Please, be careful out there

Over the past few weeks we witnessed two tragic accidents that have taken the lives of two young people. We witnessed another accident in which two young people were injured.

I am once again reminded that in a few seconds so much can happen to change so many lives.

And, once again I am reminded that the most dangerous thing we do in life is to drive.

Because of the necessity of driving we tend to take it for granted.

We shouldn't. Most of us think that we are good, safe drivers. All too often that is beside the point. Over the past 22 years in the newspaper business I have seen so many wrecks, so many people injured or killed. And a good portion of them were good drivers, driving safely. But, circumstances conspired to create a series of events that led to tragedy.

We cannot control the other driver. We cannot control things that may happen to our vehicle, or weather conditions.

In spite of overwhelming evidence that seat belts save lives, there are still many people who will not wear them. Yes, on rare occasions, a seat belt does more harm than good. But by and large they do the opposite.

The hardest part of this job is taking photographs of terrible accidents and writing stories about lives cut short.

Knowing that these photos and stories can upset family and friends is another difficult part of the job.

But, if one person can look at that photo and THINK a little about their driving...if they can drive a little more defensively, if they remember to buckle up that seat belt something has been accomplished.

I know there are many who disagree with me on this, as well as other issues. That goes with the territory. But, here is my "Mother Hen" lecture.

Please, please, drive carefully. Don't assume the driver at the intersection sees you and is stopping. Don't assume just because you have the right of way you won't have to yield it in order to avoid an accident. Fasten your seat belt. Drive defensively. Drive politely.

Each of us has made driving mistakes, and we will again.

Awareness helps us to cut down on those mistakes. Please, be aware of what you are doing...and what other drivers are doing. Be cautious, don't take risks driving.

In short, please, be careful. The result is no accident. And that's a great thing for everyone concerned.

Harmonizing Under The Stars to provide fun and funds for Library

The gospel singing benefit for the promotion and encouragement of Bogata Public Library and Museum has been named "Harmonizing Under The Stars" by the James Wood family, sponsors of the benefit.

According to James Wood, what started out as a get together of a number of singing groups and singers from Bogata's surrounding area has escalated into numerous requests from people in Paris, Talco, Clarksville and other towns wanting to sing with the choir.

The benefit is scheduled for Sat. Oct. 7 at 7:00 p.m. in the Bogata Rodeo Arena.

The format, according to Wood, will be choir singing similar to the Gaither videos seen on national TV and a choir in excess of 100 people is expected. There is no admission charge although there will be opportunity for anyone wanting to make a tax deductible donation to the library and any donations either in monies or new books for the library will be appreciated.

Tim Wood, who will direct the choir, is urging anyone who likes to sing old gospel fast paced Gaither Songs to contact him so they can be a part of rehearsals which will be held on three different occasions prior to the performance.

Tim says "you don't have to read music, but you must enjoy singing as it's going to be lively and fast paced. If you have seen any of the Gaither videos you have seen how much fun the choir has and how entertaining a hundred voice choir can be."

Mark your calendar for October 7 for a night of clean family entertainment and be a part of "Harmonizing Under the Stars".

Remember, call Tim at 652-3195 or 632-5614 if you want to be a part of the choir. If you know of someone who likes to sing gospel music, pass the word. If you know someone who enjoys listening to gospel singing pass the word. Also, remember, Oct. 7 is a great time to take the family out to a good, clean, free evening of entertainment.

A. D. STEPHENSON is pictured holding a pair of near 100 year old spurs which have been donated to the Bogata Public Library/Museum by Eula Mae Stephenson Lobstein. The spurs belonged to her father, Frances Marion Stephenson. A special memory of Eula Mae's is when she was about 5 years old she was bitten by a rattlesnake. She remembers her father putting on the spurs to ride his horse from their home near Johntown into Bogata to get old Dr. Grayson. When he and the doctor returned her mother was told by Dr. Grayson that she had probably saved Eula Mae's life. She had soaked the bitten foot in coal oil. (Staff Photo Nancy Brown)

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Aaron Frahlich

Frahlich-Fulbright vows exchanged

Joseph Aaron Frahlich and Chandra Lovette Fulbright were united in marriage at 5:30 in the evening on Friday, September 1, 2000 at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's Witnesses in Brooklyn, New York.

Chandra is the daughter of Willie and Cheryl Fulbright and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Fulbright of Fulbright, Texas.

The bride was escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents. She wore an elegant full length spaghetti strap gown of white satin. The fitted bodice was adorned with delicate seed pearls and sequins and buttoned down the back. The hemline and cathedral length train were accented with lace inserts adorned with seed pearls and sequins. Her headpiece was a crown of meshed, stringed pearls. Her finger-length veil was trimmed with satin. The bride carried a bouquet of sage roses, carnations and summer flowers interspersed with lilac and finished off with a flowing organza ribbon.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her best friend, Laura (Mason) Ripley of Brooklyn, New York, formerly of Clarksville, Texas. She wore an empire styled, a-line cocktail length dress that draped in the back with sage chiffon and crepe. She carried a bouquet of Irish carnations and roses accented with lilac and tied with organza ribbons. The bridesmaids were Sharonda Clark and Laura and Allison Frahlich, sisters of the groom of Akron, Ohio.

D'd Frahlich of Akron, Ohio, the groom's brother served as best man. The groomsmen were Chauncy Fulbright, brother of the bride, Alex Hernandez and Asher Graff.

The reception was held on the fourth floor of the Metropolitan Building in Queens, New York, overlooking Manhattan and Brooklyn.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at a Chinese Restaurant in Manhattan.

The bride is a graduate of Rivercrest High School and will continue her career as a secretary. The groom is a graduate of Firestone High School in Akron, Ohio, and is employed as an electrician in Cleveland.

Following their honeymoon in North Carolina the couple will make their home in Akron, Ohio.

The 3 Rs; Real Love, Romance and Ropin'

On September 1, 2000, Suzann Holland and Michael Tabb were united in marriage with Judge Chad Adams officiating. In a private family gathering, Michael and Suzann exchanged personal vows and rings in one of the most romantic ceremonies, according to Judge Adams. The ceremony was held under a Live Oak Tree on their own land in Waxahachie. After the song "She Thinks I Could Rope the Moon" was played, Steve Holland, the bride's father, read from the Book of Ecclesiastes. The couple then exchanged their personal words to each other along with their vows and rings.

Immediate family in attendance were: Steve and Bobbie Holland of Midlothian, the bride's parents; Dan and Vicki Tabb of Miro, the groom's parents; Delene Tabb of Maple and Dixie Stringfellow of Bogata, the groom's grandmothers; Danny Tabb of Red River County, the groom's brother and best man; Bob, Dee and Maggie Richardson of Bagwell, the groom's brother-in-law, sister and niece (and flower girl); Jason, Tammie and Blake Finkenbinder and Callie Miller, the bride's brother-in-law, sister, nephew and niece; Judi Maddox of DeSoto, the bride's friend and maid of honor, and Billy Bateman, the bride's uncle. At the conclusion of the heart-felt ceremony, the couple asked that everyone in attendance take a moment to remember loved ones who are also a special part of them: Jack and Dorothy Bateman, and Rowland and Ruby Holland, the bride's grandparents, and George Monroe Rector and Gordon Enoch Tabb the groom's grandfathers.

After pictures, everyone joined Michael and Suzann for dinner at the Trail Dust Steak House in Arlington. Michael and Suzann shared a special dance to "My Girl" that was dedicated to them by the bride's uncle. Following dinner, the couple went dancing with Bob and Dee and Danny and Judi at Cowboy's in Arlington. Later that evening Michael and Suzann returned to the Arlington Hilton Hotel. The next day they were joined by Bob and Dee and Danny and Judi for a fun week-end around Dallas, Irving and Arlington.

Michael and Suzann will be taking a winter honeymoon trip to Las Vegas during the National Finals Rodeo. The couple will host a party / reception for friends and family at their new home, a custom built classic farmhouse, in Waxahachie after its completion.

Suzann is an English teacher at Waxahachie High School, and Michael is foreman for Flemister Construction. Michael and Suzann would like to thank their family for all their love and dedication.

Church Services held at Thedford Homes

The mid-week church service at Thedford Homes on September 5 opened with prayer. A group of 15 shared a covered dish lunch before the service. A time of prayer requests and gospel singing followed. Special songs were done by Darren Moore, Lee Robinson and Ethel Moulton. Brother Ed Johnson of Cuthand brought a message based on Psalm 46:1, God is our refuge and strength. Several shared testimonies and the meeting was dismissed in prayer. Brother Calvin Permenter of Johtown will be the guest speaker on Tuesday, September 19. All friends and residents of Thedford Homes are invited to attend.

FOOT NOTES

Kobler's Bone Disease

The navicular bone is one of the smaller bones located at the bottom of the foot, near the arch. Kohler's bone disease is a rare inflammatory condition affecting the navicular. It occurs in young children, mostly boys ages 3 to 5. Because the navicular is the last bone to ossify as children develop, it is more susceptible to damage from repetitive weight-bearing compression activities, like walking or running. The bone and cartilage become inflamed in a process called osteochondritis. The child's foot becomes swollen, painful and tender to the touch. A limp may develop to relieve pressure in the affected area. Pain and swelling are typically treated with medication while arch supports and limited strenuous activity are often recommended.

A podiatrist is the only health care professional whose total training focuses on the foot, ankle, and related body systems. As a specialist in foot care, a podiatrist receives extensive training in the diagnosis, treatment and prevention of foot and ankle disorders by medial and surgical means. If you have questions regarding a foot problem, from Kohler's bone disease to plantar warts, feel free to discuss them with us. Choose the pathway to health, call Doctor's Foot Clinic for an appointment at 784-5585.

P.S. In many cases, a few weeks in a below the knee walking cast that supports the arch helps relieve symptoms of Kohler's bone disease.

It could be. It could also be indigestion from that greasy burger you had at lunch. But one of those possibilities can kill you. Once a heart attack starts creating chest pain, you have about an hour to get help. Don't waste it on indecision.

It Could Happen To You.

The Chest Pain Center at CHRISTUS St. Joseph's is the facility in this area that can interrupt a heart attack in progress with balloon angioplasty technology in one of our two CathLabs.

That's why any time you or someone around you experiences serious chest pain, go to CHRISTUS St. Joseph's. We'll check first for a heart attack! If it's not, no one will be more relieved than us. But, if it is, the time we save going straight to the most serious possibility could save a life. And it could be you.

Letters To Editor

Are kids created equal?

Why does there have to be popularity? Why can't every child have a fair chance to do what the popular kids get to do day after day, year after year? I wish someone could find a solution for this because I feel that if every child had a chance you would have kids with more confidence and higher self esteem.

I work with young children sometimes. Last week I was at a meeting with some girls between the ages of nine and eleven. One of the girls came into our meeting a little late. I noticed when she came in that she was quieter than usual, but got busy with the meeting and didn't pay any attention until later. After our meeting all the children went outside for some activities. This young girl squatted down beside a column in front of the building. She told us that her stomach was hurting. I went over to her and asked had it just started. She said it had been hurting all day. I told her I hoped she wasn't getting the virus that was going around, but a few minutes later she stood up and started talking about school. She told us that they had had some kind of election that day, but she hadn't been elected because only the popular kids got elected for everything. I told the young girl, "Honey, I'm sorry to have to tell you this, but what you're saying is as true as can be, and will probably be true 'til whenever. But always remember that we are all equal in God's eyes. There are no popular and unpopular people."

But she said, "But it's not fair. I can't help that I'm poor, but if I had a chance I could do the things the popular kids do." I thought to myself that this was what was wrong with her stomach. She was upset about the election. Isn't that so sad?

I don't know how you would change this popularity stuff, but I wish I knew a way. Because the poor unpopular children never get a chance to prove themselves, because they never get chosen for anything. Please don't get me wrong, it's not that I don't like the popular kids because I do. I just wish they could all be created equal.
Thank you,
Linda Eilers

Dear Nanalee,
I would like for the readers to see for themselves what happens when animals are discarded, like litter, on the side of the road. My husband and I found 5 puppies between Cuthand and Boxelder at Kickapoo Creek. Actually it was about a half a mile from the creek. These animals were without water or food for quite a while, due to the fact that they are very young and can't find or fend for themselves. All this because some _____ can't take the responsibility of having pets.

We all know it has been over 100 degrees and too hot for the young or old of any animal to stand it without water or food; not to mention, the fire ants have eaten on their stomachs. It is quite a horrible sight.

I only hope we got to them in time and will be able to save them. But, I'm not very hopeful. Maybe the soul of the person or persons that left these pups to die is already condemned...I hope so! If I had my way, that person would be placed somewhere with triple digit temps, no food or water. I would wait until they were just skin and bones, then bring them in, get them well, and start all over again!! If people don't want puppies, they need to get their pets SPAYED OR NEUTERED! If pups are an accident, take them to the Humane Society, for a chance of going to a family. Responsible people don't just throw away animals.

If any readers want to see first hand just how bad these poor little creatures look, they are at my house in Cuthand. Come by and see for yourself. Also, say a little prayer, that we might be able to save them all.

Sincerely,
Ray and Linda Tabb.

STARVED and sick, these five puppies were thrown away much like garbage. Found in 100 plus heat, fire ants had stung them. Ray and Linda Tabb rescued the puppies and are trying to save their lives. Dumping of animals is never a solution.

Editor's Note: Hear, Hear, to the Tabbs. They say what I have said for years. Only two weeks ago someone did me the "favor" of dumping a very tiny little kitten, which was severely sunburned in this terrible heat before I found it. There are better ways to treat helpless animals!

Evangelist preaches in Panama

Bryan Hodge, evangelist for the Church of Christ in Talco, recently went to the Republic of Panama to conduct a gospel meeting.

Bryan lived there as a child in the 1970's and his father was transferred there while employed with the Army Air Force Exchange Service.

The Balboa Church of Christ in Panama City has been in existence for nearly 100 years. The congregation was dealt a strong blow last year when many of its American members were transferred elsewhere when control of the canal reverted to Panamanian authorities. There are five other Spanish speaking congregations in Panama City that weren't nearly as affected by Americans leaving.

Bryan preached a four day gospel meeting and had many personal one-to-one Bible studies throughout the week that he was there. The meeting was advertised with a door knocking campaign. The meeting was attended by many who heard the gospel for the first time. The theme for the meeting was "The New Testament Church."

The people who heard the lessons were not only from Panama, but also from Honduras, Ecuador, Columbia and Venezuela. Lessons were presented with a translation. In the free time he had, he went fishing, shopping and visiting with a few folks he knew as a child.

He plans to return to Panama again next year.
