

Nichols
Worth

By Nanalee Nichols

The War of the Windows is now being waged. I suspect that it is going on in homes all across the nation right about now.

With the glorious, fabulous weather that has brought temperatures down into high 70's and low 80's during the days have come crisp, cool nights.

If my husband had his way the windows would stay up twenty-four hours a day. If I had mine they would go down before it began to cool off at dark.

When we go to bed he wants a window open, and the fan on, sucking that cold air in.

He thinks it is absolutely grand to sleep in an icy room with lots of cover.

I'm the opposite. Like many women, I'm colder natured than my husband and want to have the windows down and perhaps a little heat going. I don't like breathing that cold air, it gives me a terrible sinus headache.

So, we sneak around on one another (no not THAT kind of sneaking around). Thomas goes to sleep, I lower the window. He wakes up, puts the window back up, turns on the fan.

I yank up the blanket, stick my head under the covers and draw up in a knot. The covers are then over him too, which makes him hotter, so he throws the covers back. I yank, he throws, I yank, he throws.

Eventually the covers come untucked on his side, which frees him and leaves me able to remain in my cocoon undisturbed. We settle into sleep more deeply for the rest of the night.

In the morning I wake up cold, complaining (it gets too cool for me even if the window is down) and he laughs at me and says it isn't cold.

I tell him I don't laugh at him when he's hot and it's only 90 degrees. He says I do. (Do I? Maybe I really do!)

So we wage the war of the windows...enjoying the days and fighting over the temperature all night long! I hope we don't wear the windows out, for it won't be too long before it'll be time for them to be shut all the time!

There is something for the adults and the young adults and children. Something for everyone. Chilli and stew will start serving about 4:00 P.M. Games 'til dark and then the real scary fun starts. This is October 26 and the best yet Halloween Festival. We guarantee a very scary, spooky evening- especially the hayride.

Upcoming Fund Raiser Raises Thoughts on First Responders

By Nanalee Nichols

The Bogata Volunteer Fire Department and Rescue Squad will be holding a stew supper this Saturday, October 5 beginning at 4:00 p.m. at the Bogata School Cafeteria. It will be followed by a cake walk beginning at 6:30 p.m. with prize drawings to be held until all cakes and pies are gone. Please be there...it's important.

The First Responders began answering calls in May of this year. That's only five months ago. In that time they have answered thirty-two calls. That doesn't even include the fire calls where there is no medical emergency.

The first responders very definitely saved one person's life, restoring a wreck victim with CPR. Their quick actions to wreck victims, those suffering heart attacks and other medical emergencies have been invaluable. Nearly as important as life saving is their presence when death has the upper hand. They have been on hand to comfort and assist the grief stricken family members of those who suffer sudden death a number of times.

There is great comfort to be taken in knowing that all that could be done was done, and with the first responders on hand those measure are taken.

It is not an easy thing to do. Unlike paramedics or first responders in big cities these dedicated people almost always know the victim they minister to. They are not faceless strangers, but their friends and neighbors. They are frequently people that they have known all their lives. This adds a level of stress to the situation that is not felt by those who do not know the people they strive to save. If someone dies it means they lose a friend or acquaintance, not just a "patient" or "victim".

The first responders and the firemen donate more hours of time than most people can imagine with training, meetings, practice and time spent responding. They do it from a sense of civic duty and the desire to help. They are called out at all hours of the day and night, and frequently must go on to their jobs after losing sleep. Their participation in these programs means less time to spend with their families, which means their families deserve commendation for their support and patience.

The supplies they use are expensive, CPR supplies, bandages, tapes, gloves, oxygen and a multitude of things are frequently used in emergencies, and they must be replaced immediately. Funds raised from the stew supper will go to help keep the fire and rescue units ready to assist during emergencies.

So please, come out Saturday for some stew, a good time, the chance to win prizes...but most of all come to show your support for a group of people who may someday need to help you or your family. They are needed, and their job isn't easy.

Bogata Homecoming

Memories of teacher shared by former student

By Frances Mayes Rozell

The 1997 Homecoming committee has received much encouragement for a book of memories and has received several articles this week for the book. We will share a few along in the paper as we can, so get your pictures and articles to us so we can all enjoy them. Send to 1997 Homecoming Committee, Box 21, Bogata, Texas, 75417.

We want you to know a little about Pat Hanson Welch, who wrote the following article about a former teacher of hers, Mrs. Fitzgerald. Pat graduated from B.H.S. in 1953. In the school annual (Oak Leaf) beside Pat's senior picture is written a few facts about her activities in B.H.S.:

Pep Squad 1,2,3,4-Basketball, F.H.A., Pianist for Choral Club 2, Junior Play 3, Class Secretary, Oak Leaf Business Manager Beauty Nominee 2,3. She was voted most Beautiful her senior year.

Pat married D. Welch of Talco. They live in Bandera, have 3 daughters, 3 sons in law and 6 grandchildren. Pat came to her 40th class reunion in 1993 and is looking forward to attending the homecoming in 1997. We appreciate Pat's submitting the following article.

Mrs. Fitzgerald, by Pat Hanson Welch:

Mrs. Gladys Fitzgerald is one of the best parts of my school years in Bogata High School. In fact, she is one of my lifetime heroines. When my class entered Bogata High School in the fall of 1949, she was teaching out behind the gym in the Homemaking cottage. I can't remember her telling us if we were her first class or not. But her zeal and enthusiasm make me think that yes, probably we were.

She taught like people open Christmas presents-enthusiastically and whole-heartedly. She poured her heart and soul into every class. I don't think it was in her vocabulary to "just slouch through" a class. She probably doesn't know what those words mean to this very day. She always covered the basics but in such an interesting manner that we would hate to miss a class even if we were sick. And she always seemed like she was having fun and enjoying the class, too. That always makes learning so easy.

In our sewing semester, she taught us about colors, self tone harmony, textures and finding our own style. She taught us not to rush but to pay attention to details. And to not just pin but also baste and press press press. (Remember that girls?) Even today when I catch that special fragrance of new, just bought fabric being pressed with a hot iron, immediately in my mind, I am back in Homemaking class in Bogata High School hearing Mrs. Fitzgerald remind us to "slow down, girls, and do a good job."

In decorating my home today, I find myself using some of the ideas she taught us so many years ago. Tips about arranging flowers, using natural plants and being creative and unique in our approach to decorating, have stayed with me for 47 years.

In our cooking semester, she taught us about nutrition being the basis for good health, and about how mixing food with different colors and different textures for a tantalizing variety will keep boredom and monotony from setting in. We didn't just do the simple things like boil eggs, we even made strawberry jam. She had a sweet tooth, so we had some sweets that I've used for a lifetime-like oatmeal bars. They are so good and chewy that my family just begs for them today. We learned how to set a table, we picked out silver patterns, we learned manners and we cooked and ate good meals in that little homemaking cottage. And we had loads of fun doing it.

Even more important than the things she taught us out of the textbooks was her attitude toward life. She was strict on us because she cared, and she wanted us to learn. She didn't want us to waste our brains or hers. If the school had told her that there was no more money for her salary, I fully believe with all my heart that she would have looked them straight in the eye and firmly said, "I will continue teaching, salary or not." She cared for us as individuals with a lot of heart and talent to give the world-not just as someone to grade on a test. I always felt like she would care as much for me in my twenties, or forties or even sixties as she did when I was one of her students. She had invested herself in us and would care for us for a lifetime.

I'm sure there were lots of other towns and other schools where she could have made more money and maybe even had a book or movie made of her life. But she chose to make a difference in this world and to make a real impact on lives in a small town school that seldom is mentioned on the national news-and is no longer even in existence except in the hearts of those who called it their school - Bogata High School.

I, for one, am richer because Mrs. Gladys Fitzgerald came to BHS. I salute you, Mrs. Fitzgerald! You are a real teacher in every sense of the word!

Mrs. Fitzgerald is in her 90's now and loves letters. Her address is Mrs. Gladys Fitzgerald, 402 W. 17th, Mount Pleasant, Texas 75455

FEATURED COOK OF THE WEEK this week is Connie Somerville of Detroit. She and her husband John enjoy camping and Connie runs a bookkeeping service from her home and has for the last 21 years. (Staff Photo by Liz Irwin)

Country Cooking

By Liz Irwin

This week's Cook of the Week is a very sweet lady who lives 4-1/2 miles outside of Detroit in the old Robbinsville community. She is Connie Somerville and is married to John. They have lived in the area for many years and reside on the last section of the Somerville homeplace. So that means that they are keeping up a family tradition.

Connie is in charge of Connie's Bookkeeping Service and has been working in this area since she was 18 years old, being in the business for herself for 21 years. She has worked for various employers, but enjoys the self-employment that leaves her flexible hours and time for her family.

She and John have a son, Tim, who is married to Marcella and they have three daughters, Dori, Lisa and Robbie. Their daughter Pam is married to Jimmy Pellet and they have two daughters. Sheila is a freshman and Becky is married to Richard and they have a son Tanner. All of the children go to Detroit schools and live in this area.

Connie and John became members of the Detroit Lions Club three years ago and are deeply involved in the activities. Just this past weekend, both of them worked hard to assist with the Watermelon Festival in Detroit to raise funds for the tabernacle's new concrete floor. Connie is a member of the Bagwell Baptist Church where she is songleader and loves to sing. John is a member of the Detroit Methodist Church. They both enjoy camping and Connie's favorite thing is reading.

Her pies are known throughout the Detroit area. When anyone wants a pie, they yell for Connie's. The recipes are two of the favorites, chocolate and coconut.

I have also included two more that have been asked for. Hope you enjoy this and see you in the kitchen!

Cooper Bulldogs take three over Rivercrest

The Rivercrest Rebels JV and Varsity and the Talco-Bogata Junior High football teams all fell to the Cooper Bulldogs in this past weeks action.

On Thursday, the Junior High Rebels and JV Rebels played host to the Bulldogs. The Junior High Rebs were shut out with a score of 26-0. The JV fared little better with a 20-6 defeat.

On Friday the Varsity Rebels traveled to Cooper. On the first carry of the ball Rebel Jody Gray ran of an 80 yard touchdown. Chesley Baird added the extra point and the Rebels appeared to be on a roll.

The game took a turn and the Rebels were unprepared to stop the Bulldogs. Key tackles were made by Chesley Baird, Michael Deming, Jody Gray and Jared Guest. The half time buzzer sounded with the Rebels trailing 33-7.

In the third quarter the Rebels went to quarterback Alvin Savage. Savage was able to conduct a drive and score for the team. However, the Bulldogs continued to run their offense well. Score 47-14.

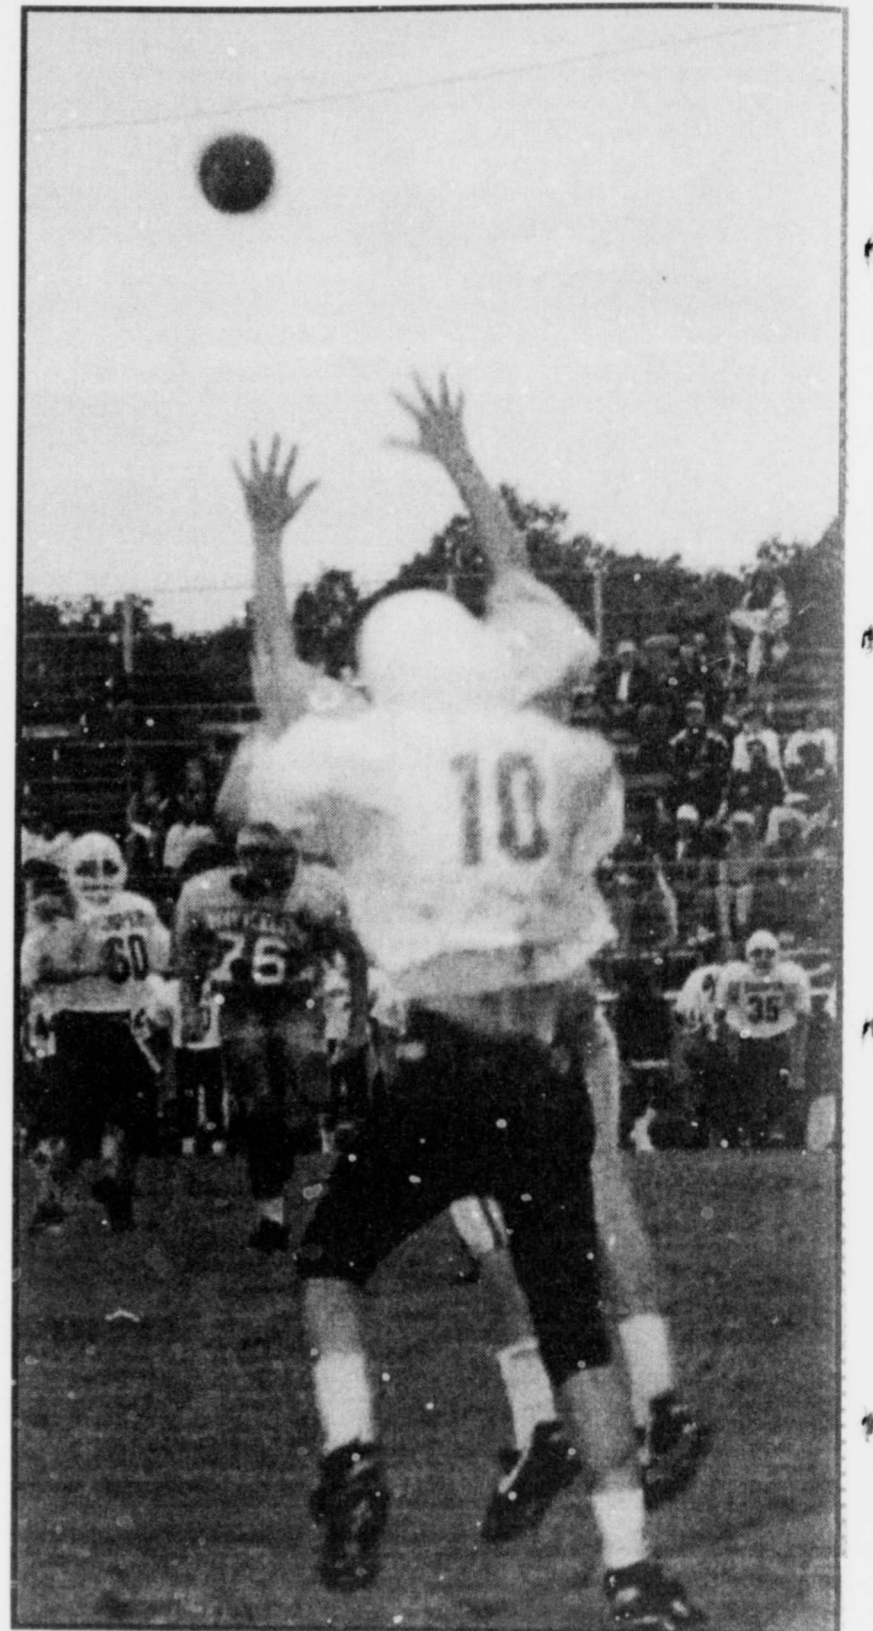

In the final quarter, quarterback Jody Nolen returned gunning the passes the Rebel receivers. Michael Deming and Jody Gray broke the line to score for the Rebels and Bryan Giles added a two point conversion. Outstanding defense was seen from Michael Deming, Charles Cruise, Jody Nolen, Jared Guest and Chesley Baird and the whole Rebel team seemed to decide to give the Bulldogs a run for their money.

The Rebel recovery was made too late in the game and the Bulldogs took a 54-27 win. Rebel Clint Gage was injured during the game, dislocating his shoulder. Cheerleader Marla Williams was carried to the hospital by ambulance after a fall during a stunt. Both students are reported doing well.

The Rebels will regroup and host Honey Grove on Friday, Oct. 4 beginning at 7:30 p.m. The Rebel Junior High and Junior Varsity will travel to Honey Grove on Thursday, Oct. 3. Everyone is encouraged to come out and support all of the Rebel teams.

THE DR. PEPPER PLAY OF THE DAY-in Friday's Rebels vs Cooper Bulldogs was made by Jody Gray for his 80 yard touchdown run made in the first quarter. The Rebels lost the contest 54-27. (Staff Photo Nancy Brown)

We are looking for World War II memories

In the past year there have been, and in the upcoming months there will be many 50th anniversaries for World War II Veterans.

We would like to solicit memories of servicemen from that time over the next few months.

These stories should be about what World War II veterans remember about their own personal service. We aren't looking for a recitation of what branch of the service, or what dates veterans entered and were discharged, but personal memories, of training, of combat, of whatever one did during their time in the armed services.

One veteran sparked this idea when he told of entering the Air Corps and being trained as a pilot. He then spent the war ferrying aircraft from one end of the United States to the other, and never made it overseas. Other stories, we know, are much more grim than that one, but we would like a cross section of stories that would reflect what those times were like. Thunder Prairie Publishing will then publish as many of these stories as possible, either in a special Veteran's Day Edition or as space allows.

If this is a success, we may solicit what life on the homefront was like from the wives, mothers and sweethearts of these men at a later time.

Thunder Prairie Publishing reserves the right to edit, or not publish any story due to content or for any other reason.

Please send your memory, clearly marked with your name and address, to Thunder Prairie Publishing

Kids Under Construction meet

Kids Under Construction met Monday at Bogata Methodist Church with 16 present. The children enjoyed a story about Adam and Eve. For snacks they had apples and snakes. Afterward, the group went on a "Fall Treasure Hunt". They were able to find all of the items on their list except a squirrel, sweetgum ball and a cat. The group also visited Red River Healthcare Center. They entertained the residents with a few songs and the "Macarena".

Many exciting activities have been planned for October such as a visit from the fire truck, a hayride and trick or treating as a group at designated houses.

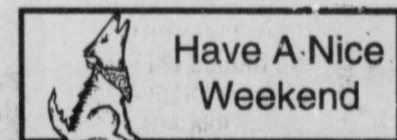

All children in the community grades K-5 are invited to join in on Mondays from 5-6 P.M.

Women Work Harder

Women work harder than men, at home and at their jobs, according to a new study by two University of California, Santa Barbara sociologists.

Analyzing data from a representative national survey conducted by the University of Michigan, William and Denise Bielby studied 1,515 working men and women and found that women give more time and attention to their jobs than men despite the fact that women also spend more than twice as much time on household tasks.

The Bielbys' study concludes: "For women to work harder than men, despite their greater household responsibilities, they must be able to draw on a reserve of energy that is either not available to the typical male or, more realistically, that men choose not to draw upon."

Genealogical Society has activities

A booth at the Red River County Fair was maintained by members of the County Genealogical society. Assorted pamphlets were available for interested individuals.

Two work days were held by society members Mary Colflesh, Johnnie Lee, Lynn Knight and Miriam Stephenson at the Genealogical section of the Red River County Library recently.

One of the goals of the society is a field trip to various locations especially the cemetery north of Clarksville maintained by the society.

Of special interest to the public is the discussion of a weekly column in area newspapers on family research. This would be a question and answer column with questions sent in by individuals.

Red River County Genealogical Society meets the second Monday of each month at 7:30 P.M. at the Red River County Library. Visitors are welcome to attend.

Audiences everywhere are delighted and enlightened by the versatile Morath, the pianist/humorist/singer/historian/raconteur. He chooses his material with a knowing eye on today's temper and ideas. He offers an exciting and highly theatrical journey into an era surprisingly akin to our own.

Morath's latest show Off-Broadway, brought unanimous acclaim from the New York critics. The show crackles with wit and wisdom, ac-ording to the New York Times. The songs and piano solos range from piano rags to show tunes, from vaudeville novelties to the blues.

NUTS & BOLTS

By Judy Screws

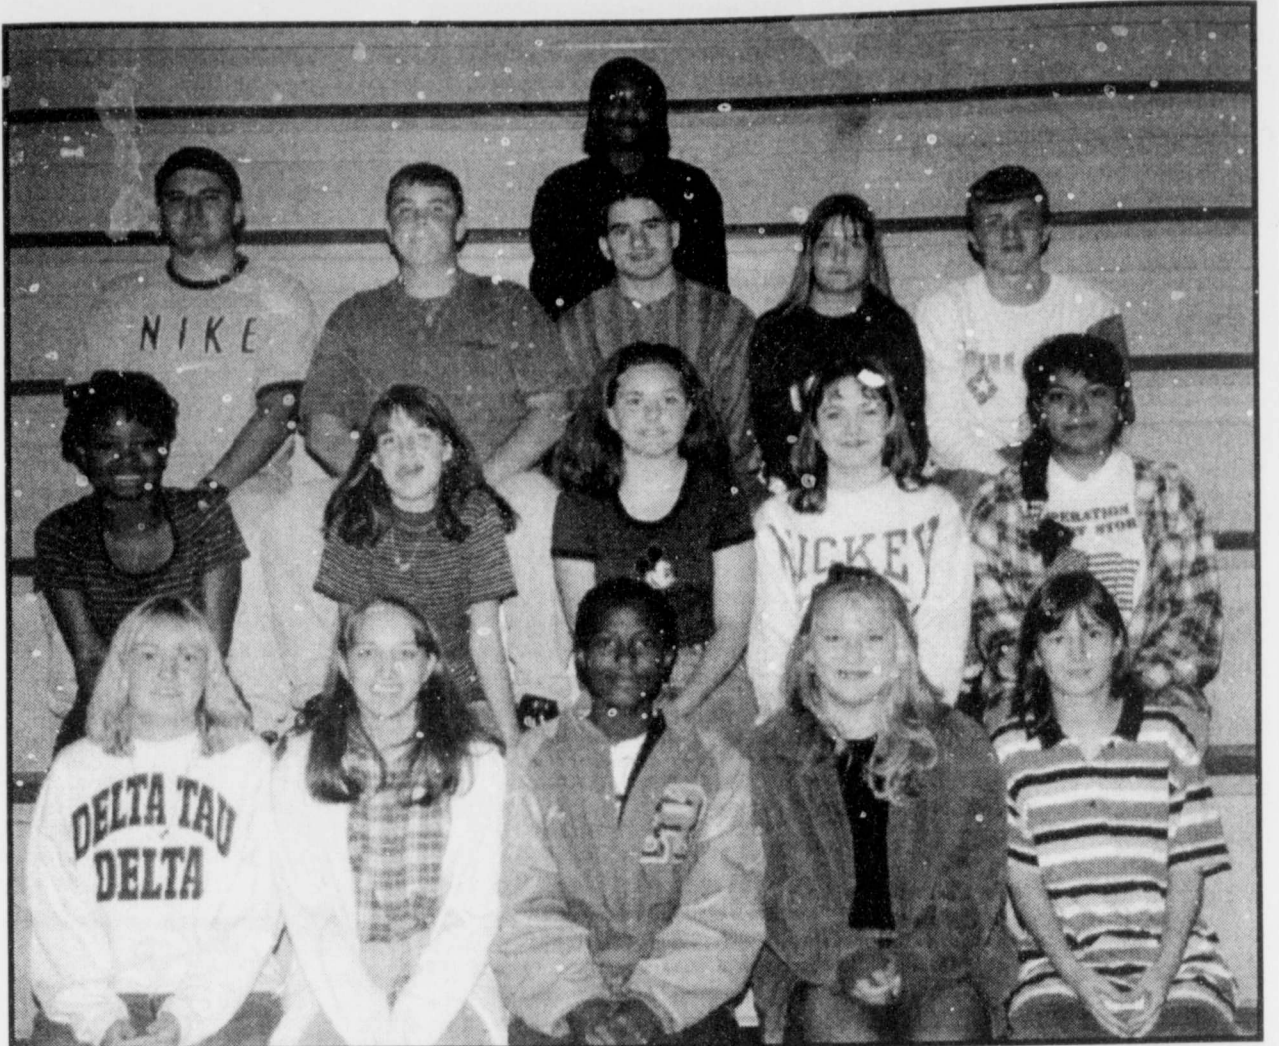

When we awake in the middle of the night at our house our eyes are treated to an assortment of bright little twinkling lights looking at us from every part of the room. There is the little green light on the intercom. Then there is the bright red light on the cordless phone and the face of the electric alarm clock which is illuminated is yellowish. These are all on the table on my side of the bed. The intercom is a wonderful instrument and saves us lots of steps and lots of yelling up and down the stairs. The illuminated dial electric alarm clock has always been wonderful so you don't have to turn on the lamp to see what time it is. I could look at my watch which has see-in-the-dark hands, but I can never be sure that I am looking at it the right way so I cannot be sure what time it is. The cordless phone which has the big red light is nice if you need to get up and walk around while you talk on the phone or hand it to someone who is sitting in the other part of the room, but forget it for dialing out in the dark because the dial is not illuminated. Most people probably know by touch the numbers on a phone so you don't usually need the dial to be lit, but this little phone has so many buttons that I can't remember which row is numbered buttons and which rows are instructions such as redial, mute, memo, etc. The best phones for dialing in the dark are the ones with the lit up dials which are not located on my side of the bed but rather on the other side of the bed and in the bathroom.

There was a time when we would leave a small light on for the children at night or when we would buy the little night lights which you can plug into a wall outlet so you will not run into the furniture as you walk through the house in the dark, but now it is possible to follow the lights from the time display on the microwave and the time display on the VCR. Heaven help us though if the electricity flickers off and the VCR goes off for a few seconds, because not only will you have a lighted display of the time, you will have a very irritating blinking time display which will continue to blink until someone who knows how to reset it arrives. I have never mastered the art of setting VCR's.

As you go on through the house, you see the little red light on the cordless electric shaver which is sometimes plugged into the outlet over the dressing table in the bathroom to be recharged. Of course it is never plugged in if you need it. Someone is always coming along and unplugging it, and then when you get ready to use it it makes a sad little whirring sound letting you know that it is not its fault that it can't do the job.

The smoke detector in the hall has a tiny little pencil thin light twinkling from its "innards". But the Carbon Monoxide detector has a large red light letting you know just how big and important it is. The plugs at various outlets throughout the house which have the expanders on them so that you may plug two cords into an outlet which was meant for one cord all have one red and one green light on them. The various other phones, answering machines and computer type equipment which are spread throughout the house along with the scanners and other rechargeable cordless appliances which are being recharged at various times all sport their own little twinkles. They are all red, green or yellow lights.

All the many lights which twinkle at you as you walk through the house at night are kind of nice to follow so that you don't have to switch on a lamp, but don't depend on them if you have children in the house because they won't keep you from stepping on a forgotten set of jacks or rolling across the floor on a skate. Actually nothing can protect the unsuspecting adult from kid's toys even in broad daylight. At least the little lights will make you aware of which of your appliances are working and which need to be repaired, have new batteries installed or just need to be plugged in again.

Rivercrest Cross Country teams travel to Mt. Pleasant

The Rivercrest C.C. teams are still improving their times. The teams traveled to the Mt. Pleasant C.C. meet Saturday, Sept. 28 and performed the 2 and 3 mile course. Running for the Rebel team were: Joseph Lindsey with an improved time of 17:16. Joseph ran the varsity boys division and 98% of the runners were from 4A and 5A schools. Joseph finished 32nd in the division which was great for that division. Coach Debbie Williams said, "Joseph is really coming down with his time and he is dedicated to the sport. He is working to go and run at Regionals and State." Other Rebel runners were: Justin Smith with an improved time of 20:20. Coach Williams said, "Justin is running stronger and is feeling better about his run. We expect him to continue to improve." Ryan Case was the other Rebel runner with a time of 18:41. Coach Williams said, "Ryan is improving his time each week and is working hard. He also plays football which takes a share of his time."

The Lady Rebels running in Saturday's meet were: Katie Hare with a good strong run of 14:36 finishing 8th place. Coach Williams said,

"Katie with the rest of the Lady Rebel runners are realizing this is a sport that does take hard work and guts, but they are feeling good about their runs and their improvement each week." Deidre Brown had an improved time of 15:38 this week. Coach Williams said, "Dee is a worker and should continue to see improvement." Sara Stanley had a time of 16:23, which is down from the last two meets, but this week shin splints took their toll on Sara. Coach Williams said, "This C.C. will really show on the basketball court for Sara and for the rest of the Lady Rebels participating." Joanie Swarts finished with a 16:38 again and improved time. Coach Williams said, "Joanie is feeling more prepared and she and the rest of the Lady Rebels know they can finish stronger each meet." Another Lady Rebel runner that is really realizing she can do whatever she puts her mind to is Kristi Hines who ran a 15:35 Saturday. Coach Williams said, "Kristi ran strong and with determination. Kristi, a regional 200 meter runner last year has realized that 2 miles is different from the 200, but that the 2 mile is also something that she can do. She was our most improved runner this week." The Junior High runners this week were: Erin Miller with a good first time run of 16:36. Robyn Hollis, who improved her time with a 18:48 run on the 2 mile course and Kendall Stansell, who ran for the first time and finished with determination in a time of 23:08.

There were at least 22 schools participating at the meet. Most were 4A and 5A. Rivercrest was the only 2A present. Coach Williams said, "We had some good tough competition to see and run against. I was a good meet for the Rivercrest runners. Our times are coming down each week and this is what I like to see. Improvement in running pace and feeling like they have run strong plus recovering from the races more quickly is a good sign for these teams."

The C.C. teams will travel to North Lamar Saturday, Oct. 5 at the North Lamar High School. Coach Williams would like to invited everyone to come out and share the Rebel and Lady Rebel successes as they prepare for the district races.
