Nichols Worth

By Nanalee Nichols
Do you know what they are doing?

There are many volunteer fire departments with first responder units within our coverage area. Every now and again I feel the need to remind readers just what they do and what they are!

Because my husband is on Deport's Volunteer Fire Department I am simply going to describe his Saturday...and I assure you, each and every volunteer does exactly the same thing. The fund raisers might be different, the nature of the calls vary, but all of them experience many days like the following one.

The following is a day in the life of one volunteer fireman.

Saturday, July 18: 7:00 a.m. Arrive at Rest Stop #4 for the Tour De Paris, a fund-raiser bicycle race for the American Heart Association. Erect shade shelter, set up with ice water, sports-drink, bananas, fruit, a porta potty, and the rescue truck with medical equipment. Set up a truck at a corner to control traffic and direct cyclists on their proper route. Work until nearly noon. After the race the tent must come down, leftover drinks and fruits dealt with.

1:30 p.m.: Eat lunch at the local cafe. While eating, beeper goes off, notifying Deport that they have a grass fire north of Deport about four miles. Race to fire station, put on protective gear and roll. Upon arrival at fire scene discover that several houses and barns are in extreme danger, call in Pattonville and Blossom Volunteer Fire departments, who respond immediately.

1:30 through almost 5:00 p.m. All three departments fight raging grass fire in tall grass and weeds, across barbed wire fences. Temperatures of 102 degrees are bad enough, without the incredible heat and stress generated by the fire.

When truck tank is empty, return to command post to refill with water. At that time, grab a cup of water and a few breaths of fresh air. Return to fire fighting.

5:00 return to fire station. Fill all trucks up with water, and fuel.

5:30, look up to see firefighter (and nephew) run into fire station, and roll with truck. His pickup truck was on fire, half a block away!

6:30 p.m. after extinguishing pickup fire, put up fire truck once more.

6:30 p.m. Shower, put stain remover on filthy clothing, start laundry. Finally get a chance to rest. Nearly sick from heat exhaustion.

This is not an abnormal day for a volunteer firefighter. They attend courses on fire investigation, medical training, and overall education. They cook, put out flags and do all kinds of things to raise funds for their department. They get no pay for this, and no reward except trying to help others. Frequently they must deal with losing friends or neighbors to heart attacks and accidents, and be part of rescue efforts at tragedies.

It really is irritating when I hear people make disparaging or dismissive remarks about volunteer firefighters. It is just as bad when they are ignored, when no one cares, when they are taken for granted!

In every town, in every community, these people are there to help their neighbors and friends. Be aware of them, commend them. They do a fantastic job.

Bogata First Baptist holds Bible School

The First Baptist Church of Bogata held Vacation Bible School July 13-16 with the theme: Galactic Good News Adventure. They averaged 145 space cadets a day who studied to complete their mission. Their mission was to know Jesus as their savior and to tell others about him.

The week began with the cadets sending the message in "mini-space ships" (balloons) into space.

There was an average of 43 workers daily.

The week concluded with a "Family Night" which was attended by 220 people.

Women's Health Day planned July 28

Titus Regional Medical center and the Community Outreach Department would like to extend an invitation to attend the Women's Health Day - "Hot Topics for Cool Women". The event is scheduled for Tuesday, July 28 in the mall area of the Titus Regional Medical Center professional building.

Booths will open at 9:00 a.m. offering the following screenings: free blood pressure, free blood sugar, cholesterol levels (only $10) and free health risk assessment. Other booths will offer free information regarding nutrition, exercise, cancer prevention and heart health.

At 10:00 a.m. Dr. Robert Brannon, menopause specialist from the Pegasus Medical Group in Dallas, will speak on topics relating to menopause such as Osteoporosis, Estrogen replacement and Cardiac health. Several informative breakout sessions will be offered throughout the day by other guest speakers on topics of nutrition, exercise and clinical trials.

Highlighting the Women's Health Day is a luncheon planned at the Mount Pleasant Civic Center with doors opening at 11:30 a.m. The luncheon will feature a fashion show and a panel of guest speakers to answer questions on menopause and women's health issue. Tickets for the luncheon are only $5 and may be purchased at the cashier's desk in the lobby of Titus Regional Medical Center.

Mark your calendars for July 28th, invite friends and relatives and join the group for a day packed with fun and information.

Hang on, USPS is addressing newspaper delivery problems!

For those subscribers still having problems getting their paper in a timely manner...HOLD ON!

The United States Postal Service has launched an initiative to improve the delivery of periodicals class mail.

An area team has been assembled to work with Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana. In addition, local teams are being assembled within each state to address specific delivery problems for newspapers.

The USPS is sending out letters asking for newspaper input.

It make take a little while, but at least we are getting a recognition of the fact that there is a serious problem.

Bogata City Council hires, passes ordinances in regular meeting

The Bogata City Council met July 13 and attended to a number of items of business.

The council heard from Tracie Osborne with some concerns about the police department.

The mayor informed the council that a resolution was sent to the Texas Department of Transportation asking for their help in getting a traffic light and/or four-way stop signs at the intersection of SH 37 and US Hwy. 271. Mayor and TXDOT personnel have met several times and petitions have been mailed to them. Police Chief Charles Clegg reported that the grant has been completed and the review date is August 28. Kenny Carpenter and Jeff Goodwin have been hired as reserve officers. The council approved some policies for the Police Department.

The council heard the second reading of the City Animal Control Ordinance and approved the passage of the Ordinance. Effective date will be August 15.

The Council approved the appointment of Billy Mitchell as Municipal Judge and the appointment of Cammie Hines as Municipal Court Clerk. They approved a bond for Ms. Hines.

They voted to amend the Curfew Ordinance to change jurisdiction from Red River County Justice Court to City of Bogata Municipal Court.

Council approved a resolution to appoint Michael Garretson to serve on the Ark-Tex Council of Government Board.

After a discussion, the council voted to table the installation of a new telephone system at City Hall until next year's budget is implemented.

Perry reminds producers to get permission to harvest

Agriculture Commissioner, Rick Perry today reminded livestock producers in East Texas that forage on highway rights-of-way is an alternative feed source to be considered during this summer's drought.

The Texas Department of Transportation has a system in place to consider request to harvest hay along highway rights-of-way on a case-by-case basis. Following a May 29 request by Commissioner Perry, TxDOT announced in early June that it would allow mowing and baling of forage on highway rights-of-way. Sites acceptable to district engineers are permitted for harvesting through the use of a simple letter-type agreement.

To request permission to harvest forage, contact one of the local 25 TxDOT offices statewide. For information on locating a local TxDOT office, call 1-800-452-9292. Information about current dry conditions, including addresses of the 25 TxDOT district offices, can be found at "Crop and Weather Updates" on the Texas Department of Agriculture's website (www.agr.state.tx.us).

TxDOT generally limits mowing and baling to areas along rural roads to avoid safety hazards to travelers. Also, under state law, "the right to first refusal" to mow and bale a right of way is given to the landowner adjacent to the requested location.

Students advised on enrollment

Students planning to enroll at Paris Junior College this fall must have taken the Texas Academic Skills Program (TASP) exam or hold an exemption status before registration, according to Pam Hunt, Director of Learning Skills.

Paris Junior College is offering students two testing periods during which time they can take an approved alternative test for TASP. This test will be given on Tuesday, August 4, at 1:00 p.m. and again at 6:00 p.m.

Students will need to register in advance for the test by calling (903) 782-0414 or 782-0237. Students should then go by the business office on campus and pay a $29 registration fee and bring the paid receipt to the testing session.

Sections of the alternative test that are passed will count as passing the TASP test, while those sections failed, or not attempted, will result in required enrollment in developmental education before retesting. The TASP test will be the instrument for retesting.

Registration for the fall semester at PJC will be held on Wednesday and Thursday, August 19 and 20 in the Rheudasil Learning Center.

Red River County Roots

This week's query is from Patti Adkins Rochette, 1001-B West 101 Terr., Kansas City, MO 64114. She is researching the Story name which connects to Red River County. Sarah Graham married Wiley Graves about 1839 in TN. Their daughter M.J. Tennessee Graves, married Medford Story. M.J. was born 1849 Cass County, TX and died October 11, 1890 Red River County. One or both of them are buried in Bethel Cemetery, Fulbright. The Story family moved from Tipton and Perry County, TN to Cass County, TX. Some descendants later moved to Morris, Fannin and Marion county, TX. One Jesse Story and Sam Story Jr. were in Red River County in 1840 and received land grants in Bowie County.

If you would like to write Ms. Rochette, please write him at the above address.

If you have a query you would like to have placed in this column, please send it to the Red River County Genealogical Society, P.O. Box 516, Clarksville, Texas 75426

Our featured cook this week is Lou Ann Jones of Talco. Lou Ann and her husband Jerry, a retired pastor, moved to Talco this past year from Divine, Texas. The couple made the move to be closer to their son and daughter-in-law, Johnny and Karen Jones also of Talco and their daughter, son-in-law and grandchildren. They are Betty, Todd, Emily, Brad and Erin Rogers of Plano. The couple also has a daughter Kathy Haertner, son-in-law Kirby and grandchildren, Mandy and Jennifer.

Lou Ann and Jerry are active members of Talco Calvary Baptist Church and participate in community activities. They are always willing to help with benefits and Lou Ann provides wonderful pies and cakes for bake sales, benefit dinners and church fellowships.

Mrs. Jones has agreed to share her recipes with us this week and we hope you enjoy them. We will see you in the kitchen!

Coconut Oatmeal Cookies - add oatmeal, coconut and pecans and this has got to be a great cookie!

Zucchini Cheese Bake - now if we could only have some rain to make the zucchini grow!

Coconut Pound Cake - nothing better than a delicious pound cake using coconut flavor and flaked coconut.

Yellow Squash Pineapple Pie - this recipe makes 2 large pies and uses yellow squash along with a can of crushed pineapple.

Fresh Pear Cake - have a lot of pears... try this recipe and see if it is not delicious!

COOK OF THE WEEK for this week is Lou Ann Jones of Talco. She and her husband Jerry who is a retired pastor moved here this past year from Divine.

GUM-Johnnie Beall shares a treat of a stick of gum with one of the gorillas at the Dallas Zoo. Beall spent 30 years as a zoo keeper. Retired now he lives in Detroit and works at Deport Nursing Home.

Thirty years with the apes doesn't mean you are Tarzan!

Johnnie Beall had career with primates

By Thomas Nichols

Johnnie Beall of Detroit carries a quick and easy smile. It's easy to see why co-workers at the Deport Nursing Home light up with a smile and a warm welcome when they meet Johnnie the maintenance man in the halls. Perhaps Johnnie's pleasant attitude can be attributed to the 30 happy years he spent as a zoo keeper for the City of Dallas in the Primate area?

For thirty years and three months Johnnie was the friend, protector and care taker of the primates at the Dallas Zoo. As Johnnie reflects on the years he spent caring for the gorillas, chimpanzees and the orangutans, his warm smile erupts into a hearty laugh.

One of his favorites, he recalls was a 250 lb. female gorilla named "Demba" who was born in Dallas in 1970. Another of his favorites was Shamba and baby Vickie, Vjeki was 1 of 6 baby gorillas born in captivity in 1962.

Johnnie has stacks of pictures of the primates and with a gleam in his eye he shuffles through the photos, naming each one and sharing stories about each of his friends. He knows the age and weight of all the primates under his care, as well as their personalities. At one time, the Dallas Zoo had the oldest gorilla in captivity, she was sixty years of age and Johnnie carefully cared for her.

Johnnie's job sometimes consisted of staying with the great apes while maintenance was performed. No repairs or maintenance could be performed without him being in the cage with the primates while work was performed.

The love Johnnie feels for the gorillas, chimpanzee and orangutans is returned by the primates. He retired in 1992, and has returned for several visits.

When he describes his visits to his old friends he laughs, but a tear forms too. The memories linger...and not just Johnnie's memories. He says that as the gorillas, chimps and orangutans become aware of his presence they start making joyful sounds, jumping about and rush into his arms for big hugs as soon as a cage is opened!

When most of us think of the Clint Eastwood movies such as "Every Which Way But Loose" and "Every Which Way You Can" we think about "Clyde" the orangutan. When Johnnie Beall remembers the movies he thinks of another orangutan, one by the name of "Dallas", who was in his charge at the Dallas Zoo.

In "Every Which Way You Can" Eastwood takes Clyde to the zoo to find a "companion". Well, that companion was "Dallas" Johnnie's charge from the Dallas Zoo.

According to Beall, Joe Kemp, an animal trainer from Hollywood, spent three months in Dallas with "Dallas" and Johnnie before "Dallas" departed for Hollywood in a U-Haul truck for his movie debut.

Beall remembers when "Dallas" came home to the Zoo for a visit after being in the movie. He arrived in a pink Cadillac! Before the vehicle could stop completely "Dallas" screamed, jumped down and raced across the lawn at the zoo to leap into Beall's arms and give him a big hug.

By the way, Beall says that the orangutans really are capable of ordering drinks from the bar, or the local 7-Eleven all by themselves!

Johnnie is supposed to be retired now, but he still works a 40 hour week in the maintenance department at the Deport Nursing Home. He lives in Detroit, a much-welcomed reverse of the rush and bustle of Dallas, but his heart still longs to be with his primate friends at the zoo.

It is obvious from visiting with Johnnie and watching him look through the photographs, that he did not have simply a job taking care of big apes at a zoo, he had a career in animal care that brought about a solid, loving relationship with the primates. It's a sure fact that Johnnie Beall misses his primate friends. Undoubtedly, they miss him too.

JMBC holds Bible School

The Vacation Bible School held at Johnstown Missionary Baptist Church on Saturday was quite successful. The theme was Anchors Away.

There were 38 youth and 13 workers, with 7 men working outside on the gym.

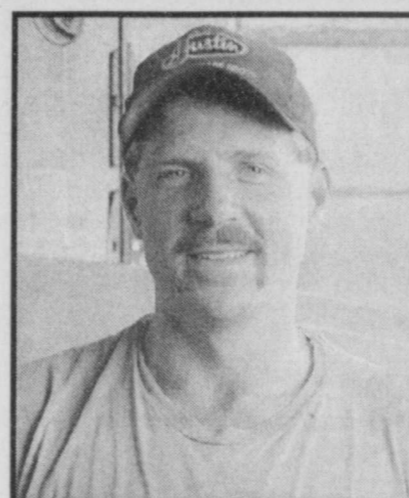

At 12:00 noon lunch of sandwiches and chips and dip were served to the youth, women and men.

The Bible School dismissed at 3:30 p.m. with a pizza supper.

Water Pik Uncovers The Dirt On Drinking Water

(NAPS)—What you can't see just might hurt you. According to the Environmental Protection Agency, in one year alone in the U.S., more than 400,000 people became ill and another 100 died from consuming waterborne contaminants.

Research shows that more than 75 percent of consumers are concerned about the quality of their drinking water, and a majority cite bad taste and odor as the biggest problems.

One of the most advanced faucet-mount filters available, the Teledyne Water Pik Electronic Faucet Filter is designed to reduce certain contaminants by up to 99 percent and decrease bad taste and odor.

The first of its kind, the Electronic Faucet Filter automatically monitors itself to let the consumer know it's working and when the filter cartridge needs to be replaced.

The filter features three indicator lights: green (filter is working properly), yellow (90 percent filter usage, replace soon) and red (time to replace the filter). The filter retails for about $34.99, $16.99 for a replacement cartridge.

For more information, write Teledyne Water Pik, 1730 E. Prospect Rd., Fort Collins, CO 80553, or call (800) 525-2774.

Emergency haying approved

Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry announced that the U.S. Department of Agriculture has approved 16 additional counties for emergency haying or grazing on acreage enrolled in the Conservation Reserve Program. This brings the total number of counties approved in Texas to 75, accounting for 3.18 million acres in CRP.

The 16 new counties approved are: Childress, Dickens, Ellis, Foard, Hall, Hidalgo, Hill, Knox, Motley, Red River, Shackelford, Starr, Stone-wall, Wheeler, Wilbarger and Williamson.

In May, Perry requested that USDA grant a waiver to allow Texas producers to hay and graze CRP land to provide forage for livestock and to help remove a source of fuel for potential wildfires. The waiver to graze was granted in June.

CRP participants in an approved county must request and receive approval from their local Farm Service Agency prior to grazing or haying eligible acreage. CRP participants must leave at least 50 percent of each field or contiguous field unhayed for wildlife. Eligible participants cannot hay and graze the same acreage nor can the CRP be sold.

Texas has 3.6 million acres in CRP land.

Texas counties approved for emergency haying or grazing: Andrews, Armstrong, Bailey, Borden, Briscoe, Cameron, Carson, Castro, Childress, Cochran, Cooke, Collingsworth, Concho, Cottle, Crosby, Dallas, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Dimmit, Duval, Ellis, Fisher, Floyd, Foard, Gaines, Garza, Glasscock, Gray, Hale, Hall, Hansford, Hardeman, Hartley, Haskell, Hidalgo, Hill, Hockley, Howard, Hutchinson, Jones, Kent, King, Kleberg, Knox, Lamb, LaSalle, Live Oak, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Mitchell, Moore, Motley, Nolan, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Red River, Runnels, Scurry, Shackelford, Sherman, Starr, Sterling, Stonewall, Swisher, Taylor, Wheeler, Wilbarger, Willacy, Williamson, Yoakum and Zavala.

Shipboard coincidences link families!

By Norma Miller

On July 6 the Miller, Dicky, Lucas, Kaylee and Norma, left Deport and headed toward Florida for a week's vacation, including a cruise to the Bahamas. This trip was so full of strange coincidences, we just had to share our story. We arrived at our hotel on Deerfield Beach, near Ft. Lauderdale, Tuesday afternoon and spent 3 days there, enjoying the beach, even though it rained every afternoon.

On Friday we went to Miami to board a ship called the Carnival Ecstasy. (We're glad our vacation was before it caught fire). This is where the surprises began.

As we made our way to the cabin assigned to us, we heard someone call our name. Turning around, we were surprised to see Stoney Musgrove on our ship! It seems that Stacy and Linda Musgrove had booked a cruise on the same ship and at the same time as ours. Now, that was enough coincidence in itself; but the story gets even stranger. There are 3 decks of cabins on this ship and each deck has about 200 cabins. We soon found out that the Musgroves' cabin was only 2 doors from ours! It was exciting enough just being on the cruise; but being able to share it with friends was more than we could have hoped for.

The ship's staff had activities planned all day and late into the night. There was food available anytime we wanted to eat...lots of fruits, ice cream, pizza, a breakfast bar, lunch bar, midnight buffet, and all this in addition to the meals in the dining rooms. That brings me to the next bizarre coincidence.

When we boarded the ship, we were all given a "Sail n' Sign" card to be used to purchase items on board. These cards also told us the name of the dining room we were to use, whether we would be in the early or late seating and the number of the table we were assigned to, which is where we would eat each evening. There were two dining rooms, each seating approximately 500 to 600 people. We just happened to have been assigned to the late seating in the Windstar Restaurant, as were the Musgroves. While we were waiting in line to enter the restaurant, we compared cards and discovered that we all were to be seated at table #116! This was great, but we assumed it was a large table which we would share with 15 or 20 other people. We ceased to think of our good fortune as being coincidence upon entering the dining room and finding that each table seated 8. Ours was reserved for the Musgroves and the Millers only.

These dinners were some of the most enjoyable times on the cruise. Our waiter, Padra, was from Croatia and our bus boy, Fritz, was from Jamaica. They weren't quite sure what to make of these country hicks from Texas. Stacy never wanted Fritz to take his fork when he removed the plate, even though we were each given 4 or 5 different forks, which Fritz rearranged between each course. We were given strange looks when Charity and Kaylee wanted to drink their Cokes from the wine glasses. Padra and Fritz treated us like upper class citizens, but if we had acted dignified, it wouldn't have been nearly as much fun.

Saturday morning the ship arrived at Nassau, Bahamas, where we made friends with a taxi driver named Bradley. He wanted us to pay him $4 per person to drive us in his van, two miles to Paradise Island, but we told him we would pay $20 for all eight of us, or we would ride the ferry.

Bradley decided he was about to miss out on a good deal, and agreed. We didn't realize that Paradise Island was nothing but tourist shops and a huge hotel and casino called Atlantis. We did get to go to the beach and do some snorkeling. There were lots of pretty fish close to the beach, and we even saw a stingray. Charity and Kaylee paid some of the native women to braid their hair. We really wanted to take a tour to Blue Lagoon Island, but by the time we decided to go it was too late. That was our only disappointment. Later we did some shopping in Nassau and then went back to the ship to prepare for dinner or supper.

Every evening an entertainer employed by the cruise lines provided music just outside the Neon Bar. On two different occasions he allowed Stacy to show off his singing talent, much to the delight of other passengers. Stoney even joined his dad for a couple of songs.

Charity and Kaylee enjoyed the swimming pools and the Kids Club. Stacy, Linda and I took advantage of the jacuzzis. We didn't see much of Stoney and Lucas while on board the ship. They enjoyed each other's company, as well as that of the twin sisters from New York they met. Together they explored the boat from one end to the other. One night Charity, Kaylee and I learned to Line Dance. We were entertained with a Newwed and Not So Newlywed Game, a Las Vegas Type show and a magic show. This is a fraction of the activities going on aboard ship.

There was a two hour delay in our debarkation procedures because of a large number of foreigners on the cruise who had to go through immigrations. We finally left the ship about noon on Monday. We walked together out to the parking lot and discovered our cars were only 50 feet apart. By that time, nothing surprised us anymore. We parted company then, the Musgroves to Orlando for Disney World, the Millers to the Everglades. There we rode an airboat to a small island where we watched a man wrestle an alligator and tasted alligator tail. It was very good. After that we rode through the Everglades looking for alligators in the wild.

We got to see several gators and some strange looking birds.

We left the Everglades and started for home with memories of a vacation, not soon, if ever, to be forgotten.

We really enjoyed sharing our cruise with the Musgroves, it wouldn't have been nearly as much fun without them.

A footnote: As I mentioned earlier, this was the same cruise ship that burned a week after we left it. We experienced Devine Intervention and Devine Protection.

Shower honors Mandy Williams

Mandy Williams, bride-elect of Greg Sherrill, was honored with a bridal shower Sunday, July 19 at the home of Mrs. Gayle Roach.

Honored guests were Mollie Williams, mother of the bride-elect and Judy Sherrill, mother of the prospective bridegroom.

Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Sherrill and the honoree were presented corsages in the couple's chosen colors of burgundy, gold and hunter green. Other honored guest was the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. Pauline Williams.

A cake decorated with burgundy roses and lemon punch were served from a white linen covered table. The centerpiece was an arrangement of wine colored dried roses in a crystal vase displayed on a gold lame cloth draped with frosted grape clusters.

Finger foods of sandwiches, party meatballs, appetizer roll-ups, chips and salsa were served from a buffet table. Mixed fruit was served from a watermelon carved basket. A chocolate cake decorated with frosted grapes and chocolate dipped strawberries was also served.

Hostesses were Cynthia Abernathy, Connie K. Brooks, Wanda Bradley, Bobbie Cawley, Debbie Hare, Jana Hawkins, Joan Mabry, Martha McCall, Gayle Roach, Susan Robinett, Angela Rose, Virginia Spencer, Lillian Taylor and Diane Williams.

Their gift to Mandy and Greg was a set of Pampered Chef cookware. The couple received many nice and useful gifts.

RHS Beta Club attends National Convention

The National Convention of the National Beta Club was held recently at the Opryland Hotel in Nashville, Tennessee. Ten representatives of the Rivercrest Beta Club were among over 3000 in attendance from across the United States. The Rivercrest Beta Scrapbook, "Tuned in to Beta" was entered in national competition with thirty other scrapbooks.

The Rivercrest group left Bogata on Wednesday morning and stopped in Memphis, Tennessee to tour Graceland, home of Elvis Presley, and shopped in stores on Elvis Presley Boulevard. They arrived in Nashville Wednesday evening and students attended a Get acquainted Mixer that had a Country Shindig Theme.

On Thursday morning the group shopped on Music Row and toured downtown Nashville. At noon the group checked in the scrapbook for competition and then explored the Opryland Hotel, the largest non-gaming hotel in the United States. They took a cruise on the Delta Riverboat around Delta Island and viewed a water fountain display with water that reached eighty-five feet in height. They attended the Campaign Session where they heard speeches and saw skits for twenty-nine national officer candidates. The voting for the national officers followed the session. Representing the Rivercrest Beta Club as voting delegates were; Lisa Shirley, Kim Brown, Coleman Brown and Ashlei Moles. The First General Session followed where the group heard the keynote address, "The Bridge to the Future," given by Marion McIntosh, National President and saw the fourteen group talent performances. The competition was won by Athens Bible School from Alabama.

On Friday, the group viewed the scrapbooks and then attended the Second General Session where they heard the keynote address, "The Tie that Binds," given by Wesley Walker, National Vice-President and saw the fourteen talent performances. The competition was won by Ryan High School from Oklahoma. The afternoon was spent shopping at the Hard Rock Cafe Souvenir Store in downtown Nashville and at Rivergate Mall. The group boarded a shuttle bus that evening for a trip to the Grand Ole Opry. They went to the Grand Ole Opry Museum and then attended the national Beta Club Nigh at the Grand Ole Opry. They were entertained by stars such as Charley Pride, Loretta Lynn, Porter Wagoner, The Whites, Billy Walker, Little Jimmy Dickens, John Conlee, Riders in the Sky, the Four Guys and Mike Snider, among others. After the performance the students attended the Annual Semi-Formal Beta Dance.

On Saturday they attended the Third General Session where they heard the keynote address, "Beta Service," given by Jason Moore, National Secretary. Also they viewed the Quiz Bowl Finals which was won by Kentucky and were introduced to Beta Scholarship winners from across the U.S. who had received money totalling $250,000. Newly elected national officers were installed. They are; Jade Nunez of Louisiana, President; Tony Bridgett of North Carolina, Vice President; and Jeremy Graviett of Missouri, Secretary. Guest speaker for this session was Mr. Phil Driscoll who sang and played trumpets and the piano. His message encouraged Betas to join forces and take the time to care. He urged Betas to make this country a better place and to remember that every person has a destiny. After the session the group boarded the bus for the trip back to Texas.

Representing the Rivercrest Beta Club were; Dustin Cook, Jeremy Jones, Lisa Shirley, Kim Brown, Chad Holland, Coleman Brown, Ashlei Moles and Wendy Gentry, members; Miss Brenda Gunter, Sponsor and Mr. Keith Price, Principal. The National Beta Club is a service-leadership organization for students who excel academically. Membership is based on a 6.0 GPA and an exemplary rating in the areas of service, leadership and character. The next state convention will be held in January in Arlington, Texas and the next national convention will be held next June in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina.

4-H Fun Day July 31

Today's 4-H Program is noted for its flexibility, a feature that makes it the largest youth serving organization in the country. 4-H is flexible because it is organized in different ways, for different needs, in different places. The community or neighborhood 4-H Club is the most common type of club. It is generally associated with an area known to local people, such as a small community, a town, a city block or blocks, or a housing complex.

To learn more about 4-H, join us on Friday, July 31, 1998 at South Lake for 4-H Fun Day. All family members are welcome. The agenda includes a workshop, lunch, games and swimming. Please join us for a free, fun 4-H activity filled day. For more details, contact the County Extension Office at (903) 427-3867. Please register no later than Friday, July 24, 1998.

Extension programs serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, sex, religion, disability or National origin. Individuals with disabilities who require special accommodations in order to participate in Extension sponsored activities are encouraged to contact the Extension Office.

NUIS & BOLTS

By Judy Screws

When I read about how the Governor and the State Legislature wants to meddle in the certification of teachers I wonder if they don't have enough to do. I thought it was the job of our local school principals to monitor a teacher's ability and hire, fire or promote on the basis of his findings. If a teacher is not performing up to par nobody is in a better position to correct the problem than the principal.

Teachers do not need more education, they need more support. Of course, nobody can have too much education, but going to school 25 years would not prepare a teacher to deal with students whose only goal in life is to cause problems.

There are a handful of students in each school who feel that the rules are meant for everybody but them. Not only are these students a disruption in class for the students who want to learn, they are sometimes a danger to the other student and teachers in the school. Can someone please tell me why, after every thing possible has been done to try to help these problem students they are not just expelled from school instead of being sent to an alternative school at the expense of the school district?

Some of the children in our district live lives that children should not even know about. They are awake half of the night with alcoholic and drug addicted parents. They have abusive parents and step parents. They come to school wearing filthy clothes and have lice in their hair. This is so sad. Children should not have to live this way. They deserve every chance possible to get an education, but this cycle needs to be broken. These children should not become parents like their parents. Children should be treated kindly but firmly. They should never think that just because they have a hard life they are allowed to cause problems for the other students. Students who have a messed up life are the ones who need some sort of order in their lives. They need rules and regulations and never should be allowed to think that misbehaving will get them more attention.

Instead of adding aggravation to the job of our teachers, our Legislators should be working on a plan to allow school districts to expel children who cannot be dealt with.

I believe that if our teachers had more parental and governmental support, things would be a lot better. I know that just as there are a handful of students who disrupt classes, there are a handful of incompetent teachers. But once again, that is why we have principals. That is why we have achievement tests. Let the school administrators do their jobs. Our teachers will be just fine.

Baker reunion held

Fifty-seven descendants and friends of Townsend Jack and Hamp Martin Baker met at Life Tabernacle Church in Cunningham to enjoy a family reunion.

What would you say to a $40 mammogram?

It's true! During our "Hot Topics For Cool Women" Seminar on July 28th you can get a coupon for a $40 mammogram* if

- you are over the age of 40;
- it has been at least one year since your last mammogram;
- you have no personal history of breast cancer;
- you have no breast implants or breast reduction.

As you know, the earlier breast cancer is detected, the better chance you have of complete recovery. And we've made it so easy and inexpensive, what can you say, but yes?

So be at our "Hot Topics Seminar (lots of great information about womens health issues) and get a coupon for the best deal on mammograms in East Texas.

You'll be glad you did!

TITUS REGIONAL MEDICAL CENTER

2001 N. Jefferson • Mt. Pleasant, Texas
903-577-6478

* If you have no insurance coverage for mammograms, the charge will be $40. If you are on Medicaid, Medicare or private insurance, your insurance will be billed.

OKAY, SO IT'S HERE.
AND YOU WANT INFORMATION AND YOU WANT IT NOW.
NOT FOR YOU TO STICK YOUR HEAD IN THE SAND
LIKE YOUR GRANDMOTHER.
MENOPAUSE IS NOT GOING TO SINK YOU,
AND WHEN THIS IS ALL OVER
YOU WILL BE STRONGER THAN EVER.
BUT THE QUESTION:

WHERE DO I GET HELP?

TITUS REGIONAL MEDICAL CENTER PRESENTS

"HOT TOPICS FOR COOL WOMEN"

WITH DR. ROBERT L. BRANNON, MENOPAUSE SPECIALIST.

ON JULY 28, 1998, 9 AM - 4 PM AT TITUS REGIONAL MEDICAL CENTER MALL.

DR. BRANNON WILL TALK ABOUT MENOPAUSE AND HOW IT RELATES TO OSTEOPOROSIS, HEART DISEASE, BREAST CANCER & ESTROGEN.

SCREENINGS INCLUDE BLOOD SUGARS, BLOOD PRESSURES & CHOLESTEROLS.

A SPECIAL LUNCHEON WITH DR. BRANNON AND A

PANEL OF GUEST SPEAKERS HAPPENS AT THE

TITUS COUNTY CIVIC CENTER FROM 11:30 - 1:00, ONLY $5 PER PLATE.

TICKETS MAY BE PURCHASED AT THE TRMC CASHIERS' DESK IN THE MALL.

Bogata Locals

Dovie Garretson had a birthday supper Saturday for Mike Garretson. Helping celebrate were Rickey Garretson and Pansy Skaggs of Ft. Worth, David and Charlotte Rozell, Neil and Frances Rozell and Mrs. Francis R. Rozell, Russell, Elizabeth, Mallory and Morgan Rozell, Josh Belcher, Larry and Misty Garretson and Danna Brown. They played games of 42.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Screws and Tana were in Paris Monday morning to be with their son and brother, Michael Don Screws, who had surgery at St. Joseph's Hospital. The surgery went well and he is recuperating at home.

Emma D. Davis had a family reunion the Fourth of July. Eleven of her children attended.

Christopher and Jerred Guerra of Paris spent Monday night with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Screws and Tana.

James Fulbright hosted a birthday party for Mary Hines and John Fulbright July 11 in Fulbright at the old homeplace.

Jan McCuller of Mount Pleasant visited with Dixie Stringfellow Sunday.

Tana Screws visited in Deport with Mr. and Mrs. Murl Roach.

Reynolds and Leggetts return from trip

Lt. Col. and Mrs. H. Dean Leggett of Denison and Paul and Ruth Reynolds of Bogata have returned from a 12 day trip of sightseeing in Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, Idaho, Wyoming, Montana, South Dakota, Iowa and Missouri.

The tours included Yellowstone National Park, The Tetons, Shoshone Forest, Mount Rushmore and Crazy Horse Monuments in the Black Hills, The Badlands, The Corn Palace and Many other points of interest.

They were met by the Leggett's daughter, Lynn Pederson and husband, George and children, Bryce, Brad and Lauren of Ogden, Utah.

Paul and Dean took their first Kayak trip down the Snake River with the aid of George Pederson. Ahead was Paul, who rounded a bend and met a large moose about 20 feet away in the water. The moose tried to climb the bank without success, but was able to swim away to escape a collision. A close call for the large moose. It was nice to have cool weather and see rain.

The two couples traveled in a large crew cab pickup pulling a fifth wheel trailer. They report that that is a very comfortable way to travel.
