Is it preshrunk?

Here's some tidbits of "food for thought". Life's serious right now, so it's time for a little light hearted speculation.

The other evening a cotton module moving truck had a small fire which required the fire department's assistance. No water was used, but the question was asked "if we had sprayed water on that cotton, when it was made into clothing would it have been preshrunk?"

Well, to take that thought and run with it some more, if cotton gets rained on in the boll, before harvest, why isn't it preshrunk? Okay, okay, I'm only kidding, don't take me so seriously.

Now, here's another thought. I was knocking down cobwebs the other day, horrified that the sneaky little web spinning spiders had managed to build a large web above my bedroom curtains without me noticing.

Later that weekend, I spent a long time trying to knock the pesky little things down under the eaves and porch of our house.

Now, here's a multimillion dollar idea. What if someone could come up with a spider food that would cause them to spin colored webs.

"Why? You may well ask. Because then they could be color coordinated and matched to everyone's specific decor and we wouldn't have to take them down anymore!"

See, in my bedroom the spiders could spin in warm yellow tones, or green, and they wouldn't even show up!

Out on my porch they could be nice and white, and I wouldn't spend so much time trying to get them down! Can't you see us all setting out little dishes of special spider food?

Now, doesn't that sound like a female-type of idea? Again, I'm only joking, folks.

But, I'm not joking about mud-daubers. I hate them. I hate their muddy, paint staining nests. I hate their machinery clogging habits, and their ability to build in areas that are inaccessible to the average bug. And, what do I hear on the television the other day, on a gardening program? DON'T KILL THEM, they are beneficial. We are supposed to carefully remove the nest structures if they are in an inconvenient location and carry them to a safe, dry place so they can continue to multiply. Whoever this guy is would be horrified if he saw me blasting them with the pressure washer and stomping the insides to death! Get over it, guy, you must not have as many mud daubers we do!

My food for thought may not be very nourishing this week, but surely it will do for a snack?

Bogata council hears reports

Mayor Kennedy called the meeting to order and Councilman Screws gave the invocation. Council heard from County Commissioner Ricky Daniels concerning moving the polling place for Box 5, due to moving the Police Department into the Council Room. The consensus of the council was to postpone moving the Police Department until after November 6th (election day) due to the anticipated costs of notifying the voters, etc.

Minutes were approved and bills and final waterbill accounts were approved. Council heard reports from Police Chief Charles Clegg and Fire Marshal Wayne Martin. They voted to approve an ordinance for police personnel count, consisting of the Chief of Police, two full-time peace officers, and two reserve officers. Water Supt. Wendell Davis's report included 65 work orders, 3 sewer stops, 3 leaks, 4 dogs and 2 goats picked up and 2 taps for the month of September.

Council voted to take no action on an ordinance to tax telecommunications, due to lack of information and to take this item off the agenda. They voted to appoint Councilman Roland Screws to the Red River appraisal Board of Directors, replacing Jack Crane, who has resigned. This appointment is until Dec. 31, 2001. Council voted to have a workshop on Oct. 22 at 7:00 p.m. to consider a drug policy for employees. Action on an ordinance to regulate dangerous wild animals as required by the State was tabled until more information can be obtained from the State. Council voted to allow Mayor Kennedy to approve the final payment to the contractor for the 2000 grant #720071 whenever all work has been done satisfactorily.

Councilman Lewis announced that a representative from Senator Phil Graham's office will be at the Volunteer Fire Station at 1:00 p.m. on Friday, Oct. 12.

The meeting adjourned at 8:55 p.m.

A PTO membership drive is now underway in the Elementary and Junior High campus. If the campus reaches a goal of 300 members every child will receive a special treat. Please encourage all members of the family to join. Membership is $2.00 per person.

Country Cooking
By Liz Irwin

Our cooks this week come to use from the Caring and Sharing Community Club in Woodland. As you can see in the picture, one of their favorite things to do is get together and quilt.

The quilt in the picture is an Improved Nine Patch and is being quilted for their annual Harvest Festival that they will have on Saturday before Thanksgiving. They will take donations for $1.00 each and a drawing will be held that night.

They will also sponsor a stew supper that night along with a host of activities throughout the day for everyone to enjoy. There are several more ladies that attend the meetings, but were unable to be there the day of the picture. But everyone comes when they can and contributes what they can. These ladies also have lunch each Wednesday, with each one bringing a dish for the meal.

We hope you enjoy their recipes and try some of them out. Also, buy one of the tickets for the drawing. It is a beautiful full-size quilt in red and white and hand patched by Lavern Edwards of Woodland. See you in the kitchen!

Easy Jelly Roll-Betty Swindle-says that this is good with ice cream or Cool Whip and looks quite elegant!

Squash Casserole-Rhonda Cronin-great for taking to luncheons and dinners!

Cornbread Salad-Ruby Ross-you must try this recipe...it is wonderful!

Enchilada Casserole-Charlotte Yoakum-this is a favorite of the club and great for carrying to suppers!

Old Fashion Buttermilk Pie-Betty Swindle-a favorite of everyone's and easy to make!

Rebel Band scores a one

The Rivercrest Rebel Band under the direction of Steven Moss traveled to Texarkana last Saturday to compete at the 4 States Invitational Contest.

The Rebel Color Guard received a 1 making a full first place ranking for the entire group. Color Guard members are; Kristen Simmons, Melissa Waller, Kissryn Munns, Pearl Ponthieux, Mindy and Kristy Riffle.

The small numbers and young ages of the Rebel Band members has not kept them from being the best and if you haven't heard them play you are missing a wonderful program. Everyone is invited to come out and support the Rebel football team and take pride in the Rebel Band. Congratulations Mr. Moss and Rebel Band!!!

"The Lamar County District Attorney's Office, CASA, Big Brother/Sisters, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, King's Daughters, Lamar County Child Welfare, Family Haven and the Children's Advocacy Center are just a few.

"We hope that many residents of our community will join us at the ceremony to remember those whose lives have been touched by violence, adn to pray with us that more peace will be granted in our lives."

THE JOURNALIST'S
CREED

I believe in the profession of journalism.

I believe that the public journal is a public trust; that all connected with it are, to the full measure of their responsibility, trustees for the public; that acceptance of a lesser service than the public service is betrayal of this trust.

I believe that clear thinking and clear statement, accuracy, and fairness, are fundamental to good journalism.

I believe that suppression of the news, for any consideration other than the welfare of society, is indefensible.

I believe that no one should write as a journalist what he would not say as a gentleman; that bribery by one's own pocketbook is as much to be avoided as bribery by the pocketbook of another, that individual responsibility may not be escaped by pleading another's instructions or another's dividend's.

I believe that advertising, news and editorial columns should alike serve the best interest of readers; that a single standard of helpful truth and cleanness should prevail for all; that the supreme test of good journalism is the measure of its public service.

I believe that the journalism which succeeds best--and best deserves success--fears God and honors man; is stoutly independent, unmoved by pride of opinion or greed of power, constructive, tolerant but never careless, controlled, patient, always respectful of its readers but always unafraid, is quickly indignant at injustice; is unswayed by the appeal of privilege or the clamor of the mob; seeks to give every man a chance, and, as far as law an honest wage and recognition of human brotherhood can make it so, an equal chance; is profoundly patriotic while sincerely promoting international good will and cementing world-comradeship; is a journalism of humanity and of today's world.

What parents will do for their children: a story retold

by Nancy Brown

The lengths parents will go for their children was the subject among a group of women at the Rebel football game Thursday night when one mom said, "Yeah, like show chickens!" At that I turned and asked, "Exactly how do you show chickens?" And the fun began told by the very mom who supplied the best laugh I'd had in a while.

It seems Andrea Birchfield's daughter, Kendra, raised chickens for show in the Titus County Fair. Andrea admitted she was terrified of the birds to the point of crying if she had to touch them. (This is a grown woman with a phobia) Kendra had 3 chickens and surprise, at the show on Friday she couldn't possibly handle them all since to show, the birds must be held by the legs with the breast pushed outward for the judges to feel. After this test the birds are put on the ring floor and held very carefully for yet another type judging.

Kendra's father, Johnny Birchfield, was at work and there was no one to help except, you guessed it, MOM. Andrea being a good mother reluctantly agreed to do this for her child. But, the judge did not ease her mind when he told all the participants that there would be many with ruined clothes following the event. And, by the way the ring had just been used to show hogs.

Andrea ignored her fears and took the birds in both hands, they flopped, she cried. Someone gave her gloves, however, they were too big and she was afraid she'd drop a bird and ruin Kendra's chances.

There were 19 people in the group and Andrea did the smart thing, she rushed past the other contestants, dragging Kendra, to the front to hopefully show first and get it over quick. Into the ring they went and one of Andrea's chickens did the unthinkable on her arm. She took it with tears running down her face. She said, "People I didn't even know were taking my picture, but I couldn't help crying. And my family and friends were in stitches, laughing hysterically". After what seemed like an eternity they were told to put their birds on the ring floor. Andrea discreetly wiped her hand off on the shavings and then realized they were wet and it wasn't water! Squatting down and holding two birds so not to crush them, Andrea got a cramp which added pain to fear. And again it happened, a projectile unthinkable from the other bird hit her. All over her hand, arm and shirt. More tears, pain and the SMELL!

To end this story Andrea shared, drawing belly laughs from those around, she said, "Kendra got dead last out of 34 chickens!" What parents will do for their children! Next year the Birchfield kids will show GOATS!

Missionaries of Latvia, Rev. and Mrs. Jerry Roberts and children, Timothy, Amy and Kevin.

Roberts family to visit at Bogata First Assembly of God

Reverend Jerry Roberts Jr. Assemblies of God missionary to Latvia, will be the featured guest speaker at Bogata First Assembly of God, Hwy 271 South on Sunday, October 14 at 5:00 p.m.

About the size of South Carolina, Latvia lies on the Baltic Sea north of Lithuania and Belarus. Prior to 1918, Latvia was occupied by Germany and Russia. It was an independent republic from 1918 to 1939, but fell under Soviet influence. Independence was again declared in 1991. Russia withdrew its last troops from the nation in 1994.

Jerry and Terri Roberts began their ministry in Latvia in November 1997 and have seen positive results in many people's lives. They have 3 children; Timothy, Amy and Kevin.

The Roberts immediately began preaching in churches throughout the country and teaching at the Latvia Bible College. Latvia Bible College exists to train men and women for ministry.

There are currently 45 students studying to be pastors.

A new generation of Latvians is in great need of an evangelistic witness. After 50 years of Soviet domination, Latvia is a free nation. A great increase in Western commerce has had some positive results but has also brought negative influences. Pornography, gambling and narcotics use among the youth have grown at an alarming rate, calling for a powerful response from the church.

They plan to continue and expand the ministries of Latvia Bible College and will be offering advanced studies for their 2 year graduates and special training for full time pastors. Latvians are enjoying unprecedented freedoms today and the Roberts want them to experience the true freedom the gospel brings.

First Assembly of God Pastor, Donnie Sherrill invites the public to attend the Roberts' mission's presentation.

FIRE SAFETY STARTS AT HOME

DPS issues caution

The Department of Public Safety is reminding private plane owners to be extra vigilant in light of the recent terrorist attacks.

Specifically, DPS is advising private plane owners to periodically check on their planes to make sure they are accounted for and to be on the lookout for suspicious activity.

If any plane is either missing or unaccounted for, plane owners are urged to immediately call their local police department or sheriff's office. If unable to contact local authorities, citizens also can call the roadside assistance line, 1-800-525-5555, and DPS will assist you in contacting the appropriate authorities.

"We have no specific information related to attempted thefts, but are asking plane owners to check on their aircraft more often than they have in the past, simply as a precautionary measure," said DPS Director Thomas A. Davis Jr.
