First United Methodist Holds Homecoming

Once again the church bells were ringing at the First United Methodist Church in Deport on Sunday May 17, 1981. The church, founded 96 years ago in 1885, was overflowing with members, past and present, friends, relatives and visitors. The occasion was the Second Annual Homecoming. This event to dedicate the new stained glass windows installed to the honor of all that have contributed to the Life of this church today as well as in the past 96 years.

The Guest Speaker was Dr. John Poe Hensley who was pastor of the church during the 1940's. The windows of the church at that time in the memory of most over the age of 20 years, were more beautiful than anywhere. There is little doubt that the memories of those under the age of 20 years will now remember the current windows as some of the most beautiful anywhere. Mrs. John Poe Hensley's singing of "Bless This House" was fitting and truly placed the church and the new windows in the hearts and memories of all present. The new windows installed in the north of the sanctuary have a history that at this time is not complete. The information available is that they were originally installed in a church in England 150 years ago. They were secured for our use by Dr. John Kelsey through a dealer in Houston. Steve Jones in Paris has installed all the windows, duplicating beautifully the older units for the Kirkland Bible Class Room as well as the south window in the Sanctuary.

Many of the more than 150 present for the morning services filled to capacity the Fellowship Hall to share the food and fellowship of the occasion. Laura Jeanne Crabb Hall from Charlottesville, Virginia could take the prize as having traveled the longest distance to attend this special occasion and by a few inches Ida Lou and Kenneth Read could beat out Thelma and Ben Warren, Jeannie and Jeremy Burns and Lois Phillely as being the ones to travel the shortest distance.

There was much to remember, some memories with tears, some with laughter. Memories of the past continue to be made with each "Tic of Grandfather's Clock."

Nichols Worth

By Nanalee Nichols Fishing fever isn't terminal, is it? I don't suppose so, since there are a lot of folks running around pursuing fish with an intensity that is awesome, and they seem to be in good shape.

But the problem is that the fever has struck me, and I don't know why. I never have loved to fish, and over the years there have been a lot of opportunities.

Well, here I am, sitting on a poolbank, with a rod and reel in one hand and a lot of hope. My 11 year-old nieces out fish me, my husband outfishes me, and I still keep on fishing!

I am reminded of the old saying, "A fishing rod is a stick with a hook on one end and a fool on the other".

Whatever, the fever may or may not wear off, but until then, any advice on how to catch fish would be useful.

have a nice weekend...

THINK FISH

What is a good tasting, nutritious alternative to the usual meat-and-potato dinner? Fish, of course.

Fish is a high protein, versatile food that can be easy on the waistline and the budget. It can be prepared in a multitude of ways and is perfect for serving to families, special guests and particularly, dieters.

In the supermarket freezer, the "pick of the catch" is available at your fingertips year-round. The fish has been cleaned, cut and quick-frozen within hours of being caught. The freezing process locks-in nutrients that might otherwise be lost during shipping and storage. The product from the freezer is also 100 percent edible; you don't pay for waste, such as bones, heads or tails.

Frozen fish fillets — perch, cod, sole and mackerel, to name a few — are always in plentiful supply. The fillets can be fried, poached, baked or broiled. Flavor them with bread crumbs, lemon, tomato sauce, oregano, chervil or tarragon.

Beware Of Poison Plants

At least 75 plants that grow in Texas are poisonous and can cause death, illness, or extreme discomfort to people, a local conservation leader warned this week.

Charles VanDeaver, district conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, at Clarksville, said parents should be concerned because many of the plants are common in flower and vegetable gardens; in ornamental landscaping; and in range, pasture, or forest lands. Bulbs, roots, seeds, leaves, beans, stems or berries may contain poison, depending on the species of plant.

"Chewing, swallowing, or otherwise contacting the toxic parts of these plants, trees and shrubs takes a heavy toll," VanDeaver said. "Each year health services report that about 12,000 children are poisoned or injured by these sources."

"In fact, we have already heard of two children in Texas, ages two and a half and three, who ate deadly silverleaf nightshade berries earlier this year," VanDeaver continued. "Thanks to a concerned parent who took the plant to an SCS office for identification, a doctor was alerted and he treated the children successfully."

VanDeaver said the beautiful oleander bush is one of the most poisonous plants in Texas and is grown all over the state. It contains a deadly heart stimulant similar to the drug digitalis that is so strong that a single leaf can kill a child. People have died merely from eating steaks speared on oleander twigs and roasted over a fire.

Jimsonweed, sometimes called thorn apple and stinkweed, grows almost everywhere and causes many poisonings. Growing from two to five feet tall, it has large leaves and white funnel-shaped flowers. All parts are poisonous, especially the seeds and leaves.

Dieffenbachia, or dumb cane, is a beautiful house plant grown in millions of homes, but merely biting its stalk can cause swelling of the mouth and tongue that can be deadly. It is called dumb cane because of its power to strike its victims speechless. The stalks contain needlelike crystals of calcium oxalate that become imbedded in the tissue of the mouth and tongue causing severe swelling and pain.

Castor bean seeds are also deadly. Each seed contains enough ricin, a powerful blood poison, to kill a child. Mescalbean, or mountain laurel, is also dangerous. It has a poison bean with a hard coat. If it is swallowed whole there may be no ill effects, but if chewed or crushed it can be lethal.

Other common plants in Texas that have poisonous parts include poinsettia, mistletoe, elephant ear, larkspur, azaleas, lantana canana, yew, oaks, water hemlock, poison hemlock, poison ivy, poison oak and poison sumac.

"More detailed information on these and other plants can be secured from health and plant authorities," VanDeaver

Tammy Stout

Tammy Stout To Compete In Teenworld Finals

Miss Tammy Lee Stout, age 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny W. Stout of Clardy, has been selected for competition in the 1981 Teenworld State Finals to be held at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Fort Worth, Texas at 7:30 p.m. on July 3-5.

Teenworld has selected outstanding young women from all over the state to participate in the three days of activities. The program is designed to recognize young women, 14 to 18, who excel in scholastic achievement and community involvement. Contestants are judged on poise, personality, grooming, and a speech or talent presentation, as well as scholastic and civic achievements. Entrants must have a "B" or better accumulative grade average and document at least ten hours of volunteer service to a community or charitable organization.

The statewide Teenworld competition is coordinated by State Director Carol Conery at the Teenworld Regional Office, 4550 W. 109 St., No. 300, Overland Park, KS. 66211, phone 913-341-5588.

The competition is the official state preliminary for the Teenworld National Finals to be held in Atlanta at the Omni International Hotel in December, 1981. Teenworld finalists from all fifty states will compete for $18,000 in cash and scholarship awards; a new automobile for the national winner's reigning year; a $2,000 wardrobe; a $5,000 personal appearance contract; and many other special prizes. Throughout the year, the National Teenworld Scholarship Program will award over $80,000 in scholarship and tuition grants across the nation.

Miss Tammy Lee Stout is sponsored by Paris Elk's Lodge.

She is a student at Prairiland High School. Her activities include Beta Club, FTA, Musket Staff, Annual Staff, Speech Club, Spanish Club, Math & Science Club, Choral Club, and Treasurer of Student Council.

Tammy has also been a class officer, class favorite, and J.V. Cheerleader. She has played basketball four years, volleyball, and was president of the Pep Squad.

Tammy's Honors include going to regional in U.I.L. for Feature Writing, being selected Who's Who Student of the Month, and Homecoming Queen Nominee.

Tammy attends Bethel Baptist Church, where she is vice-president of the Church Choir. She also works for the Red River Valley Home & Health Center and the Fish Fry. Tammy also does volunteer work for the St. Joseph Hospital, and was involved in Girl Scouts five years.

Miss Stout's plans for the future are to major in the field of Dentistry to become a successful Orthodontist.

said. "However, SCS offices in our state's 201 soil and water conservation districts are trying to cooperate fully with the National Safety Council in keeping the public alerted to poisonous plants."

An 18 minute slide show entitled "Poisonous Plants in Texas" can be borrowed through local SCS offices to show dangerous plants. The Texas Health Department in Austin, also has a publication listing 39 of the most dangerous plants found in Texas as well as the symptoms of poisoning from each.

IRS Provides Assistance

"Just because April 15 has come and gone doesn't mean taxpayers stop having questions about their federal income tax," said Roger Johnson, Director's Representative for Longview. "That's why our walk-in assistance office at Judson Office Plaza, 1125 Judson Road, will be staffed every Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m." Johnson added, "of course, many taxpayers prefer to let their fingers do the walking" and like to use our telephone assistance. Telephone assistance is available toll-free Monday through Friday from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. by dialing 1-800-492-4830.

Johnson said that the average refund for taxpayers in the Dallas District this year was $570 and that between 75 and 80 percent of all filers can expect to receive a refund. "If a taxpayer had a large refund or was faced with a tax bill, we encourage them to revise the Form W-4 filed with their employer," he said. Form W-4 determines how much income tax is withheld from each paycheck.

For further information call Roger Johnson at 758-6226 in Longview.

Prospective father-in-law: "Young man, can you support a family?" Bridegroom-to-be: "Well, no sir. I was just planning to support your daughter. The rest of you will have to shift for yourselves."

Revised Brucellosis Regulations

Bring Promising Results

A year of revised regulations in the Texas brucellosis program is highlighted by a sharp increase in vaccination of heifer calves, promising research developments, and improved cooperation with producers and other segments of the livestock industry.

Commissioners of the Texas Animal Health Commission adopted major changes in the Texas program a year ago. "We believe much progress has been made in that time," John Armstrong, Kingsville, chairman, TAHC, said. He explained the program has six basic thrusts:

1. To provide a practical and affordable program for the Texas cowman that meets scientific criteria for control leading to eventual eradication of brucellosis;
2. Significant increase in the use of the reduced dose of Strain 19 vaccine;
3. Expanded and improved laboratories;
4. Improved surveillance;
5. Individual herd plans;
6. Meet federal regulations for interstate movement of breeding cattle.

Brucellosis is a highly contagious disease, affecting mainly livestock, and centering in the reproductive organs. It causes abortions, sterility, weakened calves, and partial loss of milk. In humans, it is called undulant fever.

"Vaccination of heifer calves during the last calendar quarter of 1980 has shown an almost 100 percent increase compared to the same time period in 1979. This is due in large part to the approval of the reduced dose of Strain 19 vaccine. Vaccination is a key element in the Texas brucellosis program, but it alone will not provide the answer. We must also have an excellent surveillance program to locate and eliminate infection.

"We have seen great strides in this area of the Texas program. More than 90 percent of the state's livestock markets are now voluntarily participating in first-point testing. Slaughter plant operators have also greatly expanded their cooperation," Armstrong explained.

A new test to improve accuracy in detecting field strain infected animals is being incorporated in to the TAHC laboratory in Austin on a trial basis. "The vast majority of livestock producers in Texas are to be congratulated for their efforts in making progress in controlling brucellosis," Armstrong said.

Texas and Western madness has really taken over the country and the world according to all that one reads and hears. Boots, cowboy hats, western clothes, country music are really the "in" things right now. Now ol' Bosley finds it rather hard to walk in boots, and cowboy hats slip down and push my spectacles out of place—but to each his own, I always say. Anyway, we do have some great new books on Texas that we are justly proud of, so let me list them for you. "A Forgotten Glory" is about the old missions of Texas. "Panhandle Cowboys" tells of the modern day cowboy who is alive and well. Lots of pictures in this book. "Raincheif" is about the old west, "From and Limestone Ledge" contains some essays and other ruminations about Texas country life. Another interesting book about the old days in "Yesterday in the Hill Country". Back to modern times we fine "Texas vs. Davis" about the T. Cullen Davis trial and lastly a hard to put down novel "Gone to Texas".

Out country is great for hunting and fishing and I know we have a great many avid outdoorsmen. You will find such a great wealth of information on our magazine shelf along with beautiful pictures. We have "Audabon", "Natural History", "National Wildlife", "International Geographic". We also have "The Smithsonian", "Progressive Farmer", "Science Digest", "Scientific Digest", "Scientific American", and "Energy" to name a few. If you don't have time to check out a book, stop by and thumb through our magazine shelves. There is something to appeal to everyone there.

There are some new books on the big round table that are quite interesting. One is a book on "Disasters" and one is about the "Island of Ceylon". One book Bosley didn't even know about was actually a second edition—the first published in 1972 called "The Last Whole Earth Catalog" and the 1980 edition called "The Whole Earth Catalog". By golly, the index alone takes up 14 pages and contains everything from toys to galaxie and ecology, to farming and leatherworking. I don't remember when I have come across such a wealth of information about everything under the sun. Come on in and browse around. It's such fun. HAPPY READING!!!

BUDDY'S WORKSHOP Caulking Will Save On Utility Bills

This old house that I live in shows its age. There are air leaks and cracks around windows, doors and other places. I cannot afford to hire a contractor to make repairs and have never been a do-it-yourselfer. My friend tells me that anyone can caulk cracks and air holes and that I will save on heating and cooling bills if I invest in a caulking gun, some compound and work on the house. Is the material expensive and the job difficult for a beginner?

Caulking compound of polyvinyl acetate is relatively inexpensive, considering that proper caulking results in reduced utility bills. You will need, in addition to the compound, the caulking gun, a putty knife, screwdriver, cleaning solvent (fluid) and a ladder.

Experience always helps, especially where neatness is concerned, but the novice caulker can do an adequate job by remembering that the basic idea is to thoroughly seal all cracks and air holes. Work on one side of the house at a time. Don't rush, and when you are finished, re-examine what you have done carefully to determine if any openings were missed. Most caulking will be done around windows, where floors and walls join on porches, around water faucets, loose boards or shingles. Chimneys should also be inspected.

Before applying the caulking material, clean the area to be caulked carefully with a putty knife and then solvent, to be sure that all loose paint, dirt or old caulking material is removed. Loose boards and shingles should be nailed or glued before caulk is applied.

Apply caulk along window edges so that the bead overlaps both sides of the crack or opening. Polyvinyl acetate is available in rope form for long, deep cracks, and should be forced into the crevice with a screwdriver.

Crop And Livestock Reports Needed

During late May and June, many Texas farmers and ranchers will receive a crop or livestock questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service or will be personally interviewed by the Services field staff. The crop and livestock information gathered through the questionnaires and interviews is kept confidential and it is the basis for setting crop acreages and midyear livestock inventories to be published in June for the state of Texas.

These crop and livestock reports give a reliable, unbiased picture of Texas most important industry—agriculture. Furthermore, these reports are tools to help farmers and ranchers work out their planting, breeding, feeding, storing, producing, and marketing plans—in other words, to keep them informed.

These reports are also used by: Farm organizations and legislatures in planning and developing farm programs, Extension economists and private farm and ranch management consultants for advising farmers and ranchers, Exporters in planning and promoting the sale of Texas agricultural products in foreign markets, etc. Even though response is voluntary, each farmer or rancher who is contacted is urged to cooperate, helping to make the crop and livestock reports to be published as accurate and reliable as possible. These surveys are a cooperative effort of the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service and the Texas Department of Agricultural.

HOLD IT STEADY
Keeping a steady hand on the wheel at all times is important and very crucial if top mileage is to be had. Don't let the car wander from side to side, this movement distracts from forward momentum and can cost you 1-2 mpg at highway speeds.

DESTROYED—Bob Carrell turns away from his hay barn, which was completely destroyed by fire early Thursday morning. Carrell worked in his garden next to the barn at day break, and neither smelled nor noticed fire or smoke at that time. Within two hours later the barn was engulfed in flames. Cause of the blaze is unknown. (Staff Photo)

East Texas Eating

By Margie Rice
Are you acquainted with the mildly piquant flavor of fresh dill? It is a world apart from the "dill pickle" dill flavor, and delightfully so. If you are fortunate enough to have dill growing in your garden or in a flower bed, snip off a bit of the fern-like foliage and taste it. Then, introduce its delightful flavor to your family in one or more of the following ways: Snip bits of the tender dill into tossed salads; Snip wisps of the dill and add along with chopped hard-cooked egg to a thin white sauce. Serve with a salmon salad, salmon loaf, or salmon quiche. Dill and salmon are very complimentary flavors; Serve a Fresh Dill Dip with fresh vegetables, chips, or crackers; Marinate sliced cucumbers in equal parts of wine vinegar and salad oil with a sprinkling of snipped dill. Add a teaspoon of sugar if you like.

Here are recipes for a cool, tasty Salmon Salad that includes snips of dill and for a Fresh Dill Dip. The main dish salad really is a one dish meal and colorful, nourishing and low in calories. It is quick to prepare, too. The ingredients can vary according to what you have on hand or what is in season.

Salmon Salad
(serves 2 to 4)
1 can salmon, pink ro red 2 tomatoes, cut into wedges
1 Bell pepper, cut into rings
1 stalk celery, cut into slices
8 to 10 crisp radishes, whole or sliced
2 small sweet onions, cut into rings
½ can water chestnuts, sliced
Crisp lettuce leaves, torn into bite size pieces

2 or 3 sprigs of dill, snipped into pieces
Arrange lettuce on individual luncheon plates. Remove bones and membrane from salmon; break into chunks and place on lettuce. Arrange tomato wedges, pepper rings, radishes, onion rings and water chestnut slices with the salmon. Sprinkle with snipped dill. If you wish, serve the salad with mayonnaise or the dilled white sauce.

Fresh Dill Dip
Blend ¾ to 1 teaspoon fresh snipped dill, 1 teaspoon grated onion, a dash of salt into a 3 ounce package of softened cream cheese. Add enough milk or cream to make a dipping consistency. Sliced stuffed green olives may be included with the ingredients before blending, if desired.

Freezing Dill
Fresh dill, both the foliage or "weed" as it is sometimes called, and the seed heads can be frozen successfully and used later in pickles, dips, sauces, et. Simply snip the dill, wash under a spray of cool water, pat dry, and place in moisture-proof plastic bags or containers, and freeze. The frozen dill may then be used as fresh. The appearance of the

Oil From Stone
Despite their sudden popularity, synthetic oil and gas are not new. An English document of 1694 describes the making of "oyle out of a kind of stone"—the first known patent for shale oil, notes National Geographic's special energy report.

foliage is not as pretty as that of the fresh, but the flavor is the same. Select the dill seed heads for freezing—or for use fresh in pickles—when the seed are firm and still greenish. This is when the flavor is mature but still fresh tasting.

GARDEN

Weeds Came To America With Our Ancestors

Every home gardener, whether he cultivates flowers or vegetables, must deal with the problem of weeds. So, what is a weed?

Webster defines a weed as a "plant growing where it is not desired." So, a weed is a plant. Some settle for the simple definition that it is a "plant out of place." The home gardener can be more specific: a weed is a weed because it must be weeded out of the garden before it takes over.

Weeds "take over" because they produce a great number of seeds that are easily dispersed and will propagate under the most adverse circumstances. Professionals know how to combat weeds, with pre-emergence and post-emergence herbicides. Many home gardeners aren't qualified and are not versed in chemicals, so weeds must be chopped down with a hoe or pulled by hand. Chopping weeds is likely to scatter seeds that will germinate and bring on more weeds. It's best to pull weeds by hand, taking care that the complete root system is removed.

Through the centuries, weeds have followed mankind from continent to continent, mixed with desirable seeds, in foodstuff and agricultural materials. Many of the noxious plants we must contend with today are not indigenous to the United States. Yet, they are here and must be dealt with. They are part of our heritage.

Weeds use up moisture and take nutrients from the soil that otherwise would be utilized by desirable plants to attain health, vigor and productivity. The home garden will not reach its potential unless plants and flowers are nurtured and cared for, without being required to compete with weeds for survival.
