and some of them were not noticed by anyone other than myself.

I remember a few of my cooking attempts before I married. Mama and I were at my aunt's house one day and they wanted to be able to talk without me sitting around listening. Aunt Tad told me to go into the kitchen and pop some popcorn. How was I supposed to know that you had to put a lid on the pan? One time, LaNell, Randle and I decided to fry a chicken while Mama was at work. One of us stayed on the phone with Mama getting instructions while the other cut up the chicken. I honestly don't remember how the chicken turned out, but I also don't remember us frying another one. I made a chocolate cake by a recipe that called for a confectioner's sugar icing. How was I to know the difference in powdered sugar and granulated?

I used granulated and the cake tasted like it had sand on top of it. When we had been married just a short time, we lived next to Pat and Kenneth Jeffery. One day Pat brought us a plate just piled up with fried apricot pies. They were still warm, and I remember how good they were. I had read somewhere that if someone was nice enough to cook something and bring it to you, you should carry their plate home clean, with something to eat in it. I feel sure that they didn't intend for me to carry it back the next day full of apricot fried pies made by the recipe Pat had given me. Pat didn't laugh, in fact, she was very nice. I don't see how she managed it.

Donald said my first biscuits tasted like Fritos. From then on I used canned biscuits.

I finally learned to cook fairly well, but for a while I went through a real exasperating thing with Donald and the kids. We would go visiting, and they would just carry on and on about how good something tasted. Then when I'd fix it at home the way our hostess had, they would gripe. I had to learn to not pay any attention to their politeness when we went visiting. Of course many of the meals we ate away from home were delicious, but they didn't want me to change the things they were used to eating. I think most families like the feeling of security they get from knowing how their food will taste at home.

I have also learned that there are just some things you cannot duplicate to suit your family. I have never managed to make foot long cheese cones and onion rings the way they do at the Sonic. I also cannot duplicate Fajitas from Two Senoritas or Crab Salad from Sam's. I wish I couldn't make baked fish the way they do at Furr's. I can make Super Burritos with sour cream the way they make them at Taco Delite.

I rarely use a recipe to cook by anymore. If I do, it's usually one that doesn't have any ingredients and isn't real complicated. I'm sure this has nothing to do with my age.

I'll share a few of the recipes I use occasionally. I hope you enjoy them.

Skillet Breakfast

By Judy Screws

Enough frozen hashbrowns or thinly sliced potatoes to cover bottom of 10" no stick skillet
1/2 chopped onion
Chopped Spam or 1/2 lb. crisp bacon crumbled or 1/2 lb. crumbled cooked sausage or any combination you desire 6 beaten eggs or egg beaters
salt and pepper to taste
1/2 lb. Velveeta or fat free cheese slices

Put skillet on burner with medium heat, spray with Pam. Spread potatoes to cover bottom of skillet. Lightly brown and turn over potatoes. Sprinkle chopped onions and choice of meat on potatoes. Cover skillet, beat eggs and pour over ingredients. Put lid back on and cook slowly until eggs set. Put cheese on top of eggs, cover with lid and let cheese melt. Slice in wedges and serve with picante sauce and heated flour tortillas or toast and jelly.

Super Burritos with Sour Cream season with salt and chili powder
1 1/2 lb. browned ground meat (may use turkey with beef bouillon granules)
1 can refried beans, cooked grated cheese
chopped lettuce
chopped tomatoes
sour cream
large flour tortillas, heated

Layer beans, sour cream, ground meat, cheese, lettuce and tomatoes on individual tortillas. Roll tightly to serve. You may want to put all ingredients on serving platter and let each person make his own. Serve with picante sauce, guacamole and tortilla chips.

Sausage Balls

1 lb. hot pork sausage
10 oz. grated cheddar cheese
2 cups bisquick mix
Mix ingredients, mix again, then mix some more. Roll into half dollar size balls. Bake on cookie sheet in 350 oven until golden brown.

Candy Strawberries

4-3 oz. boxes strawberry jello
1 can Eagle Brand milk
1 cup flaked coconut
1 cup chopped pecans
slivered almonds
green food coloring
Mix 3 boxes jello, Eagle Brand milk, coconut and chopped pecans. Reserve one box of jello. Let mixture cool in fridge at least two hours. Dye slivered almonds green and drain on paper towels. Be careful, you'll get everything green. Shape cooled jello mixture into balls, roll balls in reserved dry jello. Pinch to look like strawberries. Use green slivered almonds for leaves. This is a pretty candy. I have heard of people using grape jello and orange jello instead of strawberry but I've never tried it.

Card of Thanks

Words can't express just how much the letters, cards, phone calls, prayers and other deeds of kindness meant to us during the seven weeks that we were in Houston for medical treatment. It is not a pleasant thing to be away from family and friends for such a long period of time. Life would not be complete without good friends that show love and concern during the difficult times.

Mona has returned to family in Mississippi and gone back to work. We are thankful that we have caring friends and are happy to be back home. God bless you.

Rebels Lose To Mustangs

By Reggie Alford

Friday night the Rivercrest Rebels played their final road game of the season against the Chisum Mustangs. Rebel Clay Pirtle returned the opening kick-off 27 yards. Things went down hill for Rivercrest as the offense would never get on track. Chisum's Ronnie Blake scored the initial touchdown with 2:20 left in the first quarter. The Mustangs failed on the extra point attempt and left the score 6-0. In the second quarter Blake again found his way into the end-zone. The Rebel defense allowed only the one score in the second quarter, and at halftime Chisum had a 12-0 advantage. The Rebel's bad luck continued in the third quarter as Chisum's Kerry Crittenden scored to give the Mustangs an 18-0 lead. Ronnie Blake scored his third touchdown of the night with 9 minutes left in the final period. The Mustangs finally made good on an extra-point attempt and the final score was 25-0. Next week ends the season for the Rebels and will be the final game for four seniors: Tony Sanders, David Jones, Jonathan Savage and Jeremy Belyeu. Come out and support the Rebels and as they take on the Honey Grove Warriors who are undefeated and have clinched the district championship.

Rivercrest's JV Team Loses To Chisum, 26-22

The Rivercrest Junior Varsity team met Chisum following the eighth grade game last week. Talco Principal Johnny Gable said "In all my years of coaching, I've never seen such a good JV game." The entire Rebel team can be congratulated on the fine job they did.

Although they lost the contest 26-22, the team hit, ran and pulled together to the end. The JV team will meet Honey Grove there on Thursday, November 6 for their final game of the season. Everyone is encouraged to support their teams.

7th-8th Rebels Take Victories

The Talco-Bogata Junior High Rebels took the field Thursday, October 29 at Rivercrest, beginning with the seventh grade against Cooper. The Cooper team defeated the young Rebels earlier in the year with a 6-0 score, but TD's made by Jody Gray and Michael Allen brought the young team out on top. The final score was 12-0, Rebels. The eighth grade met Chisum at 6 p.m. and what a win it was for the Rebels. Andre Savage crossed the line for six touchdowns. Also adding to the score were LaDarryll Savage, Elvin Savage and Chelsey Baird. The Rebels dominated winning 58-6. The boys will play Honey Grove at Honey Grove this Thursday, November 6. The two undefeated teams will decide District championships. Honey Grove defeated the team earlier in the year in a practice game. If the eighth graders can take the win, it will be the first District winning team in seven years for the Rebels.

VETERAN'S Day, 1992

What is a Veteran? More than simply someone who served in a country's military forces...much more. A Veteran is someone who went through the drudgery and boredom of boot camp and waiting as well as battles and dangers. They may never have seen "action" as it is usually defined...yet their contributions are great.

They have been drafted as well as enlisted...but they went and did their best. A veteran may have been wounded, or never received a scratch. A veteran may have been imprisoned, or be dead...or have never left this country's shores at all...but they are all veterans.

Veterans have families, too. And those families have made huge sacrifices, waiting, wondering if their loved one was safe, or hearing that dread news that their particular loved one would never return...or never be whole again.

A veteran is someone who came back from the service...or from war...picked up the threads of everyday life and went forward again. Or, a veteran may be someone whose entire adult life has been spent in the armed services.

A veteran is someone who tells "war stories" to children and grandchildren...or cannot be persuaded to talk about their experiences at all.

Some are aging, some still young...but one thing each and every one has in common...they deserve our respect, remembrance and admiration. They have given this country it's freedom...it's strength and it's glory.

The Bogata News, Deport Times, and Talco Times (there was no Blossom Paper then) were filled weekly with news items about men and women in uniform. Some were happy reports of those found who were thought lost, of those who would be recovering from wounds and coming home soon...others reports were not so happy, bearing the sad tidings that a loved one was lost forever. For many of those "back home" not knowing was the worst of all.

Below Are A Few Samples....from a May 3, 1945 Paper

Letter From World War II Provides Glimpse Back In Time

This letter was written during World War II from Felix Stalls to his brother, Jess, natives of the area.

It is a look back into loneliness, danger courage and loyalty. Wittlich, Germany, Feb. 22, 1919 Brother I am on guard to night and will try; to write you a few lines. I am here and have nothing to do.

I will try and tell you a few things about our last drive that started Nov. 1.

We went over the top on the morning of the first, just at day light.

Things were pretty lively about that time our big guns was throwing a few (G.) cans over to the bosh and old Fritz was sending us a few all at the same time. We fought all that day and the next it rained and rained but we fought just the same at dark on the we of the sect. we stopped tired and hungry had not had a meal in two days and very little water, you can not imagine how we felt we had lost some of our best friends.

We taken up a position that night and expected at any time to have to fight some more, but nothing happened that night.

Sgt. Allen Bailey, Sgt. Hood and myself and two more men sit in one shell hole that night very very little sleep we got. Now you may think that was a big shell hole, but I have seen bigger than that one...I have seen four or five men sleep in one shell hole and have what we call a pretty good bed at that time. The next morning I saw one of the prettiest sights that I ever saw in my life. It was a clear morning, the sun was as bright as it ever shone. We were all hungry and nothing to eat

Morning of Nov. 11th, 1918.

"Boys, before we leave this field I want to try, if I can, to find words to express to you my deep feeling of appreciation and great debt of gratitude toward you for your work in recent operations, and to tell you how deep and high is my feeling of admiration, honor and respect for your actions on the field of battle, I want each and every one of you to know and feel that deep down in my heart, seared into my soul is a spot that shall always be dear to me, for it shall forever be occupied by you boys, you and your officers, and there are none better, have shown and proved yourselves to be willing to fight and if need be to die for your country, some of our comrades have fallen, some of our boys made the supreme sacrifice, but you know and I know that they have not died in vain, that their names, their deeds, their actions are immortal and just as surely as the sun will rise tomorrow to proclaim to the world that God still rules, just as surely as those boys now sitting on the right hand of God, for they died that the ideals, beliefs and the religion taught to us by Jesus Christ the son of God, might rule the world. Could God do otherwise than love them and bedeck their crowns with stars?"

At Villers-Devant-Dun you covered yourselves with glory. You have received high praise from Marshall Josh, General Pershing, General Allen, General Liggett, General McAlexander and you are the idol of your colonel, your battalion and your company officers. But your real satisfaction, your real glory comes from within, in that of a clear conscience and clean soul, you know that you have played a man's part and played it well and when you return to the folks at home, with a high head and clear eye you can receive the well deserved praise and love of mothers, wives and sweet-hearts.

Again, I would like to have my soul to you and convey to you my true feelings, but that is impossible, as I have bared my soul to God for he understands and I have asked him to deal gently with you through the fire and hell through which you came and today I raise reverent thanks to him for the opportunity he has given me to lead such men into battle and with his help to see you drive a proud and haughty foe into utter retreat and defeat, and boys when you return home the folks are not going to rush out to greet some famous General...no...they will not do that...for the people know and understand and they will welcome you, the "doughboy" of the ranks who has faced the hot lead, and the cold steel, and when they look into your eyes they will bow heads in reverence for in your eyes is the true spirit of the true American of today.

Soldiers of America, I salute you. Major Tom G. Woolen, Commander Sec. Battalion, 359th Inf. Amercan, E.F.

Brother, you ought to have seen that bunch of men. We could not keep the tears back. We knew we had done something but he made us think more strongly about it. We were a happy bunch of men.

Well, this is a rough night in Wettlich, Germany. It is raining, the weather is bad and I would like to be in Texas very much tonight.

our bud
Sgt. Felix J. Stalls

"Word had been received recently by friends that Pfc. Bennie Williamson has been wounded while in action in Germany. He was shot thru the shoulder and chest. He is a 1943 graduate of Deport High School, and entered service in Jan. 1944."

"Mr. & Mrs. Tim Hutson have received a letter from their son, S/Sgt. Roy Lee Hutson, who is somewhere in Italy, saying he was in a hospital suffering from leg injuries and did not know when he would be up and about again."

"Sgt. Dixie Walker was wounded in France, landed in New York on April 17 and was flown by plane to Santa Barbara, California to a hospital for an operation on his left arm. He said it was good to be back, as he could lie down and go to sleep now without a worry."

"Sgt. Horace W. Welch, still in a hospital in Paris, France after receiving a shoulder wound in Germany in February, had sent his twin sister, Doris a box of gifts, including perfume, a bracelet, his service ribbons and several interesting pictures."

Article Tells of Airman's Liberation During WWII

An article in the Deport Times on May 3, 1945, reports that Pvt. Larry Philley had been found alive and liberated from prison. Such articles were common, along with the ones listing the dead and wounded, in local newspapers during the long years of World War II.

his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.N. Philley, could not tell them where he was, but reported that he had been liberated and that his wounds were improving under the care of an American doctor. It was the first definite newsthat he was still alive, since a Christmas card dated Nov. 30, 1944 had been posmarked in Germany. These cards had been received after the message from the War Department notifying his parents on December 27 that he had been missing in action since Dec. 6. No report had been sent as to the extent or nature of his wounds, but the Red Cross and War Department had been notified of receipt of these letters and his parents were hoping to soon be able to contact him.

Pvt. Philley was born in Deport, and enlisted in the Air Corps in 1942. He was part of the 84th Division with the 9th Army which the Germans called the "Hatchet Men" from their insignia and the ferocity of their fighting. The Division had seen heavy fighting when he was captured and imprisoned.

The following letter appeared from Editor Sam Holloway in the February 18, 1944 Bogata News, Talco Times and Deport Times. It carries a message well worth repeating!

This is a letter from the editor to the men, and their wives and sweethearts too, just some observations about degree of satisfaction:

Following the first World War there was considerable criticism of the generation it produced, so-called drug store cowboys and flappers. Some pious oldsters thought they were "no good" and that the nation had produced a generation of "softies". This war has shown how wrong they were: Physically most of them are stronger and heavier men than were their dads at their ages, and nearly an inch taller. IQs are higher and they are better educated.

And then, consider the "flappers": They are operating typewriters, riveting and punching machines, drill presses and such in war plants; others are saying goodbye to husbands, some of them fathers of their children and carrying on as best they may with the money a liberal government is contributing and what they can earn.

Yes, the fathers of the first World War sired better children than they thought. These children had the benefit of more knowledge, of hygiene, preventive medicine, more balanced rations and the benefit of the radio, motion pictures, better transportation facilities, more highly educated school teachers and better newspapers, books and magazines.

Any generation that fails to produce a better one is a failure, and it appears that veterans of the first World War were successful in battle and at producing a generation better than their own.

In the present national crisis these drug store cowboys and flappers are being asked to defend this nation and to smash for all time to come, dictators who would overrun the earth, and if you want to know what this country editor who writes from personal observation thinks, they are doing a damned good job.

Just in case someone complains the editor is using profanity, this is to say that in the above case it is only a descriptive adjective, and that if he could say it in more expressive language he would do so.)

In this war you have proved to be the finest generation any nation ever produced. I am not writing this to flatter you. I am not seeking any office or favors of any kind from you. Only your friendship and good will...and trying to pay tribute where it is due.

My thoughts have traveled over things said here, but it is the first time I have attempted to put them on paper.

Anyway, you know what I think about the subject and I'm sure some who scoffed in your care-free pre-war days have changed their opinions.

But in addition to winning this war you also have another responsibility to your country—to raise a generation of fine, patriotic, liberty-loving children who will be better men and women than you are. Only in this way can America continue to grow and increase in usefulness to her subjects and to the world.

Yours truly,
 Sam Holloway
 Editor Holloway's message is almost fifty years old now. And it's a fair bet to say that now there are people saying that the current generation is "soft" useless and poor. Editor Nichols (myself) believes that if the call came today we would all be astonished at just how well THIS generation would respond. Indeed, this country depends upon it.

Methodist Church To Hold Bazaar

Once again the Methodist Church of Bogata is making final preparations for their annual Fall Bazaar November 14.

The dinner will be in the new building! The committee has worked very hard toward this end. Serving time will be from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m., on Bazaar Day. There will be carry-outs and delivery in town. For delivery call 632-5610. If you would like to call early and leave your order call 632-5610 or 632-4196. The turkey and dressing dinner will be $5.00 for adults and $3.00 for children under 12. November 14 is early enough to have turkey dinner and be ready again by Thanksgiving Day.

The Bazaar will be held in the Education Building, as in past years. It will be open from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. The silent auction on the quilts will close at 2 p.m.

This is not just an effort by the women of the church, as several men have contributed items. Some of the items for sale: wood carvings, wooden puzzles for all ages, quilts and tablecloths, ceramics, stuffed animals, tote bags for adults and children, needle-point items, Christmas decorations, ornaments, stockings, tree shirts, and Texas tree decorations. There are Barbie clothes, children's gift items, jewelry, kitchen items, art work, baked goods and the church cookbook and knives which are sold yearly.

The Bazaar generates funds for the "extras" which seem to come up frequently and it takes all members, as well as others in the community to make this a success. Bazaar money has helped to build the new building, purchase new air-conditioning for the existing buildings, pay off the parking lot, and many other extras over the years.

A photo taken of this balloting failed to come out, but students enjoyed the voting process.

County Mayors Meet

On Saturday October 30, at the Dairy Queen in Clarksville there was a breakfast meeting of mayors from the county and representatives of the various communities. Mayors from Avery, Annona, Bagwell, Clarksville, Detroit and English attended. Mayor Eudy of Bogata was regrettably unable to attend. This was the first such meeting of community members and their mayors, and it is hoped that these efforts will pave the way for a more united county. Such is the intent as reported by Mayor J. R. Lewis of Clarksville. Future meetings are in the planning stage. Watch the paper for information on time and place. All interested community members are invited to attend.

Because of the assistance and generosity of thousands of concerned individuals, corporations and community groups, the Ronald McDonald House is able to continue to serve and sustain families when catastrophes strike the most cherished part of their lives, their children. Collection boxes will be placed in the lobbies of the following Post Offices: Bagwell, Clarksville, Detroit and Talco. A 1992 Wish List will be placed on each decorated box. Everyone is encouraged to join your Postal Service in "Delivering Love to the House that Love Built".

Teach Children How To Use Their Resources

Guiding the development of your child's personal resources builds the greatest resource they will ever have--themselves. As you build your child's confidence in his or her resourcefulness, it is also important to help youth understand that resources have limits. That means that we all have choices to make and about how we use our resources.

Making choices begins by helping youth understand the difference between needs and wants. Let your children look up different. Then involve them in deciding what their needs are and their wants. Reinforce the idea that needs and wants are different whenever your child asks for something. Ask the child to consider his request and help him to determine whether it is a need or a want and what choices the two of you have for meeting the need or want.

Teaching children the principles of resourceful living gives them a foundation for thinking about using limited resources to meet unlimited needs and wants. This will increase their responsibility for managing money resources and they become more aware of the limits of our natural resources. They become resourceful in applying the same principles to living with all resource limitations with greater understanding and less stress.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Bogata News:

On October 20, 1992 I drove up to Johntown from Tyler to look around for people that I grew up with the earlier years of my life in Johntown. Driving east of Johntown I saw Dan and Mary Cottons' name on the mail box, I stopped and to my surprise it was Dan, we recognized each other immediately. We had a real good visit, we discussed old times and present issues. We had not seen each other in approximately 50 years. Going to Mr. Cottons' Country Store was the Johntown pleasure trip when we were boys.

Driving west of Johntown I ran into J.O. "Boots" Cooper, we had not seen each other for about the same length of time, we also had a very good visit. I had read in the Bogata News, which I subscribe to in order to keep up with the Johntown News, that Wendell Hervey was in the Paris Hospital, so I drove to Paris to visit him, also Buford was here visiting so we just had a real good visit, we recognized each other, and of course being from Johntown you are allowed to stretch the truth just a little bit, we agreed we had not changed that much and would have known each other anywhere. I think being a native of Johntown you might be a cut above and allowed just a few more small tales.

I look forward to another visit to Johntown in the very near future, and I think it would be great to have a get together for all us old Johntowners real soon, perhaps a barbeque or chili supper, if someone will get tin touch with me we will get the ball to rolling.

I would really like to hear from anyone from Johntown or anywhere around there that grew up with us.
